

NONRESIDENT ALIEN POSITION

Last revised: 9/20/2009

“There is nothing so powerful as truth, and often nothing so strange [foreign or alien].”
[Daniel Webster]

DEDICATION

"If you were of the world, the world would love its own. Yet because you are not of [domiciled/resident within] the world, but I [Jesus] chose you [believers] out of the world, therefore the world hates you. Remember the word that I said to you, 'A [public] servant is not greater than his [Sovereign] master.' If they persecuted Me, they will also persecute you. If they kept My word, they will keep yours also [as trustees of the public trust]. But all these things they will do to you for My name's sake, because they do not know Him [God] who sent Me."

[Jesus in John 15:19-21, Bible, NKJV]

"For our citizenship [and domicile/residence] is in heaven [and not earth], from which we also eagerly wait for the Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ"

[Philippians 3:20, Bible, NKJV]

"I am a stranger [statutory but not constitutional alien] in the earth; Do not hide Your commandments [laws] from me."

[Psalm 119:19, Bible, NKJV]

"I have become a stranger to my brothers, and an alien to my mother's children; because zeal for Your [God's] house has eaten me up, and the reproaches of those who reproach You have fallen on me."

[Psalm 69:8-9, Bible, NKJV]

"Hear my prayer, O Lord, and give ear to my cry; hold not Your peace at my tears! For I am Your passing guest [transient foreigner], a temporary resident, as all my fathers were."

[Psalm 39:12, Bible, Amplified version]

"Where do wars and fights come from among you? Do they not come from your desires for pleasure [unearned money from the government] that war in your members [and your democratic governments]? You lust [after other people's money] and do not have. You murder [the unborn to increase your standard of living] and covet [the unearned] and cannot obtain [except by empowering your government to STEAL for you!]. You fight and war [against the rich and the nontaxpayers to subsidize your idleness]. Yet you do not have because you do not ask [the Lord, but instead ask the deceitful government]. You ask and do not receive, because you ask amiss, that you may spend it on your pleasures. Adulterers and adulteresses! Do you not know that friendship with the world [or the governments of the world] is enmity with God? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend [“citizen”, “resident”, “taxpayer”, “inhabitant”, “U.S. person”, “person”, “individual”, or “subject”] of the world [or the corrupted governments of the world] makes himself an enemy of God."

[James 4:4, Bible, NKJV]

"And Mr. Justice Miller, delivering the opinion of the court [legislating from the bench, in this case], in analyzing the first clause of the [Fourteenth Amendment], observed that "the phrase ‘subject to the jurisdiction thereof’ was intended to exclude from its operation children of ministers, consuls, and citizens or subjects of foreign states [INCLUDING the “Kingdom of Heaven”]", born within the United States."

1 Introduction

2 This memorandum of law describes the foundation of the approach towards taxation which is taken by Members of SEDM
3 ministry called the Nonresident Alien Position. The Nonresident Alien Position describes the approach towards income
4 taxation of those who insist on the separation of powers between the states and federal government that is the foundation of 5 the United States Constitution and the foundation of the protection of our PRIVATE rights and liberties.

6 “We start with first principles. The Constitution creates a Federal Government of enumerated powers. See U.S.
7 Const., Art. I, 8. As James Madison wrote, “[t]he powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
8 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
9 indefinite.” The Federalist No. 45, pp. 292-293 (C. Rossiter ed. 1961). This constitutionally mandated division
10 of authority “was adopted by the Framers to ensure protection of our fundamental liberties.” Gregory v.
11 Ashcroft, 501 U.S. 452, 458 (1991) (internal quotation marks omitted). “Just as the separation and
12 independence of the coordinate branches of the Federal Government serves to prevent the accumulation of
13 excessive power in any one branch, a healthy balance of power between the States and the Federal
14 Government will reduce the risk of tyranny and abuse from either front.” Ibid.
15 [U.S. v. Lopez, 514 U.S. 549 (1995)]

16 The term “Nonresident Alien Position” is a term we developed. We have not seen it mentioned anywhere else, but we 17 wanted to give it a name so that people can refer to it. The position might more appropriately be called simply the 18 “Nonresident Position” because we don’t mean to imply that those who employ it are, in fact, Constitutional “aliens” in 19 relation to the federal government at all. Instead, they are:

20 1. Statutory status under federal law:

21 1.1. “nationals” or “state nationals” under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21).
22 1.2. “non-citizen nationals” under 8 U.S.C. §1452.
23 1.3. Not statutory “citizens of the United States” under 8 U.S.C. §1401.
24 1.4. NOT “nationals of the United States” under either 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22) or 8 U.S.C. §1408.
25 1.5. “Aliens” relative to the legislative/statutory jurisdiction of the national and not federal government under Titles 4,
26 5, 26, 42, and 50 of the United States Code. Statutory but not Constitutional alienage is a result of the separation
27 of powers between the state and federal governments.

28 2. Constitutional status:

29 2.1. “citizens of the United States” per the Fourteenth Amendment.
30 2.2. Not “aliens”

31 Why do you want to ensure your status in government records correctly reflects your status as a “nonresident alien”?
32 Below are some very good reasons:

33 1. Nonresident aliens do not have to have or use a Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) to open a financial account if 34 they are not engaged in a “trade or business”, meaning a public office in the U.S. government.
35 2. Nonresident aliens are not required to participate in Social Security withholding.
36 3. Nonresident aliens are expressly exempted from the Healthcare Bill and just about every other federal law. See the 37 Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, H.R. 3590, Section 9022(a).
38 4. Nonresident aliens do not have to pay tax on their worldwide earnings like statutory “U.S. persons”, “U.S. citizens”, 39 and “U.S. residents” do.
40 5. Federal District Courts cannot entertain anything other than a Bivens Action in the case of a nonresident alien. NRAs
41 are not present within or domiciled within any judicial district and therefore beyond the jurisdiction of federal courts.
42 6. Nonresident aliens pay a flat 30% tax on their earnings under I.R.C. Section 871 rather than a graduated rate of tax
43 under I.R.C. Section 1.
44 7. The IRS cannot lawfully file liens against nonresident aliens, because they are not within an Internal Revenue District 45 and all liens must be filed in the district they are domiciled within.
46 8. Federal courts cannot lawfully kidnap the identity of nonresident aliens and move it to the District of Columbia like
47 they can with statutory “U.S. persons”, “U.S. citizens”, and “U.S. residents” under 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(39) and 26
48 U.S.C. §7408(d).
49 9. Nonresident aliens are protected from the jurisdiction of federal district courts by the Minimum Contacts Doctrine and
50 the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C., Part 4, Chapt. 97. They instead have to go either to the U.S.
51 Supreme Court or the Court of International Trade if they are prosecuted or wish to prosecute the national government.
52 10. Nonresident aliens do not need to use the IRS Forms W-4 or W-4 Exempt, but rather the W-8BEN.

1 11. Nonresident aliens are not eligible for any kind of state license, such as a driver's license.

2 For additional reasons and more details on some of the above reasons, see section 19 later.

3 It should interest you to know that if you are presently filing IRS Form 1040, then you are already filing as a resident alien.

4 Becoming a "nonresident alien" is therefore not a very big step away from the status you are presently claiming. This is

5 covered later in section 5.1. All "individuals" under the I.R.C. are, in fact, aliens. The only place where statutory "U.S.

6 citizens" are even mentioned in the I.R.C. is when they are abroad under 26 U.S.C. §911, and in that capacity, they function

7 as aliens under a tax treaty with the country they are temporarily staying in, and therefore are treated as resident aliens

8 under the I.R.C.

9 The term "Nonresident alien" is a "word of art" SPECIFIC only to income taxation. The term is not found in any other

10 context and should not be employed in any other context. The concepts we will teach in the pamphlet do apply to other

11 contexts, such as franchises and driver's licensing. When used in those contexts, one must instead refer to themselves

12 simply as a "nonresident" and legislatively but not constitutionally "alien" in relation to the government because not an

13 officer or public officer within the government.

14 All franchises relate to and regulate only public officers within the government. "Domestic" is a synonym for government,

15 in fact. Everyone outside the government in that context is "alien" or "foreign". Those who don't volunteer for a public

16 office by signing up for a franchise therefore are "alien" and "foreign" in relation to the government granting the franchise.

17 Those who start out as nonresident and alien and subsequently sign up for a franchise become "resident aliens" in relation

18 to the government grantor of the franchise. That is why we refer to "citizens", "residents", "individuals", and "resident

19 aliens" simply as government contractors and public officers within a de facto government. Declaring oneself to be

20 "resident" is equivalent to identifying oneself as a government contractor and public officer. If you would like to learn

2 Overview

2.1 Simplified summary

A simple but accurate way to view the Nonresident Alien Position is as follows:

1. The Internal Revenue Code Subtitles A through C is a franchise. That franchise is called a statutory "trade or business", which is legally defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office".
2. All franchises are legally defined as contracts or agreements that acquire the "force of law" only by consent.
3. Within the I.R.C. franchise agreement, the statutory "taxpayer" is the PUBLIC OFFICE and NOT the person or artificial entity CONSENSUALLY FILLING said office. CONSENSUALLY applying for identifying numbers (TIN/SSN) AND CONSENSUALLY USING them in connection with specific otherwise PRIVATE activities is the method of:
 - 3.1. Waiving sovereign immunity.
 - 3.2. Connecting a PERSON to a specific OFFICE.
 - 3.3. Consenting to receive the "benefits" of a government franchise.
 - 3.4. Donating otherwise PRIVATE property to a public use, public purpose, and public office in the U.S. and not state government.
 - 3.5. Exercising your right to contract, because all franchises are contracts.The partnership between the otherwise PRIVATE human being and the PUBLIC OFFICE which is established by the above method is THE ONLY "partnership" meant in the legal definition of "person" found in 26 U.S.C. §6671(b) and 26 U.S.C. §7343.
4. Only earnings VOLUNTARILY connected with the franchise are called "income" and "gross income" and are reportable and taxable. Earnings must be "reportable" before they can be taxable, and 26 U.S.C. §6041(a) says that only earnings connected with the "trade or business" franchise are reportable. Earnings are "trade or business" earnings either DIRECTLY or INDIRECTLY, but both classes are reportable using information returns such as IRS Forms W-2, 1042-S, 1098, and 1099.

- 4.1. Directly connected: Earnings connected with a “trade or business” under 26 U.S.C. §871(b) .
- 4.2. Indirectly connected: Earnings originating from the statutory “United States”, meaning the GOVERNMENT and not a geographic place as described in 26 U.S.C. §871(a) . These earnings are called “effectively connected income” and also qualify as “trade or business” earnings as described in 26 U.S.C. §864(c)(3).

§ 864. Definitions and special rules

(c) Effectively connected income, etc.

(3) Other income from sources within United States

All income, gain, or loss from sources within the United States (other than income, gain, or loss to which paragraph (2) applies) shall be treated as effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States.

5. The franchise agreement has two classes of participants, all of whom are collectively called statutory “persons” or “individuals”:
 - 5.1. Full Time Participants: Called statutory “U.S. persons” per 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30), all of whom are instrumentalities and offices within the government and who represent a federal corporation as public officers all the time and in every context. Includes “residents” defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4)(B) and “U.S. citizens” mentioned in 26 U.S.C. §911. A resident is a statutory but not constitutional “alien” representing the United States government full time as a public officer. The “United States” is a corporation per 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A), and those representing said corporation as public officers are “persons” per 26 U.S.C. §6671(b) and 26 U.S.C. §7343. Note that statutory “U.S. citizens” (per 8 U.S.C. §1401, 26 U.S.C. §3121(e), and 26 CFR §1.1-1(c)) are NOT statutory “residents” unless they are abroad and come under a tax treaty with a foreign country per 26 U.S.C. §911.
 - 5.2. Part Time Participants: Participants called “Nonresident alien INDIVIDUALS”. These parties only exercise agency of a public office through certain specific transactions and situations. Only earnings connected with identifying numbers and reported on IRS Information Returns, such as Forms W-2, 1042-S, 1098, and 1099 are taxable. Use of the identifying number is prima facie evidence of participation in the activity per 26 CFR §301.6109-1(b). Every place in the I.R.C. where obligations are associated with nonresident aliens is always associated with statutory but not common law “individuals”. Hence, those who are NOT statutory “individuals” or statutory “persons” are NOT SUBJECT but also not statutorily “EXEMPT”. An “exempt” person is someone who is a “person” or “individual” but who has a statutory exclusion for certain purposes. Those NOT SUBJECT are neither “persons” nor “individuals”.
6. Those not subject at all to the “trade or business” franchise are called:
 - 6.1. Nonresident alien NON-persons or NON-individuals.
 - 6.2. Transient foreigners.
 - 6.3. Transients.
 - 6.4. Foreigners.
 - 6.5. Strangers (in the Holy Bible).
 - 6.6. PRIVATE human beings or PRIVATE persons.

An example of a person who is NOT SUBJECT but also not statutorily “EXEMPT” is a person domiciled in a foreign country or state of the Union who is not lawfully engaged in a public office in the U.S. government AND who has no earnings from the U.S. government that could be treated as indirectly connected or “effectively connected” with the “trade or business” franchise within the U.S. government.
7. Why are PRIVATE persons not subject but also not EXEMPT from the I.R.C.? Because:
 - 7.1. The ability to regulate PRIVATE conduct is repugnant to the CONSTITUTION, as held by the U.S. Supreme Court:

"The power to "legislate generally upon" life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the "power to provide modes of redress" against offensive state action, was "repugnant" to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v. Bowman, 190 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest, 383 U.S. 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress' §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not been questioned."

[City of Boerne v. Flores, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 (1997)]

1 7.2. A “citizen” is someone who exercises their First Amendment Constitutional right to associate by 2 VOLUNTARILY consenting to join a political community. That consent is manifested by:
 3 7.2.1. PHYSICALLY taking up a presence there AND 4 7.2.2. Expressly consenting to become a LEGAL member of that society by choosing a DOMICILE or 5 RESIDENCE there.
 6 The act of choice manifested as described above makes the otherwise EXCLUSIVELY PRIVATE human being 7 into a consenting party to the social compact and associates them with the statutory status of “citizen” or 8 “resident” under the CIVIL laws of the place they associate with.
 9 7.3. The status of “citizen” or “resident” is associated with certain PUBLIC RIGHTS or PRIVILEGES, that cause the 10 associating party to lose SOME of their otherwise EXCLUSIVELY PRIVATE character. This conversion of 11 PRIVATE RIGHTS into PUBLIC RIGHTS is described as follows:

12 When one becomes a member of society [by choosing a legal DOMICILE within it], he necessarily parts with 13 some rights or privileges which, as an individual not affected by his relations to others, he might retain. "A 14 body politic," as aptly defined in the preamble of the Constitution of Massachusetts, "is a social compact by 15 which the whole people covenants with each citizen, and each citizen with the whole people, that all shall be 16 governed by certain laws for the common good." This does not confer power upon the whole people to 17 control rights which are purely and exclusively private, Thorpe v. R. & B. Railroad Co., 27 Vt. 143; but it
 18 does authorize the establishment of laws requiring each citizen to so conduct himself, and so use his own
 19 *property, as not unnecessarily to injure another. This is the very essence of government, and 125*125 has* 20 found expression in the maxim sic utere tuo ut alienum non laedes. From this source come the police powers,
 21 which, as was said by Mr. Chief Justice Taney in the License Cases, 5 How. 583, 'are nothing more or less
 22 than the powers of government inherent in every sovereignty, . . . that is to say, . . . the power to govern men
 23 and things.'
 24 [Munn. v. Illinois, 94 U.S. 113 (1876),

26 7.4. The First Amendment protects your right NOT to associate, even in the case of those who are NOT statutory 27 “citizens” or “residents”. Hence, no one can force you to become a “citizen” or “resident” of a specific place
 28 within the country of your birth. Only in the case of those born in another country can they force anyone. Those 29 who are in a foreign country other than that of their birth are constitutional aliens, and they can be deported if 30 they don’t get naturalized and do not have permission from the government to be there. Those who are 31 STATUTORY aliens but CONSTITUTIONAL citizens CANNOT be deported or lawfully denied the right to 32 work as EXCLUSIVELY PRIVATE human beings.
 33 8. Any so-called “government” that refuses to recognize one’s constitutional right to remain EXCLUSIVELY PRIVATE 34 and beyond the CIVIL jurisdiction of a specific government is:
 35 8.1. Accomplishing a purpose OPPPOSITE that for which governments are established. All governments, according to 36 the Declaration of Independence, are instituted to protect PRIVATE rights. The FIRST step in protecting
 37 PRIVATE rights is for the government so established to PREVENT such PRIVATE rights from being converted
 38 to PUBLIC rights/franchises WITHOUT the EXPRESS and CONTINUING consent of the owner of the right.

39 "The rights of individuals and the justice due to them, are as dear and precious as those of states. Indeed the 40 latter are founded upon the former; and the great end and object of them must be to secure and support the 41 rights of individuals, or else vain is government."
 42 [Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 U.S. (2 Dall.) 419, 1 L.Ed. 440 (1793)]

43 8.2. A de facto government. See:

44 De Facto Government Scam, Form #05.043
 45 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

46 8.3. Violating your right to contract. The “social compact” as well as all franchises are contracts. Anyone who forces 47 you to be subject to the civil aspects of either is compelling you to contract and thereby violating your right to 48 contract or NOT contract.
 49 8.4. A “mafia protection racket” and organized crime syndicate, in which illegally enforced franchises imposed against
 50 non-consenting parties by corrupt judges are the method of “organizing” the syndicate. A government established
 51 mainly to provide “protection” that refuses to protect you from its OWN abuses and criminal acts certainly 52 doesn’t deserve to be hired or to have the authority to protect you against ANYONE ELSE. Why? Because the 53 main purpose of the Constitution is to protect the right to be LEFT ALONE, and a government that refuses to 54 leave you alone unless you pay them bribes and go to work for them for free, is NO GOVERNMENT AT ALL,
 55 but a haven for financial terrorists:

56 "The makers of our Constitution undertook to secure conditions favorable to the pursuit of happiness. They

1 recognized the significance of man's spiritual nature, of his feelings and of his intellect. They knew that only a
2 part of the pain, pleasure and satisfactions of life are to be found in material things. They sought to protect
3 Americans in their beliefs, their thoughts, their emotions and their sensations. They conferred, as against the
4 Government, the right to be let alone - the most comprehensive of rights and the right most valued by
5 civilized men."
6 Olmstead v. United States, [277 U.S. 438, 478 (1928) (Brandeis, J., dissenting); see also Washington v. Harper,
7 494 U.S. 210 (1990)]

8 Consistent with the above, earlier versions of the Treasury Regulations told the truth plainly on this subject. So plainly, in 9 fact, that they had to be repealed and replace with something that hid the truth because it was too difficult for the IRS to 10 avoid. Notice that they try to deceptively qualify the parties they are talking about to include foreign corporations or
11 partnerships, but in fact, these are the ONLY “persons” within the I.R.C., as revealed by the definition of “person” in 26
12 U.S.C. §6671(b) and 26 U.S.C. §7343:

13 26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.

14 A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during
15 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
16 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
17 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
18 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
19 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
20 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in
21 trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
22 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
23 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
24 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.

2.2 Meaning of “resident” and “alien”

28 The Treasury Regulations define the meaning of “resident” and “residence” as follows:

29 Title 26: Internal Revenue
30 PART 1—INCOME TAXES
31 nonresident alien individuals
32 § 1.871-2 Determining residence of alien individuals.

33 (B) Residence defined.

34 An alien actually present in the United States[] who is not a mere transient or sojourner is a resident of the
35 United States for purposes of the income tax. Whether he is a transient is determined by his intentions with
36 regard to the length and nature of his stay. A mere floating intention, indefinite as to time, to return to another
37 country is not sufficient to constitute him a transient. If he lives in the United States and has no definite
38 intention as to his stay, he is a resident. One who comes to the United States for a definite purpose which in its
39 nature may be promptly accomplished is a transient but, if his purpose is of such a nature that an extended stay
40 may be necessary for its accomplishment, and to that end the alien makes his home temporarily in the United 41 States, he becomes a resident, though it may be his intention at all times to return to his domicile abroad when 42 the purpose for which he came has been consummated or abandoned. An alien whose stay in the United States
43 is limited to a definite period by the immigration laws is not a resident of the United States within the meaning 44 of this section, in the absence of exceptional circumstances.

45 One therefore may only be a “resident” and file resident tax forms such as IRS form 1040 if they are “present in the United 46 States”, and by “present” can mean EITHER:

47 1. PHYSICALLY present, meaning within the geographical “United States” as defined by STATUTE and as NOT 48 commonly understood. This would be the United States, which we also call the federal zone.
49 2. LEGALLY present, meaning that you have CONSENSUALLY contracted with the government as an otherwise
50 NONRESIDENT party to acquire a “resident” status under their laws. This can ONLY lawfully occur by availing
51 oneself of 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h), which allows NONRESIDENTS to “elect” to be treated as RESIDENT
52 ALIENS, even though not physically present in the “United States”, IF and ONLY IF they are married to a
53 STATUTORY but not CONSTITUTIONAL “U.S. citizen” per 8 U.S.C. §1401, 26 U.S.C. §31321(e), and 26 CFR
54 §1.1-1(c). If you are married to a CONSTITUTIONAL citizen who is NOT a STATUTORY citizen, this option is

2 and a criminal offense under 26 U.S.C. §§7206 and 7207.

3 For all purposes other than those above, a nonresident cannot lawfully acquire any of the following “statuses” under the
4 civil provisions of the Internal Revenue Code subtitles A through C because: 1. Domiciled OUTSIDE of the forum in a
5 legislatively foreign state such as either a state of the Union or a foreign country; AND 2. Protected by the Foreign 6 Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. Chapter 97.

8 2. “individual”.
9 3. “taxpayer”.

10 For more details on the relationship between STATUTORY civil statuses such as those above and one’s civil domicile, see:

Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002, Section 11
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

11 As far as being PHYSICALLY present, the “United States” is geographically defined as:

13 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

14 (a) *When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
15 thereof—*

16 (9) United States

17 *The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of

19 (10) State

20 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to 21 carry out provisions of this title.

24 CHAPTER 4 - THE STATES*
25 Sec. 110. Same. definitions

26 (d) The term "State" includes any Territory or possession of the United States.

27 Anything OUTSIDE of the GEOGRAPHICAL “United States” as defined above is “foreign” and therefore legislatively
28 “alien”. Included within that legislatively “foreign” and “alien” area are both the constitutional states of the Union AND
29 foreign countries. Anyone domiciled in a legislatively “foreign” or “alien” jurisdiction, REGARDLESS OF THEIR 30 NATIONALITY, is a “nonresident alien” for the purposes of income taxation. Another important thing about the above 31 definition is that:

32 1. It relates ONLY to the GEOGRAPHICAL CONTEXT of the word.
33 2. Not every use of the term “United States” implies the GEOGRAPHIC context.
34 3. The ONLY way to verify which context is implied in each case is if they EXPRESSLY identify whether they mean
35 “United States*” the legal person or “United States” federal territory in each case. All other contexts are NOT
36 expressly invoked in the Internal Revenue Code and therefore PURPOSEFULLY EXCLUDED per the rules of 37 statutory construction. The DEFAULT context in the absence of expressly invoking the GEOGRAPHIC context is 38 “United States*” the legal person and NOT a geographic place. This is how they do it in the case of the phrase
39 “sources within the United States”, as we explain later in section 7 and following.

40 The nonresident alien position is easier and simpler to defend than most other arguments about taxation. It revolves around

1 the following simple concepts:

2 1. Tax liability originates from one's choice of legal domicile and the obligation to pay for "protection" that attaches to 3 that domicile:

4 domicile. A person's legal home. That place where a man has his true, fixed, and permanent home and
5 principal establishment, and to which whenever he is absent he has the intention of returning. Smith v. Smith,
6 206 Pa.Super. 310, 213 A.2d 94. Generally, physical presence within a state and the intention to make it one's
7 home are the requisites of establishing a "domicile" therein. The permanent residence of a person or the place
8 to which he intends to return even though he may actually reside elsewhere. A person may have more than one
9 residence but only one domicile. The legal domicile of a person is important since it, rather than the actual
10 residence, often controls the jurisdiction of the taxing authorities and determines where a person may 11 exercise the privilege of voting and other legal rights and privileges."
12 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 485]

13 Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in
14 transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes. Since the
15 Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence creates
16 universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter
17 obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter. Of course,
18 the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most
19 obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located."
20 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

21 2. Domicile is not just where you PHYSICALLY LIVE, but where you WANT TO LIVE and where you CONSENT TO 22 LIVE AND BE PROTECTED. No one can dictate what you consent to and therefore no one can lawfully choose your 23 domicile and therefore the place where you are a "taxpayer" EXCEPT you. See:

24 Why Domicile and Becoming a "Taxpayer" Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
25 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

26 3. In America, there are TWO separate and distinct jurisdictions one may have a domicile within, and only one of the two 27 is subject to federal income taxation:
3.1. Federal territory. Called the "United States" in federal statutes.
3.2. States of the Union. Legislatively foreign states not subject to federal jurisdiction.

28 "It is clear that Congress, as a legislative body, exercise two species of legislative power: the one, limited as to
29 its objects, but extending all over the Union: the other, an absolute, exclusive legislative power over the District
30 of Columbia. The preliminary inquiry in the case now before the Court, is, by virtue of which of these 31 authorities was the law in question passed?"
32 Cohens v. Virginia, [19 U.S. 264, 6 Wheat. 265, 5 L.Ed. 257 (1821)]

33 4. Those without a domicile on federal territory and therefore not subject to federal statutory civil law or income taxation 34 are called any of the following in relation to the federal/national government:
35 4.1. "nonresidents".
36 4.2. "transient foreigners".
37 4.3. "sojourners".
38 5. Whether one is "foreign" or "alien" from a legislative perspective is determined by their DOMICILE, and NOT their 39 NATIONALITY. One can be a national of the country United States by being born in a state of the Union, and yet be 40 a statutory "alien" relative to the jurisdiction of the national government if domiciled outside of federal territory.
41 6. The U.S. Supreme Court has, in fact, held that those WITHOUT a domicile within a jurisdiction and who are therefore 42 nonresidents and who become the target of tax enforcement by a "foreign" jurisdiction that they are not domiciled
43 within are the victims of EXTORTION, and possibly even crime:

44 The power of taxation, indispensable to the existence of every civilized government, is exercised upon the 45 assumption of an equivalent rendered to the taxpayer in the protection of his person and property, in adding 46 to the value of such property, or in the creation and maintenance of public conveniences in which he shares --
47 such, for instance, as roads, bridges, sidewalks, pavements, and schools for the education of his children. If the 48 taxing power be in no position to render these services, or otherwise to benefit the person or property taxed,
49 and such property be wholly within the taxing power of another state, to which it may be said to owe an
50 allegiance, and to which it looks for protection, the taxation of such property within the domicil of the owner
51 partakes rather of the nature of an extortion than a tax, and has been repeatedly held by this Court to be
52 beyond the power of the legislature, and a taking of property without due process of law. Railroad Company
53 v. Jackson, 7 Wall. 262; State Tax on Foreign-Held Bonds, 15 Wall. 300; Tappan v. Merchants' National 54 Bank, 19 Wall. 490, 499; Delaware &c. R. Co. v. Pennsylvania, 198 U.S. 341, 358. In Chicago &c. R. Co. v.
55 Chicago, 166 U.S. 226, it was held, after full consideration, that the taking of private property [199 U.S. 203]

without compensation was a denial of due process within the Fourteenth Amendment. See also Davidson v. New Orleans, 96 U.S. 97, 102; Missouri Pacific Railway v. Nebraska, 164 U.S. 403, 417; Mt. Hope Cemetery v. Boston, 158 Mass. 509, 519."

7. The term “United States” as used both in the IRS Publications and the Internal Revenue Code:
 - 7.1. Is used in TWO contexts:
 - 7.1.1. The GOVERNMENT corporation; OR
 - 7.1.2. Geographical sense, meaning federal territories and possessions.
 - 7.2. Is geographically defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and \(a\)\(10\) and 4 U.S.C. §110\(d\) to mean federal territory that is no part of the exclusive jurisdiction of any constitutional state of the Union. We call this area the “federal United States” or the “federal zone” throughout this book.
 - 7.3. Is typically NOT used in its geographic sense when referring to “sources within the United States”, but rather in the GOVERNMENT sense, where “United States” means the government corporation rather than a geographic place. In that sense, the geographical definitions 26 U.S.C. §7701 are a red herring to distract attention away from the REAL meaning of the term. This is covered later in section 7.

Consequently, the term “internal” as used within the phrase “INTERNAL revenue code” refers to THE U.S. GOVERNMENT and does not and cannot include sources internal to the government of any state of the Union.

- 8. States of the Union are legislatively but not constitutionally “foreign” and “alien” with respect to federal legislative jurisdiction for the vast majority of subject matters, including income taxation. Federal jurisdiction within states of the Union is limited to the following, meaning that for every other subject matter, people domiciled in states of the Union are legislatively “foreign” and “alien”:
 - 8.1. Postal fraud. See Article 1, Section 8, Clause 7 of the U.S. Constitution..
 - 8.2. Counterfeiting under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 6 of the U.S. Constitution.
 - 8.3. Treason under Article 4, Section 2, Clause 3 of the U.S. Constitution.
 - 8.4. Interstate commercial crimes under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the U.S. Constitution.
 - 8.5. Jurisdiction over aliens everywhere, including in states of the Union. See Chae Chan Ping v. U.S., 130 U.S. 581 \(1889\), Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753 \(1972\), and section 27.1.2 later. This source of jurisdiction is the reason that all “taxpayers” are aliens and not “citizens”. See 26 CFR §1.1441-1\(c\)\(3\).
 - 8.6. Slavery, involuntary servitude, or peonage under the Thirteenth Amendment, 42 U.S.C. §1994, 18 U.S.C. §1581, and 18 U.S.C. §1589\(3\).

"Other authorities to the same effect might be cited. It is not open to doubt that Congress may enforce the Thirteenth Amendment by direct legislation, punishing the holding of a person in slavery or in involuntary servitude except as a punishment for a crime. In the exercise of that power Congress has enacted these sections denouncing peonage, and punishing one who holds another in that condition of involuntary servitude. This legislation is not limited to the territories or other parts of the strictly national domain, but is operative in the states and wherever the sovereignty of the United States extends. We entertain no doubt of the validity of this legislation, or of its applicability to the case of any person holding another in a state of peonage, and this whether there be municipal ordinance or state law sanctioning such holding. It operates directly on every citizen of the Republic, wherever his residence may be."

9. The Internal Revenue Code describes actually two separate excise taxes for two mutually exclusive legislative jurisdictions:
 - 9.1. A municipal tax upon citizens and residents (aliens) domiciled on federal territory (the statutory but not constitutional “United States”) under Subtitles A, B, and C.
 - 9.2. An income tax upon foreign commerce within states of the Union under Subtitle D.
10. Anyone who is neither a statutory “U.S. citizen” (domiciled in the District of Columbia or a U.S. territory and born in any state of the Union or federal territory) pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 or a resident (alien) domiciled in the federal zone pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) is a “nonresident alien” under the I.R.C.
11. Those who are “nonresident aliens” are “nonresident” and therefore not within the legislative jurisdiction of almost all federal law and are “nontaxpayers” under the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A in most cases. Pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §871, the only thing they have to pay income taxes on are earnings from within the U.S. government , such as:
 - 11.1. Social security benefits.
 - 11.2. Distributions from Foreign Sales Corporations (FSCs) registered within the District of Columbia.
 - 11.3. Earnings from investments and real property on federal territory.
12. Important facts about “nonresidents”:
 - 12.1. Those born within and domiciled within a state of the Union are:
 - 12.1.1. “nationals” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21).

1 12.1.2. “non-citizen nationals” per 8 U.S.C. §1452.

2 12.1.3. Not statutory “U.S. citizens” or “citizens” under 8 U.S.C. §1401 or any provision of the Internal Revenue

3 Code.

4 12.1.4. “nonresident aliens” but not “individuals” or “nonresident alien individuals”.

5 12.2. “Nonresident aliens” are a subset of “aliens”.

6 13. All “taxpayers” within the I.R.C. are “aliens” lawfully engaged in a “trade or business”, meaning a “public office” in

7 the U.S. government pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26).

8 13.1. The term “individual” does not include statutory “citizens” or “nationals” pursuant to 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3).

9 13.2. Statutory “U.S. citizens” can be statutory “taxpayers” only in the case where they are abroad pursuant to 26

10 U.S.C. §911(d)(3) and avail themselves of the “benefits” of a tax treaty with the foreign country they are in. In 11 that capacity, they interface to the foreign country as an “alien” and therefore a “taxpayer” and an “individual”.

12 That is why both “citizens” and “residents” are grouped together under 26 U.S.C. §911: Because they are both 13 aliens when abroad in relation to the country they are in.

14 13.3. It is unlawful for CONSTITUTIONAL aliens to engage in a public office in the government. Therefore, it is

15 technically an impossibility for a constitutional alien to be a statutory “taxpayer”. This is an unavoidable

16 consequence of the fact that the income tax is a public officer kickback program disguised to look like a

17 legitimate income tax to fool everyone.

18 4. Lack of Citizenship

19 §74. Aliens cannot hold Office. - - It is a general principle that an alien can not hold a public office. In all

20 independent popular governments, as is said by Chief Justice Dixon of Wisconsin, “it is an acknowledged

21 principle, which lies at the very foundation, and the enforcement of which needs neither the aid of statutory nor

22 constitutional enactments or restrictions, that the government is instituted by the citizens for their liberty and

23 protection, and that it is to be administered, and its powers and functions exercised only by them and through

24 their agency.”

25 In accordance with this principle it is held that an alien can not hold the office of sheriff.^[2]

31 14. Those who file “resident” tax forms such as IRS Form 1040 and who are domiciled within a constitutional but not

32 statutory state of the Union are:

33 14.1. Indirectly making a voluntary “election” to be treated as a “resident” (alien) by the national government.

34 14.2. Indirectly and unilaterally “electing” themselves into a public office in the U.S. government in criminal violation

35 of the following, because all statutory “taxpayers” are public offices in the U.S. government:

38 14.2.3. 18 U.S.C. §211.

39 14.3. Availing themselves of the “benefits and protections” of the laws of the United States. The courts call this 40 process “purposeful availment”.

41 14.4. Engaging in the equivalent of “contracting” under a franchise agreement. In law, all franchises are contracts.

42 14.5. Waiving sovereign immunity under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2), and agreeing 43 to be treated as a “resident”.

44 14.6. Changing their status from “foreign” to “domestic” in relation to federal legislative jurisdiction.

45 14.7. Violating the I.R.C. Subtitle A franchise contract if they are not human beings married to statutory “U.S.

46 citizens”. The only provision within the I.R.C. that expressly authorizes nonresidents to “elect” to be treated as 47 “residents” is 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4)(B) and 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h).

48 2.3 Application to your circumstances

49 Americans domiciled in nonfederal areas of the 50 Union states are nonresidents and statutory but not constitutional

50 “aliens” with respect to the Internal Revenue Code and the [federal] “United States”. By “Americans”, we mean people

51 born anywhere in the American Union in either a state of the Union or federal territory or people from foreign countries

52 who are naturalized to become Americans. These Americans have no “U.S.” (government) source income unless they work

53 for the U.S. government or are engaged in a “public office” or have investments within federal territory called the “United

1 States". Whether you are a "nonresident" is determined by your place of domicile, not your place of birth. One becomes a
2 "resident" under the I.R.C. by having a domicile on federal territory that is no part of the exclusive jurisdiction of any state
3 of the Union.

QUESTION FOR DOUBTERS: If you disagree and think that "United States" includes places other than federal territory, then please explain why 26 CFR §1.932-1(a)(1) says the following, which contradicts such a conclusion. Why would people who live in a "U.S. possession" be treated as nonresident aliens instead of residents, if they lived in the "United States"? Why would this section even be necessary because if you were right, they would be "residents" instead of "nonresident aliens"?:

[Code of Federal Regulations]
[Title 26, Volume 10]
[Revised as of April 1, 2004]
From the U.S. Government Printing Office via GPO Access
[CITE: 26CFR1.932-1]

"(a)(1) A citizen of a possession of the United States (except Puerto Rico and, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1972, Guam), who is not otherwise a citizen or resident of the United States, including only the States and the District of Columbia, is treated for the purpose of the taxes imposed by Subtitle A of the Code (relating to income taxes) as if he were a nonresident alien individual."

Also explain why after the above was posted on the Family Guardian website in 2005, this regulation mysteriously disappeared from the Government Printing Office website and was replaced with a temporary regulation that didn't tell the truth so plainly. The current version of the above regulation does not contain this language because the government wants to hide the truth from you about your true status.

4 The author of the Law of Nations upon which the writing of the Constitution was based, Vattel, admitted that those who are
5 deprived of a right to earn a living have a right not to participate in and therefore not be statutory "citizens" or "residents"
6 of any society that deprives them of the ability to earn a living and feed their own face:

7 Law of Nations, Book 1: Of Nations Considered In Themselves
8 § 202. Their right when they are abandoned.

9 The state is obliged to defend and preserve all its members (§ 17); and the prince owes the same assistance to
10 his subjects. If, therefore, the state or the prince refuses or neglects to succour a body of people who are 11 exposed to imminent danger, the latter, being thus abandoned, become perfectly free to provide for their own
12 safety and preservation in whatever manner they find most convenient, without paying the least regard to
13 those who, by abandoning them, have been the first to fail in their duty. The country of Zug, being attacked by 14 the Swiss in 1352, sent for succour to the duke of Austria, its sovereign; but that prince, being engaged in 15 discourse concerning his hawks, at the time when the deputies appeared before him, would scarcely condescend
16 to hear them. Thus abandoned, the people of Zug entered into the Helvetic confederacy.¹ The city of Zurich had 17 been in the same situation the year before. Being attacked by a band of rebellious citizens who were supported
18 by the neighbouring nobility, and the house of Austria, it made application to the head of the empire: but
19 Charles IV., who was then emperor, declared to its deputies that he could not defend it; — upon which Zurich
20 secured its safety by an alliance with the Swiss.² The same reason has authorized the Swiss, in general, to 21 separate themselves entirely from the empire, which never protected them in any emergency; they had not
22 owned its authority for a long time before their independence was acknowledged by the emperor and the whole
23 Germanic body, at the treaty of Westphalia.

25 § 223. Cases in which a citizen has a right to quit his country.

26 There are cases in which a citizen has an absolute right to renounce his country, and abandon it entirely —
27 a right founded on reasons derived from the very nature of the social compact. 1. If the citizen cannot 28 procure subsistence in his own country, it is undoubtedly lawful for him to seek it elsewhere. For, political or 29 civil society being entered into only with a view of facilitating to each of its members the means of supporting
30 himself, and of living in happiness and safety, it would be absurd to pretend that a member, whom it cannot
31 furnish with such things as are most necessary, has not a right to leave it.

32 2. If the body of the society, or he who represents it, absolutely fail to discharge their obligations [under the 33 law] towards a citizen, the latter may withdraw himself. For, if one of the contracting parties does not observe

1 his engagements, the other is no longer bound to fulfil his; as the contract is reciprocal between the society and
2 its members. It is on the same principle, also, that me society may expel a member who violates its laws.

3 3. If the major part of the nation, or the sovereign who represents it, attempt to enact laws relative to matters in
4 which the social compact cannot oblige every citizen to submission, those who are averse to these laws have a
5 right to quit the society, and go settle elsewhere. For instance, if the sovereign, or the greater part of the nation,
6 will allow but one religion in the state, those who believe and profess another religion have a right to withdraw,
7 and take with them their families and effects. For, they cannot be supposed to have subjected themselves to the 8 authority of men, in affairs of conscience;³ and if the society suffers and is weakened by their departure, the 9 blame must be imputed to the intolerant party; for it is they who fail in their observance of the social compact
10 — it is they who violate it, and force the others to a separation. We have elsewhere touched upon some other 11 instances of this third case, — that of a popular state wishing to have a sovereign (§ 33), and that of an 12 independent nation taking the resolution to submit to a foreign power (§ 195).

13 [Law of Nations, Vattel, Book 1, Sections 202 and 223; Source:
14 [http://famguardian.org/Publications/LawOfNations/vattel_01.htm#§ 202. Their right when they are 15 abandoned.\]](http://famguardian.org/Publications/LawOfNations/vattel_01.htm#§ 202. Their right when they are abandoned.)

16 Hence, it is indisputable that if you are either the object of criminal or illegal activity by the government or if you are 17 deprived under any circumstance of the right to earn a living and support yourself, you have an absolute right:

- 18 1. To abandon your country or municipal domicile either physically or legally or both.
- 19 2. Expatriate yourself from the country which you are a member and thereby abandon your “nationality”.
- 20 3. Change your domicile to be outside that country and thereby become a “nonresident”, “non-citizen”, or “non-citizen 21 national” who is not protected by its civil laws and not a “person” or “individual” under said laws.

22 The Declaration of Independence states the same thing above, and actually calls it a “right” which you cannot be denied:

23 “Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient
24 causes; and, accordingly, all experience [has] shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are 25 sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But, when a long
26 train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce [the people]
27 under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new 28 guards for their future security.”

30 Official Government Recognition of the Nonresident Alien Position

31 Brushaber v. Union Pacific Railroad, 240 U.S. 1 (1916)

32 The United States Treasury has, in fact, acknowledged the validity of the Nonresident Alien Position. The case they most 33 frequently cite in defense of their right to collect taxes, in fact, had a plaintiff who was an American Citizen born in a
34 constitutional state of the Union, and yet, who was recognized as a nonresident alien by no less than the U.S. Supreme 35 Court. For all the details on this case, see:

44 United States v. Erie R. Co., 106 U.S. 327 (1882)

45 The basis for the nonresident alien position is thoroughly explained by the opinion of Justice Field in United States v. Erie
46 R. Co., 106 U.S. 327 (1882). We have included his whole opinion below and will follow it with a summary of key points 47 that he makes:

48 I am not able to agree with the majority of the court in the decision of this case. The tax which is sustained is, in

1 my judgment, a tax upon the income of non-resident aliens and nothing else. The 122d section of the act of June
2 30, 1864, c. 173, as amended by that of July 13, 1866, c. 184, subjects the interest on the bonds of the company
3 to a tax of five per cent, *331 and authorizes the company to deduct it from the amount payable to the coupon-
4 holder, whether he be a non-resident alien or a citizen of the United States. The company is thus made the
5 agent of the government [PUBLIC OFFICER!] for the collection of the tax. It pays nothing itself; the tax is
6 exacted from the creditor, the party who holds the coupons for interest. No collocation of words can change
7 this fact. And so it was expressly adjudged with reference to a similar tax in the case of United States v.
8 Railroad Company, reported in the 17th of Wallace. There a tax, under the same statute, was claimed upon the 9 interest of bonds held by the city of Baltimore. And it was decided that the tax was upon the bondholder and not 10 upon the corporation which had issued the bonds; that the corporation was only a convenient means of 11 collecting it; and that no pecuniary burden was cast upon the corporation. This was the precise question upon 12 which the decision of that case turned.

13 A paragraph from the opinion of the court will show this beyond controversy. "It is not taxation," said the 14 court, "that government should take from one the profits and gains of another. That is taxation which 15 compels one to pay for the support of the government from his own gains and of his own property. In the 16 cases we are considering, the corporation parts not with a farthing of its own property. Whatever sum it pays
17 to the government is the property of another. Whether the tax is five per cent on the dividend or interest, or 18 whether it be fifty per cent, the corporation is neither richer nor poorer. Whatever it thus pays to the 19 government, it by law withholds from the creditor. If no tax exists, it pays seven per cent, or whatever be its 20 rate of interest, to its creditor in one unbroken sum. If there be a tax, it pays exactly the same sum to its 21 creditor, less five per cent thereof, and this five per cent it pays to the government. The receivers may be two,
22 or the receiver may be one, but the payer pays the same amount in either event. It is no pecuniary burden
23 upon the corporation, and no taxation of the corporation. The burden falls on the creditor. He is the party
24 taxed. In the case before us, this question controls its decision. If the tax were upon the railroad, there is no
25 defence; it must be paid. But we hold that the tax imposed by the 122d section is in substance and in law a tax 26 upon the *332 income of the creditor or stockholder, and not a tax upon the corporation." See also Haight v.
27 Railroad Company, 6 Wall. 15, and Railroad Company v. Jackson, 7 id. 262, 269.

28 The bonds, upon the interest of which the tax in this case was laid, are held in Europe, principally in England;
29 they were negotiated there; the principal and interest are payable there; they are held by aliens there, and the 30 interest on them has always been paid there. The money which paid the interest was, until paid, the property of 31 the company; when it became the property of the bondholders it was outside of the jurisdiction of the United 32 States.

33 Where is the authority for this tax? It was said by counsel on the argument of the case — somewhat facetiously,
34 I thought at the time — that Congress might impose a tax upon property anywhere in the world, and this court
35 could not question the validity of the law, though the collection of the tax might be impossible, unless,
36 perchance, the owner of the property should at some time visit this country or have means in it which could be 37 reached. This court will, of course, never, in terms, announce or accept any such doctrine as this. And yet it is 38 not perceived wherein the substantial difference lies between that doctrine and the one which asserts a power to 39 tax, in any case, aliens who are beyond the limits of the country. The debts of the company, owing for interest,
40 are not property of the company, although counsel contended they were, and would thus make the wealth of the 41 country increase by the augmentation of the debts of its corporations. Debts being obligations of the debtors are 42 the property of the creditors, so far as they have any commercial value, and it is a misuse of terms to call them
43 anything else; they accompany the creditors wherever the latter go; their situs is with the latter. I have 44 supposed heretofore that this was common learning, requiring no argument for its support, being, in fact, a self-
45 evident truth, a recognition of which followed its statement. Nor is this the less so because the interest may be 46 called in the statute a part of the gains and profits of the company. Words cannot change the fact, though they 47 may mislead and bewilder. The thing remains through all disguises of terms. If the company makes no gains or 48 profits on its business and borrows the money to *333 meet its interest, though it be in the markets abroad, it is 49 still required under the statute to withhold from it the amount of the taxes. If it pays the interest, though it be 50 with funds which were never in the United States, it must deduct the taxes. The government thus lays a tax,
51 through the instrumentality of the company [PUBLIC OFFICE/WITHHOLDING AGENT], upon the 52 income of a non-resident alien over whom it cannot justly exercise any control, nor upon whom it can justly
53 lay any burden.

54 The Chief Justice, in his opinion in this case, when affirming the judgment of the District Court, happily
55 condensed the whole matter into a few words. "The tax," he says, "for which the suit was brought, was the tax
56 upon the owner of the bond, and not upon the defendant. It was not a tax in the nature of a tax in rem upon the 57 bond itself, but upon the income of the owner of the bond, derived from that particular piece of property. The 58 foreign owner of these bonds was not in any respect subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, neither was 59 this portion of his income. His debtor was, and so was the money of his debtor; but the money of his debtor did
60 not become a part of his income until it was paid to him, and in this case the payment was outside of the United
61 States, in accordance with the obligations of the contract which he held. The power of the United States to tax
62 is limited to persons, property, and business within their jurisdiction, as much as that of a State is limited to 63 the same subjects within its jurisdiction. State Tax on Foreign-Held Bonds, 15 Wall. 300."

64 "A personal tax," says the Supreme Court of New Jersey, "is the burden imposed by government on its own
65 citizens for the benefits which that government affords by its protection and its laws, and any government

which should attempt to impose such a tax on citizens of other States would justly incur the rebuke of the intelligent sentiment of the civilized world." State v. Ross, 23 N.J.L. 517, 521.

In imposing a tax, says Mr. Chief Justice Marshall, the legislature acts upon its constituents. "All subjects," he adds, "over which the power of a State extends are objects of taxation, but those over which it does not extend are, upon the soundest principles, exempt from taxation. This proposition ^{*334} may almost be pronounced self-evident." McCulloch v. Maryland, 4 Wheat. 316, 428.

There are limitations upon the powers of all governments, without any express designation of them in their organic law; limitations which inhere in their very nature and structure, and this is one of them, — that no rightful authority can be exercised by them over alien subjects, or citizens resident abroad or over their property there situated. This doctrine may be said to be axiomatic, and courts in England have felt it so obligatory upon them, that where general terms, used in acts of Parliament, seem to contravene it, they have narrowed the construction to avoid that conclusion. In a memorable case decided by Lord Stowell, which involved the legality of the seizure and condemnation of a French vessel engaged in the slave trade, which was, in terms, within an act of Parliament, that distinguished judge said: "That neither this British act of Parliament nor any commission founded on it can affect any right or interest of foreigners unless they are founded upon principles and impose regulations that are consistent with the law of nations. That is the only law which Great Britain can apply to them, and the generality of any terms employed in an act of Parliament must be narrowed in construction by a religious adherence thereto." The Le Louis, 2 Dod. 210, 239.

Similar language was used by Mr. Justice Bailey of the King's Bench, where the question was whether the act of Parliament, which declared the slave trade and all dealings therewith unlawful, justified the seizure of a Spanish vessel, with a cargo of slaves on board, by the captain of an English naval vessel, and it was held that it did not. The odiousness of the trade would have carried the justice to another conclusion if the public law would have permitted it, but he said, "That, although the language used by the legislature in the statute referred to is undoubtedly very strong, yet it can only apply to British subjects, and can only render the slave trade unlawful if carried on by them; it cannot apply in any way to a foreigner. It is true that if this were a trade contrary to the law of nations a foreigner could not maintain this action. But it is not; and as a Spaniard could not be considered as bound by the acts of the British legislature prohibiting this trade, it would be unjust to deprive *335 him of a remedy for the heavy damage he has sustained." Madrazo v. Willes, 3 Barn. & Ald. 353.

In The Apollon, a libel was filed against the collector of the District of St. Mary's for damages occasioned by the seizure of the ship and cargo whilst lying in a river within the territory of the King of Spain, and Mr. Justice Story said, speaking for the court, that "The laws of no nation can justly extend beyond its own jurisdiction, except so far as regards its own citizens. They can have no force to control the sovereignty or rights of any other nation within its own jurisdiction. And however general and comprehensive the phraseology used in our municipal laws may be, they must always be restricted in construction to places and persons upon whom the legislatures have authority and jurisdiction." 9 Wheat. 362.

When the United States became a separate and independent nation, they became, as said by Chancellor Kent, "subject to that system of rules which reason, morality, and custom had established among the enlightened nations of Europe as their public law," and by the light of that law must their dealings with persons of a foreign jurisdiction be considered; and according to that law there could be no debatable question, that the jurisdiction of the United States over persons and property ends where the foreign jurisdiction begins.

What urgent reasons press upon us to hold that this doctrine of public law may be set aside, and that the United States, in disregard of it, may lawfully treat as subject to their taxing power the income of non-resident aliens, derived from the interest received abroad on bonds of corporations of this country negotiable and payable there? If, in the form of taxes, the United States may authorize the withholding of a portion of such interest, the amount will be a matter in their discretion; they may authorize the whole to be withheld. And if they can do this, why may not the States do the same thing with reference to the bonds issued by corporations created under their laws. They will not be slow to act upon the example set. If such a tax may be levied by the United States in the rightful exercise of their taxing power, why may not a similar tax be levied upon the interest on bonds of the same corporations by the States within their respective jurisdictions in the rightful *336 exercise of their taxing power? What is sound law for one sovereignty ought to be sound law for another.

It is said, in answer to these views, that the governments of Europe — or at least some of them, where a tax is laid on incomes — deduct from the interest on their public debts the tax due on the amount as income, whether payable to a non-resident alien or a subject of the country. This is true in some instances, and it has been suggested in justification of it that the interest, being payable at their treasuries, is under their control, the money designated for it being within their jurisdiction when set apart for the debtor, who must in person or by agent enter the country to receive it. That presents a case different from the one before us in this, — that here the interest is payable abroad, and the money never becomes the property of the debtor until actually paid to him there. So, whether we speak of the obligation of the company to the holder of the coupons, or the money paid in its fulfilment, it is held abroad, not being, in either case, within the jurisdiction of the United States. And with reference to the taxation of the interest on public debts, Mr. Phillimore, in his Treatise on International Laws, says: "It may be quite right that a person having an income accruing from money lent to a

1 foreign State should be taxed by his own country on his income derived from this source; and if his own country
2 impose an income tax, it is, of course, a convenience to all parties that the government which is to receive the
3 tax should deduct it from the debt which, in this instance, that government owes to the payer of the tax, and thus
4 avoid a double process; but a foreigner, not resident in the State, is not liable to be taxed by the State; and it
5 seems unjust to a foreign creditor to make use of the machinery which, on the ground of convenience, is applied
6 in the cases of domestic creditors, in order to subject him to a tax to which he is not on principle liable." Vol. ii.
7 pp. 14, 15.

8 Here, also, is a further difference: the tax here is laid upon the interest due on private contracts. As observed
9 by counsel, no other government has ever undertaken to tax the income of subjects of another nation
10 accruing to them at their own domicile upon property held there, and arising out of ordinary business, or 11 contracts between individuals.

12 *³³⁷ This case is decided upon the authority of Railroad Company v. Collector, reported in 100 U.S., and the 13 doctrines from which I dissent necessarily flow from that decision. When that decision was announced I was 14 apprehensive that the conclusions would follow which I now see to be inevitable. It matters not what the interest
15 may be called, whether classed among gains and profits, or covered up by other forms of expression, the fact
16 remains, the tax is laid upon it, and that is a tax which comes from the party entitled to the interest, — here, a
17 non-resident alien in England, who is not, and never has been, subject to the jurisdiction of this country.

18 In that case the tax is called an excise on the business of the class of corporations mentioned, and is held to 19 be laid, not on the bondholder who receives the interest, but upon the earnings of the corporations which pay
20 it. How can a tax on the interest to be paid be called a tax on the earnings of the corporation if it earns
21 nothing — if it borrows the money to pay the interest? How can it be said not to be a tax upon the income of 22 the bondholder when out of his interest the tax is deducted?

23 That case was not treated as one, the disposition of which was considered important, as settling a rule of action.
24 The opening language of the opinion is: "As the sum involved in this suit is small, and the law under which the 25 tax in question was collected has long since been repealed, the case is of little consequence as regards any 26 principle involved in it as a rule of future action." But now it is invoked in a case of great magnitude, and many 27 other similar cases, as we are informed, are likely soon to be before us; and though it overrules repeated and 28 solemn adjudications rendered after full argument and mature deliberation, though it is opposed to one of the
29 most important and salutary principles of public law, it is to be received as conclusive, and no further word
30 from the court, either in explanation or justification of it, is to be heard. I cannot believe that a principle so
31 important as the one announced here, and so injurious in its tendencies, so well calculated to elicit
32 unfavorable comment from the enlightened sentiment of the civilized world, will be allowed to pass
33 unchallenged, though the court is silent upon it.

34 I think the judgment should be affirmed.

35 [United States v. Erie R. Co., 106 U.S. 327 (1882)]

36 Note some key points from the above dissenting opinion of Justice Field:

37 1. The tax imposed is an EXCISE and FRANCHISE tax upon the "benefits" of the protection of a specific municipal 38 government. Those who DON'T WANT or NEED and DO NOT CONSENT to such protection are NOT the lawful
39 subjects of the tax. Those who consent call themselves statutory "citizens". Those who don't call themselves statutory 40 "nonresident aliens" and "non-citizen nationals".

41 "A personal tax," says the Supreme Court of New Jersey, "is the burden imposed by government on its own
42 citizens for the benefits which that government affords by its protection and its laws, and any government
43 which should attempt to impose such a tax on citizens of other States would justly incur the rebuke of the 44 intelligent sentiment of the civilized world." State v. Ross, 23 N.J.L. 517, 521.

45 2. The United States has no jurisdiction outside its own borders or outside its own TERRITORY, meaning federal 46 territory. Constitutional states of the Union are NOT federal territory.

47 ". . . the jurisdiction of the United States over persons and property ends where the foreign jurisdiction 48 begins."

49 3. The only way that any legal PERSON, including a government, can reach outside its own territory is by exercising its 50 right to contract, which means that it can ONLY act upon those who EXPRESSLY consent and thereby contract with 51 the sovereign. That consent is manifested by calling oneself a STATUTORY "citizen". Those who don't consent to 52 the franchise protection contract call themselves statutory "nonresident aliens".

8 4. The tax is upon the RECIPIENT, not the company making the payment. The "taxpayer" is the recipient of the payment,
9 and hence, the company paying the recipient is NOT the "taxpayer". The company, in turn, is identified as an "agent of 10 the government", meaning a withholding agent and therefore PUBLIC OFFICER. WHY? Because the Erie railroad is 11 a FEDERAL and not STATE corporation. They hid this from their ruling. If they had been a PRIVATE company that 12 was NOT a FEDERAL corporation, they could not lawfully act as agents of the government.

13 *"It is not taxation," said the court, "that government should take from one the profits and gains of another.
14 That is taxation which compels one to pay for the support of the government from his own gains and of his 15 own property. In the cases we are considering, the corporation parts not with a farthing of its own property.
16 Whatever sum it pays to the government is the property of another. Whether the tax is five per cent on the 17 dividend or interest, or whether it be fifty per cent, the corporation is neither richer nor poorer. Whatever it
18 thus pays to the government, it by law withholds from the creditor. If no tax exists, it pays seven per cent, or 19 whatever be its rate of interest, to its creditor in one unbroken sum. If there be a tax, it pays exactly the same
20 sum to its creditor, less five per cent thereof, and this five per cent it pays to the government. The receivers
21 may be two, or the receiver may be one, but the payer pays the same amount in either event. It is no
22 pecuniary burden upon the corporation, and no taxation of the corporation. The burden falls on the creditor.
23 He is the party taxed. In the case before us, this question controls its decision. If the tax were upon the railroad,
24 there is no defence; it must be paid. But we hold that the tax imposed by the 122d section is in substance and 25 in law a tax upon the *332 income of the creditor or stockholder, and not a tax upon the corporation." See 26 also Haight v. Railroad Company, 6 Wall. 15, and *Railroad Company v. Jackson, 7 id. 262, 269.

27 5. The recipient is a non-resident alien BECAUSE he has a legislatively FOREIGN DOMICILE. NOT because he has a
28 FOREIGN NATIONALITY.
29 6. The FOREIGN DOMICILE makes the target of the tax a STATUTORY "alien" but not necessarily a
30 CONSTITUTIONAL alien.

31 *"Here, also, is a further difference: the tax here is laid upon the interest due on private contracts. As 32 observed by counsel, no other government has ever undertaken to tax the income of subjects of another
33 nation accruing to them at their own domicile upon property held there, and arising out of ordinary business, 34 or contracts between individuals."*

35 7. The "non-resident alien" is COMPLETELY outside the jurisdiction of the United States. Hence, it is LEGALLY
36 IMPOSSIBLE for such a person to become a statutory "taxpayer". The only way to CRIMINALLY force him to 37 become a taxpayer is to:
38 7.1. Let the company illegally withhold earnings of a nontaxpayer.
39 7.2. Make getting a refund of amounts withheld a "privilege" in which he has to request a "INDIVIDUAL Taxpayer 40 Identification Number" (ITIN) that makes him a statutory "individual".
41 7.3. After he gets the number ILLEGALLY, force him to file "taxpayer" tax return. If he refuses to do that, then they 42 refuse to refund the amount withheld. That's international terrorism and extortion.

43 *"The government thus lays a tax, through the instrumentality [PUBLIC OFFICE] of the company, upon the 44 income of a non-resident alien over whom it cannot justly exercise any control, nor upon whom it can justly
45 lay any burden."*

46 8. The laws of a nation ONLY apply to its own STATUTORY "citizens" who have a domicile on FEDERAL 47 TERRITORY. They do NOT apply to STATUTORY aliens with a legislatively FOREIGN DOMICILE. These 48 statutory "citizens" can ONLY become statutory citizens by SELECTING and CONSENTING to a domicile on federal 49 territory AND physically being on said territory.

50 *"The laws of no nation can justly extend beyond its own jurisdiction, except so far as regards its own
51 citizens. They can have no force to control the sovereignty or rights of any other nation within its own 52 jurisdiction. And however general and comprehensive the phraseology used in our municipal laws may be,
53 they must always be restricted in construction to places and persons upon whom the legislatures have 54 authority and jurisdiction." 9 Wheat. 362.*

55 9. If you are not a STATUTORY citizen (per 8 U.S.C. §1401, 26 U.S.C. §3121(d) and 26 CFR §1.1-1(c)), which Justice

Nonresident Alien Position

1 Field calls a "SUBJECT", then you can't be taxed. Field refers to those who can't be taxed as "aliens", and he can only
2 mean STATUTORY aliens, not CONSTITUTIONAL aliens:

3 "All subjects," he adds, "over which the power of a State extends are objects of taxation, but those over
4 which it does not extend are, upon the soundest principles, exempt from taxation. This proposition *334 may 5 almost be pronounced self-evident." McCulloch v. Maryland, 4 Wheat. 316, 428.

6 10. The court KNEW they were pulling a FRAUD on the people, because they were SILENT on so many important issues
7 that Field pointed out. Per Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(b)(6), they AGREED with his conclusions because they 8 did not EXPRESSLY DISAGREE or disprove ANY of his arguments.

9 "though it is opposed to one of the most important and salutary principles of public law, it is to be received as 10 conclusive, and no further word from the court, either in explanation or justification of it, is to be heard. I
11 cannot believe that a principle so important as the one announced here, and so injurious in its tendencies, so 12 well calculated to elicit unfavorable comment from the enlightened sentiment of the civilized world, will be 13 allowed to pass unchallenged, though the court is silent upon it."

14 11. Justice Field says the abuse of "words of art" mask the nature of the above criminal extortion:

15 "Words [of art] cannot change the fact, though they may [DELIBERATELY] mislead and bewilder. The 16 thing remains through all disguises of terms."

17 12. If you want to search for cases on "nonresident aliens" defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B), the Supreme Court spells
18 them differently than the code itself. You have to search for "non-resident alien" instead.

19 Those further interested in this subject should look at the ruling of former President and Chief Justice Taft in Cook v. Tait,
20 265 U.S. 47 (1924), in which he further expands the dubious holding of this case to imply that the tax applies to ALL 21 statutory citizens in the whole world, wherever they are.

24 4 Biblical Basis for the Nonresident Alien Position (NRAP)

25 The Nonresident Alien Position has extensive biblical foundations and qualifies as a "religious practice". The Bible
26 identifies "nonresident aliens" as "strangers", "pilgrims", or "foreigners". Most major figures in the Bible who were in fact
27 following God's holy calling and acting out of obedience to His commands were asked by God to abandon a comfortable
28 and complacent life to enter a foreign country and be strangers and foreigners there. These include:

29 1. Believers. In Eph. 2:19-22, Paul emphasizes that when we profess faith in God, we transition from being "foreign" to 30 "domestic" in relation to Him and the Kingdom of Heaven. This implies that everyone who does NOT believe in God
31 or obey his Commandments REMAINS a "foreigner", "stranger", and/or "alien":

32 "Now, therefore, you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and members
33 of the household of God, 20 having been built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ
34 Himself being the chief cornerstone, 21 in whom the whole building, being fitted together, grows into a holy 35 temple in the Lord, 22 in whom you also are being built together for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit."
36 [Eph. 2:19-22, Bible, NKJV]

37 2. Abraham. Hebrews 11:9. Abraham was called by God to pursue His promise by leaving a comfortable and rich life in 38 Ur (now Iraq) and enter

39 "By faith he dwelt in the land of promise as in a foreign country, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the 40 heirs with him of the same promise;"
41 [Hebrews 11:9, Bible, NKJV]

1 3. Jesus.

2 3.1. Matt. 8:16-22. When one of Christ's followers offered to become a disciple and follow Jesus, he was warned that
3 the cost of discipleship was that he would "have no place to lay his head", meaning that he would have no
4 domicile or home anywhere and therefore would be a "foreigner", "stranger", or "stateless person" everywhere
5 with no political or legal bonds to any ruler or government. This, in fact, was the only way to ensure that the 6 disciples could in fact speak truthfully and objectively and fearlessly to everyone about God: If they had nothing 7 to lose.

8 The Cost of Discipleship

9 18 And when Jesus saw great multitudes about Him, He gave a command to depart to the other side. 19 Then a
10 certain scribe came and said to Him, "Teacher, I will follow You wherever You go."

11 20 And Jesus said to him, "Foxes have holes and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere
12 to lay His head."

13 21 Then another of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, let me first go and bury my father."

14 22 But Jesus said to him, "Follow Me, and let the dead bury their own dead."
15 [Matt. 8:16-22, Bible, NKJV]

16 3.2. Matt. 10:34-39. Christ said he came to bring division between believers and unbelievers, even within families.
17 Those who are divided against each other are "foreign" or "alien" in relation to each other. To "take up the cross"
18 is to become alien and foreign to all other causes, to profess exclusive allegiance to God even to the point of 19 considering love and allegiance to family members subordinate and even unnecessary.

20 Christ Brings Division

21 34 "Do not think that I came to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword. 35 For I
22 have come to 'set a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her
23 mother-in-law'; 36 and 'a man's enemies will be those of his own household.'[e] 37 He who loves father or 24 mother more than Me is not worthy of Me. And he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of 25 Me. 38 And he who does not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me. 39 He who finds his life will 26 lose it, and he who loses his life for My sake will find it.

29 3.3. Mark 3:35. Jesus said that the only members of His family are those who DO His commandments and not just talk
30 about them. Hence, all those who aren't Christians and who don't regard the Bible as a law book automatically 31 become "foreigners" and "aliens".

32 "For whoever does the will of God is My brother and My sister and mother."
33 [Jesus, in Mark 3:35, NKJV]

34 4. Moses. When God called Moses to rescue the Israelites from bondage to Pharaoh, He L.Ed. them to a foreign land
35 where they were and remained strangers and nomads to wander in the desert 40 years before not they but their progeny
36 would eventually find a home. He proclaimed that their exile was a punishment for their disobedience and rebellion,
37 and that they wouldn't have a home or a new land they could call a domicile until all the old guard socialists died off
38 and the next generation was taught obedience to God's laws.

39 Death Sentence on the Rebels

40 26 And the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, 27 "How long shall I bear with this evil congregation
41 who complain against Me? I have heard the complaints which the children of Israel make against Me. 28
42 Say to them, 'As I live,' says the LORD, 'just as you have spoken in My hearing, so I will do to you: 29 The 43 carcasses of you who have complained against Me shall fall in this wilderness, all of you who were 44 numbered, according to your entire number, from twenty years old and above. 30 Except for Caleb the son of 45 Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun, you shall by no means enter the land which I swore I would make you
46 dwell in. 31 But your little ones, whom you said would be victims, I will bring in, and they shall know the 47 land which you have despised. 32 But as for you, your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness. 33 And your sons
48 shall be shepherds in the wilderness forty years, and bear the brunt of your infidelity, until your carcasses
49 are consumed in the wilderness. 34 According to the number of the days in which you spied out the land,

1 forty days, for each day you shall bear your guilt one year, namely forty years, and you shall know My
2 rejection. 35 I the LORD have spoken this. I will surely do so to all this evil congregation who are gathered
3 together against Me. In this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die."

4 36 Now the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, who returned and made all the congregation complain
5 against him by bringing a bad report of the land, 37 those very men who brought the evil report about the land,
6 died by the plague before the LORD. 38 But Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh remained 7 alive, of the men who went to spy out the land.
8 [Numbers 14:26-38, Bible, NKJV]

9 5. The Israelites who built the wall in the book of Nehemiah. When they felt convicted because of their sin in marrying
10 foreigners and foreign wives, they repented, built their own city, and formed their own foreign government because the 11 one ruling where they were was not obedient to God's laws. Separating oneself from foreigners means, literally 12 becoming a "foreigner", "stranger", or "transient foreigner" from a legal perspective.

13 "Then those of Israelite lineage separated themselves from all foreigners; and they stood and confessed their
14 sins and the iniquities of their fathers.³ And they stood up in their place and read from the Book of the Law of 15 the LORD their God for one-fourth of the day; and for another fourth they confessed and worshiped the LORD
16 their God.
17 [Nehemiah 9:2-3, Bible, NKJV]

18 6. The Prophets. This includes Daniel, Ezekial, Elijah, etc. All of them were scorned and without honor in their own
19 households and therefore "alien" and "foreign" in relation to their own relatives:

20 "So they were offended at Him.
21 But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his own country and in his own house."
22 [Matt. 13:57, Bible, NKJV]

23 7. King David.

24 7.1. 1 Sam. 9-19. After King Saul was elected as Israel's first King in violation of God's desires and wishes, the 25 Israelites offended God by electing a King who did not obey the Lord. David did not agree with Saul's actions
26 and made Saul look bad and made Saul jealous of him. Eventually, David had to flee from the king, hide in caves
27 to avoid the pagan King Saul's wrath. David therefore became a "foreigner" and a "stranger" in relation to the 28 pagan government of his time so that he could avoid offending God and be obedient to God. 1 Sam. 19.
29 7.2. Psalm 69:8-9. David in the Psalm revealed his basis for fleeing Saul by saying the following:

30 I have become a stranger to my brothers,
31 And an alien to my mother's children;
32 Because zeal for Your house has eaten me up,
33 And the reproaches of those who reproach You have fallen on me.
34 [Psalm 69:8-9, Bible, NKJV]

35 The Bible also commands followers and Christians to remain separate and sanctified in relation to the sinful governments
36 and entanglements of the world. From a legal perspective, that means we must become "foreigners", "strangers", "transient 37 foreigners", and "aliens". Here are just a few examples, and there are many more where these came from:

38 "Pure and undefiled religion before God and the Father is this: to visit orphans and widows in their trouble,
39 and to keep oneself unspotted [foreign] from the world [the obligations and concerns of the world]."

42 "Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend
43 [citizen], [resident], [taxpayer], [inhabitant], or "subject" under a king or political ruler] of the world [or 44 any man-made kingdom other than God's Kingdom] makes himself an enemy of God."

47 "You shall make no covenant [contract or franchise] with them [foreigners, pagans], nor with their [pagan
48 government] gods [laws or judges]. They shall not dwell in your land [and you shall not dwell in theirs by
49 becoming a "resident" in the process of contracting with them, lest they make you sin against Me [God].
50 For if you serve their gods [under contract or agreement or franchise], it will surely be a snare to you."
51 [Exodus 23:32-33, Bible, NKJV]

2 "You shall have no other gods [including political rulers, governments, or Earthly laws] before Me [or My 3 commandments]."

6 "Then all the elders of Israel gathered together and came to Samuel [the priest in a Theocracy] at Ramah, and
7 said to him, 'Look, you [the priest within a theocracy] are old, and your sons do not walk in your ways. Now
8 make us a king [or political ruler] to judge us like all the nations [and be OVER them]'.

10 "But the thing displeased Samuel when they said, 'Give us a king [or political ruler] to judge us.' So Samuel
11 prayed to the Lord. And the Lord said to Samuel, 'Hear the voice of the people in all that they say to you; for 12 they have rejected Me [God], that I should not reign over them. According to all the works which they have
13 done since the day that I brought them up out of Egypt, even to this day—with which they have forsaken Me
14 [God as their ONLY King, Lawgiver, and Judge] and served other gods—so they are doing to you also 15 [government or political rulers becoming the object of idolatry].'
16 [1 Sam. 8:4-8, Bible, NKJV]

18 "Do not walk in the statutes of your fathers [the heathens], nor observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves
19 with their [pagan government] idols. I am the LORD your God: Walk in My statutes, keep My judgments, and 20 do them; hallow My Sabbaths, and they will be a sign between Me and you, that you may know that I am the

24 "Therefore, my brethren, you also have become dead to the law [man's law] through the body of Christ [by 25 shifting your legal domicile to the God's Kingdom], that you may be married to another—to Him who was 26 raised from the dead, that we should bear fruit [as agents, fiduciaries, and trustees] to God. For when we were 27 in the flesh, the sinful passions which were aroused by the law were at work in our members to bear fruit to 28 death. But now we have been delivered from the law, having died to what we were held by, so that we should 29 serve in the newness of the Spirit [and newness of the law, God's law] and not in the oldness of the letter."

5 Statutory definitions of “individual” and “nonresident alien”

5.1 You’re not a statutory “individual”

The U.S. Supreme Court has held that the ability to regulate EXCLUSIVELY PRIVATE conduct is repugnant to the Constitution.

*When one becomes a member of society, he necessarily parts with some rights or privileges which, as an individual not affected by his relations to others, he might retain. "A body politic," as aptly defined in the preamble of the Constitution of Massachusetts, "is a social compact by which the whole people covenants with each citizen, and each citizen with the whole people, that all shall be governed by certain laws for the common good." This does not confer power upon the whole people to control rights which are purely and exclusively private, Thorpe v. R. & B. Railroad Co., 27 Vt. 143; but it does authorize the establishment of laws requiring each citizen to so conduct himself, and so use his own property, as not unnecessarily to injure another. This is the very essence of government, and 125*125 has found expression in the maxim sic utere tuo ut alienum non iudas. From this source come the police powers, which, as was said by Mr. Chief Justice Taney in the License Cases, 5 How. 583, "are nothing more or less than the powers of government inherent in every sovereignty, . . . that is to say, . . . the power to govern men and things." Under these powers the government regulates the conduct of its citizens one towards another, and the manner in which each shall use his own property, when such regulation becomes necessary for the public good [Munn. v. Illinois, 94 U.S. 113 (1876), SOURCE: http://scholar.google.com/scholar_case?case=6419197193322400931]*

"The power to "legislate generally upon" life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the "power to provide modes of redress" against offensive state action, was "repugnant" to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v. Bowman, 190 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest, 383 U.S. 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress' §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not been questioned."

Consequently, whenever the government claims a right to regulate conduct using CIVIL and not CRIMINAL law, it must:

1. Relate to conduct that is NOT “EXCLUSIVELY PRIVATE”.
2. Relate to PUBLIC conduct.
3. Relate to conduct of PUBLIC officers on official business.
4. NOT violate the prohibition against involuntary servitude found in the Thirteenth Amendment. Most regulations impose DUTIES, which would be involuntary servitude if imposed against human beings but would not be involuntary servitude against a public office that you have to VOLUNTEER into called a “citizen”, “resident”, or “individual”.

Statutes that implement this type of CIVIL regulation of “the PUBLIC” are typically aimed at “citizens”, “residents”, and especially “individuals”. But HOW does one become an “individual” from a factual perspective? The answer is found in 5 U.S.C. §2105(a) , which defines the statutory term “employee” to mean an “officer AND an individual”. By “officer”, they can only mean a lawfully elected PUBLIC officer of the U.S. and not state government:

§2105. Employee

(a) For the purpose of this title, “employee”, except as otherwise provided by this section or when specifically modified, means an officer and an individual who is—

If you think there is SOME OTHER means of becoming a statutory “individual”, then you have the burden of showing:

1. HOW this transformation can occur WITHOUT the consent of the party affected without compelling them to associate in violation of the First Amendment right of association clause. Remember, the status one claims or is associated with is the means by which they CONTRACT with and ASSOCIATE with other members of society.
2. HOW one can be made party to what the courts call the “Social compact” as an “individual” WITHOUT unconstitutionally and unlawfully compelling them to contract.
3. HOW the duties that attach to the status of “individual” in the I.R.C. can lawfully be imposed without violating the

1 Thirteenth Amendment.

2 Why did they have to take such a circuitous route to manufacture “individuals” and the usually FALSE presumption that
3 you are a statutory “individual”? Because the U.S. Supreme Court said they had to CREATE the “person” before they can
4 create a case or controversy in any court, and since they only have jurisdiction over public conduct of public officers, they
5 couldn’t make the connection directly without exposing their ruse. Note that saying that the courts cannot exercise
6 jurisdiction UNLESS the dispute involves parties in different states is equivalent to saying that they DO NOT become
7 “persons” under federal law UNTIL they fit this description:

8 Making a person, makes a case; and thus, a government which cannot exercise jurisdiction unless an alien
9 or citizen of another State be a party, makes a party which is neither alien nor citizen, and then claims
10 jurisdiction because it has made a case. If this be true, why not make every citizen a corporation sole, and 11 thus bring them all into the Courts of the United States quo minus? Nay, it is still worse, for there is not only
12 an evasion of the constitution implied in this doctrine, but a positive power to violate it. Suppose every 13 individual of this corporation were citizens of Ohio, or, as applicable to the other case, were citizens of 14 Georgia, the United States could not give any one of them, individually, the right to sue a citizen of the same
15 State in the Courts of the United States; then, on what principle could that right be communicated to them in a
16 body? But the question is equally unanswerable, if any single member of the corporation is of the same State 17 with the defendant, as has been repeatedly adjudged.”

18 [Osborn v. Bank of United States, 22 U.S. 738 (1824)]

19 There is NOTHING wrong, with imposing the duties upon a public office called an “individual” and requiring you to 20 VOLUNTEER to become a statutory “individual”, because the common law says that which you consent to cannot form 21 the basis for an injury:

22 “Volenti non fit injuria.
23 He who consents cannot receive an injury. 2 Bouv. Inst. n. 2279, 2327; 4 T. R. 657; Shelf. on mar. & Div. 449.

24 Consensus tollit errorem.
25 Consent removes or obviates a mistake. Co. Litt. 126.

26 Melius est omnia mala pati quam malo concentire.
27 It is better to suffer every wrong or ill, than to consent to it. 3 Co. Inst. 23.

28 Nemo videtur fraudare eos qui sciunt, et consentiunt.
29 One cannot complain of having been deceived when he knew the fact and gave his consent. Dig. 50, 17, 145.”
30 [Bouvier's Maxims of Law, 1856;
31 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/Publications/BouvierMaximsOfLaw/BouvierMaxims.htm>

32 Furthermore, it is a violation of due process of law to PRESUME that one is a statutory “individual” without evidence
33 demonstrating it. Why? Because such a presumption would amount to EMINENT DOMAIN without compensation over 34 the property of the citizen, where the “rights” conveyed by “personhood” are the property being STOLEN by the
35 government.

36 “It is apparent that a constitutional prohibition cannot be transgressed indirectly by the creation of a statutory
37 presumption any more than it can be violated by direct enactment. The power to create presumptions is not a
38 means of escape from constitutional restrictions.”
39 [Bailey v. Alabama, 219 U.S. 219 (1911)

40 And the only type of evidence is a statute. Absent such evidence, the presumption is that if the definitions in the statute do
41 not EXPRESSLY INCLUDE IT, then ALL OTHER THINGS are PURPOSEFULLY EXCLUDED:

42 “Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
43 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
44 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
45 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
46 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
47 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”

48 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

49 “When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that
50 term's ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) (“It is axiomatic that the statutory
51 *definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term”); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n.
52 10 (“As a rule, ‘a definition which declares what a term “means” . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated”);*

3 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at
4 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include
5 the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the
6 contrary."
7 [Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 \(2000\)]

8 An interesting fact to also consider when one fills out an IRS form W-8 or W-8BEN identifying the applicant as a
9 "nonresident alien" is that the entire Internal Revenue Code does not define the term "individual" to mean "human being"!
10 The closest it comes is in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(1), where it defines "person" to include "an individual" but not a human
11 being. Note the phrase "an individual" instead of "all individuals". They are talking about a specific type of "individual"
12 and not human beings or even all natural persons generally. The U.S. Supreme Court confirmed that this "individual" must 13 be domiciled or resident on federal territory where the federal government has general jurisdiction. The government can't 14 legislate for people or extraterritorially who are not its own statutory "citizens" pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 or "permanent 15 residents" and therefore "persons" without at least a contract proving consent of the "person":

16 The foregoing considerations would lead, in case of doubt, to a construction of any statute as intended to be
17 confined in its operation and effect to the territorial limits over which the lawmaker has general and
18 legitimate power. All legislation is prima facie territorial.' Ex parte Blain, L. R. 12 Ch. Div. 522, 528; State
19 v. Carter, 27 N. J. L. 499; People v. Merrill, 2 Park.Crim.Rep. 590, 596. Words having universal scope, such
20 as 'every contract in restraint of trade,' 'every person who shall monopolize,' etc., will be taken, as a matter of
21 course, to mean only everyone subject to such legislation, not all that the legislator subsequently may be able
22 to catch [E.G. DECEIVE]. In the case of the present statute, the improbability of the United States attempting
23 to make acts done in Panama or Costa Rica criminal is obvious, yet the law begins by making criminal the acts
24 for which it gives a right to sue. We think it entirely plain that what the defendant did in Panama or Costa Rica
25 is not within the scope of the statute so far as the present suit is concerned. Other objections of a serious nature
26 are urged, but need not be discussed.
27 [American Banana Co. v. U.S. Fruit, 213 U.S. 347 at 357-358]

28 These conclusions are confirmed by the content of section 3.12.1.10 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302. 26 U.S.C.
29 §6331(a) confirms that the specific natural person who is the only type of "individual" in the Internal Revenue Code is an 30 "employee", instrumentality, agent or officer of the federal government holding a "public office", in fact, because this is the 31 only natural person against whom distraint (force) is authorized.

32 26 U.S.C., Subchapter D - Seizure of Property for Collection of Taxes
33 Sec. 6331. Levy and distraint

34 (a) Authority of Secretary

35 If any person liable to pay any tax neglects or refuses to pay the same within 10 days after notice and demand,
36 it shall be lawful for the Secretary to collect such tax (and such further sum as shall be sufficient to cover the 37 expenses of the levy) by levy upon all property and rights to property (except such property as is exempt under 38 section 6334) belonging to such person or on which there is a lien provided in this chapter for the payment of 39 such tax. Levy may be made upon the accrued salary or wages of any officer, employee, or elected official, of 40 the United States, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of the United States or the 41 District of Columbia, by serving a notice of levy on the employer (as defined in section 3401(d)) of such 42 officer, employee, or elected official. If the Secretary makes a finding that the collection of such tax is in 43 jeopardy, notice and demand for immediate payment of such tax may be made by the Secretary and, upon 44 failure or refusal to pay such tax, collection thereof by levy shall be lawful without regard to the 10-day period
45 provided in this section.

46 The word "individual" is also then never defined anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code, so we have to use the legal 47 definition. If we look up the definition of "individual" in Black's Law Dictionary, we find the following:

48 Individual. As a noun, this term denotes a single person as distinguished from a group or class, and also, very*
49 commonly, a private or natural person as distinguished from a partnership, corporation, or association; but it
50 is said that this restrictive signification is not necessarily inherent in the word, and that it may, in proper
51 cases, include artificial persons.
52 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 773]

53 So naming "an individual" in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(1) as a "person" upon whom a tax is "imposed" in 26 U.S.C. §1 still 54 doesn't imply human beings like you and me. As a matter of fact, according to the above definition from the legal 55 dictionary, "individual" most commonly refers to artificial persons, which in this case are corporations and partnerships
56 involved in "public office" or foreign commerce, within most federal law. The only thing Congress has done by using the

53 of 392

1 word “individual” in the definition of “person” is create a circular definition. Such a circular definition is also called a
2 “tautology”: a word which is defined using itself, which we would argue doesn’t define anything! If Congress wants to
3 include human beings or men and women as those liable for the income tax, then they must explicitly say so or the Internal
4 Revenue Code is void for vagueness. At least the California Revenue and Taxation Code defines it correctly:

5 California Revenue and Taxation Code

6 17005. “Individual” means a natural person
7 [California Revenue and Taxation Code, Section 17005].

8 The only place we could find a statutory definition of “individual” that is relevant to the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A
9 is in the Privacy Act, which provides the following definition. Note that the term appears in Title 5 of the U.S. Code, which 10 is entitled “Government Organization and Employees”, thus confirming that the only “individual” they can be referring to 11 is a government employee or public officer :

12 TITLE 5 - GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION AND EMPLOYEES
13 PART I - THE AGENCIES GENERALLY
14 CHAPTER 5 - ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE
15 SUBCHAPTER II - ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE
16 § 552a. Records maintained on individuals

17 (a) Definitions.— For purposes of this section—

18 (2) the term “individual” means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent
19 residence;

20 Since we can’t find the definition of “individual” in the Internal Revenue Code, we concluded that it must be buried
21 somewhere in the regulations in order to hide the truth. After searching all 17,000 pages of the regulations (26 CFR)
22 electronically, we found that definition and it confirmed our suspicions. Below is the only definition of “individual” we
23 could find anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C.) or the Treasury Regulations (26 IRS FORM), which also 24 appeared in section 5.5.1 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302:

25 26 CFR 1.1441-1 Requirement for the deduction and withholding of tax on payments to foreign persons.

26 (c) Definitions

27 (3) Individual.

28 (i) Alien individual.

29 The term alien individual means an individual who is not a citizen or a national of the United States. See
30 Sec. 1.1-1(c).

31 (ii) Nonresident alien individual.

32 The term nonresident alien individual means a person described in section 7701(b)(1)(B), an alien individual
33 who is a resident of a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and Sec. 301.7701(b)-
34 7(a)(1) of this chapter, or an alien individual who is a resident of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of
35 Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under Sec. 301.7701(b)-
36 1(d) of this chapter. An alien individual who has made an election under section 6013 (g) or (h) to be treated as
37 a resident of the United States is nevertheless treated as a nonresident alien individual for purposes of
38 withholding under chapter 3 of the Code and the regulations thereunder.

39 Did you notice that the definition of “individual” did not include statutory “U.S. citizens”? Did you also notice that the 40 definitions were not qualified to only apply to a specific chapter or section? That means that they apply generally
41 throughout the Internal Revenue Code and implementing regulations. Therefore, we must conclude that the REAL
42 “individual” in the phrase “U.S. Individual Income Tax Return” (IRS Form 1040) that Congress and the IRS are referring 43 to can only mean “nonresident alien INDIVIDUALS” and “alien INDIVIDUALS”. That is why they don’t just come out
44 and say “U.S. Citizen Tax Return” on the 1040 form. If you aren’t an “individual”, then obviously you are filing the 45 WRONG form to file the 1040, which is a RESIDENT form for those DOMICILED on federal territory.

1 So there you have it: if you were born in one of the 50 Union states outside of the federal zone and therefore are a “national
2 of the United States of America” and not a “national of the United States”, then you aren’t a statutory “U.S. citizen” defined
3 in 8 U.S.C. §1401 or a “resident alien” defined 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) . The only other thing you can be at that point is
4 a “nonresident alien” and still be the “individual” mentioned in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(1) who is the subject of the income tax
5 in Subtitle A. If the Internal Revenue Code was written unambiguously, then it would define “Individual” to mean only
6 corporations or partnerships involved in foreign commerce, which is why they chose to define it ambiguously in the first
7 place—to hide the truth! For everyone else who aren’t corporations or trusts and estates owned by corporations who have
8 “income” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §643(b), the money they pay to the IRS is a donation and not a tax. Are you blown away
9 yet? Are you MAD yet?

10 Investigating this matter of the definition of “person” further, we find that there is a dead pointer in 4 U.S.C. §110(a) which
11 points to a repealed 26 U.S.C. §3797 definition of the term “person”. You can’t know whether you , as a “human being” fit 12 the description of “person” found in the tax code unless and until it is clearly and unambiguously defined to mean “human
13 being”, which it is not anywhere in subtitles A and C. The closest realistic thing we have to a definition of the term
14 “person” is in 26 CFR § 301.6671-1(b), which defines who penalties may be levied against under Subtitle F of the Internal
15 Revenue Code:

16 [Code of Federal Regulations]
17 [Title 26, Volume 17, Parts 300 to 499]
18 [Revised as of April 1, 2000]
19 From the U.S. Government Printing Office via GPO Access
22 TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE
23 Additions to the Tax and Additional Amounts--Table of Contents
24 Sec. 301.6671-1 Rules for application of assessable penalties.
26 (b) Person defined.

27 For purposes of subchapter B of chapter 68, the term ``person'' includes an 28 officer or employee of a corporation, or a member or 29 employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or 30 member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which 31 the violation occurs.

32 The reason the government won’t define the term “person” is because the U.S. Supreme Court in Eisner v. Macomber, 252
33 U.S. 189 (1920) ruled the following, which defines clearly that the true meaning of “person” in the tax code is 34 “corporation”:

35 “The Sixteenth Amendment declares that Congress shall have power to levy and collect taxes on income, “from
36 [271 U.S. 174] whatever source derived,” without apportionment among the several states and without regard
37 to any census or enumeration. It was not the purpose or effect of that amendment to bring any new subject
38 within the taxing power. Congress already had power to tax all incomes. But taxes on incomes from some 39 sources had been held to be “direct taxes” within the meaning of the constitutional requirement as to
40 apportionment. Art. 1, § 2, cl. 3, § 9, cl. 4; Pollock v. Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., 158 U.S. 601. The
41 Amendment relieved from that requirement, and obliterated the distinction in that respect between taxes on
42 income that are direct taxes and those that are not, and so put on the same basis all incomes “from whatever
43 source derived.” Brushaber v. Union P. R. Co., 240 U.S. 1, 17. “Income” has been taken to mean the same
44 thing as used in the Corporation Excise Tax Act of 1909, in the Sixteenth Amendment, and in the various
45 revenue acts subsequently passed. Southern Pacific Co. v. Lowe, 247 U.S. 330, 335; MERCHANTS' L. & T. CO.
46 v. Smietanka, 255 U.S. 509, 219. After full consideration, this Court declared that income may be defined as
47 gain derived from capital, from labor, or from both combined, including profit gained through sale or
48 conversion of capital. Stratton's Independence v. Howbert, 231 U.S. 399, 415; Doyle v. Mitchell Brothers
49 Co., 247 U.S. 179, 185; Eisner v. Macomber, 252 U.S. 189, 207. And that definition has been adhered to and
50 applied repeatedly. See, e.g., MERCHANTS' L. & T. CO. v. Smietanka, supra; 518; Goodrich v. Edwards, 255 U.S.
51 527, 535; United States v. Phellis, 257 U.S. 156, 169; Miles v. Safe Deposit Co., 259 U.S. 247, 252-253; United
52 States v. Supplee-Biddle Co., 265 U.S. 189, 194; Irwin v. Gavit, 268 U.S. 161, 167; Edwards v. Cuba Railroad,
53 268 U.S. 628, 633. In determining what constitutes income, substance rather than form is to be given
54 controlling weight. Eisner v. Macomber, supra, 206. [271 U.S. 175]”
55 [Bowers v. Kerbaugh-Empire Co., 271 U.S. 170, 174, (1926)]

56
57 “As repeatedly pointed out by this court, the Corporation Tax Law of 1909. imposed an excise or privilege tax.

1 and not in any sense, a tax upon property or upon income merely as income. It was enacted in view of the
2 decision of Pollock v. Farmer's Loan & T. Co., 157 U.S. 429, 29 L.Ed. 759, 15 Sup. St. Rep. 673, 158 U.S. 601,
3 39 L.Ed. 1108, 15 Sup.Ct.Rep. 912, which held the income tax provisions of a previous law to be
4 unconstitutional because amounting in effect to a direct tax upon property within the meaning of the
5 Constitution, and because not apportioned in the manner required by that instrument."
6 U.S. v. Whiteridge, [231 U.S. 144, 34 S.Sup.Ct. 24 (1913)]

7 Among the cases referred to above was Doyle v. Mitchell Brothers Co., 247 U.S. 179, 185, 38 S.Ct. 467 (1918), which 8 further helps us define the term "income" and who the "person" is that is liable for tax on that income.

9 "... Whatever difficulty there may be about a precise scientific definition of 'income', it imports, as used here,
10 something entirely distinct from principal or capital either as a subject of taxation or as a measure of the tax;
11 conveying rather the idea of gain or increase arising from corporate activities."
12 [Doyle v. Mitchell Brothers Co., 247 U.S. 179, 185, 38 S.Ct. 467 (1918), emphasis added]

14 And to put the nail in the coffin, here is the final case cited in Eisner, that of Stratton's Independence v. Howbert, 231 U.S. 399, 414, 58 L.Ed. 285, 34 Sup.Ct. 136 (1913):

16 "This court had decided in the Pollock Case that the income tax law of 1894 amounted in effect to a direct tax
17 upon property, and was invalid because not apportioned according to populations, as prescribed by the 18 Constitution. The act of 1909 avoided this difficulty by imposing not an income tax, but an excise tax upon the conduct of business in a corporate capacity, measuring, however, the amount of tax by the income of the corporation... Flint v. Stone Tracy Co., 220 U.S. 107, 55 L.Ed. 389, 31 Sup.Ct.Rep. 342, Ann. Cas."
21 Stratton's Independence v. Howbert, [231 U.S. 399, 414, 58 L.Ed. 285, 34 Sup.Ct. 136 (1913)]

22 The only statutory definition of the term "income" by itself appearing anywhere within the I.R.C. is the earnings of a trust
23 or estate found in 26 U.S.C. §643(b). That trust or estate must therefore be a wholly owned subsidiary of a federal 24 corporation or it cannot be engaged in the "trade or business" franchise.

25 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter J > PART I > Subpart A > § 643
26 § 643. Definitions applicable to subparts A, B, C, and D

27 (b) Income

28 For purposes of this subpart and subparts B, C, and D, the term "income", when not preceded by the words "taxable", "distributable net", "undistributed net", or "gross", means the amount of income of the estate or trust for the taxable year determined under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law.
29 Items of gross income constituting extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary,
30 acting in good faith, determines to be allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and
31 applicable local law shall not be considered income.

34 So the real "person" to which Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code applies is a "corporation", and corporations can be 35 "citizens" and "residents" just as readily as human beings or natural persons.

36 "A corporation is a citizen, resident, or inhabitant of the state or country by or under the laws of which it was 37 created, and of that state or country only."
38 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §886]

39 When the Supreme Court says above that "income" means corporate profit, it means corporate profit from corporations involved in foreign commerce or "public office" that comes under federal jurisdiction. The first Bank of the United States
40 mentioned in M'Culloch v. State, 17 U.S. 316 (U.S.,1819), for instance, was one of the first federal corporations that 41 operated outside of federal territory. Intrastate or interstate commerce of state-chartered corporations are exempt of the 42 prohibition against taxes on exports from any state found in Article 1, Section 9, Clause 5 of the U.S. Constitution. To tax a 43 government privilege requires receipt of the privilege, and state corporations do not receive privileges, including the 44 privilege of existing, from the federal government. Furthermore, even though the income tax is an indirect excise tax on
45 privileges, it becomes a direct tax if it is levied upon human being, even if these people are in receipt of privileges! A tax
46 cannot be indirect unless it is levied on businesses and other artificial entities other than human beings. Such artificial 47 entities, according to the U.S. Supreme Court, can only be corporations involved in foreign commerce.

49 Let's conclude this section to summarize all the criteria one must meet before they can be an "individual":

1 1. Must declare themselves to be an “individual” on a government form. For instance:
2 1.1. Filing IRS Form 1040 makes them an “individual”, because the upper left corner of the form says “individual”.
3 1.2. Applying for an “Individual Taxpayer Identification Number” (ITIN) pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6109 and 26 CFR
4 §301.6109-1(d)(3) makes them “individual”.
5 1.3. Filing IRS Form W-8BEN and checking the term “individual” in block 3 on the form.
6 If you don’t want to be treated as an “individual”, then simply DON’T do any of the above! The most important of the
7 above is applying for a Taxpayer Identification Number. We avoid the above by submitting a SUBSTITUTE W-8BEN
8 and identifying ourselves as a “Union state citizen” and not an “individual”, and not using a Taxpayer Identification
9 Number. See:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

10 2. Must be the “individual” described in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3), which means an alien or nonresident alien and not a 11 statutory “citizen” such as that defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401.
12 3. Must be physically present on federal territory, even though not domiciled or resident there. All federal legislative is 13 prima facie territorial. American Banana Co. v. U.S. Fruit, 213 U.S. 347 at 357-358.
14 4. Must be engaged in privileged, excise taxable corporate activity as a federal and not state corporation. That activity in 15 the context of the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A is called a “trade or business”, and the “public office” that is 16 found within the definition of “trade or business” at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) is a public office in a federal corporation
17 called the “United States” and which is described in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A).

18 5.2 “Nonresident Alien” Defined And Explained

19 Those who wish to use the Nonresident Alien Position need to study the subject of citizenship very carefully to completely
20 understand it. That subject is dealt with extensively in the following document;

Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21 The table below provides a succinct summary of citizenship status v. tax status:

2 NOTES:

3 1. A nonresident alien individual who has made an election under 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) to be treated as a resident alien is treated as a “nonresident alien” for the
 4 purposes of withholding under I.R.C. Subtitle C but retains their status as a “resident alien” under I.R.C. Subtitle A. See 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii).

5 2. What turns a “nonresident alien NON-individual” into a “nonresident alien individual” is:
 6 2.1. Being an alien and NOT a “national” AND

1 2.2. Meets one or more of the following two criteria found in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii):
2 2.2.1. Residence/domicile in a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1).
3 2.2.2. Residence/domicile as an alien in Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as
4 determined under 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-1(d).
5 3. If you were born in a state of the Union and maintain a domicile there, then you are described in item 3.1 of the table.
6 4. All “taxpayers” are aliens or “nonresident aliens”. You cannot be a “citizen” and a taxpayer at same time. The definition of “individual” found in 26 CFR §1.1441-
7 1(c)(3) does NOT include “citizens”. The only occasion where a “citizen” can also be an “individual” is when they are abroad under 26 U.S.C. §911 and interface
8 to the I.R.C. under a tax treaty with a foreign country as an alien pursuant to 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1)

9 *And when he had come into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, "What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings [governments] of the earth [lawfully] take
10 customs or taxes, from their sons [citizens and subjects] or from strangers [aliens], which are synonymous with "residents" in the tax code, and exclude "citizens"??"*

11 Peter said to Him, "From strangers [aliens]" "residents" ONLY. See 26 CFR §1.1-1(a)(2)(ii) and 26 CFR §301.6109-1(d)(3)]."

12 *Jesus said to him, "Then the sons [citizens] of the Republic, who are all sovereign "nationals" and "nonresident aliens" under federal law] are free [sovereign over
14 [Matt. 17:24-27, Bible, NKJV]*

1 Based on the above, a human being born anywhere in America and domiciled within the exclusive jurisdiction of a state of
2 the Union is a nonresident and a “non-citizen national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452. This is also
3 confirmed by 26 U.S.C. §877, which describes a person who abandons their “national” status and who retains “nonresident
4 alien” status both BEFORE and AFTER they abandon it. If the “nonresident alien” described below was NOT also a
5 “nonresident alien” BEFORE he expatriated, then the statute would not make sense and would have to be rewritten.

6 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART II > Subpart A > § 877
7 §877. Expatriation to avoid tax

8 (a) Treatment of expatriates

9 (I) In general

10 Every nonresident alien individual to whom this section applies and who, within the 10-year period
11 immediately preceding the close of the taxable year, lost United States citizenship shall be taxable for such 12 taxable year in the manner provided in subsection (b) if the tax imposed pursuant to such subsection (after any 13 reduction in such tax under the last sentence of such subsection) exceeds the tax which, without regard to this
14 section, is imposed pursuant to section 871.

15 The term “expatriation” is then defined as “the abandonment of nationality and allegiance”, hence, “national” status.

16 “Expatriation is the voluntary renunciation or abandonment of nationality and allegiance.”
17 [Perkins v. Elg., 1939, 307 U.S. 325, 59 S.Ct. 884, 83 L.Ed. 1320]

18 The only way that a person could be both a “national” before expatriation and an “alien” afterward and still be a
19 “nonresident alien” in both circumstances is if BOTH statuses are included within the definition of “nonresident alien”.
20 Otherwise, they would have had to say the following, where the underlined values are added or changed:

21 “Every nonresident alien individual. . .who. . .BECAME a nonresident alien individual by losing United States 22 citizenship”.

23 The term “nonresident alien” is a combination of two words:

24 1. “nonresident”: Means that the entity has not nominated the specific government in question as their protector by 25 choosing a domicile or residence within the territory protected by that government. Therefore, the entity is not
26 protected by the civil laws of that place or government. For details on “domicile” and “residence”, see :

27 Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
28 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

29 2. “alien”: Means legislatively “foreign” in relation to the jurisdiction in question.
30 2.1. Constitutional context: The term “alien” in the context of a human being can mean that the human being was not 31 born within the country that encompasses the jurisdiction in question.
32 2.2. Statutory context: The term “alien” in relation to an artificial entity such as a corporation or trust could mean that 33 the entity was not created or registered under the statutory laws of the specific jurisdiction in question.

34 The term “nonresident alien” is statutorily defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B), which says:

35 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(B\) Nonresident alien

36 An individual is a nonresident alien if such individual is neither a citizen of the United States nor a resident of
37 the United States (within the meaning of subparagraph (A)).

38 The first thing we notice about the above definition is that the term “nonresident alien” is defined in the context of ONLY
39 an “individual” as legally defined. Upon investigating this matter further, we find that:

40 1. Nowhere other than in the above definition does the term “nonresident alien” appear without the term “individual”, and 41 it appears only in the title of 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) above.
42 2. 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3) defines what a “nonresident alien individual” is but not a “nonresident alien”. Based on 43 comparing the definition of “nonresident alien individual” in that section and the term “nonresident alien” in 26 U.S.C.
44 §7701(b)(1)(B), we find that:

1 2.1. You can be a “nonresident alien” without ALSO being a “nonresident alien individual”.
2 2.2. The only difference between a “nonresident alien” and a “nonresident alien individual” is that the entity:
3 2.2.1. Is a “not a citizen or a national of the United States”, where:
4 2.2.1.1. “citizen of the United States” means 8 U.S.C. §1401 who is domiciled on federal territory. It DOES
5 NOT mean a Constitutional citizen.
6 2.2.1.2. “national of the United States” means that described in 8 U.S.C. §1408 and 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B).
7 It includes people domiciled in American Samoa and Swain’s Island but excludes those domiciled in 8 Constitutional states of the Union.
9 2.2.2. Meets one or more of the following two criteria found in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii):
10 2.2.2.1. Residence/domicile in a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and 26
11 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1).
12 2.2.2.2. Residence/domicile as an alien in Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana 13 Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-1(d).
14 Therefore, a human being who is a non-citizen national such as those born within and domiciled within Constitutional
15 states of the Union cannot be a “nonresident alien individual” regardless of their domicile. Compare 26 U.S.C.
16 §7701(b)(1)(A).
17 3. The definition of “nonresident alien” in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) describes what a “nonresident alien” IS NOT, but 18 not what it IS. They are hiding something, aren’t they? They obviously don’t want you to know what it is because 19 then they would have to admit that nearly everyone in states of the Union are nonresident alien NON-individuals for 20 which there are NO tax forms they can sign unmodified without committing perjury under penalty of perjury.
21 4. The above definition tries to create the presumption that only human beings can be “individuals”, but this is in fact
22 false. An artificial entity that is not a human being, for instance, can also satisfy the following criteria for being a 23 “nonresident alien”:

24 “neither a citizen of the United States nor a resident of the United States”

25 The reason they do this is that they don’t want you to know that businesses can ALSO be “nonresident aliens”. If 26 every business out there declared itself to be a “nonresident alien”, the government wouldn’t have a way to regulate or
27 tax them or accomplish its main goal of regulating commerce! Block 3 of the IRS Form W-8BEN confirms that 28 entities other than “individuals” listed in the definition of “nonresident alien” can also be “nonresident aliens”. The 29 form in Block 3 lists grantor trusts, complex corporations, estates, etc. as being also “nonresident aliens”, but all the 30 entities listed are statutory “public” and not “private” entities domiciled on federal territory or doing business there,
31 and engaged in a “public office” in the U.S. government. The government has no jurisdiction to regulate the affairs of 32 entities neither domiciled nor resident outside its jurisdiction nor engaged in private and not public activities.

33 “Although the conduct of private parties lies beyond the Constitution’s scope in most instances, governmental 34 authority may dominate an activity to such an extent that its participants must be deemed to act with the 35 authority of the government and, as a result, be subject to constitutional constraints.”
36 [Edmonson v. Leesville Concrete Company, 500 U.S. 614 (1991)]

37 5. Nearly every place that the term “nonresident alien” is described in the Internal Revenue Code and the Treasury
38 Regulations and in which a duty is prescribed, the phrase “individual” is added to the end so that it reads “nonresident 39 alien individual”. See Section 15 later for details.
40 6. Nowhere do the I.R.C. or the Treasury Regulations impose a duty or obligation upon “nonresident aliens” who are 41 NOT “individuals”. For instance, the obligation to file income tax returns is described in 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b) in the 42 context of “nonresident alien individuals”, but nowhere in the context of those who are “nonresident aliens” but NOT
43 “individuals”.
44 7. IRS Form 1040 is entitled “U.S. Individual Income Tax Return”. Those who are not “individuals” cannot have an 45 obligation to file this form.

46 Based on the above, if you want to avoid being subject to the I.R.C. or having any sort of obligation under it, you must 47 therefore describe yourself as a “nonresident alien” who is NOT a “nonresident alien individual”. This, in fact, is what the 48 AMENDED version of the IRS Form W-8BEN that we provide does at the link below: It adds two new statuses to the IRS
49 Form W-8BEN, which are “transient foreigner” and “Union State Citizen” as an alternative to the word “individual”.

5.3 “Nonresident Alien NON-INDIVIDUALS” v. “Nonresident Alien INDIVIDUALS”

Those who describe themselves as “nonresident aliens” who are NOT statutory “individuals” (public officers in the U.S. government) and who are not engaged in the “trade or business” excise taxable statutory franchise sometimes erroneously identify themselves as the type of “individual” described in 26 CFR §1.871-1(b)(1)(i). This type of “nonresident alien” is also an “individual”, which means the entity described is actually a “nonresident alien” who made an election pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) to be treated as a “resident alien” and who is therefore subject to the I.R.C.. Don’t EVER make this huge mistake by invoking this regulation to identify yourself without also clarifying somewhere on the form or correspondence that you are not an “individual”. The AMENDED W-8BEN above takes this into account:

TITLE 26--INTERNAL REVENUE
CHAPTER I--INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
PART I_INCOME TAXES--Table of Contents
Sec. 1.871-1 Classification and manner of taxing alien individuals.

(a) Classes of aliens.

For purposes of the income tax, alien individuals are divided generally into two classes, namely, resident aliens and nonresident aliens. Resident alien individuals are, in general, taxable the same as citizens of the United States; that is, a resident alien is taxable on income derived from all sources, including sources without the United States. See Sec. 1.1-1(b). Nonresident alien individuals are taxable only on certain income from sources within the United States and on the income described in section 864(c)(4) from sources without the United States which is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States. However, nonresident alien individuals may elect, under section 6013 (g) or (h), to be treated as U.S. residents for purposes of determining their income tax liability under Chapters 1, 5, and 24 of the code. Accordingly, any reference in Sec. Sec. 1.1-1 through 1.1388-1 and Sec. Sec. 1.1491-1 through 1.1494-1 of this part to non-resident alien individuals does not include those with respect to whom an election under section 6013 (g) or (h) is in effect, unless otherwise specifically provided. Similarly, any reference to resident aliens or U.S. residents includes those with respect to whom an election is in effect, unless otherwise specifically provided.

(b) Classes of nonresident aliens—

(I) In general.

For purposes of the income tax, nonresident alien individuals are divided into the following three classes:

(i) Nonresident alien individuals who at no time during the taxable year are engaged in a trade or business [public office] in the United States,

(ii) Nonresident alien individuals who at any time during the taxable year are, or are deemed under Sec. 1.871-9 to be, engaged in a trade or business in the United States, and

(iii) Nonresident alien individuals who are bona fide residents of Puerto Rico during the entire taxable year.

An individual described in subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph is subject to tax pursuant to the provisions of subpart A (section 871 and following), part II, subchapter N, chapter 1 of the Code, and the regulations thereunder. See Sec. Sec. 1.871-7 and 1.871-8. The provisions of subpart A do not apply to individuals described in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, but such individuals, except as provided in section 933 with respect to Puerto Rican source income, are subject to the tax imposed by section 1 or section 1201(b). See Sec. 1.876-1.

The reasons you want to avoid being an “individual” are many, and include:

1. The term “individual” is not defined in the I.R.C. It is dangerous and presumptuous to describe yourself as anything that is not defined. It is defined in the regulations at 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3), but the regulation exceeds the scope of the statute and therefore is void, which leaves us guessing what the term really means.

“Finally, the Government points to the fact that the Treasury Regulations relating to the statute purport to include the pick-up man among those subject to the s 3290 tax.^{ENR} and argues (a) that this constitutes an

1 administrative interpretation to which we should give weight in construing the statute, particularly because (b)
2 section 3290 was carried over in haec verba into s 4411 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, 26 U.S.C.A. s
3 4411. We find neither argument persuasive. In light of the above discussion, *359 we cannot but regard this
4 Treasury Regulation as no more than an attempted addition to the statute of something which is not there.
5 FN12 As such the regulation can furnish no sustenance to the statute. Koshland v. Helvering, 298 U.S. 441,
6 446-447, 56 S.Ct. 767, 769-770, 80 L.Ed. 1268. Nor is the Government helped by its argument as to the 1954
7 Code. The regulation had been in effect for only three years.^{FN13} and there is nothing to indicate that it was 8 ever called to the attention 1144 of Congress. The re-enactment of s 3290 in the 1954 Code was not 9 accompanied by any congressional discussion which throws light on its intended scope. In such 10 circumstances we consider the 1954 re-enactment to be without significance. Commissioner of Internal
11 Revenue v. Glenshaw Glass Co., 348 U.S. 426, 431, 75 S.Ct. 473, 476, 99 L.Ed. 483."
12 [U.S. v. Calamaro, 354 U.S. 351, 77 S.Ct. 1138 (U.S. 1957)]

13 2. We allege that using the term “individual” can only mean that you are an officer or employee of the U.S. Government 14 who is an alien, as we will show later.
15 3. You cannot retain “sovereign immunity” and yet contradict yourself by describing yourself as anything defined in 16 government statutes or codes, which we know can only regulate the conduct of their own employees and officers but

37 If you would like to know more about the “individual” scam, see the next section.

38 Within the Internal Revenue Code, the term “nonresident alien” is a “word of art”, which means a term that has a special
39 use different from what common sense and common usage might dictate. The terms “alien” and “nonresident alien” are 40 also defined in the regulations at 26 CFR § 1.1441-1(c)(3):

44 (i) Alien individual.

45 The term alien individual means an individual who is not a citizen or a national of the United States. See
46 Sec. 1.1-1(c).

47 (ii) Nonresident alien individual.

48 The term nonresident alien individual means a person described in section 7701(b)(1)(B), an alien individual

EXHIBIT: _____

1 Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under
2 Sec. 301.7701(b)-1(d) of this chapter. An alien individual who has made an election under section 6013 (g) or
3 (h) to be treated as a resident of the United States is nevertheless treated as a nonresident alien individual for 4 purposes of withholding under chapter 3 of the Code and the regulations thereunder.

5 Notice that based on the above, the term “individual” DOES NOT include “citizens” and that you can’t be a “nonresident
6 alien individual” without first being an “alien individual”. Based on the above, only TWO things can change a 7 “nonresident alien NON-individual” into a “nonresident alien individual”:

- 8 1. You are an alien and NOT a “national” AND
- 9 2. Meet one or more of the following two criteria found in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii):
 - 10 2.1. Residence/domicile in a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and 26 CFR
11 §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1).
 - 12 2.2. Residence/domicile as an alien in Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S.
13 Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-1(d).

14 If you look at the above two definitions carefully, which incidentally are the only definitions of “individual”, “alien”, and
15 “nonresident alien” found in 26 CFR, you will notice that a human being domiciled inside the 50 states of the Union and
16 outside of the federal zone can be a statutory “nonresident alien” without being an “alien”, which at first glance would
17 appear to be a contradiction. How can a person be a “nonresident alien” without being an “alien”? Because “nonresident
18 alien” is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) as someone who is not a statutory “U.S. citizen” or a statutory “resident”
19 (alien), which is exactly what a “national but not citizen” as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) or 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B)
20 is!¹ Because of the definition of “alien” found in 26 CFR § 1.1441-1(c)(3)(i) above, that same “national” can’t be an 21 “alien”, because “aliens” cannot be “nationals” or statutory “U.S. citizens”! These conclusions are also consistent with the 22 following maxim of law:

23 Talis non est eadem, nam nullum simile est idem.
24 What is like is not the same, for nothing similar is the same. 4 Co. 18.

27 5 U.S.C. §552a defines the statutory term “individual” as a statutory but not constitutional “citizen of the United States” or
28 a statutory but not constitutional “resident” (alien), both of whom have in common a domicile on federal territory that is no
29 part of any state of the Union.

30 TITLE 5 - GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION AND EMPLOYEES
31 PART I - THE AGENCIES GENERALLY
32 CHAPTER 5 - ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE
33 SUBCHAPTER II - ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE
34 § 552a. Records maintained on individuals

35 (a) Definitions.—For purposes of this section—

36 (2) the term “individual” means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent
37 residence;

38 Consequently, we allege that the only time that a “nonresident alien” can ALSO be a statutory “individual” and therefore 39 statutory “person” is when they satisfy ALL of the following criteria:

- 40 1. They are a constitutional “alien” who was not born in the country.
- 41 2. They are NOT a “national” or “non-citizen national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452. You 42 cannot be a statutory “U.S. citizen” and a “resident” (alien) at the same time. A “national” who changes his domicile
43 to the “United States” (federal zone) becomes a statutory “U.S. citizen” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 but not a “resident”
44 alien pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).
- 45 3. They are married to a statutory but not constitutional “U.S. citizen” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401.
- 46 4. They have made an election to be treated as a statutory “resident alien” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4)(B) and 26
47 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h).

¹ NOTE: Throughout this memorandum, the terms “national” and “state national” and “non-citizen national”, all of which are defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452, are equivalent and interchangeable.

1 5. No one forced them to make such an election and it was entirely voluntary. An example of forcing such an election
2 would be an unlawful substitute for return filed using IRS Form 1040, which is only for use by “U.S. persons” with a
3 domicile on federal territory and may not be used against “nonresident aliens” who do not consent to a voluntary
4 election to be treated as resident aliens. See the following for details:

Why the Government Can't Lawfully Assess Human Beings With an Income Tax Liability Without Their Consent, Form #05.011
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

5 An examination of IRS Form 1040NR confirms that “U.S. nationals” are indeed “nonresident aliens”. A “state national”
6 and a “national” are the equivalent of a statutory “national of the United States ” in that context. Check the following
7 page on the following website for confirmation:

IRS Form 1040NR

8 Your deceitful federal government has once again tried to confuse sovereign Americans so they would discount being 9 “nonresident aliens” based on a statement something like the following:

10 “A reasonable person would conclude that they can't be an alien in their own country, and therefore I can't be 11 a nonresident alien. It's ludicrous to even think that I could.”

12 The term “nonresident alien” is a contradiction deliberately designed by deceitful lawyers to confuse you. All “residents”
13 can only be “aliens” under the Internal Revenue Code. When we call someone a “nonresident”, we are saying he is not an 14 “alien”. “non” means “not”. Therefore, when we call someone a “nonresident alien”, we are calling them a “non-alien
15 alien”. How's that for cognitive dissonance! Since lawyers know that people will avoid cognitive dissonance, that is why
16 they named the term the way they did. If Congress had been completely honest about their definitions, they would have 17 used the term “nonresident national or foreign national” instead of “nonresident alien” in 26 CFR § 1.1441-1(c)(3)(i) and 18 explained that this status is the one that applies to people born in states of the Union under the Internal Revenue Code.
19 However, then they would have given away their ruse and showed the average American that they aren't liable for income
20 tax unless they have gross income from sources within the federal United States that falls under 26 CFR §1.861-8(f), which 21 most people don't!

22 Pivotal to the nonresident alien position is our status as “human beings” and not privileged statutory creations of Congress
23 such as corporations, “persons”, or “individuals”. Congress can only tax what it creates and it didn't create human beings.
24 Therefore, the government cannot destroy human beings unless they lawfully and consensually and voluntarily surrender
25 their rights, their sovereignty, or their sovereign immunity by engaging in federal franchises such as the protection franchise
26 called “domicile” or the public office franchise called a “trade or business”:

27 “The power to tax involves the power to destroy; the power to destroy may defeat and render useless the 28 power to create; and there is a plain repugnance in conferring on one government [THE FEDERAL 29 GOVERNMENT] a power to control the constitutional measures of another [WE THE PEOPLE], which 30 other, with respect to those very measures, is declared to be supreme over that which exerts the control.”
31 Van Brocklin v. State of Tennessee, [117 U.S. 151 (1886)]

32 “The great principle is this: because the constitution will not permit a state to destroy, it will not permit a law 33 [including a tax law] involving the power to destroy.”
34 Providence Bank v. Billings, [29 U.S. 514 (1830)]

35 *“Having thus avowed my disapprobation of the purposes, for which the terms, State and sovereign, are 36 frequently used, and of the object, to which the application of the last of them is almost universally made; it is
37 now proper that I should disclose the meaning, which I assign to both, and the application, [2 U.S. 419, 455]
38 which I make of the latter. In doing this, I shall have occasion incidentally to evince, how true it is, that States
39 and Governments were made for [and BY] man; and, at the same time, how true it is, that his creatures and 40 servants have first deceived, next vilified, and, at last, oppressed their master and maker.”*
41 [Justice Wilson, Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 Dall. (2 U.S.) 419, 1 L.Ed. 440, 455 (1793)]

42 The term “nonresident alien” in the context of federal income taxes can also encompass those who are state but not
43 statutory federal citizens or people who are foreigners living in a state of the Union. However, one can be a citizen of a
44 state of the Union and still be a national of their country while not being a statutory “U.S. citizen” under 8 U.S.C. §1401, 26
45 U.S.C. §3121(e), 26 CFR §1.1-1(c), or any other “act of Congress”. These people are correctly referred to as “nationals”

1 or “state nationals”. Johnny Liberty (<http://www.icresource.com>) also calls them “American nationals” in his book
2 available on our website below:

Global Sovereign Handbook, Form #13.005
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

3 It might also surprise you that the Treasury Department has actually already admitted in its publications that people who
4 are “state nationals” are indeed “nonresident aliens”. The famous Supreme Court Case called Brushaber v. Union Pacific
5 Railroad, 240 U.S. 1 (1916) involved a French immigrant who was a citizen of New York state but not a “citizen” under
6 Federal Law. Therefore, he was a “national but not a citizen” under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452. He bought
7 stock in the Union Pacific Railroad, which was a federal corporation chartered in the District of Columbia and operating in 8 a federal territory of the United States (Utah). He brought suit against the Union Pacific Railroad to enjoin them from 9 paying income taxes to the federal government on the excuse that it was reducing the earnings of shareholders located in
10 the states of the Union and therefore constituted a direct tax. The supreme Court said that it would not interfere with the 11 decision by a corporation to pay income taxes, even if the law didn’t require it. Shortly after that finding by the Supreme
12 Court, the Treasury department published Treasury Decision 2313, in which they identified Mr. Brushaber as a nonresident 13 alien. You can read about this fascinating case at:

14 1. Significance of Brushaber v. Union Pacific Railroad, 240 U.S. 1 (1916)

17 18 We hear a lot of questions along the following lines:

19 “*Well why does it matter whether I’m a statutory ‘U.S. citizen’ or a ‘nonresident alien’ anyway? Either way
20 I’m not liable for income tax because there is no liability statute or implementing regulations permitting
21 enforcement of Subtitle A income taxes imposed in 26 U.S.C. Section 1.*”

22 Very good question! We respond to this prudent observation by stating that there is absolutely no advantage to being a
23 U.S. citizen and a BIG disadvantage because once we volunteer to become a statutory “U.S. citizens” under 8 U.S.C.
24 §1401, we volunteer to be completely subject to the jurisdiction of the U.S. government and the federal courts no matter
25 WHERE we are, including abroad in a foreign country! If you have read this far, you have realized that the federal 26 government is corrupt and covetous of getting into your pocket and plundering as much of your assets as it can get it’s paws
27 on using deceit and fraud. Why open the door wide enough to invite these criminals into your life by giving them
28 jurisdiction so they can destroy your lives and your liberties if you don’t have to? Prudence demands that we provide as 29 many protections and safeguards as we possibly can for our liberties by staying as far away from federal and any kind of 30 government jurisdiction or influence as we can! Any other approach is pure stupidity and a big mistake! Crosse v. Bd. of 31 Supervisors, 221 A.2d. 431 (1966) says about this subject:

32 “Both before and after the Fourteenth Amendment to the federal Constitution, it has not been necessary for a 33 person to be a citizen of the United States in order to be a citizen of his state.” Citing U.S. v. Cruikshank, supra.
34 [Crosse v. Bd. of Supervisors, 221 A.2d. 431 (1966)]

35 A “national”, a “state national”, and a “nonresident alien” are therefore the best things we can be because this will give our 36 liberties the most protections from the encroachments of greedy Congressmen, unscrupulous IRS agents, and corrupt
37 federal judges, all of which are the “sinners” that Jesus came down to earth to call to repentance. This fits very nicely in 38 with the scripture quoted in section 3.5.3 of the Tax Fraud Prevention Manual, Form #06.008 under “Making Yourself
39 Judgment Proof”, which states:

40 “*A prudent man foresees evil and hides himself, but the simple pass on and are punished. By humility and fear
41 of the Lord are riches and honor and life. Thorns and snares are in the way of the perverse; he who guards his 42 soul will be far from them.*”
43 [Prov. 22:3]

3 6 The Three Geographical Definitions of “United States”

4 Most of us are completely unaware that the term “United States” has several distinct and separate legal meanings and that it
5 is up to us to know and understand these differences, to use them appropriately, and to clarify exactly which one we mean
6 whenever we sign any government or financial form (including voter registration, tax documents, etc). If we do not, we 7 could unknowingly, unwillingly and involuntarily be creating false presumptions that cause us to surrender our
8 Constitutional rights and our sovereignty. The fact is, most of us have unwittingly been doing just that for most, if not all,
9 of our lives. Much of this misunderstanding and legal ignorance has been deliberately “manufactured” by our corrupted
10 government in the public school system. It is a fact that our public dis-servants want docile sheep who are easy to govern,
11 not “high maintenance” sovereigns capable of critical and independent thinking and who demand their rights. We have 12 become so casual in our use of the term “United States” that it is no longer understood, even within the legal profession,
13 that there are actually three different legal meanings to the term. In fact, the legal profession has contributed to this 14 confusion over this term by removing its definitions from all legal dictionaries currently in print that we have looked at.
15 See Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 6.10.1 for details on this scam.

16 Most of us have grown up thinking the term “United States” indicates and includes all 50 states of the Union. This is true
17 in the context of the U.S. Constitution but it is not true in all contexts. As you will see, this is the third meaning assigned to 18 the term “United States” by the United States Supreme Court. But, usually when we (Joe six pack) use the term United 19 States we actually think we are saying the united States, as we are generally thinking of the several states or the union of 20 States. As you will learn in this section, the meaning of the term depends entirely on the context and when we are filling 21 out federal forms or speaking with the federal government, this is a very costly false presumption.

22 First, it should be noted that the term United States is a noun. In fact, it is the proper name and title “We the people...” gave
23 to the corporate entity (non-living thing) of the federal (central) government created by the Constitution. This in turn
24 describes where the “United States” federal corporation referenced in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A) was to be housed as the Seat
25 of the Government - In the District of Columbia, not to exceed a ten mile square.

26 Constitution
27 Article I, Section 8, Clause 17

28 To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square)
29 as may, by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of
30 the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of
31 the State in which the Same shall be for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards, and other
32 needful Buildings;—And [underlines added]

33 Below is how the united States Supreme Court addressed the question of the meaning of the term “United States” (see 34 Black’s Law Dictionary) in the famous case of Hooven & Allison Co. v. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652 (1945). The Court ruled that 35 the term United States has three uses:

36 The term ‘United States’ may be used in any one of several senses. It may be merely the name of a sovereign
37 occupying the position analogous to that of other sovereigns in the family of nations. It may designate the 38 territory over which the sovereignty of the United States extends, or it may be the collective name of the states
39 which are united by and under the Constitution.”
40 [Hooven & Allison Co. v. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652 (1945)]

41 We will now break the above definition into its three contexts and show what each means.

42 Table 2: Meanings assigned to "United States" by the U.S. Supreme Court in Hooven & Allison v. Evatt

#	U.S. Supreme Court Definition of "United States" in Hooven	Context in which usually used	Referred to in this article as	Interpretation
1	"It may be merely the name of a sovereign occupying the position analogous to that of other sovereigns in the family of nations."	International law	"United States*"	"These united States ," when traveling abroad, you come under the jurisdiction of the President through his agents in the U.S. State Department, where "U.S." refers to the sovereign society. You are a "Citizen of the United States" like someone is a Citizen of France, or England. We identify this version of "United States" with a single asterisk after its name: "United States*" throughout this article.
2	"It may designate the territory over which the sovereignty of the United States extends, or"	Federal law Federal forms	"United States"	"The United States (the District of Columbia, possessions and territories)". Here Congress has exclusive legislative jurisdiction. In this sense, the term "United States" is a singular noun. You are a person residing in the District of Columbia, one of its Territories or Federal areas (enclaves). Hence, even a person living in one of the sovereign States could still be a member of the Federal area and therefore a "citizen of the United States." This is the definition used in most "Acts of Congress" and federal statutes. We identify this version of "United States" with two asterisks after its name: "United States" throughout this article. This definition is also synonymous with the "United States" corporation found in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A).
3	"...as the collective name for the states which are united by and under the Constitution."	Constitution of the United States	"United States*"	"The several States which is the United States of America ." Referring to the 50 sovereign States , which are united under the Constitution of the United States of America . The federal areas within these states are not included in this definition because the Congress does not have exclusive legislative authority over any of the 50 sovereign States within the Union of States . Rights are retained by the States in the 9th and 10th Amendments, and you are a Citizen of these United States ." This is the definition used in the Constitution for the United States of America. We identify this version of "United States" with a three asterisks after its name: "United States*" throughout this article.

1 The U.S. Supreme Court helped to clarify which of the three definitions above is the one used in the U.S. Constitution,
 2 when it held the following. Note they are implying the THIRD definition above and not the other two:

3 "The earliest case is that of Hepburn v. Ellzey, 2 Cranch, 445, 2 L.Ed. 332, in which this court held that, under that clause of the Constitution limiting the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States to controversies between citizens of different states, a citizen of the District of Columbia could not maintain an action in the circuit court of the United States. It was argued that the word 'state.' in that connection, was used simply to denote a distinct political society. But,' said the Chief Justice, 'as the act of Congress obviously used the word 'state' in reference to that term as used in the Constitution, it becomes necessary to inquire whether Columbia is a state in the sense of that instrument. The result of that examination is a conviction that the members of the American confederacy only are the states contemplated in the Constitution . . . and excludes from the term the signification attached to it by writers on the law of nations.' This case was followed in Barney v. Baltimore, 6 Wall. 280, 18 L.Ed. 825, and quite recently in Hoove v. Jamieson, 166 U.S. 395, 41 L.Ed. 1049, 17 Sup.Ct.Rep. 596. The same rule was applied to citizens of territories in New Orleans v. Winter, 1 Wheat. 91, 4 L.Ed. 44, in which an attempt was made to distinguish a territory from the District of Columbia. But it was said that 'neither of them is a state in the sense in which that term is used in the Constitution.' In Scott v. Jones, 5 How. 343, 12 L.Ed. 181, and in Miners' Bank v. Iowa ex rel. District Prosecuting Attorney, 12 How. I, 13 L.Ed. 867, it was held that under the judiciary act, permitting writs of error to the supreme court of a state in cases where the validity of a state statute is drawn in question, an act of a territorial legislature was not within the contemplation of Congress."
[Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

21 The Supreme Court further clarified that the Constitution implies the third definition above, which is the United States
 22 when they held the following. Notice that they say "not part of the United States within the meaning of the Constitution"
 23 and that the word "the" implies only ONE rather than multiple meanings:

24 "As the only judicial power vested in Congress is to create courts whose judges shall hold their offices during good behavior, it necessarily follows that, if Congress authorizes the creation of courts and the appointment of judges for limited time, it must act independently of the Constitution upon territory which is not part of the United States within the meaning of the Constitution."
[O'Donoghue v. United States, 289 U.S. 516, 53 S.Ct. 740 (1933)]

29 And finally, the U.S. Supreme Court has also held that the Constitution does not and cannot determine or limit the authority
 30 of Congress over federal territory and that the ONLY portion of the Constitution that does in fact expressly refer to federal 31 territory and therefore the statutory "United States" is Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17. Notice they ruled that Puerto Rico is 32 NOT part of the "United States" within the meaning of the Constitution, just like they ruled in O'Donoghue above that

1 territory was no part of the “United States”:

2 In passing upon the questions involved in this and kindred cases, we ought not to overlook the fact that, while
3 the Constitution was intended to establish a permanent form of government for the states which should elect
4 to take advantage of its conditions, and continue for an indefinite future, the vast possibilities of that future
5 could never have entered the minds of its framers. The states had but recently emerged from a war with one of 6 the most powerful nations of Europe, were disheartened by the failure of the confederacy, and were doubtful as
7 to the feasibility of a stronger union. Their territory was confined to a narrow strip of land on the Atlantic coast
8 from Canada to Florida, with a somewhat indefinite claim to territory beyond the Alleghenies, where their 9 sovereignty was disputed by tribes of hostile Indians supported, as was popularly believed, by the British, who
10 had never formally delivered possession [182 U.S. 244, 285] under the treaty of peace. The vast territory
11 beyond the Mississippi, which formerly had been claimed by France, since 1762 had belonged to Spain, still a
12 powerful nation and the owner of a great part of the Western Hemisphere. Under these circumstances it is little 13 wonder that the question of annexing these territories was not made a subject of debate. The difficulties of 14 bringing about a union of the states were so great, the objections to it seemed so formidable, that the whole
15 thought of the convention centered upon surmounting these obstacles. The question of territories was 16 dismissed with a single clause, apparently applicable only to the territories then existing, giving Congress the 17 power to govern and dispose of them.

18 Had the acquisition of other territories been contemplated as a possibility, could it have been foreseen that, within little more than one hundred years, we were destined to acquire, not only the whole vast region between 19 the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, but the Russian possessions in America and distant islands in the Pacific, it is 20 incredible that no provision should have been made for them, and the question whether the Constitution should 21 or should not extend to them have been definitely settled. If it be once conceded that we are at liberty to 22 acquire foreign territory, a presumption arises that our power with respect to such territories is the same
23 power which other nations have been accustomed to exercise with respect to territories acquired by them. If,
24 in limiting the power which Congress was to exercise within the United States[], it was also intended to 25 limit it with regard to such territories as the people of the United States[] should thereafter acquire, such 26 limitations should have been expressed. Instead of that, we find the Constitution speaking only to states,
27 except in the territorial clause, which is absolute in its terms, and suggestive of no limitations upon the power
28 of Congress in dealing with them. The states could only delegate to Congress such powers as they themselves
29 possessed, and as they had no power to acquire new territory they had none to delegate in that connection.
30 The logical inference from this is that if Congress had power to acquire new territory, which is conceded,
31 that power was not hampered by the constitutional provisions. If, upon the other hand, we assume [182 U.S.
32 244, 286] that the territorial clause of the Constitution was not intended to be restricted to such territory as 33 the United States then possessed, there is nothing in the Constitution to indicate that the power of Congress in 34 dealing with them was intended to be restricted by any of the other provisions.

35 [...]

36 If those possessions are inhabited by alien races, differing from us in religion, customs, laws, methods of 37 taxation, and modes of thought, the administration of government and justice, according to Anglo-Saxon
38 principles, may for a time be impossible; and the question at once arises whether large concessions ought not to 39 be made for a time, that ultimately our own theories may be carried out, and the blessings of a free government
40 under the Constitution extended to them. We decline to hold that there is anything in the Constitution to forbid
41 such action.

42 We are therefore of opinion that the island of Porto Rico is a territory appurtenant and 43 belonging to the United States, but not a part of the United States[] within the 44 revenue clauses of the Constitution; that the Foraker act is constitutional, so far as it imposes duties
45 upon imports from such island, and that the plaintiff cannot recover back the duties exacted in this case.
46 [Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

47 Another important distinction needs to be made. Definition 1 above refers to the country “United States*”, but this country
48 is not a “nation”, in the sense of international law. This very important point was made clear by the U.S. Supreme Court in 49 1794 in the case of Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 Dall. (U.S.) 419, 1 L.Ed. 440 (1793), when it said:

50 This is a case of uncommon magnitude. One of the parties to it is a State; certainly respectable, claiming to be
51 sovereign. The question to be determined is, whether this State, so respectable, and whose claim soars so
52 high, is amenable to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of the United States? This question, important in 53 itself, will depend on others, more important still; and, may, perhaps, be ultimately resolved into one, no less
54 radical than this 'do the people of the United States form a Nation?'

55 A cause so conspicuous and interesting, should be carefully and accurately viewed from every possible point of 56 sight. I shall examine it; 1st. By the principles of general jurisprudence. 2nd. By the laws and practice of 57 particular States and Kingdoms. From the law of nations little or no

1 illustration of this subject can be expected. By that law the
2 several States and Governments spread over our globe, are
3 considered as forming a society, not a NATION.

4 It has only been by a very few comprehensive minds, such as those of Elizabeth and the Fourth Henry, that this last great idea has
5 been even contemplated. 3rdly. and chiefly, I shall examine the important question before us, by the 6 Constitution of the United States, and the legitimate result of that valuable instrument.

7 [Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 Dall. (U.S.) 419, 1 L.Ed. 440 (1793)]

8 Black's Law Dictionary further clarifies the distinction between a "nation" and a "society" by clarifying the differences 9 between a national government and a federal government, and keep in mind that our government is called "federal
10 government":

11 "NATIONAL GOVERNMENT. The government of a whole nation, as distinguished from that of a local or 12 territorial division of the nation, and also as distinguished from that of a league or confederation.

13 "A national government is a government of the people of a single state or nation, united as a community by 14 what is termed the 'social compact,' and possessing complete and perfect supremacy over persons and things,
15 so far as they can be made the lawful objects of civil government. A federal government is distinguished from 16 a national government by its being the government of a community of independent and sovereign states,
17 united by compact." Piqua Branch Bank v. Knoup, 6 Ohio.St. 393."

18 [Black's Law Dictionary, Revised Fourth Edition, 1968, p. 1176]

20 "FEDERAL GOVERNMENT. The system of government administered in a state formed by the union or 21 confederation of several independent or quasi independent states; also the composite state so formed.

22 In strict usage, there is a distinction between a confederation and a federal government. The former term
23 denotes a league or permanent alliance between several states, each of which is fully sovereign and
24 independent, and each of which retains its full dignity, organization, and sovereignty, though yielding to the 25 central authority a controlling power for a few limited purposes, such as external and diplomatic relations.

26 In this case, the component states are the units, with respect to the confederation, and the central
27 government acts upon them, not upon the individual citizens. In a federal government, on the other hand, the 28 allied states form a union,-not, indeed, to such an extent as to destroy their separate organization or deprive
29 them of quasi sovereignty with respect to the administration of their purely local concerns, but so that the
30 central power is erected into a true state or nation, possessing sovereignty both external and internal,-while 31 the administration of national affairs is directed, and its effects felt, not by the separate states deliberating as
32 units, but by the people of all. in their collective capacity, as citizens of the nation. The distinction is 33 expressed, by the German writers, by the use of the two words "Staatenbund" and "Bundesstaat;" the former
34 denoting a league or confederation of states, and the latter a federal government, or state formed by means of a 35 league or confederation."

36 [Black's Law Dictionary, Revised Fourth Edition, 1968, p. 740]

37 So the "United States*" the country is a "society" and a "sovereignty" but not a "nation" under the law of nations, by the 38 Supreme Court's own admission. Because the Supreme Court has ruled on this matter, it is now incumbent upon each of us
39 to always remember it and to apply it in all of our dealings with the Federal Government. If not, we lose our individual
40 Sovereignty by default and the Federal Government assumes jurisdiction over us. So, while those who wish to preserve
41 their sovereign immunity will want to be the third type of Citizen, which is a "Citizen of the United States" and on 42 occasion a "citizen of the United States*", he would never want to be the second, which is a "citizen of the United 43 States". A human being who is a "citizen" of the second is called a statutory "U.S. citizen" under 8 U.S.C. §1401, and 44 he is treated in law as occupying a place not protected by the Bill of Rights, which is the first ten amendments of the United 45 States Constitution. Below is how the U.S. Supreme Court, in a dissenting opinion, described this "other" United States,
46 which we call the "federal zone":

47 "The idea prevails with some, indeed it has found expression in arguments at the bar, that we have in this
48 country substantially two national governments; one to be maintained under the Constitution, with all of its
49 restrictions; the other to be maintained by Congress outside the independently of that instrument, by
50 exercising such powers [of absolutism] as other nations of the earth are accustomed to. I take leave to say
51 that, if the principles thus announced should ever receive the sanction of a majority of this court, a radical
52 and mischievous change in our system of government will result. We will, in that event, pass from the era of 53 constitutional liberty guarded and protected by a written constitution into an era of legislative absolutism.. It
54 will be an evil day for American liberty if the theory of a government outside the supreme law of the land
55 finds lodgment in our constitutional jurisprudence. No higher duty rests upon this court than to exert its full 56 authority to prevent all violation of the principles of the Constitution."

57 [Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

1 The second definition of “United States” above is also a federal corporation. This corporation was formed in 1871. It is
2 described in 28 U.S.C. §3002\(15\)\(A\):

3 TITLE 28 > PART VI > CHAPTER 176 > SUBCHAPTER A > Sec. 3002.
4 TITLE 28 - JUDICIARY AND JUDICIAL PROCEDURE
5 PART VI - PARTICULAR PROCEEDINGS
6 CHAPTER 176 - FEDERAL DEBT COLLECTION PROCEDURE
7 SUBCHAPTER A - DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS
8 Sec. 3002. Definitions
10 (15) “United States” means -
11 (A) a Federal corporation;
12 (B) an agency, department, commission, board, or other entity of the United States; or
13 (C) an instrumentality of the United States.

14 The U.S. Supreme Court, in fact, has admitted that all governments are corporations when it said:

15 “Corporations are also of all grades, and made for varied objects; all governments are corporations, created
16 by usage and common consent, or grants and charters which create a body politic for prescribed purposes;
17 but whether they are private, local or general, in their objects, for the enjoyment of property, or the exercise
18 of power, they are all governed by the same rules of law, as to the construction and the obligation of the 19 instrument by which the incorporation is made [the Constitution is the corporate charter]. One universal rule
20 of law protects persons and property. It is a fundamental principle of the common law of England, that the term
21 freemen of the kingdom, includes ‘all persons,’ ecclesiastical and temporal, incorporate, politique or natural; it
22 is a part of their magna charta (2 Inst. 4), and is incorporated into our institutions. The persons of the members
23 of corporations are on the same footing of protection as other persons, and their corporate property secured by 24 the same laws which protect that of individuals. 2 Inst. 46-7. ‘No man shall be taken,’ ‘no man shall be
25 disseised,’ without due process of law, is a principle taken from magna charta, infused into all our state
26 constitutions, and is made inviolable by the federal government, by the amendments to the constitution.”
27 [Proprietors of Charles River Bridge v. Proprietors of, 36 U.S. 420 (1837)]

28 If we are acting as a federal “public official” or contractor, then we are representing the “United States” federal 29 corporation”. That corporation is a statutory “U.S. citizen” under 8 U.S.C. §1401 which is completely subject to all federal 30 law.

31 “A corporation is a citizen, resident, or inhabitant of the state or country by or under the laws of which it was 32 created, and of that state or country only.”
33 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §886]

34 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17\(b\) says that when we are representing that corporation as “officers” or “employees”, we 35 therefore become statutory “U.S. citizens” completely subject to federal territorial law:

36 IV. PARTIES > Rule 17.
37 Rule 17. Parties Plaintiff and Defendant: Capacity

38 (b) Capacity to Sue or be Sued.

39 Capacity to sue or be sued is determined as follows:
40 (1) for an individual who is not acting in a representative capacity, by the law of the individual's domicile;
41 (2) for a corporation, by the law under which it was organized; and 42 (3) for all other parties, by the law of the state where the court is located, except that:
43 (A) a partnership or other unincorporated association with no such capacity under that state's law may sue
44 or be sued in its common name to enforce a substantive right existing under the United States Constitution
45 or laws; and
46 (B) 28 U.S.C. §§ 754 and 959\(a\) govern the capacity of a receiver appointed by a United States court to sue
47 or be sued in a United States court.

48 [Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b)]

49 Yet on every government (any level) document we sign (e.g. Social Security, Marriage License, Voter Registration, Drivers 50 License, BATF 4473, etc.) they either require you to be a “citizen of the United States” or they ask “are you a resident of 51 Illinois?”. They are in effect asking you to assume or presume the second definition, the “United States”, when you fill
52 out the form, but they don’t want to tell you this because then you would realize they are asking you to commit perjury on a
53 government form under penalty of perjury. They in effect are asking you if you wish to act in the official capacity of a
54 public employee of the federal corporation. The form you are filling out therefore is serving the dual capacity of a federal

1 job application and an application for benefits. The reason this must be so, is that they are not allowed to pay “benefits” to
2 private citizens and can only lawfully pay them to public employees. Any other approach makes the government into a
3 thief. See the article below for details on this scam:

Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a “Public Officer” for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

4 If you accept the false and self-serving presumption of your public dis-servants, or you answer “Yes” to the question of
5 whether you are a “citizen of the United States” or a “U.S. citizen” on a federal or state form, usually under penalty of 6 perjury, then you have committed perjury under penalty of perjury and also voluntarily placed yourself under their
7 exclusive/plenary legislative jurisdiction as a public official/”employee” and are therefore subject to Federal & State Codes
8 and Regulations (Statutes). The Social Security Number they ask for on the form, in fact, is prima facie evidence that you
9 are a federal employee, in fact. Look at the evidence for yourself, paying particular attention to sections 6.1, 6.2 and 6.6:

Resignation of Compelled Social Security Trustee, Form #06.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

10 Most laws passed by government are, in effect, law only for government. They are private law or contract law that act as 11 the equivalent of a government employment agreement.

12 *“The power to “legislate generally upon” life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the “power to provide modes
13 of redress” against offensive state action, was “repugnant” to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also *United States
14 v. Reese*, 92 U.S. 214, 218(1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639(1883); James v. Bowman, [190
15 U.S. 127, 139](#) (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or
16 modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241(1964); United States v. Guest,
17 383 U.S. 745(1966), their treatment of Congress’ §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not 18 been questioned.”*
19 [City of Boerne v. Flores, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 \(1997\)]

20 What the U.S. Supreme Court is saying above is that the government has no authority to tell you how to run your private 21 life. This is contrary to the whole idea of the Internal Revenue Code, whose main purpose is to monitor and control every 22 aspect of those who are subject to it. In fact, it has become the chief means for Congress to implement what we call “social 23 engineering”. Just by the deductions they offer, people who are not engaged in a “trade or business” and thus have no
24 income tax liability are incentivized into all kinds of crazy behaviors in pursuit of reductions in a liability that they in fact
25 do not even have. Therefore, the only reasonable thing to conclude is that Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, which 26 would “appear” to regulate the private conduct of all individuals in states of the Union, in fact only applies to “public
27 officials” in the official conduct of their duties while present in the District of Columbia, which 4 U.S.C. §72 makes the 28 “seat of government”. The I.R.C. therefore essentially amounts to a part of the job responsibility and the “employment 29 contract” of “public officials”. This was also confirmed by the House of Representatives, who said that only those who 30 take an oath of “public office” are subject to the requirements of the personal income tax. See:

31 <http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Evidence/PublicOrPrivate-Tax-Return.pdf>

32 We the People, as the Sovereigns, cannot lawfully become the proper subject to exclusive federal jurisdiction unless and 33 until we surrender our sovereignty by signing a government employment agreement that can take many different forms:
34 W-4, SS-5, 1040, etc.

44 The W-4 is a federal “election” form and you are the only voter. They are asking you if you want to elect yourself into 29 They are causing you to voluntarily waive sovereign immunity under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C.

30 §1601-1611. 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2) of the act says that those who conduct “commerce” within the legislative jurisdiction
31 of the “United States” (federal zone), whether as public official or federal benefit recipient, surrender their sovereign
32 immunity.

33 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 97 > § 1605

39 activity of the foreign state elsewhere; or upon an act outside the territory of the United States in connection
40 with a commercial activity of the foreign state elsewhere and that act causes a direct effect in the United States;

41 They are also destroying the separation of powers by fooling you into declaring yourself to be a statutory “U.S. citizen”
42 under 8 U.S.C. §1401. 28 U.S.C. §1603(b)(3) and 28 U.S.C. §1332(e) specifically exclude such statutory “U.S. citizens”
43 from being foreign sovereigns who can file under statutory diversity of citizenship. This is also confirmed by the 44 Department of State Website:

45 “Section 1603(b) defines an "agency or instrumentality" of a foreign state as an entity (1) which is a separate
46 legal person, corporate or otherwise, and (2) which is an organ of a foreign state or political subdivision

50 [Department of State Website, http://travel.state.gov/law/info/judicial/judicial_693.html]

51 In effect, they kidnapped your legal identity and made you into a “resident alien federal employee” working in the “king’s
52 castle”, the District of Criminals, and changed your status from “foreign” to “domestic” by creating false presumptions
53 about citizenship and using the Social Security Number, IRS Form W-4, and SSA Form SS-5 to make you into a “subject 54 citizen” and a “public employee” with no constitutional rights.

1 The nature of most federal law as private/contract law is carefully explained below:

Requirement for Consent, Form #05.003
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

2 As you will soon read, the government uses various ways to mislead and trick us into their private/contract laws (outside
3 our Constitutional protections) and make you into the equivalent of their “employee”, and thereby commits a great fraud on 4 the American People. It is the purpose of this document to expose the most important aspect of that willful deception,
5 which is the citizenship trap.

6 7 Which “United States” is meant in the Internal Revenue Code?

7.1 Statutory geographical definitions

8 The following definitions imply that the United States meant in the Internal Revenue Code is federal territories and the 9 “United States” mentioned in the previous section:

10 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701. [Internal Revenue Code]
11 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

12 (a) *When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
13 thereof—*

14 (9) United States

15 The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of 16 Columbia.

17 (10) State

18 *The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
19 carry out provisions of this title.*

20 The term “the States” might at first imply the following:

21 TITLE 4 - FLAG AND SEAL, SEAT OF GOVERNMENT, AND THE STATES
22 CHAPTER 4 - THE STATES
23 Sec. 110. Same: definitions

24 (d) The term "State" includes any Territory or possession of the United States.

25 Based on the rules of statutory construction, we are not allowed to PRESUME anything OTHER than that which is 26 expressly specified and a failure to observe this rule is a violation of due process of law, a violation of the constitutional
27 requirement for reasonable notice, and a tort:

28 *"It is apparent that a constitutional prohibition cannot be transgressed indirectly by the creation of a statutory
29 presumption any more than it can be violated by direct enactment. The power to create presumptions is not a
30 means of escape from constitutional restrictions."*
31 [Bailey v. Alabama, 219 U.S. 219 (1911)]

32 *"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
33 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
34 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
35 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
36 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
37 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."*
38 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

39 *"When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that
40 term's ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) ("It is axiomatic that the statutory
41 definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term"); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n.
42 10 ("As a rule, `a definition which declares what a term "means" . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated'");*

8 7.2 Meaning of "resident" within the I.R.C.

9 Most people falsely PRESUME that the word "resident" within the Internal Revenue Code is associated with a geographic 10 place. This presumption is false because:

11 1. The word "resident" is nowhere associated with a geographic place within the I.R.C. It is therefore a violation of due 12 process of law to PRESUME that it is.
13 2. As we repeatedly point out in the following document, the I.R.C. Subtitles A through C are a franchise, and that all 14 franchises are contracts or agreements:

The "Trade or Business" Scam, Form #05.001

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

15 3. There is a maxim of law that debt and contract are independent of place.

16 Debitum et contractus non sunt nullius loci.

17 Debt and contract [franchise agreement, in this case] are of no particular place.

18 Locus contractus regit actum.

19 The place of the contract [franchise agreement, in this case] governs the act.

20 [Bouvier's Maxims of Law, 1856;

21 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/Publications/BouvierMaximsOfLaw/BouviersMaxims.htm>

22 Consistent with the above, the Treasury Regulations at one time admitted the above indirectly as follows:

24 26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.

25 *A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during
26 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
27 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
28 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
29 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
30 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
31 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in
32 trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
33 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
34 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
35 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.*

38 Notice the language above:

39 "Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the nationality or 40 residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized."

41 This is a tacit admission that the status of BEING a "resident" has nothing to do with a geographic place and instead is a
42 FRANCHISE STATUS which is created by the coincidence of the grant of a "congressionally created right" or "public 43 right" AND your consent to adopt the status and franchise PRIVILEGES associated with that right.

44 Therefore, the ONLY way one can be a statutory "resident" is to be LAWFULLY engaged in a statutory "trade or 45 business", which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office".

46 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > § 7701
47 § 7701. Definitions

48 (a) Definitions

1 (26) Trade or business

2 "The term 'trade or business' includes the performance of the functions of a public office."

3 Why do they do this? Because ALL PUBLIC OFFICES are domiciled in the District of Columbia:

4 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > § 72

5 Sec. 72. - Public offices; at seat of Government

6 All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere,
7 except as otherwise expressly provided by law

8 Hence, by being associated with a public office, your legal identity is legally kidnapped under the authority of Federal Rule
9 of Civil Procedure 17(b) and transported to the District of Columbia, which in turn is the ONLY place expressly included in 10 the definition of "United States" within the Internal Revenue Code.

11 [TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701. \[Internal Revenue Code\]](#)

12 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

13 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
14 thereof—

16 The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of
17 Columbia.

18 (10) State

19 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
20 carry out provisions of this title.

21 Pursuant to the rules of statutory construction, that which is not EXPRESSLY included must be conclusively presumed to 22 be purposefully excluded. Hence, states of the Union are purposefully excluded from being within the "United States" in a
23 geographic sense:

25 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,

28 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
29 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."
30 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

31 Note that all income taxes are based upon domicile, as in the case of the I.R.C. Subtitle A through C "income tax".
32 However, the domicile is INDIRECT rather than direct. The PUBLIC OFFICE is the thing domiciled in the Federal Zone
33 and not the human being filling it, who can geographically be a "nonresident".

34 The other noteworthy thing about this SCAM is that the 26 CFR §301.7701-5 regulation cited above encompasses ALL
35 "persons" within the I.R.C., and NOT just corporations and partnerships. It expressly mentions only corporations and 36 partnerships, but in fact, these ARE the only entities EXPRESSLY included within the definition of "person" for the 37 purposes of BOTH civil AND criminal jurisdiction of the I.R.C., and hence, describes ALL "persons" within the I.R.C.

38 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 68 > Subchapter B > PART I > § 6671
39 § 6671. Rules for application of assessable penalties

40 (b) Person defined

41 The term "person", as used in this subchapter, includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member
42 or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in
43 respect of which the violation occurs.

3 The term "person" as used in this chapter includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member or
4 employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in
5 respect of which the violation occurs.

6 Why do they mention "partnerships" in the above definition? Because whenever you consent to occupy a public office in
7 the U.S. government, a partnership is formed between the otherwise PRIVATE HUMAN BEING and the PUBLIC
8 OFFICE that the person fills. THAT partnership is how the legal statutory "person" who is the proper subject of the I.R.C.
9 is lawfully created. The problem, however, is that you CANNOT lawfully elect yourself into a public office, even with 10 your consent. In order for a lawful election or appointment must occur, you must take a lawful oath, and only THEN can 11 one become a lawful public office. If there is a deviation from this procedure for creating public offices, a crime has been 12 committed pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §912.

15 *Whoever falsely assumes or pretends to be an officer or employee acting under the authority of the United
16 States or any department, agency or officer thereof, and acts as such, or in such pretended character demands
17 or obtains any money, paper, document, or thing of value, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more
18 than three years, or both.*

19 Another important implication is that anyone who PRESUMES you are a "resident" is effectively "electing" you into a
20 public office. If you don't object to that usually false presumption, then a cage is reserved for you on the federal corporate 21 plantation in the District of Criminals. We call this "theft and kidnapping by presumption".

22 Finally, don't go searching for the 26 CFR §301.7701-5 regulation indicated in the CURRENT Code of Federal 23 Regulations. As soon as we pointed it out on our website, it was conveniently HID and replaced with a temporary 24 regulation. Now you know WHY it was hid. You will have to go back to the historical versions of the regulations to find it,
25 so please don't contact us to tell us you can't find it. THEY HID IT to protect their CRIMINAL racketeering enterprise.
26 Would you expect anything less when you create a Babylon corporation in the District of Criminals, turn it into a haven for 27 financial terrorists, and put CRIMINALS in charge of writing laws that only protect them and which are designed to 28 SCREW you?

29 7.3 How States of the Union are illegally treated as statutory "States" under federal law

30 By default, states of the Union mentioned in the Constitution:

- 31 1. Are sovereign and legislatively foreign in respect to federal legislative jurisdiction.
- 32 2. Are not subject to federal civil or criminal law.
- 33 3. Function in nearly every particular as independent nations under the law of nations.

34 The above facts are covered further in the next section. Like any other legal entity or "person", however, a state of the 35 Union can make themselves subject to private foreign law by exercising their right to contract with an otherwise foreign 36 entity. This process of contracting operates under equity and in that capacity, the state behaves as the equivalent of a 37 private person contracting with other private persons:

38 *When a State engages in ordinary commercial ventures, it acts like a private person, outside the area of its
39 "core" responsibilities, and in a way unlikely to prove essential to the fulfillment of a basic governmental
40 obligation. A Congress that decides to regulate those state commercial activities rather than to exempt the
41 State likely believes that an exemption, by treating the State differently from identically situated private
42 persons, would threaten the objectives of a federal regulatory program aimed primarily at private conduct.*

43 Compare, e.g., 12 U.S.C. §1841(b) (1994 ed., Supp. III) (exempting state companies from regulations covering
44 federal bank holding companies); 15 U.S.C. §77c(a)(2) (exempting state-issued securities from federal
45 securities laws); and 29 U.S.C. §652(5) (exempting States from the definition of "employer[s]" subject to federal
46 occupational safety and health laws), with 11 U.S.C. §106(a) (subjecting States to federal bankruptcy court
47 judgments); 15 U.S.C. §1122(a) (subjecting States to suit for violation of Lanham Act); 17 U.S.C. §511(a)
48 (subjecting States to suit for copyright infringement); 35 U.S.C. §271(h) (subjecting States to suit for patent 49 infringement). And a Congress that includes the State not only within its substantive regulatory rules but also 50 (expressly) within a related system of private remedies likely believes that a remedial exemption would similarly

1 threaten that program. See Florida Prepaid Postsecondary Ed. Expense Bd. v. College Savings Bank, ante , at 2 ___ (Stevens , J., dissenting). It thereby avoids an enforcement gap which, when allied with the pressures of a
3 competitive marketplace, could place the State's regulated private competitors at a significant disadvantage.

4 These considerations make Congress' need to possess the power to condition entry into the market upon a
5 waiver of sovereign immunity (as "necessary and proper" to the exercise of its commerce power) unusually
6 strong, for to deny Congress that power would deny Congress the power effectively to regulate private conduct.
7 Cf. California v. Taylor , 353 U.S. 553, 566 (1957). At the same time they make a State's need to exercise
8 sovereign immunity unusually weak, for the State is unlikely to have to supply what private firms already
9 supply, nor may it fairly demand special treatment, even to protect the public purse, when it does so. Neither
10 can one easily imagine what the Constitution's founders would have thought about the assertion of sovereign
11 immunity in this special context. These considerations, differing in kind or degree from those that would support
12 a general congressional "abrogation" power, indicate that Parden 's holding is sound, irrespective of this 13 *Court's decisions in Seminole Tribe of Fla. v. Florida, 517 U.S. 44 (1996), and Alden v. Maine, ante , p. ___.*
14 [College Savings Bank v. Florida Prepaid Postsecondary Education Expense, 527 U.S. 666 (1999)]

15 Notice the above statement:

16 These considerations make Congress' need to possess the power to condition entry into the market upon a
17 waiver of sovereign immunity (as "necessary and proper" to the exercise of its commerce power) unusually
18 strong, for to deny Congress that power would deny Congress the power effectively to regulate private
19 conduct. Cf. California v. Taylor , 353 U.S. 553, 566 (1957).

20 The U.S. Congress has the right to regulate foreign or interstate commerce, regardless of whether it is a constitutional state
21 engaging in the commerce or simply a private human being or business. Therefore, only after a sovereignty such as a
22 Constitutional state government contracts as the equivalent of a private party in commerce can it become a "person" under 23 the contract or franchise that it consented to. That waiver of sovereignty and sovereign immunity is mandated by the 24 Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, which says in pertinent part:

25 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 97 > § 1605
26 §1605. General exceptions to the jurisdictional immunity of a foreign state

27 (a) A foreign state shall not be immune from the jurisdiction of courts of the United States or of the States in
28 any case—

29 (2) in which the action is based upon a commercial activity carried on in the United States by the foreign
30 state; or upon an act performed in the United States in connection with a commercial activity of the foreign
31 state elsewhere; or upon an act outside the territory of the United States in connection with a commercial
32 activity of the foreign state elsewhere and that act causes a direct effect in the United States;

33 That process of consent can only be in relation to a private party because it cannot lawfully do any of the following without 34 violating the separation of powers doctrine:

35 1. Agree to be treated as a federal territory or statutory "State".
36 2. Contract away its sovereignty to the national government.

37 No doubt, a state of the Union may procure a formerly private business or create a business of its own that engages in 38 interstate commerce and thereby become subject to federal regulation, but they can do so only indirectly as the equivalent
39 of a private party on the same footing as every other private party engaging in regulated activity. And in that capacity, they 40 are a private person and not a statutory "State" under federal law.

41 Ordinarily, when the federal government is legislating for constitutional states, it uses the phrase "several States" just as it
42 is used in the Constitution itself. Here are some examples:

43 United States Constitution
44 Article IV, Section 2

45 *The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several

34 crediting net earnings from self-employment and self-employment income, and
35 (vii) *The Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands effective January 1, 1987.*36 We allege that a violation of due process of law, a violation of the separation of powers, and treason on the part of the judge
37 has occurred when any Court:

38 1. Includes constitutional states of the Union operating in the PUBLIC capacity as GOVERNMENTS within the statutory 39 definition of:
40 1.1. “State” within any act of Congress.
41 1.2. “the States” within any act of Congress. See 4 U.S.C. §110(d).

42 2. Treats a constitutional State as a statutory “State” under federal law under the auspices of the Foreign Sovereign
43 Immunities Act as indicated above. Instead, they must be treated as a private “person” and NOT a statutory “State”, 44 which is the equivalent of a federal territory.

45 3. Imputes a different meaning or class of things to the plural “States” or “the States” than it does to the definition of the 46 singular version of “State”. For instance, 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(10) defines “State” as the District of Columbia and does
47 not define the plural but includes the plural within the definition of “United States” in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9). It is a 48 rule of statutory construction that the plural cannot have a different meaning than the similar:

1 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
2 thereof—

3 (9) United States

4 The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of
5 Columbia.

6 (10) State

7 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
8 carry out provisions of this title.

9 What judges seem to like to do to unconstitutionally expand their jurisdiction is to use the word "includes" as a means to 10 add anything they want to the definition of a term, but this clearly violates the rules of statutory construction, due process of 11 law, and the separation of powers doctrine:

12 "It is apparent that a constitutional prohibition cannot be transgressed indirectly by the creation of a statutory
13 presumption any more than it can be violated by direct enactment. The power to create presumptions is not a
14 means of escape from constitutional restrictions."
15 [Bailey v. Alabama, 219 U.S. 219 (1911)]

16 "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
17 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
18 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
19 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
20 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
21 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."
22 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

23 "When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that
24 term's ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) ("It is axiomatic that the statutory
25 definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term"); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n.
26 10 ("As a rule, `a definition which declares what a term "means" . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated'");

28 87, 95-96 (1935) (Cardozo, J.); see also 2A N. Singer, Sutherland on Statutes and Statutory Construction §
29 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at
30 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include
31 the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the
32 contrary."
33 [Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000)]

34 Any judge who violates these rules and tries to include a constitutional state into a statutory State under federal law ought 35 to be called on it, because he/she is clearly:

- 36 1. Exceeding his/her delegated authority.
- 37 2. Legislating from the bench by adding to the definition of words. This violates the separation of powers between the 38 Judicial Branch and the Legislative Branch.
- 39 3. Violating the separation of powers doctrine between the states and the federal government. See:
40

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
- 41 4. Engaging in a conspiracy to destroy your Constitutional rights. The MAIN purpose of the separation of powers is to protect your constitutional rights. Disregarding it is a violation of rights.

42 "We start with first principles. The Constitution creates a Federal Government of enumerated powers. See U.S.
43 Const., Art. I, 8. As James Madison wrote, "[t]he powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
44 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
45 indefinite." The Federalist No. 45, pp. 292-293 (C. Rossiter ed. 1961). This constitutionally
46 mandated division of authority "was adopted by the Framers
47 to ensure protection of our fundamental liberties. Gregory v. Ashcroft,

49 the coordinate branches of the Federal Government serves to prevent the accumulation of excessive power in any one branch, a healthy balance of power between the States and the Federal Government will reduce the

⁴ “Bona Fide Residents of American Samoa or Puerto Rico

1 If you are a nonresident alien who is a bona fide resident of American Samoa or Puerto Rico for the entire tax
2 year, you generally are taxed the same as resident aliens. You should file Form 1040 and report all income
3 from sources both in and outside the United States. However, you can exclude the income discussed in the 4 following paragraphs.

5 For tax purposes other than reporting income, however, you will be treated as a nonresident alien.

6 [. . .]

7 Residents of Puerto Rico.

8 If you are a bona fide resident of Puerto Rico for the entire tax year, you can exclude from gross income all
9 income from sources in Puerto Rico (other than amounts for service performed as an employee of the United 10 States or any of its agencies).

11 [. . .]

12 Residents of American Samoa.

13 If you are a bona fide resident of American Samoa for the entire year, you can exclude from gross income all 14 income from sources in American Samoa (other than amounts for services performed as an employee of the 15 U.S. government or any of its agencies). ”
16 [IRS Publication 519, Year 2009, pp. 33-34]

17 Based on the above, the following conclusions are inevitable and are the ONLY thing that is entirely consistent with the 18 I.R.C., all the court cases we have read, and the I.R.S. publications in their entirety:

- 19 1. Those domiciled in Puerto Rico and American Samoa are statutory aliens under 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).
- 20 2. Puerto Rico and American Samoa do not count as “sources within the United States” per 26 U.S.C. §861 except in the 21 case of:

22 “...amounts for service performed as an employee of the United States or any of its agencies”

- 23 3. People domiciled in Puerto Rico and American Samoa are treated as:
 - 24 3.1. Resident aliens under 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) for the purpose of reporting ONLY
 - 25 3.2. Nonresident aliens under 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) for the purposes of tax returns.
26 These territories are therefore NOT within the statutory “United States”.
- 27 4. Because taxation is limited to services performed as a statutory “employee” of the United States per 5 U.S.C. §2105(a)
28 and 26 U.S.C. §3401(c) and EXCLUDES private earnings, then “sources within the United States” as identified in 26
29 U.S.C. §861 REALLY can only mean THE GOVERNMENT and not any geographic place. This is also consistent
30 with 26 U.S.C. §864(c)(3):

31 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART I > § 864
32 §864. Definitions and special rules

33 (c) Effectively connected income, etc.

34 (3) Other income from sources within United States

35 All income, gain, or loss from sources within the United States (other than income, gain, or loss to which 36 paragraph (2) applies) shall be treated as effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within 37 the United States.

38 The ONLY place where ALL earnings are connected with a public office and a statutory “trade or business” is the 39 United States Government in the District of Columbia, and more particularly, among statutory “employees”, all of 40 whom are identified in 5 U.S.C. §2105(a) as public officers by being called an “officer and individual”:

41 TITLE 5 > PART III > Subpart A > CHAPTER 21 > § 2105
42 §2105. Employee

43 (a) For the purpose of this title, “employee”, except as otherwise provided by this section or when specifically
44 modified, means an officer and an individual who is—

1 5. "United States" is used in TWO senses within the I.R.C.: (1) The GEOGRAPHIC SENSE and (2) The
2 GOVERNMENT SENSE.

3 5.1. Not all senses of the term "United States" are defined in Title 26, but rather only one of the TWO senses, which is 4 the GEOGRAPHIC SENSE. The definitions at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) are, in 5 fact, a red herring and define only ONE of the two contexts.

6 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701. [Internal Revenue Code]
7 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

8 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
9 thereof—

10 (9) United States

11 The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of 12 Columbia.

13 (10) State

14 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
15 carry out provisions of this title.

16 5.2. If they identified exactly which of these two senses was intended for every use, their FRAUD would have to end
17 immediately. So they keep it quiet, leave undue discretion to judges to decide because of incomplete and vague
18 definitions, and abuse presumption and propaganda to expand their jurisdiction unlawfully.

19 5.3. The term "United States" as used within the phrase "sources within the United States" in 26 U.S.C. §861 is NOT
20 used in a GEOGRAPHIC SENSE found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d), but rather in 21 the "GOVERNMENT" sense ONLY. Why? Because only earnings of government statutory "employees" or 22 instrumentalities acting as public officers are counted as taxable "gross income".

23 6. The term "the States" as used in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) really can only mean federal corporations that are part of the 24 U.S. government and not constitutional states of the Union. This is confirmed by:

25 6.1. The following holding of the U.S. Supreme Court, which confirms that "income" within the meaning of the 26 revenue laws means corporate profit:

27 *"Income has been taken to mean the same thing as used in the Corporation Excise Tax Act of 1909 (36 Stat.
28 112) in the 16th Amendment, and in the various revenue acts subsequently passed."*
29 [Bowers v. Kerbaugh-Empire Co., 271 U.S. 170, 174, (1926)]

30 6.2. The fact that Congress is forbidden by the U.S. Constitution from creating a state within a state or from enacting
31 civil legislation enforceable within the borders of a Constitutional but not statutory state per Article 4, Section 3, 32 Clause 1, or from treating states of the Union as either federal territories or statutory "States" within the meaning 33 of the I.R.C.

34 United States Constitution
35 Article 4: States Relations
36 Section 3.

37 *New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected
38 within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or 39 Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.*

40 6.3. The following holding of the U.S. Supreme Court, which confirms that federal territories and therefore statutory 41 "States" are all corporation franchises. Notice also that they define an "individual" as a "corporation sole", thus 42 implying that the "individual" within the I.R.C. is in fact a corporation sole.

43 At common law, a "corporation" was an "artificial person[...] endowed with the legal capacity of perpetual 44 succession" consisting either of a single individual (termed a "corporation sole") or of a collection of several 45 individuals (a "corporation aggregate"). 3 H. Stephen, Commentaries on the Laws of England 166, 168 (1st 46 Am. ed. 1845). The sovereign was considered a corporation. See id., at 170; see also 1 W. Blackstone, 47 Commentaries *467. Under the definitions supplied by contemporary law dictionaries, Territories would have 48 been classified as "corporations" (and hence as "persons") at the time that 1983 was enacted and the 49 Dictionary Act recodified. See W. Anderson, A Dictionary of Law 261 (1893) ("All corporations were originally modeled upon a state or nation): J. J. Bouvier, A Law Dictionary Adapted to the Constitution and Laws of the United States of America 318-319 (11th ed. 1866) ("In this extensive sense the United States may be termed a corporation"); Van Brocklin v. Tennessee, 117 U.S. 151, 154 (1886) ("The United States is a . . . great corporation . . . ordained and established by the American people") (quoting United [495 U.S. 182, 202] States v. Maurice, 26 F. Cas. 1211, 1216 (No. 15,747) (CC Va. 1823) (Marshall, C. J.)); Cotton v. United States, 11 How. 229, 231 (1851) (United States is "a corporation"). See generally Trustees of Dartmouth College v. Woodward, 4 Wheat. 518, 561-562 (1819) (explaining history of term "corporation"). [Ngiraingas v. Sanchez, 495 U.S. 182 (1990)]

9 7. The statutory “citizen” or “resident” or “U.S. person” all are synonymous with the GOVERNMENT CORPORATION
10 and NOT a human being. That corporation described in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A) itself is a statutory but not 11 constitutional “U.S. citizen”, “U.S. resident”, and “U.S. person”.

"A corporation is a citizen, resident, or inhabitant of the state or country by or under the laws of which it was created, and of that state or country only."
[19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §886]

15 8. The term “United States” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) must by implication be limited to ONLY
16 those DOMICILED in the District of Columbia, WHEREVER physically situated. A person who is a “bona fide
17 resident” of Puerto Rico or American Samoa, for instance, could not ALSO be a resident anywhere else because you
18 can only have a DOMICILE in ONE PLACE at a time. Hence, they would not be domiciled within the statutory
19 “United States”.
20 9. The only real “taxpayer” is a public office in the U.S. government and not state government. It is THIS statutory 21 “taxpayer” who is the REAL “person” and “individual” mentioned in the I.R.C. and NOT the public officer filling the 22 office. The public officer is a “partner” with the public office and he/she/it represents this public office and “taxpayer”
23 as a “transferee” when information returns are filed against the office or against the name of the officer. See 26 U.S.C.
24 §§6901 and 6903.
25 10. Even in the case of “nonresident aliens” as described in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B), a domicile on federal territory is 26 still involved in the case of the statutory “taxpayer”. Why? Because the statutory “person” and “individual” being 27 taxed is NOT the nonresident entity or human being, but the PUBLIC OFFICE filled by the entity through the “trade or 28 business” franchise contract.² The PUBLIC OFFICE is domiciled on federal territory but the PUBLIC OFFICER is 29 NOT. The PUBLIC OFFICER is surely for the PUBLIC OFFICE through the “trade or business” franchise contract.
30 Hence, the tax is an indirect excise tax as repeatedly held by the U.S. Supreme Court.³ 26 U.S.C. §6671(b) and 26
31 U.S.C. §7343 both confirm that the legal definition of “person” for the purpose of the I.R.C. is an “officer or employee
32 of a corporation or partnership” who has a FIDUCIARY DUTY to the public and therefore is a public officer. The 33 “partnership” they are referring to is the franchise partnership between the OFFICE and the OFFICER. The only
34 way that fiduciary duty could be created is through a franchise contract or quasi-contract because it is otherwise illegal
35 to punish someone for NOT doing something. This would be forbidden by the Thirteenth Amendment as “involuntary 36 servitude”.
37 11. Consent of the Human Being is required to turn that PRIVATE human being into a public officer and it is a crime in
38 violation of 18 U.S.C. §912 to unilaterally elect yourself into public office by either signing a tax form or using a
39 Taxpayer Identification Number when NOT actually occupying said public office created under the authority of Title 5
40 and not Title 26 of the U.S. Code.
41 12. The reader should also note that it is “nonresident alien INDIVIDUALS” made liable for tax returns in 26 CFR
42 §1.6012-1(b), and NOT “nonresident aliens” who are NOT “individuals”. Hence:
43 12.1. “nonresident aliens” who are NOT statutory “Individuals” or “persons” are not engaged in the “trade or business”
44 franchise.
45 12.2. “nonresident alien INDIVIDUALS” as described in 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b) ARE public officers.
46 13. The word “INTERNAL” within the phrase “INTERNAL Revenue Service” means INTERNAL to the U.S. government
47 corporation, and not INTERNAL to the geographical or statutory “United States”.
48 14. The I.R.C. Subtitles A through C behaves as a public officer kickback program disguised to “look” like a legitimate
49 income tax. The feds have never been able to regulate or tax private conduct and only have the authority to impose
50 duties upon their own statutory “employees” without just compensation. Hence, through “words of art”, presumption,

1 and IRS propaganda⁴ they had to deceive the average American into filling out paperwork that makes him/her/it “look”
2 like the only thing they have jurisdiction over, which is their own public officers. It’s ALL FRAUD. For exhaustive
3 details on this subject, see:

Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a “Public Officer” for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

4 Consistent with the above, the following regulation betrays the above CONSTRUCTIVE FRAUD. Notice that what makes
5 an entity “resident” is whether they are engaged in a public office and therefore a statutory “trade or business” under 26
6 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26), and that residency has ABSOLUTELY NOTHING TO DO WITH THE NATIONALITY OR 7 CITIZENSHIP OR EVEN THE DOMICILE of the entity:

8 26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.

9 A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during
10 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
11 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
12 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
13 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
14 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
15 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in
16 trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
17 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
18 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
19 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.
21 [SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/CitesByTopic/Resident-26cfr301.7701-5.pdf>]

22 Also consistent with the content of this section, IRS Form 1040NR also describes those from American Samoa and Swains
23 Island as “U.S. nationals” and nonresident aliens. The IRS 1040NR Form, block 1 filing status lists the following:

24 Single resident of Canada or Mexico, or a single U.S. national

25 Then, in the IRS Form 1040 Instruction Book for 2009 on p. 8, it says the following:

26 “U.S. national. A U.S. national is an individual who, although not a U.S. citizen, owes his or her allegiance to 27 the United States. U.S. nationals include American Samoans and Northern Mariana Islanders who chose to 28 become U.S. nationals instead of U.S. citizens.”
29 [IRS Form 1040NR Instruction Booklet, Year 2009, p. 8]

30 We prove throughout this document that people born within and domiciled within constitutional states of the Union are all
31 of the following, and therefore have the status equivalent to that above and are statutory “nonresident aliens”:

32 1. “nationals” per 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21).
33 2. “non-citizen nationals” per 8 U.S.C. §1452.
34 3. NOT “U.S. nationals” or “nationals but not citizens of the United States at birth” per 8 U.S.C. §1408.
35 4. NOT “nationals of the United States” per 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22).

36 By deduction, since IRS describes those domiciled in federal territories and possessions such as Puerto Rico and American
37 Samoa as statutory “aliens” per the Internal Revenue Code, then people domiciled in states of the Union must have at least
38 the same standing, which means they are statutory “aliens” and also “nonresident aliens” for the purposes of filing income
39 tax returns. They don’t become “individuals” or the “nonresident alien individual” mentioned in 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b) who 40 has a liability to file a tax return unless and until they are lawfully engaged in a public office in the U.S. government. This 41 is consistent with 26 CFR §301.6109-1, which says that Taxpayer Identification Numbers are ONLY MANDATORY in the 42 case of those engaged in a statutory “trade or business”, which is defined as “the functions of a public office” in 26 U.S.C.
43 §7701(a)(26).

⁴ See: IRM 4.10.7.2.8, which says you CANNOT trust or rely upon ANY IRS publication.

NOTE: By saying the above, we are NOT implying ANY of the following:

1. That the jurisdiction of the Internal Revenue Code is limited ONLY to the District of Columbia. Like all income taxes, it attaches to DOMICILE, and you can have a domicile or residence in the District of Columbia WITHOUT a physical presence there. Domicile is not where you ARE, but where you have been in the past AND CONSENT to be civilly protected.

"Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes. Since the Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence creates universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter. Of course, the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located."
[Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, 347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

2. That the U.S. government is without authority to tax its own public offices. By "public office", we mean "trade or business", which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office". Instead, they can tax them ANYWHERE they are EXPRESSLY AUTHORIZED by law as required by 4 U.S.C. §72, which at this time is limited EXCLUSIVELY to the District of Columbia and the Virgin Islands. Anyone who asserts authority to tax outside the District of Columbia has the burden of PROVING with evidence that the public office subject to tax was expressly authorized to be executed in the specific place it is sought to be taxed.

*TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > § 72
Sec. 72. - Public offices; at seat of Government*

All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere, except as otherwise expressly provided by law

1 Consistent with the preceding discussion in this section, the U.S. Supreme Court affirmed that Puerto Rico is NOT within
2 the "United States" for the purposes of the Constitution. Hence, it is a CONSTITUTIONAL "alien" in relation to the states
3 of the Union and also is treated as "alien" in relation to Internal Revenue Code subtitles A and C:

4 "We are therefore of opinion that the island of Porto Rico is a territory appurtenant and belonging to the 5 United States, but not a part of the United States[] within the revenue clauses of the Constitution;"
6 [Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

8 Why states of the Union are "Foreign Countries" and "foreign states" with respect to federal legislative jurisdiction

8.1 The two contexts: Constitutional v. Statutory

11 The terms "foreign" and "domestic" are opposites. There are two contexts in which these terms may be used:

12 1. Constitutional: The U.S. Constitution is political document, and therefore this context is also sometimes called 13 "political jurisdiction".
14 2. Statutory: Congress writes statutes or "acts of Congress" to manage property dedicated to their care. This context is 15 also called "legislative jurisdiction" or "civil jurisdiction".

16 Any discussion of the terms "foreign" and "domestic" therefore must start by identifying ONE of the two above contexts.
17 Any attempt to avoid discussing which context is intended should be perceived as an attempt to confuse, deceive, and 18 enslave you by corrupt politicians and lawyers:

1 “For where envy and self-seeking exist, confusion and every evil thing are there.”
2 [James 3:16, Bible, NKJV]

3 The separation of powers makes states of the Union STATUTORILY/LEGISLATIVELY FOREIGN and sovereign in
4 relation to the national government but CONSTITUTIONALLY/POLITICALLY DOMESTIC for nearly all subject matters
5 of legislation. Every occasion by any court or legal authority to say that the states and the federal government are not
6 foreign relates to the CONSTITUTIONAL and not STATUTORY context. Below is an example of this phenomenon,
7 where “sovereignty” refers to the CONSTITUTIONAL/POLITICAL context rather than the 8 STATUTORY/LEGISLATIVE context:

9 The United States is not a foreign sovereignty as regards the several states, but is a concurrent, and, within 10 its jurisdiction, paramount sovereignty.”
11 [Claflin v. Houseman, 93 U.S. 130, 136 (1876)]

12 8.2 Evidence in support

13 Thomas Jefferson, our most revered founding father, had the following to say about the relationship between the states of 14 the Union and the national government:

15 *The extent of our country was so great, and its former division into distinct States so established, that we 16 thought it better to confederate [U.S. government] as to foreign affairs only. Every State retained its self-
17 government in domestic matters, as better qualified to direct them to the good and satisfaction of their 18 citizens, than a general government so distant from its remoter citizens and so little familiar with the local 19 peculiarities of the different parts.”*
20 [Thomas Jefferson to A. Coray, 1823. ME 15:483]

21 “I believe the States can best govern our home concerns, and the General Government our foreign ones.”
22 [Thomas Jefferson to William Johnson, 1823. ME 15:450]

23 “My general plan [for the federal government] would be, to make the States one as to everything connected 24 with foreign nations, and several as to everything purely domestic.”
25 [Thomas Jefferson to Edward Carrington, 1787. ME 6:227]

26 *“Distinct States, amalgamated into one as to their foreign concerns, but single and independent as to their
27 internal administration, regularly organized with a legislature and governor resting on the choice of the people
28 and enlightened by a free press, can never be so fascinated by the arts of one man as to submit voluntarily to his
29 usurpation. Nor can they be constrained to it by any force he can possess. While that may paralyze the single 30 State in which it happens to be encamped, [the] others, spread over a country of two thousand miles diameter,
31 rise up on every side, ready organized for deliberation by a constitutional legislature and for action by their 32 governor, constitutionally the commander of the militia of the State, that is to say, of every man in it able to 33 bear arms.”*
34 [Thomas Jefferson to A. L. C. Destutt de Tracy, 1811. ME 13:19]

35 *“With respect to our State and federal governments, I do not think their relations are correctly understood by 36 foreigners. They generally suppose the former subordinate to the latter. But this is not the case. They are co-
37 ordinate departments of one simple and integral whole. To the State governments are reserved all legislative 38 and administration, in affairs which concern their own citizens only, and to the federal government is given
39 whatever concerns foreigners, or the citizens of the other States; these functions alone being made federal. The 40 one is domestic, the other the foreign branch of the same government; neither having control over the other, but 41 within its own department.”*
42 [Thomas Jefferson, “Writing of Thomas Jefferson” pub by Taylor & Maury, Washington DC, 1854, quote
43 number VII 355-61, from correspondence to Major John Cartwright, June 5, 1824.]

44 The several states of the Union of states, collectively referred to as the United States of America or the “freely associated 45 compact states”, are considered to be STATUTORILY/LEGISLATIVELY “foreign countries” and “foreign states” with 46 respect to the federal government. An example of this is found in the Corpus Juris Secundum legal encyclopedia, in which 47 federal territory is described as being a “foreign state” in relation to states of the Union:

48 86 Corpus Juris Secundum
49 Territories, §1. Definitions, Nature, and Distinctions

50 *“The word ‘territory,’ when used to designate a political organization has a distinctive, fixed, and legal
51 meaning under the political institutions of the United States, and does not necessarily include all the
52 territorial possessions of the United States, but may include only the portions thereof which are organized
53 and exercise governmental functions under act of congress.”*

1 "While the term 'territory' is often loosely used, and has even been construed to include municipal subdivisions
2 of a territory, and 'territories of the' United States is sometimes used to refer to the entire domain over which
3 the United States exercises dominion, the word 'territory,' when used to designate a political organization, has
4 a distinctive, fixed, and legal meaning under the political institutions of the United States, and the term
5 'territory' or 'territories' does not necessarily include only a portion or the portions thereof which are organized
6 and exercise government functions under acts of congress. The term 'territories' has been defined to be political
7 subdivisions of the outlying dominion of the United States, and in this sense the term 'territory' is not a
8 description of a definite area of land but of a political unit governing and being governed as such. The question
9 whether a particular subdivision or entity is a territory is not determined by the particular form of government
10 with which it is, more or less temporarily, invested.

11 "Territories' or 'territory' as including 'state' or 'states.' While the term 'territories of the' United States
12 may, under certain circumstances, include the states of the Union, as used in the federal Constitution and in
13 ordinary acts of congress "territory" does not include a foreign state.

14 "As used in this title, the term 'territories' generally refers to the political subdivisions created by congress,
15 and not within the boundaries of any of the several states."
16 [86 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Territories, §1]

17 Here is the definition of the term "foreign country" right from the Treasury Regulations:

18 26 CFR §1.911-2(h): The term "foreign country" when used in a geographical sense includes any territory
19 under the sovereignty of a government other than that of the United States. It includes the territorial waters
20 of the foreign country (determined in accordance with the laws of the United States), the air space over the 21 foreign country, and the seabed and subsoil of those submarine areas which are adjacent to the territorial 22 waters of the foreign country and over which the foreign country has exclusive rights, in accordance with 23 international law, with respect to the exploration and exploitation of natural resources.

24 Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 498 helps make the distinction clear that the 50 Union states are foreign 25 countries:

26 Dual citizenship. Citizenship in two different countries. Status of citizens of United States who reside
27 within a state; i.e., person who are born or naturalized in the U.S. are citizens of the U.S. and the state wherein
28 they reside.
29 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 498]

30 Positive law from Title 28 of the U.S. Code agrees that states of the Union are foreign with respect to federal jurisdiction:

31 TITLE 28 > PART I > CHAPTER 13 > Sec. 297.
32 Sec. 297. - Assignment of judges to courts of the freely associated compact states

33 (a) The Chief Justice or the chief judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit may assign
34 any circuit or district judge of the Ninth Circuit, with the consent of the judge so assigned, to serve
35 temporarily as a judge of any duly constituted court of the freely associated compact states whenever an 36 official duly authorized by the laws of the respective compact state requests such assignment and such
37 assignment is necessary for the proper dispatch of the business of the respective court.

38 (b) The Congress consents to the acceptance and retention by any judge so authorized of reimbursement from
39 the countries referred to in subsection (a) of all necessary travel expenses, including transportation, and
40 of subsistence, or of a reasonable per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence. The judge shall report to the
41 Administrative Office of the United States Courts any amount received pursuant to this subsection

42 Definitions from Black's Law Dictionary:

43 Foreign States: "Nations outside of the United States...Term may also refer to another state; i.e. a sister state.
44 The term 'foreign nations', ...should be construed to mean all nations and states other than that in which the
45 action is brought; and hence, one state of the Union is foreign to another, in that sense."
46 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 648]

47 Foreign Laws: "The laws of a foreign country or sister state."
48 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 647]

49 Dual citizenship. Citizenship in two different countries. Status of citizens of United States who reside
50 within a state; i.e., person who are born or naturalized in the U.S. are citizens of the U.S. and the state wherein
51 they reside.

2 The legal encyclopedia Corpus Juris Secundum says on this subject:

3 "Generally, the states of the Union sustain toward each other the relationship of independent sovereigns or
4 independent foreign states, except in so far as the United States is paramount as the dominating government,
5 and in so far as the states are bound to recognize the fraternity among sovereignties established by the federal
6 Constitution, as by the provision requiring each state to give full faith and credit to the public acts, records, and
7 judicial proceedings of the other states..."
8 [81A Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), United States, §29, legal encyclopedia]

9 The phrase "except in so far as the United States is paramount" refers to subject matters delegated to the national 10 government under the United States Constitution. For all such subject matters ONLY, "acts of Congress" are NOT foreign 11 and therefore are regarded as "domestic". All such subject matters are summarized below. Every other subject matter is 12 legislatively "foreign" and therefore "alien":

13 1. Excise taxes upon imports from foreign countries. See Article 1, Section 8, Clause 1 of the U.S. Constitution.
14 Congress may NOT, however, tax any article exported from a state pursuant to Article 1, Section 9, Clause 5 of the 15 Constitution. Other than these subject matters, NO national taxes are authorized:

16 "The States, after they formed the Union, continued to have the same range of taxing power which they had
17 before, barring only duties affecting exports, imports, and on tonnage. 2 Congress, on the other hand, to lay
18 taxes in order 'to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States',
19 Art. 1, Sec. 8, U.S.C.A.Const., can reach every person and every dollar in the land with due regard to 20 Constitutional limitations as to the method of laying taxes."

23 "The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing opinions
24 concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a very long time this court
25 has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of Congress does not extend to the states or
26 their political subdivisions. The same basic reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like
27 limitation upon the power which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra."
28 Ashton v. Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 1, [298 U.S. 513; 56 S.Ct. 892 (1936)]

30 "Thus, Congress having power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and
31 with the Indian tribes, may, without doubt, provide for granting coasting licenses, licenses to pilots, licenses to
32 trade with the Indians, and any other licenses necessary or proper for the exercise of that great and extensive
33 power; and the same observation is applicable to every other power of Congress, to the exercise of which the 34 granting of licenses may be incident. All such licenses confer authority, and give rights to the licensee."

35 But very different considerations apply to the internal commerce or domestic trade of the States. Over this
36 commerce and trade Congress has no power of regulation nor any direct control. This power belongs
37 exclusively to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a State is
38 warranted by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly granted to
39 the legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive power of 40 the State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It is given
41 in the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports, and it
42 must impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus limited,
43 and thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing
44 subjects. Congress cannot authorize a trade or business within a State in order to tax it."
45 License Tax Cases, [72 U.S. 462, 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]

46 2. Postal fraud. See Article 1, Section 8, Clause 7 of the U.S. Constitution.
47 3. Counterfeiting under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 6 of the U.S. Constitution.
48 4. Treason under Article 4, Section 2, Clause 3 of the U.S. Constitution.
49 5. Interstate commercial crimes under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the U.S. Constitution.
50 6. Jurisdiction over naturalization and exportation of Constitutional aliens.
51 7. Slavery, involuntary servitude, or peonage under the Thirteenth Amendment, 42 U.S.C. §1994, 18 U.S.C. §1581. and
52 18 U.S.C. §1589(3).

53 "Other authorities to the same effect might be cited. It is not open to doubt that Congress may enforce the
54 Thirteenth Amendment by direct legislation, punishing the holding of a person in slavery or in involuntary
55 servitude except as a punishment for a crime. In the exercise of that power Congress has enacted these

1 sections denouncing peonage, and punishing one who holds another in that condition of involuntary
2 servitude. This legislation is not limited to the territories or other parts of the strictly national domain,
3 but is operative in the states and wherever the sovereignty of the United States extends. We entertain no
4 doubt of the validity of this legislation, or of its applicability to the case of any person holding another in 5 a state of peonage, and this whether there be municipal ordinance or state law sanctioning such holding.
6 It operates directly on every citizen of the Republic, wherever his residence may be."
7 [Clyatt v. U.S., 197 U.S. 207 (1905)]

8 The Courts also agrees with this interpretation:

9 "It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247
10 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the

11 internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation."

14 "The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing opinions
15 concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a very long time this court
16 has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of Congress does not extend to the states or
17 their political subdivisions. The same basic reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like
18 limitation upon the power which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra."

21 "The States between each other are sovereign and independent. They are distinct and separate sovereignties,
22 except so far as they have parted with some of the attributes of sovereignty by the Constitution. They continue
23 to be nations, with all their rights, and under all their national obligations, and with all the rights of nations in
24 every particular; except in the surrender by each to the common purposes and objects of the Union, under the
25 Constitution. The rights of each State, when not so yielded up, remain absolute."
26 [Bank of Augusta v. Earle, 38 U.S. (13 Pet.) 519, 10 L.Ed. 274 (1839)]

28 "In determining the boundaries of apparently conflicting powers between states and the general government,
29 the proper question is, not so much what has been, in terms, reserved to the states, as what has been, expressly 30 or by necessary implication, granted by the people to the national government; for each state possess all the 31 powers of an independent and sovereign nation, except so far as they have been ceded away by the 32 constitution. The federal government is but a creature of the people of the states, and, like an agent appointed 33 for definite and specific purposes, must show an express or necessarily implied authority in the charter of its 34 appointment, to give validity to its acts."
35 [People ex re. Atty. Gen. V. Naglee, 1 Cal. 234 (1850)]

36 The motivation behind this distinct separation of powers between the state and federal government was described by the 37 Supreme Court. Its ONLY purpose for existence is to protect our precious liberties and freedoms. Hence, anyone who tries
38 to confuse the CONSTITUTIONAL and STATUTORY contexts for legal terms is trying to STEAL your rights.

39 "We start with first principles. The Constitution creates a Federal Government of enumerated powers. See U.S.
40 Const., Art. I, 8. As James Madison wrote, "[t]he powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
41 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
42 indefinite." The Federalist No. 45, pp. 292-293 (C. Rossiter ed. 1961). This constitutionally mandated division
43 of authority "was adopted by the Framers to ensure protection of our fundamental liberties." Gregory v.
44 Ashcroft, 501 U.S. 452, 458 (1991) (internal quotation marks omitted). "Just as the separation and
45 independence of the coordinate branches of the Federal Government serves to prevent the accumulation of
46 excessive power in any one branch, a healthy balance of power between the States and the Federal 47 Government will reduce the risk of tyranny and abuse from either front." Ibid.
48 [U.S. v. Lopez, 514 U.S. 549 (1995)]

49 We therefore have no choice to conclude, based on the definitions above that the sovereign 50 Union states of the United
50 States of America are considered "foreign states", which means they are outside the legislative jurisdiction of the federal 51 courts in most cases. This conclusion is the inescapable result of the fact that the Tenth Amendment to the U.S.
52 Constitution reserves what is called "police powers" to the states and these police powers include most criminal laws and 53 every aspect of public health, morals, and welfare. See section 4.9 for further details. There are exceptions to this general
54 rule, but most of these exceptions occur when the parties involved reside in two different "foreign states" or in a territory
55 (referred to as a "State") of the federal United States and wish to voluntarily grant the federal courts jurisdiction over their

1 issues to simplify the litigation. The other interesting outcome of the above analysis is that We the People are 2 “instrumentalities” of those foreign states, because we fit the description above as:

3 1. A separate legal person.
4 2. An organ of the foreign state, because we:
5 2.1. Fund and sustain its operations with our taxes.
6 2.2. Select and oversee its officers with our votes.
7 2.3. Change its laws through the political process, including petitions and referendums.
8 2.4. Control and limit its power with our jury and grand jury service.
9 2.5. Protect its operation with our military service.

10 The people govern themselves through their elected agents, who are called public servants. Without the involvement of 11 every citizen of every “foreign state” in the above process of self-government, the state governments would disintegrate and
12 cease to exist, based on the way our system is structured now. The people, are the sovereigns, according to the Supreme
13 Court: Juilliard v. Greenman, 110 U.S. 421 (1884); Perry v. U.S., 294 U.S. 330 (1935); Yick Wo v. Hopkins, 118 U.S. 356
14 (1886). Because the people are the sovereigns, then the government is there to serve them and without people to serve, then
15 we wouldn’t need a government! How much more of an “instrumentality” can you be as a natural person of the body
16 politic of your state? We refer you back to section 4.1 to reread that section to find out just how very important a role you
17 play in your state government. By the way, here is the definition of “instrumentality” right from Black’s Law Dictionary,
18 Sixth Edition, page 801:

19 Instrumentality: Something by which an end is achieved; a means, medium, agency. Perkins v. State, 61
20 Wis.2d. 341, 212 N.W.2d. 141, 146.
21 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 801]

22 Another section in that same Chapter 97 above says these foreign states have judicial immunity:

23 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 97 > Sec. 1602.
24 Sec. 1602. - Findings and declaration of purpose

25 The Congress finds that the determination by United States courts of the claims of foreign states to immunity
26 from the jurisdiction of such courts would serve the interests of justice and would protect the rights of both
27 foreign states and litigants in United States courts. Under international law, states are not immune from the 28 jurisdiction of foreign courts insofar as their commercial activities are concerned, and their commercial
29 property may be levied upon for the satisfaction of judgments rendered against them in connection with their 30 commercial activities. Claims of foreign states to immunity should henceforth be decided by courts of the 31 United States and of the States in conformity with the principles set forth in this chapter

32 8.3 Comity Clause in the Constitution removes the disabilities of “alienage”

33 Those domiciled within constitutional states of the Union are statutory “aliens” in relation both to every other state and in 34 relation to the federal government. The following book on state citizenship proves this:

35 It is provided by the Federal Constitution⁵ that: "The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and 36 immunities of citizens in the several States."

37 This clause [Article 4, Section 2, Clause 1 of the United States Constitution] (hereafter called for the sake of 38 convenience the Comity Clause⁶), it was said by Alexander Hamilton, may be esteemed the basis of the Union.⁷
39 Its object and effect are outlined in Paul v. Virginia⁸ in the following words:

40 It was undoubtedly the object of the clause in question to place the citizens of each State upon the same footing
41 with citizens of other States, so far as the advantages resulting from citizenship in those States are concerned. It
42 relieves them from the disabilities of alienage in other States; it inhibits discriminating legislation against 43 them by other States; It gives them the right of free ingress into other States and egress from them. It insures to 44 them in other States the same freedom possessed by the citizens of those States in the acquisition and enjoyment

1 of property and in the pursuit of happiness; and it secures to them in other States the equal protection of the 2 laws. It has been justly said that no provision in the Constitution has tended so strongly to constitute the 3 citizens of the United States one people as this. Indeed, without some provision of the kind removing from 4 the citizens of each State the disabilities of alienage in the other States, the Republic would have constituted
5 little more than a league of States; it would not have constituted the Union which now exists.

6 The words "privileges" and "immunities," like the greater part of the legal phraseology of this country, have
7 been carried over from the law of Great Britain, and recur constantly either as such or in equivalent
8 expressions from the time of Magna Charta. For all practical purposes they are synonymous in meaning, and 9 originally signified a peculiar right or private law conceded to particular persons or places whereby a certain
10 individual or class of individuals was exempted from the rigor of the common law. Privilege or immunity is 11 conferred upon any person when he is invested with a legal claim to the exercise of special or peculiar rights,
12 authorizing him to enjoy some particular advantage or exemption.⁹

13 The Comity Clause, as is indicated by the quotation from Paul v. Virginia, was primarily intended to remove 14 the disabilities of alienage from the citizens of every State while passing through or doing business in any of 15 the several States. But even without this removal of disability, the citizens of the several States would have 16 been entitled to an enjoyment of the privileges and immunities accorded to alien friends; and these were by 17 no means inconsiderable at the English law. In the early period of English history practically the only class of 18 aliens of any importance were the foreign merchants and traders. To them the law of the land afforded no
19 protection; for the privilege of trading and for the safety of life and limb they were entirely dependent on the 20 royal favor, the control of commerce being a royal prerogative, hampered by no law or custom as far as 21 concerned foreign merchants. These could not come into or leave the country, or go from one place to another,
22 or settle in any town for purposes of trading, or buy and sell, except upon the payment of heavy tolls to the king.
23 This state of affairs was changed by Magna Charta, chapter forty-one. . .

26 NOTE the following VERY important facts which arise from the above:

- 27 1. They refer to franchise "privileges and immunities" as "private law", meaning obligatory ONLY upon those who 28 contract with the government individually BY CONSENT.
- 29 2. They indicate that those who avail themselves of franchise "privileges" FORFEIT the protections of the 30 common law. In other words, their "employment agreement", codified in the franchise, REPLACES the equality and 31 equal protection they started with under the common law and the Constitution and REPLACES equal protection with 32 PRIVILEGE and inferiority in relation to the government grantor of the statutory franchise.
- 33 3. Citizens, meaning those domiciled WITHIN one state, are STATUTORY "aliens" in relation to every other state of the 34 Union.
- 35 4. "Alienage" is a product of DOMICILE and not NATIONALITY, because every citizen of every state shares United 36 States* NATIONALITY.
- 37 5. The ALIENAGE is a STATUTORY relationship tied to domicile and NOT a CONSTITUTIONAL alienage tied to 38 nationality.
- 39 6. The Comity clause removes the DISABILITIES OF ALIENAGE but NOT STATUTORY ALIENAGE itself.
- 40 7. There IS no "comity clause" that limits the FEDERAL government in relation to federal territories. Hence, state
41 citizens are ALSO STATUTORY aliens in relation to these areas and may LAWFULLY be discriminated against by 42 the NATIONAL government. In fact they ARE in the Internal Revenue Code, because:
 - 43 7.1. They are STATUTORY "nonresident alien" NON-individuals per 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) instead of 44 STATUTORY "U.S. citizens" per 26 U.S.C. §3121(e).
 - 45 7.2. They pay a FLAT 30% rate per 26 U.S.C. §871(a) instead of a reduced GRADUATED rate found in 26 U.S.C. §1.
46 http://www.law.cornell.edu/uscode/html/uscode26/usc_sec_26_00000871---000-.html
- 47 8. All "individuals" in the I.R.C. are statutory "aliens". 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3), which therefore implies state or foreign 48 domiciled parties ONLY.
- 49 9. The "individual" identified at the top of the 1040 form as "U.S. individual" is a STATUTORY ALIEN, even if he has 50 United States* nationality and is a STATUTORY "national" per 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21).

51 The conclusions above are COMPLETELY CONSISTENT with the following resources, which identify state domiciled
52 parties as STATUTORY "nonresident alien" NON-individuals in relation to the national government:

7 8.4 Rebutted arguments against our position

8 A favorite tactic of members of the legal profession in arguing against the conclusions of this section is to cite the following
9 U.S. Supreme Court cites and then to say that the federal and state government enjoy concurrent jurisdiction within states
10 of the Union.

11 "The laws of the United States are laws in the several States, and just as much binding on the citizens and
12 courts thereof as the State laws are. The United States is not a foreign sovereignty as regards the several States,
13 but is a concurrent, and, within its jurisdiction, paramount sovereignty. Every citizen of a State is a subject of
14 two distinct sovereignties, having concurrent jurisdiction in the State,-concurrent as to place and persons,
15 though distinct as to subject-matter."
16 [Claflin v. Houseman, 93 U.S. 130, 136 (1876)]

17 "And the powers of the General Government, and of the State, although both exist and are exercised within the 18 same territorial limits, are yet separate and distinct sovereignties, acting separately and independently of each
19 other, within their respective spheres."
20 Ableman v. Booth, [62 U.S. 506, 516 (1858)]

21 The issue raised above relates to the concept of what we call “dual sovereignty”. Can two entities be simultaneously
22 sovereign over a single geographic region and the same subject matter? Let’s investigate this intriguing matter further,
23 keeping in mind that such controversies result from a fundamental misunderstanding of what “sovereignty” really means.

24 We allege and a book on Constitutional government also alleges that it is a legal impossibility for two sovereign bodies to 25 enjoy concurrent jurisdiction over the same subject, and especially when it comes to jurisdiction to tax.

26 "§79. This sovereignty pertains to the people of the United States as national citizens only, and not as citizens
27 of any other government. There cannot be two separate and independent sovereignties within the same limits or
28 jurisdiction; nor can there be two distinct and separate sources of sovereign authority within the same
29 jurisdiction. The right of commanding in the last resort can be possessed only by one body of people inhabiting
30 the same territory, and can be executed only by those intrusted with the execution of such authority."
31 [Treatise on Government, Joel Tiffany, p. 49, Section 78;
32 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/Publications/TreatiseOnGovernment/TreatOnGovt.pdf>]

33 What detractors are trying to do is deceive you, because they are confusing federal “States” described in federal statutes
34 with states of the Union mentioned in the Constitution. These two types of entities are mutually exclusive and “foreign”
35 with respect to each other.

36 "The earliest case is that of Hepburn v. Ellzey, 2 Cranch, 445, 2 L.Ed. 332, in which this court held that, under
37 that clause of the Constitution limiting the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States to controversies
38 between citizens of different states, a citizen of the District of Columbia could not maintain an action in the
39 circuit court of the United States. It was argued that the word 'state.' in that connection, was used simply to
40 denote a distinct political society. But,' said the Chief Justice, 'as the act of Congress obviously used the word
41 'state' in reference to that term as used in the Constitution, it becomes necessary to inquire whether Columbia is
42 a state in the sense of that instrument. The result of that examination is a conviction that the members of the
43 American confederacy only are the states contemplated in the Constitution, . . . and excludes from the term
44 the signification attached to it by writers on the law of nations.' This case was followed in Barney v.
45 Baltimore, 6 Wall. 280, 18 L.Ed. 825, and quite recently in Hooe v. Jamieson, 166 U.S. 395, 41 L.Ed. 1049,
46 17 Sup.Ct.Rep. 596. The same rule was applied to citizens of territories in New Orleans v. Winter, 1 Wheat.
47 91, 4 L.Ed. 44, in which an attempt was made to distinguish a territory from the District of Columbia. But it
48 was said that 'neither of them is a state in the sense in which that term is used in the Constitution.' In Scott v.
49 Jones, 5 How. 343, 12 L.Ed. 181, and in Miners' Bank v. Iowa ex rel. District Prosecuting Attorney, 12 How. 1,
50 13 L.Ed. 867, it was held that under the judiciary act, permitting writs of error to the supreme court of a state in
51 cases where the validity of a state statute is drawn in question, an act of a territorial legislature was not within
52 the contemplation of Congress."
53 Downes v. Bidwell, [182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

54 The definition of “State” for the purposes of federal income taxes confirms that states of the Union are NOT included

1 within the definitions used in the Internal Revenue Code, and that only federal territories are. This is no accident, but proof
2 that there really is a separation of powers and of legislative jurisdiction between states of the Union and the Federal
3 government:

12 (a) Definitions

13 (10) State

14 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
15 carry out provisions of this title.

16 We like to think of the word “sovereignty” in the context of government as the combination of “exclusive authority” with
17 “exclusive responsibility”. The Constitution in effect very clearly divides authority and responsibility for specific matters
18 between the states and federal government based on the specific subject matter, and ensures that the functions of each will
19 never overlap or conflict. It delegates certain powers to each of the two sovereigns and keeps the two sovereigns from
20 competing with each other so that public peace, tranquility, security, and political harmony have the most ideal
21 environment in which to flourish.

22 If we therefore examine the Constitution and the Supreme court cases interpreting it, we find that the complex division of
23 authority that it makes between the states and the federal government accomplishes the following objectives:

24 1. Delegates primarily internal matters to the states. These matters involve mainly public health, morals, and welfare and
25 require exclusive legislative authority within the state.

26 “While the states are not sovereign in the true sense of that term, but only quasi sovereign, yet in respect of all
27 powers reserved to them they are supreme-as independent of the general government as that government within
28 its sphere is independent of the States.’ The Collector v. Day, 11 Wall. 113, 124. And since every addition to the
29 national legislative power to some extent detracts from or invades the power of the states, it is of vital moment
30 that, in order to preserve the fixed balance intended by the Constitution, the powers of the general government
31 [298 U.S. 238, 295] be not so extended as to embrace any not within the express terms of the several 32 grants or the implications necessarily to be drawn therefrom. It is no longer open to question that the general
33 government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649,
34 Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the internal affairs of the states; and
35 emphatically not with regard to legislation. The question in respect of the inherent power of that government
36 as to the external affairs of the Nation and in the field of international law is a wholly different matter which
37 it is not necessary now to consider. See, however, Jones v. United States, 137 U.S. 202, 212, 11 S.Ct. 80;
38 Nishimur Ekiu v. United States, 142 U.S. 651, 659, 12 S.Ct. 336; Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698
40 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]

42 “Thus, Congress having power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and
43 with the Indian tribes, may, without doubt, provide for granting coasting licenses, licenses to pilots, licenses to
44 trade with the Indians, and any other licenses necessary or proper for the exercise of that great and extensive
45 power; and the same observation is applicable to every other power of Congress, to the exercise of which the
46 granting of licenses may be incident. All such licenses confer authority, and give rights to the licensee.

47 But very different considerations apply to the internal commerce or domestic trade of the States. Over this
48 commerce and trade Congress has no power of regulation nor any direct control. This power belongs
49 exclusively to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a State is
50 warranted by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly granted to
51 the legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive power of 52 the State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It is given
53 in the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports, and it
54 must impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus limited,

3 and thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing subjects. Congress cannot authorize a trade or business within a State in order to tax it."
[License Tax Cases, 72 U.S. 462, 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]

4 2. Delegates primarily external matters to the federal government, including diplomatic and military and postal and
5 commerce matters. These include such things as:
6 2.1. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the constitution authorizes the feds to tax and regulate foreign commerce and
7 interstate commerce, but not intrastate commerce.
8 2.2. Article 1, Section 8, Clauses 11-16 authorize the establishment of a military and the authority to make war.
9 2.3. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 4 allows the fed to determine uniform rules for naturalization and immigration from
10 outside the country. However, it does not take away the authority of states to naturalize as well.
11 2.4. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17: Exclusive authority over community property of the states called federal 12 “territory”.
13 3. Ensures that the same criminal offense is never prosecuted or punished twice or simultaneously under two sets of laws.

14
16 “Consequently no State court will undertake to enforce the criminal law of the Union, except as regards the arrest of persons charged under such law. It is therefore clear, that the same power cannot be exercised by a State court as is exercised by the courts of the United States, in giving effect to their criminal laws...”

19 “There is no principle better established by the common law, none more fully recognized in the federal and State constitutions, than that an individual shall not be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense. This, it is true, applies to the respective governments; but its spirit applies with equal force against a double punishment, for the same act, by a State and the federal government.....

23 Nothing can be more repugnant or contradictory than two punishments for the same act. It would be a mockery of justice and a reproach to civilization. It would bring our system of government into merited contempt.”
[Fox v. The State of Ohio, 46 U.S. 410, 5 Howard 410, 12 L.Ed. 213 (1847)]

25 4. Ensures that the two sovereigns never tax the same objects or activities, because then they would be competing for 26 revenues.

28 “Two governments acting independently of each other cannot exercise the same power for the same object.”
[Fox v. The State of Ohio, 46 U.S. 410, 5 Howard 410, 12 L.Ed. 213 (1847)]

29 As far as the last item above goes, which is that of taxation, however, the U.S. Supreme Court has stated:

30
34 “The States, after they formed the Union, continued to have the same range of taxing power which they had before, barring only duties affecting exports, imports, and on tonnage. Congress, on the other hand, to lay
taxes in order ‘to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States’,
Art. 1, Sec. 8, U.S.C.A.Const., can reach every person and every dollar in the land with due regard to Constitutional limitations as to the method of laying taxes.”

43 “The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing opinions
concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a very long time this court
has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of Congress does not extend to the states or their political subdivisions. The same basic reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like limitation upon the power which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra.

56 “The grant of the power to lay and collect taxes is, like the power to regulate commerce, made in general terms, and has never been understood to interfere with the exercise of the same power by the State; and hence has been drawn an argument which has been applied to the question under consideration. But the two grants are not, it is conceived, similar in their terms or their nature. Although many of the powers formerly
[22 U.S. 1, 199] exercised by the States, are transferred to the government of the Union, yet the State governments remain, and constitute a most important part of our system. The power of taxation is indispensable to their existence, and is a power which, in its own nature, is capable of residing in, and being exercised by, different authorities at the same time. We are accustomed to see it placed, for different purposes, in different hands. Taxation is the simple operation of taking small portions from a perpetually accumulating mass, susceptible of almost infinite division; and a power in one to take what is necessary for certain purposes, is not,
in its nature, incompatible with a power in another to take what is necessary for other purposes. Congress is authorized to lay and collect taxes, and to pay the debts, and provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States. This does not interfere with the power of the States to tax internally for the

1 support of their own governments; nor is the exercise of that power by the States [to tax INTERNALLY], an
2 exercise of any portion of the power that is granted to the United States [to tax EXTERNALLY]. In imposing
3 taxes for State purposes, they are not doing what Congress is empowered to do. Congress is not empowered
4 to tax for those purposes which are within the exclusive province of the States. When, then, each
5 government exercises the power of taxation, neither is
6 exercising the power of the other. But, when a State proceeds to regulate commerce
7 with foreign nations, or among the several States, it is exercising the very power that is granted to Congress,
8 [22 U.S. 1, 200] and is doing the very thing which Congress is authorized to do. There is no analogy, then,
9 between the power of taxation and the power of regulating commerce. “
10 [Gibbons v. Ogden, 22 U.S. 21 (1824)]

12 “In Slaughter-house Cases, 16 Wall. 62, it was said that the police power is, from its nature, incapable of any
13 exact definition or limitation; and in Stone v. Mississippi, 101 U.S. 818, that it is 'easier to determine whether
14 particular cases come within the general scope of the power than to give an abstract definition of the power
15 itself, which will be in all respects accurate.' That there is a power, sometimes called the police power, which
16 has never been surrendered by the states, in virtue of which they may, within certain limits, control
17 everything within their respective territories, and upon the proper exercise of which, under some
18 circumstances, may depend the public health, the public morals, or the public safety, is conceded in all the
19 cases. Gibbons v. Ogden, 9 Wheat. 203. In its broadest sense, as sometimes defined, it includes all legislation
20 and almost every function of civil government. Barbier v. Connolly, 113 U.S. 31; S.C. 5 Sup.Ct.Rep. 357. [...]
21 .] Definitions of the police power must, however, be taken subject to the condition that
22 the state cannot, in its exercise, for any purpose whatever, encroach upon the powers
23 of the general [federal] government, or rights granted or secured by the supreme law of 24 the land.

25 “Illustrations of interference with the rightful authority of the general government by 26 state legislation-which was defended upon the ground that it was enacted under the 27 police power-are found in cases where enactments concerning the introduction of 28 foreign paupers, convicts, and diseased persons were held to be unconstitutional as 29 conflicting, by their necessary operation and effect, with the paramount authority of
30 congress to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states. In
31 Henderson v. Mayor of New York, 92 U.S. 263, the court, speaking by Mr. Justice MILLER, while declining to
32 decide whether in the absence of congressional action the states can, or how far they may, by appropriate
33 legislation protect themselves against actual paupers, vagrants, criminals, [115 U.S. 650, 662] and 34 diseased persons, arriving from foreign countries, said, that no definition of the police power, and 'no urgency
35 for its use, can authorize a state to exercise it in regard to a subject-matter which has been confided exclusively
36 to the discretion of congress by the constitution.' Chy Lung v. Freeman, 92 U.S. 276. And in Railroad
37 Co. v. Husen, 95 U.S. 474, Mr. Justice STRONG, delivering the opinion
38 of the court, said that 'the police power of a state cannot obstruct foreign 39 commerce or interstate commerce beyond the necessity for its exercise;
40 and, under color of it, objects not within its scope cannot be secured at
41 the expense of the protection afforded by the federal constitution.' “
42 [New Orleans Gas Company v. Louisiana Light Company, 115 U.S. 650 (1885)]

43 And the Federalist Paper # 45 confirms this view in regards to taxation:

44 “It is true, that the Confederacy is to possess, and may exercise, the power of collecting internal as well as
45 external taxes throughout the States; but it is probable that this power will not be resorted to, except for
46 supplemental purposes of revenue; that an option will then be given to the States to supply their quotas by
47 previous collections of their own; and that the eventual collection, under the immediate authority of the 48 Union, will generally be made by the officers, and according to
49 the rules, appointed by the several States. Indeed it is
50 extremely probable, that in other instances, particularly in the 51 organization of the judicial power, the officers of the States
52 will be clothed with the correspondent authority of the Union.

1 "Should it happen, however, that separate collectors of internal revenue should be appointed under the federal
2 government, the influence of the whole number would not bear a comparison with that of the multitude of State
3 officers in the opposite scale. "

4 "Within every district to which a federal collector would be allotted, there would not be less than thirty or forty,
5 or even more, officers of different descriptions, and many of them persons of character and weight, whose
6 influence would lie on the side of the State. The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
7 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
8 indefinite. The former will be exercised principally on external objects, as war, peace, negotiation, and
9 foreign commerce; with which last the power of taxation will, for the most part, be connected. The powers
10 reserved to the several States will extend to all the objects which, in the ordinary course of affairs, concern
11 the lives, liberties, and properties of the people, and the internal order, improvement, and prosperity of the 12 State. The operations of the federal government will be most extensive and important in times of war and
13 danger; those of the State governments, in times of peace and security. As the former periods will probably
14 bear a small proportion to the latter, the State governments will here enjoy another advantage over the
15 federal government. The more adequate, indeed, the federal powers may be rendered to the national defense,
16 the less frequent will be those scenes of danger which might favor their ascendancy over the governments of
17 the particular States.""

18 [Federalist Paper No. 45 (Jan. 1788), James Madison]

19 The introduction of the Sixteenth Amendment did not change any of the above, because Subtitle A income taxes only apply
20 to persons domiciled within the federal United States, or federal zone, including persons temporarily abroad per 26 U.S.C.
21 §911. Even the Supreme Court agreed in the case of Stanton v. Baltic Mining that the Sixteenth Amendment "conferred no
22 new powers of taxation", and they wouldn't have said it and repeated it if they didn't mean it. Whether or not the Sixteenth
23 Amendment was properly ratified is inconsequential and a nullity, because of the limited applicability of Subtitle A of the 24 Internal Revenue Code primarily to persons domiciled in the federal zone no matter where resident. The Sixteenth
25 Amendment authorized that:

26 Sixteenth Amendment

27 The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without
28 apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

29 And in fact, the above described amendment is exactly what an income tax under Subtitle A that only operates against
30 persons domiciled within the federal zone does: collect taxes on incomes without apportionment. Furthermore, because the 31 federal zone is not protected by the Constitution or the Bill of Rights (see Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)), then
32 there can be no violation of constitutional rights from the enforcement of the I.R.C. there. As a matter of fact, since due
33 process of law is a requirement only of the Bill of Rights, and the Bill of Rights doesn't apply in the federal zone or abroad,
34 then technically, Congress doesn't even need a law to legitimately collect taxes in these areas! The federal zone, recall, is a 35 totalitarian socialist democracy, not a republic, and the legislature and the courts can do anything they like there without 36 violating the Bill of Rights or our Constitutional rights.

37 With all the above in mind, let's return to the original Supreme Court cites we referred to at the beginning of the section.
38 The Constitution and the Bill of Rights, which are the "laws" of the United States, apply equally to both the union states
39 AND the federal government, as the cites explain. That is why either state or federal officers both have to take an oath to
40 support and defend the Constitution before they take office. However, the statutes or legislation passed by Congress, which
41 are called "Acts of Congress" have much more limited jurisdiction inside the Union states, and in most cases, do not apply
42 at all. For example:

43 TITLE 18 > PART III > CHAPTER 301 > Sec. 4001.
44 Sec. 4001. - Limitation on detention; control of prisons

45 (a) No citizen shall be imprisoned or otherwise detained by the United States except pursuant to an Act of 46 Congress.

47 The reason for the above is because the federal government has no police powers inside the states because these are
48 reserved by the Tenth Amendment to the state governments. Likewise, the feds have no territorial jurisdiction for most
49 subject matters inside the states either. See U.S. v. Bevans, 16 U.S. 336 (1818).

50 Now if we look at the meaning of "Act of Congress", we find such a definition in Rule 54\(c\) of the Federal Rules of
51 Criminal Procedure prior to Dec. 2002, wherein is defined "Act of Congress." Rule 54(c) states:

2 "Act of Congress" includes any act of Congress locally applicable to and in force in the District of Columbia, in
3 Puerto Rico, in a territory or in an insular possession."

4 Keep in mind, the Internal Revenue Code is an "Act of Congress." The reason such "Acts of Congress" cannot apply
5 within the sovereign states is because the federal government lacks what is called "police powers" inside the union states,
6 and the Internal Revenue Code requires police powers to implement and enforce. THEREFORE, THE QUESTION IS, ON
7 WHICH OF THE FOUR LOCATIONS NAMED IN RULE 54(c) IS THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
8 ASSERTING JURISDICTION WHEN THE U.S. ATTORNEY HAULS YOUR ASS IN COURT ON AN INCOME TAX
9 CRIME? Hint, everyone knows what and where the District of Columbia is, and everyone knows where Puerto Rico is, and
10 territories and insular possessions are defined in Title 48 United States Code, happy hunting!

11 The preceding discussion within this section is also confirmed by the content of 4 U.S.C. §72. Subtitle A is primarily a 12 "privilege" tax upon a "trade or business". A "trade or business" is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\) as "the functions of 13 a public office":

14 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > § 7701
15 § 7701. Definitions

16 (a) Definitions

17 (26) Trade or business

18 "The term 'trade or business' includes the performance of the functions of a public office."

19 Title 4 of the U.S. Code then says that all "public offices" MUST exist ONLY in the District of Columbia and no place
20 else, except as expressly provided by law:

21 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > § 72
22 § 72. Public offices; at seat of Government

23 All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere,
24 except as otherwise expressly provided by law.

25 If the we then search all the titles of the U.S. Code electronically, we find only one instance where "public offices" are
26 "expressly provided" by law to a place other than the seat of government in connection with the Internal Revenue Code.
27 That reference is found in 48 U.S.C. §1612, which expressly provides that public offices for the U.S. Attorney are extended
28 to the Virgin Islands to enforce the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

29 Moving on, we find in 26 U.S.C. §7601 that the IRS has enforcement authority for the Internal Revenue Code only within
30 what is called "internal revenue districts". 26 U.S.C. §7621 authorizes the President to establish these districts. Under
31 Executive Order 10289, the President delegated the authority to define these districts to the Secretary of the Treasury in 32 1952. We then search the Treasury Department website for Treasury Orders documenting the establishment of these
33 internal revenue districts:

34 <http://www.ustreas.gov/regs/>

35 The only orders documenting the existence of "internal revenue districts" is Treasury Orders 150-01 and 150-02. Treasury
36 Order 150-01 established internal revenue districts that included federal land within states of the Union, but it was repealed
37 in 1998 as an aftermath of the IRS Restructuring and Reform Act and replaced with Treasury Order 150-02. Treasury
38 Order 150-02 used to say that all IRS administration must be conducted in the District of Columbia. Therefore, pursuant to
39 26 U.S.C. §7601, the IRS is only authorized to enforce the I.R.C. within the District of Columbia, which is the only
40 remaining internal revenue district. That treasury order was eventually repealed but there is still only one remaining
41 internal revenue district in the District of Columbia. This leads us full circle right back to our initial premise, which is:

42 1. The definition of the term "United States" found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d), which is 43 defined as the federal zone, means what it says and says what it means.

1 2. Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code may only be enforced within the only remaining internal revenue district,
2 which is the District of Columbia.
3 3. There is no provision of law which “expressly extends” the enforcement of the Internal Revenue Code to any land
4 under exclusive state jurisdiction.
5 4. The Separation of Powers Doctrine therefore does not allow anyone in a state of the Union to partake of the federal
6 “privilege” known as a “trade or business”, which is the main subject of tax under Subtitle A of the I.R.C. This must
7 be so because it involves a public office and all public offices must exist ONLY in the District of Columbia.
8 5. The only source of federal jurisdiction to tax is foreign commerce because the Constitution does not authorize any
9 other type of tax internal to a state of the Union other than a direct, apportioned tax. Since the I.R.C. Subtitle A tax is 10 not apportioned and since it is upon a privileged “trade or business” activity, then it is indirect and therefore need not 11 be apportioned.

12 Q.E.D.-Quod Erod Demonstrandum (proven beyond a shadow of a doubt)

13 We will now provide an all-inclusive list of subject matters for which the federal government definitely does have 14 jurisdiction within a state, and the Constitutional origin of that power. For all subjects of federal legislation other than 15 these, the states of the Union and the federal government are FOREIGN COUNTRIES and FOREIGN STATES with 16 respect to each other:

17 1. Foreign commerce pursuant to Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the United States Constitution. This jurisdiction is
18 described within 9 U.S.C. §1 et seq.
19 2. Counterfeiting pursuant to Article 1, Section 8, Clause 5 of the United States Constitution.
20 3. Postal matters pursuant to Article 1, Section 8, Clause 7 of the United States Constitution.
21 4. Treason pursuant to Article 4, Section 2, Clause 2 of the United States Constitution.
22 5. Federal contracts, franchises, and property pursuant to Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2 of the United States Constitution.
23 This includes federal employment, which is a type of contract or franchise, wherever conducted, including in a state of 24 the Union.

25 In relation to that last item above, which is federal contracts and franchises, Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code fits
26 into that category, because it is a franchise and not a “tax”, which relates primarily to federal employment and contracts.
27 The alleged “tax” in fact is a kickback scheme that can only lawfully affect federal contractors and employers, but not
28 private persons. Those who are party to this contract or franchise are called “effectively connected with a trade or
29 business”. Saying a person is “effectively connected” really means that they consented to the contract explicitly in writing
30 or implicitly by their conduct. To enforce the “trade or business” franchise as a contract in a place where the federal
31 government has no territorial jurisdiction requires informed, voluntary consent in some form from the party who is the
32 object of the enforcement of the contract. The courts call this kind of consent “comity”. To wit:

33 *“Judge Story, in his treatise on the Conflicts of Laws, lays down, as the basis upon which all reasonings on the
34 law of comity must necessarily rest, the following maxims: First 'that every nation possesses an exclusive
35 sovereignty and jurisdiction within its own territory'; secondly, 'that no state or nation can by its laws directly
36 affect or bind property out of its own territory, or bind persons not resident therein, whether they are natural
37 born subjects or others.' The learned judge then adds: 'From these two maxims or propositions there follows a
38 third, and that is that whatever force and obligation the laws of one country have in another depend solely upon
39 the laws and municipal regulation of the latter; that is to say, upon its own proper jurisdiction and polity, and
40 upon its own express or tacit consent.' Story on Conflict of Laws §23.”
41 [Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. v. Chambers, 73 Ohio.St. 16, 76 N.E. 91, 11 L.R.A., N.S., 1012 (1905)]*

42 When the federal government wishes to enforce one of its contracts or franchises in a place where it has no territorial
43 jurisdiction, such as in China, it would need to litigate in the courts in China just like a private person. However, if the
44 contract is within a state of the Union, the Separation of Powers Doctrine requires that all “federal questions”, including
45 federal contracts, which are “property” of the United States, must be litigated in a federal court. This requirement was
46 eloquently explained by the U.S. Supreme Court in Alden v. Maine, 527 U.S. 706 (1999). Consequently, even though the
47 federal government enjoys no territorial jurisdiction within a state of the Union for other than the above subject matters
48 explicitly authorized by the Constitution itself, it still has subject matter jurisdiction within federal court over federal
49 property, contracts and franchises, which are synonymous. Since the Internal Revenue Code is a federal contract or
50 franchise, then the federal courts have jurisdiction over this issue with persons who participate in the “trade or business”
51 franchise.

52 Finally, below is a very enlightening U.S. Supreme Court case that concisely explains the constitutional relationship

1 between the exclusive and plenary internal sovereignty of the states or the Union and the exclusive external sovereignty of
2 the federal government:

3 "It will contribute to the elucidation of the question if we first consider the differences between the powers of
4 the federal government in respect of foreign or external affairs and those in respect of domestic or internal
5 affairs. That there are differences between them, and that these differences are fundamental, may not be
6 doubted.

7 The two classes of powers are different, both in respect of their origin and their nature. The broad statement
8 that the federal government can exercise no powers except [299 U.S. 304, 316] those specifically
9 enumerated in the Constitution, and such implied powers as are necessary and proper to carry into effect the
10 enumerated powers, is categorically true only in respect of our internal affairs. In that field, the primary
11 purpose of the Constitution was to carve from the general mass of legislative powers then possessed by the
12 states such portions as it was thought desirable to vest in the federal government, leaving those not included
13 in the enumeration still in the states. Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 294, 56 S.Ct. 855, 865. That
14 this doctrine applies only to powers which the states had is self-evident. And since the states severally never
15 possessed international powers, such powers could not have been carved from the mass of state powers but
16 obviously were transmitted to the United States from some other source. During the Colonial period, those
17 powers were possessed exclusively by and were entirely under the control of the Crown. By the Declaration of
18 Independence, 'the Representatives of the United States of America' declared the United (not the several)
19 Colonies to be free and independent states, and as such to have 'full Power to levy War, conclude Peace,
20 contract Alliances, establish Commerce and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of
21 right do.'

22 As a result of the separation from Great Britain by the colonies, acting as a unit, the powers of external
23 sovereignty passed from the Crown not to the colonies severally, but to the colonies in their collective and
24 corporate capacity as the United States of America. Even before the Declaration, the colonies were a unit in
25 foreign affairs, acting through a common agency—namely, the Continental Congress, composed of delegates
26 from the thirteen colonies. That agency exercised the powers of war and peace, raised an army, created a
27 navy, and finally adopted the Declaration of Independence. Rulers come and go; governments end and forms of
28 government change; but sovereignty survives. A political society cannot endure [299 U.S. 304, 317] without a
29 supreme will somewhere. Sovereignty is never held in suspense. When, therefore, the external sovereignty of
30 Great Britain in respect of the colonies ceased, it immediately passed to the Union. See Penhallow v. Doane, 3
31 Dall. 54, 80, 81, Fed.Cas. No. 10925. That fact was given practical application almost at once. The treaty of
32 peace, made on September 3, 1783, was concluded between his Britannic Majesty and the 'United States of 33 America.' 8 Stat., European Treaties, 80.

34 The Union existed before the Constitution, which was ordained and established among other things to form 'a
35 more perfect Union.' Prior to that event, it is clear that the Union, declared by the Articles of Confederation to
36 be 'perpetual,' was the sole possessor of external sovereignty, and in the Union it remained without change
37 save in so far as the Constitution in express terms qualified its exercise. The Framers' Convention was called
38 and exerted its powers upon the irrefutable postulate that though the states were several their people in
39 respect of foreign affairs were one. Compare The Chinese Exclusion Case, 130 U.S. 581, 604, 606 S., 9 S.Ct.
40 623. In that convention, the entire absence of state power to deal with those affairs was thus forcefully stated by
41 Rufus King:

42 'The states were not 'sovereigns' in the sense contended for by some. They did not possess the
43 peculiar features of [external] sovereignty—they could not make war, nor peace, nor alliances,
44 nor treaties. Considering them as political beings, they were dumb, for they could not speak to 45 any foreign sovereign whatever. They were deaf, for they could not hear any propositions from 46 such sovereign. They had not even the organs or faculties of defence or offence, for they could 47 not of themselves raise troops, or equip vessels, for war.' 5 Elliot's Debates, 212.1 [299 U.S.
48 304, 318] It results that the investment of the federal government with the powers of external
49 sovereignty did not depend upon the affirmative grants of the Constitution. The powers to 50 declare and wage war, to conclude peace, to make treaties, to maintain diplomatic relations
51 with other sovereignties, if they had never been mentioned in the Constitution, would have 52 vested in the federal government as necessary concomitants of nationality. Neither the 53 Constitution nor the laws passed in pursuance of it have any force in foreign territory unless in 54 respect of our own citizens (see American Banana Co. v. United Fruit Co., 213 U.S. 347, 356, 55 29 S.Ct. 511, 16 Ann.Cas. 1047); and operations of the nation in such territory must be 56 governed by treaties, international understandings and compacts, and the principles of 57 international law. As a member of the family of nations, the right and power of the United 58 States in that field are equal to the right and power of the other members of the international 59 family. Otherwise, the United States is not completely sovereign. The power to acquire 60 territory by discovery and occupation (Jones v. United States, 137 U.S. 202, 212, 11 S.Ct.
61 80), the power to expel undesirable aliens (Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698, 705
62 et seq., 13 S.Ct. 1016), the power to make such international agreements as do not constitute 63 treaties in the constitutional sense (Altman & Co. v. United States, 224 U.S. 583, 600, 601 S., 64 32 S.Ct. 593; Crandall, Treaties, Their Making and Enforcement (2d Ed.) p. 102 and note 1),
65 none of which is expressly affirmed by the Constitution, nevertheless exist as inherently

1 inseparable from the conception of nationality. This the court recognized, and in each of the 2 cases cited found the warrant for its conclusions not in the provisions of the Constitution, but 3 in the law of nations.

4 In Burnet v. Brooks, 288 U.S. 378, 396, 53 S.Ct. 457, 461, 86 A.L.R. 747, we said, 'As a nation with all the
5 attributes of sovereignty, the United States is vested with all the powers of government necessary to maintain an
6 effective control of international relations.' Cf. Carter v. Carter Coal Co., supra, 298 U.S. 238, at page 295, 56
7 S.Ct. 855, 865. [299 U.S. 304, 319] Not only, as we have shown, is the federal power over external affairs in 8 origin and essential character different from that over internal affairs, but participation in the exercise of the 9 power is significantly limited. In this vast external realm, with its important, complicated, delicate and 10 manifold problems, the President alone has the power to speak or listen as a representative of the nation. He
11 makes treaties with the advice and consent of the Senate; but he alone negotiates. Into the field of negotiation
12 the Senate cannot intrude; and Congress itself is powerless to invade it. As Marshall said in his great argument
13 of March 7, 1800, in the House of Representatives, 'The President is the sole organ of the nation in its 14 external relations, and its sole representative with foreign nations.' Annals, 6th Cong., col. 613. The Senate
15 Committee on Foreign Relations at a very early day in our history (February 15, 1816), reported to the Senate,
16 among other things, as follows:

17 'The President is the constitutional representative of the United States with regard to foreign 18 nations. He manages our concerns with foreign nations and must necessarily be most 19 competent to determine when, how, and upon what subjects negotiation may be urged with 20 the greatest prospect of success. For his conduct he is responsible to the Constitution. The 21 committee considers this responsibility the surest pledge for the faithful discharge of his duty.
22 They think the interference of the Senate in the direction of foreign negotiations calculated to 23 diminish that responsibility and thereby to impair the best security for the national safety. The 24 nature of transactions with foreign nations, moreover, requires caution and unity of design,
25 and their success frequently depends on secrecy and dispatch.' 8 U.S.Sen.Reports Comm. on 26 Foreign Relations, p. 24.

27 It is important to bear in mind that we are here dealing not alone with an authority vested in the President by
28 an [299 U.S. 304, 320] exertion of legislative power, but with such an authority plus the very delicate, plenary
29 and exclusive power of the President as the sole organ of the federal government in the field of international
30 relations-a power which does not require as a basis for its exercise an act of Congress, but which, of course,
31 like every other governmental power, must be exercised in subordination to the applicable provisions of the 32 Constitution. It is quite apparent that if, in the maintenance of our international relations, embarrassment-
33 perhaps serious embarrassment-is to be avoided and success for our aims achieved, congressional legislation
34 which is to be made effective through negotiation and inquiry within the international field must often accord to 35 the President a degree of discretion and freedom from statutory restriction which would not be admissible were 36 domestic affairs alone involved. Moreover, he, not Congress, has the better opportunity of knowing the 37 conditions which prevail in foreign countries, and especially is this true in time of war. He has his confidential
38 sources of information. He has his agents in the form of diplomatic, consular and other officials. Secrecy in 39 respect of information gathered by them may be highly necessary, and the premature disclosure of it productive
40 of harmful results. Indeed, so clearly is this true that the first President refused to accede to a request to lay
41 before the House of Representatives the instructions, correspondence and documents relating to the negotiation
42 of the Jay Treaty-a refusal the wisdom of which was recognized by the House itself and has never since been 43 doubted. In his reply to the request, President Washington said:

44 'The nature of foreign negotiations requires caution, and their success must often depend on 45 secrecy; and even when brought to a conclusion a full disclosure of all the measures, demands, 46 or eventual concessions which may have been proposed or contemplated would be extremely 47 [299 U.S. 304, 321] impolitic; for this might have a pernicious influence on future
48 negotiations, or produce immediate inconveniences, perhaps danger and mischief, in relation
49 to other powers. The necessity of such caution and secrecy was one cogent reason for vesting
50 the power of making treaties in the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, the
51 principle on which that body was formed confining it to a small number of members. To admit,
52 then, a right in the House of Representatives to demand and to have as a matter of course all
53 the papers respecting a negotiation with a foreign power would be to establish a dangerous
54 precedent.' 1 Messages and Papers of the Presidents, p. 194.

55 The marked difference between foreign affairs and domestic affairs in this respect is recognized by both
56 houses of Congress in the very form of their requisitions for information from the executive departments. In
57 the case of every department except the Department of State, the resolution directs the official to furnish the
58 information. In the case of the State Department, dealing with foreign affairs, the President is requested to
59 furnish the information 'if not incompatible with the public interest.' A statement that to furnish the information
60 is not compatible with the public interest rarely, if ever, is questioned. "
61 [United States v. Curtiss-Wright Export Corporation, 299 U.S. 304 (1936)]

62 If you would like to learn more about the relationship between federal and state sovereignty exercised within states of the 63 Union, we recommend an excellent, short, succinct book on the subject as follows:

9 Two Taxing Jurisdictions under the I.R.C.: “National” v. “Federal”

2 This chapter concerns itself with the authority of the federal government to enforce the payment of taxes within the two
3 main jurisdictions created by the separation of powers doctrine. It is a fact that the United States Congress legislates for 4 two separate legal and political and territorial jurisdictions:

5 1. The states of the Union under the requirements of the Constitution of the United States. In this capacity, it is called the 6 “federal/general government”.
7 2. The District of Columbia, U.S. possessions and territories, and enclaves within the states. In this capacity, it is called
8 the “national government”. The authority for this jurisdiction derives from Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the 9 United States Constitution. All laws passed essentially amount to municipal laws for federal property, and in that 10 capacity, Congress is not restrained by either the Constitution or the Bill of Rights. We call the collection of all federal 11 territories, possessions, and enclaves within the states “the federal zone” throughout this document.

12 The U.S. Supreme Court confirmed the above when it said:

13 *“It is clear that Congress, as a legislative body, exercise two species of legislative power: the one, limited as to
14 its objects, but extending all over the Union: the other, an absolute, exclusive legislative power over the District
15 of Columbia. The preliminary inquiry in the case now before the Court, is, by virtue of which of these 16 authorities was the law in question passed?”*
17 [Cohens v. Virginia, 19 U.S. 264, 6 Wheat. 265; 5 L.Ed. 257 (1821)]

18 James Madison, one of our founding fathers, described these two separate jurisdictions in Federalist Paper No. 39, when he 19 said:

20 First. In order to ascertain the real character of the government, it may be considered in relation to the 21 foundation on which it is to be established; to the sources from which its ordinary powers are to be drawn; to 22 the operation of those powers; to the extent of them; and to the authority by which future changes in the 23 government are to be introduced.

24 *On examining the first relation, it appears, on one hand, that the Constitution is to be founded on the assent and
25 ratification of the people of America, given by deputies elected for the special purpose; but, on the other, that
26 this assent and ratification is to be given by the people, not as individuals composing one entire nation, but as 27 composing the distinct and independent States to which they respectively belong. It is to be the assent and 28 ratification of the several States, derived from the supreme authority in each State, the authority of the people
29 themselves. The act, therefore, establishing the Constitution, will not be a NATIONAL, but a FEDERAL act.*

30 *That it will be a federal and not a national act, as these terms are understood by the objectors; the act of the 31 people, as forming so many independent States, not as forming one aggregate nation, is obvious from this 32 single consideration, that it is to result neither from the decision of a MAJORITY of the people of the Union,
33 nor from that of a MAJORITY of the States. It must result from the UNANIMOUS assent of the several States
34 that are parties to it, differing no otherwise from their ordinary assent than in its being expressed, not by the 35 legislative authority, but by that of the people themselves. Were the people regarded in this transaction as 36 forming one nation, the will of the majority of the whole people of the United States would bind the minority, in 37 the same manner as the majority in each State must bind the minority; and the will of the majority must be 38 determined either by a comparison of the individual votes, or by considering the will of the majority of the 39 States as evidence of the will of a majority of the people of the United States. Neither of these rules have been 40 adopted. Each State, in ratifying the Constitution, is considered as a sovereign body, independent of all others,
41 and only to be bound by its own voluntary act. In this relation, then, the new Constitution will, if established, be 42 a FEDERAL, and not a NATIONAL constitution.*

43 *The next relation is, to the sources from which the ordinary powers of government are to be derived. The 44 House of Representatives will derive its powers from the people of America; and the people will be 45 represented in the same proportion, and on the same principle, as they are in the legislature of a particular 46 State. So far the government is NATIONAL, not FEDERAL. The Senate, on the other hand, will derive its 47 powers from the States, as political and coequal societies; and these will be represented on the principle of 48 equality in the Senate, as they now are in the existing Congress. So far the government is FEDERAL, not 49 NATIONAL. The executive power will be derived from a very compound source. The immediate election of the 50 President is to be made by the States in their political characters. The votes allotted to them are in a compound
51 ratio, which considers them partly as distinct and coequal societies, partly as unequal members of the same 52 society. The eventual election, again, is to be made by that branch of the legislature which consists of the* national representatives; but in this particular act they are to be thrown into the form of individual delegations, from so many distinct and coequal bodies politic. From this aspect of the government it appears to be of a mixed character, presenting at least as many FEDERAL as NATIONAL features.

The difference between a federal and national government, as it relates to the OPERATION OF THE GOVERNMENT, is supposed to consist in this, that in the former the powers operate on the political bodies composing the Confederacy, in their political capacities; in the latter, on the individual citizens composing the nation, in their individual capacities. On trying the Constitution by this criterion, it falls under the NATIONAL, not the FEDERAL character; though perhaps not so completely as has been understood. In several cases, and particularly in the trial of controversies to which States may be parties, they must be viewed and proceeded against in their collective and political capacities only. So far the national countenance of the government on this side seems to be disfigured by a few federal features. But this blemish is perhaps unavoidable in any plan; and the operation of the government on the people, in their individual capacities, in its ordinary and most essential proceedings, may, on the whole, designate it, in this relation, a NATIONAL government.

But if the government be national with regard to the OPERATION of its powers, it changes its aspect again when we contemplate it in relation to the EXTENT of its powers. The idea of a national government involves in it, not only an authority over the individual citizens, but an indefinite supremacy over all persons and things, so far as they are objects of lawful government. Among a people consolidated into one nation, this supremacy is completely vested in the national legislature. Among communities united for particular purposes, it is vested partly in the general and partly in the municipal legislatures. In the former case, all local authorities are subordinate to the supreme; and may be controlled, directed, or abolished by it at pleasure. In the latter, the local or municipal authorities form distinct and independent portions of the supremacy, no more subject, within their respective spheres, to the general authority, than the general authority is subject to them, within its own sphere. In this relation, then, the proposed government cannot be deemed a NATIONAL one; since its jurisdiction extends to certain enumerated objects only, and leaves to the several States a residuary and inviolable sovereignty over all other objects. It is true that in controversies relating to the boundary between the two jurisdictions, the tribunal which is ultimately to decide, is to be established under the general government. But this does not change the principle of the case. The decision is to be impartially made, according to the rules of the Constitution; and all the usual and most effectual precautions are taken to secure this impartiality. Some such tribunal is clearly essential to prevent an appeal to the sword and a dissolution of the compact; and that it ought to be established under the general rather than under the local governments, or, to speak more properly, that it could be safely established under the first alone, is a position not likely to be combated.

If we try the Constitution by its last relation to the authority by which amendments are to be made, we find it neither wholly NATIONAL nor wholly FEDERAL. Were it wholly national, the supreme and ultimate authority would reside in the MAJORITY of the people of the Union; and this authority would be competent at all times, like that of a majority of every national society, to alter or abolish its established government. Were it wholly federal, on the other hand, the concurrence of each State in the Union would be essential to every alteration that would be binding on all. The mode provided by the plan of the convention is not founded on either of these principles. In requiring more than a majority, and principles. In requiring more than a majority, and particularly in computing the proportion by STATES, not by CITIZENS, it departs from the NATIONAL and advances towards the FEDERAL character; in rendering the concurrence of less than the whole number of States sufficient, it loses again the FEDERAL and partakes of the NATIONAL character.

46
48
The proposed Constitution, therefore, is, in strictness, neither a national nor a federal Constitution, but a composition of both. In its foundation it is federal, not national; in the sources from which the ordinary powers of the government are drawn, it is partly federal and partly national; in the operation of these powers, it is national, not federal; in the extent of them, again, it is federal, not national; and, finally, in the authoritative mode of introducing amendments, it is neither wholly federal nor wholly national.

52
Based on Madison's comments, a "national government" operates upon and derives its authority from individual citizens whereas a "federal government" operates upon and derives its authority from states. The only place where the central government may operate directly upon the individual through the authority of law is within federal territory. Hence, when courts use the word "national government", they are referring to federal territory only and to no part of any state of the Union. The federal government has no jurisdiction within a state of the Union and therefore cannot operate directly upon the individual there.

Carter v. Carter Coal Co., [298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]

2 The rights of life and personal liberty are natural rights of man. ‘To secure these rights,’ says the Declaration
 3 of Independence, ‘governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the 4 governed.’ The very highest duty of the States, when they entered into the Union under the Constitution, was
 5 to protect all persons within their boundaries in the enjoyment of these ‘unalienable rights with which they
 6 were endowed by their Creator.’ Sovereignty, for this purpose, rests alone with the States. It is no more the 7 duty or within the power of the United States to punish for a conspiracy *554 to falsely imprison or murder
 8 within a State, than it would be to punish for false imprisonment or murder itself.

9 The fourteenth amendment prohibits a State from denying to any person within its jurisdiction the equal
 10 protection of the laws; but this provision does not, any more than the one which precedes it, and which we have 11 just considered, add any thing *555 to the rights which one citizen has under the Constitution against another.
 12 The equality of the rights of citizens is a principle of republicanism. Every republican government is in duty
 13 bound to protect all its citizens in the enjoyment of this principle, if within its power. That duty was originally 14 assumed by the States; and it still remains there. The only obligation resting upon the United States is to see 15 that the States do not deny the right. This the amendment guarantees, but no more. The power of the 16 national government is limited to the enforcement of this guaranty.

17 [U.S. v. Cruikshank, 92 U.S. 542, 1875 WL 17550 (U.S., 1875)]

18 These two political/legal jurisdictions, federal territory v. states of the Union, are separate sovereignties, and the 19 Constitution dictates that these two distinct sovereignties MUST remain separate because of the Separation of Powers
 20 Doctrine:

21 “§79. This sovereignty pertains to the people of the United States as national citizens only, and not as citizens
 22 of any other government. There cannot be two separate and independent sovereignties within the same limits or
 23 jurisdiction; nor can there be two distinct and separate sources of sovereign authority within the same
 24 jurisdiction. The right of commanding in the last resort can be possessed only by one body of people inhabiting
 25 the same territory,’ and can be executed only by those intrusted with the execution of such authority.”
 26 [Treatise on Government, Joel Tiffany, p. 49, Section 78;
 27 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/Publications/TreatiseOnGovernment/TreatOnGovt.pdf>]

28 The vast majority of all laws passed by Congress apply to the latter jurisdiction above: the federal zone. The Internal 29 Revenue Code actually describes the revenue collection “scheme” for these two completely separate political and legal 30 jurisdictions and the table below compares the two. In the capacity as the “national government”, the I.R.C. in Subtitles A
 31 (income tax), B (inheritance tax), and C (employment tax) acts as the equivalent of a state income tax for the municipal 32 government of the District of Columbia only. In the capacity of the “federal government”, the I.R.C. in subtitle D acts as 33 an excise tax on imports only. The difference between the “national government” and the “federal/general government” is 34 discussed in section 4.7 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, if you would like to review:

#	Description	Legislative jurisdiction
		“National government” of the District of Columbia	“Federal government” of the states of the Union
1	Constitutional authority for revenue collection	Article 1, Section 8 , Clause 1 Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17	Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3
2	Type of jurisdiction exercised	Plenary Exclusive	Subject matter
3	Nature of tax	Indirect excise tax upon privileges of federal employment (“public office”)	Indirect excise tax on imports only Excludes exports from states (Constitution 1:9:5) Excludes commerce exclusively within states
4	Taxable objects	Internal to the Federal zone	External to the states of the Union
5	Region to which collections apply	Federal zone ONLY : District of Columbia, territories and possessions of the United States	The 50 states, harbors, ports of entry for imports
6	Revenue Collection Agency	Internal Revenue Service (IRS)	U.S. Customs (Dept. of the Treasury)
7	Authority for collection within the Internal Revenue Code	Subtitle A: Income Taxes Subtitle B: Estate and Gift taxes Subtitle C: Employment taxes Subtitle E: Alcohol, Tobacco, and Certain Other Excise Taxes	Subtitle D: Miscellaneous Excise Taxes
8	Revenue collection applies to	1. Federal “employees”, or those engaged in a “public office”. 2. Statutory “U.S. citizens” under 8 U.S.C. §1401 living abroad in receipt of federal payments.	Federal corporations involved in foreign commerce
9	Taxable “activities”	1. “trade or business”, which is defined as “the functions of a public office” in 26 U.S.C. §7701 (a)(26), conducted within the “United States” which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701 (a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) as federal territory not within any state of the Union. 2. Transfer of property from people who died in the federal zone to their heirs (I.R.C. Subtitle B).	Foreign Commerce under 26 U.S.C. §7001 .
10	Revenues pay for	Socialism/communism	Protection of states of the Union, including military, courts, and jails.
11	Revenue collection functions like	Municipal/state government income tax	Federal tax on foreign commerce
12	Definition of the term “United States” found in	1. 26 U.S.C. §7701 (a)(9) and (a)(10) 2. 26 U.S.C. §3121 (e)	26 U.S.C. §4612
13	Example “taxes”	1. W-4 withholding on federal “employees” 2. Estate taxes 3. Social security 4. Medicare 5. Alcohol, tobacco, and firearms under U.S.C. Title 27	Taxes on imported fuels
14	Applicable tax forms	Forms 941, 1040, 1040NR, 1120, W-2, W-4	Form CF 6084 (customs bill)

1 The “plenary” jurisdiction described above means exclusive sovereignty which is not shared by any other sovereignty and
2 which is exercised over territorial lands owned by or ceded to the federal government under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17
3 of the Constitution. Here is a cite that helps confirm what we are saying about the “plenary” word above:

17 Why is such jurisdiction “plenary” or “exclusive”? Because all those who file IRS Form 1040 returns implicitly consent to 18 be treated as “virtual residents” of the District of Columbia, over which Congress has exclusive legislative jurisdiction
19 under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the Constitution!:

20 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701.
21 Sec. 7701. – Definitions

22 (a)(39) Persons residing outside [the federal] United States

23 If any citizen or resident of the United States does not reside in (and is not found in) any United States judicial
24 district, such citizen or resident shall be treated as residing in the District of Columbia for purposes of any
25 provision of this title relating to -

26 (A) jurisdiction of courts, or
27 (B) enforcement of summons.

28 Because kidnapping is illegal under 18 U.S.C. §1201, people living in states of the Union subject to the provisions above
29 must be volunteers and must explicitly consent to participate in federal taxation by filling out the WRONG tax form, which
30 is the 1040, and signing it under penalty of perjury. The IRS Published Products Catalog for 2003, Document 7130
31 confirms that those who file IRS Form 1040 do indeed declare themselves to be “citizens or residents of the [federal]
32 United States”, which is untrue for the vast majority of Americans:

39 It is also worth noting that the term “individual” as used above is NOWHERE defined in the Internal Revenue Code and 40 that the ONLY definition we have found describes ONLY federal “employees”, in 5 U.S.C. §552a(a)(2). This is further
41 exhaustively analyzed in the fascinating memorandum of law below to conclude that the main “taxpayers” under Internal 42 Revenue Code, Subtitle A are all “public officers” who work for or are instrumentalities of the national and not federal
43 government:

Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a “Public Officer” for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

44 If American Nationals domiciled in the states of the Union would learn to file with their correct status using the form
45 1040NR as “nationals” and “nonresident aliens”, then most Americans wouldn’t owe anything under the provisions of 26
46 U.S.C. §871! The U.S. Congress and their IRS henchmen have become “sheep poachers”, where you, a person living in 47 state of the Union and outside of federal legislative jurisdiction, are the “sheep”. They are “legally kidnapping” people

1 away from the Constitutional protections of their domicile within states using deceptive forms so that they volunteer into
2 exclusive federal jurisdiction.

3 Notice the use of the term “nation-wide” in the Lyeth case above, which we now know means the “national government” in
4 the context of its jurisdiction over federal territories, possessions, and the District of Columbia and which excludes states of
5 the Union. They are just reiterating that federal jurisdiction over the federal zone is “exclusive” and “plenary” and that
6 state law only applies where Congress consents to delegate authority, under the rules of “comity”, to the state relating to 7 taxing matters over federal areas within the exterior limits of a state.

8 “comity. Courtesy; complaisance; respect; a willingness to grant a privilege, not as a matter of right, but out
9 of deference and good will. Recognition that one sovereignty allows within its territory to the legislative,
10 executive, or judicial act of another sovereignty, having due regard to rights of its own citizens. *Nowell v.
11 Nowell*, Tex.Civ.App., 408 S.W.2d. 550, 553. In general, principle of "comity" is that courts of one state or
12 jurisdiction will give effect to laws and judicial decisions of another state or jurisdiction, not as a matter of
13 obligation, but out of deference and mutual respect. Brown v. Babbitt Ford, Inc., 117 Ariz. 192, 571 P.2d. 689,
14 695. See also Full faith and credit clause.”
15 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 267]

16 An example of this kind of “comity” is the Buck Act, 4 U.S.C. §§110-113, in which 4 U.S.C. §106 delegates authority to
17 federal territories and possessions, but not states of the Union, to tax areas within their boundaries subject to exclusive
18 federal jurisdiction. That jurisdiction then is mentioned in the context of 5 U.S.C. §5517 as applying ONLY to federal 19 “employees”.

20 The above table is confirmed by the Supreme Court in the case of Downes v. Bidwell, which said on the subjects covered by 21 the table:

22 “Loughborough v. Blake, 5 Wheat. 317, 5 L.Ed. 98, was an action of trespass or, as appears by the original
23 record, replevin, brought in the circuit court for the District of Columbia to try the right of Congress to impose
24 a direct tax for general purposes on that District. 3 Stat. at L. 216, chap. 60. It was insisted that Congress
25 could act in a double capacity: in one as legislating [182 U.S. 244, 260] for the states; in the other as a local 26 legislature for the District of Columbia. In the latter character, it was admitted that the power of levying direct
27 taxes might be exercised, but for District purposes only, as a state legislature might tax for state purposes; but 28 that it could not legislate for the District under art. I, 8, giving to Congress the power 'to lay and collect taxes,
29 imposts, and excises,' which 'shall be uniform throughout the United States,' inasmuch as the District was no
30 part of the United States [described in the Constitution]. It was held that the grant of this power was a general
31 one without limitation as to place, and consequently extended to all places over which the government extends;
32 and that it extended to the District of Columbia as a constituent part of the United States. The fact that art. I, 2, 33 declares that 'representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states . . . according to 34 their respective numbers' furnished a standard by which taxes were apportioned, but not to exempt any part of 35 the country from their operation. The words used do not mean that direct taxes shall be imposed on states only 36 which are represented, or shall be apportioned to representatives; but that direct taxation, in its application to 37 states, shall be apportioned to numbers.' That art. I, 9, 4, declaring that direct taxes shall be laid in proportion
38 to the census, was applicable to the District of Columbia, 'and will enable Congress to apportion on it its just 39 and equal share of the burden, with the same accuracy as on the respective states. If the tax be laid in this 40 proportion, it is within the very words of the restriction. It is a tax in proportion to the census or enumeration
41 referred to.' It was further held that the words of the 9th section did not 'in terms require that the system of 42 direct taxation, when resorted to, shall be extended to the territories, as the words of the 2d section require that 43 it shall be extended to all the states. They therefore may, without violence, be understood to give a rule when 44 the territories shall be taxed, without imposing the necessity of taxing them.'”

45 “There could be no doubt as to the correctness of this conclusion, so far, at least, as it applied to the District
46 of Columbia. This District had been a part of the states of Maryland and [182 U.S. 244, 261] Virginia. It had 47 been subject to the Constitution, and was a part of the United States[]. The Constitution had attached to it
48 irrevocably. There are steps which can never be taken backward. The 49 tie that bound the states of Maryland and Virginia to the Constitution could not be dissolved, without at least 50 the consent of the Federal and state governments to a formal separation. The mere cession of the District of 51 Columbia to the Federal government relinquished the authority of the states, but it did not take it out of the 52 United States or from under the aegis of the Constitution. Neither party had ever consented to that 53 construction of the cession. If, before the District was set off, Congress had passed an unconstitutional act
54 affecting its inhabitants, it would have been void. If done after the District was created, it would have been
55 equally void; in other words, Congress could not do indirectly, by carving out the District, what it could not do
56 directly. The District still remained a part of the United States, protected by the Constitution. Indeed, it would 57 have been a fanciful construction to hold that territory which had been once a part of the United States ceased
58 to be such by being ceded directly to the Federal government.”

59 [...]

1 "Indeed, the practical interpretation put by Congress upon the Constitution has been long continued and
2 uniform to the effect [182 U.S. 244, 279] that the Constitution is applicable to territories acquired by purchase
3 or conquest, only when and so far as Congress shall so direct. Notwithstanding its duty to 'guarantee to every
4 state in this Union a republican form of government' (art. 4, 4), by which we understand, according to the
5 definition of Webster, 'a government in which the supreme power resides in the whole body of the people, and is
6 exercised by representatives elected by them,' Congress did not hesitate, in the original organization of the 7 territories of Louisiana, Florida, the Northwest Territory, and its subdivisions of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan,
8 Illinois, and Wisconsin and still more recently in the case of Alaska, to establish a form of government bearing
9 a much greater analogy to a British Crown colony than a republican state of America, and to vest the 10 legislative power either in a governor and council, or a governor and judges, to be appointed by the President.
11 It was not until they had attained a certain population that power was given them to organize a legislature by 12 vote of the people. In all these cases, as well as in territories subsequently organized west of the Mississippi,
13 Congress thought it necessary either to extend to Constitution and laws of the United States over them, or to 14 declare that the inhabitants should be entitled to enjoy the right of trial by jury, of bail, and of the privilege of 15 the writ of habeas corpus, as well as other privileges of the bill of rights."

17 10 Why all people domiciled in states of the Union are “nonresident aliens” under 18 Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A

19 As is explained in later in section 12, people born anywhere in America and domiciled or resident within states of the 20 Union are all of the following:

21 1. Statutory status under federal law:

- 22 1.1. "nationals" or "state nationals" under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21).
- 23 1.2. "non-citizen nationals" under 8 U.S.C. §1452.
- 24 1.3. Not statutory "citizens of the United States" under 8 U.S.C. §1401.
- 25 1.4. NOT "nationals of the United States" under either 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22) or 8 U.S.C. §1408.
- 26 1.5. "aliens" relative to the legislative/statutory jurisdiction of the national and not federal government under Titles 4,
27 5, 26, 42, and 50 of the United States Code. Statutory but not Constitutional alienage is a result of the separation
28 of powers between the state and federal governments.

29 2. Constitutional status:

- 30 2.1. "citizens of the United States" per the Fourteenth Amendment.
- 31 2.2. Not "aliens"

32 You can also find details on the above in the following pamphlet in our website:

Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

33 For tax purposes, "non-citizen nationals" domiciled in states of the Union are classified as "nonresident aliens" as defined
34 in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(B\).

35 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(B\) Nonresident alien

36 An individual is a nonresident alien if such individual is neither a citizen of the [federal] United States nor a 37 resident of the [federal] United States (within the meaning of subparagraph (A)).

38 The statutory term "United States" as used above means the following:

39 [TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701. \[Internal Revenue Code\]](#)
40 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

41 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
42 thereof—

43 (9) United States

44 The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of 45 Columbia.

1 (10) State

2 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
3 carry out provisions of this title.

4 A "nonresident alien" is "nonresident" to the statutory "United States" as defined in the Internal Revenue Code at 26
5 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10), which simply means that they do not maintain a domicile in the District of Columbia or any
6 federal territory. We call this area the "federal United States", the "United States", or simply the "federal zone" for
7 short, in this book. Some payroll people and accountants will try to tell you that it is nonsense to expect that the words
8 mean what they say in the Internal Revenue Code, but you can see that there is no way to interpret the definition of "United 9 States" any way other than federal territory for the purposes of Subtitle A federal income taxes. The reason why this also 10 must be the case is that the Constitution and federal law both confine all persons holding public office to reside in the 11 District of Columbia:

12 U.S. Constitution, Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17

13 To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square)
14 as may, by Cession of Particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of
15 the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of
16 the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards and other
17 needful Buildings;--And 18

19 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > Sec. 72.
20 Sec. 72. - Public offices: at seat of Government

21 All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not
22 elsewhere, except as otherwise expressly provided by law

23 A "nonresident alien" who does not hold a public office in the United States government is not responsible for income tax
24 withholding under Subtitle C of the Internal Revenue Code or for federal income taxes under Subtitle A of the Internal
25 Revenue Code. People or entities not holding public office also cannot be levied upon under 26 U.S.C. §6331(a). Those in 26 the IRS who argue with this perspective are violating the following rules of statutory construction and must produce the 27 statute that EXPRESSLY INCLUDES what they want to include within 26 U.S.C. §6331(a):

28 "It is apparent that a constitutional prohibition cannot be transgressed indirectly by the creation of a statutory
29 presumption any more than it can be violated by direct enactment. The power to create presumptions is not a
30 means of escape from constitutional restrictions."
31 [Bailey v. Alabama, 219 U.S. 219 (1911)]

32 "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
33 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
34 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
35 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
36 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
37 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."
38 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

39 "When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that
40 term's ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) ("It is axiomatic that the statutory
41 definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term"); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n.
42 10 ("As a rule, 'a definition which declares what a term 'means'... excludes any meaning that is not stated'");

45 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at
46 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include
47 the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the
48 contrary."
49 [Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000)]

50 Those who refuse to produce legal evidence that the statutes expressly include in 26 U.S.C. §6331(a) what they want to 51 include are:

52 1. Violating the constitutional requirement for reasonable notice. See:

Requirement for Reasonable Notice, Form #05.022
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

1 2. Abusing statutory presumptions to injure constitutional rights, which the U.S. Supreme Court held is a tort. See:
Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

2 (1) [8:4993] Conclusive presumptions affecting protected interests:

3 A conclusive presumption [that a "code" is in fact a "law", for instance] may be defeated where its
4 application would impair a party's constitutionally-protected liberty or property interests. In such cases,

9 To verify the conclusions of this section, we investigated a prominent payroll compliance education book and found the 10 following comments in the book about "nonresident alien" tax withholding:

11 "In general, if an employer pays wages to nonresident aliens, it must withhold income tax (unless excepted
12 by regulations), Social Security, and Medicare taxes as it would for a U.S. citizen. A Form W-2 must be 13 delivered to the nonresident alien and filed with the Social Security Administration. Nonresident aliens' wages
14 are subject to FUTA tax as well."
15 [2002 Quick Reference Guide to Payroll Compliance, Payroll Technical Support Services, Panel Publishers, a
16 Division of Aspen Publishers, Inc, p. IV-54. Available at: <http://panelpublishers.com/>]

17 The above is true, but very misleading. The above advice says "unless excepted by regulations", and doesn't mention what 18 those regulations might be. It also uses the term "must be delivered and filed". That is true for a public employer, but not a
19 private employer, and it still does not obligate a private employee to do anything. The facts below clarify the comments
20 above and the applicable regulations so that their meaning is crystal clear to the reader:

21 1. There are several regulations that DO exempt income of nonresident aliens. Most of these are documented later in 22 section 19.6 and following. All income not "effectively connected with a trade or business in the United States" or 23 earned from labor outside the District of Columbia or federal United States is exempt from inclusion as "gross income"
24 by regulation and exempt from withholding, but of course the above book conveniently didn't mention that:

25 26 CFR §31.3401(a)(6)-1 Remuneration for services of nonresident alien individuals.

26 (a) In general.

27 All remuneration paid after December 31, 1966, for services performed by a nonresident alien individual, if 28 such remuneration otherwise constitutes wages within the meaning of §31.3401(a)-1 and if such 29 remuneration is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States, is 30 subject to withholding under section 3402 unless excepted from wages under this section. In regard to wages
31 paid under this section after February 28, 1979, the term "nonresident alien individual" does not include a 32 nonresident alien individual treated as a resident under section 6013 (g) or (h).

33 (b) Remuneration for services performed outside the [federal] United States.

34 Remuneration paid to a nonresident alien individual (other than a resident of Puerto Rico) for services
35 performed outside the [federal] United States is excepted from wages and hence is not subject to withholding.

36 A portion of the regulation above is also confirmed by the statutory rules for computing taxable income found in 26
37 U.S.C. §861:

38 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART I > Sec. 861.
39 Sec. 861. - Income from sources within the United States

40 (a) Gross income from sources within United States

41 The following items of gross income shall be treated as income from sources within the United States:

42 [...]

(3) Personal services

Compensation for labor or personal services performed in the United States; except that compensation for labor or services performed in the United States shall not be deemed to be income from sources within the United States if -

(A) the labor or services are performed by a nonresident alien individual temporarily present in the United States for a period or periods not exceeding a total of 90 days during the taxable year,

(B) such compensation does not exceed $3,000 in the aggregate, and

(C) the compensation is for labor or services performed as an employee of or under a contract with -

(i) a nonresident alien, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation, not engaged in trade or business within the United States, or

2. That word “trade or business” above is statutorily defined in the Internal Revenue Code as the “functions of a public office”. This public office essentially amount to a business partnership with the federal government, whether as a federal “employee” or otherwise. These observations confirm once again that the only proper subject of the income tax are government employees who hold a public office.

26 U.S.C. Sec. 7701(a)(26) : Definitions

"The term 'trade or business' includes the performance of the functions of a public office."

Public Office:

“Essential characteristics of a ‘public office’ are:

- (1) Authority conferred by law,
- (2) Fixed tenure of office, and
- (3) Power to exercise some of the sovereign functions of government.
- (4) Key element of such test is that “officer is carrying out a sovereign function”.
- (5) Essential elements to establish public position as ‘public office’ are:
 - (a) Position must be created by Constitution, legislature, or through authority conferred by legislature.
 - (b) Portion of sovereign power of government must be delegated to position,
 - (c) Duties and powers must be defined, directly or implied, by legislature or through legislative authority.
 - (d) Duties must be performed independently without control of superior power other than law, and
 - (e) Position must have some permanency.”

[Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1230]

³ 26 CFR §31.3401(a)-1 mentioned above also says that a person can only earn “wages” if they are an “employee”, which is a person holding a “public office” in the United States government” under 26 CFR §31.3401(c)-1.

26 CFR §31.3401(c)-1 Employee:

"...the term [employee] includes officers and employees, whether elected or appointed, of the United States, a [federal] State, Territory, Puerto Rico or any political subdivision, thereof, or the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing. The term 'employee' also includes an officer of a corporation."

26 CFR §31.3401(a)-1 Wages.

(a) In general. (1) The term "wages" means all remuneration for services performed by an employee for his employer unless specifically excepted under section 3401(a) or excepted under section 3402(e).

4. Absent a person literally holding a “public office” in the United States government, then the only other way they can earn “wages” is to have a voluntary withholding agreement in place called a W-4. If they never volunteered, then they don’t earn “wages”.

1 26 CFR §31.3401\(a\)-3 Amounts deemed wages under voluntary withholding agreements.

2 (a) In general.

3 *Notwithstanding the exceptions to the definition of wages specified in section 3401(a) and the regulations
4 thereunder, the term "wages" includes the amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section with respect
5 to which there is a voluntary withholding agreement in effect under section 3402(p). References in this
6 chapter to the definition of wages contained in section 3401(a) shall be deemed to refer also to this section
7 (§31.3401(a)-3).*

9 26 CFR §31.3402\(p\)-1 Voluntary withholding agreements.

10 (a) In general.

11 An employee and his employer may enter into an agreement under section 3402(b) to provide for the 12 withholding of income tax upon payments of amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of §31.3401(a)-3, made
13 after December 31, 1970. *An agreement may be entered into under this section only with respect to amounts
14 which are includable in the gross income of the employee under section 61, and must be applicable to all
15 such amounts paid by the employer to the employee.* The amount to be withheld pursuant to an agreement
16 under section 3402(p) shall be determined under the rules contained in section 3402 and the regulations
17 thereunder. See §31.3405(c)-1, Q&A-3 concerning agreements to have more than 20-percent Federal income
18 tax withheld from eligible rollover distributions within the meaning of section 402.

19 5. If the private employer coerces the employee to sign a W-4, that doesn't count as "volunteering", because in that 20 instance, they had a choice of either starving to death or committing perjury under penalty of perjury on a W-4 form.
21 They would be committing perjury because they would be submitting a W-4 that misrepresented their status as a
22 federal "employee" and also misrepresented the fact that they "volunteered", when in fact they were simply coerced
23 under threat of being fired or not being hired by their employer. Here is what Alexander Hamilton said on this subject:

24 "In the general course of human nature, A POWER OVER A MAN'S SUBSISTENCE AMOUNTS TO A POWER 25 OVER HIS WILL."
26 Alexander Hamilton, [Federalist Paper No. 79]

27 The tendency of employers to coerce their employees essentially into becoming liars just so they can feed their face
28 may explain the following comment by Will Rogers:

29 "Income tax has made more liars out of the American people than golf."
30 [Will Rogers]

31 6. The regulations say a nonresident alien with no earnings connected with a "trade or business" and which do not 32 originate from federal territory is not subject to tax and not includable in "gross income":

33 Title 26: Internal Revenue
34 PART I—INCOME TAXES
35 nonresident alien individuals
36 § 1.872-2 Exclusions from gross income of nonresident alien individuals.

37 (f) Other exclusions.

38 *Income which is from sources without [outside] the United States [federal territory per 26 U.S.C.
39 §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)], as determined under the provisions of sections 861 through 863, and the
40 regulations thereunder, is not included in the gross income of a nonresident alien individual unless such
41 income is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or business in the United
42 States by that individual. To determine specific exclusions in the case of other items which are from sources
43 within the United States, see the applicable sections of the Code. For special rules under a tax convention for
44 determining the sources of income and for excluding, from gross income, income from sources without the
45 United States which is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see the
46 applicable tax convention. For determining which income from sources without the United States is effectively
47 connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see section 864(c)(4) and §1.864–5.*

48 Examining the above 2002 Quick Reference to Payroll Compliance book once again, we find the following comments:

49 "In some cases, an Internal Revenue Code (IRC) section or a U.S. tax treaty provision will exclude payments to
50 a nonresident alien from wages. Such payments are not subject to the regular income tax withholding, so a

1 Form W-2 is not required. Instead, the payments are subject to withholding at a flat 30 percent or lower treaty
2 rate, unless exempt from tax because of a Code or treaty provision."

3 [2002 Quick Reference Guide to Payroll Compliance, Payroll Technical Support Services, Panel Publishers, a
4 Division of Aspen Publishers, Inc, p. IV-54. Available at: <http://panelpublishers.com/>]

5 The above comment is based on the content of 26 U.S.C. §871(a), which "appears" to impose a 30% flat rate on the
6 "taxable income" of nonresident aliens not "effectively connected with a trade or business" in the United States, which we
7 said means a "public office" in the United States government. As we said above, however, the underlying regulations at 26
8 CFR §1.872-2 exclude earnings of nonresident aliens originating outside federal territory. Therefore, such persons would 9 be "nontaxpayers" who do not need to withhold.

10 A number of other payroll reference books have exactly the same problem as this one. There are two other primary payroll
11 reference books recommended by the American Payroll Association (APA), which are listed below, and both of them have 12 exactly the same problem as the one we examined in this section.

13 1. The American Payroll Association \(APA\) publishes information for payroll clerks that is flat out wrong on the subject
14 of nonresident withholding in the case of those not engaged in a "trade or business". See the book entitled: The 15 Payroll Source, 2002; American Payroll Association; Michael P. O'Toole, Esq.; ISBN 1-930471-24-6.
16 2. The other main source of payroll trade publications is RIA, which also publishes flat out wrong information about the 17 subject of "nonresident aliens" not engaged in a "trade or business" in the following publications:
18 Principles of Payroll Administration; 2004 Edition; Debra J. Salam, CPA & Lucy Key Price, CPP; RIA, 117 West
19 Stevens Ave; Valhalla, NY 10595; ISBN 0-7913-5230-7.

20 Why don't most payroll industry compliance books properly or completely address nonresident aliens not engaged in a
21 "trade or business" with no earnings from federal territory or the United States government so as to tell the WHOLE truth
22 about their lack of liability to withhold or report? Below are some insightful reasons that you will need to be intimately
23 familiar with if you wish to educate the payroll department at your job without making enemies out of them:

24 1. They are bowing to IRS pressure and taking the least confrontational approach. If they told the WHOLE truth, they 25 would probably be audited and attacked, so they omit the WHOLE truth from their manuals.
26 2. They are trying to make the payroll clerk's job easy (cook book), so that everyone looks the same. Many payroll
27 software programs don't know what to do about nonresident aliens who have no Social Security Number, which can 28 add considerably to the workload of the payroll clerk by forcing them to process these people manually.
29 3. The IRS Form W-8BEN can be used to stop withholding, but those who use it for this purpose must read and 30 understand the regulations, which few payroll clerks have either the time or interest to do. The W-4, however, is the 31 easiest and most convenient to use for the payroll clerks.
32 4. The IRS publications conveniently do not discuss the loopholes in the regulations, because they want people to pay tax.
33 Therefore, you must read, study, and understand the law yourself if you want to be free from the system, which few 34 Americans are willing or even able to do.
35 5. Few Americans read or study the law and even among those who do bring up the issues raised in this book with payroll
36 clerks and bosses. Therefore, those informed private employees who bring up such issues are looked upon as 37 troublemakers and brushed off by payroll and management personnel.
38 6. Those payroll personnel who call the IRS to ask about the issues in this pamphlet are literally lied to by malicious and 39 uninformed IRS personnel and told that they have to withhold at single zero rate. In fact, IRS employees are not even 40 allowed to give advice and the federal courts have said that you can be penalized for relying on ANYTHING the IRS
41 says, including on the subject of withholding. Read the fascinating truth for yourself:

Federal Courts and the IRS' Own IRM Say IRS is NOT RESPONSIBLE for Its Actions or Its Words or For Following
Its Own Written Procedures
<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Articles/IRSNotResponsible.htm>

42 Therefore, those nonresident aliens who do not hold public office in the United States government and receive no payments
43 from the U.S. government originating from federal territory do not earn taxable income, need not withhold, and need not 44 file any federal tax return. Some people hear the word "nonresident alien" and assume that it means only "foreigners". But
45 we must ask the question how a foreigner from another country can serve in a public office of the United States government
46 when the Constitution requires that the President can only be a "Natural Born Citizen" and senators and representatives
47 must be "Citizens of the United States"?

15 Based on the foregoing discussion, the income taxes collected under the authority of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue
16 Code are simply a federal public officer kickback program disguised to “look” like a lawful tax. But in fact, the legislative
17 intent of the Sixteenth Amendment revealed by President Taft’s written address before Congress clearly shows the purpose
18 of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code as simply a tax on federal government “employees” and nothing more. This 19 federal employee kickback program disguised as a legitimate “income tax” on everyone was begin in 1862 during the

41 The Pharisees who wrote the rather deceptive 2002 Quick Reference Guide to Payroll Compliance manual above weren’t
42 telling a lie, but they also certainly left the most important points about tax liability of nonresident aliens undisclosed, and
43 did not explain that people born in states of the Union are nonresident aliens under the tax code. This results in a
44 constructive fraud and leaves the average reader, who is a “nonresident alien” and who was born in a state of the Union,
45 with the incorrect presumption that he has a legal obligation to “volunteer” to participate in a corrupt and usurious federal
46 “employee” kickback program. I would also be willing to bet that if you called up the author of the above article and asked
47 him why he didn’t mention all the other details in this section, he would tell you that if he told the truth, he would have his 48 license to practice law or his CPA certification pulled by the IRS or by a federal judge whose retirement benefits depend on 49 maintaining the fraudulent and oppressive tax system we live under.

11 Domicile: You aren't subject to civil law without your explicit voluntary consent

3 The purpose of establishing government is solely to provide "protection". Those who wish to be protected by a specific
4 government under the civil law must expressly consent to be protected by choosing a domicile within the civil jurisdiction
5 of that specific government.

- 6 1. Those who have made such a choice and thereby become "customers" of the protection afforded by government are 7 called by any of the following names under the civil laws of the jurisdiction they have nominated to protect them:
8 1.1. "citizens", if they were born somewhere within the country which the jurisdiction is a part.
9 1.2. "residents" (aliens) if they were born within the country in which the jurisdiction is a part
10 1.3. "inhabitants", which encompasses both "citizens", and "residents" but excludes foreigners
11 1.4. "persons".
12 1.5. "individuals".
- 13 2. Those who have not become "customers" or "protected persons" of a specific government are called by any of the 14 following names within the civil laws of the jurisdiction they have refused to nominate as their protector and may NOT 15 be called by any of the names in item 1 above:
16 2.1. "nonresidents"
17 2.2. "transient foreigners"
18 2.3. "stateless persons"
19 2.4. "in transitu"
20 2.5. "transient"
21 2.6. "sojourner"

22 In law, the process of choosing a domicile within the jurisdiction of a specific government is called "animus manendi".
23 That choice makes you a consenting party to the "civil contract", "social compact", and "private law" that attaches to and 24 therefore protects all "inhabitants" and things physically situated on or within that specific territory, venue, and jurisdiction.
25 In a sense then, your consent to a specific jurisdiction by your choice of domicile within that jurisdiction is what creates the 26 "person", "individual", "citizen", "resident", or "inhabitant" which is the only proper subject of the civil laws passed by that 27 government. In other words, choosing a domicile within a specific jurisdiction causes an implied waiver of sovereign
28 immunity, because the courts admit that the term "person" does not refer to the "sovereign":

29 "Since in common usage, the term person does not include the sovereign, statutes not employing the phrase 30 are ordinarily construed to exclude it."
31 [United States v. Cooper Corporation, 312 U.S. 600 (1941)]

32 "Sovereignty itself is, of course, not subject to law for it is the author and source of law;"
33 [Yick Wo v. Hopkins, 118 U.S. 356 (1886)]

34 *"There is no such thing as a power of inherent Sovereignty in the government of the United States. In this
35 country sovereignty resides in the People, and Congress can exercise no power which they have not, by their
36 Constitution entrusted to it: All else is withheld."*
37 [Juilliard v. Greenman, 110 U.S. 421 (1884)]

38 Those who have become customers of government protection by choosing a domicile within a specific government then
39 owe a duty to pay for the support of the protection they demand. The method of paying for said protection is called 40 "taxes". In earlier times this kind of sponsorship was called "tribute".

41 Even for civil laws that are enacted with the consent of the majority of the governed, we must still explicitly and 42 individually consent to be subject to them as a person "among those governed" before they can be enforced against us.

43 *"When a change of government takes place, from a monarchial to a republican government, the old form is 44 dissolved. Those who lived under it, and did not choose to become members of the new, had a right to refuse
45 their allegiance to it, and to retire elsewhere. By being a part of the society subject to the old government, they 46 had not entered into any engagement to become subject to any new form the majority might think proper to 47 adopt. That the majority shall prevail is a rule posterior to the formation of government, and results from it. It
48 is not a rule upon mankind in their natural state. There, every man is independent of all laws, except those 49 prescribed by nature. He is not bound by any institutions formed by his fellowmen without his consent"*
50 [Cruden v. Neale, 2 N.C., 2 S.E. 70 (1796)]

1 This requirement for the consent to the protection afforded by government is the foundation of our system of government,
2 according to the Declaration of Independence: consent of the governed. The U.S. Supreme Court admitted this when it
3 said:

4 The people of the United States resident within any State are subject to two governments: one State, and the
5 other National; but there need be no conflict between the two. The powers which one possesses, the other
6 does not. They are established for different purposes, and have separate jurisdictions. Together they make one
7 whole, and furnish the people of the United States with a complete government, ample for the protection of all
8 their rights at home and abroad. True, it may sometimes happen that a person is amenable to both jurisdictions
9 for one and the same act. Thus, if a marshal of the United States is unlawfully resisted while executing the 10 process of the courts within a State, and the resistance is accompanied by an assault on the officer, the 11 sovereignty of the United States is violated by the resistance, and that of the State by the breach of peace, in the 12 assault. So, too, if one passes counterfeited coin of the United States within a State, it may be an offence against 13 the United States and the State: the United States, because it discredits the coin; and the State, because of the 14 fraud upon him to whom it is passed. This does not, however, necessarily imply that the two governments
15 possess powers in common, or bring them into conflict with each other. It is the natural consequence of a 16 citizenship [92 U.S. 542, 551] which owes allegiance to two sovereignties, and claims protection from both.

17 The citizen cannot complain, because he has 18 voluntarily submitted himself to such a form of 19 government. He owes allegiance to the two departments, so to speak, and within their respective 20 spheres must pay the penalties which each exacts for disobedience to its laws. In return, he can demand 21 protection from each within its own jurisdiction.”

22 United States v. Cruikshank, [92 U.S. 542 (1875) [emphasis added]]

23 How, then, did you “voluntarily submit” yourself to such a form of government and thereby contract with that government
24 for “protection”? If people fully understood how they did this, many of them would probably immediately withdraw their
25 consent and completely drop out of the corrupted, inefficient, and usurious system of government we have, now wouldn’t
26 they? We have spent six long years researching this question, and our research shows that it wasn’t your citizenship as a
27 “national” but not statutory “citizen” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452 that made you subject to their 28 civil laws. Well then, what was it?

29 It was your voluntary choice of domicile!

30 In fact, the “citizen” the Supreme Administrative Court is talking about above is a statutory “citizen” and not a
31 constitutional “citizen”, and the only way you can become subject to statutory civil law is to have a domicile within the 32 jurisdiction of the sovereign. Below is a legal definition of “domicile”:

33 “domicile. A person's legal home. That place where a man has his true, fixed, and permanent home and
34 principal establishment, and to which whenever he is absent he has the intention of returning. Smith v. Smith,
35 206 Pa.Super. 310, 213 A.2d. 94. Generally, physical presence within a state and the intention to make it one's
36 home are the requisites of establishing a "domicile" therein. The permanent residence of a person or the place
37 to which he intends to return even though he may actually reside elsewhere. A person may have more than one
38 residence but only one domicile. The legal domicile of a person is important since it, rather than the actual
39 residence, often controls the jurisdiction of the taxing authorities and determines where a person may
40 exercise the privilege of voting and other legal rights and privileges.”

41 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 485]

42 "This right to protect persons having a domicile, though not native-born or naturalized citizens, rests on the 43 firm foundation of justice, and the claim to be protected is earned by considerations which the protecting power
44 is not at liberty to disregard. Such domiciled citizen pays the same price for his protection as native-born or 45 naturalized citizens pay for theirs. He is under the bonds of allegiance to the country of his residence, and, if
46 he breaks them, incurs the same penalties. He owes the same obedience to the civil laws. His property is, in 47 the same way and to the same extent as theirs, liable to contribute to the support of the Government. In nearly 48 all respects, his and their condition as to the duties and burdens of Government are undistinguishable."

49 Fong Yue Ting v. United States, [149 U.S. 698 (1893)]

50 Notice the phrase “civil laws” above and the term “claim to be protected”. What they are describing is a contract to procure
51 the protection of the government, from which a “claim” arises. Those who are not party to the domicile/protection contract
52 have no such claim and are immune from the civil jurisdiction of the government. In fact, there are only three ways to 53 become subject to the civil jurisdiction of a specific government. These ways are:

1 1. Choosing domicile within a specific jurisdiction.
 2 2. Representing an entity that has a domicile within a specific jurisdiction even though not domiciled oneself in said
 3 jurisdiction. For instance, representing a federal corporation as a public officer of said corporation, even though
 4 domiciled outside the federal zone. The authority for this type of jurisdiction is, for instance, Federal Rule of Civil
 5 Procedure 17(b).
 6 3. Engaging in commerce within the civil legislative jurisdiction of a specific government and thereby waiving sovereign
 7 immunity under:
 8 3.1. The Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §1605.
 9 3.2. The Minimum Contacts Doctrine, which implements the Fourteenth Amendment. See International Shoe Co. v.
 10 Washington, 326 U.S. 310 (1945).
 11 3.3. The Longarm Statutes of the state jurisdiction where you are physically situated at the time. For a list of such state 12 statutes, see:

SEDM Jurisdictions Database, Litigation Tool #09.008

<http://sedm.org/Litigation/LitIndex.htm>

13 We allege that if the above rules are violated then the following consequences are inevitable:

14 1. A crime has been committed. That crime is identity theft against a nonresident party and it involves using a person's 15 legal identity as a "person" for the commercial benefit of someone else without their express consent. Identity theft is 16 a crime in every jurisdiction within the USA. The SEDM Jurisdictions Database, Litigation Tool #09.008 indicated
 17 above lists identity theft statutes for every jurisdiction in the USA.
 18 2. If the entity disregarding the above rules claims to be a "government" then it is acting instead as a private corporation
 19 and must waive sovereign immunity and approach the other party to the dispute in EQUITY rather than law, and do so
 20 in OTHER than a franchise court. Franchise courts include U.S. District Court, U.S. Circuit Court, Tax Court, Traffic
 21 Court, and Family Court, etc. Equity is impossible in a franchise court.

22 See also Clearfield Trust Co. v. United States, 318 U.S. 363, 369 (1943) ("The United States does business on 23 business terms") (quoting United States v. National Exchange Bank of Baltimore, 270 U.S. 527, 534 (1926)); 24 Perry v. United States, supra at 352 (1935) ("When the United States, with constitutional authority, makes
 25 contracts for franchises, it has rights and incurs responsibilities similar to those of individuals who are 26 parties to such instruments. There is no difference . . . except that the United States cannot be sued without 27 its consent") (citation omitted); United States v. Bostwick, 94 U.S. 53, 66 (1877) ("The United States, when 28 they contract with their citizens, are controlled by the same laws that govern the citizen in that behalf");
 29 Cooke v. United States, 91 U.S. 389, 398 (1875) (explaining that when the United States "comes down from 30 its position of sovereignty, and enters the domain of commerce, it submits itself to the same laws that govern 31 individuals there").

32 See Jones, 1 Cl.Ct. at 85 ("Wherever the public and private acts of the 33 government seem to commingle, a citizen or corporate body must by 34 supposition be substituted in its place, and then the question be 35 determined whether the action will lie against the supposed defendant"); 36 O'Neill v. United States, 231 Ct.Cl. 823, 826 (1982) (sovereign acts doctrine applies where, "[w]here [the]
 37 contracts exclusively between private parties, the party hurt by such governing action could not claim
 38 compensation from the other party for the governing action"). The dissent ignores these statements (including 39 the statement from Jones, from which case Horowitz drew its reasoning literally verbatim), when it says, post at 40 931, that the sovereign acts cases do not emphasize the need to treat the government-as-contractor the same as 41 a private party.
 42 [United States v. Winstar Corp. 518 U.S. 839 (1996)]

43 Below are some interesting facts about domicile that we have discovered through our extensive research on this subject:

44 1. Domicile is based on where you currently live or have lived in the past. You can't choose a domicile in a place that 45 you have never physically been to.
 46 2. Domicile is a voluntary choice that only you can make. It acts as the equivalent of a "protection contract" between you
 47 and the government. All such contracts require your voluntary "consent", which the above definition calls "intent".
 48 That "intent" expresses itself as "allegiance" to the people and the laws of the place where you maintain a domicile.

49 "Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in
 50 transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes. Since the
 51 Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence creates

1 universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter
2 obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter. Of course,
3 the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most
4 obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located."

5 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

6 3. Domicile cannot be established without a coincidence of living or having lived in a place and voluntarily consenting to 7 live there "permanently".
8 4. Domicile is a protected First Amendment choice of political association. Since the government may not lawfully 9 interfere with your right of association, they cannot lawfully select a domicile for you or interfere with your choice of 10 domicile.
11 5. Domicile is what is called the "seat" of your property. It is the "state" and the "government" you voluntarily nominate
12 to protect your property and your rights. In effect, it is the "weapon" you voluntarily choose that will best protect your 13 property and rights, not unlike the weapons that early cavemen crafted and voluntarily used to protect themselves and 14 their property.
15 6. The government cannot lawfully coerce you to choose a domicile in a place. A government that coerced you into
16 choosing a domicile in their jurisdiction is engaging in a "protection racket", which is highly illegal. A coerced
17 domicile it is not a domicile of your choice and therefore lawfully confers no jurisdiction or rights upon the
18 government:

19 "Similarly, when a person is prevented from leaving his domicile by circumstances not of his doing and
20 beyond his control, he may be relieved of the consequences attendant on domicile at that place. In Roboz

21 (USDC D.C. 1963) [Roboz v. Kennedy, 219 F.Supp. 892 (D.D.C. 1963), p. 24], a federal statute was involved
22 which precluded the return of an alien's property if he was found to be domiciled in Hungary prior to a certain
23 date. It was found that Hungary was Nazi-controlled at the time in question and that the persons involved
24 would have left Hungary (and lost domicile there) had they been able to. Since they had been precluded from 25 leaving because of the political privations imposed by the very government they wanted to escape (the father 26 was in prison there), the court would not hold them to have lost their property based on a domicile that 27 circumstances beyond their control forced them to retain."

28 [Conflicts in a Nutshell, David D. Siegel and Patrick J. Borchers, West Publishing, p. 24]

29 7. Domicile is a method of lawfully delegating authority to a "sovereign" to protect you. That delegation of authority
30 causes you to voluntarily surrender some of your rights to the government in exchange for "protection". That 31 protection comes from the civil and criminal laws that the sovereign passes, because the purpose of all government and 32 all law is "protection". The U.S. Supreme Court calls this delegation of authority "allegiance". To wit:

33 "Allegiance and protection [by the government from harm] are, in this connection, reciprocal obligations.
34 The one is a compensation for the other; allegiance for protection and protection for allegiance."

35 Minor v. Happersett, [88 U.S. \(21 Wall.\) 162, 166-168 (1874)]

36 8. All allegiance must be voluntary, which is why only consenting adults past the age of majority can have a legal 37 domicile. The following facts confirm this conclusion:
38 8.1. Minors cannot choose a domicile, but by law assume the domicile of their parents.
39 8.2. Incompetent or insane persons assume the domicile of their caregivers.
40 9. It is perfectly lawful to have a domicile in a place OTHER than the place you currently live. Those who find 41 themselves in this condition are called "transient foreigners", and the only laws they are subject to are the criminal laws 42 in the place they are at.

43 "Transient foreigner. One who visits the country, without the intention of remaining."
44 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1498]

45 10. There are many complicated rules of "presumption" about how to determine the domicile of an individual:

46 10.1. You can read these rules on the web at:

47 28 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Domicile

48 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/CitesByTopic/Domicile-28CJS-20051203.pdf>

49 10.2. The reason that the above publication about domicile is so complicated and long, is that its main purpose is to 50 disguise the voluntary, consensual nature of domicile or remove it entirely from the decisions of courts and 51 governments so that simply being present on the king's land makes one into a "subject" of the king. This is not how a republican form of government works and we don't have a monarchy in this country that would allow this abusive approach to law to function.

1 “Yet, it is to be remembered, and that whether in its real origin, or in its artificial state, allegiance, as well as
2 fealty, rests upon lands, and it is due to persons. Not so, with respect to Citizenship, which has arisen from the 3 dissolution of the feudal system and is a substitute for allegiance, corresponding with the new order of things.
4 Allegiance and citizenship, differ, indeed, in almost every characteristic. Citizenship is the effect of compact
5 [CONTRACT!]; allegiance is the offspring of power and necessity. Citizenship is a political tie; allegiance is
6 a territorial tenure. Citizenship is the charter of equality; allegiance is a badge of inferiority. Citizenship is
7 constitutional; allegiance is personal. Citizenship is freedom; allegiance is servitude. Citizenship is
8 communicable; allegiance is repulsive. Citizenship may be relinquished; allegiance is perpetual. With such 9 essential differences, the doctrine of allegiance is inapplicable to a system of citizenship; which it can neither
10 serve to controul, nor to elucidate. And yet, even among the nations, in which the law of allegiance is the most 11 firmly established, the law most pertinaciously enforced, there are striking deviations that demonstrate the 12 invincible power of truth, and the homage, which, under every modification of government, must be paid to the 13 inherent rights of man.....The doctrine is, that allegiance cannot be due to two sovereigns; and taking an oath
14 of allegiance to a new, is the strongest evidence of withdrawing allegiance from a previous, sovereign....”
15 [Talbot v. Janson, 3 U.S. 133 (1795); From the syllabus but not the opinion; SOURCE:
16 http://www.law.cornell.edu/supct/search/display.html?terms=choice%20or%20conflict%20and%20law&url=/supct/html/historics/USCC_CR_0003_0133_ZS.html]

18 10.3. These rules of presumption relating to domicile may only lawfully act in the absence of express declaration of 19 your domicile provided to the government in written form or when various sources of evidence conflict with each 20 other about your choice of domicile.

21 “This [government] right of domicile, he continues, is not established unless the person makes sufficiently
22 known his intention of fixing there, either tacitly or by an express declaration. Vatt. Law Nat. pp. 92, 93.”
23 [Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698 (1893)]

24 10.4. The purpose for these rules are basically to manufacture the “presumption” that courts can use to “ASSUME” or 25 “PRESUME” that you consented to their jurisdiction, even if in fact you did not explicitly do so. All such 26 prejudicial presumptions which might adversely affect your Constitutionally guaranteed rights are 27 unconstitutional, according to the U.S. Supreme Court:

28 1) [8:4993] Conclusive presumptions affecting protected interests: A conclusive presumption may be defeated
29 where its application would impair a party's constitutionally-protected liberty or property interests. In such
30 cases, conclusive presumptions have been held to violate a party's due process and equal protection rights.
31 [Vlandis v. Kline (1973) 412 U.S. 441, 449, 93 S.Ct. 2230, 2235; Cleveland Bd. of Ed. v. LaFleur (1974) 414
32 U.S. 632, 639-640, 94 S.Ct. 1208, 1215-presumption under Illinois law that unmarried fathers are unfit violates
33 process]
34 [Rutter Group Practice Guide-Federal Civil Trials and Evidence, paragraph 8:4993, page 8K-34]

35 10.5. The purpose for these complicated rules of presumption is to avoid the real issue, which is whether you
36 voluntarily consent to the civil statutory jurisdiction of the government and the courts in an area, because they 37 cannot proceed civilly without your express consent manifested as a voluntary choice of domicile. In most cases,
38 if litigants knew that all they had to do to avoid the jurisdiction of the court was to not voluntarily select a
39 domicile within the jurisdiction of the court, most people would become “transient foreigners” so the government
40 could do nothing other than just “leave them alone”.

41 11. You can choose a domicile any place you want. The only requirement is that you must ensure that the government or 42 sovereign who controls the place where you live has received “reasonable notice” of your choice of domicile and of 43 their corresponding obligation to protect you.

44 The writers upon the law of nations distinguish between a temporary residence in a foreign country for a
45 special purpose and a residence accompanied with an intention to make it a permanent place of abode. The 46 latter is styled by Vattel [in his book The Law of Nations] “domicile,” which he defines to be “a habitation
47 fixed in any place, with an intention of always staying there.” Such a person, says this author, becomes a 48 member of the new society at least as a permanent inhabitant, and is a kind of citizen of the inferior order from 49 the native citizens, but is, nevertheless, united and subject to the society, without participating in all its
50 advantages. This right of domicile, he continues, is not established unless the person makes sufficiently
51 known his intention of fixing there, either tacitly or by an express declaration. Vatt. Law Nat. pp. 92, 93.
52 Grotius nowhere uses the word “domicile,” but he also distinguishes between those who stay in a foreign
53 country by the necessity of their affairs, or from any other temporary cause, and those who reside there from
54 a permanent cause. The former he denominates “strangers,” and the latter, “subjects.” The rule is thus laid
55 down by Sir Robert Phillimore:

56 There is a class of persons which cannot be, strictly speaking, included in either of these denominations of 57 naturalized or native citizens, namely, the class of those who have ceased to reside [maintain a domicile] in 58 their native country, and have taken up a permanent abode in another. These are domiciled inhabitants. They 59 have not put on a new citizenship through some formal mode enjoined by the law or the new country. They

1 are de facto, though not de jure, citizens of the country of their [new chosen] domicile.
2 Fong Yue Ting v. United States, [149 U.S. 698 (1893)]

3 Notice the phrase “This right of domicile. . . is not established unless the person makes sufficiently known his intention
4 of fixing there, either tacitly or by an express declaration.”

5 12. The process of notifying the government that you have nominated them as your protector occurs based on how you fill 6 out usually government and financial forms that you fill out such as:

7 12.1. Driver’s license applications. You cannot get a driver’s license in most states without selecting a domicile in the 8 place that you want the license from. See:

9 Defending Your Right to Travel, Form #06.010

10 <http://sedm.org/ItemInfo/Ebooks/DefYourRightToTravel.htm>

11 12.2. Voter registration. You cannot register to vote without a domicile in the place you are voting.

12 12.3. Jury summons. You cannot serve as a jurist without a domicile in the jurisdiction you are serving in.

13 12.4. On financial forms, any form that asks for your “residence”, “permanent address”, or “domicile”.

14 13. If you want provide unambiguous legal notice to the state of your choice to disassociate with them and become a
15 “transient foreigner” in the place where you live who is not subject to the civil laws, you can use the following free
16 form:

17 Legal Notice of Change in Domicile/Citizenship Records and Divorce from the United States, Form #10.001

18 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

19 We emphasize that there is no method OTHER than domicile available in which to consent to the civil statutory laws of a
20 specific place. None of the following conditions, for instance, may form a basis for a prima facie presumption that a
21 specific human being consented to be civilly governed by a specific municipal government:

22 1. Simply being born and thereby becoming a statutory “national” (per 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21)) of a specific country is 23 NOT an exercise of personal discretion or an express act of consent.
24 2. Simply living in a physical place WITHOUT choosing a domicile there is NOT an exercise of personal discretion or an 25 express act of consent.

26 The subject of domicile is a complicated one. Consequently, we have written a separate memorandum of law on the subject
27 if you would like to investigate this fascinating subject further:

30 24 12 Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status Options

31 Pictures really are worth a THOUSAND words. There is no better place we know of to use a picture to describe
32 relationship than in the context of citizenship, domicile, and residency. Below is a table summarizing citizenship status v.
33 Tax status. After that, we show a graphical diagram that makes the relationships perfectly clear. Finally, after the 34 graphical diagram, we present a text summary for all the legal rules that govern transitioning between the various 35 citizenship and domicile conditions described. The content of this entire section is available in a single convenient form that you can use at depositions, as attachments to government forms, and in legal proceedings. You can find this form at:

37 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

38 31 12.1 The Four “United States”

39 It is very important to understand that there are THREE separate and distinct CONTEXTS in which the term “United 40 States” can be used, and each has a mutually exclusive and different meaning. These three definitions of “United States”
41 were described by the U.S. Supreme Court in Hooven and Allison v. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652 \(1945\):

42 35 Table 5: Geographical terms used throughout this page

Term	# in diagrams	Meaning
------	---------------	---------

Term	# in diagrams	Meaning
United States*	1	The country "United States" in the family of nations throughout the world.
United States	2	The "federal zone".
United States	3	Collective states of the Union mentioned throughout the Constitution.

1 In addition to the above GEOGRAPHICAL context, there is also a legal, non-geographical context in which the term
 2 "United States" can be used, which is the GOVERNMENT as a legal entity. Throughout this page and this website, we
 3 identify THIS context as "United States*" or "United States⁴". The only types of "persons" within THIS context are
 4 public offices within in the national and not state government. It is THIS context in which "sources within the United
 5 States" is used for the purposes of "income" and "gross income" within the Internal Revenue Code, as proven by section 7
 6 of this document

7 The reason these contexts are not expressly distinguished in the statutes by the Legislative Branch or on government forms
 8 crafted by the Executive Branch is that they are the KEY mechanism by which:

9 1. Federal jurisdiction is unlawfully enlarged by abusing presumption, which is a violation of due process of law. See:

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.007

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/Presumption.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

10 2. The separation of powers between the states and the national government is destroyed, in violation of the legislative 11 intent of the Constitution. See:

Government Conspiracy to Destroy the Separation of Powers, Form #05.023

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/SeparationOfPowers.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

12 3. A "society of law" is transformed into a "society of men" in violation of Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137 \(1803\):

13 *"The government of the United States has been emphatically termed a government of laws, and not of men. It
 14 will certainly cease to deserve this high appellation, if the laws furnish no remedy for the violation of a vested 15 legal right."*

[Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 163 (1803)]

17 4. Exclusively PRIVATE rights are transformed into public rights in a process we call "invisible eminent domain using 18 presumption and words of art".

19 5. Judges are unconstitutionally delegated undue discretion and "arbitrary power" to unlawfully enlarge federal 20 jurisdiction. See:

Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.018

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/FederalJurisdiction.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21 The way a corrupted Executive Branch or judge accomplish the above is to unconstitutionally:

22 1. PRESUME that ALL of the four contexts for "United States" are equivalent.

23 2. PRESUME that CONSTITUTIONAL citizens and STATUTORY citizens are EQUIVALENT under federal law. They 24 are NOT. A CONSTITUTIONAL citizen is a "non-citizen national" under federal law and NOT a "citizen of the 25 United States".

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/WhyANational.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

26 3. PRESUME that "nationality" and "domicile" are equivalent. They are NOT. See:

Why Domicile and Becoming a "Taxpayer" Require Your Consent, Form #05.002

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/Domicile.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

27 4. Use the word "citizenship" in place of "nationality" OR "domicile", and refuse to disclose WHICH of the two they 28 mean in EVERY context.

1 5. Confuse the POLITICAL/CONSTITUTIONAL meaning of words with the civil STATUTORY context. For instance,
 2 asking on government forms whether you are a POLITICAL/CONSTITUTIONAL citizen and then FALSELY
 3 PRESUMING that you are a STATUTORY citizen under 8 U.S.C. §1401.
 4 6. Confuse the words "domicile" and "residence" or impute either to you without satisfying the burden of proving that
 5 you EXPRESSLY CONSENTED to it and thereby illegally kidnap your civil legal identity against your will. One can
 6 have only one "domicile" but many "residences" and BOTH require your consent. See:

Why Domicile and Becoming a "Taxpayer" Require Your Consent, Form #05.002

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/Domicile.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

7 7. Add things or classes of things to the meaning of statutory terms that do not EXPRESSLY appear in their definitions,
 8 in violation of the rules of statutory construction. See:

Meaning of the Words "includes" and "including", Form #05.014

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/Includes.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

9 8. Refuse to allow the jury to read the definitions in the law and then give them a definition that is in conflict with the 10 statutory definition. This substitutes the JUDGES will for what the law expressly says and thereby substitutes PUBLIC
 11 POLICY for the written law.
 12 9. Publish deceptive government publications that are in deliberate conflict with what the statutes define "United States"
 13 as and then tell the public that they CANNOT rely on the publication. The IRS does this with ALL of their publications
 14 and it is FRAUD. See:

Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007

DIRECT LINK: <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/ReasonableBelief.pdf>

FORMS PAGE: <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

15 This kind of arbitrary discretion is PROHIBITED by the Constitution, as held by the U.S. Supreme Court:

16 *'When we consider the nature and the theory of our institutions of government, the principles upon which they
 17 are supposed to rest, and review the history of their development, we are constrained to conclude that they do
 18 not mean to leave room for the play and action of purely personal and arbitrary power.'*
 19 Yick Wo v. Hopkins, [118 U.S. 356, 369, 6 S. Sup.Ct. 1064, 1071]

20 Thomas Jefferson, our most revered founding father, precisely predicted the above abuses when he said:

21 *'It has long been my opinion, and I have never shrunk from its expression,... that the germ of dissolution of our 22 Federal Government is in the constitution of the Federal Judiciary--an irresponsible body (for impeachment is 23 scarcely a scarecrow), working like gravity by night and by day, gaining a little today and a little tomorrow,
 24 and advancing its noiseless step like a thief over the field of jurisdiction until all shall be usurped from the 25 States and the government be consolidated into one. To this I am opposed.'*
 26 [Thomas Jefferson to Charles Hammond, 1821. ME 15:331]

27 *"Contrary to all correct example, [the Federal judiciary] are in the habit of going out of the question before
 28 them, to throw an anchor ahead and grapple further hold for future advances of power. They are then in fact
 29 the corps of sappers and miners, steadily working to undermine the independent rights of the States and to 30 consolidate all power in the hands of that government in which they have so important a freehold estate."*
 31 [Thomas Jefferson: Autobiography, 1821. ME 1:121]

32 *"The judiciary of the United States is the subtle corps of sappers and miners constantly working under ground
 33 to undermine the foundations of our confederated fabric. They are construing our Constitution from a co-
 34 ordination of a general and special government to a general and supreme one alone. This will lay all things at 35 their feet, and they are too well versed in English law to forget the maxim, 'boni iudicis est ampliare 36 jurisdictionem.'"*
 37 [Thomas Jefferson to Thomas Ritchie, 1820. ME 15:297]

38 *'When all government, domestic and foreign, in little as in great things, shall be drawn to Washington as the
 39 center of all power, it will render powerless the checks provided of one government on another and will 40 become as venal and oppressive as the government from which we separated.'"*
 41 [Thomas Jefferson to Charles Hammond, 1821. ME 15:332]

42 *"What an augmentation of the field for jobbing, speculating, plundering, office-building ['trade or business'
 43 scam] and office-hunting would be produced by an assumption [PRESUMPTION] of all the State powers into 44 the hands of the General Government!"*
 45 [Thomas Jefferson to Gideon Granger, 1800. ME 10:168]

1 12.2 Statutory v. constitutional contexts

2 It is very important to understand that there are TWO separate, distinct, and mutually exclusive contexts in which
3 geographical "words of art" can be used at the federal or national level:

4 1. Constitutional.
5 2. Statutory.

6 The purpose of providing a statutory definition of a legal "term" is to supersede and not enlarge the ordinary, common law,
7 constitutional, or common meaning of a term. Geographical words of art include the following statutory terms:

8 1. "State"
9 2. "United States"
10 3. "alien"
11 4. "citizen"
12 5. "resident"
13 6. "U.S. person"

14 The terms "State" and "United States" within the Constitution implies the constitutional states of the Union and excludes
15 federal territory, statutory "States" (federal territories), or the statutory "United States" (the collection of all federal 16 territory). This is an outcome of the separation of powers doctrine. See:

Government Conspiracy to Destroy the Separation of Powers, Form #05.023

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

17 The U.S. Constitution creates a public trust which is the delegation of authority order that the U.S. Government uses to 18 manage federal territory and property. That property includes franchises, such as the "trade or business" franchise. All
19 statutory civil law it creates can and does regulate only THAT property and not the constitutional States, which are foreign,
20 sovereign, and statutory "aliens" for the purposes of federal legislative jurisdiction.

21 It is very important to realize the consequences of this constitutional separation of powers between the states and national 22 government. Some of these consequences include the following:

23 1. Statutory "States" as indicated in 4 U.S.C. §110\(d\) and "States" in nearly all federal statutes are in fact federal 24 territories and the definition does NOT include constitutional states of the Union.
25 2. The statutory "United States" defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) includes federal 26 territory and excludes any land within the exclusive jurisdiction of a constitutional state of the Union.
27 3. Terms on government forms assume the statutory context and NOT the constitutional context.
28 4. Domicile is the origin of civil legislative jurisdiction over human beings. This jurisdiction is called "in personam 29 jurisdiction".
30 5. Since the separation of powers doctrine creates two separate jurisdictions that are legislatively "foreign" in relation to 31 each other, then there are TWO types of political communities, two types of "citizens", and two types of jurisdictions
32 exercised by the national government.

33 *"It is clear that Congress, as a legislative body, exercise two species of legislative power: the one, limited as to
34 its objects, but extending all over the Union: the other, an absolute, exclusive legislative power over the District
35 of Columbia. The preliminary inquiry in the case now before the Court, is, by virtue of which of these 36 authorities was the law in question passed?"*
37 [Cohens v. Virginia, 19 U.S. 264, 6 Wheat. 265, 5 L.Ed. 257 (1821)]

38 6. A human being domiciled in a state and born or naturalized anywhere in the Union is a statutory "alien" in relation to 39 the national government and a non-citizen national pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101\(a\)\(21\) and 8 U.S.C. §1452.
40 7. You can be a statutory "alien" pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) and a constitutional or Fourteenth Amendment
41 "Citizen" AT THE SAME TIME. Why? Because the Supreme Court ruled in Hooven and Allison v. Evatt, 324 U.S.
42 652 (1945), that there are THREE different and mutually exclusive "United States", and therefore THREE types of 43 "citizens of the United States". Here is an example:

44 "The 1st section of the 14th article [Fourteenth Amendment], to which our attention is more specifically invited, opens with a definition of

1 citizenship—not only citizenship of the United States[], but citizenship of the states. No such definition was previously found in the
2 Constitution, nor had any attempt been made to define it by act of Congress. It had been the occasion of much discussion in the courts, by
3 the executive departments and in the public journals. It had been said by eminent judges that no man was a citizen of the [] except as he
4 was a citizen of one of the states composing the Union. Those therefore, who had been born and resided always in the District of Columbia
5 or in the territories [STATUTORY citizens], though within the United States[*], were not [CONSTITUTIONAL] citizens.”
6 [Slaughter-House Cases, 83 U.S. (16 Wall.) 36, 21 L.Ed. 394 (1873)]

7 The "citizen of the United States" mentioned in the Fourteenth Amendment is a constitutional "citizen of the 8 United States", and the term "United States" in that context includes states of the Union and excludes federal 9 territory. Hence, you would NOT be a "citizen of the United States" within any federal statute, because all such 10 statutes define "United States" to mean federal territory and EXCLUDE states of the Union. For more details, see:

11 Why You are a "national", "state national", and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
12 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 8. Your job, if you say you are a "citizen of the United States" or "U.S. citizen" on a government form (a VERY 14 DANGEROUS undertaking!) is to understand that all government forms presume the statutory and not constitutional
15 context, and to ensure that you define precisely WHICH one of the three "United States" you are a "citizen" of, and do
16 so in a way that excludes you from the civil jurisdiction of the national government because domiciled in a "foreign 17 state". Both foreign countries and states of the Union are legislatively "foreign" and therefore "foreign states" in 18 relation to the national government of the United States. The following form does that very carefully:

19 Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
20 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21 9. Even the IRS says you CANNOT trust or rely on ANYTHING on any of their forms and publications. We cover this
22 in our Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007. Hence, if you are compelled to fill out a
23 government form, you have an OBLIGATION to ensure that you define all "words of art" used on the form in such a
24 way that there is no room for presumption, no judicial or government discretion to "interpret" the form to their benefit,
25 and no injury to your rights or status by filling out the government form. This includes attaching the following forms
26 to all tax forms you submit:

27 9.1. Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
28 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
29 9.2. Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201
30 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

2 NOTES:

3 1. A nonresident alien individual who has made an election under 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) to be treated as a resident alien is treated as a “nonresident alien” for the
 4 purposes of withholding under I.R.C. Subtitle C but retains their status as a “resident alien” under I.R.C. Subtitle A. See 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii).

5 2. What turns a “nonresident alien NON-individual” into a “nonresident alien individual” is:
 6 2.1. Being an alien and NOT a “national” AND

1 2.2. Meets one or more of the following two criteria found in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii):
2 2.2.1. Residence/domicile in a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1).
3 2.2.2. Residence/domicile as an alien in Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as
4 determined under 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-1(d).
5 3. If you were born in a state of the Union and maintain a domicile there, then you are described in item 3.1 of the table.
6 4. All “taxpayers” are aliens or “nonresident aliens”. You cannot be a “citizen” and a taxpayer at same time. The definition of “individual” found in 26 CFR §1.1441-
7 1(c)(3) does NOT include “citizens”. The only occasion where a “citizen” can also be an “individual” is when they are abroad under 26 U.S.C. §911 and interface
8 to the I.R.C. under a tax treaty with a foreign country as an alien pursuant to 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1)

9 *And when he had come into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, "What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings [governments] of the earth [lawfully] take
10 customs or taxes, from their sons [citizens and subjects] or from strangers [aliens], which are synonymous with "residents" in the tax code, and exclude "citizens"??"*

11 Peter said to Him, "From strangers [aliens]" "residents" ONLY. See 26 CFR §1.1-1(a)(2)(ii) and 26 CFR §301.6109-1(d)(3)]."

12 *Jesus said to him, "Then the sons [citizens" of the Republic, who are all sovereign "nationals" and "nonresident aliens" under federal law] are free [sovereign over
13 their own person and labor. e.g. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY]."
14 [Matt. 17:24-27, Bible, NKJV]*

2 12.4 Effect of Domicile on Citizenship Status

3 Table 7: Effect of domicile on citizenship status

Description	Domicile WITHIN the FEDERAL ZONE and located in FEDERAL ZONE	Domicile WITHIN the FEDERAL ZONE and temporarily located abroad in foreign country	Domicile WITHOUT the FEDERAL ZONE and located WITHOUT the FEDERAL ZONE
Location of domicile	“United States” per 26 U.S.C. §§7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) , 7701(a)(39) , 7408(d) , and 4 U.S.C. §110(d)	“United States” per 26 U.S.C. §§7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) , 7701(a)(39) , 7408(d) , and 4 U.S.C. §110(d)	Without the “United States” per 26 U.S.C. §§7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) , 7701(a)(39) , 7408(d) , and 4 U.S.C. §110(d)

4 NOTES:

5 1. “United States” is defined as federal territory within 26 U.S.C. §§7701\(a\)\(9\) and \(a\)\(10\), 7701\(a\)\(39\), and 7408\(d\), and 4 U.S.C. §110\(d\). It does not include any portion of a Constitutional state of the Union.

6 2. The “District of Columbia” is defined as a federal corporation but not a physical place, a “body politic”, or a de jure “government” within the District of Columbia Act of 1871, 16 Stat. 419, 426, Sec. 34. See: Corporatization and Privatization of the Government, Form #05.024; <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>.

7 3. American nationals who are domiciled outside of federal jurisdiction, either in a state of the Union or a foreign country, are “nationals” but not “citizens” under federal law. They also qualify as “nonresident aliens” under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(B\). See sections 4.11.2 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302 for details.

8 4. Temporary domicile in the middle column on the right must meet the requirements of the “Presence test” documented in IRS publications.

9 5. “FEDERAL ZONE”=District of Columbia and territories of the United States in the above table

10 6. The term “individual” as used on the IRS Form 1040 means an “alien” engaged in a “trade or business”. All “taxpayers” are “aliens” engaged in a “trade or business”. This is confirmed by 26 CFR §1.1441-1\(c \)\(3\), 26 CFR §1.1-1\(a\)\(2\)\(ii\), and 5 U.S.C. §552a\(a\)\(2\). Statutory “U.S. citizens” as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401 are not “individuals” unless temporarily abroad pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §911 and subject to an income tax treaty with a foreign country. In that capacity, statutory “U.S. citizens” interface to the I.R.C. as “aliens” rather than “U.S. citizens” through the tax treaty.

2 12.5 Meaning of Geographical “Words of Art”

3 Because the states of the Union and the federal government are “foreign” to each other for the purposes of legislative
 4 jurisdiction, then it also follows that the definitions of terms in the context of all state and federal statutes must be
 5 consistent with this fact. The table below was extracted from the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, section 4.9 if you would
 6 like to investigate further, and it clearly shows the restrictions placed upon definitions of terms within the various contexts
 7 that they are used within state and federal law:

8 Table 8: Meaning of geographical “words of art”

Law	Federal constitution	Federal statutes	Federal regulations	State constitutions	State statutes	State regulations
Author	Union States/ "We the People"	Federal Government		"We the People"	State Government
"state"	Foreign country	Union state	Union state	Other Union state or federal government	Other Union state or federal government	Other Union state or federal government
"State"	Union state	Federal state	Federal state	Union state	Union state	Union state

"State" ¹¹ (State Revenue and taxation code only)	NA	NA	NA	NA	Federal enclave within state	Federal enclave within state
"several States"	Union states collectively ¹²	Federal "States" collectively	Federal "States" collectively	Federal "States" collectively	Federal "States" collectively	Federal "States" collectively
"United States"	states of the Union collectively	Federal United States	Federal United States	United States* the country	Federal United States	Federal United States

9 NOTES:

10 1. The term “Federal state” or “Federal ‘States’” as used above means a federal territory as defined in 4 U.S.C. §110\(d\) and EXCLUDES states of the Union.

11 2. The term “Union state” means a “State” mentioned in the United States Constitution, and this term EXCLUDES and is mutually exclusive to a federal “State”.

2 12.7 Statutory Rules for Converting Between Various Domicile and Citizenship Options

3 Within Federal Law

4 The rules depicted above are also described in text from using the list below, if you would like to investigate the above
 5 diagram further:

- 6 1. “Aliens” or “alien individuals”: Those born in a foreign country and not within any state of the Union or within any 7 federal territory.
 - 8 1.1. “Alien” is defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) as a person who is neither a citizen nor a national.
 - 9 1.2. “Alien individual” is defined in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(i).
 - 10 1.3. An alien is defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) as a person who is neither a statutory “U.S. citizen” per 8 U.S.C.
 §1401 nor a “national of the United States” per 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)..
 - 11 1.4. An alien with no domicile in the “United States” is presumed to be a “nonresident alien” pursuant to 26 CFR §1.871-4(b).
- 12 2. “Residents” or “resident aliens”: An “alien” or “alien individual” with a legal domicile on federal territory.
 - 13 2.1. “Resident aliens” are defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).
 - 14 2.2. A “resident alien” is an alien as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) who has a legal domicile on federal territory that is no part of the exclusive jurisdiction of any state of the Union.
 - 15 2.3. An “alien” becomes a “resident alien” by filing IRS Form 1078 pursuant to 26 CFR §1.871-4(c)(ii) and thereby electing to have a domicile on federal territory.
- 16 3. “Nonresident aliens”: Those with no domicile on federal territory and who are born either in a foreign country, a state
 17 of the Union, or within the federal zone.
 - 18 3.1. Defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).
 - 19 3.2. Also called a “nonresident”, “stateless person”, or “transient foreigner”.
 - 20 3.3. A “nonresident alien” is defined as a person who is neither a statutory “citizen” pursuant to 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) nor a statutory “resident” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).
 - 21 3.4. A person who is a “non-citizen national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1452 and either 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) or 8 U.S.C.
 §1101(a)(22)(B) is a “nonresident alien”.
- 22 4. “Nonresident alien individuals”: Those who are aliens and who do not have a domicile on federal territory.
 - 23 4.1. Defined in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii).
 - 24 4.2. Status is indicated in block 3 of the IRS Form W-8BEN under the term “Individual”.
 - 25 4.3. Excludes “non-citizen nationals as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452.
 - 26 4.4. Excludes those born within the exclusive jurisdiction of states of the Union who are therefore “non-citizen nationals” under federal law.
- 27 5. Convertibility between “aliens”, “resident aliens”, and “nonresident aliens”, and “nonresident alien individuals”:
 - 28 5.1. A “nonresident alien” is not the legal equivalent of an “alien” in law.
 - 29 5.2. IRS Form W-8BEN, Block 3 has no block to check for those who are “nonresident aliens” but not “nonresident alien individuals”. Thus, the submitter of this form who is a “nonresident alien” and a non-citizen national but not a “nonresident alien individual” is effectively compelled to make an illegal and fraudulent election to become an alien and an “individual” if they do not add a block for “transient foreigner” or “Union State Citizen” to the form. See section 5.3 of the following:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
 - 30 5.3. 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) and 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4)(B) authorize a “nonresident alien” who is married to a statutory “U.S. citizen” as defined in 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) to make an “election” to become a “resident alien”.
 - 31 5.4. It is unlawful for an unmarried “non-citizen national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1452 and either 8 U.S.C.
 §1101(a)(21) or 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B) to become a “resident alien”. This can only happen by either fraud or mistake.
 - 32 5.5. An alien may overcome the presumption that he is a “nonresident alien” and change his status to that of a “resident alien” by filing IRS Form 1078 pursuant to 26 CFR §1.871-4(c)(ii) while he is in the “United States”.
 - 33 5.6. The term “residence” can only lawfully be used to describe the domicile of an “alien”. Nowhere is this term used to describe the domicile of a “non-citizen national” or a “nonresident alien”. See 26 CFR §1.871-2.
 - 34 5.7. The only way a statutory “alien” under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) can become both a “non-citizen national” and a “nonresident alien” at the same time is to be naturalized pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1421 and to have a domicile in either a U.S. possession or a state of the Union.

1 6. Sources of confusion on these issues:

2 6.1. One can be a “nonresident alien” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) without being an “individual” or a
3 “nonresident alien individual”. An example would be a human being born within the exclusive jurisdiction of a
4 state of the Union who is therefore a “non-citizen national” or “state national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21)
5 and 8 U.S.C. §1452 who does not participate in Social Security or use a Taxpayer Identification Number.
6 6.2. The term “United States” is defined in the Internal Revenue Code at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10).
7 6.3. The term “United States” for the purposes of citizenship is defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(38).
8 6.4. Any “U.S. Person” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30) who is not found in the “United States” (federal 9 territory pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d)) shall be treated as having an
10 effective domicile within the District of Columbia pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(39) and 26 U.S.C. §7408(d).
11 6.5. The term “United States” is equivalent for the purposes of statutory “citizens” pursuant to 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) and
12 “citizens” as used in the Internal Revenue Code. See 26 CFR §1.1-1(c).
13 6.6. The term “United States” as used in the Constitution of the United States is NOT equivalent to the statutory 14 definition of the term used in:
15 6.6.1. 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10).
16 6.6.2. 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(38).
17 The “United States” as used in the Constitution means the states of the Union and excludes federal territory, while
18 the term “United States” as used in federal statutory law means federal territory and excludes states of the Union.
19 6.7. A constitutional “citizen of the United States” as mentioned in the Fourteenth Amendment is NOT equivalent to a
20 statutory “citizen and national of the United States” as used in 8 U.S.C. §1401. See:

Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21 6.8. In the case of jurisdiction over aliens only, the term “United States” implies all 50 states and the federal zone, and
22 is not restricted only to the federal zone. See:
23 6.8.1. Nonresident Alien Position, Form #05.020
24 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
25 6.8.2. Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753 (1972)

26 In accord with ancient principles of the international law of nation-states, the Court in The Chinese Exclusion Case, 130 U.S. 581, 609 (1889), and in Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698 (1893), held broadly, as
27 the Government describes it, Brief for Appellants 20, that the power to exclude aliens is “inherent in
28 sovereignty, necessary for maintaining normal international relations and defending the country against 29 foreign encroachments and dangers - a power to be exercised exclusively by the political branches of
30 government” Since that time, the Court’s general reaffirmations of this principle have [408 U.S. 753,
31 766] been legion. 6 The Court without exception has sustained Congress’ “plenary power to make rules for 32 the admission of aliens and to exclude those who possess those characteristics which Congress has
33 forbidden.” Boutilier v. Immigration and Naturalization Service, 387 U.S. 118, 123 (1967). “[O]ver no
34 conceivable subject is the legislative power of Congress more complete than it is over” the admission of 35 aliens. Oceanic Navigation Co. v. Stranahan, 214 U.S. 320, 339 (1909).
36 [Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753 (1972)]

37 6.8.3. Chae Chan Ping v. U.S., 130 U.S. 581 (1889)

38 While under our constitution and form of government the great mass of local matters is controlled by local
39 authorities, the United States, in their relation to foreign countries and their subjects or citizens, are one
40 nation, invested with powers which belong to independent nations, the exercise of which can be invoked for
41 the maintenance of its absolute independence and security throughout its entire territory. The powers to
42 declare war, make treaties, suppress insurrection, repel invasion, regulate foreign commerce, secure
43 republican governments to the states, and admit subjects of other nations to citizenship, are all sovereign
44 powers, restricted in their exercise only by the constitution itself and considerations of public policy and justice
45 which control, more or less, the conduct of all civilized nations. As said by this court in the case of Cohens v.
46 Virginia, 6 Wheat. 264, 413, speaking by the same great chief justice: That the United States form, for many,
47 and for most important purposes, a single nation, has not yet been denied. In war, we are one people. In
48 making peace, we are one people. In all commercial regulations, we are one and the same people. In many
49 other respects, the American people are one; and the government which is alone capable of controlling and
50 managing their interests in all these respects is the government of the Union. It is their government, and in 51 that character they have no other. America has chosen to [130 U.S. 581, 605] be in many respects, and to 52 many purposes, a nation; and for all these purposes her government is complete; to all these objects, it is 53 competent. The people have declared that in the exercise of all powers given for these objects it is supreme. It
54 can, then, in effecting these objects, legitimately control all individuals or governments within the American 55 territory.”
56 [. . .]

1 The power of exclusion of foreigners being an incident of sovereignty belonging to the government of the
2 United States as a part of those sovereign powers delegated by the constitution, the right to its exercise at any
3 time when, in the judgment of the government, the interests of the country require it, cannot be granted away or
4 restrained on behalf of any one. The powers of government are delegated in trust to the United States, and are
5 incapable of transfer to any other parties. They cannot be abandoned or surrendered. Nor can their exercise
6 be hampered, when needed for the public good, by any considerations of private interest. The exercise of
7 these public trusts is not the subject of barter or contract."
8 [Chae Chan Ping v. U.S., 130 U.S. 581 (1889)]

9 12.8 Effect of Federal Franchises and Offices Upon Your Citizenship and Standing in Court

10 Another important element of citizenship is that artificial entities like corporations are statutory but not Constitutional 11 citizens in the context of civil litigation.

12 "A corporation is a citizen, resident, or inhabitant of the state or country by or under the laws of which it was 13 created, and of that state or country only."
14 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §886]

16 "A corporation is not a citizen within the meaning of that provision of the Constitution, which declares that the 17 citizens of each State shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens of the several States."
18 [Paul v. Virginia, 8 Wall. (U.S.) 168, 19 L.Ed. 357 (1868)]

19 Likewise, all governments are "corporations" as well.

20 "Corporations are also of all grades, and made for varied objects; all governments are corporations, created
21 by usage and common consent, or grants and charters which create a body politic for prescribed purposes;
22 but whether they are private, local or general, in their objects, for the enjoyment of property, or the exercise
23 of power, they are all governed by the same rules of law, as to the construction and the obligation of the
24 instrument by which the incorporation is made. One universal rule of law protects persons and property. It is
25 a fundamental principle of the common law of England, that the term freemen of the kingdom, includes 'all
26 persons,' ecclesiastical and temporal, incorporate, politique or natural; it is a part of their magna charta (2
27 Inst. 4), and is incorporated into our institutions. The persons of the members of corporations are on the same
28 footing of protection as other persons, and their corporate property secured by the same laws which protect
29 that of individuals. 2 Inst. 46-7. 'No man shall be taken,' 'no man shall be disseised,' without due process of law,
30 is a principle taken from magna charta, infused into all our state constitutions, and is made inviolable by the
31 federal government, by the amendments to the constitution."
32 [Proprietors of Charles River Bridge v. Proprietors of Warren Bridge, 36 U.S. 420 (1837)]

34 TITLE 28 - JUDICIARY AND JUDICIAL PROCEDURE
35 PART VI - PARTICULAR PROCEEDINGS
36 CHAPTER 176 - FEDERAL DEBT COLLECTION PROCEDURE
37 SUBCHAPTER A - DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS
38 Sec. 3002. Definitions

39 (15) "United States" means -
40 (A) a Federal corporation;
41 (B) an agency, department, commission, board, or other entity of the United States; or
42 (C) an instrumentality of the United States.

44 "A federal corporation operating within a state is considered a domestic corporation rather than a foreign 45 corporation. The United States government is a foreign corporation with respect to a state."
46 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §883]

47 Those who are acting in a representative capacity on behalf of the national government as "public officers" therefore 48 assume the same status as their employer pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b). To wit:

49 IV. PARTIES > Rule 17.
50 Rule 17. Parties Plaintiff and Defendant; Capacity

51 (b) Capacity to Sue or be Sued.

52 Capacity to sue or be sued is determined as follows:

1 (1) for an individual who is not acting in a representative capacity, by the law of the individual's domicile;
2 (2) for a corporation/the "United States", in this case, or its officers on official duty representing the
3 corporation, by the law under which it was organized[laws of the District of Columbia]; and
4 (3) for all other parties, by the law of the state where the court is located, except that:
5 (A) a partnership or other unincorporated association with no such capacity under that state's law may sue
6 or be sued in its common name to enforce a substantive right existing under the United States Constitution
7 or laws; and
8 (B) 28 U.S.C. §§ 754 and 959(a) govern the capacity of a receiver appointed by a United States court to sue
9 or be sued in a United States court.
10 [SOURCE: <http://www.law.cornell.edu/rules/frcp/Rule17.htm>]

11 Persons acting in the capacity as "public officers" of the national government are therefore acting as "officers of a 12 corporation" as described in 26 U.S.C. §6671(b) and 26 U.S.C. §7343 and become "persons" within the meaning of federal 13 statutory law.

14 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 68 > Subchapter B > PART I > § 6671
15 § 6671. Rules for application of assessable penalties

16 (b) Person defined

17 The term "person", as used in this subchapter, includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member
18 or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in
19 respect of which the violation occurs.

21 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 75 > Subchapter D > § 7343
22 §7343. Definition of term "person"

23 The term "person" as used in this chapter includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member or
24 employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in
25 respect of which the violation occurs.

26 Because all corporations are "citizens", then "public officers" also take on the character of "U.S. citizens" in the capacity of 27 their official duties, regardless of what they are as private individuals. It is also interesting to note that IRS correspondence
28 very conspicuously warns the recipient right underneath the return address the following, confirming that they are 29 corresponding with a "public officer" and not a private individual:

30 "Penalty for private use $300."

31 Note that all "taxpayers" are "public officers" of the national government, and they are referred to in the Internal Revenue
32 Code as "effectively connected with a trade or business". The term "trade or business" is defined as "the functions of a 33 public office":

34 26 U.S.C. Sec. 7701(a)(26)

35 "The term 'trade or business' includes the performance of the functions of a public office."

45 The U.S. Supreme Court has also said it is "repugnant to the constitution" for the government to regulate private conduct.
46 The only way you can lawfully become subject to the government's jurisdiction or the tax laws is to engage in "public 47 conduct" as a "public officer" of the national government.

1 "The power to "legislate generally upon" life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the "power to provide

13 §2 How Office Differs from Employment.-

14 A public office differs in material particulars from a public employment, for, as was said by Chief Justice
15 MARSHALL, "although an office is an employment, it does not follow that every employment is an office. A man 16 may certainly be employed under a contract, express or implied, to perform a service without becoming an 17 officer."

18 "We apprehend that the term 'office,'" said the judges of the supreme court of Maine, "implies a delegation of a
19 portion of the sovereign power to, and the possession of it by, the person filling the office; and the exercise of 20 such power within legal limits constitutes the correct discharge of the duties of such office. The power thus 21 delegated and possessed may be a portion belonging sometimes to one of the three great departments and
22 sometimes to another; still it is a legal power which may be rightfully exercised, and in its effects it will bind the
23 rights of others and be subject to revision and correction only according to the standing laws of the state. An 24 employment merely has none of these distinguishing features. A public agent acts only on behalf of his
25 principal, the public, whose sanction is generally considered as necessary to give the acts performed the 26 authority and power of a public act or law. And if the act be such as not to require subsequent sanction, still it
27 is only a species of service performed under the public authority and for the public good, but not in the 28 exercise of any standing laws which are considered as roles of action and guardians of rights."

29 "The officer is distinguished from the employee," says Judge COOLEY, "in the greater importance, dignity and
30 independence of his position; in being required to take an official oath, and perhaps to give an official bond; in
31 the liability to be called to account as a public offender for misfeasance or non-feasance in office, and usually,
32 though not necessarily, in the tenure of his position. In particular cases, other distinctions will appear which 33 are not general."

36 The ruse described in this section of making corporations into "citizens" and those who work for them into "public
37 officers" of the government and "taxpayers" started just after the Civil War. Congress has always been limited to taxing 38 things that it creates, which means it has never been able to tax anything but federal and not state corporations. The 39 Supreme Court has confirmed, for instance, that the income tax is and always has been a franchise or privilege tax upon 40 profit of federal corporations.

41 "Excises are taxes laid upon the manufacture, sale or consumption of commodities within the country, upon 42 licenses to pursue certain occupations and upon corporate privileges...the requirement to pay such taxes
43 involves the exercise of [220 U.S. 107, 152] privileges, and the element of absolute and unavoidable demand 44 is lacking...

45 ...It is therefore well settled by the decisions of this court that when the sovereign authority has exercised the
46 right to tax a legitimate subject of taxation as an exercise of a franchise or privilege, it is no objection that the 47 measure of taxation is found in the income produced in part from property which of itself considered is 48 nontaxable...

49 Conceding the power of Congress to tax the business activities of private corporations.. the tax must be 50 measured by some standard..."
51 [\[Flint v. Stone Tracy Co., 220 U.S. 107 \(1911\)\]](#)

52

53 "The Sixteenth Amendment declares that Congress shall have power to levy and collect taxes on income, "from
54 [271 U.S. 174] whatever source derived," without apportionment among the several states and without regard
55 to any census or enumeration. It was not the purpose or effect of that amendment to bring any new subject

1 within the taxing power. Congress already had power to tax all incomes. But taxes on incomes from some
2 sources had been held to be "direct taxes" within the meaning of the constitutional requirement as to
3 apportionment. Art. 1, § 2, cl. 3, § 9, cl. 4; Pollock v. Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., 158 U.S. 601. The
4 Amendment relieved from that requirement, and obliterated the distinction in that respect between taxes on
5 income that are direct taxes and those that are not, and so put on the same basis all incomes "from whatever
6 source derived." Brushaber v. Union P. R. Co., 240 U.S. 1, 17. "Income" has been taken to mean the same
7 thing as used in the Corporation Excise Tax Act of 1909, in the Sixteenth Amendment, and in the various
8 revenue acts subsequently passed. Southern Pacific Co. v. Lowe, 247 U.S. 330, 335; MERCHANTS' L. & T. CO.
9 v. Smietanka, 255 U.S. 509, 219. After full consideration, this Court declared that income may be defined as
10 gain derived from capital, from labor, or from both combined, including profit gained through sale or
11 conversion of capital. Stratton's Independence v. Howbert, 231 U.S. 399, 415; Doyle v. Mitchell Brothers
12 Co., 247 U.S. 179, 185; Eisner v. Macomber, 252 U.S. 189, 207. And that definition has been adhered to and
13 applied repeatedly. See, e.g., MERCHANTS' L. & T. CO. v. Smietanka, supra; 518; Goodrich v. Edwards, 255 U.S.
14 527, 535; United States v. Phellis, 257 U.S. 156, 169; Miles v. Safe Deposit Co., 259 U.S. 247, 252-253; United
15 States v. Supplee-Biddle Co., 265 U.S. 189, 194; Irwin v. Gavit, 268 U.S. 161, 167; Edwards v. Cuba Railroad,
16 268 U.S. 628, 633. In determining what constitutes income, substance rather than form is to be given
17 controlling weight. Eisner v. Macomber, supra, 206. [271 U.S. 175]

19

20 "As repeatedly pointed out by this court, the Corporation Tax Law of 1909. imposed an excise or privilege tax,
21 and not in any sense, a tax upon property or upon income merely as income. It was enacted in view of the
22 decision of Pollock v. Farmer's Loan & T. Co., 157 U.S. 429, 29 L.Ed. 759, 15 Sup. St. Rep. 673, 158 U.S. 601,
23 39 L.Ed. 1108, 15 Sup.Ct.Rep. 912, which held the income tax provisions of a previous law to be
24 unconstitutional because amounting in effect to a direct tax upon property within the meaning of the 25 Constitution, and because not apportioned in the manner required by that instrument."
26 [U.S. v. Whiteridge, 231 U.S. 144, 34 S.Sup.Ct. 24 (1913)]

27 To create and expand a national income tax, the federal government therefore had to make the municipal government of the 28 District of Columbia into a federal corporation in 1871 and then impose an income tax upon the officers of the corporation
29 ("public officers") by making all of their earnings from the office into "profit" and "gross income" subject to excise tax
30 upon the franchise they participate in. Below is the history of this transformation. You can find more in Great IRS Hoax,

35 2. The License Tax Cases was heard in 1866 by the Supreme Court, in which the Supreme Court said that Congress could

12.9 Federal Statutory Citizenship Statuses Diagram

We have prepared a Venn diagram showing all of the various types of citizens so that you can properly distinguish them. The important thing to notice about this diagram is that there are multiple types of “citizens of the United States” and “nationals of the United States” because there are multiple definitions of “United States” according to the Supreme Court, as was shown in 12.1 earlier.

FEDERAL STATUTORY CITIZENSHIP STATUSES

"The term 'United States' may be used in any one of several senses. 1) It may be merely the name of a sovereign occupying the position analogous to that of other sovereigns in the family of nations. 2) It may designate the territory over which the sovereignty of the United States extends, or 3) it may be the collective name of the states which are united by and under the Constitution." 11 12.10.2 How to describe your citizenship on government forms¹³

12 This section provides some pointers on how to describe your citizenship status on government forms in order to avoid being 13 confused with a someone who has a domicile on federal territory and therefore no Constitutional rights. Below is a 14 summary of how we recommend protecting yourself from the prejudicial presumptions of others about your citizenship
15 status:

16 1. Keep in mind the following facts about all government forms:

17 1.1. Government forms ALWAYS imply the LEGAL/STATUTORY rather than POLITICAL/CONSTITUTIONAL
18 status of the party in the context of all franchises, including income taxes and social security.
19 1.2. "Alien" on government forms means a STATUTORY alien domiciled outside the federal zone, which we also call
20 the "statutory United States". It includes both people domiciled in a constitutional state and those domiciled in 21 a foreign country. "Alien" is always relative to domicile and not nationality.
22 1.3. The Internal Revenue Code does NOT define the term "nonresident alien". The closest thing to a definition is that
23 found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B), which defines what it ISN'T, but NOT what it IS. If you look on IRS Form
24 W-8BEN, Block 3, you can see that there are many different types of entities that can be nonresident aliens, none
25 of which are included in the definition at 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B). It is therefore IMPOSSIBLE to conclude
26 based on any definition in the Internal Revenue Code that a specific person IS or IS NOT a "nonresident alien."
27 1.4. On tax forms, the term "nonresident alien" is NOT a subset of the term "alien", but rather a SUPERSET. It
28 includes both FOREIGN nationals domiciled in a foreign country and also persons in Constitutional states of the 29 Union. A "national of the United States", for instance, although NOT an "alien" under Title 8 of the U.S. Code,
30 is an "alien" under Title 26 of the U.S. Code. Therefore, a "nonresident alien" is a "word of art" designed to 31 confuse people, and the fact that uses the word "alien" doesn't mean it IS an "alien". This is covered in:

Flawed Tax Arguments to Avoid, Form #08.004, Section 6.7
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

32 2. Anyone who PRESUMES any of the following should promptly be DEMANDED to prove the presumption with 33 legally admissible evidence from the law. ALL of these presumptions are FALSE and cannot be proven:

34 2.1. That you can trust ANYTHING that either a government form OR a government employee says. The courts say
35 not only that you CANNOT, but that you can be PENALIZED for doing so. See:

Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

¹³ Adapted from Why You are a "national", "state national", and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006, Section 13.1; <http://sedm.org>.

1 2.2. That nationality and domicile are synonymous.
2 2.3. That “nonresident aliens” are a SUBSET of “aliens” within the Internal Revenue Code.
3 2.4. That the term “United States” has the SAME meaning in Title 8 of the U.S. Code as it has in Title 26.
4 2.5. That “non-citizen nationals” (per 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21)) or “nationals of the United States” (per 8 U.S.C. §1408)
5 are NOT “aliens” under the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C..
6 2.6. That a Fourteenth Amendment “citizen of the United States” is equivalent to any of the following:
7 2.6.1. 8 U.S.C. §1401 “national and citizen of the United States”.
8 2.6.2. 26 CFR §1.1-1 “citizen”.
9 2.6.3. 26 U.S.C. §3121(e) “citizen of the United States”.
10 All of the above statuses have similar sounding names, but they rely on a DIFFERENT definition of “United 11 States” from that found in the USA Constitution.
12 2.7. That you can be a statutory “taxpayer” or statutory “citizen” of any kind WITHOUT your consent. See:

Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 3. The safest way to describe oneself is to check “Other” for citizenship or add an “Other” box if the form doesn’t have 14 one and then do one of the following:
15 3.1. Write in the “Other” box

16 “See attached mandatory Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001”

17 and then attach the following completed form:

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

18 3.2. If you don’t want to include an attachment, add the following mandatory language to the form that you are a:
19 3.2.1. A “Citizen and national of _____(statename)”
20 3.2.2. NOT a statutory “national and citizen of the United States” or “U.S. citizen” per 8 U.S.C. 1401
21 3.2.3. A constitutional or Fourteenth Amendment Citizen.
22 3.2.4. A statutory alien per 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) for the purposes of the federal income tax.
23 4. If the recipient of the form says they won’t accept attachments or won’t allow you to write explanatory information on 24 the form needed to prevent perjuring the form, then send them an update via certified mail AFTER they accept your 25 submission so that you have legal evidence that they tried to tamper with a federal witness and conspired to commit 26 perjury on the form.
27 5. For detailed instructions on how to fill out the Department of State Form I-9, See:

29 7. To undo the damage you have done over the years to your status by incorrectly describing your status, send in the 30 following form and submit according to the instructions provided. This form says that all future government forms 31 submitted shall have this form included or attached by reference.

32 8. Quit using Taxpayer Identifying Numbers (TINs). 20 CFR §422.104 says that only statutory “U.S. citizens” and 33 “permanent residents” can lawfully apply for Social Security Numbers, both of which share in common a domicile on
34 federal territory such as statutory “U.S. citizens” and “residents” (aliens), can lawfully use such a number. 26 CFR
35 §301.6109-1(b) also indicates that “U.S. persons”, meaning persons with a domicile on federal territory, are required to 36 furnish such a number if they file tax forms. “Foreign persons” are also mentioned in 26 CFR §301.6109-1(b), but 37 these parties also elect to have an effective domicile on federal territory and thereby become “persons” by engaging in 38 federal franchises. See:

2 9. If you are completing any kind of government form or application to any kind of financial institution other than a tax
3 form and you are asked for your citizenship status, TIN, or Social Security Number, attach the following form and 4 prepare according to the instructions provided:

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001

8 12. If you are applying for a USA passport, attach the following form and prepare according to the instructions provided:

USA Passport Application Attachment, Form #06.007

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

9 13. If you are submitting a complaint, response, pleading, or motion to a federal court, you should attach the following
10 form:

Federal Pleading/Motion/Petition Attachment, Litigation Tool #01.002

<http://sedm.org/Litigation/LitIndex.htm>

11 14. Use as many of the free forms as you can from the page below. They are very well thought out to avoid traps set by 12 the predators who run the American government:

SEDM Forms Page

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 15. When engaging in correspondence with anyone in the government, legal, or financial profession about your status that 14 occurs on other than a standard government form, use the following guidelines:

15 15.1. In the return address for the correspondence, place the phrase “(NOT A DOMICILE OR RESIDENCE)”.

16 15.2. Entirely avoid the use of the words “citizen”, “citizenship”, “resident”, “inhabitant”. Instead, prefer the term
17 “non-citizen national”, and “transient foreigner”.

18 15.3. Never describe yourself as an “individual” or “person”. 5 U.S.C. §552a(a)(2) says that this entity is a government
19 employee who is a statutory “U.S. citizen” or “resident” (alien). Instead, refer to yourself as a “transient
20 foreigner” and a “nonresident”. Some forms such as IRS form W-8BEN Block 3 have no block for “transient
21 foreigner” or “nonresident NON-individual”, in which case modify the form to add that option. See the following 22 for details:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

23 15.4. Entirely avoid the use of the phrase “United States”, because it has so many different and mutually exclusive
24 meanings in the U.S. code and state law. Instead, replace this phrase with the name of the state you either are 25 physically present within or with “USA” and then define that “USA” includes the states of the Union and 26 excludes federal territory. For instance, you could say “Citizen of California Republic” and then put an asterisk
27 next to it and at the bottom of the page explain the asterisk as follows:

28 * NOT a citizen of the STATE of California, which is a corporate extension of the federal government, but
29 instead a sovereign Citizen of the California Republic

30 California Revenue and Taxation Code, section 6017 defines “State of” as follows:

31 “6017. ‘In this State’ or ‘in the State’ means within the exterior limits of the State of California and 32 includes all territory within these limits owned by or ceded to the United States of America.”

33 15.5. Never use the word “residence”, “permanent address”, or “domicile” in connection with either the term “United 34 States”, or the name of the state you are in.

35 15.6. If someone else refers to you improperly, vociferously correct them so that they are prevented from making
36 presumptions that would injure your rights.

37 15.7. Avoid words that are undefined in statutes that relate to citizenship. Always use words that are statutorily defined
38 and if you can’t find the definition, define it yourself on the form or correspondence you are sending. Use of 39 undefined words encourages false presumptions that will eventually injure your rights and give judges and
40 administrators discretion that they undoubtedly will abuse to their benefit. There isn’t even a common definition

1 of “citizen of the United States” or “U.S. citizen” in the standard dictionary, then the definition of “U.S. citizen”
2 in all the state statutes and on all government forms is up to us! Therefore, once again, whenever you fill out any
3 kind of form that specifies either “U.S. citizen” or “citizen of the United States”, you should be very careful to
4 clarify that it means “national” under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452 or you will be “presumed” to be
5 a federal citizen and a “citizen of the United States” under 8 U.S.C. §1401, and this is one of the biggest
6 injuries to your rights that you could ever inflict. Watch out folks! Here is the definition we recommend that you
7 use on any government form that uses these terms that makes the meaning perfectly clear and unambiguous:

8 “U.S. citizen” or “citizen of the United States”: A “National” defined in either 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21)
9 or 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B) and 8 U.S.C. §1452 who owes their permanent allegiance to the confederation of 10 states called the “United States”. Someone who was not born in the federal “United States” as defined in 8
11 U.S.C. §1101(a)(38) and who is NOT a “citizen of the United States” under 8 U.S.C. §1401.

12 15.8. Refer them to this pamphlet if they have questions and tell them to do their homework.

13 16. Citizenship status in Social Security NUMIDENT record:

14 16.1. The NUMIDENT record derives from what was filled out on the SS-5 form, block 5. See:
15 <http://www.ssa.gov/online/ss-5.pdf>

16 16.2. One’s citizenship status is encoded within the NUMIDENT record using the “CSP code” within the Numident
17 record. This code is called the “citizenship code” by the Social Security administration.

18 16.3. Like all government forms, the terms used on the SS-5 form use the STATUTORY context, not the 19 CONSTITUTIONAL context for all citizenship words. Hence, block 5 of the SS-5 form should be filled out with 20 “Legal Alien Authorized to Work”, which means you are a STATUTORY but not CONSTITUTIONAL alien.
21 This is consistent with the definition of “individual” found in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3), which defines the term to 22 include ONLY STATUTORY “aliens”.

23 16.4. Those who are not STATUTORY “nationals and citizens of the United States” at birth per 8 U.S.C. §1401 or 24 26 U.S.C. §3121(e), and 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) have a “CSP code” of B in their NUMIDENT record, which 25 corresponds with a CSP code of “B”. The comment field of te NUMIDENT record should also be annotated with 26 the following to ensure that it is not changed during an audit because of confusion on the part of the SSA
27 employee:

28 “CSP Code B not designated in error-- applicant is an American national with a domicile and residence in a 29 foreign state for the purposes of the Social Security Act.”

30 16.5. The local SSA office cannot provide a copy of the NUMIDENT record. Only the central SSA headquarters can 31 provide it by submitting a Privacy Act request rather than a FOIA using the following resource:

32 Guide to Freedom of Information Act, Social Security Administration

33 http://www.ssa.gov/foia/html/foia_guide.htm

34 16.6. Information in the NUMIDENT record is shared with:

35 16.6.1. The Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

36 16.6.2. State Department of Motor Vehicles in verifying SSNs.

37 16.6.3. E-Verify.

38 13 “Sovereign”=“Foreign”¹⁴

39 In law, a “nonresident alien” is called a “foreigner”, “stranger”, “transient foreigner”, “sojourner”, “stateless person”, or 40 simply a “nonresident”. This is an unavoidable result of the fact that states of the Union are:

41 1. Sovereign in respect to each other and in respect to federal jurisdiction.

¹⁴ Adapted with permission from Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, section 4.3.7.

1 2. “foreign countries” or “foreign states” with respect to federal legislative jurisdiction.

2 *The United States Government is a foreign corporation with respect to a state.” [N.Y. v. re Merriam 36 N.E.
3 505, 141 N.Y. 479, affirmed 16 S.Ct. 1073, 41 L.Ed. 287]
4 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §884]*

5 3. Addressed as “states” rather than “States” in federal law because they are foreign.
6 4. The equivalent of independent nations in respect to federal jurisdiction excepting the subject of foreign affairs.

7 The States between each other are sovereign and independent. They are distinct and separate sovereignties,
8 except so far as they have parted with some of the attributes of sovereignty by the Constitution. They continue
9 to be nations, with all their rights, and under all their national obligations, and with all the rights of nations
10 in every particular; except in the surrender by each to the common purposes and objects of the Union, under 11 the Constitution. The rights of each State, when not so yielded up, remain absolute.”
12 [Bank of Augusta v. Earle, 38 U.S. (13 Pet.) 519, 10 L.Ed. 274 (1839)]*

13 Many Americans naturally cringe at the idea of being called a “foreigner” in their own country. The purpose of this section
14 is to explain why there is nothing wrong with maintaining the status of being “foreign” and why it is the ONLY way to 15 preserve and protect the separation of powers that was put into place by the very wise founding fathers for the explicit
16 purpose of protecting our sacred Constitutional Rights.

17 Going along with the notion of the Separation Of Powers doctrine is the concept of “sovereignty”. Sovereignty is the 18 foundation of all government in America and fundamental to understanding our American system of government. Below is 19 how President Theodore Roosevelt, one of our most beloved Presidents, describes “sovereignty”:

20 *We of this mighty western Republic have to grapple with the dangers that spring from popular self-government
21 tried on a scale incomparably vaster than ever before in the history of mankind, and from an abounding
22 material prosperity greater also than anything which the world has hitherto seen.*

23 *As regards the first set of dangers, it behooves us to remember that men can never escape being governed.
24 Either they must govern themselves or they must submit to being governed by others. If from lawlessness or
25 fickleness, from folly or self-indulgence, they refuse to govern themselves then most assuredly in the end they
26 will have to be governed from the outside. They can prevent the need of government from without only by
27 showing they possess the power of government from within. A sovereign cannot make excuses for his failures; a
28 sovereign must accept the responsibility for the exercise of power that inheres in him; and where, as is true in
29 our Republic, the people are sovereign, then the people must show a sober understanding and a sane and
30 steadfast purpose if they are to preserve that orderly liberty upon which as a foundation every republic must 31 rest.”
32 [President Theodore Roosevelt; Opening of the Jamestown Exposition; Norfolk, VA, April 26, 1907]*

33 In this section, we will cover some very important implications of sovereignty within the context of government authority
34 and jurisdiction generally. We will analyze these implications both from the standpoint of relations WITHIN a government
35 and the relationship that government has with its citizens and subjects. This is expanded upon the subject of sovereignty in 36 the context of taxes in sections 5.2.2 and 5.2.3 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302.

37 Sovereignty can exist within individuals, families, churches, cities, counties, states, nations, and even international bodies.
38 This is depicted in the “onion diagram” below, which shows the organization of personal, family, church, and civil 39 government graphically. The boundaries and relations between each level of government are defined by God Himself, who 40 is the Creator of all things and the Author of the user manual for it all, His Holy Book. Each level of the “onion” below is 41 considered sovereign, independent, and “foreign” with respect to all the levels external to it. Each level of the diagram
42 represents an additional layer of protection for those levels within it, keeping in mind that the purpose of government at 43 every level is “protection” of the sovereigns which it was created to serve and which are within it in the diagram below:

44 Figure 3: Hierarchy of sovereignty

2 The interior levels of the above onion govern and direct the external levels of the onion. For instance, citizens govern and
 3 direct their city, county, state, and federal governments by exercising their political right to vote and serve on jury duty.
 4 Here is how the Supreme Court describes it:

5 *"The words 'people of the United States' and 'citizens,' are synonymous terms, and mean the same thing. They
 6 both describe the political body who, according to our republican institutions, form the sovereignty, and who
 7 hold the power and conduct the government through their representatives. They are what we familiarly call
 8 'the sovereign people,' and every citizen is one of this people, and a constituent member of this sovereignty. ..."*
 9 [Boyd v. State of Nebraska, 143 U.S. 135 (1892)]

10 *"...at the Revolution, the sovereignty devolved on the people; and they are truly the sovereigns of the country,
 11 but they are sovereigns without subjects...with none to govern but themselves; the citizens of America are equal 12 as fellow citizens, and as joint tenants in the sovereignty."*
 13 [Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 Dall (U.S.) 419, 454, 1 L.Ed. 440, 455 @DALL 1793, pp. 471-472]

14 City governments control their state governments by directing elections, controlling what appears on the ballot, and 15 controlling how much of the property and sales tax revenues are given to the states. State government exercise their 16 authority over the federal government by sending elected representatives to run the Senate and by controlling the "purse" of 17 the federal government when direct taxes are apportioned to states.

1 Sovereignty also exists within a single governmental unit. For instance, in the previous section, we described the
2 Separation of Powers Doctrine by showing how a “republican form of government” divides the federal government into
3 three distinct, autonomous, and completely independent branches that are free from the control of the other branches.
4 Therefore, the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial departments of both state and federal governments are “foreign” and 5 “alien” with respect to the other branches.

6 Sovereignty is defined in man’s law as follows, in Black’s Law Dictionary:

7 “Sovereignty. The supreme, absolute, and uncontrollable power by which any independent state is governed; supreme political authority; paramount control of the constitution and frame of government and its administration; self sufficient source of political power, from which all specific political powers are derived; the international independence of a state, combined with the right and power of regulating its internal affairs without foreign dictation; also a political society, or state, which is sovereign and independent. Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 Dall. 455, 1 L.Ed. 440; Union Bank v. Hill, 3 Cold., Tenn 325; Moore v. Shaw, 17 Cal. 218, 79 Am.Dec. 123; State v. Dixon, 66 Mont. 76, 213 P. 227.”

15 “Sovereignty” consists of the combination of legal authority and responsibility that a government or individual has within 16 our American system of jurisprudence. The key words in the above definition of sovereignty are: “foreign”,
17 “uncontrollable”, and “independence”. A “sovereign” is:

18 1. A servant and fiduciary of all sovereigns internal to it.
19 2. Not subject to the legislative or territorial jurisdiction of any external sovereign. This is because he is the “author” of 20 the law that governs the external sovereign and therefore not subject to it.

21 “Sovereignty itself is, of course, not subject to law, for it is the author and source of law...While sovereign powers are delegated to...the government, sovereignty itself remains with the people.”
23

24 3. “Foreign” but not a privileged “alien” with respect to other external sovereigns, from a legal perspective. This means 25 that:
26 3.1. The purpose of the laws of the sovereign at any level is to establish a fiduciary duty to protect the rights and 27 sovereignty of all those entities which are internal to a sovereignty.
28 3.2. The existence of a sovereign may be acknowledged and defined, but not limited by the laws of an external
29 sovereign.
30 3.3. The rights and duties of a sovereign are not prescribed in any law of an external sovereign.
31 4. “Independent” of other sovereigns. This means that:
32 4.1. The sovereign has a duty to support and govern itself completely and to not place any demands for help upon an 33 external sovereign.
34 4.2. The moment a sovereign asks for “benefits” or help, it ceases to be sovereign and independent and must surrender
35 its rights and sovereignty to an external sovereign using his power to contract in order to procure needed help.
36 5. The purpose of the Constitution is to preserve “self-government” and independence at every level of sovereignty in the 37 above onion diagram:

38 *“The determination of the Framers Convention and the ratifying conventions to preserve complete and 39 unimpaired state [and personal] self-government in all matters not committed to the general government is 40 one of the plainest facts which emerges from the history of their deliberations. And adherence to that 41 determination is incumbent equally upon the federal government and the states. State powers can neither be 42 appropriated on the one hand nor abdicated on the other. As this court said in Texas v. White, 7 Wall. 700,
43 725, The preservation of the States, and the maintenance of their governments, are as much within the 44 design and care of the Constitution as the preservation of the Union and the maintenance of the National 45 government. The Constitution, in all its provisions, looks to an indestructible Union, composed of indestructible
46 States.’ Every journey to a forbidden end begins with the first step; and the danger of such a step by the federal 47 government in the direction of taking over the powers of the states is that the end of the journey may find the 48 states so despoiled of their powers, or-what may amount to the same thing-so [298 U.S. 238, 296] relieved of 49 the responsibilities which possession of the powers necessarily enjoins, as to reduce them to little more than 50 geographical subdivisions of the national domain. It is safe to say that if, when the Constitution was under 51 consideration, it had been thought that any such danger lurked behind its plain words, it would never have been 52 ratified.”*
53 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238 (1936)]

54 Below are some examples of the operation of the above rules for sovereignty within the American system of government:

1 1. No federal law prescribes a duty upon a person who is a “national” but not a “citizen” under federal law, as defined in 8
2 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) , 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B), or 8 U.S.C. §1452. References to “nationals” within federal law are
3 rare and every instance where it is mentioned is in the context of duties and obligations of public servants, rather than 4 the “national himself” or herself.
5 2. Human beings who have not expressly and in writing contracted away their rights are “sovereign”. Here is how the 6 U.S. Supreme Court describes it:

7 *“There is a clear distinction in this particular case between an individual and a corporation, and that the latter
8 has no right to refuse to submit its books and papers for an examination at the suit of the State. The individual
9 may stand upon his constitutional rights as a citizen. He is entitled to carry on his private business in his own
10 way. His power to contract is unlimited. He owes no such duty to the State, since he receives nothing therefrom,
11 beyond the protection of his life and property. His rights are such as existed by the law of the land long
12 antecedent to the organization of the State, and can only be taken from him by due process of law, and in 13 accordance with the constitution. Among his rights are a refusal to incriminate himself, and the immunity of 14 himself and his property from arrest or seizure except under a warrant of the law. He owes nothing to the 15 public so long as he does not trespass upon their rights.”*
16 Hale v. Henkel, [201 U.S. 43, 74 (1905)]

17 3. States of the Union and the Federal government are both immune from lawsuits against them by “nationals”, except in 18 cases where they voluntarily consent by law. This is called “sovereign immunity”. Read the Supreme Court case of 19 Alden v. Maine, 527 U.S. 706 (1999) for exhaustive details on the constitutional basis for this immunity.
20 4. States of the Union are “foreign” with respect to the federal government for the purposes of legislative jurisdiction. In 21 federal law, they are called “foreign states” and they are described with the lower case word “states” within the U.S.
22 Code and in upper case “States” in the Constitution. Federal “States”, which are actually territories of the United 23 States (see 4 U.S.C. §110(d)) are spelled in upper case in most federal statutes and codes. States of the Union are 24 immune from the jurisdiction of federal courts, except in cases where they voluntarily consent to be subject to the 25 jurisdiction. The federal government is immune from the jurisdiction of state courts and international bodies, except 26 where it consents to be sued as a matter of law. This is called “sovereign immunity”.

27 Foreign States: “Nations outside of the United States...Term may also refer to another state; i.e. a sister state.
28 The term ‘foreign nations’, ...should be construed to mean all nations and states other than that in which the
29 action is brought; and hence, one state of the Union is foreign to another, in that sense.”
30 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 648]

31 Foreign Laws: “The laws of a foreign country or sister state. In conflicts of law, the legal principles of 32 jurisprudence which are part of the law of a sister state or nation. Foreign laws are additions to our own laws,
33 and in that respect are called ‘jus receptum’.”
34 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 647]

35 5. The rules for surrendering sovereignty are described in the “Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act”, which is codified in 36 28 U.S.C. §§1602-1611. A list of exceptions to the act in 28 U.S.C. §1605 define precisely what behaviors cause a 37 sovereign to surrender their sovereignty to a fellow sovereign.

38 The key point we wish to emphasize throughout this section is that a sovereign is “foreign” with respect to all other
39 external (outside them within the onion diagram) sovereigns and therefore not subject to their jurisdiction. In that respect, a
40 sovereign is considered a “foreigner” of one kind or another in the laws of every sovereign external to it. For instance, a
41 person who is a “national” but not a subject “citizen” under federal law, as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C.
42 §1452, is classified as a “nonresident alien” within the Internal Revenue Code. He is “alien” to the code because he is not 43 subject to it and he is a “nonresident” because he does not maintain a domicile in the federal zone. This is no accident, but
44 simply proof in the law itself that such a person is in deed and in fact a “sovereign” with respect to the government entity
45 that serves him. Understanding this key point is the foundation for understanding the next chapter, where we will prove to 46 you with the government’s own laws that most Americans born in and living within states of the Union, which are “foreign 47 states” with respect to federal jurisdiction, are:

48 1. “nonresident aliens” as defined under 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B)
49 2. Not “persons” or “individuals” within federal civil law, including the Internal Revenue Code. You can’t be a “person”
50 or an “individual” within federal law unless you either have a domicile within federal jurisdiction or contract with the 51 federal government to procure an identity or “res” within their jurisdiction and thereby become a “res-ident”. The U.S.
52 Supreme Court has held that the rights of human beings are unalienable, which means they can’t be bargained or 53 contracted away through any commercial process. Therefore, domicile is the only lawful source of jurisdiction over 54 human beings.

Nonresident Alien Position

1 “Men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, -'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness,'
2 and to 'secure,' not grant or create, these rights, governments are instituted. That property [or income] which
3 a man has honestly acquired he retains full control of . . .
4 [Budd v. People of State of New York, 143 U.S. 517 (1892)]

5 Furthermore, the Bible says we can't contract with “the Beast”, meaning the government and therefore, we have no
6 delegated authority to give away our rights to the government:

7 “You shall make no covenant [contract or franchise] with them [foreigners, pagans], nor with their [pagan
8 government] gods [laws or judges]. They shall not dwell in your land [and you shall not dwell in theirs by
9 becoming a “resident” in the process of contracting with them], lest they make you sin against Me [God].
10 For if you serve their gods [under contract or agreement or franchise], it will surely be a snare to you.”
11 [Exodus 23:32-33, Bible, NKJV]

12 3. Not “nonresident alien individuals”. You can't be a “nonresident alien individual” without first being an “individual”
13 and therefore a “person”. 26 U.S.C. §7701(c) defines the term “person” to include “individuals”. Instead, they are 14 “nonresident alien NON-individuals”.
15 4. “foreign” or “foreigners” with respect to federal jurisdiction. All of their property is classified as a “foreign estate”
16 under 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(31). In the Bible, this status is called a “stranger”:

17 “You shall neither mistreat a stranger nor oppress him, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt.”
18 [Exodus 22:21, Bible, NKJV]

19 “And if a stranger dwells with you in your land, you shall not mistreat him.”
20 [Leviticus 19:33, Bible, NKJV]

21 5. Not “foreign persons”. You can't be a “foreign person” without first being a “person”.
22 6. “nontaxpayers” if they do not earn any income from within the “federal zone” or that is connected with an excise
23 taxable activity called a “trade or business”, which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as a public office in the United 24 States government.
25 7. Not qualified to sit on a jury in a federal district court, because they are not “citizens” under federal law.

26 Now do you understand why the Internal Revenue Code does not define the term “foreign” anywhere? They don't want to 27 spill the beans and inform you that you are sovereign and not subject to their jurisdiction! Instead, they want to commit 28 treason by destroying the sovereignty of the people and thereby expand their jurisdiction illegally by:

29 1. Promoting false presumption about federal jurisdiction.
30 2. Exploiting “cognitive dissonance” by appealing to the aversion of the average American to being called a “foreigner”
31 or “nonresident alien” with respect to his own federal government.
32 3. Misleading and deceiving Americans into believing and declaring on government forms that they are statutory rather 33 than constitutional “U.S. citizens” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 who are subject to their corrupt laws instead of 34 “nationals” but not a “citizens” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21). The purpose is to compel you through constructive 35 fraud to associate with and conduct “commerce” (intercourse/fornication) with “the Beast” as a statutory “U.S.
36 citizen”, who is a government whore. They do this by the following means:
37 3.1. Using “words of art” to encourage false presumption.
38 3.2. Using vague or ambiguous language that is not defined and using political propaganda instead of law to define the 39 language.

40 Keep in mind the following with respect to a “foreigner” and the status of being an “nonresident alien” and therefore 41 sovereign:

42 1. There is nothing wrong with being an “alien” in the tax code, as long as we aren't an alien with a “domicile” on federal 43 territory, which makes us into a “resident”. The taxes described under Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code are not 44 upon “aliens”, but instead mainly upon “residents”, who are “aliens” with a legal domicile within federal exclusive
45 jurisdiction. This is covered in section 5.4.19 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302.
46 2. A “nonresident alien” is not an “alien” and therefore not a “taxpayer” in most cases. 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) defines
47 an “alien” as a person who is neither a citizen nor a resident of federal territory. 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) defines a 48 “nonresident alien” as a person who is neither a citizen nor a national.
49 3. A “nonresident alien” who is also an “alien” may elect under 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) or 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4) to be 50 treated as a “resident” by filing the wrong tax form, the 1040, instead of the more proper 1040NR form. Since that

1 election is a voluntary act, then income taxes are voluntary for nonresident aliens.

2 4. A “nonresident alien” who is a non-citizen national may not lawfully elect to become a “resident alien” or a “resident”

3 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) or 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(4\).

4 5. The only way that a “nonresident alien” who is also a “non-citizen national” can lawfully become domiciled in a place

5 is if he or she or it physically moves to that place and then declares an intention to remain permanently and

6 indefinitely. When the nonresident alien does this, it becomes a statutory citizen of that place, not a “resident alien”.

7 6. Only “aliens” can have a “residence” within the Internal Revenue Code pursuant to 26 CFR §1.871-2. Non-citizen

8 nationals cannot lawfully be described as having a “residence” because that word is nowhere defined to include “non-

9 citizen nationals” with a domicile or abode on federal territory.

23 This concept of being a “foreigner” or “nonresident alien” as a sovereign is also found in the Bible as well. Remember
24 what Jesus said about being free?:

25 "Ye shall know the Truth and the Truth shall make you free."
26 [John 8:32, Bible, NKJV]

27 We would also add to the above that the Truth shall also make you a “nonresident alien” in your own country! Below are a 28 few examples why:

29 "Adulterers and adulteresses! Do you now know that friendship [and "citizenship"] with the world [or the 30 governments of the world] is enmity with God? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend /"[citizen" or 31 "/taxpayer" or "/resident" or "/inhabitant" of the world makes himself an enemy of God.]
32 [/James 4:4, Bible, NKJV]

33 "For our citizenship is in heaven [and not earth], from which we also eagerly wait for the Savior, the Lord
34 Jesus Christ"
35 [/Philippians 3:20, Bible, NKJV]

36 "I am a stranger in the earth; Do not hide Your commandments [laws] from me."
37 [/Psalm 119:19, Bible, NKJV]

Nonresident Alien Position

1 "I have become a stranger to my brothers, and an alien to my mother's children; because zeal for Your
2 [God's] house has eaten me up, and the reproaches of those who reproach You have fallen on me."
3 [Psalm 69:8-9, Bible, NKJV]

4 It is one of the greatest ironies of law and government that the only way you can be free and sovereign is to be "foreign" or
5 what the Bible calls a "stranger" of one kind or another within the law, and to understand the law well enough to be able to
6 describe exactly what kind of "foreigner" you are and why, so that the government must respect your sovereignty and 7 thereby leave you and your property alone.

8 "The makers of our Constitution undertook to secure conditions favorable to the pursuit of happiness. They
9 recognized the significance of man's spiritual nature, of his feelings and of his intellect. They knew that only a
10 part of the pain, pleasure and satisfactions of life are to be found in material things. They sought to protect
11 Americans in their beliefs, their thoughts, their emotions and their sensations. They conferred, as against the
12 Government, the right to be let alone - the most comprehensive of rights and the right most valued by 13 civilized men."

14 [Olmstead v. United States, 277 U.S. 438, 478 (1928) (Brandeis, J., dissenting); see also Washington v.
15 Harper, 494 U.S. 210 (1990)]

16 The very object of "justice" itself is to ensure that people are "left alone". The purpose of courts is to enforce the 17 requirement to leave our fellow man alone and to only do to him/her what he/she expressly consents to and requests to be 18 done:

19 PAULSEN, ETHICS (Thilly's translation), chap. 9.

20 "Justice, as a moral habit, is that tendency of the will and mode of conduct which refrains from disturbing
21 the lives and interests of others, and, as far as possible, hinders such interference on the part of others. This
22 virtue springs from the individual's respect for his fellows as ends in themselves and as his co equals. The 23 different spheres of interests may be roughly classified as follows: body and life; the family, or the extended
24 individual life; property, or the totality of the instruments of action; honor, or the ideal existence; and finally 25 freedom, or the possibility of fashioning one's life as an end in itself. The law defends these different spheres,
26 thus giving rise to a corresponding number of spheres of rights, each being protected by a prohibition. . . To 27 violate the rights, to interfere with the interests of others, is injustice. All injustice is ultimately directed against 28 the life of the neighbor; it is an open avowal that the latter is not an end in itself, having the same value as the 29 individual's own life. The general formula of the duty of justice may therefore be stated as follows: Do no wrong
30 yourself, and permit no wrong to be done, so far as lies in your power; or, expressed positively: Respect and 31 protect the right."

32 [Readings on the History and System of the Common Law, Second Edition, 1925, Roscoe Pound, p. 21]

33 A person who is "sovereign" must be left alone as a matter of law. There are several examples of this important principle
34 of sovereignty in operation in the Bible as well. For example:

35 Then Haman said to King Ahasuerus, "There is a certain people scattered and dispersed among the people in 36 all the provinces of your kingdom; their laws are different from all other people's, and they do not keep the
37 king's laws fare FOREIGN with respect to them and therefore sovereign]. Therefore it is not fitting for the 38 king to let them remain. If it pleases the king, let a decree be written that they be destroyed, and I will pay ten 39 thousand talents of silver into the hands of those who do the work, to bring it into the king's treasures."

40 [Esther 3:8-9, Bible, NKJV]

41 In the Bible, when the Jews were being embarrassed and enslaved by surrounding heathen populations, they responded in 42 the Book of Nehemiah by building a wall around their city and being self-contained and self-governing to the exclusion of 43 the "aliens" and "foreigners" around them, who were not believers. This is their way of not only restoring self-government,
44 but of also restoring God as their King and Sovereign, within what actually amounted to a "theocracy":

45 "The survivors [Christians] who are left from the captivity in the province are there in great distress and 46 reproach. The wall [of separation between "church", which was the Jews, and "state", which was the 47 heathens around them] of Jerusalem is also broken down, and its gates are burned with fire."

48 [Neh. 1:3, Bible, NKJV]

49 _____

50 Then I said to them, "You see the distress that we are in, how Jerusalem lies waste, and its gates are burned
51 with fire. Come and let us build the wall of [of separation in] Jerusalem that we may no longer be a reproach."
52 And I told them of the hand of my God which had been good upon me, and also of the king's words that he had 53 spoken to me. So they said, "Let us rise up and build." Then they set their hands to this good work.

1 But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite official, and Geshem the Arab heard of it, they laughed
2 at us and despised us, and said, "What is this thing that you are doing? Will you rebel against the king?"

3 So I answered them, and said to them, "The God of heaven Himself will prosper us; therefore we His servants
4 will arise and build [the wall of separation between church and state]..."
5 [Neh. 3:17-18, Bible, NKJV]

6 The “wall” of separation between “church”, which was the Jews, and “state”, which was the surrounding unbelievers and
7 governments, they were talking about above was not only a physical wall, but also a legal one as well! The Jews wanted to 8 be “separate”, and therefore “sovereign” over themselves, their families, and their government and not be subject to the
9 surrounding heathens and nonbelievers around them. They selected Heaven as their "domicile" and God's laws as the basis
10 for their self-government, which was a theocracy, and therefore became "strangers" on the earth who were hated by their
11 neighbors. The Lord, in wanting us to be sanctified and “separate” as His “bride”, is really insisting that we also be a 12 “foreigner” or “stranger” with respect to our unbelieving neighbors and the people within the heathen state that has 13 territorial jurisdiction where we physically live:

14 *"Come out from among them [the unbelievers and government idolaters]
15 And be separate ["sovereign" and "foreign"], says the Lord.
16 Do not touch what is unclean [corrupted],
17 And I will receive you.
18 I will be a Father to you,
19 And you shall be my sons and daughters,
20 Says the Lord Almighty."*
21 [2 Corinthians 6:17-18, Bible, NKJV]

22 When we follow the above admonition of our Lord to become “sanctified” and therefore “separate”, then we will inevitably
23 be persecuted, just as Jesus warned, when He said:

24 *"If the world hates you, you know that it hated Me before it hated you. If you were of the world, the world
25 would love its own. Yet because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the 26 world hates you. Remember the word that I said to you, 'A servant is not greater than his master.' If they
27 persecuted Me, they will also persecute you. If they kept My word, they will keep yours also. But all these 28 things they will do to you for My name's sake, because they do not know Him who sent Me. If I had not
29 come and spoken to them, they would have no sin, but now they have no excuse for their sin. He who hates
30 me hated My father also. If I had not done among them the works which no one else did, they would have no
31 sin; but now they have seen and also hated both Me and My Father. But this happened that the word might 32 be fulfilled which is written in their law, 'They hated Me without a cause.'*
33 [John 15:18-25, Bible]

34 The persecution will come precisely and mainly because we are sovereign and therefore refuse to be governed by any 35 authority except God and His sovereign Law. Now do you understand why Christians, more than perhaps any other faith,
36 have been persecuted and tortured by governments throughout history? The main reason for their relentless persecution is 37 that they are a threat to government power because they demand autonomy and self-government and do not yield their
38 sovereignty to any hostile (“foreign”) power or law other than God and His Holy law. This is the reason, for instance, why
39 the Roman Emperor Nero burned Christians and their houses when he set fire to Rome and why he made them part of the 40 barbaric gladiator spectacle: He positively hated anyone whose personal sovereignty would make his authority and power
41 basically irrelevant and moot and subservient to a sovereign God. He didn't like being answerable to anyone, and 42 especially not to an omnipotent and omnipresent God. He viewed God as a competitor for the affections and the worship of 43 the people. This is the very reason why we have "separation of church and state" today as part of our legal system: to 44 prevent this kind of tyranny from repeating itself. This same gladiator spectacle is also with us today in a slightly different
45 form. It's called an "income tax trial" in the federal church called "district court". Below are just a few examples of the 46 persecution suffered by Jews and Christians throughout history, drawn from the Bible and other sources, mainly because 47 they attempted to fulfill God's holy calling to be sanctified, separate, sovereign, a “foreigner”, and a “stranger” with respect
48 to the laws, taxes, and citizenship of surrounding heathen people and governments:

- 49 1. The last several years of the Apostle John's life were spent in exile on the Greek island of Patmos, where he was sent 50 by the Roman government because he was a threat to the power and influence of Roman civil authorities. During his 51 stay there, he wrote the book of Revelation, which was a cryptic, but direct assault upon government authority.
- 52 2. Every time Israel was judged in the Book of Judges, they came under “tribute” (taxation and therefore slavery) to a 53 tyrannical king.
- 54 3. Abraham's great struggles for liberty were against overreaching governments, Genesis 14, 20.
- 55 4. Isaac struggled against overreaching governments Gen 26.

- 1 5. Egyptian Pharaohs enslaved God's people, Ex. 1.
- 2 6. Joshua's battle was against 31 kings in Canaan.
- 3 7. Israel struggled against the occupation of foreign governments in the Book of Judges
- 4 8. David struggled against foreign occupation, 2 Samuel 8, 10
- 5 9. Zechariah lost his life in 2 Chronicles for speaking against a king.
- 6 10. Isaiah was executed by Manasseh.
- 7 11. Daniel was oppressed by Officials who accused him of breaking a Persian statutory law.
- 8 12. Jesus was executed by a foreign power Jn. 18ff.
- 9 13. Jesus was a victim of Israel's kangaroo court, the Sanhedrin.
- 10 14. The last 1/4 of the Book of Acts is about Paul's defense against fraudulent accusations.
- 11 15. The last 6 years of Paul's life was spent in and out prison defending himself against false accusations.

12 Taxation is the primary means of destroying the sovereignty of a person, family, church, city, state, or nation. Below is the 13 reason why, from a popular bible dictionary:

14 “TRIBUTE. Tribute in the sense of an impost paid by one state to another, as a mark of subjugation, is a
 15 common feature of international relationships in the biblical world. The tributary could be either a hostile state
 16 or an ally. Like deportation, its purpose was to weaken a hostile state. Deportation aimed at depleting the man-
 17 power. The aim of tribute was probably twofold: to impoverish the subjugated state and at the same time to 18 increase the conqueror's own revenues and to acquire commodities in short supply in his own country. As an 19 instrument of administration it was one of the simplest ever devised: the subjugated country could be made
 20 responsible for the payment of a yearly tribute. Its non-arrival would be taken as a sign of rebellion, and an 21 expedition would then be sent to deal with the recalcitrant. This was probably the reason for the attack
 22 recorded in Gn. 14.

25 If you want to stay “sovereign”, then you had better get used to the following:

- 26 1. Supporting yourself and governing your own families and churches, to the exclusion of any external sovereignty. This will ensure that you never have to surrender any aspect of your sovereignty to procure needed help.
- 27 2. Learning and obeying God's laws.
- 28 3. Being an “foreigner”, “stranger”, or “nonresident alien” in your own land.
- 29 4. Being persecuted by the people and governments around you because you insist on being “foreign” and “different” from the rest of the “sheep” around you.

32 If you aren't prepared to do the above and thereby literally “earn” the right to be free and “sovereign”, just as our founding fathers did, then you are literally wasting your time to read further in this book. Doing so will make you into nothing more than an informed coward. Earning liberty and sovereignty in this way is the essence of why America is called:

35 “The land of the free and the home of the brave.”

36 It takes courage to be brave enough to be different from all of your neighbors and all the other countries in the world, and to take complete and exclusive responsibility for yourself and your loved ones. Below is what happened to the founding fathers because they took this brave path in the founding of this country. Most did so based on the Christian principles mentioned above. At the point when they committed to the cause, they renounced their British citizenship and became “aliens” with respect to the British Government, just like you will have to do by becoming a “national” but not a “citizen” under federal law:

42 And, for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our Sacred honor

44 Have you ever wondered what happened to the fifty-six men who signed the Declaration of Independence? This is the price they paid:

46 Five signers were captured by the British as traitors, and tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes
 47 ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons in the revolutionary army, another had two sons captured. Nine of 48 the fifty-six fought and died from wounds or hardships resulting from the Revolutionary War.

49 These men signed, and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor!

1 What kind of men were they? Twenty five were lawyers or jurists. Eleven were merchants. Nine were farmers or
2 large plantation owners. One was a teacher, one a musician, one a printer. Two were manufacturers, one was a
3 minister. These were men of means and education, yet they signed the Declaration of Independence, knowing
4 full well that the penalty could be death if they were captured.

5 Almost one third were under forty years old, eighteen were in their thirties, and three were in their twenties.
6 Only seven were over sixty. The youngest, Edward Rutledge of South Carolina, was twenty-six and a half, and 7 the oldest, Benjamin Franklin, was seventy. Three of the signers lived to be over ninety. Charles Carroll died at 8 the age of ninety-five. Ten died in their eighties.

9 The first signer to die was John Morton of Pennsylvania. At first his sympathies were with the British, but he
10 changed his mind and voted for independence. By doing so, his friends, relatives, and neighbors turned against 11 him. The ostracism hastened his death, and he lived only eight months after the signing. His last words were,
12 "tell them that they will live to see the hour when they shall acknowledge it to have been the most glorious 13 service that I ever rendered to my country."

14 Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British navy.
15 He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

16 Thomas McKeam was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He 17 served in the Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, 18 and poverty was his reward.

19 The signers were religious men, all being Protestant except Charles Carroll, who was a Roman Catholic. Over 20 half expressed their religious faith as being Episcopalian. Others were Congregational, Presbyterian, Quaker, 21 and Baptist.

22 Vandals or soldiers or both, looted the properties of Ellery, Clymer, Hall, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, 23 Rutledge, and Middleton.

24 Perhaps one of the most inspiring examples of "undaunted resolution" was at the Battle of Yorktown. Thomas
25 Nelson, Jr. was returning from Philadelphia to become Governor of Virginia and joined General Washington
26 just outside of Yorktown. He then noted that British General Cornwallis had taken over the Nelson home for his 27 headquarters, but that the patriot's were directing their artillery fire all over the town except for the vicinity of 28 his own beautiful home. Nelson asked why they were not firing in that direction, and the soldiers replied, "Out 29 of respect to you, Sir." Nelson quietly urged General Washington to open fire, and stepping forward to the 30 nearest cannon, aimed at his own house and fired. The other guns joined in, and the Nelson home was 31 destroyed. Nelson died bankrupt, at age 51.

32 Caesar Rodney was another signer who paid with his life. He was suffering from facial cancer, but left his 33 sickbed at midnight and rode all night by horseback through a severe storm and arrived just in time to cast the 34 deciding vote for his delegation in favor of independence. His doctor told him the only treatment that could help
35 him was in Europe. He refused to go at this time of his country's crisis and it cost him his life.

36 Francis Lewis's Long Island home was looted and gutted, his home and properties destroyed. His wife was 37 thrown into a damp dark prison cell for two months without a bed. Health ruined, Mrs. Lewis soon died from 38 the effects of the confinement. The Lewis's son would later die in British captivity, also.

39 "Honest John" Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she lay dying, when British and Hessian troops
40 invaded New Jersey just months after he signed the Declaration. Their thirteen children fled for their lives. His 41 fields and his grist mill were laid to waste. All winter, and for more than a year, Hart lived in forests and caves,
42 finally returning home to find his wife dead, his children vanished and his farm destroyed. Rebuilding proved
43 too be too great a task. A few weeks later, by the spring of 1779, John Hart was dead from exhaustion and a 44 broken heart.

45 Norris and Livingston suffered similar fates.

46 Richard Stockton, a New Jersey State Supreme Court Justice, had rushed back to his estate near Princeton after 47 signing the Declaration of Independence to find that his wife and children were living like refugees with friends.
48 They had been betrayed by a Tory sympathizer who also revealed Stockton's own whereabouts. British troops
49 pulled him from his bed one night, beat him and threw him in jail where he almost starved to death. When he
50 was finally released, he went home to find his estate had been looted, his possessions burned, and his horses
51 stolen. Judge Stockton had been so badly treated in prison that his health was ruined and he died before the 52 war's end, a broken man. His surviving family had to live the remainder of their lives off charity.

53 William Ellery of Rhode Island, who marveled that he had seen only "undaunted resolution" in the faces of his 54 co-signers, also had his home burned.

1 When we are following the Lord's calling to be sovereign, separate, "foreign", and a "stranger" with respect to a corrupted
2 state and our heathen neighbors, below is how we can describe ourselves from a legal perspective:

3 1. We are fiduciaries of God, who is a "nontaxpayer", and therefore we are "nontaxpayers". Our legal status takes on the 4 character of the sovereign who we represent. Therefore, we become "foreign diplomats".

5 "For God is the King of all the earth; Sing praises with understanding."
6 [Psalm 47:7, Bible, NKJV]
7

8 "For the LORD is our Judge, the LORD is our Lawgiver, the LORD is our King; He will save [and protect] us."
9 [Isaiah 33:22, Bible, NKJV]

10 2. The laws which apply to all civil litigation relating to us are from the domicile of the Heavenly sovereign we represent,
11 which are the Holy Bible pursuant to:

12 2.1. God's Laws found in our memorandum of law below:

13 Laws of the Bible, Form #13.001

14 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

15 2.2. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17\(b\)

16 2.3. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 44.1

17 3. Our "domicile" is the Kingdom of God on Earth, and not within the jurisdiction of any man-made government. We can
18 have a domicile on earth and yet not be in the jurisdiction of any government because the Bible says that God, and not 19 man, owns the WHOLE earth and all of Creation. We are therefore "transient foreigners" and "stateless persons" in 20 respect to every man-made government on earth. See the following for details:

21 Why Domicile and Becoming a "Taxpayer" Require Your Consent, Form #05.002

22 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

23 "Transient foreigner. One who visits the country, without the intention of remaining."
24 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1498]

25 4. We are "Nonresident aliens" and "nationals but not "citizens" under federal law. The reason this must be so is that a
26 "citizens of the United States" (who are all born in and resident within exclusive federal jurisdiction under 8 U.S.C.
27 §1401) may not be classified as an instrumentality of a foreign state under 28 U.S.C. §1332(c) and (d) and 28 U.S.C.
§1603(b). See our article entitled "Why you are a 'national', 'state national', and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen" for further details and evidence.

28 5. We are not and cannot be "residents" of any earthly jurisdiction without having a conflict of interest and violating the 29 first four Commandments of the Ten Commandments found in Exodus 20. Heaven is our exclusive legal "domicile",
30 and our "permanent place of abode", and the source of ALL of our permanent protection and security. We cannot and 31 should not rely upon man's vain earthly laws as an idolatrous substitute for Gods sovereign laws found in the Bible.
32 Instead, only God's laws and the Common law, which is derived from God's law, are suitable protection for our God-
33 given rights.

34 "For I was ashamed to request of the king an escort of soldiers and horsemen to help us against the enemy on
35 the road, because we had spoken to the king, saying 'The hand of our God is upon all those for good who seek
36 Him, but His power and His wrath are against all those who forsake Him.' So we fasted and entreated our God
37 for this, and He answered our prayer."
38 [Ezra 8:21-22, Bible, NKJV]

39 6. We are "Foreign Ambassadors" and "Ministers of a Foreign State" called Heaven. We are exempt from taxation by 40 any other foreign government, including the U.S. government, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §892(a)(1) who are obligated to 41 stop withholding using IRS Form W-8EXP, which specifically exempts foreign government officials from taxation.
42 The U.S. Supreme Court said in U.S. v. Wong Kim Ark below that "ministers of a foreign state" may not be statutory 43 "citizens of the United States" under the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Furthermore, the 44 Fourteenth Amendment was intended exclusively for freed slaves and not sovereign Americans such as us.

45 "For our citizenship is in heaven [and not earth], from which we also eagerly wait for the Savior, the Lord
46 Jesus Christ"
47 [Philippians 3:20, Bible, NKJV]

1 "And Mr. Justice Miller, delivering the opinion of the court [legislating from the bench, in this case], in
2 analyzing the first clause [of the Fourteenth Amendment], observed that "the phrase 'subject to the 3 jurisdiction thereof' was intended to exclude from its operation children of ministers, consuls, and citizens or 4 subjects of foreign states, born within the United States."
5 [U.S. v. Wong Kim Ark, 169 U.S. 649, 18 S.Ct. 456; 42 L.Ed. 890 (1898)]

6 7. Our dwelling, which is a "temporary and not permanent place of abode", is a "Foreign Embassy". Notice we didn't say
7 "residence", because only "residents" (aliens) can have a "residence" under 26 CFR §1.871-2(b).
8 8. We are protected from federal government persecution by 18 U.S.C. §112 and the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act
9 of 1976.
10 9. We are a "stateless person" within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. §1332(a) immune from the jurisdiction of the federal 11 courts, which are all Article IV, legislative, territorial courts. We are "stateless" because we do not maintain a domicile
12 within the "state" defined in 28 U.S.C. §1332(d), which is a federal territory and excludes states of the Union.
13 10. We are not allowed under God's law to conduct "commerce" or "intercourse" with "the Beast" by sending to it our 14 money or receiving benefits we did not earn. Black's law dictionary defines "commerce" as "intercourse". The Bible
15 defines "the Beast" as the "kings of the earth"/political rulers in Rev. 19:19:

16 "Commerce. ...Intercourse by way of trade and traffic between different peoples or states and the citizens or
17 inhabitants thereof, including not only the purchase, sale, and exchange of commodities, but also the 18 instrumentalities [governments] and agencies by which it is promoted and the means and appliances by which it
19 is carried on..."
20 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 269]
21

22 "Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot [the atheist totalitarian democracy] who sits on 23 many waters [which are described as seas and multitudes of people in Rev. 17:15], with whom the kings of 24 the earth [political rulers of today] committed fornication [intercourse], and the inhabitants of the earth were 25 made drunk with the wine of her fornication [intercourse, usurious and harmful commerce]."

26 So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast which was 27 full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. The woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet,
28 and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations
29 and the filthiness of her fornication [intercourse]. And on her forehead a name was written: MYSTERY, 30 BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

31 I saw the woman, drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw 32 her, I marveled with great amazement."
33 [Rev. 17:1-6, Bible, NKJV]
34

35 "And I saw the beast, the kings [heathen political rulers and the unbelieving democratic majorities who 36 control them] of the earth [controlled by Satan], and their armies, gathered together to make war against 37 Him [God] who sat on the horse and against His army."
38 [Revelation 19:19, Bible, NKJV]

39 The Bible calls this kind of commerce "fornication" and "adultery" and describes the fornicator called "Babylon the 40 Great Harlot" basically as a democracy instead of a Republic in Revelation chapters 17 to 19. This is consistent with 41 the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act found in 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2), which says that those who conduct "commerce"
42 with the "United States" federal corporation within its legislative jurisdiction thereby surrender their sovereignty.
43 Participation in our corrupted tax system also fits the classification of "commerce" within the meaning of this 44 requirement. See the link below for details:

47 14 Federalism

48 Federalism is the mechanism by which the sovereignty of the States and the People are preserved out of respect for the 49 requirements of the Tenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, which states:

50 United States Constitution
51 Tenth Amendment

52 The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are 53 reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

1 Federalism is advanced primarily but not exclusively through the following means:

2 1. Requirement for comity when acting extra-territorially. Whenever the federal government wishes to exercise
3 extraterritorial jurisdiction within a state of the Union, which is a foreign state for the purposes of federal legislative 4 jurisdiction, it must respect the requirement for “comity”, which means that it must pursue the consent of the parties to 5 the action.

6 *“Every State or nation possesses an exclusive sovereignty and jurisdiction within her own territory, and her
7 laws affect and bind all property and persons residing within it. It may regulate the manner and circumstances
8 under which property is held, and the condition, capacity, and state of all persons therein, and also the remedy
9 and modes of administering justice. And it is equally true that no State or nation can affect or bind property
10 out of its territory, or persons not residing [domiciled] within it. No State therefore can enact laws to operate
11 beyond its own dominions, and if it attempts to do so, it may be lawfully refused obedience. Such laws can 12 have no inherent authority extraterritorially. This is the necessary result of the independence of distinct and 13 separate sovereignties.”*

14 *“Now it follows from these principles that whatever force or effect the laws of one State or nation may have in
15 the territories of another must depend solely upon the laws and municipal regulations of the latter, upon its 16 own jurisprudence and polity, and upon its own express or tacit consent.”*
17 Dred Scott v. John F.A. Sanford, [60 U.S. 393 (1856)]

19 *“Judge Story, in his treatise on the Conflicts of Laws, lays down, as the basis upon which all reasonings on the
20 law of comity must necessarily rest, the following maxims: First 'that every nation possesses an exclusive
21 sovereignty and jurisdiction within its own territory'; secondly, 'that no state or nation can by its laws directly
22 affect or bind property out of its own territory, or bind persons not resident therein, whether they are natural
23 born subjects or others.' The learned judge then adds: 'From these two maxims or propositions there follows a
24 third, and that is that whatever force and obligation the laws of one country have in another depend solely upon
25 the laws and municipal regulation of the latter; that is to say, upon its own proper jurisdiction and polity, and
26 upon its own express or tacit consent.' Story on Conflict of Laws §23.”*
27 [Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. v. Chambers, 73 Ohio.St. 16, 76 N.E. 91, 11 L.R.A., N.S., 1012 (1905)]

28 2. The separation of powers between the states and the federal government in order to preserve a “diffusion of sovereign
29 power”. This means that a state may not delegate any of its powers conferred by the Constitution to the Federal 30 Government, and likewise, that the federal government may not delegate any of its powers to any state of the Union:

31 *“To the contrary, the Constitution divides authority between federal and state governments for the protection of 32 individuals. State sovereignty is not just an end in itself: Rather, federalism secures to citizens the liberties
33 that derive from the diffusion of sovereign power.” Coleman v. Thompson, 501 U.S. 722, 759 (1991)
34 (BLACKMUN, J., dissenting). Just as the separation and independence of the coordinate branches of the 35 Federal Government serve to prevent the accumulation of excessive power in any one branch, a healthy
36 balance of power between the States and the Federal Government will reduce the risk of tyranny and abuse
37 from either front.” Gregory v. [505 U.S. 144, 182] Ashcroft, 501 U.S., at 458. See The Federalist No. 51, p.
38 323. (C. Rossiter ed. 1961).*

39 *Where Congress exceeds its authority relative to the States, therefore, the departure from the constitutional
40 plan cannot be ratified by the "consent" of state officials. An analogy to the separation of powers among the
41 branches of the Federal Government clarifies this point. The Constitution's division of power among the 42 three branches is violated where one branch invades the territory of another, whether or not the encroached-
43 upon branch approves the encroachment. In Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 118 -137 (1976), for instance, the
44 Court held that Congress had infringed the President's appointment power, despite the fact that the President
45 himself had manifested his consent to the statute that caused the infringement by signing it into law. See
46 National League of Cities v. Usery, 426 U.S., at 842, n. 12. In INS v. Chadha, 462 U.S. 919, 944 -959 (1983),
47 we held that the legislative veto violated the constitutional requirement that legislation be presented to the
48 President, despite Presidents' approval of hundreds of statutes containing a legislative veto provision. See id.,
49 at 944-945. The constitutional authority of Congress cannot be expanded by the "consent" of the governmental
50 unit whose domain is thereby narrowed, whether that unit is the Executive Branch or the States.*

51 *State officials thus cannot consent to the enlargement of the powers of Congress beyond those enumerated in
52 the Constitution. Indeed, the facts of this case raise the possibility that powerful incentives might lead both 53 federal and state officials to view departures from the federal structure to be in their personal interests. Most 54 citizens recognize the need for radioactive waste disposal sites, but few want sites near their homes. As a result,
55 while it would be well within the authority of either federal or state officials to choose where the disposal sites
56 will be, it is likely to be in the political interest of each individual official to avoid being held accountable to the 57 voters for the choice of location. If [505 U.S. 144, 183] a federal official is faced with the alternatives of 58 choosing a location or directing the States to do it, the official may well prefer the latter, as a means of shifting 59 responsibility for the eventual decision. If a state official is faced with the same set of alternatives - choosing a* location or having Congress direct the choice of a location - the state official may also prefer the latter, as it may permit the avoidance of personal responsibility. The interests of public officials thus may not coincide with the Constitution's intergovernmental allocation of authority. Where state officials purport to submit to the direction of Congress in this manner, federalism is hardly being advanced."

New York v. United States, [505 U.S. 144 (1992)]

6 3. Parties domiciled in states of the Union may not consent to the jurisdiction of the federal courts where no subject
7 matter jurisdiction exists within the Constitution, because it would unlawfully enlarge the jurisdiction of the federal 8 government beyond the clear boundaries enumerated in the Constitution of the United States.

*Pacemaker argues that in the federal system a party may not consent to jurisdiction, so that the parties cannot waive their rights under Article III. The maxim that parties may not consent to the jurisdiction of federal courts is not applicable here. The rule is irrelevant because it applies only where the parties attempt to confer upon an Article III court a subject matter jurisdiction that Congress or the Constitution forbid. See, e.g., Jackson v.
Ashton, 33 U.S. (8 Peters), 148, 148-49, 8 L.Ed. 898 (1834); Mansfield, Coldwater & Lake Michigan Railway
Co. v. Swan, 111 U.S. 379, 28 L.Ed. 462, 4 S.Ct. 510 (1884). The limited jurisdiction of the federal courts and the need to respect the boundaries of federalism underlie the rule. In the instant case, however, the subject matter, patents, is exclusively one of federal law. The Supreme Court has explicitly held that Congress may
"confer upon federal courts jurisdiction conditioned upon a defendant's consent." Williams v. Austrian, 331
U.S. 642, 652, 91 L.Ed. 1718, 67 S.Ct. 1443 (1947); see Harris v. Avery Brundage Co., 305 U.S. 160, 83 L.Ed.
100, 59 S.Ct. 131 (1938). The litigant waiver in this case is similar to waiver of a defect in jurisdiction over the person, a waiver federal courts permit. Hoffman v. Blaski, 363 U.S. 335, 343, 4 L.Ed. 2d 1254, 80 S.Ct. 1084 (1960).*

31 By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States of America, and in order to restore the division of governmental responsibilities between the national government and the States that was intended by the Framers of the Constitution and to ensure that the principles of federalism established by the Framers guide the Executive departments and agencies in the formulation and implementation of policies, it is hereby ordered as follows:

32 Section 1. Definitions. For purposes of this Order:

33 (a) "Policies that have federalism implications" refers to regulations, legislative comments or proposed
34 legislation, and other policy statements or actions that have substantial direct effects on the States, on the 35 relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and 36 responsibilities among the various levels of government.
37 (b) "State" or "States" refer to the States of the United States of America, individually or collectively, and,
38 where relevant, to State governments, including units of local government and other political subdivisions
39 established by the States.

40 *Sec. 2. Fundamental Federalism Principles. In formulating and implementing policies that have federalism
41 implications, Executive departments and agencies shall be guided by the following fundamental federalism
42 principles:*

43 (a) Federalism is rooted in the knowledge that our political liberties are best assured by limiting the size and scope of the national government.
44 (b) The people of the States created the national government when they delegated to it those enumerated governmental powers relating to matters beyond the competence of the individual States. All other sovereign powers, save those expressly prohibited the States by the Constitution, are reserved to the States or to the people.
45 (c) The constitutional relationship among sovereign governments, State and national, is formalized in and protected by the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution.
46 (d) The people of the States are free, subject only to restrictions in the Constitution itself or in constitutionally authorized Acts of Congress, to define the moral, political, and legal character of their lives.
47 (e) In most areas of governmental concern, the States uniquely possess the constitutional authority, the resources, and the competence to discern the sentiments of the people and to govern accordingly. In Thomas Jefferson's words, the States are "the most competent administrations for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwarks against antirepublican tendencies."
48 (f) The nature of our constitutional system encourages a healthy diversity in the public policies adopted by the people of the several States according to their own conditions, needs, and desires. In the search for enlightened public policy, individual States and communities are free to experiment with a variety of approaches to public issues.

- (g) Acts of the national government--whether legislative, executive, or judicial in nature--that exceed the enumerated powers of that government under the Constitution violate the principle of federalism established by the Framers.
- (h) Policies of the national government should recognize the responsibility of--and should encourage opportunities for--individuals, families, neighborhoods, local governments, and private associations to achieve their personal, social, and economic objectives through cooperative effort.
 - (i) In the absence of clear constitutional or statutory authority, the presumption of sovereignty should rest with the individual States. Uncertainties regarding the legitimate authority of the national government should be resolved against regulation at the national level.

Sec. 3. Federalism Policymaking Criteria. In addition to the fundamental federalism principles set forth in section 2, Executive departments and agencies shall adhere, to the extent permitted by law, to the following criteria when formulating and implementing policies that have federalism implications:

- (a) There should be strict adherence to constitutional principles. Executive departments and agencies should closely examine the constitutional and statutory authority supporting any Federal action that would limit the policymaking discretion of the States, and should carefully assess the necessity for such action. To the extent practicable, the States should be consulted before any such action is implemented. Executive Order No. 12372 ("Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs") remains in effect for the programs and activities to which it is applicable.
- (b) Federal action limiting the policymaking discretion of the States should be taken only where constitutional authority for the action is clear and certain and the national activity is necessitated by the presence of a problem of national scope. For the purposes of this Order:
 - (1) It is important to recognize the distinction between problems of national scope (which may justify Federal action) and problems that are merely common to the States (which will not justify Federal action because individual States, acting individually or together, can effectively deal with them).
 - (2) Constitutional authority for Federal action is clear and certain only when authority for the action may be found in a specific provision of the Constitution, there is no provision in the Constitution prohibiting Federal action, and the action does not encroach upon authority reserved to the States.
- (c) With respect to national policies administered by the States, the national government should grant the States the maximum administrative discretion possible. Intrusive, Federal oversight of State administration is neither necessary nor desirable.
- (d) When undertaking to formulate and implement policies that have federalism implications, Executive departments and agencies shall:
 - (1) Encourage States to develop their own policies to achieve program objectives and to work with appropriate officials in other States.
 - (2) Refrain, to the maximum extent possible, from establishing uniform, national standards for programs and, when possible, defer to the States to establish standards.
 - (3) When national standards are required, consult with appropriate officials and organizations representing the States in developing those standards.

Sec. 4. Special Requirements for Preemption.

- (a) To the extent permitted by law, Executive departments and agencies shall construe, in regulations and otherwise, a Federal statute to preempt State law only when the statute contains an express preemption provision or there is some other firm and palpable evidence compelling the conclusion that the Congress intended preemption of State law, or when the exercise of State authority directly conflicts with the exercise of Federal authority under the Federal statute.
- (b) Where a Federal statute does not preempt State law (as addressed in subsection (a) of this section), Executive departments and agencies shall construe any authorization in the statute for the issuance of regulations as authorizing preemption of State law by rule-making only when the statute expressly authorizes issuance of preemptive regulations or there is some other firm and palpable evidence compelling the conclusion that the Congress intended to delegate to the department or agency the authority to issue regulations preempting State law.
- (c) Any regulatory preemption of State law shall be restricted to the minimum level necessary to achieve the objectives of the statute pursuant to which the regulations are promulgated.
- (d) As soon as an Executive department or agency foresees the possibility of a conflict between State law and Federally protected interests within its area of regulatory responsibility, the department or agency shall consult, to the extent practicable, with appropriate officials and organizations representing the States in an effort to avoid such a conflict.
- (e) When an Executive department or agency proposes to act through adjudication or rule-making to preempt State law, the department or agency shall provide all affected States notice and an opportunity for appropriate participation in the proceedings.

Sec. 5. Special Requirements for Legislative Proposals. Executive departments and agencies shall not submit to the Congress legislation that would:

- (a) Directly regulate the States in ways that would interfere with functions essential to the States' separate and independent existence or operate to directly displace the States' freedom to structure integral operations in areas of traditional governmental functions;
- (b) Attach to Federal grants conditions that are not directly related to the purpose of the grant; or
- (c) Preempt State law, unless preemption is consistent with the fundamental federalism principles set forth in section 2, and unless a clearly legitimate national purpose, consistent with the federalism policymaking criteria set forth in section 3, cannot otherwise be met.

1 Sec. 6. Agency Implementation.

2 (a) The head of each Executive department and agency shall designate an official to be responsible for ensuring
3 the implementation of this Order.

4 (b) In addition to whatever other actions the designated official may take to ensure implementation of this
5 Order, the designated official shall determine which proposed policies have sufficient federalism
6 implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment. With respect to each such policy for 7 which an affirmative determination is made, a Federalism Assessment, as described in subsection (c) of this
8 section, shall be prepared. The department or agency head shall consider any such Assessment in all 9 decisions involved in promulgating and implementing the policy.

10 (c) Each Federalism Assessment shall accompany any submission concerning the policy that is made to the 11 Office of Management and Budget pursuant to Executive Order No. 12291 or OMB Circular No. A-19, and 12 shall:

13 (1) Contain the designated official's certification that the policy has been assessed in light of the principles,
14 criteria, and requirements stated in sections 2 through 5 of this Order;

15 (2) Identify any provision or element of the policy that is inconsistent with the principles, criteria, and 16 requirements stated in sections 2 through 5 of this Order;

17 (3) Identify the extent to which the policy imposes additional costs or burdens on the States, including the 18 likely source of funding for the States and the ability of the States to fulfill the purposes of the policy;
19 and

20 (4) Identify the extent to which the policy would affect the States' ability to discharge traditional State
21 governmental functions, or other aspects of State sovereignty.

22 Sec. 7. Government-wide Federalism Coordination and Review.

23 (a) In implementing Executive Order Nos. 12291 and 12498 and OMB Circular No. A-19, the Office of 24 Management and Budget, to the extent permitted by law and consistent with the provisions of those 25 authorities, shall take action to ensure that the policies of the Executive departments and agencies are 26 consistent with the principles, criteria, and requirements stated in sections 2 through 5 of this Order.

27 (b) In submissions to the Office of Management and Budget pursuant to Executive Order No. 12291 and OMB
28 Circular No. A-19, Executive departments and agencies shall identify proposed regulatory and statutory 29 provisions that have significant federalism implications and shall address any substantial federalism
30 concerns. Where the departments or agencies deem it appropriate, substantial federalism concerns should 31 also be addressed in notices of proposed rule-making and messages transmitting legislative proposals to the 32 Congress.

33 Sec. 8. Judicial Review.

34 This Order is intended only to improve the internal management of the Executive branch, and is not intended to 35 create any right or benefit, substantive or procedural, enforceable at law by a party against the United States,
36 its agencies, its officers, or any person.

37 An example of the operation of Federalism to constrain the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the federal government in a
38 judicial setting is found in the Supreme Court ruling below. Note that the court is addressing a situation where Congress is 39 acting extraterritorially upon land within a state of the Union that is not within the exclusive or general jurisdiction of the 40 federal government:

41

Respondents contend that Congress is without power, in view of the immunity doctrine, thus to subject a State to 42 suit. We disagree. Congress enacted the FELA in the exercise of its constitutional power to regulate [377 U.S.
43 191] interstate commerce. Second Employers' Liability Cases, 223 U.S. 1. While a State's immunity from suit
44 by a citizen without its consent has been said to be rooted in "the inherent nature of sovereignty," Great 45 Northern Life Ins. Co. v. Read, supra, 322 U.S. 47, 51,[9] the States surrendered a portion of their 46 sovereignty when they granted Congress the power to regulate commerce.

47

This power, like all others vested in congress, is complete in itself, may be exercised to its 48 utmost extent, and acknowledges no limitations other than are prescribed in the constitution.
49 . . . If, as has always been understood, the sovereignty of congress, though limited to 50 specified objects is plenary as to those objects, the power over commerce with foreign 51 nations, and among the several States, is vested in congress as absolutely as it would be in 52 a single government, having in its constitution the same restrictions on the exercise of the 53 power as are found in the constitution of the United States.

54 Gibbons v. Ogden, 9 Wheat. 1, 196-197. Thus, as the Court said in United States v. California, supra, 297 U.S.
55 at 184-185, a State's operation of a railroad in interstate commerce must be in subordination to the power to regulate interstate commerce, which has been 57 granted specifically to the national government. The sovereign power of the states is 58 necessarily diminished to the extent of the grants of power to the federal government in the 59 Constitution. . . [T]here is no such limitation upon the plenary power to regulate commerce

60 [as there is upon the federal power to tax [377 U.S. 192] state instrumentalities]. The state 61 can no more deny the power if its exercise has been authorized by Congress than can an
62 individual.

1 By empowering Congress to regulate commerce, then, the States necessarily surrendered any portion of their
2 sovereignty that would stand in the way of such regulation. Since imposition of the FELA right of action upon
3 interstate railroads is within the congressional regulatory power, it must follow that application of the Act to 4 such a railroad cannot be precluded by sovereign immunity.{10}

5 Recognition of the congressional power to render a State suable under the FELA does not mean that the
6 immunity doctrine, as embodied in the Eleventh Amendment with respect to citizens of other States and as
7 extended to the State's own citizens by the Hans case, is here being overridden. It remains the law that a
8 State may not be sued by an individual without its consent. Our conclusion is simply that Alabama, when it
9 began operation of an interstate railroad approximately 20 years after enactment of the FELA, necessarily
10 consented to such suit as was authorized by that Act. By adopting and ratifying the Commerce Clause, the
11 States empowered Congress to create such a right of action against interstate railroads: by enacting the 12 FELA in the exercise of this power, Congress conditioned the right to operate a railroad in interstate
13 commerce upon amenability to suit in federal court as provided by the Act; by thereafter operating a railroad
14 in interstate commerce, Alabama must be taken to have accepted that condition and thus to have consented 15 to suit.

16 [B]y engaging in interstate commerce by rail, [the State] has subjected itself to the 17 commerce power, and is liable for a violation of the . . . Act, as are other [377 U.S. 193]
18 carriers. . . .

19 United States v. California, supra, 297 U.S. at 185; California v. Taylor, supra, 353 U.S. at 568. We thus agree
20 that

21 [T]he State is liable upon the theory that, by engaging in interstate commerce by rail, it has 22 subjected itself to the commerce power of the federal government.

23 * * * *

24 It would be a strange situation indeed if the state could be held subject to the [Federal Safety Appliance Act]
25 and liable for a violation thereof, and yet could not be sued without its express consent. The state, by engaging 26 in interstate commerce, and thereby subjecting itself to the act, must be held to have waived any right it may 27 have had arising out of the general rule that a sovereign state may not be sued without its consent.

28 Maurice v. State, supra, 43 Cal.App.2d. at 275, 277, 110 P.2d. at 710-711. Accord, Higginbotham v. Public Belt
29 R. Comm'n, supra, 192 La. 525, 550-551, 188 So. 395, 403; Mathewes v. Port Utilities Comm'n, supra.{11}
30 [377 U.S. 194]

31 Respondents deny that Alabama's operation of the railroad constituted consent to suit. They argue that it had
32 no such effect under state law, and that the State did not intend to waive its immunity or know that such a
33 waiver would result. Reliance is placed on the Alabama Constitution of 1901, Art. I, Section 14 of which 34 provides that "the State of Alabama shall never be made a defendant in any court of law or equity"; on state
35 cases holding that neither the legislature nor a state officer has the power to waive the State's immunity;{12}
36 and on cases in this Court to the effect that whether a State has waived its immunity depends upon its intention
37 and is a question of state law [377 U.S. 195] only. Chandler v. Dix, 194 U.S. 590; Palmer v. Ohio, 248 U.S. 32;
38 Ford Motor Co. v. Department of Treasury, 323 U.S. 459, 466 470. We think those cases are inapposite to the 39 present situation, where the waiver is asserted to arise from the State's commission of an act to which 40 Congress, in the exercise of its constitutional power to regulate commerce, has attached the condition of 41 amenability to suit. More pertinent to such a situation is our decision in Petty v. Tennessee-Missouri Bridge
42 Comm'n, supra. That was a suit against a bi-state authority created with the consent of Congress pursuant to 43 the Compact Clause of the Constitution. We assumed arguendo that the suit must be considered as being 44 against the States themselves, but held nevertheless that, by the terms of the compact and of a proviso that 45 Congress had attached in approving it,{13} the States had waived any immunity they might otherwise have had.
46 In reaching this conclusion, we rejected arguments, like the one made here, based on the proposition that
47 neither [377 U.S. 196] of the States, under its own law, would have considered the language in the compact to 48 constitute a waiver of its immunity. The question of waiver was, we held, one of federal law. It is true that this 49 holding was based on the inclusion of the language in an interstate compact sanctioned by Congress under the 50 Constitution. But such compacts do not present the only instance in which the question whether a State has 51 waived its immunity is one of federal law. This must be true whenever the waiver is asserted to arise from an
52 act done by the State within the realm of congressional regulation; for the congressional power to condition
53 such an act upon amenability to suit would be meaningless if the State, on the basis of its own law or
54 intention, could conclusively deny the waiver and shake off the condition. The broad principle of the Petty
55 case is thus applicable here: where a State's consent to suit is alleged to arise from an act not wholly within its 56 own sphere of authority, but within a sphere -- whether it be interstate compacts or interstate commerce --
57 subject to the constitutional power of the Federal Government, the question whether the State's act constitutes 58 the alleged consent is one of federal law. Here, as in Petty, the States by venturing into the congressional 59 realm "assume the conditions that Congress under the Constitution attached." 359 U.S. at 281-282.
60 [\[Parden v. Terminal R. Co., 377 U.S. 184 \(1964\)\]](#)

1 Note in the above case that extraterritorial jurisdiction was procured by the federal government within the exterior limits of
2 a “foreign state”, which was a state of the Union, by the commission of an act by the state in the context of its private
3 business ventures, which act constituted interstate commerce. The state indicated that it did not consent to the jurisdiction
4 of the federal government, but their consent was implied by the combination of the Constitution, which is a “contract” or
5 “compact”, as well as an act falling within the Constitution for which Congress was granted exclusive authority over the
6 state by the state’s own ratification of said “compact” as a member of the Union. In that sense, the Constitution creates the 7 equivalent of an “implied contract” or “quasi contract” which can be used to regulate all activities covered by the contract
8 extraterritorially, even among parties who were unaware of the implied contract and did not explicitly or individually
9 consent. Below is a definition of “implied contract” from Black’s Law Dictionary:

10 CONTRACT. [.] An implied contract is one not created or evidenced by the explicit agreement of the 11 parties, but inferred by the law, as a matter of reason and justice from their acts or conduct, the circumstances
12 surrounding the transaction making it a reasonable, or even a necessary, assumption that a contract existed
13 between them by tacit understanding. Miller's Appeal, 100 Pa. 568, 45 Am.Rep. 394; Landon v. Kansas City
14 Gas Co., C.C.A.Kan., 10 F.2d. 263, 266; Caldwell v. Missouri State Life Ins. Co., 230 S.W. 566, 568, 148 Ark.
15 474; Cameron, to Use of Cameron, v. Eynon, 332 Pa. 529, 3 A.2d. 423, 424; American La France Fire Engine
16 Co., to Use of American La France & Foamite Industries, v. Borough of Shenandoah, C.C.A.Pa., 115 F.2d.
17 886, 867.

18 Implied contracts are sometimes subdivided into those "implied in fact" and those "implied in law," the former
19 being covered by the definition just given, while the latter are obligations imposed upon a person by the law,
20 not in pursuance of his intention and agreement, either expressed or implied, but even against his will and
21 design, because the circumstances between the parties are such as to render it just that the me should have a
22 right, and the other a corresponding liability, similar to those which would arise from a contract between them.
23 This kind of obligation therefore rests on the principle that whatsoever it is certain a man ought to do that the
24 law will suppose him to have promised to do. And hence it is said that, while the liability of a party to an
25 express contract arises directly from the contract, it is just the reverse in the case of a contract "implied in law,"
26 the contract there being Implied or arising from the liability. Bliss v. Hoy, 70 Vt. 534, 41 A. 1026; Kellum v.
27 Browning's Adm'r. 231 Ky. 308. 21 S.W.2d. 459, 465. But obligations of this kind are not properly contracts at 28 all, and should not be so denominated. There can be no true contract without a mutual and concurrent intention
29 of the parties. Such obligations are more properly described as "quasi contracts." Union Life Ins. Co. v.
30 Glasscock, 270 Ky. 750, 110 S.W.2d. 681, 686, 114 A.L.R. 373.

32 If you want to investigate the matter of federalism further, we highly recommend the following succinct summary from our 33 Liberty University, Item #2.4:

Cooperative Federalism, Form #05.034
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

34 15 Sovereign Immunity

35 A subject closely related to both the requirement for consent and to federalism is the judicial doctrine known as “sovereign
36 immunity”. “Sovereign immunity” is the method for protecting the requirement of express consent on the part of the 37 government before it can be civilly sued in either its own courts or in foreign courts. Before a government can be sued in 38 its own courts, it has to expressly waive sovereignty immunity by statute and thereby CONSENT to be civilly sued. Those 39 seeking to sue a government or government agent in court must expressly invoke the statute that waives sovereign
40 immunity or their case will be dismissed for lack of standing under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6).

41 15.1 Definition

42 Sovereignty implies autonomy and the right to be left alone by other sovereigns. States of the Union are sovereign in 43 respect to the federal government and the people within them are sovereign in respect to their respective state governments.
44 These principles are reflected in a judicial doctrine known as “sovereign immunity”.

45 The exemption of the United States from being impleaded without their consent is, as has often been affirmed by 46 this court, as absolute as that of the crown of England or any other sovereign. In Cohens v. Virginia, 6 Wheat.
47 264, 411, Chief Justice MARSHALL said: 'The universally-received opinion is that [106 U.S. 196, 227] no suit
48 can be commenced or prosecuted against the United States.' In Beers v. Arkansas, 20 How. 527, 529, Chief
49 Justice TANEY said: 'It is an established principle of jurisprudence, in all civilized nations, that the sovereign
50 cannot be sued in its own courts, or in any other, without its consent and permission; but it may, if it thinks
51 proper, waive this privilege, and permit itself to be made a defendant in a suit by individuals, or by another

1 state. And as this permission is altogether voluntary on the part of the sovereignty, it follows that it may
2 prescribe the terms and conditions on which it consents to be sued, and the manner in which the suit shall be
3 conducted, and may withdraw its consent whenever it may suppose that justice to the public requires it.' In the 4 same spirit, Mr. Justice DAVIS, delivering the judgment of the court in Nichols v. U.S. 7 Wall. 122, 126, said:
5 'Every government has an inherent right to protect itself against suits, and if, in the liberality of legislation they
6 are permitted, it is only on such terms and conditions as are prescribed by statute. The principle is 7 fundamental, applies to every sovereign power, and, but for the protection which it affords, the government
8 would be unable to perform the various duties for which it was created.' See, also, U.S. v. Clarke, 8 Pet. 436,
9 444; Cary v. Curtis, 3 How. 236, 245, 256; U.S. v. McLemore, 4 How. 286, 289; Hill v. U.S. 9 How. 386, 389;

14 [U.S. v. Lee, 106 U.S. 196 (1882)]

15 Below is a definition of "sovereign immunity" from Black's Law Dictionary, Fifth Edition:

16 Sovereign immunity. Doctrine precludes litigant from asserting an otherwise meritorious cause of action
17 against a sovereign or a party with sovereign attributes unless sovereign consents to suit. Principe Compania
18 Naviera, S. A. v. Board of Com'rs of Port of New Orleans, D.C.La., 333 F.Supp. 353, 355. Historically, the 19 federal and state governments, and derivatively cities and towns, were immune from tort liability arising from 20 activities which were governmental in nature. Most jurisdictions, however, have abandoned this doctrine in 21 favor of permitting tort actions with certain limitations and restrictions. See Federal Tort Claims Act;
22 Governmental immunity; Tort Claims Acts.
23 [Black's Law Dictionary, Fifth Edition, p. 1252]

24 Notice the phrase above "unless the sovereign consents to the suit". The inherent legal presumption that all courts and 25 governments must operate under is that all natural persons, artificial persons, "associations", "states" or "political groups":

26 1. Are inherently sovereign.

27 "The rights of sovereignty extend to all persons and things not privileged, that are within the territory. They
28 extend to all strangers resident therein; not only to those who are naturalized, and to those who are domiciled
29 therein, having taken up their abode with the intention of permanent residence, but also to those whose 30 residence is transitory. All strangers are under the protection of the sovereign while they are within his territory
31 and owe a temporary allegiance in return for that protection."
32 [Carlisle v. United States, 83 U.S. 147, 154 (1873)]

33 2. Have a right to be "left alone" by the government and their neighbor:

34 "The makers of our Constitution undertook to secure conditions favorable to the pursuit of happiness. They
35 recognized the significance of man's spiritual nature, of his feelings and of his intellect. They knew that only a
36 part of the pain, pleasure and satisfactions of life are to be found in material things. They sought to protect
37 Americans in their beliefs, their thoughts, their emotions and their sensations. They conferred, as against the 38 Government, the right to be let alone - the most comprehensive of rights and the right most valued by 39 civilized men."
40 [Olmstead v. United States, 277 U.S. 438, 478 (1928) (Brandeis, J., dissenting); see also Washington v.
41 Harper, 494 U.S. 210 (1990)]

42 3. Can only surrender a portion of their sovereignty and the rights that inhere in that sovereignty through their explicit (in 43 writing) or implicit (by their behavior) consent in some form.

44 Quod meum est sine me auferri non potest.
45 What is mine cannot be taken away without my consent. Jenk. Cent. 251. Sed vide Eminent Domain.

46 Id quod nostrum est, sine facto nostro ad alium transferri non potest.
47 What belongs to us cannot be transferred to another without our consent. Dig. 50, 17, 11. But this must be 48 understood with this qualification, that the government may take property for public use, paying the owner its 49 value. The title to property may also be acquired, with the consent of the owner, by a judgment of a competent 50 tribunal.
51 [Bouvier's Maxims of Law, 1856;
52 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/Publications/BouvierMaximsOfLaw/BouviersMaxims.htm>]

53 4. Possess EQUAL sovereignty. The foundation of our Constitution is equal protection. No group of men or "state" or 54 government can have any more rights than a single man, because all of their powers are delegated to them by the 55 people they serve and were created to protect:

1 "But arbitrary selection can never be justified by calling it classification. The equal protection demanded by the
2 fourteenth amendment forbids this. No language is more worthy of frequent and thoughtful consideration than
3 these words of Mr. Justice Matthews, speaking for this court, in Yick Wo v. Hopkins, 118 U.S. 356, 369, 6
4 S.Sup.Ct. 1064, 1071: 'When we consider the nature and the theory of our institutions of government, the
5 principles upon which they are supposed to rest, and review the history of their development, we are 6 constrained to conclude that they do not mean to leave room for the play and action of purely personal and
7 arbitrary power.' The first official action of this nation declared the foundation of government in these words:
8 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, [165 U.S. 150, 160] that all men are created equal, that they are 9 endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of 10 happiness.' While such declaration of principles may not have the force of organic law, or be made the basis of 11 judicial decision as to the limits of right and duty, and while in all cases reference must be had to the organic
12 law of the nation for such limits, yet the latter is but the body and the letter of which the former is the thought
13 and the spirit, and it is always safe to read the letter of the constitution in the spirit of the Declaration of 14 Independence. No duty rests more imperatively upon the courts than the enforcement of those constitutional 15 provisions intended to secure that equality of rights which is the foundation of free government."
16 [Gulf, C. & S. F. R. Co. v. Ellis, 165 U.S. 150 (1897)]

17 In other words, everyone has a natural, inherent right of ownership over their own life, liberty, and property granted by the 18 Creator which can only be taken away by their own consent. The Declaration of Independence recognizes this natural right,
19 when it says:

20 "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator
21 with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness--That to
22 secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the 23 governed"
24 [Declaration of Independence]

25 The purpose for the establishment of all governments is therefore to protect these natural, God-given rights or what the U.S.
26 Supreme Court calls "liberty interests". Neither the Constitution, nor any enactment of Congress passed in furtherance of it
27 confers these rights, but simply recognizes and protects these natural, God-given rights. The U.S. Supreme Court admitted 28 this when it said:

29 "Men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights,-'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness,'
30 and to 'secure,' not grant or create, these rights, governments are instituted. That property [or income] which 31 a man has honestly acquired he retains full control of . . ."
32 [Budd v. People of State of New York, 143 U.S. 517 (1892)]

33 In law, all rights are identified as "property". This is confirmed by the definition of "property" in Black's Law Dictionary,
34 which says that "It extends to every species of valuable right":

35 "Property. That which is peculiar or proper to any person; that which belongs exclusively to one. In 36 the strict legal sense, an aggregate of rights which are guaranteed and protected by the 37 government. Fulton Light, Heat & Power Co. v. State, 65 Misc.Rep. 263, 121 N.Y.S. 536. The term is said
38 to extend to every species of valuable right and interest. More specifically, ownership; the unrestricted
39 and exclusive right to a thing: the right to dispose of a thing in every legal way, to possess it, to use it,
40 and to exclude every one else from interfering with it. That dominion or indefinite right of particular things or 41 subjects. The exclusive right of possessing, enjoying, and disposing of a thing. The highest right a man can 42 have to anything; being used to refer to that right which one has to lands or tenements, goods or chattels, which 43 no way depends on another man's courtesy.

44 The word is also commonly used to denote everything which is the subject of ownership; corporeal or 45 incorporeal, tangible or intangible, visible or invisible, real or personal; everything that has an exchangeable
46 value or which goes to make up wealth or estate. It extends to every species of valuable right and interest, and 47 includes real and personal property, easements, franchises, and incorporeal hereditaments, and includes
48 every invasion of one's property rights by actionable wrong. Labberton v. General Cas. Co. of America, 53
49 Wash.2d. 180, 332 P.2d. 250, 252, 254.

51 Property within constitutional protection, denotes group of rights inhering in citizen's relation to physical 52 thing, as right to possess, use and dispose of it. Cereghino v. State By and Through State Highway
53 Commission, 230 Or. 439, 370 P.2d. 694, 697."
54 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1216]

55 Sovereign immunity can apply just as readily to governments as it can to individuals. A person who doesn't consent to any

1 aspect of government civil jurisdiction and who has no legal “domicile” or “residence” within that government’s
2 jurisdiction is called a “foreign sovereign”, and he or she or it is protected by the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act found
3 at 28 U.S.C. Part IV, Chapter 97:

Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. Part IV, Chapter 97

http://assembler.law.cornell.edu/uscode/html/uscode28/usc_sup_01_28_10_IV_20_97.html

4 Courts are not reluctant at all to recognize the principle of sovereign immunity in the context of foreign governments whose
5 existence they officially recognize. They must do this because if they don’t, they won’t get any cooperation from these 6 governments, which they frequently need in dealing with international problems. However, they are frequently much less
7 willing to recognize the equally inherent and divinely inspired sovereignty of natural persons or individuals because they
8 don’t want to interfere with their ability to con these people or entities into volunteering for their commercial insurance,
9 license, franchise, and other scams described above. Earlier courts, however, were much more honorable and therefore 10 willing to recognize this inherent sovereignty of natural persons. Below is one often quoted example used within the 11 freedom community:

12 *The individual may stand upon his constitutional rights as a citizen. He is entitled to carry on his private 13 business in his own way. His power to contract is unlimited. He owes no duty to the State or to his neighbor to 14 divulge his business, or to open his doors to an investigation, so far as it may tend to criminate him. He owes no
15 such duty to the State, since he receives nothing therefrom, beyond the protection of his life and property. His 16 rights are such as existed by the law of the land long antecedent to the organization of the State, and can only
17 be taken from him by due process of law, and in accordance with the Constitution. Among his rights are a 18 refusal to incriminate himself, and the immunity of himself and his property from arrest or seizure except under 19 a warrant of the law. He owes nothing to the public so long as he does not trespass upon their rights.*
20 Hale v. Henkel, [201 U.S. 43, 74 (1906)]

21 15.2 How sovereign immunity relates to federalism

22 The notion of sovereign immunity also provides a way to explain how the principle of federalism works, as we described it
23 in the previous section:

24 1. States of the Union qualify as “foreign states” and “foreign sovereigns” in relation to the federal government within the 25 context of statutory but not constitutional law.
26 2. “Citizens” and municipalities within these “foreign states” and “foreign sovereigns” may be described as 27 “instrumentalities of a foreign state”, by virtue of the fact that they directly administer the affairs of the foreign state
28 they occupy as voters and jurists and “taxpayers”.

29 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 97 > § 1603
30 § 1603. Definitions

31 For purposes of this chapter—

32 (a) A “foreign state”, except as used in section 1608 of this title, includes a political subdivision of a foreign
33 state or an agency or instrumentality of a foreign state as defined in subsection (b).
34 (b) An “agency or instrumentality of a foreign state” means any entity—
35 (1) which is a separate legal person, corporate or otherwise, and
36 (2) which is an organ of a foreign state or political subdivision thereof, or a majority of whose shares or 37 other ownership interest is owned by a foreign state or political subdivision thereof, and 38 (3) which is neither a citizen of a State of the United States as defined in section 1332 (c) and (d) of this 39 title, nor created under the laws of any third country.

40 3. The Supreme Court recognized how “citizens” administer the government they created and continue to sustain with 41 their tax dollars and as voters and jurists when they said:

42 *The words ‘people of the United States’ and ‘citizens,’ are synonymous terms, and mean the same thing. They
43 both describe the political body who, according to our republican institutions, form the sovereignty, and who
44 hold the power and conduct the government through their representatives. They are what we familiarly call
45 the ‘sovereign people,’ and every citizen is one of this people, and a constituent member of this sovereignty. ...”
46 Boyd v. State of Nebraska, [143 U.S. 135 (1892)]*

1 4. When these “foreign states” and “foreign sovereigns” wish to cooperate in achieving a common goal, they may 2 voluntarily band together and under the principles of “comity”, may enact laws prescribing and recognizing these 3 international agreements:

4 “comity. Courtesy; complaisance; respect; a willingness to grant a privilege, not as a matter of right, but out
5 of deference and good will. Recognition that one sovereignty allows within its territory to the legislative,
6 executive, or judicial act of another sovereignty, having due regard to rights of its own citizens. Nowell v.
7 Nowell, Tex.Civ.App., 408 S.W.2d. 550, 553. In general, principle of “comity” is that courts of one state or
8 jurisdiction will give effect to laws and judicial decisions of another state or jurisdiction, not as a matter of
9 obligation, but out of deference and mutual respect. Brown v. Babbitt Ford, Inc., 117 Ariz. 192, 571 P.2d. 689,
10 695. See also Full faith and credit clause.”

11 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 267]

12 5. Federalism simply describes the principle whereby:

13 5.1. No one of these co-equal sovereign and foreign states may exercise legislative jurisdiction within the borders of a 14 fellow foreign state.

15 5.2. When jurisdiction is asserted within one of these states by the federal government, then explicit proof of consent
16 must be produced in some form in order for the courts to enforce the legal rights or activities that it is regulating
17 or administering. This is consistent with item 28 U.S.C. §1605\(b\)\(1\) within the Foreign Sovereign Immunities
18 Act, which says that states may surrender their sovereign immunity by their consent.

19 5.3. The consent required to be demonstrated under the principles of federalism can be either explicit (in writing or by 20 legislative enactment) or implicit (by their conduct). For example, when a foreign state of the Union engages in 21 interstate commerce, it is “presumed” pursuant to Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the constitution to have 22 “consented” to the jurisdiction of the federal government to regulate said commerce and to obey all enactments of 23 Congress which might lawfully regulate said commerce. Here is how the U.S. Supreme Court described this 24 concept:

25 “Recognition of the congressional power to render a State suable under the FELA does not mean that the
26 immunity doctrine, as embodied in the Eleventh Amendment with respect to citizens of other States and as
27 extended to the State’s own citizens by the Hans case, is here being overridden. It remains the law that a State
28 may not be sued by an individual without its consent. Our conclusion is simply that Alabama, when it began
29 operation of an interstate railroad approximately 20 years after enactment of the FELA, necessarily
30 consented to such suit as was authorized by that Act. By adopting and ratifying the Commerce Clause, the
31 States empowered Congress to create such a right of action against interstate railroads; by enacting the FELA
32 in the exercise of this power, Congress conditioned the right to operate a railroad in interstate commerce upon
33 amenability to suit in federal court as provided by the Act; by thereafter operating a railroad in interstate 34 commerce, Alabama must be taken to have accepted that condition and thus to have consented to suit.”

35 [Parden v. Terminal R. Co., 377 U.S. 184 (1964)]

36 15.3 Waivers of sovereign immunity

37 Only either by one of the following mechanisms can the sovereign immunity of the state explicitly or implicitly waived,
38 respectively:

39 1. By the express consent of the sovereign in statutory form or

40 2. By the state electing to engage in “private business concerns” in a foreign jurisdiction and thereby waiving sovereign
41 immunity under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, Chapter 97. The courts call this by any of the following
42 names, all of which are a method of legally reaching out of state parties who are nonresident in relation to the forum.:
43 2.1. Minimum Contacts Doctrine. See: International Shoe Co. v. Washington, 326 U.S. 310 (1945).
44 2.2. Longarm Jurisdiction.
45 2.3. “Purposeful availment”.

46 Below is a case highlighting the above principles:

47 When a State engages in ordinary commercial ventures, it acts like a private person, outside the area of its
48 “core” responsibilities, and in a way unlikely to prove essential to the fulfillment of a basic governmental
49 obligation. A Congress that decides to regulate those state commercial activities rather than to exempt the
50 State likely believes that an exemption, by treating the State differently from identically situated private
51 persons, would threaten the objectives of a federal regulatory program aimed primarily at private conduct.

52 Compare, e.g., 12 U.S.C. §1841(b) (1994 ed., Supp. III) (exempting state companies from regulations covering
53 federal bank holding companies); 15 U.S.C. §77c(a)(2) (exempting state-issued securities from federal
54 securities laws); and 29 U.S.C. §652(5) (exempting States from the definition of “employer[s]” subject to federal occupational safety and health laws), with 11 U.S.C. §106(a) (subjecting States to federal bankruptcy court judgments); 15 U.S.C. §1122(a) (subjecting States to suit for violation of Lanham Act); 17 U.S.C. §511(a) (subjecting States to suit for copyright infringement); 35 U.S.C. §271(h) (subjecting States to suit for patent infringement). And a Congress that includes the State not only within its substantive regulatory rules but also (expressly) within a related system of private remedies likely believes that a remedial exemption would similarly threaten that program. See Florida Prepaid Postsecondary Ed. Expense Bd. v. College Savings Bank, ante , at ___ (Stevens , J., dissenting). It thereby avoids an enforcement gap which, when allied with the pressures of a competitive marketplace, could place the State's regulated private competitors at a significant disadvantage.

These considerations make Congress' need to possess the power to condition entry into the market upon a waiver of sovereign immunity (as "necessary and proper" to the exercise of its commerce power) unusually strong, for to deny Congress that power would deny Congress the power effectively to regulate private conduct. Cf. California v. Taylor, 353 U.S. 553, 566 (1957). At the same time they make a State's need to exercise sovereign immunity unusually weak, for the State is unlikely to have to supply what private firms already supply, nor may it fairly demand special treatment, even to protect the public purse, when it does so. Neither can one easily imagine what the Constitution's founders would have thought about the assertion of sovereign immunity in this special context. These considerations, differing in kind or degree from those that would support a general congressional "abrogation" power, indicate that Parden's holding is sound, irrespective of this Court's decisions in Seminole Tribe of Fla. v. Florida, 517 U.S. 44 (1996), and Alden v. Maine, ante, p. ___. [College Savings Bank v. Florida Prepaid Postsecondary Education Expense, 527 U.S. 666 (1999)]

Under the principles of sovereign immunity, it is internationally and universally recognized by every country and nation and court on earth that every nation or state or individual or group are entitled to sovereign immunity and may only surrender a portion of that sovereignty or natural right over their property by committing one or more acts within a list of specific qualifying acts. Any one of these acts then constitute the equivalent of “constructive or implicit consent” to the jurisdiction of the courts within that forum or state. These qualifying acts include any of the following, which are a summary of those identified in the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act above:

1. Being a statutory “citizen” or “domiciliary” of the Forum or State in question. See 28 U.S.C. §1603\(b\)\(3\).

An “agency or instrumentality of a foreign state” means any entity—which is neither a citizen of a State of the United States as defined in section 1332(c) and (d) of this title, nor created under the laws of any third country. [28 U.S.C. §1603(b)(3)]

2. Foreign state has waived its immunity either explicitly or by implication, notwithstanding any withdrawal of the waiver which the foreign state may purport to effect except in accordance with the terms of the waiver. See 28 U.S.C. §1605\(b\)\(1\).
3. Commercial Activity within the Forum or State. See 28 U.S.C. §1605\(b\)\(2\).
 - 3.1. Action based upon a commercial activity carried on in the Forum or State by the foreign state; or
 - 3.2. Upon an act performed in the Forum or State in connection with a commercial activity of the foreign state elsewhere; or upon an act outside the territory of the Forum or State in connection with a commercial activity of the foreign state elsewhere and that act causes a direct effect in the Forum or State .
4. Rights to property taken in violation of international law. See 28 U.S.C. §1605\(b\)\(3\).
 - 4.1. Rights in property taken in violation of international law are in issue and that property or any property exchanged for such property is present in the Forum or State in connection with a commercial activity carried on in the Forum or State by the foreign state; or
 - 4.2. That property or any property exchanged for such property is owned or operated by an agency or instrumentality of the foreign state and that agency or instrumentality is engaged in a commercial activity in the Forum or State.
5. Rights in property in the Forum or State acquired by succession or gift or rights in immovable property situated in the Forum or State are in issue. See 28 U.S.C. §1605\(b\)\(4\).
6. Money damages for official acts of officials of foreign state which cause injury, death, damage, loss of property in the Forum or State. Not otherwise encompassed in paragraph 3 above in which money damages are sought against a foreign state for personal injury or death, or damage to or loss of property, occurring in the Forum or State and caused by the tortious act or omission of that foreign state or of any official or employee of that foreign state while acting within the scope of his office or employment. See 28 U.S.C. §1605\(b\)\(4\). Except this paragraph shall not apply to:
 - 6.1. any claim based upon the exercise or performance or the failure to exercise or perform a discretionary function regardless of whether the discretion be abused, or
 - 6.2. any claim arising out of malicious prosecution, abuse of process, libel, slander, misrepresentation, deceit, or interference with contract rights;
7. Contracts between private party and foreign state: See 28 U.S.C. §1605\(b\)\(6\). Action is brought, either to enforce an agreement made by the foreign state with or for the benefit of a private party to submit to arbitration all or any differences which have arisen or which may arise between the parties with respect to a defined legal relationship,

1 whether contractual or not, concerning a subject matter capable of settlement by arbitration under the laws of the 2 Forum or State, or to confirm an award made pursuant to such an agreement to arbitrate, if.

3 7.1. The arbitration takes place or is intended to take place in the Forum or State,

4 7.2. The agreement or award is or may be governed by a treaty or other international agreement in force for the Forum
5 or State calling for the recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards,

6 7.3. The underlying claim, save for the agreement to arbitrate, could have been brought in a Forum or State court
7 under this section or section 1607, or (D) paragraph (1) of this subsection is otherwise applicable; or

8 8. Money damages for acts of terrorism by foreign state: Not otherwise covered by paragraph 3 in which money damages
9 are sought against a foreign state for personal injury or death that was caused by an act of torture, extrajudicial killing,
10 aircraft sabotage, hostage taking, or the provision of material support or resources (as defined in section 2339A of title 11 18) for such an act if such act or provision of material support is engaged in by an official, employee, or agent of such 12 foreign state while acting within the scope of his or her office, employment, or agency. See 28 U.S.C. §1605(b)(7).
13 Except that the court shall decline to hear a claim under this paragraph:

14 8.1. if the foreign state was not designated as a state sponsor of terrorism under section 6(j) of the Export
15 Administration Act of 1979 (50 App. U.S.C. §2405 \(j\)) or section 620A of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961
16 (22 U.S.C. §2371) at the time the act occurred, unless later so designated as a result of such act or the act is 17 related to Case Number 1:00CV03110(EGS) in the Forum or State District Court for the District of Columbia;
18 and

19 8.2. even if the foreign state is or was so designated, if—

20 8.2.1. the act occurred in the foreign state against which the claim has been brought and the claimant has not
21 afforded the foreign state a reasonable opportunity to arbitrate the claim in accordance with accepted
22 international rules of arbitration; or

23 8.2.2. neither the claimant nor the victim was a national of the Forum or State (as that term is defined in section 24 101(a)(22) of the Immigration and Nationality Act) when the act upon which the claim is based occurred.

25 From the above list, two items are abused by your public servants more frequently than any others in order to unwittingly
26 destroy your sovereignty, your inherent sovereign immunity, and to unlawfully expand their jurisdiction beyond the clear
27 limits described by the United States Constitution:

28 1. Item 1: How they or you describe your citizenship and domicile. The federal government abuses their authority to 29 write laws and print forms by writing them in such a vague way that they appear to create a presumption that you are a
30 statutory “citizen” with a legal domicile within their jurisdiction. They do this by:

31 1.1. Only offering you one option to describe your citizenship on their forms, which is a “U.S. citizen”. This creates a
32 presumption that you are a statutory “U.S. citizen” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 who is domiciled within their 33 exclusive jurisdiction. Since they don’t offer you the option to declare yourself a state citizen or state national,
34 then most people wrongfully presume that there is no such thing or that they are not one, even though they are.
35 See:

Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

36 1.2. Using citizenship terms on their forms which are not described in any federal statute, such as “U.S. citizen”. This 37 term is nowhere used in Title 8 of the U.S. Code. The only similar term is “citizen and national of the United 38 States”, which is defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401.

39 1.3. Deliberately confusing “domicile” with “nationality” so as to make them appear EQUIVALENT, even though 40 they emphatically are NOT.

41 1.4. Deliberately confusing CONSTITUTIONAL citizens with STATUTORY citizens. These two groups are 42 mutually exclusive and non-overlapping.

43 1.5. Deliberately confusing POLITICAL status under the constitution with CIVIL status under statutory law. These 44 two things are mutually exclusive and NOT equivalent.

45 2. Item 3: The government connects you to commerce within their legislative jurisdiction. They do this by:

46 2.1. Presuming that you are connected to commerce by virtue of using a Social Security Number or Taxpayer
47 Identification Number.

48 2.2. Presuming that you CONSENSUALLY used the number, even though in most cases, its use was COMPELLED 49 or the product of some form of duress on the part of one or more parties to a specific commercial transaction.
50 Without presuming consent, they cannot enforce the franchise statutes against you.

51 2.3. Terrorizing and threatening banks and financial institutions to unlawfully coerce their customers to provide a
52 Social Security Number or Taxpayer Identification Number in criminal violation of 42 U.S.C. §408. Any 53 financial account that has a federally issued number associated with it is presumed to be private properly donated

1 to a public use in order to procure a privilege from the government, whether it be a tax deduction associated with
2 a “trade or business” (public office) as described in 26 U.S.C. §162, or “social insurance” in the case of Socialist
3 Security.

4 2.4. Making false, prejudicial, and unconstitutional presumptions about the meaning of the term “United States”,
5 which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) as the District of Columbia in the context of Subtitle A of 6 the Internal Revenue Code and nowhere expanded to include any area within the exclusive jurisdiction of a state
7 of the Union. See:

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

8 Why are the above methods of waiving sovereign immunity and the rights of sovereignty associated with them nearly 9 universally recognized by every country, court, and nation on earth? Because:

10 1. These rights come from God, and God is universally recognized by people and cultures all over the world.
11 2. Everyone deserves, needs, and wants as much authority, autonomy, and control over their own life and property as they
12 can get, consistent with the equal rights of others. In other words, they have a right of being self-governing. Of this 13 subject, one of our most revered Presidents, Teddy Roosevelt, said:

14 “We of this mighty western Republic have to grapple with the dangers that spring from popular self-government
15 tried on a scale incomparably vaster than ever before in the history of mankind, and from an abounding
16 material prosperity greater also than anything which the world has hitherto seen.

17 As regards the first set of dangers, it behooves us to remember that men can never escape being governed.
18 Either they must govern themselves or they must submit to being governed by others. If from lawlessness or
19 fickleness, from folly or self-indulgence, they refuse to govern themselves then most assuredly in the end they
20 will have to be governed from the outside. They can prevent the need of government from without only by
21 showing they possess the power of government from within. A sovereign cannot make excuses for his failures; a
22 sovereign must accept the responsibility for the exercise of power that inheres in him; and where, as is true in
23 our Republic, the people are sovereign, then the people must show a sober understanding and a sane and
24 steadfast purpose if they are to preserve that orderly liberty upon which as a foundation every republic must 25 rest.”
26 [President Theodore Roosevelt; Opening of the Jamestown Exposition; Norfolk, VA, April 26, 1907]

27 3. You cannot deserve or have a “right” to what you are not willing to give in equal measure to others. This is the 28 essence of what Christians call “The Golden Rule”, which Jesus Himself revealed as follows:

29 “Therefore, whatever you want men to do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.”
30 [Matt. 7:12, Bible, NKJV]

31 Everyone understands the concept of “explicit consent”, because everyone understands the idea of exercising your right to 32 contract in order to exchange some of your rights to obtain something you deem valuable. Usually, explicit consent
33 requires a written contract of some kind in order to be enforceable against an otherwise “foreign sovereign”. The part of 34 the consent equation that most people have trouble with is the idea of “implied consent”.

35 “Implied consent. That manifested by signs, actions, or facts, or by inaction or silence, which raise a
36 presumption that the consent has been given. For example, when a corporation does business in a state it
37 impliedly consents to be subject to the jurisdiction of that state's courts in the event of tortious conduct, even 38 though it is not incorporated in that state. Most every state has a statute implying the consent of one who drives
39 upon its highways to submit to some type of scientific test or tests measuring the alcoholic content of the 40 driver's blood. In addition to implying consent, these statutes usually provide that if the result of the test shows 41 that the alcohol content exceeds a specified percentage, then a rebuttable presumption of intoxication arises.”
42 [Black's Law Dictionary, Fifth Edition, pp. 276-277]

43 15.4 Why PEOPLE can invoke sovereign immunity against governments or government actors

44 People have sovereign immunity just like governments. The Courts have repeatedly affirmed that all the powers of 45 government are delegated from the people and therefore, they can possess no power that the people themselves AS 46 INDIVIDUALS do not ALSO possess. This section contains evidence you can use to prove this as a fact in court:

47 1. In the United States, ALL sovereignty resides not in the government, but in the people.

1 "There is no such thing as a power of inherent sovereignty in the government of the United States...In this
2 country sovereignty resides in the people, and Congress can exercise no power which they have not, by their
3 Constitution entrusted to it. All else is withheld."
4 [Juilliard v. Greenman, 110 U.S. 421 (1884):]

5 "In the United States, sovereignty resides in the people...the Congress cannot invoke sovereign power of the 6 People to override their will as thus declared."
7 [Perry v. U.S., 294 U.S. 330 (1935)]

8 2. All powers of the federal and state governments derive from and are delegated by We the People through our state and 9 federal constitutions.

10 "Sovereignty itself is, of course, not subject to law, for it is the author and source of law...While sovereign
11 powers are delegated to...the government, sovereignty itself remains with the people."
12 [Yick Wo v. Hopkins, 118 U.S. 356 (1886):]

13 _____

14 "Whatever these Constitutions and laws validly determine to be property, it is the duty of the Federal 15 Government, through the domain of jurisdiction merely Federal, to recognize to be property.

16 "And this principle follows from the structure of the respective Governments, State and Federal, and their
17 reciprocal relations. They are different agents and trustees of the people of the several States, appointed with 18 different powers and with distinct purposes, but whose acts, within the scope of their respective jurisdictions,
19 are mutually obligatory."
20 [Dred Scott v. Sandford, 60 U.S. 393 (1856)]

21 3. Every species of legislative power and authority that the government possesses is therefore explicitly delegated to it by 22 We the People. This concept is called "enumerated powers" by the courts.
23 4. The People cannot delegate an authority that they themselves do not inherently possess.

24 "Derivativa potestas non potest esse major primitive.¹⁵
25 The power which is derived cannot be greater than that from which it is derived."
26 [Bouvier's Law Dictionary Unabridged, 8th Edition, pg. 2131]

27 "Quod per me non possum, nec per alium.¹⁶
28 What I cannot do in person, I cannot do through the agency of another."
29 [Bouvier's Law Dictionary Unabridged, 8th Edition, pg. 2159]

30 5. The method by which people voluntarily delegate their authority is by choosing a domicile within the state or 31 government and thereby nominating a "protector" who now has a legal right to enforce the payment of "tribute" or 32 "protection money" in order to sustain the protection that was asked for.
33 6. Those who have not nominated a protector by voluntarily choosing a domicile within the state thereby reserve ALL 34 their natural rights.
35 7. Since governments inherently possess "sovereign immunity", then We the People must also possess that authority,
36 because the government cannot have any authority that the people did not, but their Constitution and their choice of 37 domicile, delegate to it.
38 8. The foundation of the Constitution is the notion of equal protection of the law, whereby all are equal under the law.
39 This concept is documented, for instance, in section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment. This notion carries with it the 40 requirement that every "person" has equal rights under the law:
41 8.1. The only way that rights can be "unequal" within any given population is for you to consensually give up some of 42 them, for instance, by procuring some government "privilege".
43 8.2. If the government is treating you differently than someone else, by, for instance, making you pay more money for 44 the same service that someone else is paying for, then it is engaging in unequal protection. Therefore, it is safe to 45 conclude that this service has nothing to do with protection and is a private, for-profit government business not 46 authorized by the Constitution.

2 15.5 How PEOPLE waive sovereign immunity in relation to governments

3 Understanding the concepts in the previous section is the key to unlocking what many freedom lovers instinctively regard
4 as “the fraud of the income tax”. Most freedom lovers understand that the federal government has no territorial jurisdiction
5 within states of the Union, but they simply do not understand where the lawful authority of federal courts derives to treat
6 them as either “residents” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) or “U.S. persons” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30).
7 The key to unraveling this puzzle is to understand that the courts are silently “presuming” that at some time in the past, you
8 voluntarily availed yourself of a commercial federal “privilege” and thereby waived your sovereign immunity under 28
9 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2). An example of how this waiver occurred is by signing up for the Social Security program on an SS-5
10 form. When you signed up for that program:

- 11 1. You made a decision to conduct “commerce” within the legislative jurisdiction of the sovereign.
- 12 2. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2), you surrendered or “waived” sovereign immunity.
- 13 3. Your status changed from that of a “nonresident alien” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) to a “resident alien” as 14 defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).
- 15 4. You became a legal “resident” who is “present” within the forum. A “resident” is a “res”, which is a legal thing, which 16 is “identified” within the forum. You in essence “procured” a legal identity within the forum that the forum recognizes 17 in the courts, even though you may never have been physically present or domiciled in the federal zone.
- 18 5. You made a decision to act in a representative capacity as a “public official” engaged in a “trade or business”. This 19 person is a “trustee” of a Social Security Trust that is domiciled in the District of Columbia. Pursuant to Federal Rule
20 of Civil Procedure 17(b), 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(39), and 26 U.S.C. §7408(d), your effective domicile under the terms of 21 the Social Security Franchise Agreement as an “agent” acting in a representative capacity for the “trust” that it creates 22 then becomes the District of Columbia, regardless of where you physically reside.
- 23 6. You consented to the jurisdiction of the federal courts to supervise and administer the benefit for all.
- 24 7. You implicitly agreed to waive all rights that might otherwise have been injured in complying with the obligations
25 arising out of the program:

26 “The Government urges that the Power Company is estopped to question the validity of the Act creating the 27 Tennessee Valley Authority, and hence that the stockholders, suing in the right of the corporation, cannot [297
28 U.S. 323] maintain this suit. The principle is invoked that one who accepts the benefit of a statute cannot 29 be heard to question its constitutionality. Great Falls Manufacturing Co. v. Attorney General, 124 U.S. 581;
30 Wall. v. Parrot Silver & Copper Co., 244 U.S. 407; St. Louis Casting Co. v. Prendergast Construction Co., 31 260 U.S. 469.“
32 [Ashwander v. Tennessee Valley Auth., 297 U.S. 288 (1936)]

33 “...when a State willingly accepts a substantial benefit from the Federal Government, it waives its immunity 34 under the Eleventh Amendment and consents to suit by the intended beneficiaries of that federal assistance.”
35 [Papasan v. Allain, 478 U.S. 265 (1986)]

36 Use of a Social Security Number, in most cases, is all the evidence that the courts will usually need in order to conclude
37 that you “voluntarily consent” to participate in the program. Consequently, either using an SSN or TIN or allowing others
38 to use one against you without objecting constitutes what the courts would say is “prima facie evidence of consent” to be
39 bound by the Social Security Act as well as all the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A. These two “codes”
40 form the essence of a “federal employment agreement” or “contract”, which all who receive government benefits become
41 bound by. In essence, failure to deny evidence of consent creates a presumption of consent. This process is described in 42 the legal field by the following names and you can also find it in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(b)(6), which says that a 43 failure to deny constitutes an admission for the purposes of meeting the burden of proving a fact:

- 44 1. Implied consent.
- 45 2. Constructive consent.
- 46 3. Tacit procuration.

47 “Procuration.. Agency; proxy; the act of constituting another one's attorney in fact. The act by which one 48 person gives power to another to act in his place, as he could do himself. Action under a power of attorney or

3 other constitution of agency. Indorsing a bill or note "by procuration" is doing it as proxy for another or by his
4 authority. The use of the word procuration (usually, per procuratione, or abbreviated to per proc. or p. p.) on a
5 promissory note by an agent is notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign.

8 An express procuration is one made by the express consent of the parties. An implied or tacit procuration takes
9 place when an individual sees another managing his affairs and does not interfere to prevent it. Procurations
10 are also divided into those which contain absolute power, or a general authority, and those which give only a
11 limited power. Also, the act or offence of procuring women for lewd purposes. See also Proctor.
12 [Black's Law Dictionary, Fifth Edition, pp. 1086-1087]

14 Notice the above phrase "act or offense of procuring women for lewd purposes". This describes basically the act of 15 hiring a WHORE, and that is EXACTLY what you become if condone or allow the government do this to you, folks!
16 This fact explains EXACTLY who Babylon the Great Harlot is as described in the Bible Book of Revelation. Babylon
17 the Great Harlot is a symbol or metaphor for all those who are willing to trade their virtue, allegiance, or control over 18 their property or liberty over to a government in exchange for a life of pleasure, ignorance, luxury, and irresponsibility.
19 She is fornicating with "The Beast", which is described in Revelation 19:19 as "the kings of the earth", who today are 20 our modern corrupted political rulers.

21 4. Retraxit by tacit procuration. This is where you withdraw your standing to claim rights in any matter as Plaintiff.

22
23 *"Retraxit. Lat. He has withdrawn. A retraxit is a voluntary renunciation by plaintiff in open court of his suit and 24 cause thereof, and by it plaintiff forever loses his action. Virginia Concrete Co. v. Board of Sup'rs of Fairfax
25 County, 197 Va. 821, 91 S.E.2d. 415, 419. It is equivalent to a verdict and judgment on the merits of the case
26 and bars another suit for the same cause between the same parties. Datta v. Staab, 343 P.2d. 977, 982, 173
27 C.A.2d 613. Under rules practice, this is accomplished by a voluntary dismissal. Fed.R.Civ.I P. 41(a)."*
28 [Black's Law Dictionary, Fifth Edition, pp. 1183-1185]

29
30 The courts won't document and will vociferously avoid explaining or justifying these prejudicial presumptions about the 31 use of government identifying numbers because if they did, then you would understand where their jurisdiction derives and
32 withdraw yourself from it and destroy the only source of their jurisdiction. The courts also know that all "presumption" is a
33 violation of due process that is unconstitutional if it undermines your Constitutional rights so they will never call it what it is 34 because it will destroy most of their authority and importance. This is exhaustively explained in the following pamphlet:

35
36 Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

37
38 Therefore, the above is just something you have to know and practical experience has taught us that this is the truth. If you
39 would like to learn more about how the above process is used to lawfully deceive and enslave the legally ignorant and 40 unsuspecting American "sheep" public at large, read the following fascinating and very enlightening document:

43
44 15.6 How corrupt governments illegally procure "implied consent" of People to waive their 45 sovereign immunity

46
47 According to the courts, the waivers of sovereign immunity by the U.S. government cannot lawfully be procured through 48 "implied consent" and must be EXPLICITLY stated in writing. Hence, the SAME standard applies to PEOPLE by 49 implication, under the concept of equal protection and equal treatment that is the foundation of the United States
50 Constitution.

51
52 *In analyzing whether Congress has waived the immunity of the United States, we must construe waivers strictly 53 in favor of the sovereign, see McMahon v. United States, 342 U.S. 25, 27 (1951), and not enlarge the waiver "
54 'beyond what the language requires,' " Ruckelshaus v. Sierra Club, 463 U.S. 680, 685-686 (1983), quoting
55 Eastern Transportation Co. v. United States, 272 U.S. 675, 686 (1927). The no-interest rule provides an added 56 gloss of strictness upon these usual rules.*

58 *[T]here can be no consent by implication or by use of ambiguous language. Nor can an intent on the part of 59 the framers of a statute or contract to permit the recovery of interest suffice where the intent is not translated 60 into affirmative statutory or contractual terms. The consent necessary to waive the traditional immunity must be 61 express, and it must be strictly construed." United States v. N. Y. Rayon Importing Co., 329 U. S., at 659.
62 [Library of Congress v. Shaw, 478 U.S. 310 (1986)]*

1 The Declaration of Independence affirms that the rights of PEOPLE are unalienable in relation to a real government.
2 Hence, they are INCAPABLE of waiving sovereign immunity in relation to a real de jure government:

3 "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator
4 with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to
5 secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the 6 governed, -"
7 [Declaration of Independence]

8 "Unalienable. Inalienable; incapable of being aliened, that is, sold and transferred."
9 [Black's Law Dictionary, Fourth Edition, p. 1693]

10 Nevertheless, what Jesus called the "money changers" have taken over the civil temple called "government" and have 11 turned the purpose of their creation on its head by making a profitable business out of ALIENATING rights that are 12 supposed to be UNALIENABLE. Obviously, the FIRST step in protecting PRIVATE rights is to ensure that they are not
13 converted into PUBLIC rights or government property without the EXPRESS, WRITTEN, FULLY INFORMED
14 CONSENT of the original owner. This section describes some of the mechanisms by which they breach their fiduciary
15 duty to protect PRIVATE rights using stealthful mechanisms such as "implied consent".

16 Below are some examples of "implied consent" to waive sovereign immunity, to help illustrate how corrupted governments
17 try to evade the above requirement often without the knowledge of the party IMPLIEDLY consenting, in some cases.

18 1. When a person in the course of business affairs or a nation in the presence of a treaty with another nation willingly
19 tolerates a breach of contract or treaty, they give their silent consent to the violation and thereby surrender any rights
20 which might have been encroached thereby.

21 Supposing this not to be a tax for inspection purposes, has Congress consented to its being laid? It is certain
22 that Congress has not expressly consented. But is express consent necessary? There is nothing in the 23 Constitution which says so. There is nothing in the practice of men, or in the Municipal Law of men, or in
24 the practice of nations, or the Law of nations that says so. Silence gives consent, is the rule of business life. A
25 tender of bank bills is as good as one of coin, unless the bills are objected to. To stand by, in silence, and see 26 another sell your property, binds you. These are mere instances of the use of the maxim in the Municipal Law.
27 In the Law of Nations, it is equally potent. Silent acquiescence in the breach of a treaty binds a Nation. (
28 Vattel, ch. 16, sec. 199, book 1. See book 2, sec. 142, et seq. as to usucaption and prescription, and sec. 208 as 29 to ratification.

30 Express consent, then, not being necessary, is there any thing from which consent may be implied? There is-
31 length of time. The Ordinance was passed the 24th of January, 1842, and has been in operation ever since. If 32 Congress had been opposed to the Ordinance, it had but to speak, to be obeyed. It spoke not-it has never 33 spoken: therefore, it has not been opposed to the Ordinance, but has been consenting to it.

34 4. Say, however, that Congress has not consented to the Ordinance, then the most that can be maintained is,
35 that the Ordinance stands subject to "the revision and control of Congress." It stands a Law-a something 36 susceptible of revision and control-not a something unsusceptible of revision and control as a void thing would 37 be.
[Padelford, Fay & Co. v. Mayor and Aldermen of City of Savannah, 14 Ga. 438, WL 1492, (1854)]

38 2. When a person drives in state, he consents to a blood-alcohol test if required by a police officer who has some probable
39 cause to believe that he is intoxicated.
40 3. When a person commits a crime (violation of a criminal or penal code) on the territory of a foreign state and thereby
41 injures the equal rights of fellow sovereigns, they are deemed implicitly consent to a surrender of their own rights.
42 They do not need a domicile or residence on the territory of the sovereign in order to become subject to the criminal
43 laws of that sovereign. This is because every nation, state, or foreign sovereign has an inherent and natural right of 44 self-defense. Implicit in this right is the God-given authority to use whatever force is necessary to prevent an injury to 45 their person, property, or liberty from the malicious or harmful acts of others.
46 4. When a man sticks his pecker in a hole, he is presumed by voluntarily engaging in such an act to consent to all the 47 obligations arising out of such a "privilege". This includes implied consent to pay all child support obligations that
48 might accrue in the future by virtue of such an act. Marriage licenses are the state's vain attempt to protect the owner
49 of the hole from being injured by either irresponsible visitors or their poor discretion in choosing or allowing visitors,
50 and not a whole lot more. In this context, as in nearly all other contexts, the government offers a privilege or "license"
51 which essentially amounts to a form of "liability insurance". You can only benefit from the insurance program by 52 voluntarily "signing up" when you make application to procure the license.

1 5. When a person avails themselves of a benefit or “privilege” offered by the government, they implicitly consent to be
2 bound by all the obligations arising out of it.

3 CALIFORNIA CIVIL CODE
4 DIVISION 3. OBLIGATIONS
5 PART 2. CONTRACTS
6 CHAPTER 3. CONSENT
7 Section 1589

9 1589. A voluntary acceptance of the benefit of a transaction is equivalent to a consent to all the obligations
10 arising from it, so far as the facts are known, or ought to be known, to the person accepting.

11 Below are some examples of “benefits” that might fit this description, all of which amount to the equivalent of private 12 insurance offered by what amounts to a for profit, government-owned corporation :

13 5.1. Social Security.
14 5.2. Medicare.
15 5.3. Unemployment insurance.
16 5.4. Federal employment. Anyone who exercises their right to contract in order to procure federal employment
17 implicitly agrees to be bound by all of Title 5 of the United States Code.
18 5.5. Registering a vehicle. You are not required to register your vehicle in a state. Most people do it to provide added
19 protection of their ownership over the vehicle. When they procure this privilege, they also confer upon the state
20 the right to require those who drive the vehicle to use a license. A vehicle that is not so registered, and especially 21 by a non-domiciled person, can lawfully be driven by such a person without the need for a driver’s license.
22 5.6. Professional licenses. A “license” is legally defined as permission by the state to do that which is otherwise
23 illegal. A professional licenses is simply an official recognition of a person’s professional status. It is illegal to 24 claim the benefits of that recognition unless you possess the license. The government has moral and legal 25 authority to prevent you only from engaging in criminal and harmful behaviors, not ALL behaviors. Therefore,
26 the only thing they can lawfully “license” are potentially harmful activities, such as manufacturing or selling
27 alcohol, drugs, medical equipment, or toxic substances. Any other type of license, such as an attorney license, is 28 a voluntary privilege that they cannot prosecute you for refusing to engage in.
29 5.7. Driver’s licenses. All states can only issue or require driver’s licenses of those domiciled in federal areas or 30 territory within the exterior limit of the state. They cannot otherwise regulate the free exercise of a right. Since
31 federal territory or federal areas are the only place where these legal rights do NOT exist, then this is the only 32 place they can lawfully regulate the right to travel.
33 5.8. Statutory marriage. Most states have outlawed common law marriage. Consequently, the only way you can 34 become subject to the family code in your state is to voluntarily procure a government license to marry.

35 When a foreign state explicitly (in writing) or implicitly (through their conduct) consents to the jurisdiction of a sister
36 Forum or State, they are deemed to be “present” within that state legally, but not necessarily physically. Here is how the 37 Ninth Circuit Court of Federal Appeals describes this concept:

38 In International Shoe Co. v. Washington, 326 U.S. 310 (1945), the Supreme Court held that a court may
39 exercise personal jurisdiction over a defendant consistent with due process only if he or she has "certain
40 minimum contacts" with the relevant forum "such that the maintenance of the suit does not offend 'traditional
41 notions of fair play and substantial justice.' " Id. at 316 (quoting Milliken v. Meyer, 311 U.S. 457, 463 (1940)).
42 Unless a defendant's contacts with a forum are so substantial, continuous, and systematic that the defendant
43 can be deemed to be "present" in that forum for all purposes, a forum may exercise only "specific"
44 jurisdiction - that is, jurisdiction based on the relationship between the defendant's forum contacts and the 45 plaintiff's claim.

46 [. . .]

47 In this circuit, we analyze specific jurisdiction according to a three-prong test:

48 (1) The non-resident defendant must purposefully direct his activities or consummate some transaction with
49 the forum or resident thereof; or perform some act by which he purposefully avails himself of the privilege
50 of conducting activities in the forum, thereby invoking the benefits and protections of its laws;
51 (2) the claim must be one which arises out of or relates to the defendant's forum-related activities; and
52 (3) the exercise of jurisdiction must comport with fair play and substantial justice, i.e. it must be reasonable.

53 Schwarzenegger v. Fred Martin Motor Co., 374 F.3d. 797, 802 (9th Cir. 2004) (quoting Lake v. Lake, 817 F.2d.
54 1416, 1421 (9th Cir. 1987)). The first prong is determinative in this case. We have sometimes referred to it, in

1 shorthand fashion, as the "purposeful availment" prong. Schwarzenegger, 374 F.3d. at 802. Despite its label,
2 this prong includes both purposeful availment and purposeful direction. It may be satisfied by purposeful
3 availment of the privilege of doing business in the forum; by purposeful direction of activities at the forum; or
4 by some combination thereof.

6 16 Tax Liability and Responsibilities of Nonresident Aliens

7 We assembled the table below to succinctly summarize the tax situation of nonresident aliens to help you better understand
8 the benefits of becoming a nonresident alien. It is important to point out that:

9 1. The duty to file returns is found in 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b) and is imposed on "nonresident alien individuals" but NOT
10 upon "nonresidents" who are not "individuals" (aliens). Therefore, those who are "non-citizen nationals" but not aliens
11 pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452, which includes Americans born within states of the Union and 12 domiciled there, do not have a requirement to file a return.
13 2. ALL of these duties pertain ONLY to those who are "nonresident alien individuals".
14 3. The term "nonresident alien" is used instead of "nonresident alien individual" when they are trying to exclude or 15 exempt something.
16 4. Those places where "nonresident alien individuals" exclude "nonresident aliens" who are not "individuals", meaning
17 aliens as defined in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3):

18 "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
19 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
20 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or
21 things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
22 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
23 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."

Later versions of IRC section 6012 deliberately add more indirection and confusion to the explanation of the requirement to file by saying that those having “gross income” not exceeding the exemption amount plus the standard deduction don’t need to file. Congress used the term “gross income” instead of “taxable income” to make the situation even more difficult for the average person to figure out. Earlier versions of the code were much clearer and much more honest.

If you have a W-8 bank account, no taxes can ever be withheld and, without a Social Security Numbered account, the IRS and other arms of the federal government have NO AUTHORITY to ever seize any of your funds. WARNING: DO NOT file an IRS W-8BEN because the instruction for the form define a “BENEFICIAL OWNER” as someone who is “ required under U.S. tax principles to include the income in gross income on a tax return ”, which is clearly NOT the case! Since nonresident aliens don’t have to file returns or pay taxes, then admitting to being a “beneficial owner” admits to being a citizen who is a taxpayer who has to file and pay tax, which most nonresident aliens are not . Instead, you should create your own substitute W-8BEN form that redefines “beneficial owner” or use the older W-8 form as described in section 6.4.9 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302 . There is a substitute W-8BEN form that has been “defanged” on the Family Guardian website, under “Sovereignty Forms and Instructions Online, Form #10.004”.

1 17 Taxable “income” of Nonresident Aliens

2 17.1 What is statutory “income”?

3 Taxable income of nonresident aliens is identified in 26 U.S.C. §871. The entire section deals ONLY with “income” from
4 sources within the “United States”, meaning the United States government and not the geographical “United States”
5 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10). Those engaging in federal franchises such as a “trade or business” are
6 considered to be “within the United States” (government), because they are public officers acting in a representative
7 capacity pursuant to Fed.R.Civ.Proc. 17(b). Earnings outside the “United States” are expressly excluded pursuant to 26
8 U.S.C. §864(b)(1)(A), 26 U.S.C. §861(a)(3)(C)(i) , 26 U.S.C. §3401(a)(6) , 26 U.S.C. §1402(b) .

9 We must also emphasize that this section describes “income” and NOT “all earnings”. The term “income” is then defined 10 below as the earnings of an estate or trust and not a human being.

11 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter J > PART I > Subpart A > § 643
12 § 643. Definitions applicable to subparts A, B, C, and D

13 (b) Income

14 For purposes of this subpart and subparts B, C, and D, the term “income”, when not preceded by the words
15 “taxable”, “distributable net”, “undistributed net”, or “gross”, means the amount of income of the estate or 16 trust for the taxable year determined under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law.
17 Items of gross income constituting extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary,
18 acting in good faith, determines to be allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and
19 applicable local law shall not be considered income.

20 The trust they are talking about can only mean the “public trust”, meaning the government once again. The only thing the 21 government can lawfully regulate is PUBLIC conduct, not PRIVATE conduct. The ability to regulate PRIVATE conduct,
22 according to the U.S. Supreme Court, is “repugnant to the Constitution”:

43 Sources of statutory “income” within I.R.C. Section 871 are divided up into two categories:

44 1. Income not connected with United States business: 26 U.S.C. §871(a).

45 1.1. These earnings are subject to a uniform 30% tax.
46 1.2. No method of reporting these types of earnings through information returns.
47 1.3. Deductions not allowed under 26 U.S.C. §162 as described in 26 U.S.C. §873.
48 1.4. Documented on IRS Form 1040NR only for “individuals”.
49 1.5. Includes Social Security payments pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(3) and 26 U.S.C. §861(a)(8) .
50 1.6. Excludes items listed in 26 U.S.C. §872(b).

1 1.7. Includes the following types of earnings:
2 1.7.1. Income other than capital gains. 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(1).
3 1.7.2. Capital gains of aliens present in the United States 183 days or more. 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(1).
4 2. Income connected with United States business: 26 U.S.C. §871(b). These earnings are subject to a graduated rate of 5 tax described in 26 U.S.C. §1.
6 2.1. Reported on IRS information returns, such as Forms W-2, 1042-S, 1098, and 1099.
7 2.2. Subject to deductions under 26 U.S.C. §162 and pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §873.
8 2.3. Documented using IRS Forms 1040 and 1040NR for “individuals”.

9 The second category above, “trade or business” earnings, is self-explanatory. See the following for exhaustive details:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

10 The first category above, which is income not connected with the “trade or business” franchise, however, requires further 11 explanation because it is frequently a point of confusion for most people, and especially for government employees.

12 17.2 26 U.S.C. §871(a): Earnings not connected to the “trade or business” franchise

13 You might wonder why earnings not connected with the “trade or business” franchise are a flat/uniform 30% instead of the 14 graduated rate applied to those in the “trade or business” category described in 26 U.S.C. §871(b). The reason is that:

15 1. All earnings originating from sources within the “United States”, meaning the government, are presumed to be 16 connected with a “trade or business” and public office franchise per 26 U.S.C. §864(c)(3):

17 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART I > § 864
18 § 864. Definitions and special rules

19 (c) Effectively connected income, etc.

20 (3) Other income from sources within United States

21 *All income, gain, or loss from sources within the United States (other than income, gain, or loss to which 22 paragraph (2) applies) shall be treated as effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within
23 the United States.*

24 2. The only type of earnings therefore that are NOT connected with the “trade or business” franchise and described in 25 under 26 U.S.C. §871(a) originate from outside the “United States”, meaning the government. Most such earnings
26 would therefore come from states of the Union.

27 3. The U.S. supreme Court has held that taxes that were not uniform throughout the “United States” as used in the 28 Constitution, meaning states of the Union and not federal statutory “States”, were unconstitutional outside of the 29 federal United States in the landmark case of Pollock v. Farmers’ Loan & Trust Co., 157 U.S. 429, 158 U.S. 601
30 (1895):

31 *“...the law is invalid, because imposing indirect taxes in violation of the constitutional requirement of 32 uniformity, and therein also in violation of the implied limitation upon taxation that all tax laws must apply
33 equally, impartially, and uniformly to all similarly situated. Under the second head, it is contended that the 34 rule of uniformity is violated, in that the law taxes the income of certain corporations, companies, and 35 associations, no matter how created or organized, at a higher rate than the incomes of individuals or 36 partnerships derived from precisely similar property or business; in that it exempts from the operation of the 37 act and from the burden of taxation numerous corporations, companies, and associations having similar 38 property and carrying on similar business to those expressly taxed; in that it denies to individuals deriving their
39 income from shares in certain corporations, companies, and associations the benefit of the exemption of $ 4,000
40 granted to other persons interested in similar property and business; in the exemption of $4,000; in the 41 exemption of building and loan associations, savings banks, mutual life, fire, marine, and accident insurance
42 companies, existing solely for the pecuniary profit of their members, these and other exemptions being alleged 43 to be purely arbitrary and capricious, justified by no public purpose, and of such magnitude as to invalidate the 44 entire enactment; and in other particulars.”*

45 /Pollock v. Farmers’ Loan & Trust Co., 157 U.S. 429, 158 U.S. 601 (1895)

1 4. Therefore, Congress could not use a graduated rate within states of the Union against those who are nonresident aliens
2 domiciled there.

3 26 U.S.C. §864(c)(2) identifies all sources of income not associated with a "trade or business" and they include ONLY:

4 • 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(1): Income of nonresident aliens other than capital gains derived from patents, copyrights, sale
5 of original issue discounts, gains described in I.R.C. 631(b) or (c), interest, dividends, rents, salaries, premiums,
6 annuities from sources within the "United States".
7 • 26 U.S.C. §871(h): Earnings of nonresident aliens from portfolio debt instruments
8 • 26 U.S.C. §881(a): Earnings of foreign corporations from patents, copyrights, gains, and interest not connected
9 with a trade or business.

10 The main item within I.R.C. §871(a) earnings not connected with a the "trade or business" franchise that we will now
11 concern ourselves with is that described in 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(1), because most Americans don't earn capital gains from 12 real property located on federal territory. That item says the following:

13 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART II > Subpart A > § 871
14 § 871. Tax on nonresident alien individuals

15 (a) Income not connected with United States business—30 percent tax

16 (I) Income other than capital gains

17 Except as provided in subsection (h), there is hereby imposed for each taxable year a tax of 30 percent of the amount received from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien individual as—

19 (A) interest (other than original issue discount as defined in section 1273), dividends, rents, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, and other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income,

22 (B) gains described in section 631 (b) or (c), and gains on transfers described in section 1235 made on or before October 4, 1966,

24 (C) in the case of—

25 (i) a sale or exchange of an original issue discount obligation, the amount of the original issue discount accruing while such obligation was held by the nonresident alien individual (to the extent such discount was not theretofore taken into account under clause (ii)), and

28 (ii) a payment on an original issue discount obligation, an amount equal to the original issue discount accruing while such obligation was held by the nonresident alien individual (except that such original issue discount shall be taken into account under this clause only to the extent such discount was not theretofore taken into account under this clause and only to the extent that the tax thereon does not exceed the payment less the tax imposed by subparagraph (A) thereon), and

33 (D) gains from the sale or exchange after October 4, 1966, of patents, copyrights, secret processes and formulas, good will, trademarks, trade brands, franchises, and other like property, or of any interest in any such property, to the extent such gains are from payments which are contingent on the productivity, use, or disposition of the property or interest sold or exchanged, but only to the extent the amount so received is not effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States.

38 (2) Capital gains of aliens present in the United States 183 days or more

39 In the case of a nonresident alien individual present in the United States for a period or periods aggregating 183 days or more during the taxable year, there is hereby imposed for such year a tax of 30 percent of the amount by which his gains, derived from sources within the United States, from the sale or exchange at any time during such year of capital assets exceed his losses, allocable to sources within the United States, from the sale or exchange at any time during such year of capital assets. For purposes of this paragraph, gains and losses shall be taken into account only if, and to the extent that, they would be recognized and taken into account if such gains and losses were effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States, except that such gains and losses shall be determined without regard to section 1202 and such losses shall be determined without the benefits of the capital loss carryover provided in section 1212. Any gain or loss which is taken into account in determining the tax under paragraph (1) or subsection (b) shall not be taken into account in determining the tax under this paragraph. For purposes of the 183-day requirement of this

1 paragraph, a nonresident alien individual not engaged in trade or business within the United States who has
2 not established a taxable year for any prior period shall be treated as having a taxable year which is the 3 calendar year.

4 (3) Taxation of social security benefits

5 For purposes of this section and section 1441—

6 (A) 85 percent of any social security benefit (as defined in section 86 \(d\)) shall be included in gross income
7 (notwithstanding section 207 of the Social Security Act), and

8 (B) section 86 shall not apply.

11 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(1)(A) is of particular interest to most people because, at first glance, it might include everyone who 12 works for the U.S. government but would not include the average American. Among those who work for the U.S.
13 Government, there are two approaches to tax withholding and reporting typically:

14 1. Nonresident Alien Position

- 15 1.1. File IRS Form W-8BEN.
- 16 1.2. Should not receive IRS Form W-2 at the end of the year, because this form only applies to those who signed the 17 W-4 contract.
- 18 1.3. Should not receive IRS Form 1042-S because they are not engaged in the “trade or business” franchise.
- 19 1.4. File IRS Form 1040NR and put all their earnings in the category of not connected with United States business 20 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §871(a).
- 21 1.5. Cannot take deductions pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §162 because not engaged in the “trade or business” franchise.

22 2. W-2 “Wage” Slave:

- 23 2.1. Normally file IRS Form W-4.
- 24 2.2. Receive an IRS Form W-2 at the end of the year.
- 25 2.3. Falsely and fraudulently file IRS Form 1040.
- 26 2.4. Take “trade or business” deductions on IRS Form 1040 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §162.

27 The only real question about the above that remains unanswered in the case of the government employee who uses option 1
28 above, the Nonresident Alien Position, is:

29 Are the earnings of a nonresident alien received from the U.S. government “wages” within the meaning of 26
30 U.S.C. §871(a)(1)(A)?

31 This is a CRITICAL question that especially U.S. government workers using the Nonresident Alien Position need an
32 answer for in order that they can know how to properly comply with the tax laws and stay out of trouble. The short answer
33 is NO if all of the following are true:

- 34 1. The nonresident alien government worker is not engaged in a public office within the U.S. government.
- 35 2. The nonresident alien government worker never signed a contract called an IRS Form W-4 agreeing to call his earnings 36 “wages”, and instead filed one of the following to control withholding.
 - 37 2.1. IRS Form W-8BEN Amended. See:
About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
 - 38 2.2. New Hire Paperwork Attachment, Form #04.203
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
- 42 3. The nonresident alien did not make an “election” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) to become a resident alien by 43 filing IRS Form 1040 instead of 1040NR.

44 The justification for the above conclusions are found in the following evidence we have uncovered on this important
45 subject:

1 1. There is no such thing as “employment” outside of federal territory or within states of the Union in the context of the
2 federal government.

1 FN11. Treas.Reg. 132, s 325.41, Example 2 (26 CFR, 1957 Cum. Pocket Supp.), which was issued on November
2 1, 1951 (16 Fed.Reg. 11211, 11222), provides as follows:

3 'B operates a numbers game. He has an arrangement with ten persons, who are employed in various capacities,
4 such as bootblacks, elevator operators, newsdealers, etc., to receive wagers from the public on his behalf. B
5 also employs a person to collect from his agents the wagers received on his behalf.

6 'B, his ten agents, and the employee who collects the wagers received on his behalf are each liable for the 7 special tax.'

8 FN12. Apart from this, the force of this Treasury Regulations as an aid to the interpretation of the statute is 9 impaired by its own internal inconsistency. Thus, while Example 2 of that regulation purports to make the pick-
10 up man liable for the s 3290 occupational tax, Example 1 of the same regulation provides that 'a secretary and 11 bookkeeper' of one 'engaged in the business of accepting horse race bets' are not liable for the occupational tax
12 'unless they also receive wagers' for the person so engaged in business, although those who 'receive wagers by 13 telephone' are so liable. Thus in this instance a distinction seems to be drawn between the 'acceptance' of the 14 wager, and its 'receipt' for recording purposes. But if this be proper, it is not apparent why the same distinction
15 is not also valid between a writer, who 'accepts' or 'receives' a bet from a numbers player, and a pick-up man,
16 who simply 'receives' a copy of the slips on which the writer has recorded the bet, and passes it along to the 17 banker.

20 2. You can't earn "wages" pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §3401(a) unless you are an "employee":

21 TITLE 26 > Subtitle C > CHAPTER 24 > § 3401
22 § 3401. Definitions

23 (a) Wages

24 For purposes of this chapter, the term "wages" means all remuneration (other than fees paid to a public
25 official) for services performed by an employee for his employer, including the cash value of all remuneration
26 (including benefits) paid in any medium other than cash; except that such term shall not include remuneration
27 paid—

28 3. The term "employee" is statutorily defined as follows:

29 26 U.S.C. §3401\(c \) Employee

30 For purposes of this chapter, the term "employee" includes [is limited to] an officer, employee, or elected
31 official of the United States, a State, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or any
32 agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing. The term "employee" also includes an officer of 33 a corporation.

35 26 CFR §31.3401\(c \)-1 Employee:

36 "...the term [employee] includes officers and employees, whether elected or appointed, of the United States, a
37 [federal] State, Territory, Puerto Rico or any political subdivision, thereof, or the District of Columbia, or any 38 agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing. The term 'employee' also includes an officer of a
39 corporation."

41 TITLE 5 > PART III > Subpart A > CHAPTER 21 > § 2105
42 § 2105. Employee

43 (a) For the purpose of this title, "employee", except as otherwise provided by this section or when specifically
44 modified, means an officer and an individual who is—

45 (1) appointed in the civil service by one of the following acting in an official capacity—

46 (A) the President;
47 (B) a Member or Members of Congress, or the Congress;
48 (C) a member of a uniformed service;
49 (D) an individual who is an employee under this section;

(E) the head of a Government controlled corporation; or
(F) an adjutant general designated by the Secretary concerned under section 709 (c) of title 32;

(2) engaged in the performance of a Federal function under authority of law or an Executive act; and
(3) subject to the supervision of an individual named by paragraph (1) of this subsection while engaged in the performance of the duties of his position.

4. You're not a statutory "employee" unless you are a "public officer" in the U.S. government. 26 U.S.C. §3401(c) and 26 CFR §31.3401(c)-1 includes "officers, employees, and elected officials" within the definition of the term "employee". The term "employee" as used in 26 U.S.C. §3401(c) is then defined in Title 5 as an "officer and an individual"

at 26 U.S.C. §2105(a). Therefore, ordinary, common law workers, including those who work for the government, are not “employees” as statutorily defined in the I.R.C. If ordinary workers other than “public officers” were included, the law would have to expressly indicate it and it doesn’t. The ordinary use of a term found in the code cannot be presumed where a statutory definition is provided that supersedes it. Therefore, the rules of statutory construction forbid us to PRESUME that they are included:

"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles, 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."

"When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that term's ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) ("It is axiomatic that the statutory definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term"); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n. 10 ("As a rule, `a definition which declares what a term "means" . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated'"); Western Union Telegraph Co. v. Lenroot, 323 U.S. 490, 502 (1945); Fox v. Standard Oil Co. of N.J., 294 U.S. 87, 95-96 (1935) (Cardozo, J.); see also 2A N. Singer, Sutherland on Statutes and Statutory Construction § 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the contrary."

[Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000)]

5. “Public officers” work for the government, not for private companies. If you work for a private company you therefore can’t lawfully earn “wages” unless you sign a contract called IRS Form W-4 agreeing to call what you earn “wages” as legally defined:

Payroll Deduction Agreements

2. Private employers, states, and political subdivisions are not required to enter into payroll deduction agreements. Taxpayers should determine whether their employers will accept and process executed agreements before agreements are submitted for approval or finalized.
[<http://www.irs.gov/irm/part5/ch14s10.html>]

Notwithstanding the exceptions to the definition of wages specified in section 3401(a) and the regulations thereunder, the term "wages" includes the amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section with respect to which there is a voluntary withholding agreement in effect under section 3402(p). References in this chapter to the definition of wages contained in section 3401(a) shall be deemed to refer also to this section (\S 31.3401(a)-3).

§ 31.3402(p)-1 Voluntary withholding agreements.

(a) In general.

An employee and his employer may enter into an agreement under section 3402(b) to provide for the withholding of income tax upon payments of amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of §31.3401(a)-3, made after December 31, 1970. An agreement may be entered into under this section only with respect to amounts which are includable in the gross income of the employee under section 61, and must be applicable to all such amounts paid by the employer to the employee. The amount to be withheld pursuant to an agreement under section 3402(p) shall be determined under the rules contained in section 3402 and the regulations thereunder. See §31.3405(c)-1, Q&A-3 concerning agreements to have more than 20-percent Federal income tax withheld from eligible rollover distributions within the meaning of section 402.

6. If you aren't the statutory "employee" indicated above and you didn't submit IRS Form W-4 and thereby call yourself an "employee" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §3401(c), then you can't earn statutory "wages" as legally defined. You might earn wages in an ordinary sense, but not in the statutory sense, and the statutory sense is the only sense in which "wages" are used. The IRS Form W-4 says "Employee Withholding Allowance Certificate". The IRS Form W-8BEN doesn't even mention the term "employee" and what is not specified in law or a form cannot be presumed without violating due process of law.

(4) for service not in the course of the employer's trade or business performed in any calendar quarter by an employee, unless the cash remuneration paid for such service is $50 or more and such service is performed by an individual who is regularly employed by such employer to perform such service. For purposes of this paragraph, an individual shall be deemed to be regularly employed by an employer during a calendar quarter only if—

(A) on each of some 24 days during such quarter such individual performs for such employer for some portion of the day service not in the course of the employer's trade or business; or

(B) such individual was regularly employed (as determined under subparagraph (A)) by such employer in the performance of such service during the preceding calendar quarter; or

1 9. The term “individual” as used in the definition of “wages” above is defined in the Privacy Act, where the term
2 “individual” is then defined in 5 U.S.C. §552a(a)(2) as a government employee with a domicile on federal territory.
3 Nowhere is a human being or a person with a domicile within a state of the Union included in the definition. The 4 “citizen” and “resident” described below is a person with a domicile on federal territory that is no part of any state of

21 (a) In general.

22 All remuneration paid after December 31, 1966, for services performed by a nonresident alien individual, if
23 such remuneration otherwise constitutes wages within the meaning of §31.3401(a)-1 and if such remuneration
24 is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States, is subject to

(f) Other exclusions.

Income which is from sources without [outside] the United States [federal territory per 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)], as determined under the provisions of sections 861 through 863, and the regulations thereunder, is not included in the gross income of a nonresident alien individual unless such income is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States by that individual. To determine specific exclusions in the case of other items which are from sources within the United States, see the applicable sections of the Code. For special rules under a tax convention for determining the sources of income and for excluding, from gross income, income from sources without the United States which is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see the applicable tax convention. For determining which income from sources without the United States is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see section 864(c)(4) and §1.864-5.

18 How “Nonresident Alien Nontaxpayers” are deceived or compelled into becoming “Taxpayers”

18.1 Kidnapping and transporting your identity to a foreign jurisdiction by abusing “words of art”, the rules of statutory construction, and unconstitutional presumptions

"Old age and treachery will always overcome youth and skill."
[Federal judge]

Other famous and very frequent tactics of corrupt judges and administrative personnel is to:

1. Abuse the word “includes” as a way to essentially turn a specific statutory “definitions” into NON-definition that can mean anything they want it to mean. For instance, they will say that “includes” is not used as a term of LIMITATION and that they can “include” anything they want in the definition, such as the definition of “includes” found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(c).

26 U.S.C. Sec. 7701(c) INCLUDES AND INCLUDING.

The terms ‘include’ and ‘including’ when used in a definition contained in this title shall not be deemed to exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of the term defined.”

The purpose for providing a statutory definition is to SUPERSEDE the common or ordinary meaning of a word, not ENLARGE it. The only other use for the word "includes" is in an additive sense, but this application is a method of ADDING to EXISTING statutory definitions, not adding the ORDINARY meaning to the STATUTORY meaning. This constructive fraud is the most common method of unlawfully enlarging federal jurisdiction and is exhaustively rebutted in:

Meaning of the Words “includes” and “including”, Form #05.014
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

2. Abuse the rules of statutory construction to add things or classes of things that do not expressly appear in statutory definitions of especially geographical “words of art”, such as “State” and “United States”. This violates the following rules of statutory construction:

"When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that term's ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) ("It is axiomatic that the statutory definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term"); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n. 10 ("As a rule, `a definition which declares what a term "means" . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated'"); Western Union Telegraph Co. v. Lenroot, 323 U.S. 490, 502 (1945); Fox v. Standard Oil Co. of N.J., 294 U.S. 87, 95-96 (1935) (Cardozo, J.); see also 2A N. Singer, Sutherland on Statutes and Statutory Construction § 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the contrary."

"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles, 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be

1 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
2 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”
3 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

4 3. Make conclusive presumptions about your status that are not substantiated with evidence and which cannot be used as 5 a substitute for evidence without violating due process of law and rendering the final judgment void:

6 This court has never treated a presumption as any form of evidence. See, e.g., A.C. Aukerman Co. v. R.L.
7 Chaides Constr. Co., 960 F.2d. 1020, 1037 (Fed.Cir.1992) (“[A] presumption is not evidence.”); see also Del
8 Vecchio v. Bowers, 296 U.S. 280, 286, 56 S.Ct. 190, 193, 80 L.Ed. 229 (1935) (“[A presumption] cannot 9 acquire the attribute of evidence in the claimant’s favor.”); New York Life Ins. Co. v. Gamer, 303 U.S. 161, 171,
10 58 S.Ct. 500, 503, 82 L.Ed. 726 (1938) (“[A] presumption is not evidence and may not be given weight as 11 evidence.”). Although a decision of this court, Jensen v. Brown, 19 F.3d. 1413, 1415 (Fed.Cir.1994), dealing 12 with presumptions in VA law is cited for the contrary proposition, the Jensen court did not so decide.
13 [Routen v. West, 142 F.3d. 1434 C.A.Fed.,1998]

14 (1) [8:4993] Conclusive presumptions affecting protected interests: A conclusive presumption may be defeated
15 where its application would impair a party’s constitutionally-protected liberty or property interests. In such
16 cases, conclusive presumptions have been held to violate a party’s due process and equal protection rights.
17 [Vlandis v. Kline (1973) 412 U.S. 441, 449, 93 S.Ct. 2230, 2235; Cleveland Bed. of Ed. v. LaFleur (1974) 414
18 U.S. 632, 639-640, 94 S.Ct. 1208, 1215-presumption under Illinois law that unmarried fathers are unfit violates
19 process]
20 [Rutter Group Practice Guide-Federal Civil Trials and Evidence, paragraph 8:4993, page 8K-34]

21 Examples of unconstitutional presumptions that violate due process of law and render a void judgment include:

22 3.1. Presume that CONSTITUTIONAL and STATUTORY contexts of geographical terms are equivalent. They are 23 not and in fact are MUTUALLY exclusive. See section 12.2 earlier.
24 3.2. Presume that the STATUTORY definition and the COMMON definition are equivalent. For instance, an
25 “employee” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §3401(c) and 5 U.S.C. §2105(a) is a public officer in the U.S. government
26 and is NOT equivalent to a PRIVATE employee because the ability to regulate PRIVATE conduct is repugnant to 27 the Constitution. Governments are instituted to PROTECT private rights and you protect them by not burdening
28 or regulating or punishing their exercise.

29 “The power to “legislate generally upon” life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the “power to provide modes
30 of redress” against offensive state action, was “repugnant” to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States
31 v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v. Bowman, 190
32 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or
33 modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest,
34 383 U.S. 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress’ §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not
35 been questioned.”
36 [City of Boerne v. Flores, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 (1997)]

37 Of course all of the above methods are abused to unlawfully extend federal jurisdiction into legislatively foreign
38 jurisdictions such as states of the Union, and to unconstitutionally break down the separation of powers between the states
39 and the national government that is the foundation of the constitution. This constitutes a conspiracy against rights protected 40 by the Constitution and is exhaustively described in:

Government Conspiracy to Destroy the Separation of Powers, Form #05.023
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

41 18.2 Deliberately Confusing “Nonresident Aliens” with “Aliens”

42 A popular technique promoted and encouraged by the IRS is to:

43 1. Deliberately confuse “nonresident aliens” with “aliens”.
44 2. Deliberately confuse CONSTITUTIONAL aliens with STATUTORY aliens under the I.R.C. They are NOT the same.
45 One can be a alien under Title 8 of the U.S. Code while NOT being an alien under the I.R.C. because the two titles rely 46 on DIFFERENT definitions and contexts for the term “United States”.
47 3. Falsely tell you or imply that “nonresident aliens” include only those aliens that are not resident within the jurisdiction
48 of the United States.
49 4. Deceive you into believing that “nonresident aliens” and “nonresident alien individuals” are equivalent. They are not.
50 It is a maxim of law that things that are similar are NOT the same:

5 5. Refuse to define what a “nonresident alien” is and what is included in the definition within 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).
6 6. Define what it ISN’T, and absolutely refuse to define what it IS.
7 7. Refuse to acknowledge that “nationals” as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22) are 8 “nonresident aliens”.

9 All of the confusion and deception surrounding “nonresident alien” status is introduced and perpetuated mainly in the IRS
10 publications and the Treasury Regulations. It is not found in the Internal Revenue Code. “Nonresident aliens” and “aliens”
11 are not equivalent in law, and confusing them has the following direct injurious consequences against those who are “non-12 citizen nationals”:

13 1. Prejudicing their ability to claim “nonresident alien” status at financial institutions and employers. This occurs because 14 without either a Treasury Regulation or IRS publication they can point to which proves that they are a “nonresident 15 alien”, they will not have anything they can show these institutions in order that their status will be recognized when
16 they open accounts or pursue employment. This compels them in violation of the law because of the ignorance of bank
17 clerks and employers into declaring that they are “U.S. persons” and enumerating themselves just in order to obtain the 18 services or employment that they seek.
19 2. Unlawfully preventing non-citizen nationals from being able to change their domicile if they mistakenly claim to be 20 “residents” of the United States. 26 CFR §1.871-5 says that an intention of an “alien” to change his domicile/residence
21 is insufficient to change it whereas a similar intention on the part of a “non-citizen national” is sufficient.

22 The above injuries to the rights of non-citizen nationals is very important, because we prove in the following document and
23 elsewhere on our website that all persons born within and domiciled within the exclusive jurisdiction of a state of the Union
24 are “non-citizen nationals” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21), and so this injury is widespread and vast in its consequences:

Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

25 Let’s show some of the IRS deception to disguise the availability of “nonresident alien” status to non-citizen nationals so
26 that they don’t use it. Below is the definition of “Nonresident alien”

27 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > § 7701
28 § 7701. Definitions

29 (b) Definition of resident alien and nonresident alien

30 (1) In general

31 (B) Nonresident alien

32 An individual is a nonresident alien if such individual is neither a citizen of the United States nor a
33 resident of the United States (within the meaning of subparagraph (A)).

34 Below are two consistent definitions of “alien”:

35 26 CFR §1.1441-1 Requirement for the deduction and withholding of tax on payments to foreign persons.

36 (c) Definitions

37 (3) Individual.

38 (i) Alien individual.

39 The term alien individual means an individual who is not a citizen or a national of the United States. See Sec.
40 1.1-1(c).

2 TITLE 8 > CHAPTER 12 > SUBCHAPTER I > § 1101
3 § 1101. Definitions

4 (a) As used in this chapter—

5 (3) The term “alien” means any person not a citizen or national of the United States.

6 Notice based on the above definitions that:

7 1. They define what “alien” and “nonresident alien” are NOT, but not what they ARE.
8 2. The definition of “nonresident alien” is NOT equivalent to “alien”. The two overlap, but neither is a subset of the 9 other.
10 3. There are two classes of entities that are “nonresident aliens”, which include:
11 3.1. “Aliens” with no domicile or residence within the “United States”
12 3.2. “nationals” with no domicile or residence within the “United States”. These include “nationals” as defined in 8
13 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) domiciled in states of the Union and born there, and “nationals of the United States” as 14 defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B) who are domiciled in federal possessions and born there.

15 Item 3.2 above is corroborated by:

16 1. The content of IRS Publication 519, which obtusely mentions what it calls “U.S. nationals”, which it then defines as 17 persons domiciled in American Samoa and Swains Island who do not elect to become statutory “U.S. citizens”.

18 “A U.S. national is an alien who, although not a U.S. citizen, owes his or her allegiance to the United States.
19 U.S. nationals include American Samoans, and Northern Mariana Islanders who choose to become U.S.
20 nationals instead of U.S. citizens”
21 [\[IRS Publication 519: Tax Guide for Aliens, Year 2007, p. 43\]](#)

22 The above statement is partially false. A statutory “U.S. national” as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22) is NOT an
23 “alien”, because aliens exclude “nationals of the United States” based on the definition of “alien” found in 26 CFR
24 §1.1441-1(c)(3)(i) and 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3). The “U.S. national” to which they refer also very deliberately is neither
25 mentioned nor defined anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code or the Treasury Regulations as being “nonresident
26 aliens”, even though they in fact are and Pub. 519 admits that they are. The only statutory definition of “U.S. national”
27 is found in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B) and 8 U.S.C. §1408. However, the existence of this person is also found on IRS
28 Form 1040NR itself, which mentions it as a status as being a “nonresident alien”. By the way, don’t let the 29 government fool you by using the above as evidence in a legal proceeding because it ISN’T competent evidence and 30 cannot form the basis for a reasonable belief or willfulness. The IRS itself says you cannot and should not rely on 31 anything in any of their publications. The IRS, in fact, routinely deceives and lies in their publications and their forms 32 and does so with the blessings and even protection of the federal district courts, even though they hypocritically sue the 33 rest of us for “abusive tax shelters” if we offer the public equally misleading information. For details on this subject,
34 see:

Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

35 2. 26 U.S.C. §877(a), which describes a “nonresident alien” who lost citizenship to avoid taxes and therefore is subject to 36 a special assessment as a punishment for that act of political dis-association. Notice the statute doesn’t say a “citizen 37 of the United States” losing citizenship, but a “nonresident alien”. The “citizenship” they are referring to is the 38 “nationality” described in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and NOT the statutory “U.S. citizen” status found in 8 U.S.C. §1401.

39 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART II > Subpart A > § 877
40 § 877. Expatriation to avoid tax

41 (a) Treatment of expatriates

42 (1) In general

43 Every nonresident alien individual to whom this section applies and who, within the 10-year period
44 immediately preceding the close of the taxable year, lost United States citizenship shall be taxable for such
45 taxable year in the manner provided in subsection (b) if the tax imposed pursuant to such subsection (after any

1 reduction in such tax under the last sentence of such subsection) exceeds the tax which, without regard to this
2 section, is imposed pursuant to section 871.

3 So let's get this straight: 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) and 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(i) both say that you cannot be an "alien" if you
4 are a "national" and yet, the IRS publications such as IRS Pub. 519 and the Treasury Regulations frequently identify these
5 same "nationals" as "aliens". Earth calling IRS. Hello? Anybody home? The IRS knows that the key to being sovereign
6 as an American National born in a state of the Union and domiciled there is being a nonresident alien not engaged in a trade
7 or business. So what do they do to prevent people from achieving this status? They surround the status with cognitive
8 dissonance, lies, falsehoods, and mis-directions. Hence one of our favorite sayings:

9 "The truth about the income tax is so precious to the government that it must be surrounded by a bodyguard of 10 lies."
11 [Unknown]

12 Nowhere within the Internal Revenue Code, the Treasury Regulations, or IRS Pub. 519 will you find a definition of the 13 term "national" which is mentioned in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452, and which describes a person born
14 within and domiciled within a state of the Union. However, these persons are treated the same as "U.S. nationals", which 15 means they are "nonresident aliens" and not "aliens". Consequently, unlike aliens, those who are "nationals":

- 16 1. Are not bound by any of the regulations pertaining to "aliens", because they are NOT "aliens" as legally defined..
- 17 2. Do not have to file IRS Form 8840 in order to associate with the "foreign state" they are domiciled within in order to 18 be automatically exempt from Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A taxes.
- 19 3. Are forbidden to file a "Declaration of Intention" to become "U.S. residents" pursuant to 26 CFR §1.871-4 and IRS
20 Form 1078.

21 If you are still confused at this point about non-citizen nationals and who they are, you may want to go back to section 6
22 earlier and examine the tables and diagrams there until the relationships become clear in your mind.

23 Moving on, why does the IRS play this devious sleight of hand? Remember: everything happens for a reason, and here are 24 the reasons:

- 25 1. IRS has a vested interest to maximize the number of "taxpayers" contributing to their scam. Taxation is based on legal 26 domicile.

27 *"Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in
28 transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes. Since the
29 Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence creates
30 universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter
31 obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter. Of course,
32 the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most
33 obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located."*
34 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

35 Therefore, IRS has an interest in compelling persons domiciled in states of the Union into falsely declaring their 36 domicile within the "United States". The status that implies domicile is "U.S. persons" as defined in 26 U.S.C.
37 §7701(a)(30). "U.S. persons" include either statutory "citizens of the United States" as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401 or 38 "resident aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) and both have in common a legal domicile in the "United 39 States".

- 40 2. IRS does not want people born within and domiciled within states of the Union, who are "nationals" pursuant to 8
41 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) to know that "nationals" are included in the definition of "nonresident alien". This would cause a 42 mass exodus from the tax system and severely limit the number of "taxpayers" that they may collect from.
- 43 3. IRS wants to prevent non-citizen nationals from using the nonresident alien status so as to force them, via presumption,
44 into falsely declaring their status to be that of a "U.S. person" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30). This will create a 45 false presumption that they maintain a domicile on federal territory and are therefore subject to federal jurisdiction and 46 "taxpayers".
- 47 4. By refusing to define EXACTLY what is included in the definition of "nonresident alien" in both Treasury Regulations
48 and IRS publications or acknowledging that "nationals" are included in the definition, those opening bank accounts at 49 financial institutions and starting employment will be deprived of evidence which they can affirmatively use to
50 establish their status with these entities, which in effect compels presumption by financial institutions and employers

1 within states of the Union that they are “U.S. persons” who MUST have an identifying number, such as a Social
2 Security Number or a Taxpayer Identification Number. This forces them to participate in a tax system that they can’t
3 lawfully participate in without unknowingly making false statements about their legal status by mis-declaring
4 themselves to be “U.S. persons”.

5 Below are several examples of this deliberate, malicious IRS confusion between “aliens” and “nonresident aliens” found
6 within the IRS publications and Treasury Regulations, where “nonresident aliens” are referred to as “aliens” that we have
7 found so far. All of these examples are the result of a false presumption that “nonresident aliens” are a subset of all
8 “aliens”, which is NOT the case. We were able to find no such confusion within the I.R.C., but it is rampant within the 9 Treasury Regulations.

10 1. IRS Publication 515: Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Corporations. This confusion is found
11 throughout this IRS publication.
12 2. IRS Publication 519: Tax Guide for Aliens. This publication should not even be discussion “nonresident aliens”,
13 because they aren’t a subset of “aliens” unless the word “nonresident alien” is followed with the word “individual”.

44 In determining whether a nonresident alien individual or a foreign corporation has an office or other fixed
45 place of business, the office or other fixed place of business of an agent who is not an independent agent, as 46 defined in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be disregarded unless such agent

47 (a) has the authority to negotiate and conclude contracts in the name of the nonresident alien individual or 48 foreign corporation, and regularly exercises that authority, or

49 (b) has a stock of merchandise belonging to the nonresident alien individual or foreign corporation from which 50 orders are regularly filed on behalf of such alien individual or foreign corporation.

1 A person who purchases goods from a nonresident alien individual or a foreign corporation shall not be
2 considered to be an agent for such alien individual or foreign corporation for purposes of this paragraph
3 where such person is carrying on such purchasing activities in the ordinary course of its own business, even
4 though such person is related in some manner to the nonresident alien individual or foreign corporation. For 5 example, a wholly owned domestic subsidiary corporation of a foreign corporation shall not be treated as an
6 agent of the foreign parent corporation merely because the subsidiary corporation purchases goods from the 7 foreign parent corporation and resells them in its own name. However, if the domestic subsidiary corporation
8 regularly negotiates and concludes contracts in the name of its foreign parent corporation or maintains a stock

27 (1) Exclusion from income.

28 Compensation paid to a nonresident alien individual for the period that the nonresident alien individual is

30 of students into the United States) or subparagraph (J) (relating to the admission of teachers, trainees,
31 specialists, etc., into the United States) of section 101(a)(15) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C.
32 1101(a)(15) (F) or (J)) shall be excluded from gross income if the compensation is paid to such alien by his

34 which is acting as paymaster on behalf of a foreign employer constitutes compensation paid by a foreign 35 employer for purposes of this paragraph if the domestic bank is reimbursed by the foreign employer for such

37 under such subparagraph (J) includes a nonresident alien individual admitted to the United States as an 38 "exchange visitor" under section 201 of the U.S. Information and Educational Exchange Act of 1948 (22 U.S.C.
39 1446), which section was repealed by section 111 of the Mutual Education and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961

45 "Nonresident aliens" are defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B). Aliens are defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3). "Resident
46 aliens" are defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B). The relationship between these three entities are as follows, in the context
47 of income taxes:

48 1. "Aliens" or "alien individuals": Those born in a foreign country and not within any state of the Union or within any
49 federal territory.
50 1.1. "Alien" is defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) as a person who is neither a citizen nor a national.
51 1.2. "Alien individual" is defined in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(i).
52 1.3. An alien is a person who is not a "national" as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21).
53 1.4. An alien with no domicile in the "United States" is presumed to be a "nonresident alien" pursuant to 26 CFR
54 §1.871-4(b).
55 2. "Residents" or "resident aliens": An "alien" or "alien individual" with a legal domicile on federal territory.
56 2.1. "Resident aliens" are defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).
57 2.2. A "resident alien" is an alien as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) who has a legal domicile on federal territory that

1 is no part of the exclusive jurisdiction of any state of the Union.

2 2.3. An “alien” becomes a “resident alien” by filing IRS Form 1078 pursuant to 26 CFR §1.871-4(c)(ii) and thereby
3 electing to have a domicile on federal territory.

4 3. Nonresident aliens: Those with no domicile on federal territory and who are born either in a foreign country, a state
5 of the Union, or within the federal zone.

6 3.1. Defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).

7 3.2. Also called a “nonresident”, “stateless person”, or “transient foreigner”.

8 3.3. A “nonresident alien” is defined as a person who is neither a statutory “citizen” pursuant to 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) nor
9 a statutory “resident” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).

10 3.4. A person who is a “non-citizen national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1452 and either 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) or 8 U.S.C.
11 §1101(a)(22)(B) is a “nonresident alien” but not an “alien”.

12 4. Nonresident alien individuals: Those who are aliens and who do not have a domicile on federal territory.

13 4.1. Defined in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii).

14 4.2. Status is indicated in block 3 of the IRS Form W-8BEN under the term “Individual”.

15 4.3. Excludes non-citizen nationals as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452.

16 4.4. Excludes those born within the exclusive jurisdiction of states of the Union who are therefore “non-citizen
17 nationals” under federal law.

18 5. Convertibility between “aliens”, “resident aliens”, and “nonresident aliens”, and “nonresident alien individuals”:

19 5.1. A “nonresident alien” is not the legal equivalent of an “alien” in law.

20 5.2. IRS Form W-8BEN, Block 3 has no block to check for those who are “nonresident aliens” but not “nonresident
21 alien individuals”. Thus, the submitter of this form who is a “nonresident alien” and a non-citizen national but
22 not a “nonresident alien individual” is effectively compelled to make an illegal and fraudulent election to become
23 an alien and an “individual” if they do not add a block for “transient foreigner” or “Union State Citizen” to the 24 form. See section 5.3 of the following:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

25 5.3. 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) and 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4)(B) authorize a “nonresident alien” who is married to a
26 statutory “U.S. citizen” as defined in 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) to make an “election” to become a “resident alien”.

27 5.4. It is unlawful for an unmarried “non-citizen national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1452 and either 8 U.S.C.
28 §1101(a)(21) or 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B) to become a “resident alien”. This can only happen by either fraud or 29 mistake.

30 5.5. An alien may overcome the presumption that he is a “nonresident alien” and change his status to that of a
31 “resident alien” by filing IRS Form 1078 pursuant to 26 CFR §1.871-4(c)(ii) while he is in the “United States”.

32 5.6. The term “residence” can only lawfully be used to describe the domicile of an “alien”. Nowhere is this term used
33 to describe the domicile of a “non-citizen national” or a “nonresident alien”. See 26 CFR §1.871-2.

34 5.7. The only way an “alien” can become both a “non-citizen national” and a “nonresident alien” at the same time is to 35 be naturalized pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1421.

36 6. Sources of confusion on these issues:

37 6.1. One can be a “nonresident alien” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) without being either an “alien” or an 38 “individual” or a “nonresident alien individual”. An example would be a human being born within the exclusive
39 jurisdiction of a state of the Union who is therefore a “non-citizen national” or “state national” pursuant to 8
40 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452.

41 6.2. The term “United States” is defined in the Internal Revenue Code at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10).

42 6.3. The term “United States” for the purposes of citizenship is defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(38).

43 6.4. Any “U.S. Person” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30) who is not found in the “United States” (federal 44 territory pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d)) shall be treated as having an
45 effective domicile within the District of Columbia pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(39) and 26 U.S.C. §7408(d).

46 6.5. The term “United States” is equivalent for the purposes of statutory “citizens” pursuant to 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) and
47 “citizens” as used in the Internal Revenue Code. See 26 CFR §1.1-1(c).

48 6.6. The term “United States” as used in the Constitution of the United States is NOT equivalent to the statutory
49 definition of the term used in:

50 6.6.1. 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10).

51 6.6.2. 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(38).

52 The “United States” as used in the Constitution means the states of the Union and excludes federal territory, while
53 the term “United States” as used in federal statutory law means federal territory and excludes states of the Union.

54 6.7. A constitutional “citizen of the United States” as mentioned in the Fourteenth Amendment is NOT equivalent to a
55 statutory “citizen and national of the United States” as used in 8 U.S.C. §1401. See:

1 6.8. In the case of jurisdiction over aliens only, the term "United States" implies all 50 states and the federal zone, and
2 is not restricted only to the federal zone. See:

5 6.8.2. Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753 (1972)

6 In accord with ancient principles of the international law of nation-states, the Court in *The Chinese Exclusion
7 Case*, 130 U.S. 581, 609 (1889), and in Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698 (1893), held broadly, as
8 the Government describes it, Brief for Appellants 20, that the power to exclude aliens is "inherent in
9 sovereignty, necessary for maintaining normal international relations and defending the country against
10 foreign encroachments and dangers - a power to be exercised exclusively by the political branches of
11 government . . ." Since that time, the Court's general reaffirmations of this principle have [408 U.S. 753,
12 766] been legion. 6 The Court without exception has sustained Congress' "plenary power to make rules for
13 the admission of aliens and to exclude those who possess those characteristics which Congress has
14 forbidden." Boutilier v. Immigration and Naturalization Service, 387 U.S. 118, 123 (1967). "Over no
15 conceivable subject is the legislative power of Congress more complete than it is over" the admission of 16 aliens. Oceanic Navigation Co. v. Stranahan, 214 U.S. 320, 339 (1909).

18 6.8.3. Chae Chan Ping v. U.S., 130 U.S. 581 (1889)

19 While under our constitution and form of government the great mass of local matters is controlled by local
20 authorities, the United States, in their relation to foreign countries and their subjects or citizens, are one
21 nation, invested with powers which belong to independent nations, the exercise of which can be invoked for
22 the maintenance of its absolute independence and security throughout its entire territory. The powers to
23 declare war, make treaties, suppress insurrection, repel invasion, regulate foreign commerce, secure
24 republican governments to the states, and admit subjects of other nations to citizenship, are all sovereign
25 powers, restricted in their exercise only by the constitution itself and considerations of public policy and justice
26 which control, more or less, the conduct of all civilized nations. As said by this court in the case of *Cohens v.
27 Virginia*, 6 Wheat. 264, 413, speaking by the same great chief justice: That the United States form, for many,
28 and for most important purposes, a single nation, has not yet been denied. In war, we are one people. In
29 making peace, we are one people. In all commercial regulations, we are one and the same people. In many
30 other respects, the American people are one; and the government which is alone capable of controlling and
31 managing their interests in all these respects is the government of the Union. It is their government, and in 32 that character they have no other. America has chosen to [130 U.S. 581, 605] be in many respects, and 33 to many purposes, a nation; and for all these purposes her government is complete; to all these objects, it is
34 competent. The people have declared that in the exercise of all powers given for these objects it is supreme. It
35 can, then, in effecting these objects, legitimately control all individuals or governments within the American
36 territory."
37 [. . .]
38

40 "The power of exclusion of foreigners being an incident of sovereignty belonging to the government of the
41 United States as a part of those sovereign powers delegated by the constitution, the right to its exercise at any
42 time when, in the judgment of the government, the interests of the country require it, cannot be granted away or
43 restrained on behalf of any one. The powers of government are delegated in trust to the United States, and are
44 incapable of transfer to any other parties. They cannot be abandoned or surrendered. Nor can their exercise
45 be hampered, when needed for the public good, by any considerations of private interest. The exercise of 46 these public trusts is not the subject of barter or contract."
47 [Chae Chan Ping v. U.S., 130 U.S. 581 (1889)]

2 NOTES:

3 1. A nonresident alien individual who has made an election under 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) to be treated as a resident alien is treated as a “nonresident alien” for the purposes of withholding under I.R.C. Subtitle C but retains their status as a “resident alien” under I.R.C. Subtitle A. See 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii).

4 2. What turns a “nonresident alien NON-individual” into a “nonresident alien individual” is:

5 2.1. Being an alien and NOT a “national” AND

1 2.2. Meets one or more of the following two criteria found in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(ii):
2 2.2.1. Residence/domicile in a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1).
3 2.2.2. Residence/domicile as an alien in Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as
4 determined under 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-1(d).
5 3. If you were born in a state of the Union and maintain a domicile there, then you are described in item 3.1 of the table.
6 4. All “taxpayers” are aliens or “nonresident aliens”. You cannot be a “citizen” and a taxpayer at same time. The definition of “individual” found in 26 CFR §1.1441-
7 1(c)(3) does NOT include “citizens”. The only occasion where a “citizen” can also be an “individual” is when they are abroad under 26 U.S.C. §911 and interface
8 to the I.R.C. under a tax treaty with a foreign country as an alien pursuant to 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1)

9 *And when he had come into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, "What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings [governments] of the earth [lawfully] take
10 customs or taxes, from their sons [citizens and subjects] or from strangers [aliens], which are synonymous with "residents" in the tax code, and exclude "citizens"??"*

11 Peter said to Him, "From strangers [aliens]" "residents" ONLY. See 26 CFR §1.1-1(a)(2)(ii) and 26 CFR §301.6109-1(d)(3)]."

12 *Jesus said to him, "Then the sons [citizens] of the Republic, who are all sovereign "nationals" and "nonresident aliens" under federal law] are free [sovereign over
13 their own person and labor. e.g. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY]."
14 [Matt. 17:24-27, Bible, NKJV]*

1 It is a maxim of law that things with similar but not identical names are NOT the same in law:

2 Talis non est eadem, nam nullum simile est idem.
3 What is like is not the same, for nothing similar is the same. 4 Co. 18.
4 [Bouvier's Maxims of Law, 1856;

6 We prove extensively on this website that the only persons who are “taxpayers” within the Internal Revenue Code are 7 “resident aliens”. Here is just one example:

8 NORMAL TAXES AND SURTAXES
9 DETERMINATION OF TAX LIABILITY
10 Tax on Individuals
11 Sec. 1.1-1 Income tax on individuals.

12 (a)(2)(ii) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1970, the tax imposed by section 1(d), as amended by

14 business in the United States by a married alien individual who is a nonresident of the United States for all or 15 part of the taxable year or by a foreign estate or trust. For such years the tax imposed by section 1(c), as 16 amended by such Act, shall apply to the income effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in
17 the United States by an unmarried alien individual (other than a surviving spouse) who is a nonresident of 18 the United States for all or part of the taxable year. See paragraph (b)(2) of section 1.871-8.” [26 CFR §1.1- 19 1(a)(2)(ii)]

20 It is a self-serving, malicious attempt to STEAL from the average American for the IRS to confuse a “non-citizen national”
21 who is a “nonresident alien” and a “nontaxpayer” with a “resident alien taxpayer”. This sort of abuse MUST be stopped
22 IMMEDIATELY. These sort of underhanded and malicious tactics:

23 18.3 Deliberately Confusing DOMICILE with NATIONALITY or STATUTORY aliens with 24 CONSTITUTIONAL aliens

25 A frequent tactic employed especially by the I.R.S. and financial institutions is to falsely presume the following:

26 1. That a “citizen” within the I.R.C. as described at 26 U.S.C. §3121(e) and 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) and the “Citizen” or 27 “citizen of the United States as used in the United States Constitution are equivalent.
28 2. That an “resident” or “alien” within the I.R.C. as described at 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4) and in a constitutional context are 29 equivalent.

30 These types of false presumptions are extremely damaging to your constitutional rights and the purpose of making them, in 31 fact, is to DESTROY your rights. Most of the time, such presumptions go unnoticed by the average American, which is 32 why they are so frequently employed by covetous and crafty lawyers in the government who want to STEAL from you by 33 deceiving you.

34 In the legal field CONTEXT is everything. There are two main contexts for legal “terms”:

35 1. Statutory.
36 2. Constitutional.

37 These two contexts are completely different and oftentimes mutually exclusive and have a profound effect on the meaning
38 of the citizenship terms used in federal law and more importantly, in the Internal Revenue Code itself. This is especially 39 true with geographic terms such as “citizen”, “national”, “resident”, and “alien”, “United States”, etc.

40 Those opening financial accounts are frequently victimized by such DELIBERATELY false presumptions and must be 41 especially sensitive to them. The best place to start in learning about this deception is to read the following memorandum 42 on this website:

Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

1 One of our members who has studied the citizenship issue carefully and was attempting to document how this deception is
2 perpetrated by financial institutions against those opening financial account crafted a diagram to simply explaining it to
3 bank personnel. This member also approached a retired justice of the none other than the United States Supreme Court and
4 had it reviewed by this justice for accuracy. The result of the review was that the justice indicated that it was entirely
5 correct, but that few people understand or can explain why. Below is the diagram for your edification. The member also
6 asked that their identity be protected, so please don't ask us either who this member is or the name of the supreme court
7 justice, because we are not allowed to tell you.

2 18.4 Compelled Use of Taxpayer Identification Numbers (TINs)

3 The use of a Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) in connection with any financial transaction creates a legal presumption
4 that the party using it is a person with a domicile on federal territory. This is confirmed by 26 CFR §301.6109-1(g)(1)(i), in 5 which “nonresident aliens” are not listed:

6 26 CFR §301.6109-1\(g\)

7 (g) Special rules for taxpayer identifying numbers issued to foreign persons—

8 (1) General rule—

9 (i) Social security number.

10 A social security number is generally identified in the records and database of the Internal Revenue Service
11 as a number belonging to a U.S. citizen or resident alien individual. A person may establish a different status
12 for the number by providing proof of foreign status with the Internal Revenue Service under such procedures as
13 the Internal Revenue Service shall prescribe, including the use of a form as the Internal Revenue Service may 14 specify. Upon accepting an individual as a nonresident alien individual, the Internal Revenue Service will 15 assign this status to the individual's social security number.

16 The only legal requirement to use taxpayer identification numbers is found in the following regulation at 26 CFR
17 §301.6109-1(b)(1):

18 26 CFR §301.6109-1\(b\)

19 (b) Requirement to furnish one's own number—

20 (1) U.S. persons.

21 Every U.S. person who makes under this title a return, statement, or other document must furnish its own
22 taxpayer identifying number as required by the forms and the accompanying instructions.

23 The above regulation only imposes such a requirement upon a “U.S. person”. That “person” is defined in 26 U.S.C.
24 §7701(a)(30) as an entity with a domicile on federal territory. Note that “citizens” and “residents” and federal corporations
25 and all other entities listed below have in common a domicile in the “United States”, which is federal territory:

26 [TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701.
27 Sec. 7701. - Definitions](#)

28 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
29 thereof—

30 (30) United States person

31 The term "United States person" means -

32 (A) a [corporate] citizen or resident [alien] of the [federal] United States,
33 (B) a domestic partnership,
34 (C) a domestic corporation,
35 (D) any estate (other than a foreign estate, within the meaning of paragraph (31)), and
36 (E) any trust if -
37 (i) a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the
38 trust, and
39 (ii) one or more United States persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust.

40 If you look on the following:

IRS Form SS-4 Application for an Employer Identification Number (EIN)
<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRSFormSS4.pdf>

1 ... the form allows you to fill it out in such a way that you are NOT an “employer” or a “taxpayer”, but if you don’t do so,
2 then the implication is that you are in fact a “U.S. person”.

3 Both SSNs and TINs are made equivalent by the following authorities: 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(41), 26 U.S.C. §6109(d), and
4 26 CFR §301.7701-1. The following statute makes it a crime to compel use of Social Security Numbers, and by 5 implication, Taxpayer Identification Numbers.

6 TITLE 42 - THE PUBLIC HEALTH AND WELFARE
7 CHAPTER 7 - SOCIAL SECURITY
8 SUBCHAPTER II - FEDERAL OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE BENEFITS
9 Sec. 408. Penalties

10 (a) In general
11 Whoever -..

12 (8) discloses, uses, or compels the disclosure of the social security number of any person in violation of the
13 laws of the United States; shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be fined under title 18
14 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

15 Consequently, the use of a government identifying number is presumed to be voluntary and not compelled, unless you, the 16 person being compelled, state otherwise in correspondence to them and the people you do business with. Therefore,
17 providing such a number in the context of any transaction constitutes consent and a voluntary “election” to be treated as a
18 “U.S. person” and a person with a domicile on federal territory. If you started out as a nonresident alien, that election is 19 authorized by 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h), but ONLY if are an alien and NOT a national or non-citizen national.

20 Those who start out as “nonresident alien” NONindividuals and who open a financial account at banks as human beings by 21 default:

22 1. Are required to provide a Social Security Number (SSN) or Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) when opening the 23 account.
24 1. Open all such accounts as statutory “U.S. persons” with a domicile on federal territory because they provided a 25 government identifying number.

26 Banks in implementing the above policies, are acting as agents of the national government in a quasi-governmental capacity
27 and also become the equivalent of federal employment recruiters. 31 CFR §202.2 confirms that all banks who participate
28 in FDIC insurance are agents of the national government. 12 U.S.C. §90 also makes all national banks into agents of the 29 U.S. Government. It would be more advantageous to open an international bank account to avoid this issue. In their 30 capacity as agents of the national government, you can be sure that banks subject to federal regulation are going to want to 31 recruit more “employee” and “public officers” engaged in the “trade or business” franchise.

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

32 Even for those people smart enough to know about the IRS form W-8BEN and how to properly fill it out, most banks
33 opening business accounts even in the case of businesses that are “nonresident alien NONindividuals” refuse to open such 34 accounts without an Employer Identification Number (EIN) as a matter of policy and not law.

35 1. If you ask them what law authorizes such a policy, typically they:
36 1.1. Can’t produce the law and are operating on policy rather than law.
37 1.2. May often say that the USA Patriot Act “requires it”, but this act doesn’t apply outside of federal territory and 38 there is no such provision contained within it anyway. They are lying.
39 2. If you attempt to offer them forms that correctly describe your status as a “foreigner”, a “nonresident alien
40 NONindividual”, but not a “foreign person” who therefore has no requirement to supply a number, they may just say
41 that their policy is not to accept such forms and to refuse you an account. Therefore, you have to commit perjury to 42 even get an account with them.
43 3. If they won’t accept your forms correctly describing your status and you modify their forms to correctly reflect your 44 status, they may also tell you that they have a policy not to open an account for you and they may even refuse to 45 explain why.

1 In practical terms then, the law doesn't require businesses who properly identify themselves as "nonresident alien
2 NONindividuals not engaged in a trade or business" to have or use identifying numbers but most are compelled by
3 adhesion contracts of banking monopolies into having one anyway. As a matter of fact, 26 CFR §306.10, Footnote 2, as
4 well as 31 CFR §103.34(a)(3)(x) both expressly exclude "nonresident aliens" who are not engaged in the "trade or 5 business"/"public office" franchise from the requirement to furnish identifying numbers. In that sense, most banks are
6 acting as the equivalent of federal employment recruiters and compelling their customers to commit perjury on their
7 applications by stating indirectly that they are "resident aliens" with a domicile on federal territory who are lawfully
8 engaged in a public office within the U.S. government. This is a huge scam that is the main source of jurisdiction of the 9 IRS over otherwise private companies.

22 18.5 Not offering an option on the W-8BEN form to accurately describe the status of non- 23 citizen nationals who are "nonresidents" but not "individuals"

24 *"The foregoing considerations would lead, in case of doubt, to a construction of any statute as intended to be
25 confined in its operation and effect to the territorial limits over which the lawmaker has general and
26 legitimate power. All legislation is prima facie territorial.' *Ex parte Blain, L. R. 12 Ch. Div. 522, 528; State
27 v. Carter, 27 N. J. L. 499; People v. Merrill, 2 Park.Crim.Rep. 590, 596.* Words having universal scope, such
28 as 'every contract in restraint of trade,' 'every person who shall monopolize,' etc., will be taken, as a matter of 29 course, to mean only everyone subject to such legislation [e.g. "individuals" with a domicile on federal 30 territory who are therefore subject to the civil laws of Congress], not all that the legislator subsequently may 31 be able to catch. In the case of the present statute, the improbability of the United States attempting to make 32 acts done in Panama or Costa Rica criminal is obvious, yet the law begins by making criminal the acts for 33 which it gives a right to sue. We think it entirely plain that what the defendant did in Panama or Costa Rica is 34 not within the scope of the statute so far as the present suit is concerned. Other objections of a serious nature
35 are urged, but need not be discussed."*

36 [American Banana Co. v. U.S. Fruit, 213 U.S. 347 at 357-358]

37 The term "individual" is provided in Block 3 of the Standard IRS Form W-8BEN. Like the "beneficial owner" scam above, 38 it too has a malicious intent/aspect:

- 39 1. Like the term "beneficial owner", it is associated with statutory creations of Congress engaged in federal privileges,
40 "public rights", and "public offices." The only way you can be subject to the code is to engage in a franchise. Those 41 who are not privileged cannot refer to themselves as anything described in any government statute, which is reserved
42 only for government officers, agencies, and instrumentalities and not private persons. See:

Why Statutory Civil Law is Law for Government and Not Private Persons, Form #05.037
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 43 2. The term "individual" appears in 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b), where "nonresident alien individuals" are made liable to file
44 tax returns. However, "nonresident aliens" who are NOT "individuals" are nowhere mentioned as having any duty to 45 do anything. Consequently, YOU DON'T WANT TO DESCRIBE YOURSELF AS AN "INDIVIDUAL"
46 BECAUSE THEN THEY CAN PROSECUTE YOU FOR FAILURE TO FILE A RETURN! Some ways you can 47 create a usually false presumption that you are an "individual" include:

- 48 2.1. Filing IRS Form 1040, which says "U.S. INDIVIDUAL Income Tax Return" in the upper left corner.
- 49 2.2. Applying for a "INDIVIDUAL Taxpayer Identification Number" (ITIN) using IRS Forms W-7 or W-9. Only
50 "aliens" can lawfully apply for such a number pursuant to 26 CFR §301.6109-1(d)(3). If you were born in a state
51 of the Union or on federal territory, you AREN'T an "alien". See:

Why it is Illegal for Me to Request or Use a "Taxpayer Identification Number", Form #04.205
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

1 2.3. Filling out the IRS Form W-8BEN and checking the box for "individual" in block 3.
2 2.4. Filling out any other government form and identifying yourself as an "Individual". If they don't have "Union state
3 Citizen" or "transient foreigner" as an option, then ADD IT and CHECK IT!
4 Our Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201, prevents the presumption from being created that you are an "individual"
5 with any form you submit, even using standard IRS forms, by redefining the word "individual" so that it doesn't refer to 6 the same word as used in any federal law, but instead refers ONLY to the common and NOT the legal definition. This,
7 in effect, prevents what the courts call "compelled association". That is why our Member Agreement, Form #01.001
8 specifies that you MUST attach the Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201 to any standard tax form you are compelled
9 to submit: To protect you from being prosecuted for tax crimes under the I.R.C. by preventing you from being 10 connected to any federal franchise or obligation.
11 3. The term "individual", like that of "beneficial owner", is nowhere defined anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code and 12 it is EXTREMELY dangerous to describe yourself as anything that isn't defined statutorily, because you just invite 13 people to make prejudicial presumptions about your status. The term "individual" is only defined in the treasury
14 regulations. The definition in the regulations is found at 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)(i):

15 26 CFR 1.1441-1 Requirement for the deduction and withholding of tax on payments to foreign persons.

16 (c) Definitions

17 (3) Individual.

18 (i) Alien individual.

19 The term alien individual means an individual who is not a citizen or a national of the United States. See 20 Sec. 1.I-1(c).

21 (ii) Nonresident alien individual.

22 *The term nonresident alien individual means a person described in section 7701(b)(1)(B), an alien individual
23 who is a resident of a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and Sec. 301.7701(b)-
24 7(a)(1) of this chapter, or an alien individual who is a resident of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of
25 Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under Sec. 301.7701(b)-
26 1(d) of this chapter. An alien individual who has made an election under section 6013 (g) or (h) to be treated as
27 a resident of the United States is nevertheless treated as a nonresident alien individual for purposes of
28 withholding under chapter 3 of the Code and the regulations thereunder.*

29 Do you see statutory "U.S. citizens" (which are defined under 8 U.S.C. §1401) mentioned above under the definition of 30 "individual" in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3)? They aren't there, which means the only way they can become "taxpayers" is to 31 visit a foreign country and become an "alien" under the terms of a tax treaty with a foreign country under the provisions of 32 26 U.S.C. §911. When they do this, they attach IRS form 2555 to the IRS Form 1040 that they file. Remember: The 1040
33 form is for "U.S. persons", which includes statutory "U.S. citizens" and "residents", both of whom have a domicile on 34 federal territory, which is what the term "United States" is defines as in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C.
35 §110(d).

36 In fact, the only place that the term "individual" is statutorily defined that we have found is in 5 U.S.C. §552a(a)(2), which 37 means:

38 TITLE 5 -GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION AND EMPLOYEES
39 PART I > CHAPTER 5 > SUBCHAPTER II > § 552a
40 § 552a. Records maintained on individuals

41 (a) Definitions.—For purposes of this section—

42 (2) the term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent 43 residence;

44 The above statute is the Privacy Act, which regulates IRS use and protection of your tax information. Notice that:

45 2. "nonresident aliens" don't appear there and therefore are implicitly excluded. This is a result of a legal maxim called

Nonresident Alien Position

1 "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius".

2 3. The "individual" they are referring to must meet the definitions found in BOTH 5 U.S.C. §552a(a)(2) and 26 CFR
3 §1.1441-1(c)(3) because the Privacy Act is also the authority for protecting tax records, which means he or she or it
4 can ONLY be a "resident", meaning an alien with a domicile on federal territory called the "United States".
5 Therefore, those who claim to be "individuals" indirectly are making a usually invisible election to be treated as a
6 "resident", which is an alien with a domicile in "United States" federal territory. Nonresident aliens are nowhere
7 mentioned in the Privacy Act.
8 4. The code section is under Title 5 of the U.S. Code, which is called "GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION AND 9 EMPLOYEES". They are treating you as part of the government, even though you aren't. The reason is that unless 10 you have a domicile on federal territory (which is what "United States" is defined as under I.R.C. Subtitle A in 26
11 U.S.C. §§7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d)) or have income connected with a "trade or business", which is 12 defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office", you can't be a "taxpayer" without at least
13 volunteering by submitting an IRS form W-4, which effectively amounts to an "election" to become a "public officer"
14 and a "Kelly Girl" on loan to your private employer from Uncle Sam.

15 What the IRS form W-8BEN is doing is fooling you into admitting that you are an "individual" as defined above, which 16 means that you just made an election or choice to become a "resident alien" instead of a "nonresident alien". They don't
17 have any lawful authority to maintain records on "nonresident aliens" under the Privacy Act, so you have to become a 18 "resident" by filling out one of their forms and lying about your status by calling yourself an "individual" so they have 19 permission from you to do so. Instead, what you really are is a "transient foreigner"

20 "Transient foreigner. One who visits the country, without the intention of remaining."
21 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1498]

22 Our Amended IRS Form W-8BEN solves this problem by adding an additional option indicating "Union State Citizen"
23 under Block 3 of the form and by putting the phrase "(public officer)" after the word "individual". As an alternative, you
24 could make your own Substitute form as authorized by IRS Form W-8 Instructions for Requester of Forms W-8BEN, W-
25 8ECI, W-8EXP, and W-8IMF, Catalog 26698G and add an option for Block 3 called "transient foreigner". Either way, you
26 have deprived the IRS of the ability to keep records about you because you do not fit the definition of "individual", as 27 required by the Privacy Act above. If you don't want to be subject to the code, you can't be submitting government 28 paperwork and signing it under penalty of perjury that indicates that you fit the description of anyone or anything that they 29 have jurisdiction over.

42 18.6 Excluding "Not subject" from Government Forms and offering only "Exempt"

43 Another devious technique frequently used on government forms to trick "nonresident aliens" into making an unwitting
44 election to become "resident aliens" is:

- 45 1. Omit the "not subject" option.
- 46 5. Present the "exempt" option as the only method for avoiding the liability described.
- 47 6. Define the term "exempt" to exclude persons who are "not subject".

1 This form of abuse exploits the common false presumption among most Americans, which is the following: Government
2 form presents ALL of the lawful options available to avoid the liability described. In fact, government is famous for
3 limiting options in order to advantage or benefit them. In effect, they are constraining your options to compel you to select
4 the lesser of evils and remove the ability to avoid all evil. This devious technique is also called an “adhesion contract”. In
5 summary, they are violating the First Amendment by instituting compelled association in which you are coerced to engage 6 in commercial activity with them and become subject to their pagan laws.

7 There are two ways that one can use to describe oneself on government forms:

- 8 1. “Exempt”. This is a person who is otherwise subject to the provision of law administering the form because they are 9 an “individual” or “person” and yet who is expressly made exempt by a particular provision of the statutes forming the 10 franchise agreement. This option appears on most government forms.
- 11 2. “Not subject”. This would be equivalent to a “nontaxpayer” who is not a “person” or franchisee within the meaning of 12 the statute in question. You almost never see this option on government forms.

13 There is a world of difference between these two statuses and we MUST understand the difference before we can know
14 whether or how to fill out a specific government form describing our status. In this section we will show you how to 15 choose the correct status above and all the affects that this status has on how we fill out government forms.

16 We will begin our explanation with an illustration. If you are domiciled in California, you would describe yourself as 17 “subject” to the laws in California. However, in relation to the laws of every other civil jurisdiction outside of California, 18 you would describe yourself as:

- 19 1. “Not subject” to the civil laws of that place unless you are physically visiting that place.
- 20 2. Not ANYTHING described in the civil law that the government has jurisdiction over or may impose a “duty” upon, such as a “person”, “individual”, “taxpayer”, etc.
- 21 3. Not a “foreign person” because not a “person” under the civil law.
- 22 4. “foreign”.
- 23 5. A “nonresident”.
- 24 6. A “transient foreigner”.

26 A human being who is domiciled in California, for instance, would not be subject to the civil laws of China unless he was
27 either visiting China or engaged in commerce within the legislative jurisdiction of China with people who were domiciled
28 there and therefore protected by the civil laws there. He would not describe himself as being “exempt” from the laws of 29 China, because one cannot be “exempt” without FIRST also being “subject” by having a domicile or residence within that 30 foreign jurisdiction. Another way of stating this is that he would not be a “person” under the civil laws of China and would 31 be “foreign” unless and until he either physically moved there or changed his domicile or residence to that place and
32 thereby became a “protected person” subject to the civil jurisdiction of the Chinese government.

33 All income taxation within the United States of America takes the form of an excise tax upon an “activity” implemented by 34 the civil law. In the case of the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A, that activity is called a “trade or business”. This fact 35 exhaustively proven in the following amazing article:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

36 A “trade or business” is then defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as follows:

37 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > § 7701
38 § 7701. Definitions

39 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
40 thereof—

41 (26) “The term ‘trade or business’ includes the performance of the functions [activities] of a public office.”

42 Those who therefore lawfully engage in a public office in the U.S. government BEFORE they sign or submit any tax form
43 are then described as a “franchisee” called a “taxpayer” under the terms of the excise tax or franchise agreement codified in

1 Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A. Those who are not “public officers” also cannot lawfully “elect” themselves into
2 “public office” by signing or submitting a tax form either, because this would constitute impersonating an officer or
3 employee of the government in violation of 18 U.S.C. §912. This is confirmed by 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(31) , which
4 describes all those who are nonresident within the “United States” (federal territory not within any state of the Union) and
5 not engaged in the “trade or business”/“public office” activity as being a “foreign estate”, which simply means “not
6 subject”, to the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A franchise or excise tax:

7 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > § 7701
8 § 7701. Definitions

9 (31) Foreign estate or trust

10 (A) Foreign estate

11 The term “foreign estate” means an estate the income of which, from sources without the United States which is 12 not effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States, is not includable in 13 gross income under subtitle A.

14 The entity or “person” described above would NOT be “exempt”, but rather simply “not subject”. The reason is that the 15 term “exempt” has a specific legal definition that does not include the situation above. Notice that the term “exempt” is 16 used along with the word “individual”, meaning that you must be a “person” and an “individual” BEFORE you can call
17 yourself “exempt”:

18 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701.
19 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

20 (b)(5) Exempt individual defined

21 For purposes of this subsection -

22 (A) In general

23 An individual is an exempt individual for any day if, for such day, such individual is -

24 (i) a foreign government-related individual,

25 (ii) a teacher or trainee,

26 (iii) a student, or

27 (iv) a professional athlete who is temporarily in the United States to compete in a charitable sports event
28 described in section 274(l)(1)(B).

29 (B) Foreign government-related individual

30 The term “foreign government-related individual” means any individual temporarily present in the United 31 States by reason of -

32 (i) diplomatic status, or a visa which the Secretary (after consultation with the Secretary of State) determines 33 represents full-time diplomatic or consular status for purposes of this subsection,

34 (ii) being a full-time employee of an international organization, or 35 (iii) being a member of the immediate family of an individual described in clause (i) or (ii).

36 (C) Teacher or trainee

37 The term “teacher or trainee” means any individual -

38 (i) who is temporarily present in the United States under subparagraph (J) or (Q) of section 101(15) of the 39 Immigration and Nationality Act (other than as a student), and

(ii) who substantially complies with the requirements for being so present.

(D) Student

The term "student" means any individual -

(i) who is temporarily present in the United States -

(I) under subparagraph (F) or (M) of section 101(15) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, or

(II) as a student under subparagraph (J) or (Q) of such section 101(15), and (ii) who substantially complies with the requirements for being so present.

(E) Special rules for teachers, trainees, and students

(i) Limitation on teachers and trainees

An individual shall not be treated as an exempt individual by reason of clause (ii) of subparagraph (A) for the current year if, for any 2 calendar years during the preceding 6 calendar years, such person was an exempt person under clause (ii) or (iii) of subparagraph (A). In the case of an individual all of whose compensation is described in section 872(b)(3), the preceding sentence shall be applied by substituting "4 calendar years" for "2 calendar years".

(ii) Limitation on students

For any calendar year after the 5th calendar year for which an individual was an exempt individual under clause (ii) or (iii) of subparagraph (A), such individual shall not be treated as an exempt individual by reason of clause (iii) of subparagraph (A), unless such individual establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary that such individual does not intend to permanently reside in the United States and that such individual meets the requirements of subparagraph (D)(ii).

21 The Internal Revenue Code itself does not and cannot regulate the conduct of those who are not "taxpayers".

"Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers [officers, employees, and elected officials of the Federal Government] and not to non-taxpayers [American Citizens/American Nationals not subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Federal Government]. The latter are without their scope. No procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies in due course of law. With them[non-taxpayers] Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of federal revenue laws."

[Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F.2d. 585 (1972)]

Consequently, all tax forms you fill out PRESUPPOSE that the applicant filling it out is a franchisee called a “taxpayer” that occupies a public office within the U.S. government and who is therefore a “person” or an “individual”. Since the Internal Revenue Code is civil law, it also must presuppose that all “persons” or “individuals” described within it are domiciled on federal territory that is no part of a state of the Union. This is confirmed by the definition of “United States” found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d), which is defined as federal territory and not part of any state of the Union. If you do not lawfully occupy such a public office, it would therefore constitute fraud and impersonating a public officer in violation of 18 U.S.C. §912 to even fill such a form out. If a company hands a “nontaxpayer” a tax form to fill out, the only proper response is ALL of the following, and any other response will result in the commission of a crime:

37 1. To not complete or sign any provision of the form.
38 2. To line out the entire form.
39 3. To write above the line “Not Applicable”.
40 4. To NOT select the “exempt” option within the form or select any status at all on the form. If you aren’t subject to the 41 Internal Revenue Code because you don’t have a domicile on federal territory and don’t engage in taxable activities,
42 then you can’t be described as a “person”, “individual”, “taxpayer”, or anything else who might be subject to the I.R.C.

"The foregoing considerations would lead, in case of doubt, to a construction of any statute as intended to be confined in its operation and effect to the territorial limits over which the lawmaker has general and legitimate power. All legislation is prima facie territorial.' Ex parte Blain, L. R. 12 Ch. Div. 522, 528; State v. Carter, 27 N. J. L. 499; People v. Merrill, 2 Park.Crim.Rep. 590, 596. Words having universal scope, such as 'every contract in restraint of trade,' 'every person who shall monopolize' etc., will be taken, as a matter of course, to mean only everyone subject to such legislation, not all that the legislator subsequently may be able

1 to catch. In the case of the present statute, the improbability of the United States attempting to make acts done
2 in Panama or Costa Rica criminal is obvious, yet the law begins by making criminal the acts for which it gives
3 a right to sue. We think it entirely plain that what the defendant did in Panama or Costa Rica is not within the 4 scope of the statute so far as the present suit is concerned. Other objections of a serious nature are urged, but 5 need not be discussed."

6 [American Banana Co. v. U.S. Fruit, 213 U.S. 347 at 357-358]

7 5. To either not return the form to the person who asked for it or to return it with the modifications above.
8 6. If you return the form to the person who asked for it, to clarify on the form why you are not "exempt", but rather "not 9 subject".
10 7. To attach the following form to the tax form:

Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

11 Another alternative to all the above would be to simply add a "Not subject" option or to select "Exempt" and then redefine
12 the word to add the "not subject" option to the definition. Then you could attach the Tax Form Attachment mentioned 13 above, which also redefines words on the government form to immunize yourself from government jurisdiction.

14 If we had an honorable government that loved the people under its care and protection more than it loved deceiving you out
15 of and stealing your money, then they would indicate at the top of the form in big bold letters EXACTLY what laws are 16 being enforced and who the intended audience is so that those who are not required to fill it out would not do so. However,
17 if they did that, hardly anyone would ever pay taxes again. Of this SCAM, the Bible and a famous bible commentary says
18 the following:

19 "Getting treasures by a lying tongue [or by deliberate omission intended to deceive] is the fleeting fantasy of 20 those who seek death."
21 [Prov. 21:6, Bible, NKJV]

22 *"As religion towards God is a branch of universal righteousness (he is not an honest man that is not devout), so
23 righteousness towards men is a branch of true religion, for he is not a godly man that is not honest, nor can 24 he expect that his devotion should be accepted; for, 1. Nothing is more offensive to God than deceit in 25 commerce. A false balance is here put for all manner of unjust and fraudulent practices [of our public dis-
26 servants] in dealing with any person [within the public], which are all an abomination to the Lord, and 27 render those abominable [hated] to him that allow themselves in the use of such accursed arts of thriving. It
28 is an affront to justice, which God is the patron of, as well as a wrong to our neighbour, whom God is the 29 protector of. Men [in the IRS and the Congress] make light of such frauds, and think there is no sin in that 30 which there is money to be got by, and, while it passes undiscovered, they cannot blame themselves for it; a
31 blot is no blot till it is hit, Hos. 12:7, 8. But they are not the less an abomination to God, who will be the 32 avenger of those that are defrauded by their brethren. 2. Nothing is more pleasing to God than fair and 33 honest dealing, nor more necessary to make us and our devotions acceptable to him: A just weight is his 34 delight. He himself goes by a just weight, and holds the scale of judgment with an even hand, and therefore is 35 pleased with those that are herein followers of him. A balance cheats, under pretence of doing right most 36 exactly, and therefore is the greater abomination to God."*
37 [Matthew Henry's Commentary on the Whole Bible; Henry, M., 1996, c1991, under Prov. 11:1]

38 In the case of income tax forms, for instance, the warning described above would say the following:

39 1. This form is only intended for those who satisfy all the following conditions:
40 1.1. "taxpayer" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(14):

41 *"Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers [officers, employees, and elected officials of the Federal Government] and
42 not to non-taxpayers [American Citizens/American Nationals not subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the
43 Federal Government]. The latter are without their scope. No procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and
44 no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies in due course of law. With them[non-taxpayers]
45 Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of federal revenue laws."
46 [Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F.2d. 585 (1972)]*

47 1.2. Lawfully engaged in a "public office" in the U.S. government, which is called a "trade or business" in the 48 Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26).
49 1.3. Exercising the public office ONLY within the District of Columbia as required by 4 U.S.C. §72, which is within 50 the only remaining internal revenue district, as confirmed by Treasury Order 150-02.
51 7. If you do not satisfy all the requirements indicated above, then you DO NOT need to fill out this form, nor can you 52 claim the status of "exempt".

1 8. This form is ONLY for use by “taxpayers”. If you are a “nontaxpayer”, then we don’t have a form you can use to
2 document your status. This is because our mission statement only allows us to help “taxpayers”. It is self-defeating to
3 help “nontaxpayers” because it only undermines our revenue and importance. We are a business and we only focus our
4 energies on things that make money for us, such as deceiving “nontaxpayers” into thinking they are “taxpayers”. That
5 is why we don’t put a “nontaxpayer” or “not subject” option on our forms: Because we want to self-servingly and 6 prejudicially presume that EVERYONE is engaged in our franchise and subject to our plunder and control.

7 IRM 1.1.1.1 (02-26-1999)

11 We hope that you have learned from this section that:

12 1. He who makes the rules or the forms always wins the game. The power to create includes the power to define.
13 2. All government forms are snares or traps designed to trap the innocent and ignorant into servitude to the whims of 14 corrupted politicians and lawyers.

15 *“The Lord is well pleased for His righteousness’ sake; He will exalt the law and make it honorable. But this
16 is a people robbed and plundered! [by the IRS] All of them are snared in [legal] holes [by the sophistry of 17 greedy IRS lawyers], and they are hidden in prison houses; they are for prey, and no one delivers; for 18 plunder, and no one says, “Restore!”.

19 Who among you will give ear to this? Who will listen and hear for the time to come? Who gave Jacob for 20 plunder, and Israel to the robbers? [IRS] Was it not the Lord, He against whom we have sinned? For they*
21 would not walk in His ways, nor were they obedient to His law, therefore He has poured on him the fury of His*
22 anger and the strength of battle; it has set him on fire all around, yet he did not know; and it burned him, yet he 23 did not take it to heart.”

24 [Isaiah 42:21-25, Bible, NKJV]a

25 3. The snare is the presumptions which they deliberately do not disclose on the forms and which are buried in the “words 26 of art” contained in their void for vagueness codes. See:

27 Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
28 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

29 4. The main reason for reading and learning the law is to reveal all the presumptions and deceptive “words of art” that are 30 hidden on government forms so that you can avoid them.

31 “My [God’s] people are destroyed [and enslaved] for lack of knowledge [of God’s Laws and the lack of 32 education that produces it].”
33 [Hosea 4:6, Bible, NKJV]

34 “And thou shalt teach them ordinances and laws [of both God and man], and shalt shew them the way wherein 35 they must walk, and the work [of obedience to God] that they must do.”
36 [Exodus 18:20, Bible, NKJV]

37 *“This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate in it day and night, that you
38 may observe to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then*
39 you will have good success. Have I not commanded you? Be strong and of good courage; do not be afraid, nor be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go.”
 [Joshua 1:8-9, Bible, NKJV]

40 5. Government forms deliberately do not disclose the presumptions that are being made about the proper audience for the 41 form in order to maximize the possibility that they can exploit your legal ignorance to induce you to make a “tithe” to 42 their state-sponsored civil religion and church of socialism. That religion is exhaustively described below:

43 Socialism: The New American Civil Religion, Form #05.016
44 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

45 6. All government forms are designed to encourage you to waive sovereign immunity and engage in commerce with the 46 government. Government does not make forms for those who refuse to do business with them such as “nontaxpayers”, “nonresidents”, or “transient foreigners”. If you want a form that accurately describes your status as a “nontaxpayer” and which preserves your sovereignty and sovereign immunity, you will have to design your own. Government is

1 never going to make it easy to reduce their own revenues, importance, power, or control over you. Everyone in the
2 government is there because they want the largest possible audience of “customers” for their services. Another way of
3 saying this is that they are going to do everything within their power to rig things so that it is impossible to avoid
4 contracting with or doing business with them. This approach has the effect of compelling you to contract with them in
5 violation of Article 1, Section 10 of the Constitution, which is supposed to protect your right to NOT contract with the
6 government.

7 7. The Thirteenth Amendment prohibits involuntary servitude. Consequently, the government cannot lawfully impose
8 any duty, including the duty to fill out or submit a government form. Therefore, you should view every opportunity
9 that presents itself to fill out a government form as an act of contracting away your rights.
10 8. In the case of government tax forms, the purpose of all government tax forms is to ask the following presumptuous and 11 prejudicial question:

12 “What kind of ‘taxpayer’ are you?”

13 . . . rather than the question:

14 “Are you a ‘taxpayer’?”

15 The above approach results in what the legal profession refers to as a “leading question”, which is a question
16 contaminated by a prejudicial presumption and therefore inadmissible as evidence. Federal Rule of Evidence 611(c)
17 expressly forbids such leading questions to be used as evidence, which is also why no IRS form can really qualify as 18 evidence that can be used against anyone: It doesn’t offer a “nontaxpayer” or a “foreigner” option. An example of 19 such a question is the following:

20 “Have you always beat your wife?”

21 The presumption hidden within the above leading question is that you are a “wife beater”. Replace the word “wife
22 beater” with “taxpayer” and you know the main method by which the IRS stays in business.

23 18.7 “Nonresident alien individuals” v. “Nonresident alien NONindividuals”

24 Another devious technique frequently used on government forms to trick “nonresident aliens” into become “resident aliens”
25 subject to federal jurisdiction is add the word “individual” to the term “nonresident alien” and to define an “individual” as a
26 person subject to federal jurisdiction and engaged in the “trade or business” franchise. There are two types of “nonresident 27 aliens”:

28 1. “Nonresident alien individuals”. These persons are described as subject to federal law and having a requirement to file
29 a tax return found in 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b).
30 2. “Nonresident aliens” who are NOT “individuals”. These entities are not “individuals” and therefore not “persons”
31 subject to any provision of federal law.

32 One cannot be an “individual” without also being a “person”, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(c). One can also be a
33 “nonresident alien” without being a “nonresident alien individual” and this is the only status that is truly sovereign and
34 foreign in respect to federal jurisdiction. The only way you are going to be free and sovereign is to have a status that is not
35 completely defined in the I.R.C., which is private law and a franchise agreement relating only to “taxpayers”. If you are not 36 a franchisee called a “taxpayer” and are therefore not subject to the franchise agreement, then it cannot describe you or 37 impose any duty upon you.

38 *“Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers [officers, employees, and elected officials of the Federal Government] and
39 not to non-taxpayers [American Citizens/American Nationals not subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the 40 Federal Government]. The latter are without their scope. No procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and
41 no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies in due course of law. With them[non-taxpayers]
42 Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of federal revenue laws.”
43 [Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F.2d. 585 (1972)]*

44 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) defines a “nonresident alien individual” as a person who is neither a citizen or a resident. The 45 title of the section, however, indicates “nonresident alien” and not “nonresident alien individual”.

220 of 392

1 An individual is a nonresident alien if such individual is neither a citizen of the United States nor a resident of
2 the United States (within the meaning of subparagraph (A)).

3 They very conveniently don't address those who are not "individuals" because they are "nontaxpayers" and yet who also
4 meet the criteria of being neither a citizen nor resident of the United States.

5 This "individual" scam is also found on the IRS Form W-8BEN, which only offers "Individual" as an option for those who
6 are human beings and does not offer simply "Transient foreigner", or "Union State Citizen", all of whom would NOT be 7 subject to the I.R.C. We prove this in the following article:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

8 If you want to avoid labeling yourself as a "individual" who is therefore a "person" subject to the I.R.C. and a "taxpayer",
9 you will need to use an Amended IRS Form W-8BEN or modify the form yourself. The AMENDED version of the form is 10 available in the article above. The two options it adds are "Transient foreigner" and "Union State Citizen" to block 3 of the 11 form.

12 This section also brings up a bigger issue that relates to domicile. If you are a "nonresident" because you do not have a 13 domicile within a jurisdiction, then you aren't subject to the civil laws of that jurisdiction unless you engage in commerce
14 with that jurisdiction and therefore surrender sovereign immunity pursuant to the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28
15 U.S.C. §1605.

16 *In International Shoe Co. v. Washington, 326 U.S. 310 (1945), the Supreme Court held that a court may 17 exercise personal jurisdiction over a defendant consistent with due process only if he or she has "certain
18 minimum contacts" with the relevant forum "such that the maintenance of the suit does not offend 'traditional
19 notions of fair play and substantial justice.' " Id. at 316 (quoting Milliken v. Meyer, 311 U.S. 457, 463 (1940)).
20 Unless a defendant's contacts with a forum are so substantial, continuous, and systematic that the defendant
21 can be deemed to be "present" in that forum for all purposes, a forum may exercise only "specific"
22 jurisdiction - that is, jurisdiction based on the relationship between the defendant's forum contacts and the 23 plaintiff's claim.*

24 [. . .]

25 In this circuit, we analyze specific jurisdiction according to a three-prong test:

26 (1) The non-resident defendant must purposefully direct his activities or consummate some transaction with
27 the forum or resident thereof; or perform some act by which he purposefully avails himself of the privilege
28 of conducting activities in the forum, thereby invoking the benefits and protections of its laws;
29 (2) the claim must be one which arises out of or relates to the defendant's forum-related activities; and
30 (3) the exercise of jurisdiction must comport with fair play and substantial justice, i.e. it must be reasonable.

31 *Schwarzenegger v. Fred Martin Motor Co., 374 F.3d. 797, 802 (9th Cir. 2004) (quoting Lake v. Lake, 817 F.2d.
32 1416, 1421 (9th Cir. 1987)). The first prong is determinative in this case. We have sometimes referred to it, in
33 shorthand fashion, as the "purposeful availment" prong. Schwarzenegger, 374 F.3d. at 802. Despite its label,
34 this prong includes both purposeful availment and purposeful direction. It may be satisfied by purposeful
35 availment of the privilege of doing business in the forum; by purposeful direction of activities at the forum; or
36 by some combination thereof.*
37 [Yahoo! Inc. v. La Ligue Contre Le Racisme Et L'Antisemitisme, 433 F.3d. 1199 (9th Cir. 01/12/2006)]

38 A "nonresident alien" becomes a "nonresident alien individual" and thereby makes an "election" to be treated as a "person"
39 and therefore an "individual" and a "resident alien" at the point that they engage in commerce with the United States
40 government by participating in the "trade or business" franchise as a public officer in the U.S. government.

41 26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.

42 A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during 43 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
44 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
45 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
46 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
47 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
48 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in

1 *trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
2 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
3 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
4 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.*

7 Without said participation, they are not an “individual” and retain their sovereign and “foreign” status. Only at that point
8 when they waive sovereign immunity can they be subject to the laws of the sovereignty, a “resident” (alien), and a “person”
9 subject to the civil law of that sovereign. If you refuse to engage in the commerce, which Black’s Law Dictionary defines 10 as “intercourse”, with what the Bible refers to as “the Beast”, which is the government, you retain your sovereignty and 11 sovereign immunity and cannot be described as an “Individual” or a person subject to the I.R.C.

12 *“Commerce. ... Intercourse by way of trade and traffic between different peoples or states and the citizens or
13 inhabitants thereof, including not only the purchase, sale, and exchange of commodities, but also the 14 instrumentalities [governments] and agencies by which it is promoted and the means and appliances by which it
15 is carried on...”*
16 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 269]

17 The specific “commerce” and fornication which causes the surrender of sovereign immunity to “the beast” is the “trade or 18 business” franchise, which we also call the “socialism franchise”.

19 18.8 Illegally and FRAUDULENTLY Filing the WRONG return, the IRS 1040

20 Only persons with a domicile in the statutory “United States”, which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10) and 21 4 U.S.C. §110(d) as federal territory not within any constitutional State of the Union, may lawfully file IRS Form 1040.
22 This is confirmed by IRS Document 7130, the IRS Published Products Catalog, which says the following:

23 *1040A 11327A Each
24 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return*

25 *Annual income tax return filed by citizens and residents of the United States. There are separate instructions
26 available for this item. The catalog number for the instructions is 12088U.*

27 *W:CAR:MP:FP:F:I Tax Form or Instructions
28 [IRS Published Products Catalog, Year 2003, p. F-15]*

29 The above is also confirmed by the IRS 1040 Instruction Booklet itself, which says at the top of the page describing the 30 filing requirement the following:

31 Filing Requirements

32 These rules apply to all U.S. citizens, regardless of where they live, and resident aliens.

33 *[IRS 1040 Instruction Booklet, Year 2001, p. 15;
34 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IncomeTaxRtn/Federal/IRSForm1040Instr.pdf>]*

35 What the above deceptive publication very conveniently and deliberately doesn’t tell you are the following very important 36 facts:

- 37 1. The “U.S. citizen” they are referring to above is a statutory “U.S. citizen” defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401.
- 38 2. You cannot be either a statutory “U.S. citizen” or a “resident” (alien) unless you have a domicile on federal territory
39 within the “United States”, which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) as the District
40 of Columbia and territories and possessions of the United States and nowhere “expressly extended” to include any 41 other place.
- 42 3. Persons born within and domiciled within states of the Union do not have a domicile in the “United States” and 43 therefore cannot lawfully be statutory “U.S. citizens” or “residents” (aliens), but rather are non-citizen nationals and 44 nonresident aliens. If they claim to be a “U.S. citizen” on a federal form, they are committing a crime in violation of
45 18 U.S.C. §911.
- 46 4. The only way that the place where you physically live is irrelevant as mentioned above is under Federal Rule of Civil 47 Procedure 17, which says that if you are acting in a representative capacity as a “public officer” within the federal

1 corporation called the “United States”, the laws of the place of incorporation of the corporation apply, regardless of
2 where you physically are. THE OFFICE has a domicile in the District of Columbia and while you fill it, your effective
3 domicile is also there, regardless of where you live. ONLY in this condition is the place you live irrelevant. It is
4 furthermore a criminal violation of 18 U.S.C. §912 for a private person not lawfully elected into public office
5 consistent with federal law to serve in a public office or “pretend” to be a public officer engaged in the “trade or 6 business” franchise.

7 The group of persons that includes statutory “U.S. citizens” and “residents” (aliens) who collectively are the only ones who
8 can lawfully file IRS Form 1040 above are called “U.S. persons”, and they are defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(30\). A
9 nonresident alien is NOT a “U.S. person” and may NOT lawfully elect to be treated as one if he is NOT married to one.
10 The only authority for making an election as a nonresident alien to be treated as a “resident alien” is if he is married to one
11 and wants to file jointly pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013\(g\) and (h) and 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(4\)\(B\) . This option is discussed in 12 the next section.

13 People born with and/or domiciled within states of the Union are nonresident aliens, and most of them are ILLEGALLY
14 filing IRS Form 1040 and thereby:

- 15 1. Making an ILLEGAL election to be treated as “resident aliens” when no statute authorizes it.
- 16 2. Impersonating a “U.S. citizen” in criminal violation of 18 U.S.C. §911.
- 17 3. Impersonating an officer or employee of the federal government in criminal violation of 18 U.S.C. §912.
- 18 4. Needlessly subjecting themselves to the jurisdiction of federal district courts that would otherwise be “foreign” in 19 relation to them if they had properly described their status as nonresident aliens.

20 The above is a HUGE mistake on their part and a FRAUD on the IRS’ part. The IRS looks the other way and permits this,
21 because this is how they ILLEGALLY manufacture nearly all of the “taxpayers” who they illegally terrorize, uhhh, I mean
22 “service”. Any refunds paid out to nonresident aliens who filed IRS Form 1040 and who have not made a lawful election
23 as a person married to a “U.S. person” are unauthorized and unlawful, and would be cognizable under the following I.R.C.
24 provisions:

- 25 1. 26 U.S.C. §7405: Action for recovery of erroneous refunds.
- 26 2. 26 U.S.C. §7206: Fraud and false statements
- 27 3. 26 U.S.C. §7207: Fraudulent returns, statements, or other documents.

28 Those who would argue otherwise are asked to produce the statute AND implementing regulation specifically authorizing 29 nonresident aliens who are NOT married to “U.S. persons” to make an election to be treated as “resident aliens”. It doesn’t 30 exist!

31 18.9 Making a lawful election on a government form to become a “resident”

32 The government has a vested interest to maximize the number of “taxpayers”. Their authority to impose an income tax has 33 as a prerequisite a “domicile” within the “United States”, which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10) and 4
34 U.S.C. §110(d) to include only federal territory not within any Constitutional state of the Union and is not expanded
35 elsewhere under Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A to include states of the Union:

36 *“Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in
37 transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes. Since the
38 Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence creates
39 universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter
40 obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter. Of course,
41 the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most
42 obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located.”
43 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]*

44 If you would like to learn more about the relationship of domicile to income taxation, please read the following free article:

Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

1 As we pointed out in section 1, people born in and domiciled within states of the Union are “nationals” or “state nationals”
2 and not statutory “U.S. citizens”. They are “Citizens” under the Fourteenth Amendment but NOT statutory “citizens of the 3 United States” under 8 U.S.C. §1401. We also showed in section 6 that the only real “taxpayers” on an IRS Form 1040 are
4 “aliens” of one kind or another. IRS Document 7130, in fact, says that the only people who can use IRS Form 1040 are
5 “citizens and residents of the United States”, both of whom have in common a domicile within the statutory “United 6 States”, meaning federal territory. Collectively, “citizens and residents of the United States” having a domicile on federal 7 territory within the statutory “United States” are called “U.S. persons” and are defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(30\).
8 Therefore, the government has a vested interest in making “nonresident aliens” in states of the Union into “resident aliens”.
9 They do this primarily by encouraging nonresident aliens to volunteer to engage in privileged, excise taxable activities.
10 Under subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code, the only such taxable activity is a “trade or business” or a public office.

11 In order to learn how the federal government manufactures “taxpayers” out of “nontaxpayers”, we therefore should be
12 looking for ways in which “nonresident aliens” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(B\) and domiciled in the states of the 13 Union are turned into “resident aliens” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(A\). From a high level view, it would appear
14 simple, because the only way nonresident alien can become a resident is by changing his domicile and declaring that
15 change on government forms. As our research reveals, this process is a lot more devious and indirect than that. It is so
16 subtle that most people miss it. Once we found out how it was accomplished and identified it in our publications, they 17 immediately hid the evidence!

18 This ingenious process our corrupted politicians invented to manufacture more “taxpayers” out of people in the states of the
19 Union who started out as nonresident alien “nontaxpayers” is essentially the mechanism by which our public dis-servants
20 destroy the separation of powers that is at the heart of the United States Constitution and thereby assault and destroy our 21 rights and liberties. That separation of powers is insightfully described in the article below:

22 <http://famguardian.org/Subjects/LawAndGovt/Articles/SeparationOfPowersDoctrine.htm>

23 A breakdown of the separation of taxing authority can only occur by the voluntary consent of the people themselves. The 24 states cannot facilitate that breakdown of the separation of powers:

25 “State officials thus cannot consent to the enlargement of the powers of Congress beyond those enumerated in 26 the Constitution.”
27 New York v. United States, [505 U.S. 142; 112 S.Ct. 2408; 120 L.Ed.2d. 120 (1992)]

28 That consent to allow federal income taxation within states of the Union requires a voluntary personal exercise of our 29 private right to contract. Our right to contract is the most dangerous right we have, because the exercise of that right can 30 destroy ALL of our other rights, folks! The most dangerous thing about this right is that if we use it unwisely, the 31 government cannot come to our aid. The purpose of the United States Constitution, in fact, is to protect its exercise and it
32 forbids any state, in Article 1, Section 10, to pass any law that would impair the obligation of any contract we sign. The 33 abuse of your right to contract is as dangerous as the abuse of your pecker can be to your marriage, your family, and the 34 lives of generations of people yet unborn!

35 A person domiciled in a state of the Union, who starts out as a “nonresident alien”, can become a “resident”, a “taxpayer”,
36 and an “individual” under the Internal Revenue Code by making the necessary “elections” in order to be treated as a
37 “resident” engaged in a “trade or business” instead of a “nonresident alien” not engaged in a “trade or business”. That 38 election is made as follows:

39 1. If the “nonresident alien” voluntarily signs and submits Social Security Form SS-5, he becomes a “resident alien”. 20
40 CFR §422.104 says that only “citizens and permanent residents” are eligible to join the program. “nonresident aliens”
41 are NOT eligible, so they must voluntarily consent or “elect” to become a “resident” by private law/agreement in order 42 to join.

43 Title 20: Employees' Benefits
44 PART 422—ORGANIZATION AND PROCEDURES
45 Subpart B—General Procedures
46 §422.104 Who can be assigned a social security number.

47 (a) Persons eligible for SSN assignment. We can assign you a social security number if you meet the evidence 48 requirements in §422.107 and you are:

(1) A United States citizen; or

(2) An alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence or under other authority of law permitting you to work in the United States (§422.105 describes how we determine if a nonimmigrant alien is permitted to work in the United States); or

[<http://ecfr.gpoaccess.gov/cgi/t/text-idx?c=ecfr&rgn=div8&view=text&node=20:2.0.1.1.12.2.469.3&idno=20>]

Note also that the “nonresident alien” must ALSO become a federal “employee” or “public officer” in order to join, because the above regulation appears in Title 20, which is entitled “Employee benefits”. Congress cannot legislate for private employees, but only its own “public employees” or “public officers”, and those officers must be engaged in a taxable “trade or business” in order to pay for the employment privileges that they are availing themselves of:

"The power to "legislate generally upon" life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the "power to provide modes of redress" against offensive state action, was "repugnant" to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v. Bowman, 190 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest, 383 U.S. 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress' §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not been questioned."

By becoming a “public officer”, you agree to act as a trustee and officer of the “U.S. Inc.” corporation defined in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A), which has a domicile in the District of Columbia. Therefore, your domicile assumes that of the corporation you represent pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17\(b\). The exact mechanisms for how the Social Security System transforms a “nonresident alien” into a “resident alien federal employee” are described in detail in the following informative pamphlet:

Resignation of Compelled Social Security Trustee, Form #06.002

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

2. Pursuant to 26 CFR §31.3401(a)-3(a), a “nonresident alien” may submit an IRS Form W-4 to his private employer and thereby elect to call his earnings “wages”, which makes him “effectively connected with a trade or business”. This means, according to 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\) that he is engaged in a “public office”.

26 CFR §31.3401(a)-3 Amounts deemed wages under voluntary withholding agreements

(a) In general.

Notwithstanding the exceptions to the definition of wages specified in section 3401(a) and the regulations thereunder, the term "wages" includes the amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section with respect to which there is a voluntary withholding agreement in effect under section 3402(p). References in this chapter to the definition of wages contained in section 3401(a) shall be deemed to refer also to this section (§31.3401(a)-3.

Once you begin earning “wages”, your compensation is documented and reported on a W-2 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6041, which says that only “trade or business” earnings can be reported on a W-2. This means, according to 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\) that the worker is engaged in a “public office”. 4 U.S.C. §72 says that all public offices exist ONLY in the District of Columbia, and therefore, you consented to be treated as a “resident” of the District of Columbia for the purposes of the income tax, because you are representing a federal corporation in the District of Columbia as a “public officer” and your effective domicile is the domicile of the corporation pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b):

TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > § 72
§ 72. Public offices; at seat of Government

All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere, except as otherwise expressly provided by law.

3. Pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4) and 26 U.S.C. §6013(g), he can decide to file an IRS Form 1040, and thereby become a “resident alien”. IRS Document 7130 identifies the IRS Form 1040 as being only suitable for use by “citizens and residents of the United States”. The “individual” in the title “U.S. Individual Income Tax Return” means a “resident alien” in that scenario. This is explained in the following sources:

1 3.1. Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 5.5.3: You're Not a U.S. citizen if you file a 1040 form, You're an alien
 2 3.2. Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 5.5.4 entitled: "You're not the U.S. citizen mentioned at the top of the
 3 1040 form if you are a U.S. citizen domiciled in the federal United States"
 4 4. After making the above elections, if the IRS then writes us some friendly "dear taxpayer" letters, and we respond and
 5 don't deny that we are "taxpayers" or provide exculpatory proof that we are not, then we are admitting that:
 6 4.1. We are subject to the IRC.
 7 4.2. We are "taxpayers".

8 The bottom line is that if you act like a duck and quack like one, then the IRS is going to think you are one! That
 9 deception usually occurs because we deceived the government about our true status by either filling out the wrong
 10 form, or filing the right form out incorrectly and in a way that does not represent our true status. This is covered in our 11 article below:

"Taxpayer" v. "Nontaxpayer": Which one are You?
<http://famguardian1.org/Subjects/Taxes/Articles/TaxpayerVNontaxpayer.htm>

12 Through the elections made by the nonresident alien above, it contractually agreed to become a representative of a legal
 13 fiction that is a "resident" or "resident alien" or "permanent resident", all of which are equivalent and are defined in 26
 14 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(A\). A "resident" is within the legislative jurisdiction of the of "United States". A "domicile" or 15 "residence" is what puts them within the legislative jurisdiction of the "United States". The "nonresident alien" therefore 16 became a "resident alien" not because they have a physical presence there, but because the SS-5 federal employment
 17 contract they signed made them into "representatives" and "public officers" for the federal corporation called the "United 18 States". Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17\(b\), their effective domicile or residence is that of the federal 19 corporation they represent, which is the "United States", as indicated in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A). That corporation, like all
 20 corporations, is a "citizen" of the place of its incorporation, which in this case is the District of Columbia:

21 "A corporation is a citizen, resident, or inhabitant of the state or country by or under the laws of which it was 22 created, and of that state or country only."
 23 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §886]

24 The above mechanisms for DESTROYING the sovereignty of We the People and breaking down the separation of Powers
 25 between the state and federal governments are consistent with the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §1602 to 26 1611. 28 U.S.C. §1605\(a\)\(2\) says that a foreign sovereign, such as a "nonresident alien", surrenders their sovereign
 27 immunity by conducting "commerce" within the legislative jurisdiction of the "United States". A nonresident alien who 28 has accomplished one or more of the above steps meets the criteria for the surrender of sovereign immunity because:

29 1. He is conducting "commerce" within the legislative jurisdiction of the United States pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2)
 30 as a public officer or a representative of a Social Security Trust that is a "public officer".

31 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 97 > § 1605
 32 § 1605. General exceptions to the jurisdictional immunity of a foreign state

33 (a) A foreign state shall not be immune from the jurisdiction of courts of the United States or of the States in
 34 any case—

35 (2) in which the action is based upon a commercial activity carried on in the United States by the foreign
 36 state; or upon an act performed in the United States in connection with a commercial activity of the foreign
 37 state elsewhere; or upon an act outside the territory of the United States in connection with a commercial
 38 activity of the foreign state elsewhere and that act causes a direct effect in the United States;

39 Through the SS-5 federal job or contract application, the nonresident alien contractually agreed to become a federal 40 "employee" or "public officer" engaged in a "trade or business" who is conducting "commerce" with the government.
 41 The Social Security Act and the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A are the "employment contract" or "franchise
 42 agreement" that they must observe while acting in a representative capacity as a "public officer". That "franchise
 43 agreement" governs choice of law should any of the terms of the contract need to be litigated. 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(39\)
 44 and 26 U.S.C. §7408\(d\) say that all litigation over the terms of the contract must occur in a federal court under the 45 laws of the District of Columbia.

46 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > § 7701
 47 § 7701. Definitions

48 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent

1 thereof—

2 (39) Persons residing outside United States

3 If any citizen or resident of the United States does not reside in (and is not found in) any United States
4 judicial district, such citizen or resident shall be treated as residing in the District of Columbia for purposes
5 of any provision of this title relating to—

6 (A) jurisdiction of courts, or
7 (B) enforcement of summons.

8 Another way of saying this is that you can't become a federal "employee" or contractor unless you agree to obey what
9 your new boss tells you to do, and the only way that boss, the government, can direct your activities is through "law".
10 This is what we call a "roach trap statute", which is a statute whose benefits entice you into a trap that causes you to 11 acquire the equivalent of a new land-lord. Since kidnapping and identity theft are illegal, then they need your consent
12 or permission to kidnap your legal identity or "res" and move it to the District of Columbia so that it can be 13 "identified" there. See 18 U.S.C. §1201. This is how you became a "res"+"ident", or a "resident" of the District of 14 Columbia. Therefore, you must also agree to be subject to federal law as a "resident" before you can become a "public
15 officer", federal benefit recipient, or contractor. Once you become any one of these three types of entities, 44 U.S.C.
16 §1505(a) and 5 U.S.C. §553(a) say that you also agreed to obey all commands of your new boss, which is Congress,
17 without the need for implementing regulations published in the federal register. The Legislative Branch is the boss,
18 and the Executive Branch works for the Legislative Branch to implement and enforce the will of the sovereign people.
19 In the process of becoming a federal "employee" or "public officer", you also implicitly surrendered ALL of your 20 constitutional rights in the context of your official duties:

21 "The restrictions that the Constitution places upon the government in its capacity as lawmaker, i.e., as the
22 regulator of private conduct, are not the same as the restrictions that it places upon the government in its 23 capacity as employer. We have recognized this in many contexts, with respect to many different constitutional
24 guarantees. Private citizens perhaps cannot be prevented from wearing long hair, but policemen can. Kelley v.
25 Johnson, 425 U.S. 238, 247 (1976). Private citizens cannot have their property searched without probable
26 cause, but in many circumstances government employees can. O'Connor v. Ortega, 480 U.S. 709, 723 (1987)
27 (plurality opinion); id., at 732 (SCALIA, J., concurring in judgment). Private citizens cannot be punished for 28 refusing to provide the government information that may incriminate them, but government employees can be
29 dismissed when the incriminating information that they refuse to provide relates to the performance of their job.
30 Gardner v. Broderick, 392 U.S. 273, 277 -278 (1968). With regard to freedom of speech in particular: Private 31 citizens cannot be punished for speech of merely private concern, but government employees can be fired for 32 that reason. Connick v. Myers, 461 U.S. 138, 147 (1983). Private citizens cannot be punished for partisan
33 political activity, but federal and state employees can be dismissed and otherwise punished for that reason.

36 [Rutan v. Republican Party of Illinois, 497 U.S. 62 (1990)]

37 2. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1332(c) and (d), the nonresident alien, by making the necessary elections, has lost his 38 sovereign immunity as a "foreign sovereign" because he became a "resident" or "citizen" of that foreign state for the 39 purposes of federal law. This is what 28 U.S.C. §1603\(b\)\(3\) below says:

40 41 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 97 > § 1603
41 § 1603. Definitions

42 For purposes of this chapter—

43 (a) A "foreign state", except as used in section 1608 of this title, includes a political subdivision of a foreign
44 state or an agency or instrumentality of a foreign state as defined in subsection (b).

45 (b) An "agency or instrumentality of a foreign state" means any entity—
46 (1) which is a separate legal person, corporate or otherwise, and
47 (2) which is an organ of a foreign state or political subdivision thereof, or a majority of whose shares or other
48 ownership interest is owned by a foreign state or political subdivision thereof, and 49 (3) which is neither a citizen of a State of the United States as defined in section 1332 (c) and (d) of this title,
50 nor created under the laws of any third country.

51 Only AFTER the above "elections" or consent have been voluntarily procured completely absent any duress can the party
52 become the object of involuntary IRS enforcement, and NOT before.

53 "Waivers of constitutional rights not only must be voluntary but must be knowing, intelligent acts done with

1 sufficient awareness of the relevant circumstances and likely consequences."
2 [Brady v. U.S., 397 U.S. at 749, 90 S.Ct. 1463 at 11469 (1970)]

4 "The question of a waiver of a federally guaranteed constitutional right is, of course, a federal question
5 controlled by federal law. There is a presumption against the waiver of constitutional rights, see, e.g. Glasser
6 v. United States, 315 U.S. 60, 70-71, 86 L.Ed. 680, 699, 62 S.Ct. 457, and for a waiver to be effective it must be 7 clearly established that there was "an intentional relinquishment or abandonment of a known right or
9 Brookhart v. Janis, [384 U.S. 1; 86 S.Ct. 1245; 16 L.Ed.2d. 314 (1966)]

10 If no consent was ever explicitly (in writing) or implicitly (by conduct) given or if consent was procured through deceit,
11 fraud, or duress, or was procured without full disclosure and "reasonable notice" ON THE AGREEMENT ITSELF of all
12 rights being surrendered, the contract is voidable at the option of the person subject to the duress but not automatically
13 void:

14 "An agreement [consent] obtained by duress, coercion, or intimidation is invalid, since the party coerced is not
15 exercising his free will, and the test is not so much the means by which the party is compelled to execute the
16 agreement as the state of mind induced.¹⁷ Duress, like fraud, rarely becomes material, except where a contract
17 or conveyance has been made which the maker wishes to avoid. As a general rule, duress renders the contract
18 or conveyance voidable, not void, at the option of the person coerced.¹⁸ and it is susceptible of ratification.
19 Like other voidable contracts, it is valid until it is avoided by the person entitled to avoid it.¹⁹ However, duress
20 in the form of physical compulsion, in which a party is caused to appear to assent when he has no intention of 21 doing so, is generally deemed to render the resulting purported contract void.²⁰ [\[4\]](#)"
22 [American Jurisprudence 2d, Duress, Section 21]

23 AFTER a nonresident alien domiciled in a state of the Union has made the elections necessary to be treated as though he is 24 "effectively connected with a trade or business" by voluntarily signing and submitting an IRS Form W-4, the code says he
25 becomes a "resident alien". In fact, we allege that the term "effectively connected" is a code word for "contracted" or 26 "consented" to procure "social insurance" as a federal "employee". The act of engaging in a "trade or business" makes 27 nonresident aliens subject to the code, and under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(39\) and 26 U.S.C. §7408\(d\), their "effective
28 domicile" shifts to the District of Columbia. Beyond that point, they become parties to federal law and whenever they walk
29 into a federal district court, the courts are obligated to treat them as though they effectively reside in the District of 30 Columbia. The older versions of the Treasury Regulations demonstrate EXACTLY how this election process works to 31 transform "nonresident aliens" into "residents" who are then "taxpayers":

32 26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.

33 A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during 34 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
35 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
36 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
37 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
38 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
39 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in
40 trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
41 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
42 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
43 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.
44 [Amended by T.D. 8813, Federal Register: February 2, 1999 (Volume 64, Number 21), Page 4967-4975]

45 Shortly after we posted the information contained in this article on our website, the Treasury deleted the above regulation
46 and replaced it on the Government Printing Office website with a temporary regulation that doesn't tell the truth quite so
47 plainly. They don't want you to know how they made you into a "resident". This is their secret weapon, folks. If you want

²⁰ Restatement 2d, Contracts § 174, stating that if conduct that appears to be a manifestation of assent by a party who does not intend to engage in that conduct is physically compelled by duress, the conduct is not effective as a manifestation of assent.

1 to know how to undo the effects of this secret weapon, please read Section 19.6 later, entitled "How to Correct Government
2 Records to Reflect your True Status as a Nonresident Alien".

3 The trouble and inherent corruption associated with this deceitful manufacturing process is that:

4 1. The government won't admit on its website or its publications or its phone support that your voluntary consent is
5 necessary as a nonresident alien nontaxpayer in order to become a resident alien taxpayer.
6 2. The IRS publications don't contain either legal definitions that would help you understand the full extent of your tax
7 obligation and they won't talk with you about the law on the phone, because then you would instantly realize that they 8 have no authority.
9 3. The courts refuse to hold the IRS responsible for telling the truth. See:

Federal Courts and the IRS' Own IRM Say IRS is NOT RESPONSIBLE for Its Actions or Its Words or For Following
Its Own Written Procedures
<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Articles/IRSNоРesponsible.htm>

10 4. The IRS won't tell you how to "unvolunteer" or how your consent was procured, because they want everyone to be 11 indentured government slaves in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment.
12 5. The IRS deceives you on their website by omitting key truths contained in this pamphlet from their website and by 13 refusing to address completely in their propaganda literature, such as the following:

Rebutted Version of the IRS "The Truth About Frivolous Tax Arguments", Form #08.005
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

14 6. If you confront them with the truth, they are silent and won't respond, because if they did, their Ponzi scheme would 15 cave in and people would leave the system in droves.
16 7. Those who expose these truths are often persecuted by the IRS for reminding people that you can unvolunteer using the 17 techniques described in section 19.6 later.
18 8. Private companies and financial institutions who file false information returns (e.g. W-2, 1099) that connect you to a
19 "trade or business" (pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6041) or who compel you to sign or submit either an SS-5 to get an
20 identifying number or W-4 to procure a job and who threaten to either not hire you or fire you if they don't are engaged
21 in extortion, money laundering, and racketeering for which the government should be prosecuting them. However, the 22 Dept. of Justice looks the other way because they want the plunder to continue flowing into their checking account.

23 The sin and corruption that keeps our tax system going is therefore mainly a sin of "omission", rather than "commission".
24 Silence by the IRS and failure to act properly or in the best interests of all Americans, in fulfillment of the fiduciary duty
25 that public servants have, by informing Americans of exactly what the law says and requires is what allows the fraud to 26 continue.

27 Lastly, THE MOST IMPORTANT thing you can have in your administrative record with the government is evidence of 28 duress being instituted against you as described above. An affidavit of duress should be maintained at all times
29 documenting the unlawful and coerced nature of all information returns filed against you, all W-4's, SS-5 forms, etc. that
30 were instituted against you, so that you have legal recourse to recover taxes or penalties unlawfully or illegally collected
31 against you. Treasury Decision 3445 says that if you pay a tax or have it levied or deducted from your pay, the MOST 32 important thing you can do is establish proof on the record of the company that did it of duress and that it is being collected
33 "under protest", or else you forfeit your right to recover it in court:

34 The principle that taxes voluntarily paid can not be recovered back is thoroughly established. It has been so 35 declared in the following cases in the Supreme Court: United States v. New York & Cuba Mail Steamship Co.
36 (200 U.S. 488, 493, 494); Chesebrough v. United States (192 U.S. 253); Little v. Bowers (134 U.S. 547, 554);
37 Wright v. Blakeslee (101 U.S. 174, 178); Railroad Co. v. Commissioner (98 U.S. 541, 543); Lamborn v. County
38 Commissioners (97 U.S. 181); Elliott v. Swartwout (10 Pet. 137). And there are numerous like cases in other 39 Federal corn: Procter & Gamble Co. v. United States (281 Fed. 1014); Vaughan v. Riordan (280 Fed. 742, 40 745); Beer v. Moffatt (192 Fed. 984, affirmed 209 Fed. 779); Newhall v. Jordan (160 Fed. 661); Christie Street
41 Commission Co. v. United States (126 Fed. 991); Kentucky Bank v. Stone (88 Fed. 383); Corkie v. Maxwell (7 42 Fed.Cas. 3231).

43 And the rule of the Federal courts is not at all peculiar to them. It is the settled general rule of the State
44 courts as well that no matter what may be the ground of the objection to the tax or assessment if it has been
45 paid voluntarily and without compulsion it can not be recovered back in an action at law, unless there is 46 some constitutional or statutory provision which gives to one so paying such a right notwithstanding the 47 payment was made without compulsion.--Adams v. New Bedford (155 Mass. 317); McCue v. Monroe County
48 (162 N.Y. 235); Taylor v. Philadelphia Board of Health (31 P. St. 73); Williams v. Merritt (152 Mich. 621); 49 Gould v. Hennepin County (76 Minn. 379); Martin v. Kearney County (62 Minn. 538); Gar v. Hurd (92 Ills.

1 315); Slimmer v. Chickasaw County (140 Iowa. 448); Warren v. San Francisco (150 Calif. 167); State v.
2 Chicago & C. R. Co. (165 No. 597).

3 And it has been many times held, in the absence of a statute on the subject, that mere payment under protest
4 does not save a payment from being voluntary, in the sense which forbids a recovery back of the tax paid, if it
5 was not made under any duress, compulsion, or threats, or under the pressure of process immediately available
6 for the forcible collection of the tax.--Dexter v. Boston (176 Mass. 247); Flower v. Lance (59 N.Y. 603);
7 Williams v. Merritt (152 Mich. 621); Oakland Cemetery Association v. Ramsey County (98 Minn. 404); Robins
8 v. Latham (134 No. 466); Whitbeck v. Minch (48 Ohio.St. 210); Peebles v. Pittsburgh.(101 Pa. St. 304);
9 Montgomery v. Cowlitz County (14 Wash. 230); Cincinnati & C. R. Co. v. Hamilton County (120 Tenn. 1).

10 The principle that a tax or an assessment voluntarily paid can not be recovered back is an ancient one in the 11 common law and is of general application. See Cooley on Taxation (vol. 2, 3d ed. p. 1495). That eminent
12 authority also points out that every man is supposed to know the law, and if he voluntarily makes a payment
13 which the law would not compel him to make he can not afterwards assign his ignorance of the law as a reason
14 why the State should furnish him with legal remedies to recover it back. And he adds:

15 [Treasury Decision 3445, <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/CitesByTopic/Voluntary-TD3445.pdf>]

16 18.10 Jurat/Perjury statement on IRS Forms

17 Signing a perjury statement not only constitutes the taking of an oath, but also constitutes the conveying of consent to be 18 held accountable for the accuracy and truthfulness of what appears on the form. It therefore constitutes an act of 19 contracting that conveys consent and rights to the government to hold you accountable for the accuracy of what is on the 20 form. Governments are created to protect your right to contract and the Constitution forbids them from interfering with or 21 impairing the exercise of that inalienable right. Governments are created to ensure that every occasion you give consent or 22 contract is not coerced.

23 "Independent of these views, there are many considerations which lead to the conclusion that the power to 24 impair contracts, by direct action to that end, does not exist with the general [federal] government. In the 25 first place, one of the objects of the Constitution, expressed in its preamble, was the establishment of justice,
26 and what that meant in its relations to contracts is not left, as was justly said by the late Chief Justice, in 27 Hepburn v. Griswold, to inference or conjecture. As he observes, at the time the Constitution was undergoing
28 discussion in the convention, the Congress of the Confederation was engaged in framing the ordinance for the 29 government of the Northwestern Territory, in which certain articles of compact were established between the 30 people of the original States and the people of the Territory, for the purpose, as expressed in the instrument, of 31 extending the fundamental principles of civil and religious liberty, upon which the States, their laws and 32 constitutions, were erected. By that ordinance it was declared, that, in the just preservation of rights and 33 property, 'no law ought ever to be made, or have force in the said Territory, that shall, in any manner,
34 interfere with or affect private contracts or engagements bona fide and without fraud previously formed.' The 35 same provision, adds the Chief Justice, found more condensed expression in the prohibition upon the States [in 36 Article 1, Section 10 of the Constitution] against impairing the obligation of contracts, which has ever been 37 recognized as an efficient safeguard against injustice; and though the prohibition is not applied in terms to the 38 government of the United States, he expressed the opinion, speaking for himself and the majority of the court at 39 the time, that it was clear 'that those who framed and those who adopted the Constitution intended that the 40 spirit of this prohibition should pervade the entire body of legislation, and that the justice which the 41 Constitution was ordained to establish was not thought by them to be compatible with legislation [or judicial 42 precedent] of an opposite tendency.' 8 Wall. 623. [99 U.S. 700, 765] Similar views are found expressed in the 43 opinions of other judges of this court."

44 [Sinking Fund Cases, 99 U.S. 700 (1878)]

45 The presence of coercion, penalties, or duress of any kind in the process of giving consent renders the contract
46 unenforceable and void.

47 "An agreement [consensual contract] obtained by duress, coercion, or intimidation is invalid, since the party
48 coerced is not exercising his free will, and the test is not so much the means by which the party is compelled to 49 execute the agreement as the state of mind induced.²¹ Duress, like fraud, rarely becomes material, except
50 where a contract or conveyance has been made which the maker wishes to avoid. As a general rule, duress

3 [American Jurisprudence 2d, Duress, Section 21]

4 Any instance where you are required to give consent cannot be coerced or subject to penalty and must therefore be
5 voluntary. Any penalty or threat of penalty in specifying the terms under which you provide your consent is an interference
6 or impairment with your right to contract. This sort of unlawful interference with your right to contract happens all the time
7 when the IRS illegally penalizes people for specifying the terms under which they consent to be held accountable on a tax
8 form.

9 The perjury statement found at the end of nearly every IRS Form is based on the content of 28 U.S.C. §1746:

10 TITLE 28 > PART V > CHAPTER 115 > § 1746
11 §1746. Unsworn declarations under penalty of perjury

12 Wherever, under any law of the United States or under any rule, regulation, order, or requirement made 13 pursuant to law, any matter is required or permitted to be supported, evidenced, established, or proved by the 14 sworn declaration, verification, certificate, statement, oath, or affidavit, in writing of the person making the 15 same (other than a deposition, or an oath of office, or an oath required to be taken before a specified official 16 other than a notary public), such matter may, with like force and effect, be supported, evidenced, established, or 17 proved by the unsworn declaration, certificate, verification, or statement, in writing of such person which is 18 subscribed by him, as true under penalty of perjury, and dated, in substantially the following form:

19 *(1) If executed without the United States: "I declare (or certify, verify, or state) under penalty of perjury
20 under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on (date).
21 (Signature)".*

22 *(2) If executed within the United States, its territories, possessions, or commonwealths: "I declare (or certify,
23 verify, or state) under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on (date).
24 (Signature)".*

25 The term "United States" as used above means the territories and possessions of the United States and the District of 26 Columbia and excludes states of the Union mentioned in the Constitution. Below is the perjury statement found on the IRS
27 Form 1040 and 1040NR:

28 *"Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have examined this return and accompanying schedules and 29 statements, and to the best of my knowledge and belief, they are true, correct, and complete. Declaration of 30 preparer (other than taxpayer) is based on all information of which preparer has any knowledge."
31 [IRS Forms 1040 and 1040NR jurat/perjury statement]*

32 Notice, based on the above perjury statement, that:

33 1. You are a "taxpayer". Notice it uses the words "(other than taxpayer)". The implication is that you can't use any 34 standard IRS Form WITHOUT being a "nontaxpayer". As a consequence, signing any standard IRS Form makes you 35 a "taxpayer" and a "resident alien". See:

36

Who are "Taxpayers" and Who Needs a "Taxpayer Identification Number"? , Form #05.013 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

37 2. The perjury statement indicated in 28 U.S.C. §1746(2) is assumed and established, which means that you are creating a presumption that you maintain a domicile on federal territory.

38 Those who want to avoid committing perjury under penalty of perjury by correcting the IRS form to reflect the fact that 39 they are not a "taxpayer" and are not within the "United States" face an even bigger hurdle. If they try to modify the 40 perjury statement to conform with 28 U.S.C. §1746(1), frequently the IRS or government entity receiving the form will try 41 to penalize them for modifying the form. The penalty is usually $500 for modifying the jurat. This leaves them with the 42 unpleasant prospect of choosing the lesser of the following two evils:

²³ Faske v. Gershman, 30 Misc.2d 442, 215 N.Y.S.2d. 144; Heider v. Unicume, 142 Or. 416, 20 P.2d. 384; Glenney v. Crane (Tex Civ App Houston (1st Dist)) 352 S.W.2d. 773, writ ref n r e (May 16, 1962)

²⁴ Restatement 2d, Contracts § 174, stating that if conduct that appears to be a manifestation of assent by a party who does not intend to engage in that conduct is physically compelled by duress, the conduct is not effective as a manifestation of assent.

1 1. Committing perjury under penalty of perjury by misrepresenting themselves as a resident of the federal zone and 2 destroying their sovereignty immunity in the process pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1603\(b\).
3 2. Changing the jurat statement, being the object of a $500 penalty, and then risking having them reject the form.

4 How do we work around the above perjury statement at the end of most IRS Forms in order to avoid either becoming a
5 “resident” of the federal “United States” or a presumed “taxpayer”? Below are a few examples of how to do this:

6 1. You can write a statement above the signature stating “signature not valid without the attached signed STATEMENT
7 and all enclosures” and then on the attachment, redefine the ENTIRE perjury statement:

8 *“IRS frequently and illegally penalizes parties not subject to their jurisdiction such as ‘nontaxpayers’ who
9 attempt to physically modify language on their forms. They may only lawfully administer penalties to public
10 officers and not private persons, because the U.S. Supreme Court has held that the ability to regulate private
11 conduct is ‘repugnant to the constitution’. I, as a private person and a ‘nontaxpayer’ not subject to IRS
12 penalties, am forced to create this attachment because I would be committing perjury if I signed the form as it is 13 without making the perjury statement consistent with my circumstances as indicated in 28 U.S.C. §1746.
14 Therefore, regardless of what the perjury statement says on your form, here is what I define the words in your 15 perjury statement paragraph to mean:*

16 Under penalties of perjury from without the ‘United States’ pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1746(I), I declare that 17 I have examined this return and accompanying schedules and statements, and to the best of my knowledge and
18 belief, they are true, correct, and complete. I declare that I am a ‘nontaxpayer’ not subject to the Internal 19 Revenue Code, not domiciled in the ‘United States’, and not participating in a ‘trade or business’ and that it is 20 a Constitutional tort to enforce the I.R.C. against me. I also declare that any attempt to use the content of this
21 form to enforce any provision of the I.R.C. against me shall render everything on this form as religious and 22 political statements and beliefs rather than facts which are not admissible as evidence pursuant to Fed.Rul.Ev.
23 610.*

24 If you attempt to penalize me, you will be penalizing a person for refusing to commit perjury and will become 25 an accessory to a conspiracy to commit perjury.”

26 2. You can write a statement above the signature stating “signature not valid without the attached signed STATEMENT 27 and all enclosures” and then attach the following form:

28

Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

29 3. You can make your own form or tax return and use whatever you want on the form. They can only penalize persons
30 who use THEIR forms. If you make your own form, you can penalize THEM for misusing YOUR forms or the 31 information on those forms. This is the approach taken by the following form. Pay particular attention to section 1 of the form:

32

Federal Nonresident Nonstatutory Claim for Return of Funds Unlawfully Paid to the Government-Long, Form
#15.001

32 18.11 Social Security Administration HIDES your citizenship status in their NUMIDENT 33 records

34 Your citizenship status is represented in the Social Security NUMIDENT record maintained by the Social Secuity
35 Administration. The field called “CSP” within NUMIDENT contains a one character code that represents your citizenship
36 status. This information is DELIBERATELY concealed and obfuscated from public view by the following Social Security
37 policies:

38 1. The meaning of the CSP codes is NOT listed in the Social Security Program Operations Manual System (POMS)
39 online so you can’t find out.
<https://s044a90.ssa.gov/apps10/poms.nsf/partlist!OpenView>

40 2. Employees at the SSA offices are NOT allowed to know and typically DO NOT know what the code means.

41 3. If you submit a Freedom Of Information Act (FOIA) request to SSA asking them what the CSP code means, they will 42 respond that the values of the codes are CLASSIFIED and therefore UNKNOWABLE by the public. You ARE NOT
43 allowed to know WHAT citizenship status they associate with you. See the following negative response:

44

Social Security Admin. FOIA for CSP Code Values, Exhibit #01.011
<http://sedm.org/Exhibits/ExhibitIndex.htm>

1 4. The ONLY option they give you in block 5 entitled “CITIZENSHIP” are the following. They REFUSE to distinguish
2 WHICH “United States” is implied in the term “U.S. citizen”, and if they told the truth, the ONLY citizen they could
3 lawfully mean is a STATUTORY “U.S. citizen” per 8 U.S.C. §1401 and NOT a CONSTITUTIONAL citizen, who is a
4 STATUTORY nonresident and alien in relation to the national government with a foreign domicile:
5 4.1. “U.S. citizen”
6 4.2. “Legal Alien Allowed to Work”
7 4.3. “Legal Alien NOT allowed to Work” (See Instructions on Page 1)
8 4.4. “Other” (See instructions on page 1)
9 See:

Social Security Administration Form SS-5

<http://www.famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/Emancipation/ss-5.pdf>

10 Those who are domiciled outside the statutory “United States” or in a constitutional state of the Union and who want to 11 correct the citizenship records of the SSA must submit a new Form SS-5 to the Social Security Administration (SSA) and 12 check “Legal Alien Allowed to Work” in Block 5 pursuant to 20 CFR §422.110(a). This changes the CSP code in their 13 record from “A” to “B”. If you go into the Social Security Office and try to do this, the local offices often will try to give 14 you a run-around with the following abusive and CRIMINAL tactics:

15 1. When you ask them about the meaning of Block 5, they will refuse to indicate whether the citizenship indicated is a
16 CIVIL/STATUTORY status or a POLITICAL/CONSTITUTIONAL status. It can’t be both. It must indicate
17 NATIONALITY or DOMICILE, but not BOTH.
18 2. They will first try to call the national office to ask about your status in Block 5.
19 3. They will ABSOLUTELY REFUSE to involve you in the call or to hear what is said, because they want to protect the 20 perpetrators of crime on the other end. Remember, terrorists always operate anonymously and they are terrorists. You
21 should bring your MP3 voice record, insist on being present, and put the phone on speaker phone, and do EXACTLY
22 the same thing they do when you call them directly by saying the following:

23 “This call is being monitored for quality assurance purposes, just like you do to me without my consent ALL 24 THE TIME.”

25 4. After they get off the phone, they will refuse to tell you the full legal name of the person on the other end of the call to 26 protect those who are perpetuating the fraud.
27 5. They will tell you that they want to send your Form SS-5 to the national office in Baltimore, Maryland, but refuse to 28 identify EXACTLY WHO they are sending it to, because they don’t want this person sued personally as they should 29 be.
30 6. The national office will sit on the form forever and refuse to make the change requested, and yet never justify with the 31 law by what authority they:
32 6.1. Perpetuate the criminal computer fraud that results from NOT changing it.
33 6.2. Perpetuate the criminal violation of 18 U.S.C. §911 by NOT changing it.
34 7. They will allow you to change ANYTHING ELSE on the form without their permission, but if you want to change
35 your CITIZENSHIP, they essentially interfere with it illegally and criminally.

36 The reason they play all the above obfuscation GAMES and hide or classify information to conceal the GAMES is because 37 they want to protect what they certainly know are the following CRIMES on their part and that of their employees:

38 1. They can’t offer federal benefits to CONSTITUTIONAL but not STATUTORY citizens with a domicile outside of 39 federal territory. If they do, they would be criminally violating 18 U.S.C. §911.
40 2. They can’t pay public monies to PRIVATE parties, and therefore you CANNOT apply with the SS-5 for a “benefit”
41 unless you are a public officer ALREADY employed with the government. If they let PRIVATE people apply they are 42 conspiring to commit the crime of impersonating a public officer in violation of 18 U.S.C. §912.
43 3. They aren’t allowed to offer or enforce any government franchise within the borders of a Constitutional but not 44 STATUTORY state of the Union, as held by the U.S. Supreme Court, so they have to make you LOOK like a
45 STATUTORY citizen, even though you aren’t, in order to expand their Ponzi Scheme outside their GENERAL
46 jurisdiction and into legislatively foreign states.

47 *“Congress cannot authorize [LICENSE, using a de facto license number called a “Social Security Number”] a 48 trade or business within a State in order to tax it.”
49 License Tax Cases, [72 U.S. 462, 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]*

1 The only status a state domiciled CONSTITUTIONAL but not STATUTORY citizen can put on the form is “Other” or
2 “Legal [STATUTORY] Alien Allowed to Work”. The instructions say following about “Other” option:

3 “If you check “Other”, you need to provide proof that you are entitled to a federally-funded benefit for which
4 Social Security number is required as a condition for you to receive payment.”

5 In answer to the above query in connection with the “Other” option, we suggest:

6 “DO NOT seek any federally funded benefit. I want a NONtaxpayer number that entitles me to ABSOLUTELY
7 NOTHING as a NONRESIDENT not subject to federal law and NOT qualified to receive benefits of any kind. I
8 am only applying because:

9 1. I am being illegally compelled to use a number I know I am not qualified to ask for.

10 2. The number was required as a precondition condition of PRIVATE employment or opening an PRIVATE
11 financial account by a NONRESIDENT ALIEN who is NOT a “U.S. citizen” or “U.S. person” and who is NOT
12 required to have or use such a number by 31 CFR §306.10, 31 CFR §103.34(a)(3)(x), and IRS Pub. 515.

13 I ask that you criminally prosecute them for doing so AND provide a statement on SSA letterhead indicating 14 that I am NOT eligible that I can show them. Furthermore, if you do have any numbers on file connected with 15 my name, I ask that they be rescinded permanently from your records.”

16 Then you may want to attach the following forms to the application to ENSURE that they reject your application and TELL
17 you that you are NOT eligible so you can show it to the person who is COMPELLING you to use a number:

18 1. Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
19 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

20 2. Why It is Illegal for Me to Request or Use a “Taxpayer Identification Number”, Form #04.205
21 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

22 18.12 Federal courts refusing to recognize sovereignty of litigant

23 A nonresident is an entity with no domicile within the venue or forum. This means that they are:

24 1. Not a “taxpayer” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(14) or 26 U.S.C. §1313.

25 “Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers [officers, employees, and elected officials of the Federal Government] and
26 not to non-taxpayers [American Citizens/American Nationals not subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the
27 Federal Government]. The latter are without their scope. No procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and
28 no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies in due course of law. With them[non-taxpayers]
29 Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of federal revenue laws.”
30 [Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F.2d. 585 (1972)]

31 2. Not a “person” or “individual” under the civil law of the forum. See our article on domicile:

Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

32 3. Protected by the Minimum Contacts Doctrine of the U.S. Supreme Court. See section 19.4 later.

33 4. Protected by the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. Chapter 97. The government as the moving party 34 asserting a liability has the burden of showing that you expressly waived sovereign immunity by either:
35 4.1. Mistakenly declaring yourself a “citizen” or “resident” pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1603(b)(3) who therefore has 36 domicile (nationals) or a residence (aliens) within federal territory.
37 4.2. Consensually conducting commerce within the legislative jurisdiction of the sovereign pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
38 §1605.
39 5. “foreign” and a “foreigner” in relation to the forum.
40 6. NOT a “foreign person” because not a “person”.

41 In order to compel federal courts to recognize all the requirements of the above, we have prepared the following, which you
42 should attach to all your pleadings in federal court:

Even after the above is attached and even after sovereign immunity is properly invoked by a “nonresident alien” who is NOT an “individual” or “person”, even then some federal courts will further interfere with the sovereign immunity of people litigating before them by creating a “presumption” that the litigants are domiciliaries of the forum through the following means:

1. Refusing to recognize that:
 - 1.1. You, the litigant are a “nontaxpayer”.
 - 1.2. “Nontaxpayers” even exist. The result is that EVERYONE is “presumed” to be a “taxpayer”, which means they are PRESUMED guilty until proven innocent. This turns the foundation of American Jurisprudence upside down, which is the presumption of innocent until proven guilty.

“The presumption of innocence, although not articulated in the Constitution, is a basic component of a fair trial under our system of criminal justice. Long ago this Court stated:

The principle that there is a presumption of innocence in favor of the accused is the undoubted law, axiomatic and elementary, and its enforcement lies at the foundation of the administration of our criminal law.”
[Coffin v. United States, 156 U.S. 432, 453 (1895).]

“In Calder v. Bull, which was here in 1798, Mr. Justice Chase said, that there were acts which the Federal and State legislatures could not do without exceeding their authority, and among them he mentioned a law which punished a citizen for an innocent act; a law that destroyed or impaired the lawful private [labor] contracts [and labor compensation, e.g. earnings from employment through compelled W-4 withholding] of citizens; a law that made a man judge in his own case; and a law that took the property from A [the worker], and gave it to B [the government or another citizen, such as through social welfare programs]. It is against all reason and justice,’ he added, ‘for a people to intrust a legislature with such powers, and therefore it cannot be presumed that they have done it. They may command what is right and prohibit what is wrong; but they cannot change innocence [a “nontaxpayer”] into guilt [a “taxpayer”, by presumption or otherwise], or punish innocence as a crime, or violate the right of an antecedent lawful private [employment] contract [by compelling W-4 withholding, for instance], or the right of private property. To maintain that a Federal or State legislature possesses such powers [of THEFT!] if they had not been expressly restrained, would, in my opinion, be a political heresy altogether inadmissible in all free republican governments.’ 3 Dall. 388.”
[Sinking Fund Cases, 99 U.S. 700 (1878)]

1.3. The Anti-Injunction Act, 26 U.S.C. §7421 does not apply to “nontaxpayers”. See section 5.8 of the following for details:

Flawed Tax Arguments to Avoid, Form #08.004
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 1.4. That the Declaratory Judgments Act, 28 U.S.C. §2201(a) does not apply to “nontaxpayers”. See section 5.9 of the Flawed Tax Arguments to Avoid document above for details.
2. Refusing to require your government opponent to justify why the Minimum Contacts Doctrine invoked by you is satisfied and why the court therefore has jurisdiction to hear the civil case.
3. Refusing to require your government opponent to justify why the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. Chapter 97, invoked by you is satisfied and why the court therefore has jurisdiction to hear the civil case.
4. Citing irrelevant cases litigated by “citizens” or “residents” against you. All such case law amounts to little more than political propaganda which is IRRELEVANT to the circumstances of a nonresident, who never consented to be protected by the laws of the forum and who shouldn’t have and hopefully didn’t invoke them in his defense.
5. Calling attempts to identify yourself as other than a “person” or an “individual” to be “frivolous” without explaining why. This tactic is described in section 6.15 of the document below:

Flawed Tax Arguments to Avoid, Form #08.004
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

19 Advantages of Being a Nonresident Alien

Being a nonresident alien not engaged in any commercial activity with the government under 26 CFR §1.871-1(b)(1)(i) has distinct advantages over that of being a “U.S. person” under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(30\). It means that:

1 1. You are not subject to federal jurisdiction and are “nonresident” with respect to the forum or court.
2 2. May not be prosecuted for any tax crime. For instance, 26 CFR §1.6012-1 establishes who is liable to “file” a tax
3 return and nonresident aliens are not listed there!
4 3. May invoke the protection of the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §1602-1611 without being subject to 5 federal jurisdiction.
6 4. You have the option to pursue cases less than the $75,000 minimum amount in controversy under 28 U.S.C. §1332\(a\)
7 if you waive your right to a jury trial.

8 The following subsections will describe all the nuances of these advantages so that they can be properly invoked to your 9 advantage.

10 19.1 Nonresident aliens not engaged in a “trade or business” are not required to have an SSN
11 or TIN

12 Nonresident aliens not engaged in a “trade or business” are not required to have or to provide any kind of federal 13 identifying number on tax forms or to open financial accounts. These persons are defined in 26 CFR §1.871-1(b)(1)(i).
14 The IRS knows this, which is why it positively refuses to provide any IRS Form that allows you to identify yourself as a
15 nonresident alien not engaged in a “trade or business”. They obviously don’t want to hand the slaves the key to their chains
16 of “privilege” in order to lawfully avoid the federal numbering and taxing requirement. Instead, they exploit the confusion
17 created by the absence of such a field on their forms to create false presumptions that you instead are engaged in a “trade or 18 business”, even when you are not, in order to manufacture more “taxpayer” slaves out of innocent “nontaxpayers”. For 19 instance, IRS Form W-8BEN does not provide a check box allowing you to designate WHICH of the three types of 20 nonresident aliens that you are as defined in 26 CFR §1.871-1(b). For more details on this SCAM, see the following 21 article:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

22 A “trade or business” is then defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\) as “the functions of a public office”, which means a person
23 who has contracts or employment with the federal government and is therefore partaking of federal “privileges” and/or
24 benefits. Americans domiciled in states of the Union are not lawfully allowed to engage in a “trade or business” because 4
25 U.S.C. §72 says that all “public offices” may only lawfully be exercised in the District of Columbia and not elsewhere. For 26 more details on this subject, see:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

27 The only provision within the I.R.C. or Treasury Regulations that imposes a duty to provide an identifying number on 28 federal forms relates to “U.S. persons”.

29 26 CFR § 301.6109-1\(b\)

30 (b) Requirement to furnish one's own number—

31 (I) U.S. persons.

32 Every U.S. person who makes under this title a return, statement, or other document must furnish its own
33 taxpayer identifying number as required by the forms and the accompanying instructions.

34 Notice the use of the word “its” instead of the word “his or her” in the above regulation. They are talking about a federal 35 public office or instrumentality, which are creations of Congress. They are not talking about a human being, which is 36 God’s creation. Congress can only lawfully tax what it creates, and it didn’t create humans. The above regulation also 37 appears in 26 CFR Part 301, which means that it is published under the authority of 5 U.S.C. §301 instead of 26 U.S.C.
38 §7805. Therefore, it pertains ONLY to IRS employees and not to the general public. If it pertained to the general public
39 and to the income tax imposed in I.R.C. Section 1, it would be published under the authority of 26 U.S.C. §7805 and would 40 appear under Part 1 of 26 CFR.

1 Nonresident aliens are NOT “U.S. persons” but rather “foreign persons”, and therefore they are NOT required to provide
2 identifying numbers on any tax form. These people, in fact, are protected from the requirement to use Social Security
3 Numbers by 42 U.S.C. §408(a)(8):

4 TITLE 42 - THE PUBLIC HEALTH AND WELFARE
5 CHAPTER 7 - SOCIAL SECURITY
6 SUBCHAPTER II - FEDERAL OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE BENEFITS
7 Sec. 408. Penalties

8 (a) In general
9 Whoever -...

10 (8) discloses, uses, or compels the disclosure of the social security number of any person in violation of the
11 laws of the United States; shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be fined under title 18
12 or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both.

13 “U.S. person”, in turn, is then defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30) as follows.

14 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701.
15 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

16 (a)(30) United States person

17 The term "United States person" means -

18 (A) a [corporate] citizen or resident [alien] of the [federal] United States,

19 (B) a domestic partnership,

20 (C) a domestic corporation,

21 (D) any estate (other than a foreign estate, within the meaning of paragraph (31)), and

22 (E) any trust if -

23 (i) a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the 24 trust, and

25 (ii) one or more United States persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust.

26 The “U.S. person” mentioned above is a public office within the government domiciled on federal territory and is NOT a
27 human being or a “citizen” within the meaning of the Constitution, as is proven below:

28 Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
29 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

30 Similarly, pursuant to 20 CFR §422.104, Social Security Numbers may only lawfully be issued to “U.S. persons”, who are
31 persons domiciled on federal territory. “U.S. persons” include statutory “U.S. citizens” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 as well
32 as “residents” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) but exclude “citizens” and “residents” within the meaning of the 33 Constitution:

34 TITLE 20--EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS
35 CHAPTER III--SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION
36 PART 422--ORGANIZATION AND PROCEDURES--Table of Contents
37 Subpart B_General Procedures
38 Sec. 422.104 Who can be assigned a social security number.

39 (a) Persons eligible for SSN assignment. We can assign you a social security number if you meet the evidence 40 requirements in Sec. 422.107 and you are:

41 (I) A United States citizen; or

42 (2) An alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence or under other authority of law
43 permitting you to work in the United States (Sec. 422.105 describes how we determine if a nonimmigrant 44 alien is permitted to work in the United States); or

48 Therefore, it is ILLEGAL for a nonresident alien to be issued a Social Security Number, because they are not indicated in 49 the above regulation. The above is also confirmed by the Social Security Administration, Program Operations Manual
50 System (POMS):

<https://s044a90.ssa.gov/apps10/poms.nsf/partlist!OpenView>

1 Citizenship requirements for issuing Social Security Numbers are found in section GN003, and the POMS system
2 conveniently REMOVES and OMITS the citizenship requirements found in GN00303 from the table of contents so you
3 can't find them, but they are there if you search for them using the search function. They do this in order to HIDE the 4 requirements from you. You can find this section at:

<https://s044a90.ssa.gov/apps10/poms.nsf/lrx/0200303000!opendocument>

5 The search function reveals that Social Security Program Operations Manual System (POMS), Section GN 00303.700
6 establishes that residency on federal territory is a requirement to be eligible for SS benefits or the issuance of an SS Card or

21 If you write the Social Security Administration about who they are authorized to issue SSN's to, they will FLAT OUT LIE
22 by telling you that ANYONE can get a number, in direct violation of 20 CFR §422.104(a) above. Therefore, you should 23 not trust ANYTHING they say unless they back it up with a statute AND an implementing regulation and a court cite
24 proving their point. We have never seen any correspondence from the government that offered any legitimate legal 25 authority behind the proposition that the Social Security Administration can lawfully issue a Social Security Number to a
26 nonresident alien because there isn't any such authority.

27 In addition, the Treasury Regulations say that nonresident aliens not engaged in a "trade or business" are NOT required to 28 have an identifying number. They are the ONLY entities, in fact, who are expressly exempted from the requirement for 29 using governing identifying numbers:

14 for accounts or transactions with the following:

15 (i) Agencies and instrumentalities of Federal, state, local or foreign governments;

16 (ii) judges, public officials, or clerks of courts of record as custodians of funds in controversy or under the 17 control of the court;

18 (iii) aliens who are (A) ambassadors, ministers, career diplomatic or consular officers, or (B) naval, military or 19 other attaches of foreign embassies and legations, and for the members of their immediate families;

20 (iv) aliens who are accredited representatives of international organizations which are entitled to enjoy
21 privileges, exemptions and immunities as an international organization under the International Organization
22 Immunities Act of December 29, 1945 (22 U.S.C. 288), and the members of their immediate families;

23 (v) aliens temporarily residing in the United States for a period not to exceed 180 days; (vi) aliens not engaged
24 in a trade or business in the United States who are attending a recognized college or university or any training
25 program, supervised or conducted by any agency of the Federal Government;

26 (vii) unincorporated subordinate units of a tax exempt central organization which are covered by a group
27 exemption letter,

28 (viii) a person under 18 years of age with respect to an account opened as a part of a school thrift savings

31 (x) non-resident aliens who are not engaged in a trade or business in the United States. In instances
32 described in paragraphs (a)(3), (viii) and (ix) of this section, the bank shall, within 15 days following the end
33 of any calendar year in which the interest accrued in that year is $10 or more use its best effort to secure and 34 maintain the appropriate taxpayer identification number or application form therefor.

35 The above is again repeated on the IRS Form 1042-S Instructions, which say that nonresident aliens are only required to 36 provide an identifying number if they are engaged in a “trade or business”, which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as 37 “the functions of a public office”.

38 Box 14, Recipient's U.S. Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

39 You must obtain and enter a U.S. taxpayer identification number (TIN) for:

40 • Any recipient whose income is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the
41 United States.

42 [IRS Form 1042-S Instructions, p. 14]

43 Any way you look at it then, unless you are contractually bound to the U.S. government as a “public officer” in some form,
44 and thereby have availed yourself of “privileges” offered by the U.S. Government, then you are not required to either have 45 or to use either a Social Security Number or a Taxpayer Identification Number, and these numbers cannot lawfully even be 46 issued to you.

2 19.2 Federal government cannot lawfully prosecute you for tax crimes

3 The Internal Revenue Code is primarily civil law that applies only to those with a legal domicile on federal territory. All of 4 the government's authority to impose income taxes, in fact, originates from the coincidence of one's choice of legal 5 domicile and the taxable activities they engage in:

6 *“Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in
7 transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes. Since the
8 Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence creates
9 universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter
10 obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter.* Of course,
11 the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most
12 obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located.”
13 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

14 A person with a legal domicile on federal territory called the “United States” is called a “U.S. person” as defined in 26
15 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30), an “inhabitant”, a “citizen”, or a “resident”. All civil jurisdiction, in fact, originates from one's 16 voluntary choice of legal domicile. See:

Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

17 Nonresidents, such as nonresident aliens, who are not engaged in a “trade or business” cannot lawfully be civilly prosecuted
18 under the I.R.C. because:

19 1. They are statutorily “stateless persons” immune from the jurisdiction of federal courts pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1332,
20 because they do not reside in a federal “State” as defined in 28 U.S.C. §1332(d). See Newman-Green v. Alfonso
21 Larraín, 490 U.S. 826 \(1989\).
22 2. They are not a “stateless person” pursuant to United States Constitution, Article 2, Section 2, because they are within 23 one of the “States” mentioned in the Constitution, which are not the same as the federal “States” described in 28 U.S.C.
24 §1332\(d\).
25 3. They do not reside in any United States judicial district, which is limited to federal territory within the exterior limits of 26 the district. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(k), service of process cannot be effected within the district
27 and therefore the action cannot be commenced.
28 4. Since they are not a statutory “U.S. citizen” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 nor a “U.S. resident” (alien) pursuant to 26
29 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(A\), it is unlawful to kidnap their legal identity and move it to the District of Columbia pursuant to 30 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(39\) and 26 U.S.C. §7408\(d\) and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b).

31 The above requirement is confirmed by the regulation that identifies WHO is liable to file tax returns. Here are the liable
32 parties, and they include only “individuals”, all of whom have identifying numbers. Nonresident aliens are mentioned, but 33 they are “nonresident alien individuals” described in 26 CFR §1.871-1(b), which is a person with a government identifying 34 number. If you don't have or don't qualify to have a government identifying number or have rescinded the number, then 35 you can't lawfully be an “individual” who has a liability to file.

4 (ii) A resident of the United States even though not a citizen thereof, or
5 (iii) An alien bona fide resident of Puerto Rico during the entire taxable year.

6 (b) Return of nonresident alien individual.

7 (1) Requirement of return.

8 (i) In general.

9 Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, every nonresident alien individual
10 other than one treated as a resident under section 6013 (g) or (h)) who is engaged in trade or business in 11 the United States at any time during the taxable year or who has income which is subject to taxation
12 under Subtitle A of the Code shall make a return on Form 1040NR. For this purpose it is immaterial that 13 the gross income for the taxable year is less than the minimum amount specified in section 6012(a) for 14 making a return. Thus, a nonresident alien individual who is engaged in a trade or business in the 15 United States at any time during the taxable year is required to file a return on Form 1040 NR even 16 though

17 (a) he has no income which is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United
18 States,

19 (b) he has no income from sources within the United States, or 20 (c) his income is exempt from income tax by reason of an income tax convention or any section of the Code.

21 However, if the nonresident alien individual has no gross income for the taxable year, he is not required to 22 complete the return schedules but must attach a statement to the return indicating the nature of any 23 exclusions claimed and the amount of such exclusions to the extent such amounts are readily determinable.

24 (ii) Treaty income.

25 If the gross income of a nonresident alien individual includes treaty income, as defined in paragraph (b)(1)
26 of Sec. 1.871-12, a statement shall be attached to the return on Form 1040NR showing with respect to that 27 income:

28 (a) The amounts of tax withheld,

29 (b) The names and post office addresses of withholding agents, and

30 (c) Such other information as may be required by the return form, or by the instructions issued with respect
31 to the form, to show the taxpayer's entitlement to the reduced rate of tax under the tax convention.

32 (2) Exceptions.

33 (i) Return not required when tax is fully paid at source.

34 A nonresident alien individual (other than one treated as a resident under section 6013 (g) or (h)) who at 35 no time during the taxable year is engaged in a trade or business in the United States is not required to 36 make a return for the taxable year if his tax liability for the taxable year is fully satisfied by the 37 withholding of tax at source under Chapter 3 of the Code. This subdivision does not apply to a 38 nonresident alien individual who has income for the taxable year which is treated under section 871 (c)
39 or (d) and Sec. 1.871-9 (relating to students or trainees) or Sec. 1.871-10 (relating to real property 40 income) as income which is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or
41 business in the United States by that individual, or to a nonresident alien individual making a claim
42 under Sec. 301.6402-3 of this chapter (Procedure and Administration Regulations) for the refund of an 43 overpayment of tax for the taxable year. In addition, this subdivision does not apply to a nonresident alien
44 individual who has income for the taxable year that is treated under section 871(b)(1) as effectively
45 connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States by reason of the operation of 46 section 897. For purposes of this subdivision, some of the items of income from sources within the United 47 States upon which the tax liability will not have been fully satisfied by the withholding of tax at source under 48 Chapter 3 of the Code are:

49 (a) Interest upon so-called tax-free covenant bonds upon which, in accordance with section 1451 and Sec.
50 1.1451-1, a tax of only 2 percent is required to be withheld at the source,

(b) In the case of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued after September 28, 1965, amounts described in section 871(a)(1)(C),

(c) Capital gains described in section 871(a)(2) and paragraph (d) of Sec. 1.871-7, and

(d) Accrued interest received in connection with the sale of bonds between interest dates, which, in accordance with paragraph (h) of Sec. 1.1441-4, is not subject to withholding of tax at the source.

(ii) Return of individual for taxable year of change of U.S. citizenship or residence.

(a) If an alien individual becomes a citizen or resident of the United States during the taxable year and is a citizen or resident of the United States on the last day of such year, he must make a return on Form 1040 for the taxable year. However, a separate schedule is required to be attached to this return to show the income tax computation for the part of the taxable year during which the alien was neither a citizen nor resident of the United States, unless an election under section 6013 (g) or (h) is in effect for the alien. A Form 1040NR, clearly marked 'Statement' across the top, may be used as such a separate schedule.

(b) If an individual abandons his U.S. citizenship or residence during the taxable year and is not a citizen or resident of the United States on the last day of such year, he must make a return on Form 1040NR for the taxable year, even if an election under section 6013(g) was in effect for the taxable year preceding the year of abandonment. However, a separate schedule is required to be attached to this return to show the income tax computation for the part of the taxable year during which the individual was a citizen or resident of the United States. A Form 1040, clearly marked 'Statement' across the top, may be used as such a separate schedule.

(c) A return is required under this subdivision (ii) only if the individual is otherwise required to make a return for the taxable year.

(iii) Beneficiaries of estates or trusts.

A nonresident alien individual who is a beneficiary of an estate or trust which is engaged in trade or business in the United States is not required to make a return for the taxable year merely because he is deemed to be engaged in trade or business within the United States under section 875(2). However, such nonresident alien beneficiary will be required to make a return if he otherwise satisfies the conditions of subparagraph (1)(i) of this paragraph for making a return.

(iv) Certain alien residents of Puerto Rico.

This paragraph does not apply to a nonresident alien individual who is a bona fide resident of Puerto Rico during the taxable year. See section 876 and paragraph (a)(1)(iii) of this section.

(3) Representative or agent for nonresident alien individual.

(i) Cases where power of attorney is not required.

The responsible representative or agent within the United States of a nonresident alien individual shall make on behalf of his nonresident alien principal a return of, and shall pay the tax on, all income coming within his control as representative or agent which is subject to the income tax under Subtitle A of the Code. The agency appointment will determine how completely the agent is substituted for the principal for tax purposes. Any person who collects interest or dividends on deposited securities of a nonresident alien individual, executes ownership certificates in connection therewith, or sells such securities under special instructions shall not be deemed merely by reason of such acts to be the responsible representative or agent of the nonresident alien individual. If the responsible representative or agent does not have a specific power of attorney from the nonresident alien individual to file a return in his behalf, the return shall be accompanied by a statement to the effect that the representative or agent does not possess specific power of attorney to file a return for such individual but that the return is being filed in accordance with the provisions of this subdivision.

(ii) Cases where power of attorney is required.

Whenever a return of income of a nonresident alien individual is made by an agent acting under a duly authorized power of attorney for that purpose, the return shall be accompanied by the power of attorney in proper form, or a copy thereof, specifically authorizing him to represent his principal in making, executing, and filing the income tax return. Form 2848 may be used for this purpose. The agent, as well as the taxpayer, may incur liability for the penalties provided for erroneous, false, or fraudulent returns. For the requirements regarding signing of returns, see Sec. 1.6061-1. The rules of paragraph (e) of Sec. 601.504 of this chapter (Statement of Procedural Rules) shall apply under this subparagraph in determining whether a

1 copy of a power of attorney must be certified.

2 (iii) Limitation.

3 A return of income shall be required under this subparagraph only if the nonresident alien individual is 4 otherwise required to make a return in accordance with this paragraph.

6 Notice in the above regulation that:

- 7 1. The above regulation only deals with various types of individuals.
- 8 2. You can be a “nonresident alien” without also being an “individual”, which is the status that our Members must claim.
9 That person has NO liability because he/she is not mentioned anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code or the Treasury
10 Regulations.
- 11 3. The standard IRS Form W-8BEN has a block to check which causes you to declare you are an “individual”.
- 12 4. Our Amended IRS Form W-8BEN has an additional block to check called “Union State Citizen” so that you don’t 13 declare yourself to be an “individual”. See:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 14 5. The nonresident alien individual only becomes liable to file a return if he/she meets one of the following:
 - 15 5.1. Engaged in the “trade or business” franchise.
 - 16 5.2. Had earnings described in 26 U.S.C. §871(c): Participants in certain exchange or training programs. See also 26
17 CFR §1.871-9.
 - 18 5.3. Had earnings described in 26 U.S.C. §871(d): Election to treat real property income as income connected with 19 “United States” (federal territory) business.

20 The instructions for IRS Form 1040 also echo the above requirement and deliberately omit “nonresident aliens”. The 21 implications is that you can’t be a “nonresident” by filing the form, which means that it must be a form for “residents”
22 (aliens) ONLY:

23 Filing Requirements

24 These rules apply to all U.S. citizens, regardless of where they live, and resident aliens.

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

29 Who is the “individual” they are talking about above? It is a government “employee”, public officer, agent, or contractor, 30 because this is the same “individual” described in 5 U.S.C. §552a(a)(2) who:

- 31 1. Is identified as a “citizen” or “resident” with a domicile on federal territory called the “United States”.
- 32 2. Is a government employee because this section is in Title 5 of the U.S. Code and regulates the conduct of only 33 employees and agents of the government. This statute is also the authority used to protect the records of these 34 “individuals” under the authority of the Privacy Act.

35 Since nonresident aliens who are NOT “individuals”, meaning government officers and agents and benefit recipients, are
36 not listed as being liable to file in either the regulations or the IRS Form 1040 Instruction Booklet, they are purposefully
37 excluded from the requirement, according to the rules of statutory construction:

38 “When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that
39 term’s ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) (“It is axiomatic that the statutory
40 definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term”); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n.
41 10 (“As a rule, `a definition which declares what a term “means” . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated’”);
42 Western Union Telegraph Co. v. Lenroot, 323 U.S. 490, 502 (1945); Fox v. Standard Oil Co. of N.J., 294 U.S.
43 87, 95-96 (1935) (Cardozo, J.); see also 2A N. Singer, Sutherland on Statutes and Statutory Construction §

1 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at
2 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include
3 the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the
4 contrary."

6 "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
7 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
8 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
9 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
10 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
11 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."

17 Witnesses In Foreign Countries

18 1. Nonresident aliens physically present in a foreign country cannot be compelled to appear as witnesses in a
19 United States District Court since they are beyond jurisdiction of United States officials. Since the Constitution
20 requires confrontation of adverse witnesses in criminal prosecutions, the testimony of such aliens may not be 21 admissible until the witness appears at trial. However, certain testimony for the admissibility of documents may 22 be obtained under 18 USC §3491 et seq. without a "personnel" appearance in the United States. Additionally,
23 28 USC §1783 et seq. provides limited powers to induce the appearance of United States citizens physically
24 present in a foreign country.
25 [SOURCE: <http://www.irs.gov/irm/part9/ch13s01.html>]

26 18 U.S.C. §4001 and Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 54(c) before December 2002 also establish that the government
27 enjoys no criminal jurisdiction against nonresident aliens either:

28 TITLE 18 > PART III > CHAPTER 301 > Sec. 4001.
29 Sec. 4001. - Limitation on detention; control of prisons

30 (a) No citizen shall be imprisoned or otherwise detained by the United States except pursuant to an Act of

32

33 Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 54(c), prior to Dec. 2002

34 "Act of Congress" includes any act of Congress locally applicable to and in force in the District of Columbia, in
35 Puerto Rico, in a territory or in an insular possession."

36 In conclusion, if you are an average American who doesn't participate in public office in the government and is not an 37 "alien", then you can't be the "individual" mentioned above as confirmed by section 6 earlier. Furthermore, you can avoid 38 criminal liability under the I.R.C. as a "nonresident alien" using the following strategy:

- 39 1. Do NOT claim to be an "individual" by:
 - 40 1.1. Filing IRS Form 1040. The form says "U.S. INDIVIDUAL Income Tax Return" in the upper left corner.
 - 41 1.2. Asking for an "INDIVIDUAL Taxpayer Identification Number" on IRS Form W-7 or W-9.
 - 42 1.3. Filling out any form in which you declare yourself to be an "individual".

43 All of the above implicitly make you a federal entity or instrumentality against whom the government has legislative 44 power.

- 45 2. Claim to be an "individual" and don't engage in any of the following activities:
 - 46 2.1. Engaged in the "trade or business" franchise pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26).
 - 47 2.2. Had earnings described in 26 U.S.C. §871(c): Participants in certain exchange or training programs. See also 26
48 CFR §1.871-9.
 - 49 2.3. Had earnings described in 26 U.S.C. §871(d): Election to treat real property income as income connected with 50 United States (federal government/territory) business.

1 19.3 IRS cannot file a lien against you

2 The Federal Tax Lien Act requires that all federal tax liens must be filed in the county of the last known domicile of the 3 "taxpayer". See:

8 3. Internal Revenue Manual, Section 5.17.2.3.2, which says:

9 Internal Revenue Manual
10 5.17.2.3.2 (10-31-2000)
11 Place of Filing

12 The filing of the notice of federal tax lien is governed by both federal and state law. It is important to determine
13 the place of the filing of the NFTL in order to preserve the Service's lien status with respect to certain types of 14 property and with respect to certain types of taxpayers.

15 Generally speaking, different filing rules apply for real property and personal property. IRC 6323(f) provides 16 that states may designate the place for filing the NFTL. As against real property, the NFTL is filed in the one
17 office designated by the State where the property is physically located. As against personal property, the situs of 18 both tangible or intangible property is the residence of the taxpayer at the time the notice of lien is filed. A
19 *notice of federal tax lien is therefore to be filed in the one office designated by the State where the taxpayer
20 resides at the time the notice of lien is filed. Most states require the NFTL be filed where other encumbrances*
21 on property are filed, e.g., in the real and/or personal property records in the office of the county recorder or
22 the clerk of the county where the real property is located or where the taxpayer resides.

23 The domicile, in turn, is described on IRS forms as "permanent address". See IRS Form W-8BEN, block 4, for instance.
24 See:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

25 A person who is a "nonresident alien" and who provides to the IRS an address in a foreign country on an IRS Form 8822
26 Change of Address form has a distinct advantage over a "U.S. person", in that the IRS cannot lawfully file the tax lien in 27 the foreign country. For instance, if the IRS is provided a foreign address in Mexico or Canada on IRS Form 8822, these 28 places do not accept, do not file, and will not enforce foreign liens of any kind against nonresident parties.

29 19.4 Minimum amount in controversy is eliminated under 28 U.S.C. §1332(a)

30 Nonresident aliens file cases in federal court using Constitutional diversity of citizenship, as found in Article III of the 31 Constitution. They do NOT file using statutory diversity found in 28 U.S.C. §1332 because the definition of "State found
32 in 28 U.S.C. §1332\(d\) does not include states of the Union. Under statutory but not constitutional diversity of citizenship,
33 the minimum amount in controversy must exceed the sum of $75,000. However:

34 1. Those filing with constitutional but not statutory diversity of citizenship are not subject to this minimum because they 35 are not subject to federal jurisdiction on this subject.
36 2. Nonresident aliens who are an instrumentality of a "foreign state" are exempt from this minimum limit of $75,000 in 37 the case of nonjury trials where they do not enjoy immunity under 28 U.S.C. §§1605-1607:

38 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 85 > § 1330

43 this title or under any applicable international agreement.

44 We'll now spend the remainder of this section addressing item 2 above. A state of the Union is a "foreign state" with

1 respect to federal jurisdiction. This is confirmed by the legal encyclopedia:

2 "Generally, the states of the Union sustain toward each other the relationship of independent sovereigns or
3 independent foreign states, except in so far as the United States is paramount as the dominating government,
4 and in so far as the states are bound to recognize the fraternity among sovereignties established by the federal

9 "Territories' or 'territory' as including 'state' or 'states.' While the term 'territories of the' United States may,
10 under certain circumstances, include the states of the Union, as used in the federal Constitution and in
11 ordinary acts of congress "territory" does not include a foreign state.

12 "As used in this title, the term 'territories' generally refers to the political subdivisions created by congress, and 13 not within the boundaries of any of the several states."
14 [86 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Territories, §1]

15 A person who has a domicile in a state of the Union and who participates as a citizen in the affairs of the state as a jurist or 16 a voter is:

17 1. An instrumentality of a foreign state.

18 "It is again to antagonize Chief Justice Marshall, when he said: 'The government of the Union, then (whatever 19 may be the influence of this fact on the case), is emphatically and truly a government of the people. In form and 20 in substance it emanates from them. Its powers are granted by them, and are to be exercised directly on them

Why You are a "national", "state national", and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

31 Alternatively, a person who has formed his own "state", such as a religious or social group that has its own territory,
32 domicile, and court system, is also eligible under this requirement to be classified as a "foreign state". The only problem
33 with the above requirement is that you must forfeit sovereign immunity in order to take advantage of this benefit. In most 34 cases, the reason you would go into a federal court to begin with is to defend your sovereign immunity, and you can't 35 protect it if you have to surrender it in order to litigate to defend it in a federal court. Another way of saying this is that the 36 federal government will not respect your sovereignty as a "nonresident alien" by allowing you to defend it in a federal court.

37 19.5 Protected from federal jurisdiction by the Minimum Contacts Doctrine

38 A nonresident alien not engaged in a "trade or business", as defined under 26 CFR §1.871-1(b)(1)(i) is exempt from the 39 jurisdiction of federal courts for federal tax purposes. When a nonresident alien engages in a "trade or business", which is a
40 public office, he loses that exemption from federal jurisdiction and is treated effectively as a "resident":

41 <26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.>

42 A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during
43 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
44 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
45 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
46 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
47 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
48 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in

1 trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
2 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
3 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
4 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.

5 [Amended by T.D. 8813, Federal Register: February 2, 1999 (Volume 64, Number 21), Page 4967-4975]

6 This surrender of sovereign immunity by engaging in privileged activities with the government, a “public office” in this
7 case, is documented in the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §1605\(a\)\(2\).

8 TITLE 28 > PART IV > CHAPTER 97 > § 1605
9 § 1605. General exceptions to the jurisdictional immunity of a foreign state

10 (a) A foreign state shall not be immune from the jurisdiction of courts of the United States or of the States in 11 any case—

12 (2) in which the action is based upon a commercial activity carried on in the United States by the foreign state;
13 or upon an act performed in the United States in connection with a commercial activity of the foreign state
14 elsewhere; or upon an act outside the territory of the United States in connection with a commercial activity of 15 the foreign state elsewhere and that act causes a direct effect in the United States;

16 If you wish to invoke the protection of the minimum contacts doctrine, you cannot be a statutory “citizen of the United 17 States”, as indicated by 28 U.S.C. §1603\(b\)\(3\). The “citizen of the United States” they are talking about is a statutory 18 citizen of the United States under 8 U.S.C. §1401 and excludes a constitutional “citizen of the United States” mentioned in 19 section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment. The reason is because this is a statute and nearly all statutes presume the term
20 “United States” means the federal zone and exclude states of the Union:

21 “It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation.“
22 Carter v. Carter Coal Co., [298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]

25 You can use the above knowledge as a nonresident alien in your favor in any court to invoke the protection of the Foreign
26 Sovereign Immunities Act and get your case dismissed. You would do this by demanding evidence from the government
27 that you are engaged in commerce within the federal zone and by presenting as evidence a rebuttal of their evidence. This 28 commerce would include Social Security Benefits or “trade or business” activity:

29 1. The techniques for rebutting false “trade or business” reports are found in the link below, in section 4.2:

30 <http://sedm.org/SampleLetters/Federal/FedLetterAndNoticeIndex.htm>

31 2. The technique for quitting social security is found below as form #6.2:

32 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

33 Once all the evidence connecting you to a “trade or business” and all other “commercial activity” has been rebutted, then
34 the government now has to meet all the criteria required by the minimum contacts doctrine. This criteria is described by the 35 Ninth Circuit Appeals Court below:

36 In this circuit, we analyze specific jurisdiction according to a three-prong test:

37 (1) The non-resident defendant must purposefully direct his activities or consummate some transaction with the 38 forum or resident thereof; or perform some act by which he purposefully avails himself of the privilege of 39 conducting activities in the forum, thereby invoking the benefits and protections of its laws;

40 (2) the claim must be one which arises out of or relates to the defendant's forum-related activities; and

41 (3) the exercise of jurisdiction must comport with fair play and substantial justice, i.e. it must be reasonable.

42 Schwarzenegger v. Fred Martin Motor Co., 374 F.3d. 797, 802 (9th Cir. 2004) (quoting Lake v. Lake, 817 F.2d.
43 1416, 1421 (9th Cir. 1987)). The first prong is determinative in this case. We have sometimes referred to it, in
44 shorthand fashion, as the "purposeful availment" prong. Schwarzenegger, 374 F.3d. at 802. Despite its label,

1 this prong includes both purposeful availment and purposeful direction. It may be satisfied by purposeful
2 availment of the privilege of doing business in the forum; by purposeful direction of activities at the forum; or
3 by some combination thereof.
4 [Yahoo! Inc. v. La Ligue Contre Le Racisme Et L'Antisemitisme, 433 F.3d. 1199 \(9th Cir. 01/12/2006\)] 1

5 If the government doesn't demonstrate "purposeful availment" by the defendant of forum related commerce that would
6 produce a waiver of sovereign immunity, then they must dismiss the case against you. Furthermore, if they don't honor the 7 limitations imposed by the minimum contacts doctrine, then they have violated due process of law:

8 "In International Shoe Co. v. Washington, 326 U.S. 310 (1945), the Supreme Court held that a court may 9 exercise personal jurisdiction over a defendant consistent with due process only if he or she has "certain
10 minimum contacts" with the relevant forum "such that the maintenance of the suit does not offend
11 'traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.'" Id. at 316 (quoting Milliken v. Meyer, 311 U.S. 457,
12 463 (1940)). Unless a defendant's contacts with a forum are so substantial, continuous, and systematic that the 13 defendant can be deemed to be "present" in that forum for all purposes, a forum may exercise only "specific"
14 jurisdiction - that is, jurisdiction based on the relationship between the defendant's forum contacts and the 15 plaintiff's claim."
16 [Yahoo! Inc. v. La Ligue Contre Le Racisme Et L'Antisemitisme, 433 F.3d. 1199 \(9th Cir. 01/12/2006\)] 1

17 A judgment rendered in violation of due process of law is a void judgment that you need not obey:

18 "A judgment rendered in violation of due process is void in the rendering State and is not entitled to full faith
19 and credit elsewhere.
20 [Pennoyer v. Neff, 95 U.S. 714, 732-733 \(1878\)] If the federal court does not , and if they don't, they are 21 violating due process and issuing a void judgment that you need not obey

22 If you want to avail yourself of the protections of the minimum contacts doctrine as a nonresident alien, then it is therefore 23 important to:

- 24 1. Declare yourself as a "nonresident alien" or "nonresident" litigant in your affidavit of material facts submitted to the 25 court. You may want to go back and review the content of section .17 to ensure that you have not unwittingly
26 surrendered your nonresident status by engaging in any privileged or commercial activity with the "United States"
27 federal corporation.
- 28 2. Not engage in any commercial activity with the federal government that would cause a surrender of sovereign 29 immunity under 28 U.S.C. §1605\(a\)\(2\) and to point this out to the court in your pleadings.
- 30 3. Not engage in a "trade or business", which is a type of privileged activity related to a public office in the United States
31 government. Instead, we must promptly rebut all information returns which might accomplish this using the 32 information available in section 4.2 below:
<http://sedm.org/SampleLetters/Federal/FedLetterAndNoticeIndex.htm>
- 33 4. To properly declare your status before the court as a nonresident alien not engaged in a trade or business who is not a 34 statutory "citizen of the United States" under 8 U.S.C. §1401. This can be accomplished by submitting the Affidavit of 35 Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status form below:
<http://sedm.org/Forms/Affidavits/AffCitDomTax.pdf>
- 36 5. Change all government forms and documentation to ensure that it says you are not a statutory "citizen of the United 37 States" under 8 U.S.C. §1401 and instead are a "national" but not "citizen". This will prevent you from surrendering
38 sovereign immunity under 28 U.S.C. §1603\(b\)\(3\). See form 5.6 below:
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

42 19.6 Nonresident alien NON-individuals have no requirement to file tax returns

43 The requirement to file tax returns for nonresident aliens is found in 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b)(1) below:

44 TITLE 26--INTERNAL REVENUE
45 CHAPTER I--INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
46 Returns and Records--Table of Contents
47 Sec. 1.6012-1 Individuals required to make returns of income.

48 (b) Return of nonresident alien individual—

49 (1) Requirement of return—

(i) In general.

Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, every nonresident alien individual (other than one treated as a resident under section 6013 (g) or (h)) who is engaged in trade or business in the United States at any time during the taxable year or who has income which is subject to taxation under subtitle A of the Code shall make a return on Form 1040NR. For this purpose it is immaterial that the gross income for the taxable year is less than the minimum amount specified in section 6012(a) for making a return. Thus, a nonresident alien individual who is engaged in a trade or business in the United States at any time during the taxable year is required to file a return on Form 1040 NR even though (a) he has no income which is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, (b) he has no income from sources within the United States, or (c) his income is exempt from income tax by reason of an income tax convention or any section of the Code. However, if the nonresident alien individual has no gross income for the taxable year, he is not required to complete the return schedules but must attach a statement to the return indicating the nature of any exclusions claimed and the amount of such exclusions to the extent such amounts are readily determinable.

The only parties made liable are “nonresident alien individuals”. Those who are “nonresident aliens” but NOT “individuals” do not have a requirement. Recall from section 5 earlier that a “nonresident alien individual” is:

1. An alien individual AND.
2. Who meets one of the following:
 - 2.1. Residence/domicile in a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1).
 - 2.2. Residence/domicile as an alien in Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-1(d).

Therefore, a “non-citizen national” human being born anywhere in America who has a domicile in a state of the Union:

1. Is a “nonresident alien” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) because neither a statutory “citizen” nor “resident”.
2. Is a “nonresident alien NON-individual”
3. Is NOT a “nonresident alien individual” because not an “alien”.
4. Has no block he or she can check in Block 3 of the IRS Form W-8BEN, because the only option that approximates a human being is “individual” and you can’t be an individual without being an alien. See:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

5. Has no requirement to file an income tax return pursuant to the above or any other provision of the Internal Revenue Code.
6. Does not become an “individual” until they make an election under an income tax treaty as indicated above and interface to the IRS through the treaty as an “alien”. They are an alien in relation to the foreign country they are in and therefore an “alien” through the tax treaty under 26 U.S.C. §911.
7. As long as they avoid accepting tax treaty benefits, they can retain their status as a “nonresident alien NON-individual” who is a nontaxpayer with no requirement to file a tax return.

3 20.1 General constraints upon all withholding and reporting

4 This section covers some general constraints upon withholding useful in educating private employers of their obligations:

5 1. The Internal Revenue Code Subtitles A and C only applies to federal government instrumentalities, agents, contractors,
6 and benefit recipients. This is exhaustively described in the pamphlet below:

7 Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a "Public Officer" for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008
8 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

9 2. The I.R.C. Subtitle C, Employment Taxes, only addresses the conduct of "public employers" within the United States government. It cannot and does not regulate the conduct of private employers, and especially not those in states of the Union.

11 Payroll Deduction Agreements

12 2. *Private employers, states, and political subdivisions are not required to enter into payroll deduction
13 agreements. Taxpayers should determine whether their employers will accept and process executed agreements
14 before agreements are submitted for approval or finalized.*

26 to your next IRS audit:

27 IRS Due Process Meeting Handout, Form #03.008

28 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

29 3. Withholding and reporting only applies to earnings connected to a "trade or business", which is defined in [26 U.S.C.

31 The "Trade or Business" Scam, Form #05.001

33 4. All IRS information returns, including IRS Forms W-2, 1042-S, 1098, 1099, and K-1 can ONLY lawfully be used to 34 report earnings connected with a public office in the United States government pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6041. They 35 may NOT be used to report PRIVATE earnings. If they are completed against PRIVATE persons who are NOT 36 engaged in a public office or the "trade or business" franchise, the filer of these false reports then assumes the 37 following legal liabilities:

2 20.2 IRS propaganda on NRA withholding

3 Nonresident alien tax withholding is described in IRS Publication 515, available at:

Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Corporations, IRS Pub. 515
<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRSPub515.pdf>

4 The IRS website contains propaganda intended to deceive private employers in the states of the Union into withholding 5 earnings of nonresident aliens who have “income from sources within the United States” at:

NRA Withholding
<http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small/international/article/0,,id=104997,00.html>

6 This propaganda advises “withholding agents” to withhold 30% of the payments made to nonresident aliens from “sources
7 within the United States” and to file an IRS Form 1042 documenting the amount of earnings and withholding. The 8 information provided is deceptive and constructively fraudulent, because:

9 1. The term “U.S.” is deliberately not defined in the article and in fact is NOWHERE defined on the IRS website! It is
10 defined ONLY as federal territory in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) and nowhere are the 11 states mentioned in the Constitution expressly included in the definition. Therefore, what is not expressly included is 12 excluded under the rules of statutory construction

13 *“Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
14 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
15 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
16 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
17 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
18 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”*
19 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, page 581]

20 This is the only logical conclusion one can reach after reading the rulings of the Supreme Court on the issue of federal 21 jurisdiction within states of the Union such as the following:

22 *“It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247
23 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the*
24 internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation.
25 Carter v. Carter Coal Co., [298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]

27 *“The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing opinions
28 concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a very long time this court
29 has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of Congress does not extend to the states or
30 their political subdivisions. The same basic reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like
31 limitation upon the power which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra.
32 [Ashton v. Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 1, 298 U.S. 513, 56 S.Ct. 892 (1936)]*

33 2. There are no “employers” as legally defined outside the “United States” (defined as federal territory). This is 34 confirmed by the regulation below:

35 *Title 26: Internal Revenue
PART 31—EMPLOYMENT TAXES AND COLLECTION OF INCOME TAX AT SOURCE
Subpart B—Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Chapter 21, Internal Revenue Code of 1954)
General Provisions
§ 31.3121(b)-3 Employment; services performed after 1954.*

40 (a) In general. Whether services performed after 1954 constitute employment is determined in accordance with 41 the provisions of section 3121(b).

42 (b) Services performed within the United States [federal government/territory].

1 Services performed after 1954 within the United States (see §31.3121(e)-1) by an employee for his employer,
2 unless specifically excepted by section 3121(b), constitute employment. With respect to services performed
3 within the United States, the place where the contract of service is entered into is immaterial. The citizenship or 4 residence of the employee or of the employer also is immaterial except to the extent provided in any specific
5 exception from employment. Thus, the employee and the employer may be citizens and residents of a foreign
6 country and the contract of service may be entered into in a foreign country, and yet, if the employee under such 7 contract performs services within the United States, there may be to that extent employment.

8 "(c) Services performed outside the United States—(1) In general. Except as provided in paragraphs (c)(2) and 9 (3) of this section, services performed outside the United States (see §31.3121(e)-1) do not constitute 10 employment."

11 Note from the above that services performed outside the statutory “United States”, meaning federal territory do not 12 constitute “employment”. This is also consistent with:

- 13 2.1. 26 U.S.C. §861(a)(3)(C)(i), which says that “nonresident aliens” not engaged in a “trade or business” [public
14 office in the U.S. government], even if they work in the “United States”, do not earn taxable income. You will 15 note that 4 U.S.C. §72 says that all public offices shall be exercised ONLY in the District of Columbia and not 16 elsewhere.
- 17 2.2. 26 U.S.C. §3401(a)(6) says that services of a nonresident alien individual (a person domiciled in a state of the 18 Union) do not constitute “wages” that can be included on a W-2 form.
- 19 2.3. 26 CFR §1.872-2(f) says that earnings from outside the “United States” (federal territory) does not constitute 20 “gross income”.
- 21 3. The Internal Revenue Code is NOT positive law or public law, but private law and religion which obligates no one in a
22 state of the Union to do anything who doesn’t first volunteer to be subject to its provisions by signing a contract called 23 a W-4 or an SS-5. See our memorandum of law on this subject:

Requirement for Consent, Form #05.003
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 24 4. Even if the Internal Revenue Code was positive law or public law, private employers in states of the Union are not 25 subject to federal jurisdiction and applying for an Employer Identification Number doesn’t make them subject either.

IRM 5.14.10.2 (09-30-2004)
Payroll Deduction Agreements

28 2. Private employers, states, and political subdivisions are not required to enter into payroll deduction
29 agreements. Taxpayers should determine whether their employers will accept and process executed agreements
30 before agreements are submitted for approval or finalized.
31 [SOURCE: <http://www.irs.gov/irm/part5/ch14s10.html>]

- 32 5. Private employers exclusively within states of the Union are NOT the subject of the article, because they do not qualify 33 as “withholding agents” as we pointed out in section 1 of the following:

Federal Tax Withholding, Form #04.102
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 34 6. Only “public officers” can act as federal “employers” in the I.R.C., who are all instrumentalities of the federal 35 government. The government can only lawfully impose “duties” upon “public employers”, not “private employers”
36 because doing otherwise would constitute involuntary servitude in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment. 4 U.S.C.
37 §72 says all “public offices” shall be conducted within the District of Columbia and NOT elsewhere except as 38 expressly provided by law. Well, Congress has never extended the “public offices” that are the subject of the tax upon
39 a “trade or business” or the public offices that are needed to conduct enforcement under 26 U.S.C. §7601 to any state
40 of the Union. Therefore, the tax is limited to instrumentalities of the U.S. government domiciled on federal territory 41 “and not elsewhere”.
- 42 7. The federal income tax described under I.R.C. Subtitle A is measured by the receipt of “income” in connection with a 43 “trade or business”. This is the privileged activity being “taxed”, and it is an avoidable activity that few private 44 employees are engaged in, because they do not in deed and in fact hold a privileged “public office” as required by 26
45 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26).

- 46 The IRS website admits some of the truths above, but you really have to dig for it. In the International Taxpayer Glossary,
47 it says the following about withholding of those who have no income from the “United States” federal territory:

48 Services performed outside the U.S

1 Compensation paid to a nonresident alien (other than a resident of Puerto Rico) for services performed outside
2 the United States [federal government/territory] is not considered wages and is not subject to graduated
3 withholding or 30% withholding.
4 [SOURCE: <http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small/international/article/0,,id=96594,00.html>]

5 IRS Publication 519, Year 2000 agrees with the above, by saying the following:

6 Income Subject to Tax

7 Income from sources outside the United States that is not effectively connected with a trade or business in
8 the United States is not taxable if you receive it while you are a nonresident alien. The income is not taxable
9 even if you earned it while you were a resident alien or if you became a resident alien or a U.S. citizen after 10 receiving it and before the end of the year.
11 [IRS Publication 519, Year 2000, p. 26]

12 A person who meets the requirement above of being a nonresident alien with no income from the “United States” federal 13 territory, whether connected to a trade or business or not under 26 U.S.C. §871, is described in the regulations as follows,
14 under 26 CFR §871-1(b)(i):

15 Title 26: Internal Revenue
16 PART I—INCOME TAXES
17 nonresident alien individuals
18 § 1.871-1 Classification and manner of taxing alien individuals.

19 (a) Classes of aliens. For purposes of the income tax, alien individuals are divided generally into two classes,
20 namely, resident aliens and nonresident aliens. Resident alien individuals are, in general, taxable the same as
21 citizens of the United States; that is, a resident alien is taxable on income derived from all sources, including
22 sources without the United States. See §1.1-1(b). Nonresident alien individuals are taxable only on certain
23 income from sources within the United States and on the income described in section 864(c)(4) from sources
24 without the United States which is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or 25 business in the United States. However, nonresident alien individuals may elect, under section 6013 (g) or (h),
26 to be treated as U.S. residents for purposes of determining their income tax liability under Chapters 1, 5, and
27 24 of the code. Accordingly, any reference in §§1.1-1 through 1.1388-1 and §§1.1491-1 through 1.1494-1 of 28 this part to non-resident alien individuals does not include those with respect to whom an election under section
29 6013 (g) or (h) is in effect, unless otherwise specifically provided. Similarly, any reference to resident aliens or 30 U.S. residents includes those with respect to whom an election is in effect, unless otherwise specifically 31 provided.

32 (b) Classes of nonresident aliens—(1) In general. For purposes of the income tax, nonresident alien
33 individuals are divided into the following three classes:

34 (i) Nonresident alien individuals who at no time during the taxable year are engaged in a trade or business in
35 the United States.

36 (ii) Nonresident alien individuals who at any time during the taxable year are, or are deemed under §1.871-9 to
37 be, engaged in a trade or business in the United States, and

38 (iii) Nonresident alien individuals who are bona fide residents of Puerto Rico during the entire taxable year.

39 An individual described in subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph is subject to tax pursuant to the
40 provisions of subpart A (section 871 and following), part II, subchapter N, chapter 1 of the Code, and the 41 regulations thereunder. See §§1.871-7 and 1.871-8. The provisions of subpart A do not apply to individuals 42 described in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, but such individuals, except as provided in section 933 with 43 respect to Puerto Rican source income, are subject to the tax imposed by section 1 or section 1201(b). See 44 §1.876-1.

45 Some important things to note at this point are:

46 1. There is no IRS withholding form that accurately states and reflects the fact that a nonresident alien whose earnings
47 originate outside the “U.S.” [federal territory] is not subject to withholding, even though the IRS states this in IRS
48 Publication 515 and on their website as well. This is no accident, but simply proof that the IRS wants to make it as 49 difficult as impossible for nonresident aliens to obey the law by not withholding in cases where they aren’t required to.
50 This ensures that such protected persons have to surrender their rights and privacy by engaging in the indignity of 51 filing a return, disclosing all their personal information, and begging for money back that never should have been 52 withheld or reported in the first place.

1 Services performed outside the U.S.

2 *Compensation paid to a nonresident alien (other than a resident of Puerto Rico) for services performed outside
3 the United States [federal government/territory] is not considered wages and is not subject to graduated
4 withholding or 30% withholding.*

5 [SOURCE: <http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small/international/article/0,,id=96594,00.html>]

6 2. IRS does not want to recognize the fact that one can be a nonresident alien without being an “individual” or an “alien”,
7 even though this is in fact the case. The reason is that they don’t want to recognize that the average American is 8 beyond their reach and not subject to their jurisdiction. None of the withholding or reporting forms available from the 9 IRS on the subject of nonresident aliens are intended for use or available for use by the average American who is NOT:
10 2.1. A “beneficial owner”
11 2.2. A “U.S. person”
12 2.3. An “individual”
13 2.4. An “alien”

14 When you try to add an option to the form, some recipients balk and just wrongfully PRESUME that there couldn’t be
15 any status OTHER than the options appearing on the form. This too is a deliberate attempt to interfere with the rights
16 of persons not subject to federal jurisdiction by removing remedies from them to document and protect their status.
17 This is documented in our article at:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

18 3. The only IRS Form that American Nationals who are nonresident aliens can use to stop withholding is the W-8BEN.
19 4. The standard IRS Form W-8BEN provides no way to avoid disclosing the Beneficial Owner, even though there is no
20 requirement in the I.R.C. itself to do so. Older versions of the W-8 form did not require disclosing the Beneficial
21 Owner.
22 5. The standard IRS Form W-8BEN does not provide a block to indicate which of the above three types of nonresident
23 aliens the submitter is as documented in 26 CFR §1.871-1(b), and this determination is very important because it
24 affects whether withholding is or is not necessary. Those who are not “effectively connected to a trade or business”
25 mentioned in paragraph (b)(1) above and all of whose earnings originate outside of the “United States” federal 26 territory would not need withholding. The IRS doesn’t want to provide a form for nonresident aliens that shows how 27 they can satisfy the class (b)(i) condition above and thereby avoid the requirement for withholding. This forces private
28 employers to have to read the IRS publications to find out, which few will do, or call up the IRS to ask, in which case
29 they are sure to get LIES. The reason they will get LIES is because the courts refuse to hold the IRS responsible for 30 anything they say, print, or do. This is discussed at:

Federal Courts and the IRS’ Own IRM Say IRS is NOT RESPONSIBLE for Its Actions or Its Words or For Following
Its Own Written Procedures
<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Articles/IRSNNotResponsible.htm>

31 The combination of all the above factors combine to introduce just enough ambiguity and uncertainty for private employers
32 that they just roll over and screw their workers rather than obey what the law actually says. This also explains why, if you
33 use the W-8BEN form to stop withholding, you should use the amended form we provide in order to avoid this trap. The 34 article which explains how to lawfully and truthfully and properly complete the IRS Form W-8BEN is:

35 20.3 Specific withholding requirements in the I.R.C.

36 Below are the withholding requirements applicable to nonresident aliens, right from the I.R.C. and implementing
37 regulations:

38 1. 26 CFR §31.3401(a)(6)-1(b) says that nonresident aliens whose earnings originate from outside the “United States”
39 federal territory or which are not connected with a “trade or business” are not subject to withholding:

40 Title 26
41 PART 31—EMPLOYMENT TAXES AND COLLECTION OF INCOME TAX AT SOURCE
42 Subpart E—Collection of Income Tax at Source
43 § 31.3401(a)(6)-1 Remuneration for services of nonresident alien individuals.

(a) In general.

All remuneration paid after December 31, 1966, for services performed by a nonresident alien individual, if such remuneration otherwise constitutes wages within the meaning of §31.3401(a)-1 and if such remuneration is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States, is subject to withholding under section 3402 unless excepted from wages under this section. In regard to wages paid under this section after February 28, 1979, the term "nonresident alien individual" does not include a nonresident alien individual treated as a resident under section 6013 (g) or (h).

(b) Remuneration for services performed outside the United States.

Remuneration paid to a nonresident alien individual (other than a resident of Puerto Rico) for services performed outside the United States is excepted from wages and hence is not subject to withholding.

2. 26 U.S.C. §3401(a)(6): Definitions

TITLE 26 > Subtitle C > CHAPTER 24 > § 3401

(a) Wages

For purposes of this chapter, the term “wages” means all remuneration (other than fees paid to a public official) for services performed by an employee for his employer, including the cash value of all remuneration (including benefits) paid in any medium other than cash; except that such term shall not include remuneration paid—

(6) for such services, performed by a nonresident alien individual, as may be designated by regulations prescribed by the Secretary; or

3. 26 U.S.C. §3406\(g\) and 26 CFR §31.3406\(g\)-1\(e\) both say that foreign persons (which includes "nonresident aliens") are not subject to backup withholding or information reporting

TITLE 26 > Subtitle C > CHAPTER 24 > § 3406
§ 3406. Backup withholding

(g) Exceptions

(1) Payments to certain payees Subsection (a) shall not apply to any payment made to—(A) any organization or governmental unit described in subparagraph (B), (C), (D), (E), or (F) of section 6049 (b)(4), or (B) any other person specified in regulations.

(2) Amounts for which withholding otherwise required Subsection (a) shall not apply to any amount for which withholding is otherwise required by this title.

Title 26: Internal Revenue
PART 31—EMPLOYMENT TAXES AND COLLECTION OF INCOME TAX AT SOURCE
§ 31.3406(g)-1 Exception for payments to certain payees and certain other payments.

(e) Certain reportable payments made outside the United States by foreign persons, foreign offices of United States banks and brokers, and others. For reportable payments made after December 31, 2000, a payor is not required to backup withhold under section 3406 on a reportable payment that qualifies for the documentary evidence rule described in §1.6049-5\(c\)\(1\) or \(4\) of this chapter, whether or not documentary evidence is actually provided to the payor, unless the payor has actual knowledge that the payee is a United States person. Further, no backup withholding is required for payments upon which a 30-percent amount was withheld by another payor in accordance with the withholding provisions under chapter 3 of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations under that chapter. For rules applicable to notional principal contracts, see §1.6041-1\(d\)\(5\) of this chapter.

Title 26: Internal Revenue
PART I—INCOME TAXES
nonresident alien individuals
§ 1.872-2 Exclusions from gross income of nonresident alien individuals.

(f) Other exclusions.

Income which is from sources without [outside] the United States [federal territory per 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)], as determined under the provisions of sections 861 through 863, and the regulations thereunder, is not included in the gross income of a nonresident alien individual unless such income is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States by that individual. To determine specific exclusions in the case of other items which are from sources within the United States, see the applicable sections of the Code. For special rules under a tax convention for determining the sources of income and for excluding, from gross income, income from sources without the United States which is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see the applicable tax convention. For determining which income from sources without the United States is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see section 864(c)(4) and §1.864-5.

PART 1—INCOME TAXES
nonresident alien individuals
§ 1.871-7 Taxation of nonresident alien individuals not engaged in U.S. business.

(a) Imposition of tax

(4) Except as provided in §§1.871–9 and 1.871–10, a nonresident alien individual not engaged in trade or business in the United States during the taxable year has no income, gain, or loss for the taxable year which is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States. See section 864(c)(1)(B) and §1.864–3.

(A) Foreign estate

The term "foreign estate" means an estate the income of which, from sources without the United States which is not effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States, is not includable in gross income under subtitle A.

7. 26 U.S.C. §861(a)(3)(C)(i) says that "nonresident aliens", even if they work in on federal territory, do not earn income from sources within the "United States", if they are not engaged in a "trade or business"

(a) Gross income from sources within United States

The following items of gross income shall be treated as income from sources within the United States:

(3) Personal services

Compensation for labor or personal services performed in the United States; except that compensation for labor or services performed in the United States shall not be deemed to be income from sources within the United States if—

(C) the compensation is for labor or services performed as an employee of or under a contract with

(i) a nonresident alien, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation, not engaged in trade or business within the United States, or

(ii) an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States, a domestic partnership, or a domestic corporation, if such labor or services are performed for an office or place of business maintained in a foreign country or in a possession of the United States by such individual, partnership, or corporation.

29 Tax Treatment of TSP Payments:

- A nonresident alien beneficiary of a nonresident alien participant will not be liable for U.S. income tax if the participant never worked for the U.S. Government in the United States

35 *[Federal Thrift Savings Program (TSP) Pamphlet OC-96-21, <http://tsp.gov/forms/index.html>, p. 2. Keep in 36 mind that "United States" above is defined as federal territory and "worked for the U.S. government" is defined
37 as a "trade or business" in 26 U.S.C. 7701(a)(26), which is then described as "the functions of a public office"]*

38 Beyond the above list, there is very little else that a private employer needs to know about withholding on nonresident
39 aliens. The above firmly establishes that nonresident aliens with no income from the "United States" government:

- 40 1. Are "nontaxpayers".
- 41 2. Do not need an identifying number.
- 42 3. Do not need any withholding.
- 43 4. Do not need any earnings reported. Only earnings from federal territory called the "United States" or the U.S.
44 Government that are connected with a "trade or business", which is a "public office", must be reported pursuant to 26
45 U.S.C. §6041. This is what "U.S. sources" means in the Internal Revenue Code.

1 20.4 Backup withholding

2 Those who claim to be "nonresident aliens" not engaged in a "trade or business" and who are not "individuals" are
3 sometimes subjected to unlawful backup withholding by ignorant financial institutions and private employers who refuse to
4 read and obey the law as written. This section will provide tools and procedures to fight such forms of involuntary
5 servitude and THEFT under the color of law.

6 "The laborer is worthy of [ALL of] his wages."

7 [1 Tim. 5:18, Bible, NKJV]

8 "Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness

9 And his chambers by injustice,

10 Who [whether individual or government] uses his neighbor's service without wages

11 And gives him nothing for his work,"

12 [Jer. 22:13, Bible, NKJV]

13 *"Come now, you rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon you! Your riches are corrupted,
14 and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and silver are corroded, and their corrosion will be a witness
15 against you and will eat your flesh like fire. You have heaped up treasure in the last days. Indeed the wages of 16 the laborers who mowed your fields, which you kept back by fraud, cry out; and the cries of the reapers have 17 reached the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. ⁵You [the business owner who controls the purse of the workers] have 18 lived on the earth in pleasure and luxury; you have fattened your hearts as^b in a day of slaughter. You have 19 condemned, you have murdered the just; he does not resist you. "*

20 [James 5:1-6, Bible, NKJV]

21 "You shall not cheat your neighbor, nor rob him. The wages of him who is hired shall not remain with you all 22 night until morning."

23 [Lev. 19:13, Bible, NKJV]

24 Any way you look at it, private employers who don't have privileged federal "employees" for workers cannot withhold
25 against the wishes of the workers and if they do, they are STEALING and violating both man's law and God's law. There
26 is nothing in federal law or state law that would indemnify them from such STEALING. They are no better than petty
27 street criminals, and any payroll clerk who doesn't understand this is a sitting duck for any worker who is even mildly
28 educated about the law and willing to defend his rights in court.

29 The IRS website confirms that backup withholding of 30% on nonresident aliens is not authorized:

30 Backup Withholding

31 *Generally, backup withholding applies only to resident aliens and not to nonresident aliens. The payer who 32 neglects or refuses to do backup withholding when required will himself be held liable for the amount of the 33 backup withholding which should have been withheld from any payments. Under regulations which took effect
34 on January 1, 2001, generally, if the status of the payee as a foreign person or a U.S. person cannot be 35 determined, then the payee may be assumed to be a U.S. person subject to backup withholding. For additional 36 information on the documentation to determine the status of a foreign payee refer to NRA Withholding.
37 [SOURCE: <http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small/international/article/0,,id=104910,00.html>]*

38 Below is a summary of the requirements for backup withholding:

- 39 1. Required by:
 - 40 1.1. 26 U.S.C. §3406.
 - 41 1.2. 26 CFR §31.3406-0 through 26 CFR §31.3406\(j\)-1.
- 42 2. Withholding set at 31% of "reportable payments". See 26 CFR §31.3406\(a\)-1\(a\).
- 43 3. "reportable payments". are payments "effectively connected with a trade or business", which means a public office in 44 the government, pursuant to:
 - 45 3.1. 26 U.S.C. §6041. All information returns filed or reported must be connected with a "trade or business" as 46 required by paragraph (a) of this section.
 - 47 3.2. 26 U.S.C. §3406\(b\).
 - 48 3.3. 26 U.S.C. §6049 in the case of interest payments
 - 49 3.4. 26 U.S.C. §6042 in the case of dividend payments
 - 50 3.5. 26 U.S.C. §6044 in the case of patronage dividends

6 "Nonresident aliens" who are not engaged in a "trade or business" cannot lawfully become the subject of backup
7 withholding per item 3 above. If a financial institution or private employer indicates that they want to do it anyway we 8 suggest:

9 1. 26 U.S.C. §3406 also authorizes backup withholding in the case of those who refuse to provide a TIN. The requirement
10 to FURNISH a TIN is described in 26 CFR §301.6109-1(b). Those who are "nonresident aliens" but not "individuals"
11 as identified in that section are not listed as having a requirement. Neither are "nonresident alien individuals" who are 12 NOT engaged in a "trade or business". Therefore, by the rules of statutory construction, they are not required to 13 deduct, withhold, or report.

"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles, 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."

2. If the payer gives you guff when you say you don't have to provide a TIN and are not eligible, give them the following:

Why it is Illegal for Me to Request or Use a “Taxpayer Identification Number”, Form #04.205

22 3. If the payer gives you guff about whether you are or can choose to be a "nonresident alien" who is not an "individual":
23 3.1. Show them section 20.3 earlier, which proves that you are a "nontaxpayer" who doesn't need to withhold or 24 deduct because you earn no "gross income" and your estate is a "foreign estate" as described in [26 U.S.C.
25 §7701\(a\)\(31\)](#).
26 3.2. Show them the definition of "individual" in 26 CFR §1.1441-1\(c \)\(3\) and ask them to prove that you meet the 27 definition of "nonresident alien individual". They won't be able to prove it so they can't impose a requirement to 28 provide either a number or withhold.
29 3.3. Show them 26 U.S.C. §871, which only taxes earnings of "nonresident alien individuals", not "nonresident aliens"
30 who are NOT "individuals".
31 3.4. Show them the following, which proves that you have an unalienable right to declare and establish any civil status
32 you want and that a failure to respect that status constitutes a violation of your First Amendment right of freedom
33 from compelled association:

Your Exclusive Right to Declare or Establish Your Civil Status, Form #13.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

34 3.5. Remind them that all franchises are contracts and that contracts are unenforceable in the presence of duress.
35 Insist on your right to not be compelled to contract with the government by being forced to engage in federal 36 franchises such as the "trade or business" franchise. This is covered further in the following:

Government Instituted Slavery Using Franchises, Form #05.030
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

37 4. Showing them the legal authorities described above.
38 5. Submitting an Amended IRS Form W-8BEN to a withholding agent. This causes them to not be able to withhold:

39 "Foreign persons who provide Form W-8BEN, Form W-8ECI, or Form W-8EXP (or applicable documentary
40 evidence) are exempt from backup withholding and Form 1099 reporting."

41 /IRS Publication 515, year 2000, p. 3/

The phrase “(or applicable documentary evidence)” above also covers the following form we prefer over the Standard IRS Form W-8BEN:

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

1 6. Using the following forms to educate them above what a "trade or business" and to prove that you aren't engaged in 2 one:

3 6.1. Demand for Verified Evidence of "Trade or Business" Activity: Information Return, Form #04.007

4 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

5 6.2. The "Trade or Business" Scam, Form #05.001

6 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

7 If you are a "nonresident alien" or "foreigner" but not an "individual" or "person", DO NOT use the Standard IRS Form W-
8 8BEN because it contains "words of art" that will prejudice your status and make you look like a "taxpayer" as described in 9 section 5 of the following:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

10 Instead use either of the following:

11 1. Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001

12 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 2. Amended IRS Form W-8BEN

21 How to fill out tax withholding and reporting forms to properly reflect your status as a nonresident alien

25 The following subsections cover how to fill out tax withholding and reporting forms to properly reflect your status as a
26 "nonresident alien" who is NOT an "individual".

27 21.1 The TWO ways to become a "foreign person"

28 IRS Publications 515 and 519 describe the tax responsibilities of "foreign persons". Foreign persons include:

29 1. "resident aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).

30 2. "nonresident aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).

31 Because there are TWO types of "foreign persons", then there are TWO ways that you can become a foreign person.
32 Below is a summary of these mechanisms:

33 Table 13: Methods of becoming a "foreign person"

Foreign Person Name	Defined in	"Foreign" because	Status is discretionary?
----------------------------	-------------------	--------------------------	---------------------------------

Foreign Person Name	Defined in	“Foreign” because	Status is discretionary?
Resident alien	26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A)	Not born in the COUNTRY	No. You can't choose or change where you were born.
Nonresident alien	26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B)	Not domiciled on federal territory and outside the “United States” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)	Yes. All you have to do is declare a different domicile.

1 Of the two ways you can become a “foreign person”, the only one that is discretionary and is based on your choice or
 2 consent is that of the “nonresident alien”. As long as you don’t have a domicile or residence on federal territory, then you
 3 are a “nonresident alien”. Domicile is a voluntary choice of political association. It is NOT based exclusively on where
 4 you physically live, but on where you WANT to live and have been at least once in the past. Consequently, anyone who is
 5 born in our country and who WANTS to live outside the “United States” has the right to claim themselves to be a
 6 “nonresident alien”, regardless of their mailing address or the current place they live. This is further discussed below:

Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

7 Many financial institutions, payroll, and tax people make the following mistakes in determining whether you are qualified
 8 to be a “foreign person”:

9 1. They will look at your mailing address and PRESUME that it is your domicile. You need to remind them that your 10 domicile and your mailing address are two completely different places.
 11 2. They will look at your mailing address and PRESUME that it is in the same “United States” that is described in the 12 Internal Revenue Code at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10). This is FALSE and you need to show them the definition
 13 of “United States”.
 14 3. They will ask you whether you were born in this country and PRESUME that because you were born here, then you
 15 can’t be a “foreign person”. You need to remind them that the separation of legislative powers between the state and 16 federal governments makes them FOREIGN with respect to each other, and that this separation is there for the 17 protection of private rights.
 18 4. They will point to the word “includes” in 26 U.S.C. §7701(c) and then use that definition as an excuse to add
 19 ANYTHING THEY WANT to the definition of words found in the Internal Revenue Code. That is NOT how the law
 20 works and what they are doing is simply engaging in religion, not law. Religion is simply any process of belief that 21 cannot be supported by direct, explicit evidence. The rules of statutory construction are very strict and require that 22 when a definition is provided, it SUPERSEDES, not ENLARGES the common meaning of the term.

23 When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that
 24 term’s ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) (“It is axiomatic that the statutory
 25 definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term”); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n.
 26 10 (“As a rule, ‘a definition which declares what a term ‘means’... excludes any meaning that is not stated’”);
 27 Western Union Telegraph Co. v. Lenroot, 323 U.S. 490, 502 (1945); Fox v. Standard Oil Co. of N.J., 294 U.S.
 28 87, 95-96 (1935) (Cardozo, J.); see also 2A N. Singer, Sutherland on Statutes and Statutory Construction §
 29 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read “as a whole,” post at
 30 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include
 31 the Attorney General’s restriction -- “the child up to the head.” Its words, “substantial portion,” indicate the
 32 contrary.”
 33 [Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000)]

34 “Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one*

35 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
 36 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
 37 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
 38 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
 39 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”
 40 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

41 If you would like more ammunition to successfully argue the “includes” issue with, see:

1 All of the above false presumptions are fostered by:

2 1. A failure of most tax, accounting, and payroll professionals to read what the law actually says, interpret it according to
3 the strict rules of statutory construction, and to trust what they read.

4 “One who turns his ear from hearing the law [God's law or man's law], even his prayer is an abomination.”
5 [Prov. 28:9, Bible, NKJV]

6 “This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate in it day and night, that you
7 may observe to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then
8 you will have good success. Have I not commanded you? Be strong and of good courage; do not be afraid, nor
9 be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go.”
10 [Joshua 1:8-9, Bible, NKJV,
11 IMPLICATION: If you aren't reading and trying to obey God's law daily, then you're not doing God's will and 12 you will not prosper]

13 “But this crowd that does not know [and quote and follow and use] the law is accursed.”
14 [John 7:49, Bible, NKJV]

15 “Salvation is far from the wicked, For they do not seek Your [God's] statutes.”
16 [Psalm 119:155, Bible, NKJV]

17 “Every man is supposed to know the law. A party who makes a contract or enters into a [franchise, which is
18 also a contract] with an officer [of the government] without having it reduced to writing is knowingly accessory
19 to a violation of duty on his part. Such a party aids in the violation of the law.”
20 [Clark v. United States, 95 U.S. 539 (1877)]

21 2. The deliberate deception and omissions contained in IRS publications.

22 “IRS Publications, issued by the National Office, explain the law in plain language for taxpayers and their
23 advisors... While a good source of general information, publications should not be cited to sustain a position.”
24 [Internal Revenue Manual, Section 4.10.7.2.8 (05-14-1999)]

25 3. The lack of accountability of the IRS for the things it says. See:

Federal Courts and the IRS' Own IRM Say IRS is NOT RESPONSIBLE for Its Actions or Its Words or For Following
Its Own Written Procedures
<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Articles/IRSNotResponsible.htm>

26 4. The desire to avoid admitting that they have been engaging in injurious presumptions their whole life because of their 27 legal ignorance and the need to avoid liability for all the injuries this causes. See:

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

28 5. The arrogance of not wanting to admit that they are wrong and that all those years of legal and tax education they went 29 through didn't teach them what they really needed to know to properly apply the tax code.

30 You will therefore need to take as much time as necessary to patiently but forcefully educate all those you come in contact
31 with to correct the above false presumptions. Don't be accusatory, argumentative, arrogant, or threatening in any way.
32 Simply respond with questions designed to enlighten them on the proper application of the tax laws. This is the same
33 approach Jesus took: Respond to questions with more very carefully crafted questions. Once you have done this, most tax,
34 payroll, legal, and management people are usually more than willing to cooperate with you in accepting your nonresident
35 alien withholding paperwork. The enemy is ignorance and presumption, not the government, the tax laws, or the legal 36 profession. Many people in the tax, payroll, legal, and management professions are surprised to learn that they have been 37 basing their beliefs about taxes all these years upon things that the government and the courts have emphatically admitted
38 over the years are UNTRUSTWORTHY. You may want to enlighten them about this fact using the following valuable 39 resource:

21.2 Instructions for filling out IRS Form W-8BEN

IRS Form W-8BEN is the ONLY form that nonresident aliens domiciled in a state of the Union can use to describe their withholding. The IRS Form W-4 is NOT the proper form and PLEASE don't use it. The proper way to submit this form are described in the article below on our website. We will not repeat the content of that article here in order to save space:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21.3 Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status

We have assembled a substitute for the IRS Form W-8BEN which you can use to document your lack of liability for tax withholding and reporting as a nonresident alien. This form avoids all of the pitfalls and traps deliberately added to the IRS Form W-8BEN by the IRS described in the article in the previous section.

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21.4 Specifying your withholding and reporting when you start a new job or business relationship

We have assembled a very powerful and excellent form specifically for use by those accepting new jobs or starting new business relationships or opening financial accounts. This form lawfully allows you to enter such commercial relationships without government numbers, tax withholding, or tax reporting. It is loaded with evidence useful to prove your status right from the IRS publications. It has been very successfully used by our members and we encourage you to either use it or emulate it. We have put a lot of work into making sure that it is not confrontational, helps minimize risk for the private employer, and minimizes confrontation or work on your part. See:

New Hire Paperwork Attachment, Form #04.203
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21.5 Starting, stopping, or changing your withholding as a nonresident alien AFTER you start your job or business relationship

After starting your new job or business relationship using the New Hire Paperwork Attachment in the previous section, if you would later like to start, stop, or change your withholding status as a nonresident alien not engaged in a "trade or business", please see the following publication on our website, which exhaustively explains all the options:

Federal and State Tax Withholding Options for Private Employers, Form #04.007
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

21.6 How "U.S. Person" spouses of nonresident aliens must fill out IRS Form W-4 Withholding Forms

Those who are nonresident aliens frequently are married to spouses who choose to continue to be "taxpayers", to file IRS Form 1040, and to be statutory "U.S. persons". Below is a summary of the behavior required of such "taxpayer" spouses:

26. 1. The "U.S. person" Spouse must check "Single" on IRS Form W-4 if married to a nonresident alien. IRS Form W-4, Block 3 says that those who are married to nonresident aliens must check the "Single" box on the form, even though legally married.

"Note: If married, but legally separated, or spouse is a nonresident alien, check the Single box."
[IRS Form W-4, Block 3]

31. 2. The "U.S. person"/resident spouse must declare themselves "Unmarried" on tax returns. IRS Publication 504, 2007, p.

1 6, says the following on this subject:

2 "Nonresident alien spouse. If your spouse was a nonresident alien at any time during the tax year, and you
3 have not chosen to treat your spouse as a resident alien, you are considered unmarried for head of household
4 purposes. However, your spouse is not a qualifying person for head of household purposes. You must have 5 another qualifying person and meet the other requirements to file as head of household."
6 [IRS Publication 504, 2007, p. 6]

7 21.7 Further reading and research

8 If you would like to investigate further how to properly reflect your status as a nonresident alien not engaged in the "trade 9 or business" franchise and who is not an "individual" beyond that discussed in the preceding sections, we highly 10 recommend the following additional resources:

23 22 How To Correct Government Records to Reflect your True Status as a 24 Nonresident Alien

25 We, as human beings, declare ourselves to be nonresident aliens not connected with a "trade or business" for the purposes 26 of federal income taxes by:

- 27 1. Reading and carefully studying our article on "domicile", so we know all the ins and outs of what makes a person a
28 "resident". You will need this information later when filling out government forms that ask you about your 29 "permanent address" and "residence address". If you haven't read this article, you won't understand what they are 30 asking for. See:

Why Domicile and Becoming a "Taxpayer" Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 31 2. Correcting government records to remove false presumptions about our citizenship status. This is done by:
 - 32 2.1. Filling out and resubmitting any form that indicated a citizenship status, such as the SS-5 Social Security 33 application, Jury Summons, Voter registration, etc. On these forms we fill out and resubmit, we must:
 - 34 2.1.1. Remove indications of statutory "citizen of the [federal] United States" status under 8 U.S.C. §1401.
 - 35 2.1.2. If we checked "U.S. person" (as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30)), then we uncheck it.
 - 36 2.1.3. If we checked "U.S. resident" or simply "resident", unchecking it.
 - 37 2.1.4. Indicate that we are "national" or a "state national" as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B) and 8 U.S.C. §1452.
 - 39 2.2. Applying for a new passport using form DS-11 and indicating we are a "national" under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21)
40 but not a statutory "citizen" under 8 U.S.C. §1401. See:

<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Citizenship/ApplyingForAPassport.htm>
 - 42 2.3. Filling out and submitting our form below according to the instructions at the beginning:

Legal Notice of Change in Domicile/Citizenship Records and Divorce from the United States, Form #10.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
- 43 3. Requesting certified copies of our passport records, including those developed in step 2.2 above, pursuant to the article 44 below, for use as legal proof of our status to the appropriate financial institutions:

<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/Emancipation/DOS-CertDS11.htm>
- 46 4. Closing all financial accounts we have that have Social Security Numbers attached to them and reopening them with

1 IRS Form W-8BEN's and without Social Security Numbers. 26 CFR §301.6109-1 says that the use of a Social Security
2 Number creates a prima facie presumption that we are a "U.S. person" with an effective domicile on federal territory
3 called the "United States" who is "effectively connected with a trade or business". For instructions on how to open
4 financial accounts without SSNs and using the W-8, see:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

5 5. Changing our employment withholding forms by replacing any W-4 forms with Amended IRS Form W-8 or W-8 BEN
6 as follows:

7 5.1. Do NOT use the original IRS Form W-8BEN, because you are NOT a "Beneficial Owner".

8 5.2. As an alternative, you can use the form below as an even better substitute, if the recipient will accept it:

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

9 5.3. Use the instructions below to fill out the Amended IRS Form W-8BEN found at:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

10 5.4. Provide the AMENDED W-8BEN form or our Form 02.001 above to:

11 5.4.1. Financial institutions when opening accounts.

12 5.4.2. Our private employer to stop illegal withholding of all donations (fraudulently disguised as "taxes") from 13 our pay. Guidance on how to do this is contained in the following free resource:

Federal and State Tax Withholding Options for Private Employers, Form #09.001

18 7. Educating financial institutions and private employers, as necessary, about the laws on withholding and reporting so
19 that they do not submit false reports connecting us to a "trade or business". Remember: being engaged in a "trade or 20 business" makes a "nonresident alien" into a "resident", as we showed in section 17 earlier. Sue them under 26 U.S.C.
21 §7434 for filing of false information returns if they refuse to obey the laws. See:

26 been filed on us at any point in the past, and which are filed at any point in future from that point on. See:

33 9. If we file income tax returns, using the AMENDED 1040NR form instead of the 1040 form. IRS Document 7130
34 reveals that the IRS 1040 form is only for "resident aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A), or statutory 35 "citizens" when abroad under 26 U.S.C. §911, who are ALSO resident aliens coming under a tax treaty with a foreign
36 country. "Nonresident aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) cannot use the IRS Form 1040 without making

1 an “election” to become a “resident” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) or 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4)(B). On this
2 form, we must:

3 9.1. Not take any deductions. Nonresident aliens cannot take deductions against earnings not connected with a “trade
4 or business” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §162 because only those connected with a “trade or business” can take
5 deductions. A person with no “trade or business” income needs no deductions anyway.
6 9.2. Indicate zero for “trade or business” income because we don’t hold “public office” as defined in 26 U.S.C.
7 §7701(a)(26).
8 9.3. Indicate zero for earnings not connected with a “trade or business” unless we receive payments from the U.S.
9 government, such as Social Security. 26 U.S.C. §861(a)(8) and 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(3) say that Social Security
10 payments must be included as earnings from within federal territory, which is what “United States” is defined as 11 in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d).
12 9.4. Use the AMENDED 1040NR tax return indicated below, which removes false presumptions about your status:

Federal Nonresident Nonstatutory Claim for Return of Funds Unlawfully Paid to the Government-Long, Form
#15.001

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 10. Rebutting all Currency Transaction Reports (CTR’s), IRS Form 8300, that might be filed against us falsely and 14 illegally by financial institutions when we withdraw 10,000 or more in cash from a financial institution. The statutes at 15 31 U.S.C. §5331 and the regulation at 31 CFR §103.30(d)(2) only require these reports to be filed in connection with 16 a “trade or business”, and this “trade or business” is the same “trade or business” referenced in the Internal Revenue
17 Code at 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) and 26 U.S.C. §162. If you are not a “public officer” or if you do not consent to be 18 treated as one in order to procure “social insurance”, then banks and financial institutions are violating the law to file
19 these forms against you. See:

Demand for Verified Evidence of “Trade or Business” Activity: Currency Transaction Report (CTR), Form #04.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

20 11. Rescinding our Social Security application, SSA form SS-5. This is an agreement that imposes the “duty” or 21 “fiduciary duty” upon the human being and makes him into a “trustee” and an officer of a the federal corporation called
22 the “United States”. The definition of “person” for the purposes of the criminal provisions of the Internal Revenue
23 Code, codified in 26 U.S.C. §7343, incidentally is EXACTLY the same as the above. Therefore, all tax crimes require
24 that the violator must be acting in a fiduciary capacity as a Trustee of some kind or another, whether it be as an
25 Executor over the estate of a deceased “taxpayer”, or over the Social Security Trust maintained for the benefit of a
26 living trustee/employee of the federal corporation called the “United States Government”. To rescind your Social 27 Security application/contract, see the following for details:

Resignation of Compelled Social Security Trustee, Form #06.002

28 Nonresident aliens pay on a graduated scale for income derived from a “trade or business” within the [federal] United 29 States (U.S. public office) in accordance with 26 U.S.C. §871(b). They pay a flat 30% on earnings from within federal 30 territory of the U.S. government and nothing on earnings from within states of the Union under 26 U.S.C. §871(a). When 31 we declare ourselves as nonresident aliens, we should be very careful to correct or update government records reflecting our 32 citizenship status as indicated in section 2.5.3.13 of:

Sovereignty Forms and Instructions Manual, Form #10.005
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

33 Below are a few quotes that help explain succinctly the basis for the nonresident alien position. These quotes appear, for 34 instance, in the Revocation of Election letter found in Section 3.5.5 of the Sovereignty Forms and Instructions Manual:

35 “The United States government is a foreign corporation with respect to a state.”
36 [N.Y. re: Merriam, 36 N.E. 505, 141 N.Y. 479, Affirmed 16 S.Ct. 1973, 41 L.Ed. 287]

37 “State: The term “State” shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such 38 construction is necessary to carry out provisions of this title.”
39 [26 U.S.C. §7701]

40 “United States: The term “United States” when used in a geographical sense includes [is limited to] only the 41 States [the District of Columbia and other federal territories within the borders of the states] and the District of 42 Columbia.”
43 [26 U.S.C. §7701]

1 "A canon of construction which teaches that of Congress, unless a contrary intent appears, is meant to apply
2 only within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States."
3 [U.S. v. Spelar, 338 U.S. 217 at 222 (1949)]

4 "The term 'United States' may be used in any one of several senses. It may be merely the name of a sovereign
5 occupying the position analogous to that of other sovereigns in the family of nations. It may designate the
6 territory over which the sovereignty of the United States ex- [324 U.S. 652, 672] tends, or it may be the 7 collective name of the states which are united by and under the Constitution."
8 [Hooven & Allison Co. v. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652 (1945)]

9 Foreign States: "Nations outside of the United States...Term may also refer to another state; i.e. a sister state.
10 The term 'foreign nations', ...should be construed to mean all nations and states other than that in which the
11 action is brought; and hence, one state of the Union is foreign to another, in that sense."
12 [Black's Law Dictionary, 6th Edition, p. 648]

13 Foreign Laws: "The laws of a foreign country or sister state."
14 [Black's Law Dictionary, 6th Edition, p. 647]

15 Treasury Decision 3980, Vol. 29, January-December, 1927, pgs. 64 and 65 defines the words includes and 16 including as: "(1) To comprise, comprehend, or embrace... (2) To enclose within; contain; confine... But 17 granting that the word 'including' is a term of enlargement, it is clear that it only performs that office by 18 introducing the specific elements constituting the enlargement. It thus, and thus only, enlarges the otherwise
19 more limited, preceding general language... The word 'including' is obviously used in the sense of its 20 synonyms, comprising; comprehending; embracing."
21 [Treasury Decision 3980, Vol. 29, January-December, 1927, pgs. 64 and 65]

22 "Includes is a word of limitation. Where a general term in Statute is followed by the word, 'including' the 23 primary import of the specific words following the quoted words is to indicate restriction rather than 24 enlargement. Powers ex re. Covon v. Charron R.I., 135 A.2nd. 829, 832
25 [Definitions-Words and Phrases pages 156-156, Words and Phrases under 'limitations'].]

26 "In the interpretation of statutes levying taxes, it is the established rule not to extend their provisions by
27 implication beyond the clear import of the language used, or to enlarge their operations so as to embrace
28 matters not specifically pointed out. In case of doubt they are construed most strongly against the government
29 and in favor of the citizen."
30 [Gould v. Gould, 245 U.S. 151, at 153 (1917)]

31 "Almost a century ago, Congress declared that "the right of expatriation [including expatriation from federal 32 territory or "U.S. Inc", the corporation] is a natural and inherent right of all people, indispensable to the 33 enjoyment of the rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," and decreed that "any declaration,
34 instruction, opinion, order, or decision of any officers of this government which denies, restricts, impairs, or 35 questions the right of expatriation, is hereby declared inconsistent with the fundamental principles of this
36 government." 15 Stat. 223-224 (1868), R.S. § 1999, 8 U.S.C. §800 (1940).²⁵ Although designed to apply
37 especially to the rights of immigrants to shed their foreign nationalities, that Act of Congress "is also broad 38 enough to cover, and does cover, the corresponding natural and inherent right of American citizens to 39 expatriate themselves." Savorgnan v. United States, 1950, 338 U.S. 491, 498 note 11, 70 S.Ct. 292, 296, 94
40 L.Ed. 287.²⁶ The Supreme Court has held that the Citizenship Act of 1907 and the Nationality Act of 1940 "are 41 to be read in the light of the declaration of policy favoring freedom of expatriation which stands unrepealed."
42 Id., 338 U.S. at pages 498-499, 70 S.Ct. at page 296. That same light, I think, illuminates 22 U.S.C.A. §211a and

44 [Walter Briehl v. John Foster Dulles, 248 F.2d. 561, 583 (1957).]

45 The hardest part for most people is completing the AMENDED IRS Form W-8 or W-8BEN, which is the form you have to 46 submit to a bank, employer, or financial institution declaring yourself to be a nonresident alien and thereby eliminating the 47 need to withhold on your income. The problem they have is with the definition of the term "nonresident alien" on the W-
48 8BEN form, which is:

49 "Any individual who is not a citizen or resident of the United States is a nonresident alien individual. An 50 alien individual meeting either the "green card test" or the "substantial presence test" for the calendar year is a
51 resident alien. Any person not meeting either test is a nonresident alien individual.

52 "Additionally, an alien individual who is a resident of a foreign country under the residence article of an
53 income tax treaty, or an alien individual who is a resident of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of the

1 Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa is a nonresident alien individual. See
2 Pub 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, for more information on resident and nonresident alien status.”
3 [IRS Form W-8BEN]

4 IRS Publication 519, Tax Guide for Aliens says the following, which clarifies this:

5 “If you are an alien (not a [statutory] U.S. citizen [as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401]), you are considered a
6 nonresident alien unless you meet one of the two tests described next under Resident Aliens.”
7 [IRS Publication 519]

8 If you want information on how to fill out the IRS Form W-8BEN, help is available at:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

9 There is also a free pamphlet for private employers that helps them understand all the options below:

Federal and State Tax Withholding Options for Private Employers, Form #04.101
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

10 What you need to remember is that if you follow the procedures appearing in section 2.5.3.13 of the Sovereignty Forms and Instructions Manual, Form #10.005 (<http://sedm.org/ItemInfo/Ebooks/SovFormsInstr/SovFormsInstr.htm>) to update and correct government records about our citizenship and domicile, then you become an “national” and a “nonresident alien” for the purposes of the tax code. Once you become a “nonresident alien”, you regain your constitutional rights and simultaneously deprive the federal government of jurisdiction over you. That is why we say that this step is VERY IMPORTANT!

16 IRS Publication 519, after the above clarification of the definition of “alien”, then talks about the two tests, which include the “Green Card Test” and the “Substantial Presence Test”. People look at the Substantial Presence Test and erroneously conclude that they pass the test and thereby qualify as resident aliens. They point to IRS Pub. 519, which states that the term “United States” includes the 50 Union states. This is true, but misleading. The term “United States” includes federal enclaves or areas within the 50 Union states but NOT nonfederal areas! Furthermore, one is a federal “U.S. citizen” under 8 U.S.C. §1401 if they were born or naturalized in the District of Columbia or a territory of the U.S. but NOT the nonfederal areas of the 50 Union states. The Fourteenth Amendment section 1 states the following:

23 “Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are 24 citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which 25 shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any 26 person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the 27 equal protection of the laws. “

28 The U.S. Supreme Court has clearly defined the meaning of the phrase “and subject to the jurisdiction thereof” in Elk v. Wilkins, 112 U.S. 94 (1884):

30 “The persons declared to be citizens are ALL PERSONS BORN OR NATURALIZED IN THE UNITED 31 STATES AND SUBJECT TO THE JURISDICTION THEREOF. The evident meaning of these last words is,
32 not merely subject in some respect or degree to the jurisdiction of the United States, but COMPLETELY
33 SUBJECT [e.g., under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the Constitution] to their political jurisdiction, and
34 owing them direct and immediate allegiance. And the words relate to the time of birth in the one case, as they 35 do to the time of naturalization in the other. Persons not thus subject to the jurisdiction of the United States at 36 the time of birth cannot become so afterwards, except by being naturalized, either individually, as by 37 proceedings under the naturalization acts; or collectively, as by the force of a treaty by which foreign territory
38 is acquired. Indians born within the territorial limits of the United States, members of, and owing immediate 39 allegiance to, one of the Indiana tribes, (an alien though dependent power,) although in a geographical sense
40 born in the United States, are no more 'born in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof' within 41 the meaning of the first section of the fourteenth amendment, than the children of subjects of any foreign 42 government born within the domain of that government, or the children born within the United States, of 43 ambassadors or other public ministers of foreign nations. ”
44 Elk v. Wilkins, [112 U.S. 94 (1884)]

45 The important phrase in the above Supreme Court ruling is “political jurisdiction”, which is NOT the same as “legislative jurisdiction”. “their political jurisdiction” in the above simply means the exercise of political rights, which include voting

1 and jury service within states of the Union and nothing more. It doesn't mean that they are "completely subject" to the 2 legislative jurisdiction of any act of Congress or to federal statutes under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the Constitution.
3 You must be a "citizen" or "resident" under an "act of Congress" or federal statute in order to be subject to the general or 4 exclusive legislative jurisdiction of Congress. Now the above considerations do not preclude "nationals" from electing to
5 be federal "U.S. citizens" under 8 U.S.C. §1401, which the federal government loves to do because that is how they
6 manufacture "taxpayers" out of formerly sovereign Americans! Technically, and by law, however, a person born in a state
7 of the Union isn't a federal "U.S. citizen" under 8 U.S.C. §1401. Human beings born in states of the Union, however,
8 are "citizens of the United States" under the 14th Amendment because the term "United States" in the Constitution means
9 the collective states of the Union. Quite clearly, most people have never been statutory "U.S. citizens" under 8 U.S.C.
10 §1401, but instead are "nationals" and "state nationals" under the following statutes:

- 11 • 8 U.S.C. §1101\(a\)\(21\) or 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B)
- 12 • 8 U.S.C. §1452

13 Because of these considerations, it's clear that there is IRS deception going on with IRS Form W-8BEN. "United States",
14 in the context of human beings, cannot include nonfederal areas of the 50 Union states because of Constitutional
15 prohibitions against direct taxes found in Article 1, Section 9, Clause 4 and Article 1, Section 2, Clause 3 of the U.S.
16 Constitution. Remember!:

You should NOT and CANNOT rely on fraudulent IRS publications, including the W-8 for W-8BEN, to sustain a position or a good-faith belief, or even a fact, and therefore you should not assume that "United States" includes non-federal areas within the 50 Union states. This is covered extensively in section 3.19 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302. Because you can't rely on IRS Publications or forms to sustain a position, then you have no choice but to rely on the law, which includes the Internal Revenue Code and the Treasury Regulations found in 26 C.F.R. The law is so ambiguous that it is "Void for Vagueness" (as section 5.9 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302 concludes) and there is no way for you to determine your liability or even if you are truthfully answering the questions on forms that don't even define the terms they are using. And even if they defined the terms, you couldn't trust them! This is described in our pamphlet:

Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

17 23 Overcoming deliberate roadblocks to using the Nonresident Alien Position

18 23.1 The deception that scares people away from claiming nonresident alien status

19 How does the government trick us into losing our true nonresident alien status? Because the U.S. government knows that 20 all Americans born in the 50 Union states living on nonfederal land are nonresident aliens with respect to the Internal 21 Revenue Code over which they have no jurisdiction to assess Subtitles A, B, and C income taxes, they have devised an
22 ingenious scheme to scare all these sheep, I mean people, into their jurisdiction so they can be abused if they don't pay
23 income taxes they otherwise wouldn't owe. Here's their trick:

- 24 1. They define a flat 30 percent for income from "within the United States" (the federal zone). See 26 U.S.C. Section 25 871\(a\) for the place where this 30 percent tax is defined.
- 26 2. They fool everyone into thinking that they are living in the "United States" by never defining the term on their website 27 or in any of their publications, and denying the proper definition when people question them about it.
- 28 3. They define a lower, graduated tax rate for people who file an IRS Form 1040 which is less for most human beings
29 than the flat 30% you would pay if you continued claiming your true status as a nonresident alien and filing the form
30 1040NR. See 26 U.S.C. Section 1\(b\) for the definition of this graduated tax rate.
- 31 4. They then fill the post office with 1040 forms and don't provide the more correct 1040NR forms and booklets, which is 32 the correct form for most Americans.
- 33 5. They then go around, hand in hand with the American Bar Association, to all the public schools, waving their fists with 34 a lawyer by their side and telling innocent teenagers who are just starting in the workforce that they MUST pay taxes
35 and that they HAVE to file a form 1040 like everyone else. See section 1.11.3 for a description of how they do this,
36 right off the IRS website. They don't tell these innocent kids what filing this form means, which is that once they file
37 this form and get a Socialist Security Number, they are transformed into SLAVES of their own government because 38 they are making an election to treat their income as "effectively connected with a trade or business in the United 39 States", which is a code word for saying that they are a U.S. Congressman domiciled in the District of Columbia!

Once the kids achieve that substandard status, there is no way to deny that the federal courts have jurisdiction over these formerly private citizens, and they are trapped until they revoke their election. Cleverly, the IRS and no one in the government tells them in the 1040 booklet or in anything else they would be likely to read how to revoke that election. Does this sound like the pied piper? Sure does to us!

6. Because people want to save money and pay the lowest tax rate, they file the wrong tax form (the 1040 form instead of the 1040NR) and thereby volunteer into the jurisdiction of the federal government by filing their first 1040 form. The top of the form says they are a “U.S. Individual”, which implies that they are a resident of “United States” federal territory. This means their goose is cooked because now they come under the territorial jurisdiction of the federal courts. Once you sign that 1040 form under penalty of perjury, you become a witness against yourself in violation of your Fifth Amendment rights. You also become a substandard statutory “U.S. citizen” and ward of the federal government, which is a status reserved for SLAVES following the civil war, but not something anyone else wants to be or needs to be. To make things worse, in the process of writing off your children as tax deductions for a tax you don’t owe, you also in effect have to sell your children into slavery too by giving them Social Security Numbers and claiming they are U.S. citizens! Look at the 1040, and you will find that you can’t write off your children unless they have SSN’s and you claim them as “U.S. citizens” under 8 U.S.C. §1401.
7. Since the Fifth Amendment allows us to not be compelled to incriminate ourselves by filling out things we don’t want to put on a tax return, the IRS sets the withholding rate so that most people will get refunds at the end of the year. This provides an incentive for people to file returns and complete them when they otherwise would not. In effect, they have made it into a “privilege” to get our money back which requires us to surrender our privacy and waive our Fifth Amendment rights to get the money owed to us in the refund.
8. After these people are transformed into federal serfs by becoming unwitting “U.S. citizens” (in what we refer to as a conspiracy against rights), if they get out of line, IRS computers harass and intimidate them, treating them in most cases as businesses (look in your IMF file to verify this for yourself) and making up bogus liabilities to fill their IMF file. The IRS also keeps them in line by threatening penalties that only corporations and partnerships, technically, are liable to pay, but they don’t tell you that (see 26 CFR §301.6671-1\(b\) if you don’t believe us) at:

<http://squid.law.cornell.edu/cgi-bin/get-cfr.cgi?TITLE=26&PART=301&SECTION=6671-1&TYPE=TEXT>

Doesn’t this make you mad? It’s a fraud and it’s downright EVIL! It’s all done because the government loves your money more than they respect your constitutional rights. It amounts to a “conspiracy against rights”, which is a crime under 18 U.S.C. §241. We believe it is this very scheme that explains why Congress has put the IRS at arm’s length by not having any federal statute or documented legal delegated authority that traces the activities of the IRS directly back to them. We assert that they do this to evade liability or being prosecuted if the lid ever blows on this organized crime and extortion (RICO) ring. You will learn later in section 7.1.4 that the IRS is actually headquartered out of Puerto Rico. Now do you understand why they call it RICO: The IRS were the first ones to implement this and they became the model for the laws against such extortion.

23.2 Tricks Congress Pulled to Undermine the Nonresident Alien Position

The Nonresident Alien position can be a losing position in federal court if you don’t know what you are doing. Congress knows that the nonresident alien position is a good and legal way to avoid Subtitle A income taxes, so they put two statutory roadblocks in front of patriots who try to use it. We’ll now discuss each of these two roadblocks individually.

26 U.S.C. §871(a) imposes a tax of 30% on income from within the federal United States that is not connected with United States business, which means connected with a “trade or business” in the United States. Most people don’t look any further than that in reading this law. But the more astute readers will look up the definition of “trade or business” in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) and find out that it means “public office”, which means the tax only applies to Congressmen! Throughout section 871, it is emphasized that the 30% tax is imposed on identified activities associated with “sources within the United States” (see 26 U.S.C. §871(a)(1) and (a)(2), which use the term “sources within the United States”, for example). The place we must go in the code to find out about “sources within the United States” is 26 U.S.C. §861. We look there and find the following about income of nonresident aliens from “sources within the United States”:

TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART I > Sec. 861.
Sec. 861. - Income from sources within the United States

(a) Gross income from sources within United States

1 The following items of gross income shall be treated as income from sources within the United States:

2 [...]

3 (3) Personal services

4 Compensation for labor or personal services performed in the United States; except that compensation for
5 labor or services performed in the United States shall not be deemed to be income from 6 sources within the United States if-

7 (A) the labor or services are performed by a nonresident alien individual temporarily present in the United
8 States for a period or periods not exceeding a total of 90 days during the taxable year,

9 (B) such compensation does not exceed $3,000 in the aggregate, and

10 (C) the compensation is for labor or services performed as an employee of or under a contract with -

11 (i) a nonresident alien, foreign partnership, or foreign corporation, not engaged in trade or business
12 within the United States, or

13 (ii) an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States, a domestic partnership, or a domestic
14 corporation, if such labor or services are performed for an office or place of business maintained in a
15 foreign country or in a possession of the United States by such individual, partnership, or corporation.

16 In addition, compensation for labor or services performed in the United States shall not be deemed to 17 be income from sources within the United States if the labor or services are performed by a nonresident
18 alien individual in connection with the individual's temporary presence in the United States as a
19 regular member of the crew of a foreign vessel engaged in transportation between the United States
20 and a foreign country or a possession of the United States.

21 So if you are a nonresident alien American national working in the federal United States for another nonresident alien, then
22 you don't earn "gross income" from "sources within the United States", which means you can't earn "taxable income".
23 You see how Congress twists things in the code to deceive or mislead so as to maximize their revenues? On the one hand
24 they say in section 871 that nonresident aliens owe 30% tax if they are not associated with a "trade or business in the 25 United States" but on the other hand, they say in section 861 that this same person doesn't owe the tax if they are working
26 for another nonresident alien or are not engaged in a "trade or business in the United States". Most of the tricks are hidden
27 in section 861. This is yet one more trick played by that section, and they use this trick hoping you won't know the proper
28 source rules for allocating income and will just assume that "everything" you make is "gross income" and "taxable 29 income". Most of your earnings as a "national of the United States*" and a "nonresident alien", however, won't in fact be 30 "gross income" if you really analyze things using the law.

31 The second roadblock that Congress put in the way of nonresident aliens guarantees that those who don't know what they 32 are doing will lose in federal court. That roadblock is 28 U.S.C. §2201 as follows, and it prevents federal courts from 33 deciding on state and federal citizenship, rights, or status related to these in regards to taxes when cases are heard in federal 34 courts!:

35 United States Code
36 TITLE 28 - JUDICIARY AND JUDICIAL PROCEDURE
37 PART VI - PARTICULAR PROCEEDINGS
38 CHAPTER 151 - DECLARATORY JUDGMENTS
39 Sec. 2201. Creation of remedy

40 (a) In a case of actual controversy within its jurisdiction, except with respect to Federal taxes other than 41 actions brought under section 7428 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, a proceeding under section 505 or 42 1146 of title 11, or in any civil action involving an antidumping or countervailing duty proceeding regarding a 43 class or kind of merchandise of a free trade area country (as defined in section 516A(f)(10) of the Tariff Act of 44 1930), as determined by the administering authority, any court of the United States, upon the filing of an 45 appropriate pleading, may declare the rights and other legal relations of any interested party seeking such 46 declaration, whether or not further relief is or could be sought. Any such declaration shall have the force and 47 effect of a final judgment or decree and shall be reviewable as such.

48 (b) For limitations on actions brought with respect to drug patents see section 505 or 512 of the Federal Food,

2 So in other words, courts are prohibited from declaring your status or rights in the context of federal “taxes”. Below is an
 3 example of one court’s response to a request by a person to be declared a “nontaxpayer”. His request was dismissed for 4 lack of jurisdiction!

5 Specifically, Rowen seeks a declaratory judgment against the United States of America with respect to “whether 6 or not the plaintiff is a taxpayer pursuant to, and/or under 26 U.S.C. § 7701(a)(14).” (See Compl. at 2.) This
 7 Court lacks jurisdiction to issue a declaratory judgment “with respect to Federal taxes other than actions
 8 brought under section 7428 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986,” a code section that is not at issue in the 9 instant action. See 28 U.S.C. § 2201; see also Hughes v. United States, 953 F.2d. 531, 536-537 (9th Cir.
 10 1991) (affirming dismissal of claim for declaratory relief under § 2201 where claim concerned question of tax
 11 liability). Accordingly, defendant’s motion to dismiss is hereby GRANTED, and the instant action is hereby 12 DISMISSED.
 13 [Rowen v. U.S., 05-3766MMC. (N.D.Cal. 11/02/2005)]

14 This means that if you claim to be a “nonresident alien” for the purposes of the income tax, you are not subject to the 15 income tax laws and the judge can’t argue with you and they have to accept what is on your (hopefully “1040NR” and not 16 “1040” !) tax return, even if the IRS challenges that status! It also means that claims based on constitutional rights cannot 17 be claimed in federal court if they are done in the context of “taxes” only! We know from reading the case of Downes v.
 18 Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901) that there is only one place where Congress can by legislation suspend the enforcement of the 19 Bill of Rights or the Constitution, and that is only within the federal zone against persons domiciled there. This provides a 20 clue to us where the Internal Revenue Code applies, and it isn’t inside states of the Union if the land isn’t owned by the 21 federal government!

22 So how do we get a court to rule on our status as a “nonresident alien” in such a way that the federal court has to accept this
 23 status? Well:

24 1. We know that the above act can really only apply to franchisees called “taxpayers” and that to apply it against a person
 25 who is NOT a franchisee called a “taxpayer” would be a tort by the judge. Therefore, WE declare that we are a
 26 “nontaxpayer” and then asked the judge to remain silent or dismiss the case if he agrees with us or offer proof on the 27 record if he thinks we are NOT. This is the approach that we take with the following form on our website:

Federal Pleading/Motion/Petition Attachment, Litigation Tool #01.002
<http://sedm.org/Litigation/LitIndex.htm>

28 2. We know that the above act can only apply to persons domiciled on federal territory and if you are not domiciled on 29 federal territory as a nonresident alien, then it doesn’t apply to you. Federal law does not apply inside a state of the 30 Union to anything other than federal property. Therefore, when we ask, we emphasize that we are nonresidents to 31 which the act does not apply and that we are protected by the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act. If he dismisses our 32 case, he will have then have to find some other ground to dismiss.
 33 3. It is best done preferably in a state court or in a federal court but not in the context of taxes. For instance, if we petition
 34 the court for a declaratory judgment regarding our citizenship status and don’t mention taxes in the pleading and do it
 35 before and separate from the tax trial, then the judge hearing your tax trial has to accept the findings. Don’t be 36 discouraged, however. There is a way around this statutory trap. Below is the way around the roadblock:

37 While income tax arguments are barred under this rule - actions proving lack of citizenship, domicile, and residence are 38 specifically allowed. The issue is not income tax but jurisdiction over the person. Lack of jurisdiction is proved by 39 F.R.Civ.P. Rule 44 and Rule 44.1 - You go to the proper jurisdiction to resolve the matter by taking the following steps:

40 1. Acquire domicile and residence in a common law jurisdiction.
 41 2. File notice in the clerk’s office in state and federal courts.
 42 3. Argue this in Federal court using as evidence the filings filed at common law, state court and federal courts.
 43 4. Appeal at common law under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60 last line “by independent action”.

44 You are then not arguing jurisdiction in front of that court - you are using evidence to prove that jurisdiction already exists
 45 in another court. Read 28 U.S.C. §2201 and it states that it must be argued in the proper manner - and that is by not letting 46 the U.S. court decide that issue - go to common law and plead condition precedent under F.R.C.P. rule 8.(The citizenship 47 was already decided before the action began).

48 This argument is in agreement with all of the cites herein and the argument that dual citizenship can exist. State law tells

1 you the procedure for noticing the state courts that you have acquired a new residence and domicile.

2 23.3 How to Avoid Jeopardizing Your Nonresident Citizen or Nonresident Alien Status

3 If you are going to claim “nonresident alien” status, then you must do the following to ensure that you NEVER jeopardize
4 that status, or you could incur unwanted additional income tax liability:

5 1. If you live in the United States (the “federal zone”), you should always vote by absentee ballot in all national 6 elections. IRS Publication 54 for the year 2000 states on page 13 that:

7 “Effect of voting by absentee ballot.

8 *If you are a U.S. citizen living abroad, you can vote by absentee ballot in any election held in the United States
9 without risking your status as a bona fide resident of a foreign country. However, if you give information to the 10 local election officials about the nature and length of your stay abroad that does not match the information you
11 give for the bona fide residence test, the information given in connection with absentee voting will be 12 considered in determining your status, but will not necessarily be conclusive.”*

13 2. When or if you register to vote, you must be VERY careful not to sacrifice or confuse your citizenship status. Some 14 states make it mandatory on the voter registration form that you claim to be a “U.S. citizen”. They want to pull you
15 into the federal zone so they can tax you and if they litigate against you for income tax evasion, they will use your
16 voter registration form as proof that you are a “U.S. citizen” under 8 U.S.C. §1401 born in the federal zone. California
17 does this (see the Revenue and Taxation Code section 6017 for a definition of the term “This State” and “State of” for 18 further details). Therefore, when you register to vote and must claim to be a “U.S. citizen” to get the “privilege” to 19 vote (this is a scandal, if you ask me!), clarify which of the three “United States” you are claiming to be a citizen of as 20 follows:

21 2.1. Change the term “United States” to add the word “of America” throughout the voter registration form.
22 2.2. Mention in an area on the form the supreme Court case of Hooven & Allison Co. v. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652
23 (1945), and the three definitions of “United States”.
24 2.3. Mention that of the three definitions, when you say you are a “U.S. citizen”, it means that you are a citizen of 25 “United States the country” or the “50 several states” and not the federal zone area of the United States.
26 2.4. If they won’t accept your changes above, then withdraw your voter registration. You should do all three of 27 the above immediately after or preferably before you file your W-8 form to become a nonresident alien so that
28 you have legal certified proof that you put the state on notice that you were NOT a federal U.S. citizen under 8
29 U.S.C. §1401.
30 2.5. If you have to defend yourself in court because you claimed to be a “U.S. citizen” on your voter registration
31 and there is confusion or misinterpretation over the use of the term “United States”, explain which of the three 32 definitions you meant (i.e. U.S.* or U.S. but NOT U.S. citizen) and quote the case of *Spreckels Sugar
33 Refining Co. v. McClain*, 192 U.S. 397 (1904) as proof that the dispute should be resolved in your favor:

34 *“Keeping in mind the well-settled rule that the citizen is exempt from taxation unless the same is imposed by
35 clear and unequivocal language, and that where the construction of a tax law is doubtful, the doubt is to be 36 resolved in favor of those upon whom the tax is sought to be laid.”*
37 [Spreckels Sugar Refining Co. v. McClain, 192 U.S. 397 (1904)]

38 3. While you are living abroad, or outside the federal United States (the “federal zone”), you must be consistent in
39 stating to the foreign country, or state of the 50 states of the Union that you are domiciled in that foreign state but are 40 not a “resident” under the Internal Revenue Code. Remember from section 4.10 earlier that the only people who are 41 “residents” are “aliens” under the Internal Revenue Code! If you claim not to be domiciled in that “foreign state” and 42 if the authorities of that non federal zone entity exclude you from their income taxes, then you will lose your tax-
43 exempt status. IRS Publication 54 says the following in that regard on page 13 of the year 2000 version:

44 “Statement to foreign authorities.

45 You are not considered a bona fide resident of a foreign country if you make a statement to the authorities of 46 that country that you are not a resident of that country and the authorities hold that you are not subject to their 47 income tax laws as a resident.

48 *If you have made such a statement and the authorities have not made a final decision on your status, you are
49 not considered to be a bona fide resident of that foreign country .To keep your status as a bona fide resident of*

1 a foreign country, you must have a clear intention of returning from such trips, without unreasonable delay, to
2 your foreign residence or to a new bona fide residence in another foreign country.”

4 23.4 “Will I Lose My Military Security Clearance or Passport or Social Security Benefits by 5 Becoming a Nonresident Alien or a ‘national’?”

6 The answer to this question is emphatically no to all three. The term “nonresident alien” on the IRS Form W-8BEN (called
7 a “Certificate of Foreign Status”) is a “word of art” that only has meaning within the context of the Internal Revenue Code
8 and nowhere else. You can still get a U.S.A. passport, maintain your military security clearance, serve in the military, and
9 collect social security benefits based on what you paid in because you were born in the United States of America and are a
10 “national”, and Constitutional but not statutory citizen under federal law. Your birth certificate proves that. The only thing
11 that filing a W-8 or W-8BEN and amended SS-5 form and becoming a “nonresident alien” do in the eyes of the IRS is 12 notify the IRS that you don’t live in the federal zone, aren’t a statutory federal or U.S. citizen” under 8 U.S.C. §1401, and 13 aren’t liable for federal income taxes under 26 U.S.C. §1 (and the implementing regulations in 26 CFR § 1.1-1).

14 To further investigate this matter, we looked at the U.S. Navy’s directives on this subject. SECNAVINST 5510.30A
15 (Secretary of the Navy Instruction 5510.30A) entitled Department of the Navy Personnel Security Program, talks about the 16 citizenship requirements for getting a U.S. government security clearance. Here is what it says on page I-1 of Appendix I:

17 1. Only United States citizens are eligible for a security clearance, assignment to sensitive duties or access
18 to classified information. When compelling reasons exist, in furtherance of the DON mission, including special
19 expertise, a non-U.S. citizen may be assigned to sensitive duties (see chapter 5) or granted a Limited Access 20 Authorization (see chapter 9) under special procedures.

21 When this instruction refers to U.S. citizens, it makes no distinction between those who are U.S. citizens by
22 birth, those who are U.S. nationals, those who have derived U.S. citizenship or those who acquired it through 23 naturalization. For the purpose of issuance of a security clearance, citizens of the Federated States of 24 Micronesia (FSM) and the Republic of the Marshall Islands are considered U.S. citizens.
25 [emphasis added]

26 You can view the above instruction yourself at the following web address:

27 <http://neds.nebt.daps.mil/551030.htm>

28 We also searched the Social Security Administration (SSA) website (<http://www.ssa.gov>) for information about whether a
29 distinction is made between the treatment of “U.S. nationals” and “U.S. citizens”. The Program Operation Manual System
30 (POMS) maintained by the SSA contains the following on this subject, in section GN 00303.001 entitled “Requirement of 31 U.S. Citizenship or Appropriate Alien Status”:

32 GN 00303.001 Requirement of U.S. Citizenship or Appropriate Alien Status

33 A. Policy Principle

34 An individual must be a U.S. citizen or have the appropriate alien status to be eligible for the following
35 benefits:

36 • Benefits at age 72 for uninsured individuals;
37 • Supplemental Security Income; and
38 • Health Insurance or Supplemental Medical Insurance for uninsured individuals.

39 ...

40 C. Operating Policy - Citizenship

41 “U.S. Nationals are treated as U.S. citizens for SSA purposes”
42 (see <http://policy.ssa.gov/poms.nsf/lnx/0200303001>)

1 The IRS Form W-7, “Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number” confirms the above conclusions. If 2 you examine this form at:

3 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRS/IRSFormW7.pdf>

4 you will see that the top of the form says:

5 “For use by individuals who are not U.S. citizens or nationals”.

6 The only way you can therefore get a Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) to replace a Social Security Number is if you
7 don’t otherwise qualify for Social Security as a “U.S. citizen” or “national”. This form, however, could be used for
8 artificial entities, like businesses or corporations. For instance, if your children didn’t want SSN’s, then when they reach
9 age 18, they could apply for a fictitious business name with the name of the business being their real name but in all caps,
10 and then apply for a TIN for the business and use that instead of a real SSN. They could then discontinue the business after 11 they get what they want by giving the number, or they could terminate the business and the number, and renew the next 12 year with a different number. This is a sneaky way to avoid getting permanently branded or “dog-tagged” by our dishonest 13 and covetous government.

14 The SSA website also defines “U.S. nationals” incorrectly in section RS 02001.010 as follows:

15 “RS 02001.010 United States Nationals

16 ...

17 B. DEFINITION

18 A U.S. national is a U.S. citizen or a person who, although not a U.S. citizen, owes permanent allegiance to the 19 United States. The only persons who are U.S. nationals but not U.S.
20 citizens are American Samoans and natives of Swains Island.

22 [Social Security Administration, Program Operations Manual System (POMS), Section RS 02001.010,
23 emphasis added]

24 Before you get carried away with the above contradiction, consider the following facts:

- 25 1. The Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302 shows in section 4.11.6 earlier that there are actually two types of “nationals”: “nationals but not citizens of the United States at birth” under 8 U.S.C. §1408, and another called a “state national”/“national” defined under 8 U.S.C. §1101\(a\)\(21\). Only one of these two types of “nationals of the United States” are subject to federal jurisdiction. The other one, the person born in a state of the Union, is not subject to federal jurisdiction but is formally recognized in 8 U.S.C. §1101\(a\)\(21\). The “national” or “state national” can’t be subject to federal law, because the Constitution doesn’t confer to the federal government the authority to determine the citizenship status of persons born in states of the Union, which are outside its jurisdiction and “foreign” with respect to federal jurisdiction.
- 33 2. The IRS code supersedes the SSA manual as it pertains to the collection of taxes, as confirmed in POMS section
34 entitled “RS 01801.020 Responsibilities of IRS and SSA” located at:
<http://policy.ssa.gov/poms.nsf/36f3b2ee954f0075852568c100630558/e7fe4ff1331e2ccb85256a5c004e6120?OpenDocument>
- 37 3. The Social Security Administration’s POMS manual above is NOT LAW, but only guidance which cannot be 38 enforced in court. The SSA can lie through their teeth on this manual and never be held accountable for that lie,
39 because the manual is only directory in nature. The same is true of the IRS regarding their publications, including 40 their Internal Revenue Manual. Here is the way one court put it:

41 “Rules contained in the Internal Revenue Manual, even if they were codified in Code of Federal Regulations,
42 did not have the force and effect of law, and therefore, district court, in Government’s action to collect
43 assessment, correctly precluded defendant from introducing evidence concerned these provisions.”
44 [United States v. Horne, 714 F.2d. 206 (1983)]

- 45 4. The only thing you can or should rely on is the actual law itself (the statutes and their implementing regulations)

1 and the rulings of the Supreme Court.

2 It is very important to update your “U.S. citizenship” status as outlined in section 2.5.3.13 of the Sovereignty Forms and
3 Instructions Manual, Form #10.005 (<http://sedm.org/ItemInfo/Ebooks/SovFormsInstr/SovFormsInstr.htm>) before you begin
4 your administrative battle with the government, because this will significantly bolster your legal position and provide
5 important and irrefutable evidence of your position by establishing evidence to prove their lack of jurisdiction over you.
6 We also advise getting a notarized copy of your birth certificate from the county recorder or area where you were born. If
7 the IRS wants to challenge you on your nonresident alien or citizenship status, you will need proof of that status. Examine
8 your birth certificate, security clearance, etc carefully to ensure that they don’t say you were born in the federal zone. If
9 you were born in a military hospital, a federal base, or a federal territory or possession, or in the District of Columbia
10 (because, for instance, you were in a military family), and your birth certificate says so, you may need to abandon ties to the 11 federal zone by renounce statutory 8 U.S.C. §1401 citizenship to become a “national” under 8 U.S.C. §1101\(a\)\(21\). We
12 emphasize here as was also done in section 4.11.10 the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302: You DON’T need to expatriate
13 your constitutional citizenship or “nationality” in order to become a “nonresident alien”. You already are one. Please don’t 14 expatriate your nationality in order to achieve “nonresident alien” status because the government will slander you and make 15 you look like a traitor against your country in front of a jury! For further information on expatriation, we refer you to the 16 following:

19 24 How people are compelled to become “residents” or prevented from receiving
20 all of the benefits of being a “nonresident”²⁷

21 Based on the foregoing discussion, it ought to be obvious that the government doesn't want you to know any of the 22 following facts:

23 1. That all income taxation is based primarily upon domicile.
24 2. That domicile is a voluntary choice.
25 3. That because they need your consent to choose a domicile, they can't tax you without your consent.
26 4. That domicile is based on the coincidence of physical presence and intent to permanently remain in a place.
27 5. That unless you choose a domicile within the jurisdiction of the government that has general jurisdiction where you
28 live, they have no authority to institute income taxation upon you.
29 6. That no one can determine your domicile except you.
30 7. That if you don't want the protection of government, you can fire them and handle your own protection, by changing
31 your domicile to a different place or choosing no domicile at all. This then relieves you of an obligation to pay income 32 taxes to support the protection that you no longer want or need.

33 Therefore, governments have a vested interest in hiding the relationship of “domicile” to income taxation by removing it or 34 at least obfuscating it in their “codes”. A number of irreconcilable conflicts of law are created by COMPELLING
35 EVERYONE to have either a specific domicile or an earthly domicile. For instance:

36 1. If the First Amendment gives us a right to freely associate and also implies a right to DISASSOCIATE, how can we be
37 compelled to associate with a “state” or the people in the locality where we live without violating the First
38 Amendment? It may not be presumed that we moved to a place because we wanted to associate with the people there.
39 2. Domicile creates a duty of allegiance, according to the cite above. All allegiance MUST be voluntary. How can the 40 state compel allegiance by compelling a person to have or to choose an earthly domicile? What gives them the right to 41 insist that the only legitimate type of domicile is associated with a government? Why can't it be a church, a religious 42 group, or simply an association of people who want to have their own police force or protection service separated from 43 the state? Since the only product that government delivers is “protection”, why can't people have the right to fire the 44 government and provide their own protection with the tax money they would have paid the government?
45 3. When one chooses a domicile, they create a legal or contractual obligation to support a specific government, based on 46 the above. By compelling everyone to choose an earthly domicile whose object is a specific government or state, isn't ²⁷ Adapted from Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002; <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>.

1 the state interfering with our right to contract by compelling us to contract with a specific government for our
2 protection? The Constitution, Article 1, Section 10 says no state shall make any law impairing the obligation of 3 contracts. Implicit in this right to contract is the right NOT to contract. Every right implies the opposite right.
4 Therefore, how can everyone be compelled to have a domicile without violating their right to contract?
5 4. The U.S. Supreme Court also said that income taxation based on domicile is “quasi-contractual” in nature.

21 The “quasi-contract” they are referring to above is your voluntary choice of “domicile”, no doubt. How can they 22 compel such a contract if the person who is the object of the compulsion refuses to “do business” with the state and
23 also refuses to avail themselves of any of the benefits of membership in said state? Wouldn’t that amount to slavery,
24 involuntary servitude, and violate the Thirteenth Amendment prohibition against involuntary servitude?

25 Do you see how subtle this domicile thing is? It's a very sneaky way to draw you into the world system and force you to 26 adopt and comply with earthly laws and a government that are hostile towards and foreign to God's laws. All of the above
27 deceptions and ruses are designed to keep you enslaved and entrapped to support a government that does nothing for you 28 and which you may even want to abandon or disassociate with.

29 24.1 Why it is UNLAWFUL for a non-citizen national to become a “resident alien”

30 Americans domiciled in states of the Union:

- 31 1. Are non-citizen nationals under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. 1452.
- 32 2. File 1040 usually.
- 33 3. Commit fraud and misrepresent their status as resident aliens by filing IRS form 1040. The 1040 form is only for 34 those with a domicile on federal territory that is no part of a state of the Union and who are “resident aliens”. Even 35 statutory “U.S. citizens” under 26 U.S.C. §911 are “resident aliens” in relation to the foreign country they are 36 temporarily in while abroad. All “taxpayers”, in fact, are aliens pursuant to 26 CFR §1.144101(c)(3).

37 The ONLY way for a “nonresident alien” to lawfully become a “resident alien” is to make an election to do so as a person
38 married to a statutory but not constitutional “citizen of the United States” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 and to do so under the 39 authority of 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h).

40 Some of our readers, in seeking to justify how they can lawfully become “taxpayers” and Social Security franchise
41 participants, have pointed to the language at 26 U.S.C. §7701(b) as a justification for why and how a “nonresident alien”
42 who is not an “individual” can lawfully elect to become a “resident alien” To wit:

43 26 U.S.C. §7701(b):

44 (b) Definition of resident alien and nonresident alien

45 (1) In general

1 For purposes of this title (other than subtitle B)—

2 (A) Resident alien

3 An alien individual shall be treated as a resident of the United States with respect to any calendar year if (and 4 only if) such individual meets the requirements of clause (i), (ii), or (iii):

5 (i) Lawfully admitted for permanent residence Such individual is a lawful permanent resident of the United 6 States at any time during such calendar year.

7 Paragraph (b)(6) in the above statute defines "lawful permanent resident" as follows:

8 (6) Lawful permanent resident

9 For purposes of this subsection, an individual is a lawful permanent resident of the United States at any time 10 if—

11 (A) such individual has the status of having been lawfully accorded the privilege of residing permanently in 12 the United States as an immigrant in accordance with the immigration laws, and

13 (B) such status has not been revoked (and has not been administratively or judicially determined to have been 14 abandoned).

15 Notice that it DOES NOT SAY:

16 Such individual HAS BEEN lawfully accorded the privilege of residing permanently in the United States.

17 It DOES SAY:

18 Such individual HAS THE STATUS OF HAVING BEEN accorded the privilege . . .

19 Those invoking the above statute to justify an election to become a “resident alien” by a non-citizen national will then say:

20 This is a HUGE difference. If a nonresident alien submits resident forms unwittingly, he therefore obtains
21 administratively the STATUS of resident, and thus meets the legal definition of paragraph (6). If he meets the 22 definition of paragraph (6), then he also meets the definition of (b)(1)(A)(i) above, and can thus be legally
23 treated as if a resident alien for the purposes of banking, and submitting form W-9 as a contractor. This of 24 course is done unwittingly, but it is legal.

25 I believe this is the legal mechanism that allows the masses to legally wrongfully represent themselves to 26 financial institutions and payers while indemnifying the acceptance agent . . . which is the whole objective
27 anyway. It's my personal feeling that these guys are slick enough to not blatantly do something that big that 28 would be ALL-OUT illegal.

29 I'm not trying to walk the tightrope here and have it both ways. But as I have said in the past, I have seen some 30 inconsistencies in application of the law (my opinion) that can be labeled as "curve fitting." An officer in the 31 military earns "wages" and is required to participate in Social Security. There is no way around that.
32 Furthermore, the code and regs clearly state that if you have a SSN, you may NOT obtain a TIN, but you MAY
33 change the status of the number. I have no problem paying my lawful tax. And I don't have a problem receiving
34 a military pension. I don't like Social Security as I understand how the system is implemented. But that doesn't 35 relieve me of my obligations under law, it is on the shoulders of those who engineered the scheme.

36 If a nonresident alien receives "United States" payments . . . he better be paying Federal Income Tax on them.
37 That is my personal opinion and conclusion. I have not seen ONE thing that relieves a nonresident alien of that 38 burden.

39 The above logic of justifying how a “nonresident alien” who is a non-citizen national domiciled in a state of the Union can
40 lawfully become a statutory “resident alien” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b) is, in fact, unlawful and in most cases a crime
41 for the average American. A non-citizen national pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452 domiciled in a
42 state of the Union and not lawfully occupying a public office in the District of Columbia as required by 4 U.S.C. §72
43 cannot lawfully engage in the “trade or business” franchise or to elect to be treated as a “resident alien” because of the 44 following considerations:

1. The term "lawful permanent resident" is defined in Title 8 and it doesn't include anyone born in a state of the Union
2 and certainly nowhere expressly includes a "non-citizen national" pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C.
3 §1452. Yes, we agree that a non-citizen national is a statutory "alien" within the meaning of the I.R.C., but there is no
4 way for him/her within Title 8 to become a "lawful permanent resident". If you disagree, show us someone born in a
5 state who told the whole truth about that fact to the Dept. of State and got a Green Card issued to them.

6. 2. The rights of people domiciled in states of the Union are INALIENABLE according to the Declaration of
7 Independence, which is organic law. Therefore, they can't be contracted or bargained away or converted into a
8 privilege in relation to a REAL, de jure government. The only way around this problem are for the judge/IRS to admit
9 that they don't represent a real government but a private corporate franchise. Only by being a private corporation and
10 acting in a private capacity can they lawfully contract in that way with you if you are domiciled in a state of the Union
11 protected by the organic law. We know this is the case, but we also know that they don't ever want to admit that.

12. 3. Nowhere is the status of "resident alien" declared or expressly conferred by simply filing IRS Form 1040. The IRS has 13 a hard time even telling the truth about who the form is really used by. The only place you can go to find out that the 14 1040 is a "U.S. person", "U.S. citizen", and "U.S. resident" form is IRS Document 7130. They don't put that in the 15 1040 Booklet or on the form. It's a scam because they are digging a hole and hoping that your own false presumptions
16 will cause you to fall into it. Even if you raise the issue that the 1040 form is ONLY for resident aliens and not citizens
17 unless abroad, they routinely call you a crack pot. Therefore, if you asked the IRS whether you can change your status
18 from being a non-citizen national to a resident alien by filing form 1040, they would say no. Your hypothesis can't 19 therefore be true.

20. 4. You can't be a "resident" in a place without a physical presence there. The non-citizen national in the state who made
21 the UNLAWFUL election to be treated as a statutory "resident alien" is committing perjury because the physical place
22 where he/she lives didn't change. In reality, all he/she did was unlawfully elect himself into a "public office" by filling
23 out a tax form and sending a bribe/kickback to someone to treat him like a public officer. That, too is a CRIME. 18 U.S.C. §211 makes it a crime to bribe someone to get them appointed into a public office, and probably everyone in the 24 IRS could and probably should be prosecuted for THAT crime, because all "taxpayers" are public officers. Under 25 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b), the "taxpayer" is representing an office with a domicile in the District of 26 Columbia, but he never physically moved there so technically he CAN'T be a statutory "resident alien" under 26
27 U.S.C. §7701(b). Furthermore, aliens are NOT permitted to serve in public offices, hence, even if he was lawfully
28 appointed, he is serving ILLEGALLY. EVERYTHING they are doing right now is illegal and a SCAM from the get 29 go.

31 What the above reader is trying to do is come up with a way for a sovereign party protected by the Constitution who CAN'T 32 lawfully bargain away ANY right in relation to government to waive sovereign immunity under 28 U.S.C. §1605 and 33 change his status from a protected party to a privileged statutory "resident alien". It can't be done because his/her rights are 34 INALIENABLE in relation to a REAL, DE JURE government. Only those not protected by the Constitution can do so,
35 which means they fit one of the following criteria:

36. 1. They are domiciled on federal territory not protected by the Constitution. The District of Columbia IS protected by the 37 Constitution because it was inside of Virginia before it was ceded and was protected by the Constitution at the time it
38 was ceded, and according to the U.S. Supreme Court in Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901) the protection of the 39 Constitution against that land can't be removed by any Act of Congress. That is because rights are unalienable and can't 40 be bargained away, which is further confirmation of what we are saying.

41. 2. They are in a foreign country (other than a state of the Union) under 26 U.S.C. §911 AND continue to maintain a 42 domicile in the statutory "United States" on federal territory. They don't enjoy the protections of the Constitution while 43 abroad, as agreed by the U.S. Supreme Court in Cook v. Tait, 265 U.S. 47 (1924).

44 The average American doesn't satisfy either of the above two conditions, and certainly doesn't while in a constitutional but
45 not statutory "state" applying for a bank account. Consequently, the ONLY way to truthfully describe what banks are doing
46 by allowing non-citizen nationals domiciled in a state to open bank accounts as statutory "resident aliens" with a Taxpayer
47 Identification Number" is that they are helping depositors commit the following crimes:

48. 1. Impersonating a statutory but not constitutional "U.S. citizen". 18 U.S.C. §911.

49. 2. Impersonating a public officer. 18 U.S.C. §912. All public offices can be exercised ONLY in the District of Columbia
50 and NOT elsewhere and they don't work in the District of Columbia as required by 4 U.S.C. §72.

51. 3. Conspiracy to defraud the "United States". 18 U.S.C. §287. Everyone participating in a public benefit who does not in 52 fact qualify because not a public officer in the government is committing a fraud upon the United States.

53. 4. Filing false information returns. 26 U.S.C. §§7206, 7207. They file information returns against depositors and all these

1 are false because the depositors do not lawfully occupy a public office and therefore are NOT engaged in the "trade or 2 business" franchise as required by 26 U.S.C. §6041(a).

3 5. Fraud in connection with computers. 18 U.S.C. §1030. All their account holder records are knowingly fraudulent
4 because they misrepresent the status of nearly all their depositors.

5 6. Bribing public officials. 18 U.S.C. §201. Taxes paid by those not lawfully occupying a public office and paid to those 6 in the District of Columbia who ARE public officers is bribery of public officials.

7 24.2 How the tax code compels choice of domicile

8 The government has compelled domicile or interfered with receiving the benefits of your choice by any of the following
9 means:

10 1. Nowhere in Internal Revenue Code is the word "domicile" admitted to be the source of the government's jurisdiction
11 to impose an income tax, even though the U.S. Supreme Court admitted this in Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, 347
12 U.S. 340 (1954). The word "domicile", in fact, is only used in two sections of the entire 9,500 page Internal Revenue
13 Code, Title 26. This is no accident, but a very devious way for the government to avoid getting into arguments with 14 persons who it is accusing of being "taxpayers". It avoids these arguments by avoiding showing Americans the easiest
15 way to challenge federal jurisdiction, which is demanding proof from the government required by 5 U.S.C. §556(d),
16 who is the moving party, that you maintain a domicile on federal territory. The two sections below are the only places
17 where domicile is mentioned:
18 1.1. 26 U.S.C. §7448(j)(1)(B)(vi): Annuities to surviving spouses and dependent children of judges.
19 1.2. 26 U.S.C. §6091: Defines where returns shall be submitted in the case of deceased "taxpayers", which is the 20 "domicile" of the decedent when he died.
21 2. They renamed the word "domicile" on government tax forms. They did this so that income taxation "appears" to be
22 based entirely on physical presence, when in fact is also requires voluntary consent as well. If you knew that the 23 government needed your consent to become a "taxpayer", then probably everyone would "un-volunteer" and the 24 government would be left scraping for pennies. Below are some examples of other names they gave to "domicile":
25 2.1. "permanent address"
26 2.2. "permanent residence"
27 2.3. "residence": defined above, and only applying to nonresident aliens. There is no definition of "residence"
28 anywhere in the I.R.C. in the case of a "citizen". Below is how Volume 28 of the Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.)
29 legal encyclopedia, Domicile, describes the distinction between "residence" and "domicile":

30
31 Corpus Juris Secundum
32 §4 Domicile and Residence Distinguished

33 b. Use of Terms in Statutes

34 The terms "domicile" and "residence," as used in statutes, are commonly, although not necessarily, construed
35 as synonymous. Whether the term "residence," as used in a statute, will be construed as having the meaning of 36 "domicile," or the term "domicile" construed as "residence," depends on the purpose of the statute and the 37 nature of the subject matter, as well as the context in which the term is used. 32 It has been declared that the 38 terms "residence" and "domicile" are almost universally used interchangeably in statute, and that since 39 domicile and legal residence are synonymous, the statutory rules for determining the place of residence are the 40 rules for determining domicile.34 However, it has been held that "residence," when used in statutes, is 41 generally interpreted by the courts as meaning "domicile," but with important exception.

42 Accordingly, whenever the terms "residence" and "domicile" are used in connection with subjects of domestic 43 policy, the terms are equivalent, as they also are, generally, where a statute prescribes residence as a
44 qualification for the enjoyment of a privilege or the exercise of a franchise. "Residence" as used in various 45 particular statutes has been considered synonymous with "domicile." 39 However, the terms are not
46 necessarily synonymous.40

47 [28 Corpus Juris Secundum, Domicile, §4 Domicile and Resident Distinguished]

48 3. By telling you that you MUST have a "domicile". For instance, the Volume 28 of the Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.)
49 section on "Domicile" says the following on this subject:

50
51 Corpus Juris Secundum
52 Domicile, §5 Necessity and Number

53 "It is a settled principle that every person must have a domicile somewhere.3 The law permits no individual
54 to be without a domicile,42 and an individual is never without a domicile somewhere.13 Domicile is a

1 continuing thing, and from the moment a person is born he must, at all times, have a domicile .”
2 [28 Corpus Juris Secundum, Domicile, §5 Necessity and Number]
6 Corpus Juris Secundum
7 §9 Domicile by Operation of Law

8 “Whenever a person does not fix a domicile for himself, the law will fix one for him in accordance with the facts
9 and circumstances of the case; 12 and an infant’s domicile will be fixed by operation of law where it cannot be 10 determined from that of the parents.73”
11 /28 Corpus Juris Secundum, Domicile, §9 Domicile by Operation of Law]

12 Indirectly, what they are suggesting in the above by FORCING you to have a domicile is that:

- 13 3.1. You cannot choose God as your sole Protector, but MUST have an earthly protector who cannot be yourself.
- 14 3.2. Although the First Amendment gives you the right to freely associate, it does not give you the right to disassociate 15 with ALL governments. This is an absurdity.
- 16 3.3. Government has a monopoly on protection and that individuals are not allowed to fire the government and provide 17 their own protection, either individually or collectively.
- 18 4. By inventing new words that allow them to avoid mentioning “domicile” in their vague “codes” while giving you the 19 impression that an obligation exists that actually is consensual. For instance, in 26 U.S.C. §911 is the section of the 20 I.R.C. entitled “Citizens or residents of the United States living abroad”. This section identifies the income tax
21 liabilities of persons domiciled in the “United States” (federal zone) who are living temporarily abroad. We showed 22 earlier that if they have a domicile abroad, then they cannot be either “citizens” or “residents” under the I.R.C., because 23 domicile is a prerequisite for being either. In that section, they very deceptively:
24 4.1. Use the word “abode” in 26 U.S.C. §911(d)(3) to describe one’s domicile so as to remove the requirement for 25 “intent” and “consent” from consideration of the subject, even though they have no authority to ignore this
26 requirement for consent in the case of anything but an “alien”.
27 4.2. Don’t even use the word “domicile” at all, and refuse to acknowledge that what “citizens” or “residents” both have 28 in common is a “domicile” within the United States. They did this to preserve the illusion that even after one
29 changes their domicile to a foreign country while abroad, the federal tax liability continues, when in fact, it
30 legally is not required to. After domicile is changed, those Americans who changed it while abroad then are no
31 longer called “citizens” under federal law, but rather “nationals” and “nonresident aliens”.
32 4.3. They invented a new word called a “tax home”, as if it were a substitute for “domicile”, when in fact it is not. A
33 “tax home” is defined in 26 U.S.C. §911 as a place where a person who has a temporary presence abroad treats
34 himself or herself as a privileged “resident” in the foreign country but still also maintains a privileged “resident”
35 and “domicile” status in the “United States”.

37 TITLE 26 > Subtitle A > CHAPTER 1 > Subchapter N > PART III > Subpart B > § 911
38 § 911. Citizens or residents of the United States living abroad

39 (d) Definitions and special rules For purposes of this section—

40 (3) Tax home

41 The term “tax home” means, with respect to any individual, such individual’s home for purposes of section 162
42 (a)(2) (relating to traveling expenses while away from home). An individual shall not be treated as having a
43 tax home in a foreign country for any period for which his abode [domicile] is within the United States
44 federal zone].

45 The only way the government can maintain your status as a “taxpayer” is to perpetuate you in a “privileged” state,
46 so they simply don’t offer any options to leave the privileged state by refusing to admit to you that the terms
47 “citizen” and “resident” presume you made a voluntary choice of domicile within their jurisdiction. I.R.C. section
48 162 mentioned above is the section for privileged deductions, and the only persons who can take deductions are 49 those engaged in the privileged “trade or business” excise taxable franchise. Therefore, the only person who 50 would derive any benefit from deductions is a person with a domicile in the “United States” (federal 51 government/territory) and who has earnings from that place which are connected with a “trade or business”, which 52 means U.S. government (corporation) source income as a “public officer”.

54 24.3 How the Legal Encyclopedia compels choice of domicile

55 Even the legal encyclopedia tries to hide the nature of domicile. For instance, Volume 28 of the Corpus Juris Secundum

1 (C.J.S.) at:

2 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/CitesByTopic/Domicile-28CJS-20051203.pdf>

3 which we quoted in the previous section does not even mention the requirement for “allegiance” as part of domicile or the 4 fact that allegiance must be voluntary and not compelled, even though the U.S. Supreme Court said this was an essential
5 part of it:

6 *“Since the Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence
7 creates universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen.
8 The latter obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter.”*
9 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

10 The legal encyclopedia in the above deliberately and maliciously omits mention of any of the following key concepts, even 11 though the U.S. Supreme Court has acknowledged elements of them as we have shown:

12 1. That allegiance that is the foundation of domicile must be voluntary and cannot be coerced.
13 2. That external factors such as the withdrawal of one’s right to conduct commerce for failure to give allegiance causes
14 domicile choice to no longer be voluntary.
15 3. That a choice of domicile constitutes an exercise of your First Amendment right of freedom of association and that a 16 failure to associate with a specific government is an exercise of your right of freedom from compelled association.
17 4. That you retain all your constitutional rights even WITHOUT choosing a domicile within a specific government
18 because rights attach to the land you are standing on and not the civil status you choose by exercising your right to 19 associate and becoming a member of a “state” or municipality.

20 The result of maliciously refusing to acknowledge the above concepts is a failure to acknowledge the foundation of all just 21 authority of every government on earth, which is the consent of the governed mentioned in our Declaration of 22 Independence.

23 *“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator
24 with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness--That to
25 secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of 26 the governed. --That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the 27 People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and 28 organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.”*
29 [Declaration of Independence]

30 A failure to acknowledge that requirement results in a complete destruction of the sovereignty of the people, because the 31 basis of all your sovereignty is that no one can do anything to you without your consent, unless you injured the equal rights
32 of others. This concept is exhaustively described in the following document:

Requirement for Consent, Form #05.003

33 24.4 How governments compel choice of domicile: Government ID

34 In order to do business within any jurisdiction, and especially with the government and financial institutions, one usually 35 needs identification documents. Such documents include:

36 1. State driver’s license. Issued by the Dept. of Motor Vehicles in your state.
37 2. State ID card. Issued by the Dept. of Motor Vehicles in your state.
38 3. Permanent resident green card.
39 4. National passport. Issued by the U.S. Dept. of State.
40 5. U.S. Citizen Card. Issued by the Dept. of State. These are typically used at border crossings.

41 All ID issued by the state governments, and especially the driver’s license, requires that the applicant be a “resident” of the 42 “State of____”. If you look up the definition of “resident” and “State of” or “State” or “in this State” within the state tax 43 code, these terms are defined to mean a privileged alien with a domicile on federal territory not protected by the

1 Constitution.

2 USA passports also require that you provide a domicile. The Dept. of State DS-11 Form in Block 17 requires you to 3 specify a "Permanent Address", which means domicile. See:

<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Citizenship/DOS-DS11-20080320.pdf>

4 Domicile within the country is not necessary in order to be issued a national passport. All you need is proof of birth within
5 that country. If you would like tips on how to obtain a national passport without a domicile within a state and without 6 government issued identifying numbers that connect you to franchises, see:

How to Apply for a Passport as a "non-citizen national", Form #09.007
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

7 State ID, however, always requires domicile within the state in order to be issued either a state driver's license or a state ID.
8 Consequently, there is no way to avoid becoming privileged if you want state ID. This situation would seem at first to be a
9 liability until you also consider that they can't lawfully issue a driver's license to non-residents. Imagine going down to the 10 DMV and telling them that you are physically on state land but do not choose a domicile here and that you can't be
11 compelled to and that you would like for them to certify that you came in to request a license and that you were refused and
12 don't qualify. Then you can show that piece of paper called a "Letter of Disqualification" to the next police officer who 13 stops you and asks you for a license. Imagine having the following dialog with the police officer when you get stopped:

14 Officer: May I see your license and registration please?

15 *You: I'm sorry, officer, but I went down to the DMV to request a license and they told me that I don't qualify
16 because I am a non-resident of this state. I have a Letter of Disqualification they gave me while I was there 17 stating that I made application and that they could not lawfully issue me a license. Here it is, officer.*

18 Officer: Well, then do you have a license from another state?

19 *You: My domicile is in a place that has no government. Therefore, there is no one who can issue licenses
20 there. Can you show me a DMV office in the middle of the ocean, which is where my domicile is and where my 21 will says my ashes will be PERMANENTLY taken to when I die. My understanding is that domicile or residence
22 requires an intention to permanently remain at a place and I am not here permanently and don't intend to 23 remain here. I am a perpetual traveler, a transient foreigner, and a vagrant until I am buried.*

24 Officer: Don't get cute with me. If you don't produce a license, then I'm going to cite you for driving without a 25 license.

26 *You: Driving is a commercial activity and I am not presently engaged in a commercial activity. Do you have 27 any evidence to the contrary? Furthermore, I'd love to see you explain to the judge how you can punish me for 28 refusing to have that which the government says they can't even lawfully issue me. That ought to be a good
29 laugh. I'm going to make sure the whole family is there for that one. It'll be better than Saturday Night Live!*

30 We allege that the purpose of the vehicle code in your state is NOT the promotion of public safety, but to manufacture
31 "residents" and "taxpayers". The main vehicle by which states of the Union, in fact, manufacture "residents", who are 32 privileged "public officers" that are "taxpayers" and aliens with respect to the government is essentially by compelling
33 everyone to obtain and use state driver's licenses. This devious trap operates as follows:

34 1. You cannot obtain a state driver's license without being a "resident". If you go into any DMV office and tell them you
35 are not a "resident", then they are not allowed to issue you a license. You can ask from them what is called a "Letter of 36 Disqualification", which states that you are not eligible for a driver's license. You can keep that letter and show it to 37 any police officer who stops you and wants your "license". He cannot then cite you for "driving without a license" that 38 the state refuses to issue you, nor can he impound your car for driving without a license!

39 California Vehicle Code

40 *"14607.6. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and except as provided in this section, a motor
41 vehicle is subject to forfeiture as a nuisance if it is driven on a highway in this state by a driver with a
42 suspended or revoked license, or by an unlicensed driver, who is a registered owner of the vehicle at the time
43 of impoundment and has a previous misdemeanor conviction for a violation of subdivision (a) of Section*

1 12500 or Section 14601, 14601.1, 14601.2, 14601.3, 14601.4, or 14601.5.

2 (b) A peace officer shall not stop a vehicle for the sole reason of determining whether the driver is properly
3 licensed.

4 (c) (1) If a driver is unable to produce a valid driver's license on the demand of a peace officer enforcing
5 the provisions of this code, as required by subdivision (b) of Section 12951, the vehicle shall be impounded
6 regardless of ownership, unless the peace officer is reasonably able, by other means, to verify that the driver
7 is properly licensed. Prior to impounding a vehicle, a peace officer shall attempt to verify the license status
8 of a driver who claims to be properly licensed but is unable to produce the license on demand of the peace
9 officer.

10 (2) A peace officer shall not impound a vehicle pursuant to this subdivision if the license of the driver expired
11 within the preceding 30 days and the driver would otherwise have been properly licensed.

12 (3) A peace officer may exercise discretion in a situation where the driver without a valid license is an
13 employee driving a vehicle registered to the employer in the course of employment. A peace officer may also 14 exercise discretion in a situation where the driver without a valid license is the employee of a bona fide
15 business establishment or is a person otherwise controlled by such an establishment and it reasonably appears
16 that an owner of the vehicle, or an agent of the owner, relinquished possession of the vehicle to the business
17 establishment solely for servicing or parking of the vehicle or other reasonably similar situations, and where 18 the vehicle was not to be driven except as directly necessary to accomplish that business purpose. In this event,
19 if the vehicle can be returned to or be retrieved by the business establishment or registered owner, the peace
20 officer may release and not impound the vehicle.

21 (4) A registered or legal owner of record at the time of impoundment may request a hearing to determine the 22 validity of the impoundment pursuant to subdivision (n).

23 (5) If the driver of a vehicle impounded pursuant to this subdivision was not a registered owner of the 24 vehicle at the time of impoundment, or if the driver of the vehicle was a registered owner of the vehicle at the 25 time of impoundment but the driver does not have a previous conviction for a violation of subdivision (a) of 26 Section 12500 or Section 14601, 14601.1, 14601.2, 14601.3, 14601.4, or 14601.5, the vehicle shall be released
27 pursuant to this code and is not subject to forfeiture.

28 (d) (1) This subdivision applies only if the driver of the vehicle is a registered owner of the vehicle at the time
29 of impoundment. Except as provided in paragraph (5) of subdivision (c), if the driver of a vehicle impounded
30 pursuant to subdivision (c) was a registered owner of the vehicle at the time of impoundment, the impounding
31 agency shall authorize release of the vehicle if, within three days of impoundment, the driver of the vehicle at 32 the time of impoundment presents his or her valid driver's license, including a valid temporary California
33 driver's license or permit, to the impounding agency. The vehicle shall then be released to a registered owner
34 of record at the time of impoundment, or an agent of that owner authorized in writing, upon payment of towing
35 and storage charges related to the impoundment, and any administrative charges authorized by Section
36 22850.5, providing that the person claiming the vehicle is properly licensed and the vehicle is properly
37 registered. A vehicle impounded pursuant to the circumstances described in paragraph (3) of subdivision (c)
38 shall be released to a registered owner whether or not the driver of the vehicle at the time of impoundment
39 presents a valid driver's license.

40 (2) If there is a community property interest in the vehicle impounded pursuant to subdivision (c), owned at 41 the time of impoundment by a person other than the driver, and the vehicle is the only vehicle available to the 42 driver's immediate family that may be operated with a class C driver's license, the vehicle shall be released to a 43 registered owner or to the community property interest owner upon compliance with all of the following
44 requirements:

45 (A) The registered owner or the community property interest owner requests release of the vehicle and the 46 owner of the community property interest submits proof of that interest.

47 (B) The registered owner or the community property interest owner submits proof that he or she, or an 48 authorized driver, is properly licensed and that the impounded vehicle is properly registered pursuant to this 49 code.

50 (C) All towing and storage charges related to the impoundment and any administrative charges authorized
51 pursuant to Section 22850.5 are paid.

52 (D) The registered owner or the community property interest owner signs a stipulated vehicle release
53 agreement, as described in paragraph (3), in consideration for the nonforfeiture of the vehicle. This 54 requirement applies only if the driver requests release of the vehicle.

55 (3) A stipulated vehicle release agreement shall provide for the consent of the signator to the automatic future

1 forfeiture and transfer of title to the state of any vehicle registered to that person, if the vehicle is driven by a
2 driver with a suspended or revoked license, or by an unlicensed driver. The agreement shall be in effect for
3 only as long as it is noted on a driving record maintained by the department pursuant to Section 1806.1.

4 (4) The stipulated vehicle release agreement described in paragraph (3) shall be reported by the impounding
5 agency to the department not later than 10 days after the day the agreement is signed.

6 (5) No vehicle shall be released pursuant to paragraph (2) if the driving record of a registered owner
7 indicates that a prior stipulated vehicle release agreement was signed by that person.

8 (e) (1) The impounding agency, in the case of a vehicle that has not been redeemed pursuant to subdivision
9 (d), or that has not been otherwise released, shall promptly ascertain from the department the names and 10 addresses of all legal and registered owners of the vehicle.

11 (2) The impounding agency, within two days of impoundment, shall send a notice by certified mail, return
12 receipt requested, to all legal and registered owners of the vehicle, at the addresses obtained from the
13 department, informing them that the vehicle is subject to forfeiture and will be sold or otherwise disposed of 14 pursuant to this section. The notice shall also include instructions for filing a claim with the district attorney,
15 and the time limits for filing a claim. The notice shall also inform any legal owner of its right to conduct the 16 sale pursuant to subdivision (g). If a registered owner was personally served at the time of impoundment with a
17 notice containing all the information required to be provided by this paragraph, no further notice is required to 18 be sent to a registered owner. However, a notice shall still be sent to the legal owners of the vehicle, if any. If 19 notice was not sent to the legal owner within two working days, the impounding agency shall not charge the 20 legal owner for more than 15-days' impoundment when the legal owner redeems the impounded vehicle.

21 (3) No processing charges shall be imposed on a legal owner who redeems an impounded vehicle within 15
22 days of the impoundment of that vehicle. If no claims are filed and served within 15 days after the mailing of 23 the notice in paragraph (2), or if no claims are filed and served within five days of personal service of the notice
24 specified in paragraph (2), when no other mailed notice is required pursuant to paragraph (2), the district
25 attorney shall prepare a written declaration of forfeiture of the vehicle to the state. A written declaration of 26 forfeiture signed by the district attorney under this subdivision shall be deemed to provide good and sufficient
27 title to the forfeited vehicle. A copy of the declaration shall be provided on request to any person informed of 28 the pending forfeiture pursuant to paragraph (2). A claim that is filed and is later withdrawn by the claimant
29 shall be deemed not to have been filed.

30 (4) If a claim is timely filed and served, then the district attorney shall file a petition of forfeiture with the 31 appropriate juvenile, municipal, or superior court within 10 days of the receipt of the claim. The district
32 attorney shall establish an expedited hearing date in accordance with instructions from the court, and the court
33 shall hear the matter without delay. The court filing fee, not to exceed fifty dollars ($50), shall be paid by the 34 claimant, but shall be reimbursed by the impounding agency if the claimant prevails. To the extent practicable,
35 the civil and criminal cases shall be heard at the same time in an expedited, consolidated proceeding. A 36 proceeding in the civil case is a limited civil case."

37 [California Vehicle Code, Section 14607.6, Sept. 20, 2004]

38 Below is evidence showing how one person obtained a "Letter of Disqualification" that resulted in being able to drive
39 perpetually without having a state -issued driver's license.

40 <http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Articles/DomicileBasisTaxationDL-20060522.pdf>

41 2. Most state vehicle codes define "resident" as a person with a domicile in the "State". Below is an example from the
42 California Vehicle Code:

43 California Vehicle Code

44 516. "Resident" means any person who manifests an intent to live or be located in this state on more than a
45 temporary or transient basis. Presence in the state for six months or more in any 12-month period gives rise to 46 a rebuttable presumption of residency.

47 The following are evidence of residency for purposes of vehicle registration:

48 (a) Address where registered to vote.
49 (b) Location of employment or place of business.
50 (c) Payment of resident tuition at a public institution of higher education.
51 (d) Attendance of dependents at a primary or secondary school.
52 (e) Filing a homeowner's property tax exemption.
53 (f) Renting or leasing a home for use as a residence.
54 (g) Declaration of residency to obtain a license or any other privilege or benefit not ordinarily extended to a
55 nonresident.
56 (h) Possession of a California driver's license.
57 (i) Other acts, occurrences, or events that indicate presence in the state is more than temporary or transient.

3 12505. (a) (1) For purposes of this division only and notwithstanding Section 516, residency shall be

25 516. "Resident" means any person who manifests an intent to live or be located in this state on more than a

40 3. The term "State" is then defined in the revenue codes to mean the federal areas within the exterior limits of the state.
41 Below is an example from the California Revenue and Taxation Code:

42 California Revenue and Taxation Code

43 17017. "United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes the states, the District of Columbia, and 44 the possessions of the United States.

45 17018. "State" includes the District of Columbia, and the possessions of the United States.

1 4. You must surrender all other state driver's licenses in order to obtain one from most states. Below is an example from 2 the California Vehicle Code:

3 California Vehicle Code

4 12805. The department shall not issue a driver's license to, or renew a driver's license of, any person:

5 [. . .]

6 (f) Who holds a valid driver's license issued by a foreign jurisdiction unless the license has been surrendered to 7 the department, or is lost or destroyed.

9 12511. No person shall have in his or her possession or otherwise under his or her control more than one
10 driver's license.

11 Consequently, the vehicle code in most states, in the case of individuals not involved in "commercial activity", applies
12 mainly to "public officers" who are effectively "residents" of the federal zone with an effective "domicile" or "residence" 13 there:

14 26 U.S.C. §7701

15 (a) When used in this title, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent
16 thereof—

17 (39) Persons residing outside United States

18 If any citizen or resident of the United States does not reside in (and is not found in) any United States judicial
19 district, such citizen or resident shall be treated as residing in the District of Columbia for purposes of any
20 provision of this title relating to—

21 (A) jurisdiction of courts, or

22 (B) enforcement of summons.

23 [SOURCE: http://www4.law.cornell.edu/uscode/html/uscode26/usc_sec_26_00007701---000-.html]

24 These "persons" are "taxpayers". They are Americans who have contracted away their Constitutional rights in exchange
25 for government "privileges" and they are the only "persons" who inhabit or maintain a "domicile" or "residence" in the 26 "State" as defined above. Only people with a domicile in such "State" can be required to obtain a "license" to drive on the 27 "highways". While they are exercising "agency" on behalf of or representing the government corporation, they are 28 "citizens" of that corporation and "residents", because the corporation itself is a "citizen" and therefore a person with a
29 domicile in the place where the corporation was formed, which for the "United States" is the District of Columbia:

30 "Corporations are also of all grades, and made for varied objects; all governments are corporations, created
31 by usage and common consent, or grants and charters which create a body politic for prescribed purposes;
32 but whether they are private, local or general, in their objects, for the enjoyment of property, or the exercise
33 of power, they are all governed by the same rules of law, as to the construction and the obligation of the
34 instrument by which the incorporation is made. One universal rule of law protects persons and property. It is
35 a fundamental principle of the common law of England, that the term freemen of the kingdom, includes 'all
36 persons,' ecclesiastical and temporal, incorporate, politique or natural; it is a part of their magna charta (2
37 Inst. 4), and is incorporated into our institutions. The persons of the members of corporations are on the same
38 footing of protection as other persons, and their corporate property secured by the same laws which protect
39 that of individuals. 2 Inst. 46-7. 'No man shall be taken,' 'no man shall be disseised,' without due process of law,
40 is a principle taken from magna charta, infused into all our state constitutions, and is made inviolable by the
41 federal government, by the amendments to the constitution.'

42 [Proprietors of Charles River Bridge v. Proprietors of Warren Bridge, 36 U.S. 420 (1837)]

44 "A corporation is a citizen, resident, or inhabitant of the state or country by or under the laws of which it was 45 created, and of that state or country only."

46 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Corporations, §886]

1 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure
2 IV. PARTIES > Rule 17.
3 Rule 17. Parties Plaintiff and Defendant: Capacity

4 (b) Capacity to Sue or be Sued.

5 Capacity to sue or be sued is determined as follows:

6 (1) for an individual who is not acting in a representative capacity, by the law of the individual's domicile;
7 (2) for a corporation or one REPRESENTING a PUBLIC CORPORATION called the government as a
8 "public officer"], by the law under which it was organized; and
9 (3) for all other parties, by the law of the state where the court is located, except that:

10 (A) a partnership or other unincorporated association with no such capacity under that state's law may sue
11 or be sued in its common name to enforce a substantive right existing under the United States Constitution
12 or laws; and
13 (B) 28 U.S.C. §§ 754 and 959(a) govern the capacity of a receiver appointed by a United States court to sue
14 or be sued in a United States court.

15 [SOURCE: <http://www.law.cornell.edu/rules/frcp/Rule17.htm>]

16 If you don't want to be a "public officer" who has an effective "domicile" or "residence" in the District of Columbia, then
17 you have to divorce the state, create your own "state", and change your domicile to that new "state". For instance, you can
18 form an association of people and choose a domicile within that association. This association would be referred to as a
19 "foreign jurisdiction" within the vehicle code in most states. The association can become the "government" for that group,
20 and issue its own driver's licenses and conduct its own "courts". In effect, it becomes a competitor to the de facto state for 21 the affections, allegiance, and obedience of the people. This is capitalism at its finest, folks!

22 California Vehicle Code

23 12502. (a) The following persons may operate a motor vehicle in this state without obtaining a driver's license
24 under this code:

25 (1) A nonresident over the age of 18 years having in his or her immediate possession a valid driver's license
26 issued by a foreign jurisdiction of which he or she is a resident, except as provided in Section 12505.
27 [SOURCE:
28 <http://www.leginfo.ca.gov/cgi-bin/displaycode?section=veh&group=12001-13000&file=12500-12527>]

29 As long as the driver's licenses issued by the government you form meet the same standard as those for the state you are in,
30 then it doesn't matter who issued it.

31 California Vehicle Code

32 12505. (a) (1) For purposes of this division only and notwithstanding Section 516, residency shall be
33 determined as a person's state of domicile. "State of domicile" means the state where a person has his or her 34 true, fixed, and permanent home and principal residence and to which he or she has manifested the 35 intention of returning whenever he or she is absent.

36 [. . .]

37 (e) Subject to Section 12504, a person over the age of 16 years who is a resident of a foreign jurisdiction other
38 than a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of 39 Puerto Rico, or Canada, having a valid driver's license issued to him or her by any other foreign jurisdiction
40 having licensing standards deemed by the Department of Motor Vehicles equivalent to those of this state,
41 may operate a motor vehicle in this state without obtaining a license from the department, except that he or
42 she shall obtain a license before being employed for compensation by another for the purpose of driving a 43 motor vehicle on the highways.
44 [SOURCE:

46 As long as you take and pass the same written and driver's tests as the state uses, even your church could issue it! As a
47 matter of fact, below is an example of a church that issues "Heaven Driver's Licenses" called "Embassy of Heaven":

48 <http://www.embassyofheaven.com/>

1 You can't be compelled by law to grant to your public "servants" a monopoly that compels you into servitude to them as a
2 "public officer". In the United States, WE THE PEOPLE are the government, and not their representatives and "servants"
3 who work for them implementing the laws that they pass. Consequently, you and your friends or church, as a "self-
4 governing body" can make your own driver's license and in fact and in law, those licenses will by definition be
5 "government-issued". To wit:

6 *"The words 'people of the United States' and 'citizens,' are synonymous terms, and mean the same thing. They
7 both describe the political body who, according to our republican institutions, form the sovereignty, and who
8 hold the power and conduct the government through their representatives [they are the government, not their 9 servants]. They are what we familiarly call the 'sovereign people,' and every citizen is one of this people, and a* 10 constituent member of this sovereignty. ..."
11 [Boyd v. State of Nebraska, 143 U.S. 135 (1892)]

13 *"From the differences existing between feudal sovereignties and Government founded on compacts, it
14 necessarily follows that their respective prerogatives must differ. Sovereignty is the right to govern; a nation
15 or State-sovereign is the person or persons in whom that resides. In Europe the sovereignty is generally
16 ascribed to the Prince; here it rests with the people; there, the sovereign actually administers the 17 Government; here, never in a single instance; our Governors are the agents of the people, and at most stand
18 in the same relation to their sovereign, in which regents in Europe stand to their sovereigns. Their Princes 19 have personal powers, dignities, and pre-eminent, our rulers have none but official; nor do they partake in 20 the sovereignty otherwise, or in any other capacity, than as private citizens."

22 Anyone who won't accept such a driver's license should be asked to contradict the U.S. Supreme Court and to prove that
23 you AREN'T part of the government as a person who governs his own life and the lives of other members of the group you
24 have created. The following article also emphasizes that "We The People" are the government, and that our servants have 25 been trying to deceive us into believing otherwise:

27 24.5 How employers and financial institutions compel choice of domicile

28 Whenever you open a financial account or start a new job these days, most employers, banks, or investment companies will 29 require you to produce "government ID". Their favorite form of ID is the state issued ID. Unfortunately, unless you are an 30 alien domiciled on federal territory within the exterior limits of the state who is not protected by the Constitution, you don't
31 qualify for state ID or even a state driver's license. By asking for "government ID", employers and financial institutions
32 indirectly are forcing you to do the following as a precondition of doing business with them:

- 33 1. Surrender the benefits and protections of being a "citizen" in exchange for being a privileged alien, and to do so 34 WITHOUT consideration and without recourse.
- 35 2. Become a statutory "resident alien" pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A). domiciled on federal territory and subject to 36 federal jurisdiction, who is a public officer within the federal government engaged in the "trade or business" franchise.
37 See:

The "Trade or Business" Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 38 3. Become a privileged "resident alien" franchisee who is compelled to participate in what essentially amounts to a 39 "protection racket".

40 *"Residents, as distinguished from citizens, are aliens who are permitted to take up a permanent abode in the 41 country. Being bound to the society by reason of their [intention of] dwelling in it, they are subject to its laws
42 so long as they remain there, and, being protected by it, they must defend it, although they do not enjoy all the 43 rights of citizenship. They have only certain privileges which the law, or custom, gives them. Permanent
44 residents are those who have been given the right of perpetual residence. They are a sort of citizen of a less
45 privileged character, and are subject to the society without enjoying all its advantages. Their children succeed*

1 to their status; for the right of perpetual residence given them by the State passes to their children.”
2 [The Law of Nations, p. 87, E. De Vattel, Volume Three, 1758, Carnegie Institution of Washington; emphasis
3 added.]

4 4. Serving two masters and subject simultaneously to state and federal jurisdiction. The federal government has 5 jurisdiction over aliens, including those within a state.

6 “No one can serve two masters [two employers, for instance]; for either he will hate the one and love the other,
7 or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon [government].”
8 [Luke 16:13, Bible, NKJV. Written by a tax collector]

9 One thing you can show financial institutions as an alternative to state ID or a state driver’s license that doesn’t connect you
10 to the “protection franchise” and a domicile on federal territory is a USA passport. What they do to deal with “difficult”
11 people like that is say that they need TWO forms of government ID in order to open the account. Here is an example of 12 what you might hear on this subject:

13 “I’m sorry, but the Patriot Act [or some other obscure regulation] requires you to produce TWO forms of 14 government issued ID to open an account with us.”

15 Most people falsely presume that the above statement means that they ALSO need state ID in addition to the passport but 16 this isn’t true. It is a maxim of law that the law cannot require an impossibility. If they are going to impose a duty upon 17 you under the color of law by saying that you need TWO forms of ID, they must provide a way to comply without:

18 1. Compelling you to politically associate with a specific government in violation of the First Amendment.
19 2. Compelling you to participate in government franchises by providing an identifying number.
20 3. Misrepresenting your status as a privileged “resident alien”
21 4. Violating your religious beliefs by nominating an Earthly protector and thereby firing God as your only protector.

22 There are lots of ways around this trap. For instance, the U.S. Supreme Court said WE are the government and that we 23 govern ourselves through our elected representatives.

24 “The words ‘people of the United States’ and ‘citizens,’ are synonymous terms, and mean the same thing.
25 They both describe the political body who, according to our republican institutions, form the sovereignty, and 26 who hold the power and conduct the government through their representatives. They are what we familiarly
27 call the ‘sovereign people,’ and every citizen is one of this people, and a constituent member of this sovereignty.

28 ...”
29 [Boyd v. State of Nebraska, 143 U.S. 135 (1892)]

30 So what does “government id” really mean? A notary public is also a public officer and therefore part of the government.

31 Chapter 1
32 Introduction
33 §1.1 Generally

34 A notary public (sometimes called a notary) is a public official appointed under authority of law with power,
35 among other things, to administer oaths, certify affidavits, take acknowledgments, take depositions, perpetuate
36 testimony, and protect negotiable instruments. Notaries are not appointed under federal law; they are 37 appointed under the authority of the various states, districts, territories, as in the case of the Virgin Islands, and 38 the commonwealth, in the case of Puerto Rico. The statutes, which define the powers and duties of a notary 39 public, frequently grant the notary the authority to do all acts justified by commercial usage and the “law 40 merchant”.

41 [Anderson's Manual for Notaries Public, Ninth Edition, 2001, ISBN 1-58360-357-3]

42 If you hand the financial institution any of the following, you have satisfied their requirement for secondary ID without 43 violating the law or being compelled to associate with or contract with the government:

44 1. Notarized piece of paper with your picture and your birth certificate on it. The notary is a government officer and 45 therefore it is government ID.
46 2. Certified copy of your birth certificate by itself. The certification is from the government so its government ID.
47 3. ID issued by a government you formed and signed by the “Secretary of State” of that government. The people are the 48 government according to the Supreme Court, so you can issue your own ID.

1 You have to be creative at times to avoid the frequent attempts to compel you to sign up for government franchises, but it is
2 still doable.

3 Another thing that nearly all financial institutions and private employers habitually do is PRESUME, usually wrongfully,
4 that:

5 1. You are a “citizen” or a “resident” of the place you live or work. What citizens and residents have in common is a
6 domicile within a jurisdiction. Otherwise, you would be called “nonresidents” or “transient foreigners”.
7 2. Whatever residence or mailing address you give them is your domicile.

8 By making such a false presumption, employers and financial institutions in effect are causing you to make an “invisible 9 election” to become a citizen or resident or domiciliary and to provide your tacit consent to be governed without even 10 realizing it.

11 If you want to prevent becoming a victim of the false presumption that you are a “citizen”, “resident”, and therefore 12 domiciliary of the place you live or work, you must take special precautions to notify all of your business associates by
13 providing a special form to them describing you as a “nonresident” of some kind. At the federal level, that form is the IRS
14 Form W-8BEN or a suitable substitute, which identifies the holder as a “nonresident alien”. IRS does not make a form for 15 “nonresidents” who are not “aliens”, unfortunately, so you must therefore modify their form or make your own form. For 16 an article on how to fill out tax forms to ensure that you are not PRESUMED, usually prejudicially and falsely, to be a
17 resident or citizen or domiciliary, see the following article:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

18 Sometimes, those receiving your declaration of nonresident status may try to interfere with that choice. For such cases, the 19 following pamphlet proves that the only one who can lawfully declare or establish your civil status, including your
20 “nonresident” status, is you. If anyone tries to coerce you to declare a civil status for yourself that you don’t want to accept 21 and don’t consent to, you should provide an affidavit indicating that you were under duress and that they threatened to
22 financially penalize you or not contract with you if you don’t LIE on government forms and declare a status you don’t
23 want. The following pamphlet is also useful in proving that they have no authority to coerce you to declare any civil status
24 you don’t want:

Your Exclusive Right to Declare or Establish Your Civil Status, Form #13.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

25 We should always keep in mind that whenever a financial institution or employer asks for a tax form, they are doing so
26 under the color of law as a “withholding agent” (26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(16)) who is a public officer of the government.
27 Because they are a public officer of the government in their capacity as a withholding agent, they still have a legal duty not
28 to violate your rights, even if they otherwise are a private company. The Constitution applies to all officers and agents of 29 the government, including “withholding agents” while acting in that capacity.

30 25 How to Change One’s Status from statutory “U.S. Person” to “Nonresident 31 alien”

32 Those who have read this pamphlet and previously declared themselves to be statutory “U.S. persons” (per 26 U.S.C.
33 §7701(a)(30)), statutory “U.S. citizens” (per 8 U.S.C. §1401), or statutory “U.S. residents” (per 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A))
34 may at some point decide that:

35 1. The status they have been declaring previously on government forms was incorrect and false.
36 2. It would be perjury to declare any of the above statuses from this point on.
37 3. They would like to correct their status to reflect that they are “nonresident aliens” but not “individuals” per 26 U.S.C.
38 §7701(b)(1)(B).
39 4. They would like to generate evidence in government records of their corrected status.
40 5. They would like to change the status of the government identifying number they have been using per 26 CFR 41 §301.6109-1(g)(1)(i).

1 26 CFR § 301.6109-1(g)(1)(i)

2 (g) Special rules for taxpayer identifying numbers issued to foreign persons—
3 (1) General rule—

4 (i) Social security number.

5 A social security number is generally identified in the records and database of the Internal Revenue Service as
6 a number belonging to a U.S. citizen or resident alien individual. A person may establish a different status for
7 the number by providing proof of foreign status with the Internal Revenue Service under such procedures as
8 the Internal Revenue Service shall prescribe, including the use of a form as the Internal Revenue Service
9 may specify. Upon accepting an individual as a nonresident alien individual, the Internal Revenue Service
10 will assign this status to the individual's social security number.

11 This section addresses how to do all the above, both from a withholding standpoint and a tax return standpoint..

12 There is no one form that accomplishes the requirements indicated above in 26 CFR §301.6109-1(g)(1)(i). A combination
13 of tactics must be undertaken to transition one's status from "U.S. person" to "nonresident". These include:

14 1. Changing your withholding paperwork.
15 2. Filing a nonresident alien return.
16 3. Corresponding your status with the Social Security Administration.

17 The following subsections cover each of the above components.

18 25.1 Changing your withholding

19 Nonresident aliens are required to file IRS Form W-8BEN for withholding purposes. However, most people usually start at 20 the point of having filed IRS Form W-4 for many years. IRS Publication 519 says that the IRS Form W-4 can be used by a
21 nonresident alien, but that it must be filled out with line 6 indicating "Nonresident Alien":

22 Nonresident aliens should fill out Form W-4 using the following instructions instead of the instructions on the 23 Form W-4. This is because the restrictions on a nonresident aliens' filing status, the limited number of personal
24 exemptions a nonresident alien is allowed, and because a nonresident alien cannot claim the standard
25 deduction.

26 1. Enter your social security number (SSN) on line 2. Do not enter an individual taxpayer identification
27 number (ITIN).
28 2. Check only "Single" marital status on line 3 (regardless of your actual marital status).
29 3. Claim only one allowance on line 5, unless you are a resident of Canada, Mexico, or the Republic of 30 Korea (South Korea), or a U.S. national.
31 4. Write "Nonresident Alien" or "NRA" on the dotted line on line 6. You can request additional 32 withholding on line 6 at your option.
33 5. Do not claim "Exempt" from withholding status on line 7.

34 [IRS Publication 519, Year 2009, p. 41]

35 If you want to make a rapid transition, you can file IRS Form W-8BEN according to the following article:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

36 Some people, however, make a gradual transition by first filing IRS Form W-4 as indicated above the first year, and then 37 filing W-8BEN as a more conservative approach. Which of the two approaches you take is entirely your choice and 38 exclusively your responsibility.

39 Whatever you choose, be advised that filing a W-4 constitutes an agreement to call what you earn statutory "wages" and to 40 subject them to withholding. Furthermore, a Form W-2 information return will be sent in by the employer at the end of the 41 year, and EVERYTHING on that form will be presumed to be "trade or business" earnings connected to a public office in 42 the U.S. Government per 26 U.S.C. §6041(a). If you are not in fact and in deed actually occupying a public office in the 43 U.S. government at the time you were working at the company, then this information return will be FALSE and 44 FRAUDULENT and must be corrected using the following:

1 25.2 Filing a nonresident alien tax return

2 The most important step in changing one's status permanently to that of a nonresident alien is to file at least one tax returns
3 as a nonresident alien. That can be done by one of the following methods:

4 1. Filing IRS Form 1040NR with:

5 1.1. Corrected information returns. See:

6 1.2. Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201

7 1.3. Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001

10 2. Federal Nonresident Nonstatutory Claim for Return of Funds Unlawfully Paid to the Government-Long, Form #15.001

11 3. Federal Nonresident Nonstatutory Claim for Return of Funds Unlawfully Paid to the Government-Short, Form #15.002

14 25.3 Corresponding with SSA to correct your status

15 The IRS and the Social Security Administration do not seem to share information about the status of their respective 16 customers. Hence, in addition to correcting your withholding paperwork and filing a nonresident alien return at least
17 ONCE, you will also need to notify the Social Security Administration of your change in status to a nonresident alien. This 18 is accomplished by using the following form on our website:

19 Section 1 of the above document specifically requests a change in the status of the SSN with the Social Security
20 Administration per 26 CFR §301.6109-1. The filing of the above form is MANDATORY for all those who intend to "use"
21 any of the tax forms or services available through our website. By "use", we mean send any of our materials to third parties
22 in the government or legal profession in disputing or establishing a tax liability or lack thereof.

23 26 Tax Returns of Nonresident Alien NONtaxpayers

24 26.1 Options for filling out return forms

25 Nonresident alien nontaxpayers who are NOT "individuals" have to be very careful how they file their tax returns. IRS tax 26 forms are a deliberate trap because:

27 1. IRS only makes "taxpayer" forms. The IRS Mission Statement in IRM 1.1.1.1 says they only help "taxpayers". If you
28 are a "nontaxpayer", they:

29 1.1. Don't have any forms to use for your status.

30 1.2. Deliberately ignore and terrorize you, not help you.

31 2. If you send them a tax return, they will assume that you are an "individual" and therefore an "alien individual". We
32 now know after reading this memorandum of law that this presumption is FALSE in your case if you are a non-citizen
33 national, because you are neither a "nonresident alien individual" nor an "alien individual", but simply a "nonresident 34 alien", meaning simply that you are neither:

35 2.1. A statutory "U.S. citizen" pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 nor 36 2.2. A statutory "resident alien" pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).

37 3. The only return form IRS has for human beings who are non-citizen national is the 1040NR.

38 4. The current version of the 1040NR form indicates that it is for use by "U.S. nationals" in blocks 1 and 3, BUT:

39 4.1. The "U.S. national" status is statutorily defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22) and 8 U.S.C. §1408.

1 4.2. If you are domiciled in a state of the Union, you are not a statutory “U.S. national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1408
2 and 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22), but rather simply a “national” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21).
3 4.3. The “U.S. national” status appears in the exemption block of the form, but nonresident alien who are NOT
4 “individuals” and who have no “trade or business” earnings can’t take any exemptions or reductions in their
5 liability because they aren’t subject to the code and therefore can’t accept privileges. See:
6 <http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Citizenship/IRSForm1040nr-USNational.pdf>
7 4.4. There is no way to describe your citizenship, domicile, and tax status on these forms WITHOUT taking an 8 exemption. This is deliberate, so that:
9 4.4.1. They can force you into a privileged state.
10 4.4.2. Cause you to engage in commerce with the government by accepting a “benefit” and thereby surrender
11 sovereign immunity pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1605(a).
12 4.4.3. Help the IRS perpetuate false presumptions about you and illegally enforce the Internal Revenue Code
13 against those who are not subject.
14 5. The perjury statement in the signature block on the 1040NR form, like all other IRS forms, places you in the federal
15 zone, as we explained in section 18.10 earlier. To make things worse, if you try to physically modify the perjury
16 statement to correctly place you outside the federal zone so that you DON’T commit perjury, the IRS tries to penalize 17 you.

18 Members of this ministry are constrained by our Member Agreement, Form #01.001 in how to fill out tax return forms. To 19 both conform with our Member Agreement, Form #01.001 and also avoid all the pitfalls of the standard IRS tax return
20 forms, we suggest the following techniques that we use for preparing tax return forms for ourselves:

21 1. Use the standard IRS form to file the return.
22 2. Answer the questions on the form consistent with the content of the next section.
23 3. Attach the following form to ensure that all the words on the form are defined to place you outside their jurisdiction
24 and to prevent false presumptions about the meaning of “words of art”. This is also required by our Member
25 Agreement, Form #01.001:

Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

26 4. Attach the following form so that your tax status is clearly documented so that you don’t become a victim of frequent 27 and false IRS presumptions about your status:

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

28 5. You may not avail yourself of any commercial “privileges” of the I.R.C. because this causes a surrender of sovereign
29 immunity pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1605(a) and causes you to become subject to their jurisdiction:
30 5.1. You may not indicate “trade or business” earnings in blocks 8 through 23. All these blocks must be ZERO. A
31 “trade or business” is an excise taxable privilege. See:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

32 5.2. You may not take any “exemptions” by checking any of the exemption blocks, blocks 1 through 7.
33 5.3. Attach corrected information returns to the return zeroing out the false “trade or business” reports so that you are 34 not connected to a “public office” in the government. See the following on how to correct erroneous information 35 returns:

Correcting Erroneous Information Returns, Form #04.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

36 6. At the bottom of ever page of the standard IRS 1040NR form write “Not valid without all enclosures attached and 37 signed, quantity ____”. This will prevent them from excluding any of the enclosures as evidence if your tax return 38 ever becomes the subject of litigation.
39 7. In the signature block on the signature line, put “See attached Tax Form Attachment for signature”. Then sign the Tax
40 Form Attachment, which contains a redefinition of the perjury statement.
41 8. You should emphasize that:
42 8.1. This is not a request for a refund pursuant to any provision of the I.R.C.
43 8.2. You are not subject to the I.R.C. and do not claim any of the benefits or protections of the I.R.C.
44 8.3. If you are asking for a refund, emphasize that this is a NON-STATUTORY refund request not pursuant to the 45 I.R.C. Subtitle A franchise agreement, but rather subject to equity and not law:

1 "A claim against the United States is a right to demand money from the United States.²⁸ Such claims are

24 8.4. As a person who is not subject to their jurisdiction and a "nontaxpayer", you may not lawfully be penalized for 25 any aspect of the submission. The Tax Form Attachment above already has this language to save you time.
26 9. REMEMBER: The shorter your submission is, the better off you are and the more likely you are to have the return 27 processed rather than ignored.

28 If you want an example of how to do the above, we have a form that implements it all on our website:

29 26.2 Joint Returns of Nonresident Alien NON-individuals married to "U.S. person" spouses

30 Nonresident aliens who are not "aliens" or "individuals" because they are non-citizen nationals cannot file a joint return
31 unless both spouses are "U.S. persons", meaning the nonresident spouse makes an "election" under 26 U.S.C. §6031(g) and 32 (h) to be treated as a resident alien. IRS Publication 504, 2007, p. 3 says the following on this subject:

33 Married Filing Jointly

34 "Nonresident alien. To file a joint return, at least one of you must be a U.S. citizen or resident alien at the end
35 of the tax year. If either of you was a nonresident alien at any time during the tax year, you can file a joint 36 return only if you agree to treat the nonresident spouse as a resident of the United States. This means that your 37 combined worldwide incomes are subject to U.S. income tax. These rules are explained in Publication 519, U.S.
38 Tax Guide for Aliens."
39 [IRS Publication 504, 2007, p. 3]

40 A "nonresident alien" who is a non-citizen national but not an "alien" and therefore not a "individual" cannot lawfully

1 residence on federal territory becomes a statutory “U.S. citizen” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 rather than a resident alien
2 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A). This is clarified by 26 CFR §1.871-2(b), which is the only definition of “residence”
3 and which associates it with an “alien” but not a “non-citizen national” or “national” :

4 Title 26: Internal Revenue
5 PART I—INCOME TAXES
6 nonresident alien individuals
7 § 1.871-2 Determining residence of alien individuals.

8 (b) Residence defined.

9 An alien actually present in the United States who is not a mere transient or sojourner is a resident of the
10 United States for purposes of the income tax. Whether he is a transient is determined by his intentions with
11 regard to the length and nature of his stay. A mere floating intention, indefinite as to time, to return to another
12 country is not sufficient to constitute him a transient. If he lives in the United States and has no definite
13 intention as to his stay, he is a resident. One who comes to the United States for a definite purpose which in
14 its nature may be promptly accomplished is a transient; but, if his purpose is of such a nature that an
15 extended stay may be necessary for its accomplishment, and to that end the alien makes his home temporarily
16 in the United States, he becomes a resident, though it may be his intention at all times to return to his domicile
17 abroad when the purpose for which he came has been consummated or abandoned. An alien whose stay in the 18 United States is limited to a definite period by the immigration laws is not a resident of the United States within 19 the meaning of this section, in the absence of exceptional circumstances.

20 Therefore:

21 1. It is legally impossible and fraudulent for a “non-citizen national” to make an election to become a “resident alien”
22 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) and (h) so that they can file jointly with a “taxpayer” spouse.
23 2. It is equally fraudulent for the “taxpayer” spouse to file a Form 1040, since they are not an alien and are not domiciled
24 on federal territory, which are the two prerequisites for filing Form 1040.
25 3. For the same reason, it is unlawful and fraudulent for the IRS to do a Substitute For Return (SFR) or involuntary
26 assessment on a nonresident alien who is a non-citizen national and not an alien or an “individual”. SFR’s are done on 27 IRS Form 1040 rather than 1040NR. No one but the subject of the return can consent to make an election to become a
28 “resident” and thereby use Form 1040. The IRS cannot compel you to make an election to be a resident and it is 29 fraudulent to do so if you are not an alien. See:

30 26.3 Answers to Questions on IRS Form 1040NR Consistent with this pamphlet

31 Several people have asked us how to answer the questionnaire at the end of IRS Form 1040NR consistent with their status
32 as described in this document. The form to which we refer is that indicated below:

33 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRS/IRSForm1040nr.pdf>

34 The questions at the end of the above STANDARD IRS Form are designed to create an opportunity for the IRS to create a
35 controversy that will open an opportunity for them to involuntarily or unlawfully assess you with a liability that you in fact
36 DO NOT have or to penalize you unlawfully. Therefore, you must be very careful how you answer these questions. We 37 also attach corrected information returns for all the years in question from the links below, along with a letter of detailed explanation to avoid any confusion or controversy:

11 We caution that it is a BAD idea to use STANDARD IRS Forms off the IRS website without attaching the following form
12 because they create opportunities for false presumptions by ignorant clerks that are unwarranted and also invite the IRS to 13 get into a pissing contest with you because they leave so many things unexplained.

14 Because of this, we send in the Federal Nonresident Non-statutory Claim for Return of Funds Unlawfully Paid to the 15 Government-Long, Form #15.001, Item 1 above instead of the standard IRS Form 1040NR, and it completely avoids any 16 disputes with the IRS or involuntary assessments that might result from them. All we get back is silence in response,
17 because there is no "wiggle room" to create a controversy and anything they say will incriminate them beyond that point so
18 they just shut up.

19 Below are the answers we use on our own standard IRS Form 1040NR, along with a detailed explanation of the answers.
20 This description does NOT constitute legal advice and is not intended for use by anything but the author. Tailoring these 21 answers to your specific situation is your choice and exclusive responsibility. These answers assume that the person filling
22 out the form is born or naturalized in the United States OF AMERICA and therefore is a citizen under the Constitution of 23 the United States, but does not maintain a domicile anywhere on federal territory and therefore is not a statutory "U.S.

25

26 A. What country issued your passport?

27 ANSWER: United States OF AMERICA, NOT the "United States" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10).

28 B. Were you ever a "U.S. citizen"? Yes No

29 ANSWER: The answer is NO, because this is a tax question and I'm not a statutory "citizen of the United States",
30 where "United States" is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) to expressly include
31 federal territories, possessions, and the District of Columbia and no other place. See the following and rebut the 32 questions at the end within 30 days if you disagree. I am a "non-citizen national" as described in 8 U.S.C.
33 §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452. I am a constitutional "citizen" as described in the Fourteenth Amendment but not a 34 statutory "citizen of the United States" as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401.

36 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

37 C. Give the purpose of your visit to the United States:

38 ANSWER: That depends on which of the three "United States" you mean as described by the Supreme Court in
39 Hooven and Allison v. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652 (1945). The only "United States" you can legislate for in the context of a
40 non-alien is federal territory and I'm not visiting that "United States", which is defined as federal territory in 26 U.S.C.
41 §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) and nowhere expressly extended to include States of the Union.

8 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include
9 the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the 10 contrary."

12 D. Type of entry visa.

13 ANSWER: None.

14 E. Date you entered the United States.

15 ANSWER: Never entered the "United States" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and \(a\)\(10\).

16 F. Did you give up your permanent residence as an immigrant in the United States this year? Yes No

17 ANSWER: Not an "resident alien" in relation to the "United States" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(A\). Rather,
18 I am a constitutional citizen but not the statutory citizen described in 8 U.S.C. §1401. See and rebut the following

22 G. Dates you entered and left the United States during the year. Residents of Canada or Mexico entering and leaving the 23 United States at frequent intervals, give name of country only.

24 ANSWER: Never entered the federal "United States" during the year.

25 H. Give number of days (including vacation and non workdays) you were present in the United States.

26 ANSWER: Never physically present or domiciled anywhere within the "United States" as defined in 26 U.S.C.
27 §7701\(a\)\(9\) and \(a\)\(10\).

28 I. If you are a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Korea (South Korea), or Japan (and you elect to have the old 29 U.S.-Japan income tax treaty apply in its entirety for ____) or a U.S. national, did your spouse contribute to the support of 30 any child claimed on Form 1040NR, line 7c?

31 ANSWER: Not a resident alien of Canada, Mexico, Republic of Korea, or Japan. All "residents" are aliens, pursuant 32 to 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(A\).

33 J. Did you file a U.S. income tax return for any year before ____?

34 [Skip question. Only you know the answer to that question]

35 K. To which Internal Revenue office did you pay any amounts claimed on Form 1040NR, lines 60, 63, and 65?

36 ANSWER: The branch which handles nonresident tax returns, which is the International Branch in Texas.

37 L. Have you excluded any gross income other than foreign source income not effectively connected with a U.S. trade or 38 business? Yes No

1 ANSWER: Don't earn "gross income" because no earnings connected with a "trade or business", which is defined in
2 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office". Authorities for not earning "gross income" include 26
3 CFR §1.872-2(f), 26 CFR §31.3401(a)(6)-1(b), 26 U.S.C. §861(a)(3)(C)(i), 26 U.S.C. §3401(a)(6), 26 U.S.C.
4 §1402(b), and 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(31).

5 M. If you are claiming the benefits of a U.S. income tax treaty with a foreign country, give the following information:

6 ANSWER: Not claiming benefits of a tax treaty. Don't need treaty benefits or deductions if no "gross income" and 7 no earnings from the "United States".

- 8 • Country:
- 9 • Type and amount of effectively connected income exempt from tax. Also identify the applicable tax treaty article.
10 Do not enter exempt income on lines 8, 9a, 10a, 11-15, 16b, or 17b-21 of form 1040NR
- 11 • Type and amount of income not effectively connected that is exempt from or subject to a reduced rate of tax.
12 Also, identify the applicable tax treaty article.
- 13 • Were you subject to tax in that country on any of the income you claim is entitled to the treaty benefits? Yes
14 No
- 15 • Did you have a permanent establishment or fixed base (as defined by the tax treaty) in the United States at any 16 time during ____?

17 N. If you file this return to report community income, give your spouse's name, address, and identifying number.

18 ANSWER: First Amendment (right to NOT communicate) and Fifth Amendment. No "gross income" so none of 19 your business.

20 O. If you file this return for a trust, does the trust have a U.S. business? Yes No

21 ANSWER: Neither submitter nor any business entities he is connected to have a domicile in the "United States" nor 22 are engaged in excise taxable activities such as a "trade or business" that might create a duty to withhold or pay income 23 taxes.

24 P. Is this an "expatriation return"

25 ANSWER: No. I never voluntarily surrendered my nationality, but remain a non-citizen national as described in 8
26 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452. I am NOT a statutory "U.S. national" as defined in 8 U.S.C.
27 §1101(a)(22)(B) or 8 U.S.C. §1408.

28 Q. During ____, did you apply for, or take other affirmative steps to apply for, lawful permanent resident status in the 29 United States or have an application pending to adjust your status to that of a lawful permanent resident of the United
30 States? Yes No

31 ANSWER: No.

32 26.4 Resources useful to Nonresident aliens to defend themselves against Willful Failure to File 33 Criminal Prosecution under I.R.C. 7203

34 The following resources are useful to those who are nonresident aliens, non-citizen nationals pursuant to 8 U.S.C.

10 27 Rebutted objections to the Nonresident Alien Position

11 27.1 IRS Objections

12 27.1.1 Word “includes”

13 The most frequent objection to the content of this document relates to the employment of the word “includes” within the 14 Internal Revenue Code. Proponents of this objection often state arguments like the following:

15 “Your interpretation of the term ‘United States’ as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) is incorrect. The definition
16 uses the word ‘includes’. 26 U.S.C. §7701\(c\) identifies the word ‘includes’ as a term of enlargement and not 17 limitation. This means that it is being used as the equivalent of ‘in addition to’. The thing that it is adding to is 18 the commonly understood meaning of the term, which interprets its meaning as including the 50 states of the 19 Union.”

20 The definition of “includes” they are referring to in the above is the following:

21 26 U.S.C. Sec. 7701\(c\) INCLUDES AND INCLUDING

22 The terms ‘include’ and ‘including’ when used in a definition contained in this title shall not be deemed to 23 exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of the term defined.”

24 What the above devious approach is trying to do is to abuse the rules of statutory construction in order to encourage or 25 promote false presumption about the jurisdiction of the Internal Revenue Code. They are trying to hoodwink you into 26 believing that the IRS has more jurisdiction than they actually have. The rules of statutory construction state that the 27 purpose for defining a term in a law is to supersede, not enlarge, the common definition of the term. The purpose of law is 28 to eliminate, not introduce, uncertainty, confusion, or presumption about what is required. If it adds to confusion or 29 presumption, the due process is violated. Such a malicious approach is also the equivalent of “false commercial speech”
30 which can and should be subject to injunction by the federal courts, but seldom is. In effect, whoever makes this false
31 claim is trying to imply that I.R.C. §7701\(c\) gives them carte blanche authority to include whatever they subjectively want
32 to add into the definition of the term being controverted. This approach obviously:

33 1. Violates the whole purpose behind why law exists to begin with, explained earlier , which is to define and limit
34 government power so as to protect the citizen from abuse by his government.
35 2. Gives arbitrary authority to a single individual to determine what the law “includes” and what it does not.

36 *“When we consider the nature and the theory of our institutions of government, the principles on which they
37 are supposed to rest, and review the history of their development, we are constrained to conclude that they do
38 not mean to leave room for the play and action of purely personal and arbitrary power. Sovereignty itself is,
39 of course, not subject to law, for it is the author and source of law: but in our system, while sovereign powers 40 are delegated to the agencies of government, sovereignty itself remains with the 41 people, by whom and for whom all government exists and 42 acts. And the law is the definition and limitation of power.* It is,
43 indeed, quite true that there must always be lodged somewhere, and in some person or body, the authority of 44 final decision; and in many cases of mere administration, the responsibility is purely political, no appeal lying
45 except to the ultimate tribunal of the public judgment, exercised either in the pressure of opinion, or by means
46 of the suffrage. But the fundamental rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, considered as individual
47 possessions, are secured by those maxims of constitutional law which are the monuments showing the victorious
48 progress of the race in securing to men the blessings of civilization under the reign of just and equal laws, so

1 that, in the famous language of the Massachusetts bill of rights, the government of the commonwealth 'may be a
2 government of laws and not of men.' For the very idea that one man may be compelled to hold his life, or the
3 means of living, or any material right essential to the enjoyment of life, at the mere will of another, seems to 4 be intolerable in any country where freedom prevails, as being the essence of slavery itself."
5 Yick Wo v. Hopkins, [118 U.S. 356 (1886)]

6 3. Creates a society of men and not law, in violation of Marbury v. Madison cited earlier.
7 4. Is a recipe for tyranny and oppression.
8 5. Creates slavery and involuntary servitude of citizens toward their government, in violation of the Thirteenth
9 Amendment.
10 6. Creates a "dulocracy", where our public servants unjustly domineer over their us as their masters:

11 "Dulocracy. A government where servants and slaves have so much license and privilege that they domineer."
12 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 501]

13 7. Compels "presumption" and therefore violates due process of law.
14 8. Injures the Constitutional rights of the interested party.

15 Black's Law Dictionary provides two possible definitions for the word "includes". It can be used as a term of limitation or 16 enlarge ment:

17 Include. (Lat. Includere, to shut in, keep within.) To confine within, hold as an inclosure. Take in, attain, shut
18 up, contain, inclose, comprise, comprehend, embrace, involve. Term may, according to context, express an 19 enlarge ment and have the meaning of and or in addition to, or merely specify a particular thing already 20 included within general words theretofore used. "Including" within statute is interpreted as a word of 21 enlarge ment or of illustrative application as well as a word of limitation. Premier Products Co. v. Cameron,
22 240 Or. 123, 400 P.2d. 227, 228."
23 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 763 (1990)]

24 Based on the above, the only reasonable interpretation of any statute or code is to include only that which is explicitly 25 spelled out. There are only three ways to define a term in a law:

26 1. To define every use and application of a term within a single section of a code or statute. Such a definition could be
27 relied upon as a universal rule for interpreting the word defined, to the exclusion, even, of the common definition of the 28 word. Remember that according to the Rules of Statutory Construction, the purpose for defining a word in a statute is
29 to exclude all other uses, and even the common use, from being used by the reader. This is the case with the word
30 "includes" within the Internal Revenue Code, which is only defined in one place in the entire Title 26, which is found
31 in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(c\). For this type of definition, the word "includes" would be used ONLY as a term of "limitation".
32 2. To break the definition across multiple sections of code, where each additional section is a regional definition that is 33 limited to a specific range of sections within the code. For this context, the term "includes" is used mainly as a word of 34 "limitation" and it means "is limited to". For instance, the term "United States" is defined in three places within the 35 Internal Revenue Code, and each definition is different:
36 2.1. 26 U.S.C. §3121
37 2.2. 26 U.S.C. §4612
38 2.3. 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and \(a\)\(10\).
39 3. To break the definition across multiple sections of code, where each additional section ADDS to the definition. For 40 this context, the term "includes" is used mainly as a word of "enlarge ment", and functions essentially as meaning "in 41 addition to". For instance:
42 3.1. Code section 1 provides the following definition:

43 Chapter 1 Definitions
44 Section 1: Definition of "fruit"

45 For the purposes of this chapter, the term "fruit" shall include apples, oranges and bananas.

46 3.2. Code section 10 expands the definition of "fruit" as follows. Watch how the "includes" word adds and expands 47 the original definition, and therefore is used as a term of "enlarge ment" and "extension":

48 Chapter 2 Definitions
49 Section 10 Definition of "fruit"

1 For the purposes of this Chapter, the term "fruit" shall include, in addition to those items identified in section
2 1, the following: Tangerines and watermelons.

3 The U.S. Supreme Court elucidated the application of the last rule above in the case of American Surety Co. of New York v.
4 Marotta, 287 U.S. 513 (1933):

5 In definitive provisions of statutes and other writings, 'include' is frequently, if not generally, used as a word of extension or enlargement [meaning "in addition to"] rather than as one of limitation or enumeration. Fraser v. Bentel, 161 Cal. 390, 394, 119 P. 509, Ann.Cas. 1913B, 1062; People ex rel. Estate of Woolworth v. S.T. Comm., 200 App.Div. 287, 289, 192 N.Y.S. 772; Matter of Goetz, 71 App.Div. 272, 275, 75 N.Y.S. 750; Calhoun v. Memphis & P.R. Co., Fed.Cas. No. 2,309; Cooper v. Stinson, 5 Minn. 522 (Gil. 416). Subject to the effect properly to be given to context, section 1 (11 USCA 1) prescribes the constructions to be put upon various words and phrases used in the act. Some of the definitive clauses commence with 'shall include,' others with 'shall mean.' The former is used in eighteen instances and the latter in nine instances, and in two both are used. When the section as a whole is regarded, it is evident that these verbs are not used synonymously or loosely, but with discrimination and a purpose to give to each a meaning not attributable to the other. It is obvious that, in some instances at least, 'shall include' is used without implication that any exclusion is intended. Subsections (6) and (7), in each of which both verbs are employed, illustrate the use of 'shall mean' to enumerate and restrict and of 'shall include' to enlarge and extend. Subsection (17) declares 'oath' shall include affirmation, Subsection (19) declares 'persons' shall include corporations, officers, partnerships, and women. Men are not mentioned. In these instances the verb is used to expand, not to restrict. It is plain that 'shall include,' as used in subsection (9) when taken in connection with other parts of the section, cannot reasonably be read to be the equivalent of 'shall mean' or 'shall include only.' [287 U.S. 513, 518] There being nothing to indicate any other purpose, Congress must be deemed to have intended that in section 3a(1) 'creditors' should be given the meaning usually attributed to it when used in the common-law definition of fraudulent conveyances. See Coder v. Arts, 213 U.S. 223, 242, 29 S.Ct. 436, 16 Ann.Cas. 1008; Lansing Boiler & Engine Works v. Joseph T. Ryerson & Son (C.C.A.) 128 F. 701, 703; Githens v. Shiffler (D.C.) 112 F. 505. Under the common-law rule a creditor having only a contingent claim, such as was that of the petitioner at the time respondent made the transfer in question, is protected against fraudulent conveyance. And petitioner, from the time that it became surety on Moglian's bond, was entitled as a creditor under the agreement to invoke that rule. Yeend v. Weeks, 104 Ala. 331, 341, 16 So. 165, 53 Am.St.Rep. 50; Whitehouse v. Bolster, 95 Me. 458, 50 A. 240; Mowry v. Reed, 187 Mass. 174, 177, 72 N.E. 936; *Stone v. [American Surety Co. of New York v. Marotta, 287 U.S. 513 (1933)]

35 The only way to eliminate the above types of abuses in the interpretation of law and to oppose such an abuse of authority by a public servant is to demand that the misbehaving "servant" produce a definition of the word somewhere within the code that clearly establishes the thing which he is attempting to "include". If what is included isn't explicitly and unambiguously included in an enacted positive law, then it violates the exclusio rule and due process: To wit:

40 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
41 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
42 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
43 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
44 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."

[Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, page 581]

46 For those of you interested in further exhaustive analysis of why the word "includes" is used as a term of limitation rather 47 than enlargement within the Internal Revenue Code, please consult the free pamphlet below:

48 27.1.2 Deception in IRS Publication 519 relating to definition of "United States"

49 IRS Publication 519, Year 2005, uses the following language to infer that the term "United States" as used in the Internal 50 Revenue Code, includes the 50 states of the Union for the purposes of jurisdiction to tax under Subtitle A of the Internal
51 Revenue Code:

52 Substantial Presence Test

53 Example. You were physically present in the United States on 120 days in each of the years 2003, 2004, and

1 2006. To determine if you meet the substantial presence test for 2005, count the full 120 days of presence in
2 2006, 40 days in 2004 (1/3 of 120), and 20 days in 2003 (1/6 of 120). Because the total for the 30 year period is 3 180 days, you are not considered a resident under the substantial presence test for 2005.

4 "The term United States includes the following areas.

5 • "All 50 states and the District of Columbia."
6 • "The territorial waters of the United States"

7 [...]

8 "The term does not include U.S. possessions and territories or U.S. airspace."

11 We have several points to make about the above reference:

12 1. The above cite was added to the publication in about 2004 in an apparent response to the content of this book, as a way
13 to deceive the readers and stop the spread of the nonresident alien position.
14 2. The definition comes from an IRS Publication, which the IRS Internal Revenue Manual admits is 15 UNTRUSTWORTHY and not guaranteed to be accurate:

16 "IRS Publications, issued by the National Office, explain the law in plain language for taxpayers and their
17 advisors... While a good source of general information, publications should not be cited to sustain a position."

22 3. The text above is an EXAMPLE which does not infer or imply or specify the context in which it may suitably be used.
23 There are actually THREE and not ONE context in which the term "United States" could be referring to or implied and 24 only one of them is used in the above example, which is the third one listed below:
25 3.1. The meaning of the term "United States" within the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A.
26 3.2. The meaning of the term "United States" within ordinary speech, which most people associate with the 27 COUNTRY to include states of the Union.
28 3.3. The meaning of "United States" in the context of jurisdiction over aliens (not "citizens" or "nationals")
29 temporarily present in the country "United States", which in this context includes all 50 states and the District of 30 Columbia.

31 In the context of item 3.3 above, the U.S. Supreme Court has repeatedly affirmed the plenary power of Congress over aliens
32 in this country, wherever they are located to include areas within the exclusive jurisdiction of states of the Union:

33 In accord with ancient principles of the international law of nation-states, the Court in *The Chinese Exclusion
34 Case*, 130 U.S. 581, 609 (1889), and in Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698 (1893), held broadly, as
35 the Government describes it, Brief for Appellants 20, that the power to exclude aliens is "inherent in
36 sovereignty, necessary for maintaining normal international relations and defending the country against
37 foreign encroachments and dangers - a power to be exercised exclusively by the political branches of
38 government . . ." Since that time, the Court's general reaffirmations of this principle have [408 U.S. 753,
39 766] been legion. 6 The Court without exception has sustained Congress' "plenary power to make rules for
40 the admission of aliens and to exclude those who possess those characteristics which Congress has
41 forbidden." Boutilier v. Immigration and Naturalization Service, 387 U.S. 118, 123 (1967). "Over no
42 conceivable subject is the legislative power of Congress more complete than it is over" the admission of 43 aliens. Oceanic Navigation Co. v. Stranahan, 214 U.S. 320, 339 (1909).
44 /[Kleindienst v. Mandel, 408 U.S. 753 (1972)]

45 While under our constitution and form of government the great mass of local matters is controlled by local
46 authorities, the United States, in their relation to foreign countries and their subjects or citizens, are one
47 nation, invested with powers which belong to independent nations, the exercise of which can be invoked for
48 the maintenance of its absolute independence and security throughout its entire territory. The powers to
49 declare war, make treaties, suppress insurrection, repel invasion, regulate foreign commerce, secure
republican governments to the states, and admit subjects of other nations to citizenship, are all sovereign

1 powers, restricted in their exercise only by the constitution itself and considerations of public policy and justice
2 which control, more or less, the conduct of all civilized nations. As said by this court in the case of Cohens v.
3 Virginia, 6 Wheat. 264, 413, speaking by the same great chief justice: That the United States form, for many,
4 and for most important purposes, a single nation, has not yet been denied. In war, we are one people. In
5 making peace, we are one people. In all commercial regulations, we are one and the same people. In many
6 other respects, the American people are one; and the government which is alone capable of controlling and
7 managing their interests in all these respects is the government of the Union. It is their government, and in
8 that character they have no other. America has chosen to [130 U.S. 581, 605] be in many respects, and to many 9 purposes, a nation; and for all these purposes her government is complete; to all these objects, it is competent.
10 The people have declared that in the exercise of all powers given for these objects it is supreme. It can, then,
11 in effecting these objects, legitimately control all individuals or governments within the American territory.”

12 [. . .]

14 “The power of exclusion of foreigners being an incident of sovereignty belonging to the government of the
15 United States as a part of those sovereign powers delegated by the constitution, the right to its exercise at any
16 time when, in the judgment of the government, the interests of the country require it, cannot be granted away or
17 restrained on behalf of any one. The powers of government are delegated in trust to the United States, and are
18 incapable of transfer to any other parties. They cannot be abandoned or surrendered. Nor can their exercise
19 be hampered, when needed for the public good, by any considerations of private interest. The exercise of 20 these public trusts is not the subject of barter or contract.”

21
22 [Chae Chan Ping v. U.S., 130 U.S. 581 (1889)]

23 Therefore, in regard to control over aliens present anywhere within the American confederation, the general government
24 legislates over all the territory of the American Union, including those of the states. Consequently, for the purposes of 25 determining “permanent residence” of aliens ONLY, the term “United States” as used in item 3 above must be interpreted 26 to include the 50 states of the Union as the IRS indicates above. HOWEVER:

27 1. The Presence Test indicated does not refer to “citizens” or “nationals”. The Presence Test is found in 26 U.S.C.
28 §7701(b)(3) and references ONLY “aliens” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) and not “nonresident aliens”
29 defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) or “citizens” defined in 26 CFR §1.1-1(c). Therefore, an alien domiciled in a
30 state of the Union could be a “resident” within the meaning of the presence test while neither a “citizen” nor a
31 “national” would be considered a “resident” under the SAME test when located in the SAME place. Under the I.R.C., 32 one cannot be a “resident” (which is an alien with a domicile) and either a “citizen” or a “national” at the same time.
33 This is confirmed by the Law of Nations, which the Founding Fathers used to write the Constitution:

34
35 “Residents, as distinguished from citizens, are aliens who are permitted to take up a permanent abode in the 36 country. Being bound to the society by reason of their dwelling in it, they are subject to its law so long as they
37 remain there, and being protected by it, they must defend it, although they do not enjoy all the rights of citizens.
38 They have only certain privileges which the law, or custom, gives them. Permanent residents are those who
39 have been given the right of perpetual residence. They are a sort of citizens of a less privileged character, and 40 are subject to the society without enjoying all its advantages. Their children succeed to their status; for the 41 right of perpetual residence given them by the State passes to their children.”

42 [Law of Nations, Vattel, p. 87]

43 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/CitesByTopic/Resident-LawOfNations.pdf>

44 2. Remember that the only context in which “residence” is defined or described anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code is 45 in the context of “aliens”, and not in the context of either “citizens” or “nationals”. See 26 CFR §1.871-2 and section 4 of the article below:

46
47

Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent , Form #05.002 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

48 Therefore, a person who is a “national” but not a “citizen” and a “nonresident alien” can NOT have a “residence” as 49 defined anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code.

50 3. For the purposes of determining tax liability and not residency of all persons, we must defer to the definition of “United States” found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10), which is limited to federal territory and nowhere expanded in the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A to include any other place.

51 Based on the foregoing, we must conclude that the IRS’ statement above is a deception and a ruse intended to compel false
52 presumption under the influence of CONSTRUCTIVE FRAUD that will maximize the illegal flow of PLUNDER to the 53 federal government. It is provided as an example and cannot mean the legal definition of “United States” used in the 54 Internal Revenue Code. If they wish to imply that ALL THREE of the contexts in which the term “United States” could be
55 used are the same, then they should say so and provide statutory and regulatory authority for saying so. Until then, we must 56 defer to the definition of “United States” found within 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10). This is a consequence of the

1 following doctrine of the Supreme Court:

2 “Keeping in mind the well-settled rule that the citizen is exempt from taxation unless the same is imposed by
3 clear and unequivocal language, and that where the construction of a tax law is doubtful, the doubt is to be
4 resolved in favor of those upon whom the tax is sought to be laid.”
5 Spreckels Sugar Refining Co. v. McClain, [192 U.S. 297 (1904)]

6 27.1.3 You can't be a “nonresident alien” without also being an “individual” based on 26 CFR §1.1441-1

7 Contention: Based on reading 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3), it appears that one cannot be a “nonresident alien” without also 8 being an “individual. That definition appears below:

9 26 CFR §1.1441-1 Requirement for the deduction and withholding of tax on payments to foreign persons.

10 (c) Definitions

11 (3) Individual.

12 (i) Alien individual.

13 The term alien individual means an individual who is not a citizen or a national of the United States. See Sec.
14 1.1-1(c).

15 (ii) Nonresident alien individual.

16 The term nonresident alien individual means

17 [1] a person described in section 7701(b)(1)(B),

18 [2] an alien individual who is a resident of a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty
19 and Sec. 301.7701(b)-7(a)(1) of this chapter, or

20 [3] an alien individual who is a resident of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana 21 Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under Sec. 301.7701(b)-1(d) of this chapter.
22 An alien individual who has made an election under section 6013 (g) or (h) to be treated as a resident of the 23 United States is nevertheless treated as a nonresident alien individual for purposes of withholding under 24 chapter 3 of the Code and the regulations thereunder.

25 Now, based on paragraph (ii) above, there are 3 options for being a “Nonresident alien individual”.

26 1. A person described in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).
27 2. An alien individual who is a resident of a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty and 26
28 CFR §301.7701(b)-7(a)(1) of this chapter.
29 3. An alien individual who is a resident of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S.
30 Virgin Islands, or American Samoa as determined under 26 CFR §301.7701(b)-1(d) of this chapter.

31 If we then look at the definition of “Nonresident alien” referenced in item 1 above and found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B),
32 the definition appears:

33 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(B\) Nonresident alien

34 An individual is a nonresident alien if such individual is neither a citizen of the United States nor a resident of
35 the United States (within the meaning of subparagraph (A)).

36 Based on the above, it appears that someone cannot be a “nonresident alien” as defined above without also being an
37 “individual”.

38 We can find no evidence to suggest that the words “person” or “individual” have any sinister function or “word of art”
39 operation in Title 26, apart from what it could be construed as. We agree that the definition of “individual” found in the 40 privacy act at 5 U.S.C. §552a(a)(2) is something totally different.

1 Rebuttal: The term "nonresident alien" WITHOUT the word "individual" does not in fact appear in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)
2 (1)(B) . It only appears in the title but not the body of that section. According to 26 U.S.C. §7806(b), the title of a section is 3 NOT considered part of the section.

4 1. The essence of what it means to be a "nonresident alien" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) is that one is neither a
5 citizen nor a resident. "individuals" are one type of status one can have which could be neither a "citizen" nor a
6 "resident", but so are the following:
7 1.1. "transient foreigner".
8 1.2. "stateless person".
9 1.3. "nonresident".
10 1.4. "foreign corporation".
11 2. The "nonresident alien" referenced in the body of 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) is obviously an "individual" because they
12 are called an individual. Nowhere in the code, however, does it imply or infer that "individuals" are the ONLY types
13 of "nonresident aliens" and you may not presume that this is our case without prejudicing my rights.
14 3. We claim the status in the TITLE but not the BODY of 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).
15 4. We claim to be a nonresident but not an "individual" or a "person". Only by having a domicile on federal territory and 16 by engaging in public offices can we be a "person" or "individual" under federal civil law, in fact.
17 4.1. Being a public officer is the only way we can be subject to federal statutory civil law, because the Constitution
18 protects private conduct from regulation or legislation. See:

Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a "Public Officer" for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

19 4.2. Having a civil domicile on federal territory is the only thing that can subject a human being to exclusive federal 20 civil jurisdiction, and there is no subject matter jurisdiction within a state over any federal franchise, including the 21 "trade or business" franchise:

Why Domicile and Becoming a "Taxpayer" Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

22 4.3. An example of a "nonresident" but not an "individual" is someone who lives in China and does not maintain a
23 domicile or residence in the "United States", which is defined as federal territory and no part of any state of the 24 Union within 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d). Someone who has never physically been 25 to the "United States" federal territory, furthermore cannot have a domicile or residence there and therefore 26 cannot be a "person" or "individual".

27 5. The only way one can be a nonresident and still be "subject" to that code section is to make a voluntary election to 28 engage in commerce with the sovereign and thereby:

29 5.1. Consensually waive sovereign immunity under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2).
30 5.2. Become an "individual" and a "person".

31 5.3. Become a "subject", "citizen", or "resident" under the civil law.

32 6. One can't lawfully become a "person" or "individual" under the I.R.C. unless they:

33 4.2 Started out as an alien. All "individuals" are aliens...AND

34 4.3 Voluntarily consented to engage in commerce with the government... .AND

35 4.4 CONSENSUALLY applied for a license to occupy a public office called a "Taxpayer Identification Number". If 36 they didn't consent, then they can't be an "individual" because CONSENT is the only thing that can give private 37 law such as a franchise the "force of law".

38 Consensus facit legem.

39 Consent makes the law. A contract is a law between the parties, which can acquire force only by consent.

40 [Bouvier's Maxims of Law, 1856;

41 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/Publications/BouvierMaximsOfLaw/BouviersMaxims.htm>

42 7. Only by consent under the civil law can one become a "person" or an "individual", because:

43 7.1. We can't lawfully be compelled to contract with the government by engaging in commerce or participating in 44 franchises such as the "trade or business" franchise. Governments are established, in fact, to protect your right to 45 both contract and NOT contract. See Article 1, Section 10 of the U.S. Constitution, for instance. Therefore, they 46 can't force me to contract with them by forcing me to participate in a franchise that I don't consent to participate 47 in or accept the "benefits" of.

48 7.2. The First Amendment guarantees us a right of freedom from compelled association. How I describe and define
49 MY OWN status is the mechanism by which I choose to associate or disassociate with any political group,

1 including a "state" or a "government", and I can't be compelled to associate.

2 This is covered in:

3 4 Your Exclusive Right to Declare or Establish Your Civil Status, Form #13.008
5 6 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

8. Since we do all the following, then we can't be anything directly addressed or defined in the code.
9 8.1. Do not waive sovereign immunity.
10 8.2. Do not consensually engage in commerce or accept any government "benefit" and thereby become a "public
11 officer". All "public officers" are people responsible for managing GOVERNMENT property and those in receipt 12 of government "benefits" are in receipt of government property.
13 8.3. Do not have a domicile on federal territory.
14 8.4. Identify every commercial benefit they bestow as a gift that creates no obligation. This is the same thing they do
15 to "taxpayers". Everything you pay to them under employment withholding is a gift. See Great IRS Hoax, Form
16 #11.302, Section 5.6.8.
17 8.5. Notify them that my consent must ONLY be procured in writing in order for me to waive sovereign immunity.
18 See Legal Notice of Change in Domicile/Citizenship Records and Divorce from the United States, Form #10.001.
19 This is the same thing they do to you: when you want to sue them, you have to produce a statute authorizing a
20 waiver of sovereign immunity. If our government is one of delegated powers, then I must be able to demand the 21 same dignity from them under the concept of equal protection of the law.
22 9. A "nonresident alien" who isn't an "individual" is not defined in the I.R.C. but is referenced in the I.R.C. Therefore,
23 that is the status we claim, which is that of an entity that isn't directly defined in the code and therefore not subject to it.

24 *"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
25 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."*
[Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

26 10. If you want to avoid all the word games, just call oneself a nonresident and a "foreigner" but not a "foreign person",
27 "person", "individual", "nonresident alien individual", "alien individual", or any other entity described in the code as
28 either having a liability or accepting a "benefit", or engaging in commerce. To be "sovereign" simply means you don't 29 appear in the code and therefore are "foreign" and not subject to it or the jurisdiction of the government. This is 30 covered in:

31 Path to Freedom, Form #09.015, Section 5
32 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

33 It's all about commerce and the purpose of the code is to facilitate commerce with The Beast, which the Bible says in Rev.
34 19:19 is the government. The only thing the code can or does talk about are those who consent to contract with the Beast
35 and thereby become "individuals", "subjects", "citizens", and "residents" under the civil law by virtue of that fornication.
36 The sovereign isn't subject to the law but foreign to it. If you don't consent to fornicate with or contract with The Beast,
37 then you don't appear in the code and don't have any of the statuses in the code, but rather are a "foreign estate" pursuant to
38 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(31). All franchises are contracts and "private law" that can only affect the consenting parties, including
39 the "trade or business" franchise that is the heart of the income tax. Contracts and the consent they represent are the ONLY
40 lawful way the government can acquire ANY right to your private property. Otherwise, the property is private property and 41 governments are established to protect private property. The main method they protect such property is to protect you from 42 being compelled to convert it into public property or other people's property. In tax law, this conversion is called converting 43 private property to a public use, public purpose, and a public office. The process of taxation accomplishes this conversion,
44 but only by the consent of the owner in applying for a license to engage in a franchise.

45 We can be the thing described in the TITLE of a section without being the thing described in the BODY, and the two are 46 not considered subsets of each other per 26 U.S.C. §7806. The fact that something is not defined in the code does not mean
47 that it doesn't exist, but rather means that it isn't subject and therefore is sovereign and foreign in respect to that body of 48 PRIVATE law. The "sovereign" they are referring to below is a "nonresident alien" in this case because he is not the subject
49 of the law in question:

50 "Since in common usage the term 'person' does not include the sovereign, statutes employing that term are ordinarily construed to exclude it."

2 Everything we just said is already covered in sections 0 and 6 of this document.

3 27.2 Tax and accounting profession objections

4 “A government which robs Peter to pay Paul can always depend on the support of Paul.”

5 The tax preparation, accounting, financial planning, payroll, government, and legal professions absolutely HATE the 6 Nonresident Alien Position with a vengeance and will try to steer you away from it. They will also try to make sure you
7 don't know why they don't like it and will go out of their way not to admit why they don't like it. There are many reasons
8 for this that have absolutely nothing with the validity of the position and have far more to do with “bringing home the 9 bacon” and avoiding “cognitive dissonance” for these so-called “professionals”. As you have already learned, those who 10 use the Nonresident Alien Position:

- 11 1. May not claim ANY deductions or include a Schedule C with their return.
- 12 2. May not file a 1040 form and instead must file the 1040NR form.
- 13 3. Do not file at an IRS service center in their District Office, but instead file at the International Branch in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.
- 14 4. May not apply for Earned Income Credit.
- 15 5. May not apply a graduated rate of tax to their earnings.
- 16 6. Must pay a flat 30% tax upon earnings originating from within federal territory or the U.S. government if they have passive income.
- 17 7. Do not have to file W-4 or W-4 Exempt forms, but instead file W-8BEN forms to prevent payroll withholding.
- 18 8. Do not and should not get W-2 forms at the end of the year, because they earn no reportable “wages” or “trade or business” earnings.
- 19 9. Should not receive 1099 forms at the end of the year, unless they work for the federal government within exclusive 20 federal jurisdiction and are engaged in a “trade or business”.

24 The thing that tax, accounting, and legal professionals absolutely hate about the Nonresident Alien Position is that:

- 25 1. Since there is no payroll withholding, then payroll clerks feel useless and we need far fewer of them.
- 26 2. Since there are no deductions or creative ways to reduce “taxable income”, then tax and financial planners feel useless and we need far fewer of them.
- 27 3. Since it is VERY simple, then you don't need a lawyer to figure it out. Therefore, all those smart people who make a living trying to outsmart the lawyers in Washington would have to find more productive things to do.
- 28 4. It would cause both state and federal government revenues to go down, so employees in the government, and especially judges whose retirement would be adversely affected, don't like it. Who wants their federal pension reduced?
- 29 5. Implementing it fully would drastically reduce the number of “taxpayers”. Therefore the IRS isn't going to buy off on it because most Revenue Officers would be laid off if it was fully implemented.

34 What the above list clearly shows is that there are a lot of people in the financial, tax, accounting, payroll, and government
35 arenas who benefit HUGELY from keeping things the way they are and expanding the operation of the de facto unjust and 36 fraudulent system we have now. Just the government alone collects hundreds of billions of dollars a year from “donations”
37 that it deceitfully calls “taxes” through this fraud. That's called a conflict of interest and it's against the law. 18 U.S.C.
38 §208 makes such a conflict of interest a crime in the case of a federal employee, and 18 U.S.C. §201(b)(3) makes it a
39 federal crime to bribe a witness or testify as a bribed witness in a federal court. Anyone who is called as a witness in a
40 federal trial who is involved in any one of these professions and is asked to comment on the Nonresident Alien Position in 41 court would therefore have to recuse themselves because of severe conflict of interest. The only people who would make 42 suitable witnesses are those who don't benefit from the fraudulent system we have now. We would venture to say that it is 43 precisely this kind of conflict of interest that has not only protected, but expanded the illegal operation of the Internal 44 Revenue Code within our society.

45 In short, if the Nonresident Alien Position were widely understood and implemented, then most of the people who presently
46 work as payroll clerks, tax preparers, accounting professionals, financial planners, tax lawyers, or do financial services
47 would simply find themselves out of work! In effect, they would be punishing themselves for being honest and honorable
48 by telling the truth about the fraud or by recognizing or helping those who spread the truth. Who in their right mind who

1 has one of these jobs would want to encourage employees, investors, clients, or loyal but ignorant “taxpayers” to help them
2 get fired or laid off?

3 We have spoken with several people who work in the financial services and legal professions and who stumbled on our
4 website and this free pamphlet. Many of them have spent their whole life learning how to teach “taxpayers” to reduce their
5 presumed “liability”, never once questioning whether there really was a legal “liability” or whether the Internal Revenue
6 Code was even a “law” they had to follow! After they have read and studied our research and learned the truth for 7 themselves, they find themselves in a very conflicted position. People who work in these professions frequently must 8 maintain a fiduciary relationship with their clients which causes them to feel a strong sense of moral duty to do what is best
9 for their clients. This leads them to want to share the truths in this book with their clients, coworkers, friends, and family,
10 as we recommend that they should do. The result is a serious mental conflict, summarized with the questions below:

- 11 1. How can I admit to all my clients that I have been doing something illegal and morally wrong for my whole life that 12 has seriously hurt ALL of my clients?
- 13 2. How can I claim to be an “expert” to my clients after having just learned that I have overlooked something so simple 14 and obvious for so many years?
- 15 3. How can I educate my clients about the truth and not look like a psycho who is off his rocker? Will my boss ask me to 16 see a psychologist?
- 17 4. How can I continue to pretend that my clients are “taxpayers” who need my help when I know they aren’t? I can’t 18 sleep at night telling them they are “taxpayers” who need my help while knowing full well that it isn’t true.
- 19 5. Will I lose my CPA license, or my Certified Financial Planner certificate, or my license to practice law by 20 implementing these truths in my profession on a large scale?
- 21 6. Would my income or employability be adversely affected if I decided to tell the truth to my clients about this fraud?
22 How can I pay my bills and support my family and still earn an honest living?
- 23 7. Would my friends and professional colleagues think less of me because I have different opinions and ideas about 24 important matters?
- 25 8. Will the knowledge that I have cause conflicts in the office with my coworkers and eventually cause me to have to be 26 terminated?
- 27 9. What are the appropriate circumstances in which I can discuss this with my coworkers and friends while still avoiding 28 conflict and controversy?

29 Frequently, when loyal readers of our materials have learned the truths in this book and attempted to fully implement them
30 in their personal lives, they are often treated with skepticism and mistrust by friends, family, coworkers, government, and
31 clients, all of whom have been so brainwashed by the public schools, the government, and a government-controlled media
32 to believe what amounts to a monumental LIE. In some cases, their whole world is turned upside down, because they 33 realize they have been part of a lie for the better part of their whole life. No doubt, this prospect can be quite disturbing.
34 Nevertheless, we have a great commission from God as His followers and servants to love our neighbor, and those who 35 love want to educate and share the truth with those they love, as we do here. Education is how we protect and empower 36 both our children, our friends, family, and business associates, and it MUST be done, no matter the consequences or cost.

37 “Love suffers long and is kind; love does not envy; love does not parade itself, is not puffed up; does not
38 behave rudely, does not seek its own, is not provoked, thinks no evil; does not rejoice in iniquity, but rejoices
39 in the truth; bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.”
40 [1 Cor. 13:4-7, Bible, NKJV]

41 In the above passage, “rejoice in truth” means to share it with everyone. Jesus confirmed this by His example, when he 42 said:

43 “What I tell you now in the darkness, shout [from websites like this one] abroad when daybreak comes. What 44 I whisper in your ears, shout from the housetops for all to hear [and on websites like ours one that are 45 outside of government jurisdiction]!

46 “Don’t be afraid of those who want to kill you [because you do this]. They can only kill your body; they cannot 47 touch your soul. Fear [and obey] only God [and His laws, not the government’s unless they are consistent
48 with God’s laws], who can destroy both soul and body in hell. Not even a sparrow, worth only half a penny,
49 can fall to the ground without your Father knowing it. And the very hairs on your head are all numbered. So
50 don’t be afraid; you are more valuable to him than a whole flock of sparrows.”
51 [Jesus in Matt. 10:16-31, Bible, New Living Translation]

52 Along these lines, someone sent us the following very pertinent joke that we repeat here:

1 One Sunday morning during service, a 2,000 member congregation was surprised to see two men enter, both
2 covered from head to toe in black and carrying submachine guns. One of the men proclaimed, "Anyone willing
3 to take a bullet for Christ remain where you are."

4 Immediately, the choir fled, the deacons fled, and most of the congregation fled. Out of the 2,000 there only 5 remained around 20.

6 The man who had spoken took off his hood, looked at the preacher and said "Okay Pastor, I got rid of all the 7 hypocrites. Now you may begin your service. Have a nice day!" And the two men turned and walked out.

8 While reading newspaper editorials urging the elimination of the Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT), we were struck by the
9 ease with which many Americans, including financial planners and editors of newspapers, embrace the idea that the country
10 has become utterly corrupt as a consequence of the way our income tax system is administered by the IRS. The regimen of 11 the AMT-- which requires some to use harsher rules than others when calculating their 'contribution'-- would obviously be 12 unconstitutional if it were imposed as part of a compulsory tax system. Still, it is clear that a majority of the population still 13 falsely believe that it is so imposed. A diligently cultivated fear of the IRS has successfully torn the fabric of reason in 14 many minds, allowing these two contradictory concepts-- a compulsory legal duty imposing unequal legal obligations-- to 15 co-exist.

16 Clearly, one or the other of these two things-- the Constitutional requirement of equal treatment by the law; or that the 17 progressive rate tax system (of which the AMT is a part) is compulsory-- must be untrue. Just as clearly, the one that must 18 be untrue is that the tax "scheme" of which the AMT is a part is compulsory. There can be no question about the 19 unconstitutionality of unequal treatment by the law. Little, if anything, could be more offensive to our most fundamental 20 principles than unequal treatment.

21 In fact-- despite the apparent willingness of the general public to entertain the contradiction without objection-- what must
22 be so, is indeed so. The U.S. Supreme Court has routinely and definitively declared the income tax to apply solely to the 23 receipts from a very limited list of wholly optional activities, all of which involve either a "trade or business" or foreign
24 commerce. It is only those who choose to engage in those avoidable taxable activities-- all connected with, and involving 25 payments by the federal government-- who are potentially subject to what would otherwise be an illegal tax scheme. The 26 words of the tax code themselves acknowledge this limited scope.

27 Nonetheless, this conformity to reality is carefully concealed from casual view by tax, accounting, financial, payroll, legal
28 professionals, and the IRS. The relevant rulings by the high court were issued long ago. In the meantime, there has been a
29 dedicated campaign conducted by the beneficiaries of ignorance-- such as CPA's, tax attorneys, IRS agents, and politicians--
30 to consign those rulings to the memory hole and to discourage open-eyed public consideration of the subject in general.
31 Despite the natural American skepticism toward assertions issuing from such clearly self-interested parties, it has been a
32 successful campaign. The fear factor alluded to above, whereby any contemplation of the income tax is compromised with 33 irrationality and an instinctive urge to move on, is an important contributor to that success.

34 Another is the fragmenting of the actual taxing statutes in the Internal Revenue Code into near incoherence in the 'code' by 35 which they are now exclusively presented to the public. While those statutes plainly acknowledge the limitations of their
36 scope, they have been cleverly disassembled, scattered, and intermingled in that code-- even to the point of extracting
37 individual sentences from certain sections and placing them thousands of words away into the company of language from 38 other sections. As a consequence, portions of the code-- when carefully excerpted and presented out of context-- appear to 39 claim for the law a scope which it clearly cannot have. In fact, the I.R.C. DOES NOT have such a scope because the code
40 itself not only is not law, but cannot be law precisely because of the unequal treatment that it produces. These excerpts are 41 waved under the noses of the rare souls who overcome the fear to the point of questioning the beneficiaries of the 42 misunderstanding. They serve to provide some inquirers (who are really looking for no more) with an excuse to claim
43 satisfaction and scamper away with relief. More purposeful doubters are also often dissuaded thereby: Faced with the 44 labyrinth of baffling nonsense which such I.R.C. excerpts reflect, many conclude that to sort through to the truth would be 45 more expensive than simple surrender.

46 It can be hoped that the errors defended by such dolus and cheap tricks-- and the depressing loss of civic self-respect to
47 which they lead-- will not long survive the American predisposition to straight talk and simple truth now that we have 48 entered the information age. However, the newspaper editorials which stimulated this commentary appeared in one of the 49 nation's major daily newspapers, and, though critical of the unfairness of the AMT, clearly took for granted that it is
50 compulsory. Thus, even though the road back might be a digital superhighway, it will be climbing a hill.

1 The absurd argument used to defend the AMT-- and progressivity in general, for that matter-- reveals the illegitimacy of its
2 client concept. In a nutshell, that argument is: Since the same unequal treatment is applied to every target who reaches the
3 same special circumstances, the treatment actually IS equal. This is like declaring that if a law dictates that EVERY 45-
4 year-old redhead named Joe Smith in Cheyenne, Wyoming, is to be taxed at a 99% rate (unlike everyone else, who will
5 simply be subsidized thereby), red-headed 45-year-old Mr. Smith of Cheyenne is thus afforded equal treatment under the 6 law. After all, any other red-headed 45-year-old of the same name who moves to Cheyenne will also be so taxed. Mr.
7 Smith simply loses 'life's lottery', so to speak. At least it will only be one year of outrage for Mr. Smith, because next year
8 he will be 46. Unless the "law" is changed, of course...

9 The reality of the AMT-- or any other form of progressivity including that associated with a "trade or business"-- is that
10 citizen 'A' is taxed $15 per $100 taken in, while citizen 'B' is charged $20 (to pick numbers solely for purposes of 11 illustration). All the nonsense about the first, as opposed to the second, increment of earnings; margins; rates-on-the-next-
12 dollar-earned, etc.; is nothing but an effort by the beneficiaries of the status quo to obscure this raw reality, and what would
13 otherwise be the obvious fact that the tax thus imposed is not, and cannot be, compulsory because unequal. That is, while 14 the tax IS compulsory in regard to the highly specialized activities upon which it is actually imposed, those highly 15 specialized activities are entirely optional to any American. Unequal imposition of a tax on optional, voluntary activities is 16 perfectly lawful-- if you don't like it, you don't have to participate in the activities. But such a tax cannot be (and is not)
17 imposed on the routine-- and unavoidable-- exercise of the (untaxable-in-any-case) right to earn money, engage in 18 contracts, etc..

19 It is by taking advantage of nuances of this sort that beneficiaries of the "income" tax scheme in the government, tax,
20 accounting, payroll, and legal professions are able to innocently but disingenuously declare that,

21 "Of course the income tax is compulsory!"

22 ...while still concealing the truth by failing to explain words of art legal definitions of the term "income" and "United 23 States" within federal revenue law. An example will serve to illustrate: If Congress were to pass legislation which included 24 sections specifying that,

25 "For purposes of this act, "breathing" means selling hot-dogs from the steps of the capital building", and,

26 "There is hereby imposed a $10 annual tax on breathing"

27 ...it could then be said with a straight face that there is a compulsory tax on breathing, but it still wouldn't mean that every
28 American is thus involuntarily obliged to pony up $10 every year for the taking in of air. The construction and the 29 presentation of the "income" tax is of precisely this character. The square peg actually has a square hole to match, and the 30 law as written is not in irreconcilable conflict with the Constitution. But don't rely on the beneficiaries of misunderstanding
31 in the government, tax, legal, payroll, or financial industries to make this clear.

32 27.3 Objections of Friends

33 "Prejudices, it is well known, are most difficult to eradicate from the heart whose soil has never been loosened 34 or fertilized by education; they grow there, firm as weeds among stones."
35 [Charlotte Bronte]

36 Friends or family members may, in their legal ignorance, try to convince you that the nonresident alien position described 37 in this pamphlet is simply wrong. This reaction will usually be the result of

- 38 1. The "cognitive dissonance" created by describing yourself as a type of "alien" in your own country.
- 39 2. Their ignorance about the Separation of Powers Doctrine, or the fact that the states of the Union are "foreign" and the 40 equivalent of foreign countries for the purposes of most federal jurisdiction.
- 41 3. The lack of Constitutional training in the public schools system.
- 42 4. The complete lack of any teaching about law in the public schools.

43 This knee-jerk argument comes up quite a bit in reference to the Nonresident Alien Position as a way to discourage people
44 from using it. It has a lot of variations and is usually based on a simplistic and inadequate understanding of the applicable
45 law relating to nonresident aliens. For instance, some people will say that filing as a nonresident alien carries more
46 potential for "liabilities", as shown in 26 U.S.C. §1461, which makes persons who are deducting and withholding on

1 nonresident aliens liable as follows:

2 26 U.S.C. §1461 Liability for withheld tax

3 Every person required to deduct and withhold any tax under this chapter is hereby made liable for such tax...

5 But the fact of the matter is, the persons who are paying, and therefore withholding, such income in most cases under
6 Subtitle A of the I.R.C. work for the U.S. government, and of course the federal government can make its own employees
7 liable for not following federal law! Not only that, but under the provisions of 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\), the federal
8 government doesn't even need implementing regulations to govern its own employees. No one who works for a private 9 employer outside of the federal zone would ever be in the position of paying "U.S. source income" (a code word for 10 government payments) to a nonresident alien so no one else would need to worry about liability for deducting and 11 withholding of such income.

12 Just like any other activity in life, ignorance will hurt you, and this is especially true of Internal Revenue Code. The 13 Nonresident Alien Position (NAP), like virtually anything, can and probably will mean trouble if you don't know what you
14 are doing or you haven't taken the time to do your homework, and there is more homework to do with this position because
15 it is more unfamiliar to most people and because most people don't like to study the law. That's why we took the time to 16 include section 15, which describes the legal responsibilities of nonresident aliens. The underlying legal issues of the 17 nonresident alien position, however, are very simple. A fairly small amount of legal research is necessary to understand the 18 nonresident alien position, but most people never conquer their fear of the law or the IRS publications long enough to learn
19 that it's actually the better position.

20 Criticism of the nonresident alien position usually falls into the following three categories:

- 21 1. There is a knee jerk reaction to the use of the word "alien" to describe them, because they incorrectly think they are "U.S. citizens" who couldn't possibly be "aliens". As explained in section 18.1, you can be a "nonresident 22 alien" and not an "alien" as the terms are defined in the tax code, and this circumstance was created deliberately by the
23 Congress who wrote our tax code to steer people away from using the "nonresident alien" position, since in most cases
24 it completely eliminates their federal tax liability. A more correct and accurate name for "nonresident alien" in the tax
25 code would have been "Nonresident foreigner" and then to describe "nationals" as foreigners in the tax code. This use
26 of terms, however, would have required the government to define the meaning of "foreign", which would have exposed
27 the fraud that perpetuates the whole system and keeps people paying, so they must have decided not to name it
28 honestly. That is why nowhere in the Internal Revenue Code is the term "foreign" defined: they simply don't want
29 you to know what it means. The closest thing we have to a definition of "foreign" is found in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(5\), 30 which defines a "foreign corporation", but not the word "foreign".
- 31 2. If they are low income, people think that by filing as nonresident aliens, they will end up paying a higher tax rate
as a percentage, and they don't like that. Nonresident aliens use the 1040NR form and IRS publications falsely say 32 to pay a flat rate of 30% for income from without the United States as defined in 26 U.S.C. §871\(a\), while those who
33 file a 1040 form as "U.S. citizens" and/or residents pay a graduated rate that is usually lower than 30% unless they
34 are high income earners and which is described in 26 U.S.C. §871\(b\). They overlook the fact that 26 CFR §1.861-
35 8(f)(1)(iv) limits federal income taxes to only commerce "effectively connected with a trade or business", which is to
36 say that it is income from a public office. Therefore, because people have not taken the time to research what the law
37 says it means to be a nonresident alien and rely on the misleading (at best, fraudulent at worst) IRS publications, they 38 never learn that being a nonresident alien means they no longer owe any tax in most cases! Isn't that the result 39 everyone wants?
- 40 3. Confusion over the definition of the term "United States" in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and "employee" in 26 U.S.C.
§3401(c). Since most people never take the time to understand that "United States" means the federal zone in the 41 context of the Internal Revenue Code, they don't realize that being a nonresident alien is actually a good thing, because 42 it only taxes "U.S." (federal zone) source income connected with a "trade or business", which means income from 43 federal government public office ONLY that falls under 26 CFR § 1.861-8(f), and most people don't have any income
44 from sources in this regulation, but they think they do because they never take the time to understand the 861 position.
45 Since most people do not realize that 26 U.S.C. §3401\(c\) and 26 CFR § 31.3401(c)-1 define "employee" to mean a
46 person holding "public office" in the United States government, then they don't realize that the only employer is Uncle
47 Sam in the Internal Revenue Code, so they mistakenly reach the conclusion that they are federal employers who are 48 liable to withhold taxes on nonresident aliens under 26 U.S.C. §1461!

52 Quite to the contrary, the nonresident alien position is the best position to be in, and is far better than being a "U.S.

1 Individual” indicated in the upper left corner of the 1040 form because:

- 2 1. You are not a statutory “U.S. citizen” with a domicile on federal territory, so you are no longer subject to the territorial
- 3 or subject matter jurisdiction of the federal courts under the Internal Revenue Code. This immunizes you against legal
- 4 actions by the IRS to extort, levy, lien, or seize taxes out of you that you aren’t liable for.
- 5 2. Although the tax rate looks like it is supposed to be a flat 30% as indicated in 26 U.S.C. §871\(a\), most people do not
- 6 hold public office (“trade or business”) and therefore have no taxable [federal] U.S. source income.
- 7 3. The IRS Form W-8 or W-8BEN allows you to get away without using SSN’s. You therefore don’t need to use social
- 8 security numbers on any of your financial accounts, which improves your privacy and financial security and also
- 9 makes it harder for the IRS and creditors to locate your assets. There is no lawful way for Congress to require
- 10 nonresident aliens who are domiciled outside of their jurisdiction to have federal ID numbers, because federal law does
- 11 not reach outside of the federal zone.
- 12 4. You can file a W-8 or W-8BEN form to stop employment tax withholding instead of a W-4 form, and because there are
- 13 no penalties for false W-8’s like there are for W-4’s ($500), then the IRS can’t do a damn thing to fine or punish you if
- 14 they find out you stopped withholding because you are outside of their territorial jurisdiction.
- 15 5. The W-8 and W-8BEN form, as well as the 1040NR forms that you file as a nonresident alien violate the Paperwork
- 16 Reduction Act and the Privacy Act, as was pointed out in section 5.5.9 of the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, which
- 17 provides a strong argument and defense against even being obligated to complete these forms and submit them to the
- 18 IRS. These forms violate the Privacy Act because they do not tell whether they are “voluntary” or “mandatory” and
- 19 they don’t say so because the IRS doesn’t want you to know they are “voluntary” so they don’t tell you anything!
- 20 6. The clerks who process the 1040NR forms are far more familiar with the taxable source rules under 26 U.S.C. §861
- 21 and 26 CFR §1.861-8(f) than those who process the 1040 forms, and are therefore far more likely to believe you when
- 22 you say you have no taxable “U.S. source” income on your 1040NR form.

23
24 WARNING: Use of the new IRS W-8BEN form is hazardous to your financial health if you aren’t
25 very careful about how you fill it out! IRS has made this new form, which replaces the W-8, very 26 tricky to fill out without creating false presumptions that might incriminate you. Family Guardian
27 has therefore have included detailed warnings and instructions for filling it out in section 1.5.3.13 of 28 the Sovereignty Forms and Instructions Manual, Form #10.005 that will hopefully keep you out of 29 trouble.

30 27.4 Legal Profession Objections: Dual sovereignty

31 The most frequent argument AGAINST the content of this document from people in the legal profession relates to the 32 concept of “dual sovereignty”, whereby lawyers will say that people domiciled in a state of the Union are subject to TWO 33 legislative jurisdictions, and not one. Then they will quote the following:

34 “The laws of the United States are laws in the several States, and just as much binding on the citizens and
35 courts thereof as the State laws are. The United States is not a foreign sovereignty as regards the several States,
36 but is a concurrent, and, within its jurisdiction, paramount sovereignty. Every citizen of a State is a subject of
37 two distinct sovereignties, having concurrent jurisdiction in the State,-concurrent as to place and persons,
38 though distinct as to subject-matter.”
39 [Claflin v. Houseman, 93 U.S. 130, 136 (1876)]

40 “And the powers of the General Government, and of the State, although both exist and are exercised within the
41 same territorial limits, are yet separate and distinct sovereignties, acting separately and independently of each
42 other, within their respective spheres.”
43 [Ableman v. Booth, 62 U.S. 506, 516 (1858)]

44 Can two entities be simultaneously sovereign over a single geographic region and the same subject matter? Let’s 45 investigate this intriguing matter further, keeping in mind that such controversies result from a fundamental 46 misunderstanding of what “sovereignty” really means.

47 We like to think of the word “sovereignty” in the context of government as the combination of “exclusive authority” with
48 “exclusive responsibility”. The Constitution in effect very clearly divides authority and responsibility for specific matters
49 between the states and federal government based on the specific subject matter, and ensures that the functions of each will
50 never overlap or conflict. It delegates certain powers to each of the two sovereigns and keeps the two sovereigns from

1 competing with each other so that public peace, tranquility, security, and political harmony have the most ideal
2 environment in which to flourish.

3 If we therefore examine the Constitution and the Supreme court cases interpreting it, we find that the complex division of
4 authority that it makes between the states and the federal government accomplishes the following objectives:

5 5. Delegates primarily internal matters to the states. These matters involve mainly public health, morals, and welfare and
6 require exclusive legislative authority within the state.

7 "While the states are not sovereign in the true sense of that term, but only quasi sovereign, yet in respect of all
8 powers reserved to them they are supreme-'as independent of the general government as that government within
9 its sphere is independent of the States.' The Collector v. Day, 11 Wall. 113, 124. And since every addition to the 10 national legislative power to some extent detracts from or invades the power of the states, it is of vital moment
11 that, in order to preserve the fixed balance intended by the Constitution, the powers of the general government
12 [298 U.S. 238, 295] be not so extended as to embrace any not within the express terms of the several grants or 13 the implications necessarily to be drawn therefrom. It is no longer open to question that the general
14 government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649,
15 Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the internal affairs of the states; and
16 emphatically not with regard to legislation. The question in respect of the inherent power of that government
17 as to the external affairs of the Nation and in the field of international law is a wholly different matter which
18 it is not necessary now to consider. See, however, Jones v. United States, 137 U.S. 202, 212, 11 S.Ct. 80;
19 Nishimur Ekiu v. United States, 142 U.S. 651, 659, 12 S.Ct. 336; Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698
20 , 705 et seq., 13 S.Ct. 1016; Burnet v. Brooks, 288 U.S. 378, 396, 53 S.Ct. 457, 86 A.L.R. 747."

23 "Thus, Congress having power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and
24 with the Indian tribes, may, without doubt, provide for granting coasting licenses, licenses to pilots, licenses to
25 trade with the Indians, and any other licenses necessary or proper for the exercise of that great and extensive
26 power; and the same observation is applicable to every other power of Congress, to the exercise of which the 27 granting of licenses may be incident. All such licenses confer authority, and give rights to the licensee.

28 But very different considerations apply to the internal commerce or domestic trade of the States. Over this
29 commerce and trade Congress has no power of regulation nor any direct control. This power belongs
30 exclusively to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a State is
31 warranted by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly granted to
32 the legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive power of 33 the State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It is given
34 in the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports, and it
35 must impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus limited,
36 and thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing
37 subjects. Congress cannot authorize a trade or business within a State in order to tax it."
38 [License Tax Cases, 72 U.S. 462, 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]

39 6. Delegates primarily external matters to the federal government, including diplomatic and military and postal and
40 commerce matters. These include such things as:

41 6.1. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the constitution authorizes the feds to tax and regulate foreign commerce and
42 interstate commerce, but not intrastate commerce.
43 6.2. Article 1, Section 8, Clauses 11-16 authorize the establishment of a military and the authority to make war.
44 6.3. Article 1, Section 8, Clause 4 allows the fed to determine uniform rules for naturalization and immigration from
45 outside the country. However, it does not take away the authority of states to naturalize as well.

46 7. Ensures that the same criminal offense is never prosecuted or punished twice or simultaneously under two sets of laws.

47 "Consequently no State court will undertake to enforce the criminal law of the Union, except as regards the
48 arrest of persons charged under such law. It is therefore clear, that the same power cannot be exercised by a
49 State court as is exercised by the courts of the United States, in giving effect to their criminal laws..."

50 "There is no principle better established by the common law, none more fully recognized in the federal and
51 State constitutions, than that an individual shall not be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense. This, it is
52 true, applies to the respective governments; but its spirit applies with equal force against a double punishment,
53 for the same act, by a State and the federal government.....

54 Nothing can be more repugnant or contradictory than two punishments for the same act. It would be a
55 mockery of justice and a reproach to civilization. It would bring our system of government into merited
56 contempt."
57 [Fox v. The State of Ohio, 46 U.S. 410, 5 Howard 410, 12 L.Ed. 213 (1847)]

1 8. Ensures that the two sovereigns never tax the same objects or activities, because then they would be competing for
2 revenues.

3 “Two governments acting independently of each other cannot exercise the same power for the same object.”
4 [Fox v. The State of Ohio, 46 U.S. 410, 5 Howard 410, 12 L.Ed. 213 (1847)]

5 As far as the last item above goes, which is that of taxation, however, the U.S. Supreme Court has stated:

6 *“The States, after they formed the Union, continued to have the same range of taxing power which they had
7 before, barring only duties affecting exports, imports, and on tonnage. 2 Congress, on the other hand, to lay
8 taxes in order ‘to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States’,
9 Art. I, Sec. 8, U.S.C.A.Const., can reach every person and every dollar in the land with due regard to 10 Constitutional limitations as to the method of laying taxes.”*
11 [Graves v. People of State of New York, 306 U.S. 466 (1939)]

13 *“The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing opinions
14 concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a very long time this court
15 has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of Congress does not extend to the states or
16 their political subdivisions. The same basic reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like
17 limitation upon the power which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra.”*
18 [Ashton v. Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 1, 298 U.S. 513; 56 S.Ct. 892 (1936)]

20 *“The grant of the power to lay and collect taxes is, like the power to regulate commerce, made in general
21 terms, and has never been understood to interfere with the exercise of the same power by the State; and
22 hence has been drawn an argument which has been applied to the question under consideration. But the two
23 grants are not, it is conceived, similar in their terms or their nature. Although many of the powers formerly
24 [22 U.S. 1, 199] exercised by the States, are transferred to the government of the Union, yet the State
25 governments remain, and constitute a most important part of our system. The power of taxation is indispensable
26 to their existence, and is a power which, in its own nature, is capable of residing in, and being exercised by,
27 different authorities at the same time. We are accustomed to see it placed, for different purposes, in different
28 hands. Taxation is the simple operation of taking small portions from a perpetually accumulating mass,
29 susceptible of almost infinite division; and a power in one to take what is necessary for certain purposes, is not,
30 in its nature, incompatible with a power in another to take what is necessary for other purposes. Congress is
31 authorized to lay and collect taxes, and to pay the debts, and provide for the common defence and general
32 welfare of the United States. This does not interfere with the power of the States to tax [internally] for the
33 support of their own governments; nor is the exercise of that power by the States [to tax INTERNALLY], an
34 exercise of any portion of the power that is granted to the United States [to tax EXTERNALLY]. In imposing
35 taxes for State purposes, they are not doing what Congress is empowered to do. Congress is not empowered
36 to tax for those purposes which are within the exclusive province of the States. When, then, each
37 government exercises the power of taxation, neither is
38 exercising the power of the other. But, when a State proceeds to regulate commerce
39 with foreign nations, or among the several States, it is exercising the very power that is granted to Congress,
40 [22 U.S. 1, 200] and is doing the very thing which Congress is authorized to do. There is no analogy, then,
41 between the power of taxation and the power of regulating commerce. “*
42 [Gibbons v. Ogden, 22 U.S. 21 (1824)]

43 *“In Slaughter-house Cases, 16 Wall. 62, it was said that the police power is, from its nature, incapable of any
44 exact definition or limitation; and in Stone v. Mississippi, 101 U.S. 818, that it is ‘easier to determine whether
45 particular cases come within the general scope of the power than to give an abstract definition of the power
46 itself, which will be in all respects accurate.’ That there is a power, sometimes called the police power, which
47 has never been surrendered by the states, in virtue of which they may, within certain limits, control
48 everything within their respective territories, and upon the proper exercise of which, under some
49 circumstances, may depend the public health, the public morals, or the public safety, is conceded in all the
50 cases. Gibbons v. Ogden, 9 Wheat. 203. In its broadest sense, as sometimes defined, it includes all legislation
51 and almost every function of civil government. Barbier v. Connolly, 113 U.S. 31; S.C. 5 Sup.Ct.Rep. 357. [. .
52 .] Definitions of the police power must, however, be taken subject to the condition that
53 the state cannot, in its exercise, for any purpose whatever, encroach upon the powers
54 of the general [federal] government, or rights granted or secured by the supreme law of 55 the land.

18 And the Federalist Paper # 45 confirms this view in regards to taxation:

19 “It is true, that the Confederacy is to possess, and may exercise, the power of collecting internal as well as
20 external taxes throughout the States; but it is probable that this power will not be resorted to, except for
21 supplemental purposes of revenue; that an option will then be given to the States to supply their quotas by
22 previous collections of their own; and that the eventual collection, under the immediate authority of the
23 Union, will generally be made by the officers, and according to 24 the rules, appointed by the several States. Indeed it is
25 extremely probable, that in other instances, particularly in the 26 organization of the judicial power, the officers of the States
27 will be clothed with the correspondent authority of the Union.”

29 “Should it happen, however, that separate collectors of internal revenue should be appointed under the federal
30 government, the influence of the whole number would not bear a comparison with that of the multitude of State
31 officers in the opposite scale. ”

32 “Within every district to which a federal collector would be allotted, there would not be less than thirty or forty,
33 or even more, officers of different descriptions, and many of them persons of character and weight, whose
34 influence would lie on the side of the State. The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
35 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
36 indefinite. The former will be exercised principally on external objects, as war, peace, negotiation, and
37 foreign commerce; with which last the power of taxation will, for the most part, be connected. The powers
38 reserved to the several States will extend to all the objects which, in the ordinary course of affairs, concern
39 the lives, liberties, and properties of the people, and the internal order, improvement, and prosperity of the
40 State. The operations of the federal government will be most extensive and important in times of war and
41 danger; those of the State governments, in times of peace and security. As the former periods will probably
42 bear a small proportion to the latter, the State governments will here enjoy another advantage over the
43 federal government. The more adequate, indeed, the federal powers may be rendered to the national defense,
44 the less frequent will be those scenes of danger which might favor their ascendancy over the governments of
45 the particular States.’”

46 [Federalist Paper No. 45 (Jan. 1788), James Madison]

47 The introduction of the Sixteenth Amendment did not change any of the above, because Subtitle A income taxes only apply
48 within the federal United States, or federal zone. Even the Supreme Court agreed in the case of Stanton v. Baltic Mining
49 that the Sixteenth Amendment “conferred no new powers of taxation”, and they wouldn’t have said it and repeated it if they
50 didn’t mean it. This is explained more thoroughly in Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 5.2.6. Whether or not the 51 Sixteenth Amendment was properly ratified is inconsequential and a nullity, because of the limited applicability of Subtitle
52 A of the Internal Revenue Code to the federal zone. The Sixteenth Amendment authorized that:

53 Sixteenth Amendment

1 The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without
2 apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

3 And in fact, the above described amendment is exactly what an income tax under Subtitle A that only operates inside the
4 federal zone does: collect taxes on incomes without apportionment. Furthermore, because the federal zone is not protected
5 by the Constitution or the Bill of Rights (see Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)), then there can be no violation of
6 constitutional rights from the enforcement of the I.R.C. there. As a matter of fact, since due process of law is a requirement
7 only of the Bill of Rights, and the Bill of Rights doesn't apply in the federal zone, then technically, Congress doesn't even
8 need a law to legitimately collect taxes in these areas! The federal zone, recall, is a totalitarian socialist democracy, not a
9 republic, and the legislature and the courts can do anything they like there without violating the Bill of Rights or our 10 Constitutional rights.

11 The question of whether the federal government has lawful authority to institute direct taxes inside the Union states and 12 outside the federal zone is a rather simple one. Every power that it claims in respect to the internal affairs of states must 13 have a Constitutional origin:

14 *"The Government of the United States, therefore, can claim no powers which are not [explicitly] granted to it
15 by the Constitution, and the powers actually granted must be such as are expressly given, or given by necessary 16 implication."*
17 Buffington v. Day, 11 Wall. 113, [78 U.S. 122 (1871)]

18 Under what circumstances the federal government can collect Subtitle A income taxes is a simple question of where, in the
19 Constitution is the power explicitly granted to institute indirect excise taxes on natural "persons" living inside the 50 union
20 states who are not living in federal enclaves? All excise taxes are taxes on privileges and ordinarily can only be enforced
21 against artificial corporations and not human beings. All such taxes against human beings must be voluntary because 22 consent is required in a free country and all just powers derive from consent. The Sixteenth Amendment, by the repeated
23 admission of the Supreme court, didn't authorize enforcement actions against other than corporations and before we had a
24 Sixteenth Amendment, the Supreme Court said that the federal government didn't have that authority in the case of Pollock
25 v. Farmers Loan and Trust, 157 U.S. 429 (1895) to enforce income taxes on human beings. It's a simple question of where 26 in the Constitution does the authority come from if the Supreme Court said it didn't come from the Sixteenth Amendment?
27 Absent an answer, any act by the federal government to collect a indirect excise tax is unlawful and illegal, because not
28 explicitly authorized by the Constitution:

29 Unlawful. That which is contrary to, prohibited, or unauthorized by law. That which is not lawful. The acting
30 contrary to, or in defiance of the law; disobeying or disregarding the law. Term is equivalent to "without 31 excuse or justification." State v. Noble, 90 N.M. 360, 563 P.2d. 1153, 1157. While necessarily not implying the 32 element of criminality, it is broad enough to include it.*
33 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1536]

34 Illegal. Against or not authorized by law."*
35 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 747]

36 Without constitutional authority directly from the states somewhere in the Constitution, it cannot be claimed that taxes laid
37 on activities or individuals inside the union states are consensual or voluntary, and if they aren't consensual, then the
38 people in the states are a conquered people and the federal government is at war with them by means of financial terrorism
39 instituted at the hands of the IRS. In that scenario, the District of Columbia becomes a haven for financial terrorists and a
40 "federal mafia", who are protected from legal accountability for their abuses by sovereign immunity and the complicity of a
41 corrupted and treasonous federal judiciary!

42 Lets summarize what we have learned so far by breaking down all the various taxes by state and federal sovereignties and 43 allocating them between internal and external classifications. A picture is worth a thousand words to reveal our research:

Table 14: Apportionment of various taxes between state and federal jurisdictions

#	Tax	Legal Authority	States: Internal	Federal government: Internal	Federal government: External
1	Excise taxes on foreign commerce	Const. 1:8:1 Const. 1:8:3 Sixteenth Amend. 26 U.S.C. Subtitle D, Chapt. 38, Subchapter A. 26 U.S.C. §4612(a)(4) 26 U.S.C. Subtitle A (Personal income taxes)	No authority	On corporations involved in foreign commerce anywhere in the country. Currently only includes petroleum products under 26 U.S.C. §§4611-4612. All other “persons” and activities are “voluntary” and not mandatory.	On corporations involved in foreign commerce anywhere in the country. Currently only includes petroleum products under 26 U.S.C. §§4611-4612 and on Foreign Sales Corporations (FSC’s) and Domestic International Sales Corporations (DISC’s) under Subtitle A of 26 U.S.C.
2	Excise taxes on interstate commerce	Const 1:8:1 Const. 1:8:3 Sixteenth Amend. 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)	No authority	None instituted, but have authority.	Not applicable
3	Excise taxes on intrastate commerce (NOTE: “the STATE in INTRASTATE in this case means federal State and not states of the union.)	Const. 1:8:17 26 U.S.C. Subtitle E 26 U.S.C. Subtitle C, Chapt. 21	On privileged activities involving state-chartered corporations.	1. Misc. excise taxes under 26 U.S.C. Subtitle D inside of federal United States only and not in union states. 2. Alcohol, tobacco, and firearms under 26 U.S.C. Subtitle E inside of federal United States only and not in union states. 3. FICA taxes inside of federal U.S. only and not in union states.	No authority
4	Direct income taxes	Const. 1:2:3 Const. 1:9:4 26 U.S.C. Subtitle A Buck Act, 4 U.S.C. §§ 105-114 Cook v. Tait , 265 U.S. 47 (1924) Loughborough v. Blake , 18 U.S. 317, 5 Wheat. 317, 5 L.Ed. 98 (1820)	State statutes. Most state income tax statutes rely entirely on the Buck Act. For their authority and only apply in federal enclaves within the state.	Federal United States only and not union states. Voluntary (no liability statute). None currently implemented, since Subtitle A income taxes are indirect excise taxes.	U.S. citizens (but not “nationals” or “state nationals”) living abroad.
5	Inheritance taxes	26 U.S.C. Subtitle B Knowlton v. Moore , 178 U.S. 41 (1900) 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)	State statutes.	In federal U.S. and U.S. territories, but not union states.	On federal/U.S. citizens (but not “nationals” or “state nationals”) living abroad who have estates in the federal U.S. and U.S. territories, but not union states.

The location where a crime is committed controls. If it is committed on state property, then the state prosecutes. When a crime is committed inside a federal area within a Union state, however, the crime can be tried under either state or federal jurisdiction in many cases because of a thing called the Assimilated Crimes Act found in 18 U.S.C. §13. You cannot be tried under both jurisdictions because that would be double-jeopardy, which is prohibited by the Constitution. However, if the federal government fails to convict you in a federal court for a crime in a federal area situated inside a state, then sometimes the state will then try to prosecute you under federal law in a state court instead.

With all the above in mind, let’s return to the original Supreme Court cites we referred to at the beginning of the section. The Constitution and the Bill of Rights, which are the “laws” of the United States, apply equally to both the union states AND the federal government, as the cites explain. That is why either state or federal officers both have to take an oath to support and defend the Constitution before they take office. However, the statutes or legislation passed by Congress, which

1 are called “Acts of Congress” have much more limited jurisdiction inside the Union states, and in most cases, do not apply
2 at all. For example:

3 TITLE 18 > PART III > CHAPTER 301 > Sec. 4001.
4 Sec. 4001. - Limitation on detention; control of prisons

5 (a) No citizen shall be imprisoned or otherwise detained by the United States except pursuant to an Act of
6 Congress.

7 The reason for the above is because the federal government has no police powers inside the states because these are
8 reserved by the Tenth Amendment to the state governments. Likewise, the feds have no territorial jurisdiction for most
9 subject matters inside the states either. See U.S. v. Bevans, 16 U.S. 336 (1818).

10 Now if we look at the meaning of “Act of Congress”, we find such a definition in Rule 54\(c\) of the Federal Rules of
11 Criminal Procedure prior to Dec. 2002, wherein is defined “Act of Congress.” Rule 54(c) states:

12 Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 54(c), prior to Dec. 2002

13 “Act of Congress” includes any act of Congress locally applicable to and in force in the District of Columbia, in
14 Puerto Rico, in a territory or in an insular possession.”

15 Keep in mind, the Internal Revenue Code is an “Act of Congress.” The reason such “Acts of Congress” cannot apply
16 within the sovereign states is because the federal government lacks what is called “police powers” inside the union states,
17 and the Internal Revenue Code requires police powers to implement and enforce. THEREFORE, THE QUESTION IS, ON
18 WHICH OF THE FOUR LOCATIONS NAMED IN RULE 54(c) IS THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
19 ASSERTING JURISDICTION WHEN THE U.S. ATTORNEY HAULS YOUR ASS IN COURT ON AN INCOME TAX
20 CRIME? Hint, everyone knows what and where the District of Columbia is, and everyone knows where Puerto Rico is, and
21 territories and insular possessions are defined in Title 48 United States Code, happy hunting!

22 The preceding discussion within this section is also confirmed by the content of 4 U.S.C. §72. Subtitle A is primarily a
23 “privilege” tax upon a “trade or business”, as you will learn by reading or free pamphlet below:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

24 A “trade or business” is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\) as “the functions of a public office”:

25 26 U.S.C. §7701 Definitions

26 (a)(26) Trade or business

27 “The term ‘trade or business’ includes the performance of the functions of a public office.”

28 Title 4 of the U.S. Code then says that all “public offices” MUST be exercised ONLY in the District of Columbia and no
29 place else, except as expressly provided by law:

30 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > § 72
31 § 72. Public offices; at seat of Government

32 All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere,
33 except as otherwise expressly provided by law.

34 If the we then search all the titles of the U.S. Code electronically, we find only one instance where “public offices” are
35 “expressly provided” by law to a place other than the seat of government in connection with the Internal Revenue Code.
36 That reference is found in 48 U.S.C. §1612, which expressly provides that public offices for the U.S. Attorney are extended
37 to the Virgin Islands to enforce the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

38 Moving on, we find in 26 U.S.C. §7601 that the IRS has enforcement authority for the Internal Revenue Code only within
39 what is called “internal revenue districts”. 26 U.S.C. §7621 authorizes the President to establish these districts. Under

1 Executive Order 10289, the President delegated the authority to define these districts to the Secretary of the Treasury in
2 1952. We then search the Treasury Department website for Treasury Orders documenting the establishment of these
3 internal revenue districts:

4 <http://www.ustreas.gov/regs/>

5 The only orders documenting the existence of “internal revenue districts” is Treasury Orders 150-01 and 150-02. Treasury
6 Order 150-01 established internal revenue districts that included federal land within states of the Union, but it was repealed
7 in 1998 as an aftermath of the IRS Restructuring and Reform Act and replaced with Treasury Order 150-02. Treasury
8 Order 150-02 says that all IRS administration must be conducted in the District of Columbia. Therefore, pursuant to 26
9 U.S.C. §7601, the IRS is only authorized to enforce the I.R.C. within the District of Columbia, which is the only remaining
10 internal revenue district. This leads us full circle right back to our initial premise, which is:

11 6. The definition of the term “United States” found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10), which is defined as federal 12 territory that is not part of any state, means what it says and says what it means.
13 7. Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code may only be enforced within the only remaining internal revenue district,
14 which is the District of Columbia.
15 8. There is no provision of law which “expressly extends” the enforcement of the Internal Revenue Code to any land
16 under exclusive state jurisdiction.
17 9. The Separation of Powers Doctrine therefore does not allow anyone in a state of the Union to partake of the federal
18 “privilege” known as a “trade or business”, which is the main subject of tax under Subtitle A of the I.R.C. This must 19 be so because it involves a public office and all public offices must be exercised ONLY in the District of Columbia.
20 10. The only source of federal jurisdiction to tax is foreign commerce because the Constitution does not authorize any
21 other type of tax internal to a state of the Union other than a direct, apportioned tax. Since the Internal Revenue Code,
22 Subtitle A tax is not apportioned and since it is upon a privileged “trade or business” activity, then it is indirect and 23 therefore need not be apportioned.

24 Q.E.D.-Quod Erod Demonstrandum (proven beyond a shadow of a doubt)

25 We will now provide an all-inclusive list of subject matters for which the federal government definitely does have
26 jurisdiction within a state, and the Constitutional origin of that power:

27 6. Foreign commerce pursuant to Article 1, Section 8, Clause 3 of the United States Constitution. This jurisdiction is
28 described within 9 U.S.C. §1 et seq.
29 7. Counterfeiting pursuant to Article 1, Section 8, Clause 5 of the United States Constitution.
30 8. Postal matters pursuant to Article 1, Section 8, Clause 7 of the United States Constitution.
31 9. Treason pursuant to Article 4, Section 2, Clause 2 of the United States Constitution.
32 10. Federal contracts, franchises, and property pursuant to Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2 of the United States Constitution.
33 This includes federal employment, which is a type of contract or franchise, wherever conducted, including in a state of 34 the Union.

35 In relation to that last item above, which is federal contracts and franchises, Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code fits
36 into that category, because it is a franchise and not a “tax”, which relates primarily to federal employment and contracts.
37 The alleged “tax” in fact is a kickback scheme that can only lawfully affect federal contractors and employers, but not
38 private persons. Those who are party to this contract or franchise are called “effectively connected with a trade or
39 business”. Saying a person is “effectively connected” really means that they consented to the contract explicitly in writing
40 or implicitly by their conduct. To enforce the “trade or business” franchise as a contract in a place where the federal
41 government has no territorial jurisdiction requires informed, voluntary consent in some form from the party who is the
42 object of the enforcement of the contract. The courts call this kind of consent “comity”. To wit:

43 *“Judge Story, in his treatise on the Conflicts of Laws, lays down, as the basis upon which all reasonings on the
44 law of comity must necessarily rest, the following maxims: First 'that every nation possesses an exclusive
45 sovereignty and jurisdiction within its own territory'; secondly, 'that no state or nation can by its laws directly
46 affect or bind property out of its own territory, or bind persons not resident therein, whether they are natural
47 born subjects or others.' The learned judge then adds: 'From these two maxims or propositions there follows a
48 third, and that is that whatever force and obligation the laws of one country have in another depend solely upon
49 the laws and municipal regulation of the latter; that is to say, upon its own proper jurisdiction and polity, and
50 upon its own express or tacit consent." Story on Conflict of Laws §23.”*
51 [Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. v. Chambers, 73 Ohio St. 16, 76 N.E. 91, 11 L.R.A., N.S., 1012 (1905)]

1 When the federal government wishes to enforce one of its contracts or franchises in a place where it has no territorial
2 jurisdiction, such as in China, it would need to litigate in the courts in China just like a private person. However, if the
3 contract is within a state of the Union, the Separation of Powers Doctrine requires that all “federal questions”, including
4 federal contracts, which are “property” of the United States, must be litigated in a federal court. This requirement was
5 eloquently explained by the U.S. Supreme Court in Alden v. Maine, 527 U.S. 706 (1999). Consequently, even though the
6 federal government enjoys no territorial jurisdiction within a state of the Union for other than the above subject matters
7 explicitly authorized by the Constitution itself, it still has subject matter jurisdiction within federal court over federal
8 property, contracts and franchises, which are synonymous. Since the Internal Revenue Code is a federal contract or
9 franchise, then the federal courts have jurisdiction over this issue with persons who participate in the “trade or business”
10 franchise. This concept is further explained later in the following pamphlet:

Requirement for Consent, Form #05.003
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

11 Finally, below is a very enlightening U.S. Supreme Court case that concisely explains the constitutional relationship
12 between the exclusive and plenary internal sovereignty of the states or the Union and the exclusive external sovereignty of
13 the federal government:

14 “It will contribute to the elucidation of the question if we first consider the differences between the powers of
15 the federal government in respect of foreign or external affairs and those in respect of domestic or internal 16 affairs. That there are differences between them, and that these differences are fundamental, may not be
17 doubted.

18 The two classes of powers are different, both in respect of their origin and their nature. The broad statement
19 that the federal government can exercise no powers except [299 U.S. 304, 316] those specifically
20 enumerated in the Constitution, and such implied powers as are necessary and proper to carry into effect the
21 enumerated powers, is categorically true only in respect of our internal affairs. In that field, the primary
22 purpose of the Constitution was to carve from the general mass of legislative powers then possessed by the
23 states such portions as it was thought desirable to vest in the federal government, leaving those not included
24 in the enumeration still in the states. Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 294, 56 S.Ct. 855, 865. That
25 this doctrine applies only to powers which the states had is self-evident. And since the states severally never
26 possessed international powers, such powers could not have been carved from the mass of state powers but
27 obviously were transmitted to the United States from some other source. During the Colonial period, those
28 powers were possessed exclusively by and were entirely under the control of the Crown. By the Declaration of
29 Independence, ‘the Representatives of the United States of America’ declared the United (not the several)
30 Colonies to be free and independent states, and as such to have ‘full Power to levy War, conclude Peace,
31 contract Alliances, establish Commerce and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of 32 right do.’

33 As a result of the separation from Great Britain by the colonies, acting as a unit, the powers of external
34 sovereignty passed from the Crown not to the colonies severally, but to the colonies in their collective and
35 corporate capacity as the United States of America. Even before the Declaration, the colonies were a unit in
36 foreign affairs, acting through a common agency—namely, the Continental Congress, composed of delegates
37 from the thirteen colonies. That agency exercised the powers of war and peace, raised an army, created a
38 navy, and finally adopted the Declaration of Independence. Rulers come and go; governments end and forms of
39 government change; but sovereignty survives. A political society cannot endure [299 U.S. 304, 317] without a
40 supreme will somewhere. Sovereignty is never held in suspense. When, therefore, the external sovereignty of
41 Great Britain in respect of the colonies ceased, it immediately passed to the Union. See Penhallow v. Doane, 3
42 Dall. 54, 80, 81, Fed.Cas. No. 10925. That fact was given practical application almost at once. The treaty of
43 peace, made on September 3, 1783, was concluded between his Britannic Majesty and the ‘United States of 44 America.’ 8 Stat., European Treaties, 80.

45 The Union existed before the Constitution, which was ordained and established among other things to form ‘a
46 more perfect Union.’ Prior to that event, it is clear that the Union, declared by the Articles of Confederation to
47 be ‘perpetual,’ was the sole possessor of external sovereignty, and in the Union it remained without change
48 save in so far as the Constitution in express terms qualified its exercise. The Framers’ Convention was called
49 and exerted its powers upon the irrefutable postulate that though the states were several their people in
50 respect of foreign affairs were one. Compare The Chinese Exclusion Case, 130 U.S. 581, 604, 606 S., 9 S.Ct.
51 623. In that convention, the entire absence of state power to deal with those affairs was thus forcefully stated by
52 Rufus King:

53 The states were not ‘sovereigns’ in the sense contended for by some. They did not possess the
54 peculiar features of [external] sovereignty—they could not make war, nor peace, nor alliances,
55 nor treaties. Considering them as political beings, they were dumb, for they could not speak to 56 any foreign sovereign whatever. They were deaf, for they could not hear any propositions from 57 such sovereign. They had not even the organs or faculties of defence or offence, for they could not of themselves raise troops, or equip vessels, for war.' 5 Elliot's Debates, 212.1 [299 U.S. 304, 318] It results that the investment of the federal government with the powers of external sovereignty did not depend upon the affirmative grants of the Constitution. The powers to declare and wage war, to conclude peace, to make treaties, to maintain diplomatic relations with other sovereignties, if they had never been mentioned in the Constitution, would have vested in the federal government as necessary concomitants of nationality. Neither the Constitution nor the laws passed in pursuance of it have any force in foreign territory unless in respect of our own citizens (see American Banana Co. v. United Fruit Co., 213 U.S. 347, 356, 29 S.Ct. 511, 16 Ann.Cas. 1047); and operations of the nation in such territory must be governed by treaties, international understandings and compacts, and the principles of international law. As a member of the family of nations, the right and power of the United States in that field are equal to the right and power of the other members of the international family. Otherwise, the United States is not completely sovereign. The power to acquire territory by discovery and occupation (Jones v. United States, 137 U.S. 202, 212, 11 S.Ct. 80), the power to expel undesirable aliens (Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698, 705 et seq., 13 S.Ct. 1016), the power to make such international agreements as do not constitute treaties in the constitutional sense (Altman & Co. v. United States, 224 U.S. 583, 600, 601 S., 32 S.Ct. 593; Crandall, Treaties, Their Making and Enforcement (2d Ed.) p. 102 and note 1), none of which is expressly affirmed by the Constitution, nevertheless exist as inherently inseparable from the conception of nationality. This the court recognized, and in each of the cases cited found the warrant for its conclusions not in the provisions of the Constitution, but in the law of nations.

In Burnet v. Brooks, 288 U.S. 378, 396, 53 S.Ct. 457, 461, 86 A.L.R. 747, we said, 'As a nation with all the attributes of sovereignty, the United States is vested with all the powers of government necessary to maintain an effective control of international relations.' Cf. Carter v. Carter Coal Co., supra, 298 U.S. 238, at page 295, 56 S.Ct. 855, 865. [299 U.S. 304, 319] Not only, as we have shown, is the federal power over external affairs in origin and essential character different from that over internal affairs, but participation in the exercise of the power is significantly limited. In this vast external realm, with its important, complicated, delicate and manifold problems, the President alone has the power to speak or listen as a representative of the nation. He makes treaties with the advice and consent of the Senate; but he alone negotiates. Into the field of negotiation the Senate cannot intrude; and Congress itself is powerless to invade it. As Marshall said in his great argument of March 7, 1800, in the House of Representatives, 'The President is the sole organ of the nation in its external relations, and its sole representative with foreign nations.' Annals, 6th Cong., col. 613. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations at a very early day in our history (February 15, 1816), reported to the Senate, among other things, as follows:

'The President is the constitutional representative of the United States with regard to foreign nations. He manages our concerns with foreign nations and must necessarily be most competent to determine when, how, and upon what subjects negotiation may be urged with the greatest prospect of success. For his conduct he is responsible to the Constitution.' The committee considers this responsibility the surest pledge for the faithful discharge of his duty. They think the interference of the Senate in the direction of foreign negotiations calculated to diminish that responsibility and thereby to impair the best security for the national safety. The nature of transactions with foreign nations, moreover, requires caution and unity of design, and their success frequently depends on secrecy and dispatch.' 8 U.S.Sen.Reports Comm. on Foreign Relations, p. 24.

It is important to bear in mind that we are here dealing not alone with an authority vested in the President by an [299 U.S. 304, 320] exertion of legislative power, but with such an authority plus the very delicate, plenary and exclusive power of the President as the sole organ of the federal government in the field of international relations-a power which does not require as a basis for its exercise an act of Congress, but which, of course, like every other governmental power, must be exercised in subordination to the applicable provisions of the Constitution. It is quite apparent that if, in the maintenance of our international relations, embarrassment-perhaps serious embarrassment-is to be avoided and success for our aims achieved, congressional legislation which is to be made effective through negotiation and inquiry within the international field must often accord to the President a degree of discretion and freedom from statutory restriction which would not be admissible were domestic affairs alone involved. Moreover, he, not Congress, has the better opportunity of knowing the conditions which prevail in foreign countries, and especially is this true in time of war. He has his confidential sources of information. He has his agents in the form of diplomatic, consular and other officials. Secrecy in respect of information gathered by them may be highly necessary, and the premature disclosure of it productive of harmful results. Indeed, so clearly is this true that the first President refused to accede to a request to lay before the House of Representatives the instructions, correspondence and documents relating to the negotiation of the Jay Treaty-a refusal the wisdom of which was recognized by the House itself and has never since been doubted. In his reply to the request, President Washington said:

'The nature of foreign negotiations requires caution, and their success must often depend on secrecy; and even when brought to a conclusion a full disclosure of all the measures, demands, or eventual concessions which may have been proposed or contemplated would be extremely [299 U.S. 304, 321] impolitic; for this might have a pernicious influence on future negotiations, or produce immediate inconveniences, perhaps danger and mischief, in relation

1 to other powers. The necessity of such caution and secrecy was one cogent reason for vesting
2 the power of making treaties in the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, the
3 principle on which that body was formed confining it to a small number of members. To admit,
4 then, a right in the House of Representatives to demand and to have as a matter of course all
5 the papers respecting a negotiation with a foreign power would be to establish a dangerous
6 precedent.' 1 Messages and Papers of the Presidents, p. 194.

7 The marked difference between foreign affairs and domestic affairs in this respect is recognized by both
8 houses of Congress in the very form of their requisitions for information from the executive departments. In
9 the case of every department except the Department of State, the resolution directs the official to furnish the
10 information. In the case of the State Department, dealing with foreign affairs, the President is requested to
11 furnish the information 'if not incompatible with the public interest.' A statement that to furnish the information
12 is not compatible with the public interest rarely, if ever, is questioned. "

20 27.5 Federal Court Objections

21 Below is how one U.S. Attorney tried to attack the Nonresident Alien Position in an actual legal brief filed in Federal 22 District Court, along with an analysis of the case law he cited which disproves his arguments.

23 *The power of Congress to impose a federal income tax system on citizens and residents of the United States
24 derives from the Sixteenth Amendment.³² The Fourteenth Amendment controls the definition of citizenship. The 25 Amendment states that "all persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction
26 thereof are citizens of the United States and of the States wherein they reside." Defendant's statements that 27 federal income taxes do not apply to his "nonresident alien" customers, who are actually American citizens, are 28 not supported by law. Federal income tax law applies not only to all citizens of this country, but also to 29 residents of this country. I.R.C. § 7701(a)(14) defines "taxpayer" as any person subject to any internal revenue
30 tax. As courts have stated, "All individuals, natural or unnatural, must pay federal income tax on their wages."³³
31 The Internal Revenue Code imposes a duty on individuals to file tax returns and pay the appropriate amount of 32 tax. I.R.C. §6012 states that an individual shall file a tax return if taxable income exceeds a given amount.³⁴*

33 [. . .]

34 *In addition, Defendant's representation that the internal revenue laws have no application outside the District
35 of Columbia and other federal property is wrong. As the Supreme Court stated long ago, "The people of the 36 United States resident within any State are subject to two governments: one State, and the other National."³⁵
37 In fact, the Internal Revenue Code's definition of "United States" includes "the States and the District of 38 Columbia."³⁶ The I.R.C. was enacted by Congress pursuant to the Sixteenth Amendment and imposes an income
39 tax on citizens and residents of the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Taxation is not limited to just the 40 District of Columbia, but extends to "United States citizens throughout the nation, not just in federal enclaves," 41 such as post offices and Indian reservations."³⁷*

3 Please therefore read the following subsections for the rebuttal of each point in the above quote.

4 27.5.1 Power to tax derives from Sixteenth Amendment

5 Contention: The power of Congress to impose a federal income tax system on citizens and residents of the United States
6 derives from the Sixteenth Amendment.

7 Authorities: Lonsdale v. Commissioner, 661 F.2d. 71, 72 (5th Cir. 1981); United States v. Updegrave, 97-1 U.S. Tax Cas.
8 (CCH) ¶ 50,465 (E.D. Pa. 1997).

9 Rebuttal: There is no question that the authority to impose any kind of income tax derives from the “domicile” of the 10 persons taxed. This was confirmed by the U.S. Supreme Court in Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland:

11 ~~Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in~~
12 ~~transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes.~~ Since the
13 Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, ~~the fact of residence creates~~
14 ~~universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter~~
15 ~~obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter.~~ Of course,
16 the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most
17 obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located.”
18 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

19 What both “citizens” and “residents” have in common is a legal domicile within the “United States”, which is defined in 26
20 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) to be federal territory and is nowhere extended in the Internal 21 Revenue Code, Subtitle A to include any other place.

40 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, page 581]

41 “It is axiomatic that the statutory definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term,”
42 [Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484 (1987)]

1 The “citizens” he is talking about are statutory “nationals and citizens of the United States” defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401
2 and 26 U.S.C. §3121(e). This type of STATUTORY citizen includes those born or naturalized anywhere in the country but
3 DOMICILED on federal territory within the exclusive jurisdiction of Congress and the “United States”. It does NOT
4 include those domiciled within the exclusive jurisdiction of a constitutional state and therefore within “United States”.
5 The U.S. Supreme Court confirmed that such a statutory “U.S. citizen” subject to federal law is mutually exclusive from 6 the constitutional “Citizen” mentioned in U.S. Constitution or the Fourteenth Amendment.

7 The 1st section of the 14th article, to which our attention is more specifically invited, opens with a definition of
8 citizenship—not only citizenship of the United States[], but citizenship of the states. No such definition was
9 previously found in the Constitution, nor had any attempt been made to define it by act of Congress. It had 10 been the occasion of much discussion in the courts, by the executive departments and in the public journals.
11 It had been said by eminent judges that no man was a citizen of the United States[] except as he was a
12 citizen of one of the state comprising the Union. Those, therefore, who had been born and resided always in 13 the District of Columbia or in the territories, though within the United States[], were not citizens.”
14 [Slaughter-House Cases, 83 U.S. (16 Wall.) 36, 21 L.Ed. 394 (1873)]

15 The “residents” they are talking about are statutory “residents aliens” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A). Both the 16 “U.S. citizens” and “U.S. residents” they are talking about, which collectively are called “U.S. persons” and defined in 26
17 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30) are subject to the EXCLUSIVE legislative jurisdiction of the United States by virtue of said legal 18 domicile. Those without a domicile within the “United States” are “nonresident aliens”, which are defined in 26 U.S.C.
19 §7701(b)(1)(B) as follows:

20 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) Nonresident alien

21 An individual is a nonresident alien if such individual is neither a citizen of the United States nor a resident of
22 the United States (within the meaning of subparagraph (A)).

23 These distinctions originate from the differences in meaning of the term “United States” between the two distinct contexts
24 in which it is frequently used:

25 1. CONSTITUTIONAL CONTEXT: The U.S. Constitution.
26 2. STATUTORY CONTEXT: Acts of Congress and the U.S. Code.

27 The “United States” can have one of four possible meanings, depending on the context, and as confirmed by the U.S.
28 Supreme Court in Hooven and Allison v. Evatt, 324 U.S. 652 (1945):

29 1. The country “United States” in the family of nations throughout the world. We call this “United States*”.
30 2. The “federal zone”. We call this “United States”.
31 3. The states of the Union, also called “The United States of America”. We call this “United States”. This is the 32 ONLY GEOGRAPHICAL context used within the U.S. Constitution.
33 4. The “national”/“federal” government. We call this “United States*”.

34 In the context of “citizens” defined in Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment, it implies definition 3 above and means the 35 states of the Union and excludes federal territories and possessions. The “United States” as used in ordinary “Acts of 36 Congress” or federal statutes means exactly the opposite in most cases, which is the territories and possessions of the 37 United States and the District of Columbia and excluding states of the Union.

38 The earliest case is that of Hepburn v. Ellzey, 2 Cranch, 445, 2 L.Ed. 332, in which this court held that, under
39 that clause of the Constitution limiting the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States to controversies
40 between citizens of different states, a citizen of the District of Columbia could not maintain an action in the
41 circuit court of the United States. It was argued that the word ‘state.’ in that connection, was used simply to
42 denote a distinct political society. But,’ said the Chief Justice, ‘as the act of Congress obviously used the word
43 ‘state’ in reference to that term as used in the Constitution, it becomes necessary to inquire whether Columbia is
44 a state in the sense of that instrument. The result of that examination is a conviction that the members of the
45 American confederacy only are the states contemplated in the Constitution . . . and excludes from the term
46 the signification attached to it by writers on the law of nations.’ This case was followed in Barney v.
47 Baltimore, 6 Wall. 280, 18 L.Ed. 825, and quite recently in Hooe v. Jamieson, 166 U.S. 395, 41 L.Ed. 1049,
48 17 Sup.Ct.Rep. 596. The same rule was applied to citizens of territories in New Orleans v. Winter, 1 Wheat.
49 91, 4 L.Ed. 44, in which an attempt was made to distinguish a territory from the District of Columbia. But it
50 was said that ‘neither of them is a state in the sense in which that term is used in the Constitution.’ In Scott v.
51 Jones, 5 How. 343, 12 L.Ed. 181, and in Miners’ Bank v. Iowa ex rel. District Prosecuting Attorney, 12 How. 1,
52 13 L.Ed. 867, it was held that under the judiciary act, permitting writs of error to the supreme court of a state in

1 cases where the validity of a state statute is drawn in question, an act of a territorial legislature was not within
2 the contemplation of Congress."

3 Downes v. Bidwell, [182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

4 The distinctions in meaning of the term "United States" between that used in the term "citizen of the United States" in the
5 Fourteenth Amendment, on the one hand, and Acts of Congress, on the other, is an important by-product, in fact, of the 6 Separation of Powers Doctrine, which the U.S. Supreme Court said exists primarily to protect individual liberties:

7 We start with first principles. The Constitution creates a Federal Government of enumerated powers. See U.S.
8 Const., Art. I, 8. As James Madison wrote, "[t]he powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
9 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
10 indefinite." The Federalist No. 45, pp. 292-293 (C. Rossiter ed. 1961). This constitutionally
11 mandated division of authority "was adopted by the Framers
12 to ensure protection of our fundamental liberties." Gregory v. Ashcroft,
13 501 U.S. 452, 458 (1991) (internal quotation marks omitted). "Just as the separation and independence of 14 the coordinate branches of the Federal Government serves to prevent the accumulation of excessive power in
15 any one branch, a healthy balance of power between the States and the Federal Government will reduce the 16 risk of tyranny and abuse from either front." Ibid.
17 U.S. v. Lopez, [514 U.S. 549 (1995)]

18 We further alluded to this separation of powers earlier in section 7, where we showed the exact breakdown of the I.R.C
19 between each of the two distinct and completely separate taxing jurisdictions: National v. Federal. What the U.S. attorney
20 is trying to do is exploit legal ignorance of the reader and confusion in order to break down the distinct separation of 21 powers between the states and the federal government in order to trample on your rights. This is a crime, and it's called 22 "conspiracy against rights", in violation of 18 U.S.C. §242. Do you want your public servants wasting your tax dollars in 23 this manner?

24 The Sixteenth Amendment, according to the U.S. Supreme Court, "does not extend the taxing power [of Congress] to new 25 or excepted subjects", so it's irrelevant and a red herring. See the following:

26 "The Sixteenth Amendment, although referred to in argument, has no real bearing and may be put out of view.
27 As pointed out in recent decisions, it does not extend the taxing power to new or excepted subjects, but merely
28 removes all occasion, which otherwise might exist, for an apportionment among the states of taxes [247 U.S.
29 [165, 173\]](#) laid on income, whether it be derived from one source or another. Brushaber v. Union Pacific R. R.
30 Co., 240 U.S. 1, 17-19, 36 Sup.Ct. 236, Ann.Cas. 1917B, 713, L. R. A. 1917D, 414; Stanton v. Baltic Mining 31 Co., 240 U.S. 103, 112-113, 36 Sup.Ct. 278.
32 [Peck v. Lowe, 247 U.S. 165 (1918)]

33
34 "But, aside from the obvious error of the proposition, intrinsically considered, it manifestly disregards the fact
35 that by the previous ruling it was settled that the provisions of the 16th Amendment conferred no new power of 36 taxation, but simply prohibited the previous complete and plenary power of income taxation possessed by 37 Congress from the beginning from being taken out of the category of indirect taxation to which it inherently
38 belonged, and being placed [[240 U.S. 103, 113\]](#) in the category of direct taxation subject to apportionment
39 by a consideration of the sources from which the income was derived.-that is, by testing the tax not by what it
40 was, a tax on income, but by a mistaken theory deduced from the origin or source of the income taxed."
41 [Stanton v. Baltic Mining Co., 240 U.S. 103 (1916)]

42 27.5.2 Fourteenth Amendment controls

43 Contention:

44 The Fourteenth Amendment controls the definition of citizenship. The Amendment states that "all persons born or 45 naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the States
46 wherein they reside." Defendant's statements that federal income taxes do not apply to his "nonresident alien" customers,
47 who are actually American citizens, are not supported by law. Federal income tax law applies not only to all citizens of this
48 country, but also to residents of this country. I.R.C. §7701\(a\)\(14\) defines "taxpayer" as any person subject to any internal
49 revenue tax. As courts have stated, "All individuals, natural or unnatural, must pay federal income tax on their wages."

2 also IRC § 7701(a)(30); United States v. Ward, 833 F.2d. 1538, 1539 (11th Cir. 1987); In re Becroft, 885 F.2d. at 548 n.2.

3 Rebuttal:

4 The U.S. attorney is trying to confuse statutory “nationals and citizens of the United States” defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401
5 with constitutional “citizens of the United States” mentioned in the Fourteenth Amendment. These are two completely
6 different contexts that use mutually exclusive definitions of the term “United States” and therefore reference two
7 completely different and separate political communities:

8 1. The federal zone, consisting of the District of Columbia and the territories and possessions of the United States.
9 2. The states of the Union, who are party to the Constitution.

10 These two mutually exclusive political and legal communities created by the Constitution and the two types of citizens are 11 exhaustively analyzed in the free pamphlet below, and the U.S. attorney is demanded to rebut the evidence and admissions
12 at the end:

Why You are a “national”, “state national”, and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 The U.S. Attorney does not define exactly what he means by “American citizens”, but his meaning is clear: statutory
14 “nationals and citizens of the United States” as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401 and 26 U.S.C. §3121(e) and excluding
15 Fourteenth Amendment “citizens of the United States”. The U.S. attorney also fails to recognize that there are TWO 16 and not ONE type of jurisdictions that a person can be subject to. This was alluded to by the U.S. Supreme Court in U.S. v.
17 Wong Kim Ark:

18 *This section contemplates two sources of citizenship, and two sources only,-birth and naturalization. The 19 persons declared to be citizens are 'all persons born or naturalized in the United States[], and subject to the 20 jurisdiction thereof.' The evident meaning of these last words is, not merely subject in some respect or degree
21 to the jurisdiction of the United States[], but completely subject to their political jurisdiction, and
22 owing them direct and immediate allegiance. And the words relate to the time of birth in the one case, as they
23 do [169 U.S. 649, 725] to the time of naturalization in the other. Persons not thus subject to the jurisdiction of 24 the United States[] at the time of birth cannot become so afterwards, except by being naturalized, either 25 individually, as by proceedings under the naturalization acts, or collectively, as by the force of a treaty by 26 which foreign territory is acquired."*
27 U.S. v. Wong Kim Ark, [169 U.S. 649, 18 S.Ct. 456; 42 L.Ed. 890 (1898)]

28 A person can be subject to the “political jurisdiction” of the federal government WITHOUT also being subject to the 29 “legislative jurisdiction”. This would happen, for instance, when his domicile is outside of the “United States”. “Political 30 jurisdiction” is NOT the same as “legislative jurisdiction”. “Political jurisdiction” was defined by the Supreme Court in 31 Minor v. Happersett:

32 *There cannot be a nation without a people. The very idea of a political community, such as a nation is, implies
33 an [88 U.S. 162, 166] association of persons for the promotion of their general welfare. Each one of the 34 persons associated becomes a member of the nation formed by the association. He owes it allegiance and is 35 entitled to its protection. Allegiance and protection are, in this connection, reciprocal obligations. The one is 36 a compensation for the other; allegiance for protection and protection for allegiance.

37 *For convenience it has been found necessary to give a name to this membership. The object is to designate by 38 a title the person and the relation he bears to the nation. For this purpose the words 'subject,' 'inhabitant,' and 39 'citizen' have been used, and the choice between them is sometimes made to depend upon the form of the 40 government. Citizen is now more commonly employed, however, and as it has been considered better suited to 41 the description of one living under a republican government, it was adopted by nearly all of the States upon 42 their separation from Great Britain, and was afterwards adopted in the Articles of Confederation and in the 43 Constitution of the United States[]. When used in this sense it [the word
44 "citizen"] is understood as conveying the idea of membership
45 of a nation, and nothing more."

46 To determine, then, who were citizens of the United States[] before the adoption of the amendment it is 47 necessary to ascertain what persons originally associated themselves together to form the nation, and what

1 were afterwards admitted to membership. “
2 Minor v. Happersett, [88 U.S. 162 \(1874\)]

3 Notice how the Supreme court used the phrase “and nothing more”, as if to emphasize that citizenship doesn’t imply
4 legislative jurisdiction, but simply political membership. We described in detail the two political jurisdictions within 5 section 12.8. “Political jurisdiction” implies only the following:

6 1. Membership in a community (see Minor v. Happersett, 88 U.S. 162 (1874))
7 2. Right to vote.
8 3. Right to serve on jury duty.

9 “Legislative jurisdiction”, on the other hand, implies being “completely subject” and subservient to federal laws and all
10 “Acts of Congress”, which only people in the District of Columbia and the territories and possessions of the United 11 States[] can be. You can be “completely subject to the political jurisdiction” of the United States without being 12 subject in any degree to a specific “Act of Congress” or the Internal Revenue Code, for instance. The final nail is put in the 13 coffin on the subject of what “subject to the jurisdiction” means in the Fourteenth Amendment, when the Supreme Court
14 further said in the above case:

15 *“It is impossible to construe the words ‘subject to the jurisdiction thereof,’ in the opening sentence, as less
16 comprehensive than the words ‘within its jurisdiction,’ in the concluding sentence of the same section; or to
17 hold that persons ‘within the jurisdiction’ of one of the states of the Union are not ‘subject to the jurisdiction
18 of the United States’.”*
19 U.S. v. Wong Kim Ark, [169 U.S. 649, 18 S.Ct. 456; 42 L.Ed. 890 (1898), emphasis added]

20 So “subject to the jurisdiction” in the context of citizenship within the Fourteenth Amendment means “subject to the 21 [political] jurisdiction” of the United States and not legislative jurisdiction, and the Fourteenth Amendment definitely
22 includes people born in states of the Union.

23 A picture is worth a thousand words. We’ll now summarize the results of the preceding analysis to make it crystal clear for 24 visually-minded readers:

25 Table 15: Citizenship summary

Citizenship	Defined in	Domicile in the federal zone?	Subject to legislative jurisdiction /police powers?	Subject to “ political jurisdiction ”?	A “nonresident alien”?
“ citizen ”	8 U.S.C. §1401 , 26 U.S.C. §3121(e), 26 CFR §1.1-1(c)	Yes	Yes	Yes	No
“ resident ”/“alien”	8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(3) 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A)	Yes	Yes	No	No
“ national ”	8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)	No	No	Yes	Yes

26 The table below describes the affect that changes in domicile have on citizenship status in the case of both “foreign 27 nationals” and “domestic nationals”. A “domestic national” is anyone born anywhere within any one of the 50 states on 28 nonfederal land or who was born in any territory or possession of the United States[]. A “foreign national” is someone 29 who was born anywhere outside of these areas. The jurisdiction mentioned in the right three columns is the “federal zone”.

2 NOTES:

3 1. “United States” is defined as federal territory within 26 U.S.C. §§7701(a)(9) and \(a\)\(10\), 7701\(a\)\(39\), and 7408\(d\), and 4 U.S.C. §110(d). It does not include any portion of a Constitutional state of the Union.

4 2. The “District of Columbia” is defined as a federal corporation but not a physical place, a “body politic”, or a de jure “government” within the District of Columbia Act of 1871, 16 Stat. 419, 426, Sec. 34. See: Corporatization and Privatization of the Government, Form #05.024; <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>.

5 3. American nationals who are domiciled outside of federal jurisdiction, either in a state of the Union or a foreign country, are “nationals” but not “citizens” under federal law. They also qualify as “nonresident aliens” under 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).

6 4. Temporary domicile in the middle column on the right must meet the requirements of the “Presence test” documented in IRS publications.

7 5. “FEDERAL ZONE”=District of Columbia and territories of the United States in the above table

8 6. The term “individual” as used on the IRS Form 1040 means an “alien” engaged in a “trade or business”. All “taxpayers” are “aliens” engaged in a “trade or business”. This is confirmed by 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3), 26 CFR §1.1-1(a)(2)(ii), and 5 U.S.C. §552a\(a\)\(2\). Statutory “U.S. citizens” or “nationals and citizens of the United States” as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401 are not “individuals” unless temporarily abroad pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §911 and subject to an income tax treaty with a foreign country. In that capacity, statutory “U.S. citizens” interface to the I.R.C. as “aliens” rather than “U.S. citizens” through the tax treaty.

9 When a federal officer asks you if you are a “citizen”, consider the context! The only basis for him asking this is federal law, because he isn’t bound by state law. If you tell him you are a “citizen” or a “U.S. citizen”, then indirectly, you are admitting that you are subject to federal law, because that’s what it means to be a “citizen” under federal law! Watch out! Therefore, as people born in and domiciled within a state of the union on land that is not owned by the federal government, we need to be very careful how we describe ourselves on government forms. Below is what we should say in each of the

1 various contexts to avoid misleading those asking the questions on the forms. In this context, let's assume you were born in
2 California and are domiciled there. This guidance also applies to questions that officers of the government might ask you
3 in each of the two contexts as well:

4 Table 17: Describing your citizenship and status on government forms

#	Question on form	Context
		State officer or form	Federal officer or form
1	Are you a “citizen”?	Yes. Of California.	No. Not under federal law.
2	Are you a “national”?	Yes. Of California.	Yes. I'm a “national of the United States[]” under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) but not under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)
3	Are you a “U.S. citizen”	No. I'm a California “citizen” or simply a “national”	No. I'm a California citizen or simply a “national”. I am not a federal “citizen” because I don't reside on federal property.
4	Are you subject to the political jurisdiction of the United States[]?	Yes. I'm a state voter who influences federal elections indirectly by the representatives I elect.	Yes. I'm a state voter who influences federal elections indirectly by the representatives I elect.
5	Are you subject to the legislative jurisdiction of the United States[]?	No. I am only subject to the legislative jurisdiction of California but not the “State” of California. The “State of” California is a branch of the federal government that only has jurisdiction in federal areas within the state.	No. I am only subject to the laws and police powers of California, and not the federal government, because I don't maintain a domicile on federal territory subject to “its” jurisdiction.
6	Are you a “citizen of the United States[]” under the Fourteenth Amendment?	Yes, but under federal law, I'm a “national”. Being a “citizen” under state law doesn't make me subject to federal legislative jurisdiction and police powers. That status qualifies me to vote in any state election, but doesn't make me subject to federal law.	Yes, but under federal law, I'm a “national”. Being a “citizen” under state law doesn't make me subject to federal legislative jurisdiction and police powers. That status qualifies me to vote in any state election, but doesn't make me subject to federal law.

5 Now that we understand the distinctions between “citizens” and “nationals” within federal law, we are ready to tackle the 6 citizenship issue head on.

7 Moving on, the statement is made: “Federal income tax law applies not only to all citizens of this country, but also to 8 residents of this country.” The question then becomes: Which “country” are they talking about? What most Americans
9 think of as one homogenous “country” actually consists of 51 independent “nations” or “sovereignties”:

10 1. The U.S. Supreme Court said that states of the Union are “nations”.

11 *“The States between each other are sovereign and independent. They are distinct and separate sovereignties,
12 except so far as they have parted with some of the attributes of sovereignty by the Constitution. They continue
13 to be nations, with all their rights, and under all their national obligations, and with all the rights of nations in
14 every particular; except in the surrender by each to the common purposes and objects of the Union, under the 15 Constitution. The rights of each State, when not so yielded up, remain absolute.”*
16 [Bank of Augusta v. Earle, 38 U.S. (13 Pet.) 519, 10 L.Ed. 274 (1839)]

17 2. Definitions from Black's Law Dictionary:

18 Foreign States: “Nations outside of the United States...Term may also refer to another state; i.e. a sister state.
19 The term ‘foreign nations’, ...should be construed to mean all nations and states other than that in which the
20 action is brought; and hence, one state of the Union is foreign to another, in that sense.”
21 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 648]

22 Foreign Laws: “The laws of a foreign country or sister state.”
23 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 647]

1 Dual citizenship. Citizenship in two different countries. Status of citizens of United States who reside
2 within a state; i.e., person who are born or naturalized in the U.S. are citizens of the U.S. and the state wherein
3 they reside.
4 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 498]

5 6. 3. The U.S. code says that states of the Union are “countries”.

7 7. TITLE 28 > PART I > CHAPTER 13 > Sec. 297.
8 8. Sec. 297. - Assignment of judges to courts of the freely associated compact states

9 9. (a) *The Chief Justice or the chief judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit may assign
10 any circuit or district judge of the Ninth Circuit, with the consent of the judge so assigned, to serve
11 temporarily as a judge of any duly constituted court of the freely associated compact states whenever an 12 official duty authorized by the laws of the respective compact state requests such assignment and such 13 assignment is necessary for the proper dispatch of the business of the respective court.*

14 (b) *The Congress consents to the acceptance and retention by any judge so authorized of reimbursement from
15 the countries referred to in subsection (a) of all necessary travel expenses, including transportation, and
16 of subsistence, or of a reasonable per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence. The judge shall report to the
17 Administrative Office of the United States Courts any amount received pursuant to this subsection*

18 4. Legal encyclopedia Corpus Juris Secundum:

19 20. *"Generally, the states of the Union sustain toward each other the relationship of independent sovereigns or
21 independent foreign states, except in so far as the United States is paramount as the dominating government,
22 and in so far as the states are bound to recognize the fraternity among sovereignties established by the federal
23 Constitution, as by the provision requiring each state to give full faith and credit to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of the other states..."*
24 [81A Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), United States, §29, legal encyclopedia]

25 26. Third, the statement is made: “As courts have stated, ‘All individuals, natural or unnatural, must pay federal income tax on 27 their wages.’” No argument there. The term “wages” is defined in 26 U.S.C. §3401\(a\) and it includes just about anything.
28 However, those not subject to federal jurisdiction because they are “nonresident aliens” not engaged in a “trade or business”, such as American Nationals domiciled in states of the Union, are not “taxpayers”:

29 Title 26: Internal Revenue
30 PART I—INCOME TAXES
31 nonresident alien individuals
32 § 1.872-2 Exclusions from gross income of nonresident alien individuals.

33 (f) Other exclusions.

34 35. *Income which is from sources without [outside] the United States [federal territory per 26 U.S.C.
36 §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10)], as determined under the provisions of sections 861 through 863, and the regulations thereunder, is not included in the gross income of a nonresident alien individual unless such income is effectively connected for the taxable year with the conduct of a trade or business in the United
37 States by that individual. To determine specific exclusions in the case of other items which are from sources
38 within the United States, see the applicable sections of the Code. For special rules under a tax convention for
39 determining the sources of income and for excluding, from gross income, income from sources without the
United States which is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see the 40 applicable tax convention. For determining which income from sources without the United States is effectively
41 connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, see section 864(c)(4) and §1.864-5.*

42 43. These “nontaxpayers” cannot earn “wages” as legally defined within the Internal Revenue Code unless they volunteer by
44 signing a voluntary contract agreement called a Form W-4 that requires them to call their earnings “wages” in the sense
45 used in the Internal Revenue Code. Only by agreeing to call them “wages” through the operation of one’s private right to 46 contract can the earnings be subject to tax and therefore “gross income” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §61:

47 48. 26 CFR §31.3401\(a\)-3 Amounts deemed wages under voluntary withholding agreements

49 (a) In general.

50 51. *Notwithstanding the exceptions to the definition of wages specified in section 3401(a) and the regulations
thereunder, the term "wages" includes the amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section with respect*

5 26 CFR § 31.3402\(p\)-1 Voluntary withholding agreements.

6 (a) In general.

7 An employee and his employer may enter into an agreement under section 3402(b) to provide for the
8 withholding of income tax upon payments of amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of §31.3401(a)-3, made
9 after December 31, 1970. An agreement may be entered into under this section only with respect to amounts
10 which are includable in the gross income of the employee under section 61, and must be applicable to all
11 such amounts paid by the employer to the employee. The amount to be withheld pursuant to an agreement
12 under section 3402(p) shall be determined under the rules contained in section 3402 and the regulations
13 thereunder. See §31.3405(c)-1, Q&A-3 concerning agreements to have more than 20-percent Federal income
14 tax withheld from eligible rollover distributions within the meaning of section 402.

15 27.5.3 I.R.C. Imposes a Duty on Individuals to File on Earnings Above the Exemption Amount

16 Contention:

17 The Internal Revenue Code imposes a duty on individuals to file tax returns and pay the appropriate amount of tax. I.R.C.
18 §6012 states that an individual shall file a tax return if taxable income exceeds a given amount.

19 Authorities:

20 United States v. Drefke, 707 F.2d. 978, 981 (8th Cir. 1983).

21 Rebuttal:

22 More deliberately ambiguous language. Nowhere is the term “individual” even defined in the Internal Revenue Code. The 23 only place it is defined is in the context of the Privacy Act, which defines “individual” as a government employee:

27 (a) Definitions.— For purposes of this section—

28 (2) the term “individual” means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent
29 residence;

30 Note the above definition is within Title 5, which is entitled “Government Organization and Employees”. This is the real
31 “individual” that the U.S. attorney means: someone engaged in a “public office”, which is what a “trade or business” is 32 defined as in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\). After all, if he weren’t engaged in a “trade or business” and he is a “nonresident 33 alien” domiciled in a state of the Union, then 26 CFR §1.872-2 says he earns no “gross income” and is a nontaxpayer!

3 Most laws passed by the government can only regulate the “public conduct” of “public employees”. The notion of allowing 4 Congress to legislate generally upon the life, liberty, and property of private citizens, in fact, is “repugnant to the 5 Constitution”, according to the U.S. Supreme Court:

6 *The power to "legislate generally upon" life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the "power to provide modes
7 of redress" against offensive state action, was "repugnant" to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States

14 27.5.4 I.R.C. Has No Application Outside the District of Columbia

15 Contention:

16 In addition, Defendant's representation that the internal revenue laws have no application outside the District of Columbia
17 and other federal property is wrong. As the Supreme Court stated long ago, “The people of the United States resident 18 within any State are subject to two governments: one State, and the other National. ...”

19 Authorities:

20 United States v. Cruikshank, 92 U.S. 542, 550 (1876).

21 Rebuttal:

22 There is no question that persons domiciled within a state are subject to two governments and two sets of law. There is,
23 however a division of authority between the two and the power to tax internal to a state of the Union is exclusive and 24 plenary to the state, meaning that it excludes the federal government:

25 *It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, [247
26 U.S. 251, 275](#), 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the
27 internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation. The question in respect of the
28 inherent power of that government as to the external affairs of the Nation and in the field of international law is
29 a wholly different matter which it is not necessary now to consider. See, however, Jones v. United States, [137
30 U.S. 202, 212](#), 11 S.Ct. 80; Nishimur Ekiu v. United States, 142 U.S. 651, 659, 12 S.Ct. 336; Fong Yue Ting v.

33 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238 \(1936\)]

35 *The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing opinions
36 concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a very long time this court
37 has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of Congress does not extend to the states or
38 their political subdivisions. The same basic reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like
39 limitation upon the power which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra.
40 [Ashton v. Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 1, 298 U.S. 513, 56 S.Ct. 892 \(1936\)]*

41 A breakdown of that separation of taxing authority can only occur by the voluntary consent of the people themselves. The 42 states cannot facilitate that breakdown of the separation of powers:

43 State officials thus cannot consent to the enlargement of the powers of Congress beyond those enumerated in 44 the Constitution.”

45 [New York v. United States, 505 U.S. 142; 112 S.Ct. 2408; 120 L.Ed.2d. 120 (1992)]

46 That consent to allows federal income taxation within states of the Union requires a voluntary personal exercise of our 47 private right to contract. A person domiciled in a state of the Union, who starts out as a “nonresident alien”, can become a
48 “resident”, a “taxpayer”, and an “individual” under the Internal Revenue Code by making the necessary “elections” in order
49 to be treated as a “resident” engaged in a “trade or business” instead of a “nonresident alien” not engaged in a “trade or

1 business". That election is made as follows:

2 1. Pursuant to 26 CFR §31.3401(a)-3(a), a "nonresident alien" may submit an IRS Form W-4 to his private employer and
3 thereby elect to call his earnings "wages", which makes him "effectively connected with a trade or business". This
4 means, according to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) that he is engaged in a "public office".

5 26 CFR §31.3401\(a\)-3 Amounts deemed wages under voluntary withholding agreements

6 (a) In general.

7 *Notwithstanding the exceptions to the definition of wages specified in section 3401(a) and the regulations
8 thereunder, the term "wages" includes the amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section with respect
9 to which there is a voluntary withholding agreement in effect under section 3402(p). References in this
10 chapter to the definition of wages contained in section 3401(a) shall be deemed to refer also to this section
11 (§31.3401(a)-3).*

12 2. Pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4) and 26 U.S.C. §6013(g), he can decide to file an IRS Form 1040, and thereby
13 become a "resident alien". IRS Document 7130 identifies the IRS Form 1040 as being only suitable for use by
14 "citizens and residents of the United States". The "individual" in the title "U.S. Individual Income Tax Return" means
15 a "resident alien" in that scenario. This is explained in the following sources:
16 2.1. Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 5.5.3: You're Not a U.S. citizen if you file a 1040 form, You're an alien
17 2.2. Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 5.5.4 entitled: "You're not the U.S. citizen mentioned at the top of the 18 1040 form if you are a U.S. citizen domiciled in the federal United States"

19 Only AFTER the above "elections" or consent have been voluntarily procured completely absent any duress can the party
20 become the object of involuntary IRS enforcement, and NOT before.

21 "Waivers of constitutional rights not only must be voluntary but must be knowing, intelligent acts done with 22 sufficient awareness of the relevant circumstances and likely consequences."
23 [Brady v. U.S., 397 U.S. at 749, 90 S.Ct. 1463 at 1469 (1970)]

24 If no consent was ever explicitly (in writing) or implicitly (by conduct) given or if consent was procured through deceit,
25 fraud, or duress, the contract is voidable at the option of the person subject to the duress:

26 "An agreement [consent] obtained by duress, coercion, or intimidation is invalid, since the party coerced is not
27 exercising his free will, and the test is not so much the means by which the party is compelled to execute the
28 agreement as the state of mind induced.³⁸ Duress, like fraud, rarely becomes material, except where a contract
29 or conveyance has been made which the maker wishes to avoid. As a general rule, duress renders the contract
30 or conveyance voidable, not void, at the option of the person coerced.³⁹ and it is susceptible of ratification.
31 Like other voidable contracts, it is valid until it is avoided by the person entitled to avoid it.⁴⁰ However, duress
32 in the form of physical compulsion, in which a party is caused to appear to assent when he has no intention of 33 doing so, is generally deemed to render the resulting purported contract void.⁴¹"
34 [American Jurisprudence 2d, Duress, Section 21]

35 AFTER a nonresident alien domiciled in a state has made the elections necessary to be treated as though he is "effectively
36 connected with a trade or business" by voluntarily signing and submitting an IRS Form W-4, the code says he becomes a
37 "resident alien". In fact, we allege that the term "effectively connected" is a code word for "contracted" or "consented".
38 The act of engaging in a "trade or business" makes nonresident aliens subject to the code, and under 26 U.S.C.
39 §7701(a)(39) and 26 U.S.C. §7408(d), their "effective domicile" shifts to the District of Columbia. Beyond that point, they 40 become parties to federal law and whenever they walk into a federal district court, the courts are obligated to treat them as

1 though they effectively are domiciled in the District of Columbia. The older versions of the Treasury Regulations
2 demonstrate EXACTLY how this election process works to transform “nonresident aliens” into “residents” who are then
3 “taxpayers”:

4 26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.

5 *A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during
6 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
7 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
8 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
9 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
10 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
11 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in
12 trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
13 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
14 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
15 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.*

17 27.5.5 I.R.C. Definition of “United States” includes the “States and the District of Columbia”

18 Contention:

19 In fact, the Internal Revenue Code's definition of "United States" includes "the States and the District of Columbia." I.R.C.
20 §7701(a)(9);

21 Authorities:

22 Betz, 40 Fed.Cl. at 295; see also Lonsdale, 919 F.2d. at 1448 (the argument that the federal government has jurisdiction 23 only over the District of Columbia is "completely lacking in legal merit and patently frivolous").

24 Rebuttal:

25 No question that their statement is accurate, but does it clearly state the truth? Which “State” are they talking about:

26 1. The ones in the Constitution.

27 *The earliest case is that of Hepburn v. Ellzey, 2 Cranch, 445, 2 L.Ed. 332, in which this court held that, under
28 that clause of the Constitution limiting the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States to controversies
29 between citizens of different states, a citizen of the District of Columbia could not maintain an action in the
30 circuit court of the United States. It was argued that the word 'state.' in that connection, was used simply to
31 denote a distinct political society. 'But,' said the Chief Justice, 'as the act of Congress obviously used the word
32 'state' in reference to that term as used in the Constitution, it becomes necessary to inquire whether Columbia is
33 a state in the sense of that instrument. The result of that examination is a conviction that the members of the
34 American confederacy only are the states contemplated in the Constitution . . . and excludes from the term
35 the signification attached to it by writers on the law of nations.' This case was followed in Barney v.
36 Baltimore, 6 Wall. 280, 18 L.Ed. 825, and quite recently in Hooe v. Jamieson, 166 U.S. 395, 41 L.Ed. 1049,
37 17 Sup.Ct.Rep. 596. The same rule was applied to citizens of territories in New Orleans v. Winter, 1 Wheat.
38 91, 4 L.Ed. 44, in which an attempt was made to distinguish a territory from the District of Columbia. But it
39 was said that 'neither of them is a state in the sense in which that term is used in the Constitution.' In Scott v.
40 Jones, 5 How. 343, 12 L.Ed. 181, and in Miners' Bank v. Iowa ex rel. District Prosecuting Attorney, 12 How. 1,
41 13 L.Ed. 867, it was held that under the judiciary act, permitting writs of error to the supreme court of a state in
42 cases where the validity of a state statute is drawn in question, an act of a territorial legislature was not within 43 the contemplation of Congress."*
44 [Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

45 2. The ones defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(10).

46 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701. [Internal Revenue Code]
47 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

48 (a)(10) State

49 The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to

1 carry out provisions of this title.

2 Remember, the term “United States” as used in the Constitution and as used in Acts of Congress are two mutually exclusive
3 places, in most acts of Congress. This was described earlier. The U.S. attorney is again trying to exploit the legal
4 ignorance of the reader to create enough confusion to destroy the separation of powers doctrine and thereby trample on your
5 rights and destroy the protections that it affords. This is a conspiracy against rights in violation of 18 U.S.C. §241, and it is
6 being done with what we call “word smithing”, false presumption, and the abuse of law as “political propaganda” against
7 an audience of people who went through twelve years of public (e.g. GOVERNMENT) schools and not once were taught
8 the slightest thing about law. This is no accident, but an attempt to make government and the legal profession into the 9 equivalent of a priesthood and an elite ruling class for the ignorant masses.

10 27.5.6 I.R.C. was enacted pursuant to the Sixteenth Amendment

11 Contention:

12 The I.R.C. was enacted by Congress pursuant to the Sixteenth Amendment and imposes an income tax on citizens and 13 residents of the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Taxation is not limited to just the District of Columbia, but extends 14 to "United States citizens throughout the nation, not just in federal enclaves," such as post offices and Indian reservations."

15 Authorities:

16 Sloan, 939 F.2d. at 501 (quoting United States v. Collins, 920 F.2d. 619, 629 (10th Cir. 1990); Betz, 40 Fed.Cl. at 295; see 17 also In re Becroft, 885 F.2d. at 549-50 ("no semblance of merit" to claim that federal laws only apply to territories and District
18 of Columbia); Ward, 833 F.2d. at 1539 (contention that United States has jurisdiction only over D.C. and other federal 19 enclaves is rejected as a "twisted conclusion").

20 Rebuttal:

21 This statement by the U.S. attorney is true if the “United States citizens” he is talking about are statutory “nationals and
22 citizens of the United States” defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401 and which exclude constitutional citizens as used in the 23 Fourteenth Amendment. As pointed out earlier, “citizens of the United States” as used in the Fourteenth Amendment
24 include persons born or naturalized in a state of the Union and exclude those born in federal territories and possessions .

25 Yes, the tax is imposed upon statutory (but NOT constitutional) “citizens of the United States” defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401
26 or 26 CFR §1.1-1(c) and “resident aliens of the United States” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(A\) and 26 CFR §1.1-
27 1(a)(2)(ii). However, these persons have in common a domicile within the “United States”, which is defined in 26 U.S.C.
28 §7701\(a\)\(9\) and \(a\)\(10\) to include the District of Columbia and not expanded elsewhere within Subtitle A of the I.R.C. to 29 include any other place. Consequently, pursuant to the rules of statutory construction, the states of the Union are excluded.

30 “Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
31 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
32 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
33 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
34 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
35 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded. [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, page 581]

38 “It is axiomatic that the statutory definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term,”
39 [Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484 (1987)]

40 A person domiciled in a state of the Union, who starts out as a “nonresident alien”, can become a “resident”, a “taxpayer”,
41 and an “individual” by making the necessary “elections” in order to be treated as a “resident” engaged in a “trade or 42 business” instead of a “nonresident alien” not engaged in a “trade or business”. That election is made as follows:

43 1. Pursuant to 26 CFR §31.3401(a)-3(a), a “nonresident alien” may elect to call his earnings “wages”, which makes him
44 “effectively connected with a trade or business”. This means, according to 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\) that he is engaged 45 in a “public office”.

2 (a) In general.

3 *Notwithstanding the exceptions to the definition of wages specified in section 3401(a) and the regulations
4 thereunder, the term "wages" includes the amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section with respect
5 to which there is a voluntary withholding agreement in effect under section 3402(p). References in this
6 chapter to the definition of wages contained in section 3401(a) shall be deemed to refer also to this section
7 (§31.3401(a)-3).*

8 2. Pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(4) and 26 U.S.C. §6013(g), he can decide to file an IRS Form 1040, and thereby
9 become a “resident alien”. IRS Document 7130 identifies the IRS Form 1040 as being only suitable for use by
10 “citizens and residents of the United States”. The “individual” in the title “U.S. Individual Income Tax Return” means
11 a “resident alien” in that scenario. This is explained in the following sources:
12 2.1. Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 5.5.3: You’re Not a U.S. citizen if you file a 1040 form, You’re an alien
13 2.2. Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302, Section 5.5.4 entitled: “You’re not the U.S. citizen mentioned at the top of the 14 1040 form if you are a U.S. citizen domiciled in the federal United States”

15 When a “nonresident alien” makes that election by, for instance, submitted a 1040 form instead of the correct 1040NR
16 form, and signs a W-4, they are treated the same as any other “resident alien” domiciled within the United States. It is 17 perfectly legal, because it was consensual and done through the private right to contract. Since the Constitution protects the 18 PRIVATE right to contract, no law or Constitutional mandate has been violated. HOWEVER:

19 1. The ONLY circumstance when such an election can lawfully be made is when the nonresident alien is MARRIED to a 20 statutory “U.S. person”. It may NOT lawfully be made in ANY other circumstance. See 26 U.S.C. §6031(g) and (h).
21 2. When this sort of ALIENATION of UNALIENABLE PRIVATE rights occurs, the government doing it
22 2.1. Is working a purpose OPPPOSITE for which it was created by DESTROYING and UNDERMINING PRIVATE 23 rights.
24 2.2. Because it is undermining the purpose of its creation, which is the protection of PRIVATE rights, it ceases to be 25 acting as a government and goes down to the level of an ordinary person in equity.
26 2.3. It may only lawfully alienate rights protected by the Constitution in places where the Constitution does not apply,
27 which is limited to either federal territory OR to the activities of parties situated abroad and NOT within states of 28 the Union. Otherwise, it is violating the purpose of its creation and the Declaration of Independence.
29 2.4. Because it is doing so extraterritorially and for the purposes of commerce, it implicitly waives sovereign immunity
30 and agrees to be sued in equity in a state court under the authority of the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28
31 U.S.C. Chapter 97. It may be sued as a corporation and individual officers need NOT therefore be sued.
32 3. If the government refuses to acknowledge the above limitations and attempts to protect its PRIVATE business

35 27.5.7 Taxing power of Congress extends to all the people of all the States

36 Contention:

37 Although the concept of federalism recognizes the dual sovereignty of the State of North Carolina and the United States of 38 America, North Carolina is indeed one of the fifty states constituting the United States of America. ⁴² See, e.g., Testa v.

⁴² So long as the separate organization of the members be not abolished, so long as it exists by a constitutional necessity for local purposes, though it should be in perfect subordination to the general authority of the Union, it would still be, in fact and in theory, an association of States, or a confederacy. The proposed Constitution, so far from implying an abolition of the State Governments, makes them constituent parts of the national sovereignty by allowing them a direct representation in the Senate, and leaves in their possession certain exclusive and very important portions of sovereign power. This fully corresponds, in every rational import of the terms, with the idea of a Federal Government.

“The Federalist No.9, at 55 (A. Hamilton) (J. Cooke ed.1961) (emphasis added) See also, “The Federalist” No.33, at 208 (A. Hamilton) (“CONCURRENT JURISDICTION in the article of taxation was the only admissible substitute for an entire subordination, in respect to this branch of power, of the State authority to that of the Union.”).”

2 542, 550 (1876); Cohens v. Virginia, 19 U.S. 264, 380-83 (1821). “This State shall ever remain a member of the American
3 Nation; there is no power on the part of this State to secede” N.C.Const.art.I, § 4. “Every citizen of this State owes
4 paramount allegiance to the Constitution and government of the United States, and no law or ordinance of the State in
5 contravention or subversion thereof can have any binding force.” Id. at Art. I, § 5. “all persons born or naturalized in the 6 United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside.”
7 U.S.Const.Amend. XIV, § 1.

8 The fact that Respondent is a citizen of North Carolina does not relieve him of the rights and obligations created by the 9 laws of the United States, including the Code. Dennis v. U.S., 660 F.Supp. 870, 875 n.2 (C.D.Ill. 1987) (“[T]he taxing 10 power of the United States of America extends to every individual who is a citizen or resident of this nation.”); Sloan v. U.S., 621 F.Supp. 1072, 1073-74 (N.D. Ind. 1985) (Secretary may issue summonses to obtain information about ANY potential tax liability), aff’d in part, dismissed in part, 812 F.2d. 1410 (7th Circuit 1987), aff’d 939 F.2d. 499 (7th Cir. 1991), cert.den. ____ U.S. ___, 112 S.Ct. 940 (1992); Channel v. U.S., No. C88-0118P(CS), 1988 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16904 at *5 (W.D. Ky. August 9, 1988)(opinion by Magistrate Judge King). To paraphrase Justice Willis Van Devanter, when Congress, in the exertion of the power confided to it by the Sixteenth amendment,⁴³ adopted by the Code, it spoke for all the people and all the States, and thereby established a policy for all. That policy is as much the policy of North Carolina as if the Code had emanated from the North Carolina General Assembly, and should be respected accordingly by the citizens and courts of the State of North Carolina. Second Employers’ Liability Cases, 223 U.S. 1, 57 (1912). See also, Claflin v. Houseman, 93 U.S. 130, 136 (1876) (“The laws of the United States are laws in the several States, and just as much binding on the citizens and courts thereof as the State laws are.”) Respondent’s “foreign state of North Carolina” argument is patently frivolous,⁴⁴ and is hereby rejected as a basis for quashing the Collection Summonses in question.

22 Rebuttal:

23 The Court in the ruling above is trying to “cash in” on the confusion between the “States” mentioned in the Constitution
24 and the “States” defined in the Internal Revenue Code, which are two mutually exclusive places. The “States” in the 25 Constitution are the states of the Union, whereas those in the Internal Revenue Code include the District of Columbia and
26 federal territories and possessions, pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) and exclude states of the 27 Union. Nowhere in Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A is the term “States” defined to include anything other than federal 28 areas within the external limits of a state of the Union. The “State” that the Court refers to is the same “State” mentioned in 29 the Buck Act, which is defined in 4 U.S.C. §110(d) as a “territory or possession” of the “United States” federal 30 government. The states of the Union are not territories or possessions of the United States, but “foreign states” within the 31 U.S. Code. To wit:

32 “Corpus Juris Secundum Legal Encyclopedia
33 §1. Definitions, Nature, and Distinctions

34 “*The word ‘territory,’ when used to designate a political organization has a distinctive, fixed, and legal
35 meaning under the political institutions of the United States, and does not necessarily include all the
36 territorial possessions of the United States, but may include only the portions thereof which are organized
37 and exercise governmental functions under act of congress.*”

38 “*While the term ‘territory’ is often loosely used, and has even been construed to include municipal subdivisions
39 of a territory, and ‘territories of the’ United States is sometimes used to refer to the entire domain over which
40 the United States exercises dominion, the word ‘territory,’ when used to designate a political organization, has
41 a distinctive, fixed, and legal meaning under the political institutions of the United States, and the term
42 ‘territory’ or ‘territories’ does not necessarily include only a portion or the portions thereof which are organized
43 and exercise government functions under acts of congress. The term ‘territories’ has been defined to be
44 political subdivisions of the outlying dominion of the United States, and in this sense the term ‘territory’ is not a
45 description of a definite area of land but of a political unit governing and being governed as such. The question*

⁴³ U.S. Constitution, Amendment XVI: The Congress shall have the power to lay and collect taxes on income, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

1 whether a particular subdivision or entity is a territory is not determined by the particular form of government
2 with which it is, more or less temporarily, invested.

3 "Territories' or 'territory' as including 'state' or 'states.' While the term 'territories of the' United States
4 may, under certain circumstances, include the states of the Union, as used in the federal Constitution and in
5 ordinary acts of congress "territory" does not include a foreign state.

6 "As used in this title, the term 'territories' generally refers to the political subdivisions created by congress,
7 and not within the boundaries of any of the several states."

8 [Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.), Territories, §1]

9 Based on the judge's comments, the legal encyclopedia is "patently frivolous", which is absurd!

10 The part of the states of the Union that are "possessions of the United States", such as federal enclaves or areas within the 11 states, are the place where the Internal Revenue Code applies pursuant to the Buck Act, 4 U.S.C. §106, and its 12 implementing provisions found in 5 U.S.C. §5517. These areas are collectively referred to as the "federal zone". This is 13 the "nation" that the court is referring to, which is "the federal zone". You will note that the U.S. Supreme Court said that 14 the United States of America is NOT a "nation", but a society.

15 "By that law the several States and Governments spread over 16 our globe, are considered as forming a society, not a
17 NATION.

21 instrument. "

22 [Chisholm v. Georgia, 2 Dall. (U.S.) 419, 1 L.Ed. 440 (1793)]

22 The Court is trying to use "words of art" to destroy the separation of powers between the state and federal governments and 23 thereby undermine the rights of the litigant, which is a conspiracy against rights. This conspiracy to destroy the separation
24 of powers and thereby undermine our Constitutional rights is exhaustively described below:

Government Conspiracy to Destroy the Separation of Powers, Form #05.023
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

25 We agree with the judge that the taxing power of the "United States of America", which are the states United under the 26 Constitution and mentioned in the Articles of Confederation and which excludes the federal "States" (territories and 27 possessions defined in 4 U.S.C. §110(d)) mentioned in the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A, extends to every "individual"
28 who is a "citizen" or "resident" of the federal zone. Dennis v. U.S., 660 F.Supp. 870, 875 n.2 (C.D.Ill. 1987) ("[T]he taxing 29 power of the United States of America extends to every individual who is a citizen or resident of this nation."). However,
30 human beings domiciled within a state of the Union are not statutory "citizens" as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401, nor
31 "residents", as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A). Congress enjoys no legislative authority within a state of the Union
32 because of the separation of powers.

33 "It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247
34 U.S. 251, 275 , 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the
35 internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation. The question in respect of the
36 inherent power of that government as to the external affairs of the Nation and in the field of international law is
37 a wholly different matter which it is not necessary now to consider. See, however, Jones v. United States, 137
38 U.S. 202, 212 , 11 S.Ct. 80; Nishimur Ekiu v. United States, 142 U.S. 651, 659 , 12 S.Ct. 336; Fong Yue Ting v.
39 United States, 149 U.S. 698 , 705 et seq., 13 S.Ct. 1016; Burnet v. Brooks, 288 U.S. 378, 396 , 53 S.Ct. 457, 86
40 A.L.R. 747."
41 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co. 298 U.S. 238 (1936)]

42 Consequently, no "act of Congress" can lawfully prescribe the citizenship status of a person born in a state of the Union or 43 confer citizenship upon a person born in a state of the Union. State law, which is "plenary" and "exclusive" within its 44 INTERNAL borders, is the only thing that can lawfully prescribe this under the Constitution. This is exhaustively proven 45 in the paper below:

EXHIBIT: _____

1 The judge also doesn't define what he means by "individual" and the Internal Revenue Code very deliberately doesn't
2 define it. However, as we showed earlier in section 27.5.3, all "Individuals" within the Internal Revenue Code are federal
3 "employees", officers, agencies, and instrumentalities and exclude private Americans domiciled in the states. The only
4 thing Congress has authority to legislate for are its own "employees", officers, and instrumentalities. This is further
5 exhaustively analyzed in the following memorandum of law:

Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a "Public Officer" for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

6 The fox, which is the government, cannot be in charge of protecting the rights of the chickens, who are "private citizens"
7 who are not "public officers" engaged in a "trade or business", and simultaneously also have the authority to take those
8 rights away through its legislation. This is an absurdity and on this subject, the judge contradicts himself.

9 Yes, the Secretary may issue summonses to inquire about liability. Sloan v. U.S., 621 F.Supp. 1072, 1073-74 (N.D. Ind.
10 1985) (Secretary may issue summonses to obtain information about ANY potential tax liability), aff'd. in part, dismissed in 11 part, 812 F.2d. 1410 (7th Circuit 1987), aff'd. 939 F.2d. 499 (7th Cir. 1991), cert.den. ____U.S.____, 112 S.Ct. 940 (1992).
12 However, the summonses can only be issued to address activity within "internal revenue districts" pursuant to 26 U.S.C.
13 §7601 and the only remaining internal revenue district is found in the District of Columbia pursuant to Treasury Order 150-
14 02. 26 U.S.C. §7621 confers upon the President the authority to establish "internal revenue districts" within the "United 15 States" (federal zone). By virtue of 3 U.S.C. §301, the President can delegate authority vested in him via Executive Order.
16 A former president delegated authority for the Secretary of the Treasury to establish internal revenue districts via Executive
17 Order 10289, as amended. You will find Executive Order 10289 published pursuant to 3 U.S.C. §301. If we refer to 26
18 CFR §301.7601-1, we find that Executive Order 10289 is in fact the authority for the Secretary of the Treasury to establish 19 internal revenue districts. The original authority for internal revenue districts was found in Treasury Order 150-01. The 20 effect in law of the IRS Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998 was that the Secretary of the Treasury, in Treasury Order
21 150-02, abolished all then existing internal revenue districts and IRS offices outside of the District of Columbia or in states
22 of the Union.

23 Consequently, the only place the IRS has summons authority is within the District of Columbia and certainly not within 24 states of the Union that are not exclusive federal territory. If the esteemed judge disagrees, he is demanded to prove the 25 existence of internal revenue districts within any state of the Union. We have been looking for several years for this 26 information and have not found it, nor has any IRS employee we have ever met been able to produce it. Happy hunting!

27 We agree with the judge that "dual sovereignty" is shared between the federal government and the states. *Second
28 Employers' Liability Cases*, 223 U.S. 1, 57 (1912). See also, Claflin v. Houseman, 93 U.S. 130, 136 (1876) ("The laws of
29 the United States are laws in the several States, and just as much binding on the citizens and courts thereof as the State laws
30 are.") However, the constitution delegates to the federal government authority primarily over affairs EXTERNAL to states
31 of the Union while the states of the Union enjoy plenary power and exclusive legislative jurisdiction within their own
32 INTERNAL borders. This is exhaustively explained in the case of United States v. Curtiss-Wright Export Corporation,
33 299 U.S. 304 (1936). Yes, the exertion of the plenary lawmaking powers of Congress over EXTERNAL affairs is binding
34 upon citizens of the states of the Union, but only indirectly and not directly. Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238
35 (1936). Persons domiciled in states of the Union are affected by tariffs on imports imposed by Congress, but are not bound
36 to directly pay them or to directly observe the laws that pay them. These tariffs instead are paid by companies importing 37 the goods and those costs are added by the importer to the price of the merchandise sold once it enters the states.

38 *"Thus, Congress having power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and
39 with the Indian tribes, may, without doubt, provide for granting coasting licenses, licenses to pilots, licenses to
40 trade with the Indians, and any other licenses necessary or proper for the exercise of that great and extensive
41 power; and the same observation is applicable to every other power of Congress, to the exercise of which the 42 granting of licenses may be incident. All such licenses confer authority, and give rights to the licensee."*

43 *But very different considerations apply to the internal commerce or domestic trade of the States. Over this
44 commerce and trade Congress has no power of regulation nor any direct control. This power belongs
45 exclusively to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a State is
46 warranted by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly granted to
47 the legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive power of 48 the State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It is given
49 in the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports, and it
50 must impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus limited,
51 and thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing*

1 subjects. Congress cannot authorize a trade or business within a State in order to tax it."
2 License Tax Cases, [72 U.S. 462, 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]

3 As far as the last item above goes, which is that of taxation, however, the U.S. Supreme Court has stated:

4 "The States, after they formed the Union, continued to have the same range of taxing power which they had
5 before, barring only duties affecting exports, imports, and on tonnage. 2 Congress, on the other hand, to lay
6 taxes in order 'to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States',
7 Art. 1, Sec. 8, U.S.C.A.Const., can reach every person and every dollar in the land with due regard to
8 Constitutional limitations as to the method of laying taxes."
9 Graves v. People of State of New York, [306 U.S. 466 (1939)]
10

11 "The difficulties arising out of our dual form of government and the opportunities for differing opinions
12 concerning the relative rights of state and national governments are many; but for a very long time this court
13 has steadfastly adhered to the doctrine that the taxing power of Congress does not extend to the states or
14 their political subdivisions. The same basic reasoning which leads to that conclusion, we think, requires like
15 limitation upon the power which springs from the bankruptcy clause. United States v. Butler, supra."
16 Ashton v. Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 1, [298 U.S. 513; 56 S.Ct. 892 (1936)]
17

18 "The grant of the power to lay and collect taxes is, like the power to regulate commerce, made in general
19 terms, and has never been understood to interfere with the exercise of the same power by the State; and
20 hence has been drawn an argument which has been applied to the question under consideration. But the two
21 grants are not, it is conceived, similar in their terms or their nature. Although many of the powers formerly
22 [22 U.S. 1, 199] exercised by the States, are transferred to the government of the Union, yet the State
23 governments remain, and constitute a most important part of our system. The power of taxation is indispensable
24 to their existence, and is a power which, in its own nature, is capable of residing in, and being exercised by,
25 different authorities at the same time. We are accustomed to see it placed, for different purposes, in different
26 hands. Taxation is the simple operation of taking small portions from a perpetually accumulating mass,
27 susceptible of almost infinite division; and a power in one to take what is necessary for certain purposes, is not,
28 in its nature, incompatible with a power in another to take what is necessary for other purposes. Congress is
29 authorized to lay and collect taxes, and to pay the debts, and provide for the common defence and general
30 welfare of the United States. This does not interfere with the power of the States to tax internally for the
31 support of their own governments; nor is the exercise of that power by the States [to tax INTERNALLY], an
32 exercise of any portion of the power that is granted to the United States [to tax EXTERNALLY]. In imposing
33 taxes for State purposes, they are not doing what Congress is empowered to do. Congress is not empowered
34 to tax for those purposes which are within the exclusive province of the States. When, then, each
35 government exercises the power of taxation, neither is
36 exercising the power of the other. But, when a State proceeds to regulate commerce
37 with foreign nations, or among the several States, it is exercising the very power that is granted to Congress,
38 [22 U.S. 1, 200] and is doing the very thing which Congress is authorized to do. There is no analogy, then,
39 between the power of taxation and the power of regulating commerce. "
40 Gibbons v. Ogden, [22 U.S. 21 (1824)]
41

42 "In Slaughter-house Cases, 16 Wall. 62, it was said that the police power is, from its nature, incapable of any
43 exact definition or limitation; and in Stone v. Mississippi, 101 U.S. 818, that it is 'easier to determine whether

44 particular cases come within the general scope of the power than to give an abstract definition of the power
45 itself, which will be in all respects accurate.' That there is a power, sometimes called the police power, which
46 has never been surrendered by the states, in virtue of which they may, within certain limits, control
47 everything within their respective territories, and upon the proper exercise of which, under some
48 circumstances, may depend the public health, the public morals, or the public safety, is conceded in all the
49 cases. Gibbons v. Ogden, 9 Wheat. 203. In its broadest sense, as sometimes defined, it includes all legislation
50 and almost every function of civil government. Barbier v. Connolly, 113 U.S. 31; S.C. 5 Sup.Ct.Rep. 357. [..
51 .] Definitions of the police power must, however, be taken subject to the condition that
52 the state cannot, in its exercise, for any purpose whatever, encroach upon the powers
53 of the general [federal] government, or rights granted or secured by the supreme law of 54 the land.

55 "Illustrations of interference with the rightful authority of the general government by 56 state legislation-which was defended upon the ground that it was enacted under the 57 police power-are found in cases where enactments concerning the introduction of 58 foreign paupers, convicts, and diseased persons were held to be unconstitutional as 59 conflicting, by their necessary operation and effect, with the paramount authority of

1 congress to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states. In
2 Henderson v. Mayor of New York, 92 U.S. 263, the court, speaking by Mr. Justice MILLER, while declining to
3 decide whether in the absence of congressional action the states can, or how far they may, by appropriate
4 legislation protect themselves against actual paupers, vagrants, criminals, [115 U.S. 650, 662] and diseased
5 persons, arriving from foreign countries, said, that no definition of the police power, and 'no urgency for its 6 use, can authorize a state to exercise it in regard to a subject-matter which has been confided exclusively to the 7 discretion of congress by the constitution.' Chy Lung v. Freeman, 92 U.S. 276. And in Railroad Co.
8 v. Husen, 95 U.S. 474, Mr. Justice STRONG, delivering the opinion of 9 the court, said that 'the police power of a state cannot obstruct foreign
10 commerce or interstate commerce beyond the necessity for its exercise;
11 and, under color of it, objects not within its scope cannot be secured at 12 the expense of the protection afforded by the federal constitution.' "
13 [New Orleans Gas Company v. Louisiana Light Company, 115 U.S. 650 (1885)]

14 And the Federalist Paper # 45 confirms this view in regards to taxation:

15 "It is true, that the Confederacy is to possess, and may exercise, the power of collecting internal as well as
16 external taxes throughout the States; but it is probable that this power will not be resorted to, except for
17 supplemental purposes of revenue; that an option will then be given to the States to supply their quotas by
18 previous collections of their own; and that the eventual collection, under the immediate authority of the
19 Union, will generally be made by the officers, and according to 20 the rules, appointed by the several States. Indeed it is
21 extremely probable, that in other instances, particularly in the
22 organization of the judicial power, the officers of the States
23 will be clothed with the correspondent authority of the Union.

26 "Should it happen, however, that separate collectors of internal revenue should be appointed under the federal
27 government, the influence of the whole number would not bear a comparison with that of the multitude of State
officers in the opposite scale. "

28 "Within every district to which a federal collector would be allotted, there would not be less than thirty or forty,
29 or even more, officers of different descriptions, and many of them persons of character and weight, whose
30 influence would lie on the side of the State. The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
31 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
32 indefinite. The former will be exercised principally on external objects, as war, peace, negotiation, and
33 foreign commerce; with which last the power of taxation will, for the most part, be connected. The powers
34 reserved to the several States will extend to all the objects which, in the ordinary course of affairs, concern
35 the lives, liberties, and properties of the people, and the internal order, improvement, and prosperity of the
36 State. The operations of the federal government will be most extensive and important in times of war and
37 danger; those of the State governments, in times of peace and security. As the former periods will probably
38 bear a small proportion to the latter, the State governments will here enjoy another advantage over the
39 federal government. The more adequate, indeed, the federal powers may be rendered to the national defense,
40 the less frequent will be those scenes of danger which might favor their ascendancy over the governments of
41 the particular States."
42 [Federalist Paper No. 45 (Jan. 1788), James Madison]

43 The introduction of the Sixteenth Amendment did not change any of the above. Even the Supreme Court agreed in the case
44 of Stanton v. Baltic Mining that the Sixteenth Amendment "conferred no new powers of taxation", and they wouldn't have 45 said it and repeated it if they didn't mean it. Whether or not the Sixteenth Amendment was properly ratified is 46 inconsequential and a nullity, because of the limited applicability of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code to the federal 47 zone. The Sixteenth Amendment authorized that:

48 Sixteenth Amendment

49 The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without
50 apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

51 And in fact, the above described amendment is exactly what an income tax under Subtitle A that only operates inside the 52 federal zone does: collect taxes on incomes without apportionment within federal territory against those engaging in

1 voluntary excise taxable federal franchises such as “domicile” and a “trade or business” (public office). It operates
2 extraterritorially in the case of “public officers” abroad who continue to maintain a domicile in the “United States” (federal
3 zone) pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §911 but has no authority to operate within the exclusive jurisdiction of any state of the Union.
4 Furthermore, because the federal zone is not protected by the Constitution or the Bill of Rights (see Downes v. Bidwell, 182
5 U.S. 244 (1901)), then there can be no violation of constitutional rights from the enforcement of the I.R.C. there. As a
6 matter of fact, since due process of law is a requirement only of the Bill of Rights, and the Bill of Rights doesn’t apply in
7 the federal zone, then technically, Congress doesn’t even need a law to legitimately collect taxes in these areas! The federal
8 zone, recall, is a totalitarian socialist democracy, not a republic, and the legislature and the courts can do anything they like 9 there without violating the Bill of Rights or our Constitutional rights.

10 With all the above in mind, let’s return to the following cites to further analyze them

11 *“The laws of the United States are laws in the several States, and just as much binding on the citizens and
12 courts thereof as the State laws are. The United States is not a foreign sovereignty as regards the several States,
13 but is a concurrent, and, within its jurisdiction, paramount sovereignty. Every citizen of a State is a subject of
14 two distinct sovereignties, having concurrent jurisdiction in the State,-concurrent as to place and persons,
15 though distinct as to subject-matter.”*
16 [Claflin v. Houseman, 93 U.S. 130, 136 (1876)]

17 *“And the powers of the General Government, and of the State, although both exist and are exercised within the 18 same territorial limits, are yet separate and distinct sovereignties, acting separately and independently of each
19 other, within their respective spheres.”*
20 Ableman v. Booth, [62 U.S. 506, 516 (1858)]

21 The Constitution and the Bill of Rights, which are the “laws” of the United States, apply equally to both the union states
22 AND the federal government, as the cites explain. That is why either state or federal officers both have to take an oath to
23 support and defend the Constitution before they take office. However, the statutes or legislation passed by Congress, which
24 are called “Acts of Congress” have much more limited jurisdiction inside the Union states, and in most cases, do not apply
25 at all. For example:

26 TITLE 18 > PART III > CHAPTER 301 > Sec. 4001.
27 Sec. 4001. - Limitation on detention; control of prisons

28 (a) No citizen shall be imprisoned or otherwise detained by the United States except pursuant to an Act of 29 Congress.

30 The reason for the above is because the federal government has no police powers inside the states because these are 31 reserved by the Tenth Amendment to the state governments. Likewise, the feds have no territorial jurisdiction for most
32 subject matters inside the states either. See U.S. v. Bevans, 16 U.S. 336 (1818).

33 Now if we look at the meaning of “Act of Congress”, we find such a definition in [Rule 54\(c\) of the Federal Rules of
34 Criminal Procedure](#) prior to Dec. 2002, wherein is defined “Act of Congress.” Rule 54(c) states:

35 Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 54(c), prior to Dec. 2002

36 “Act of Congress” includes any act of Congress locally applicable to and in force in the District of Columbia, in
37 Puerto Rico, in a territory or in an insular possession.”

38 Keep in mind, the Internal Revenue Code is an “Act of Congress.” The reason such “Acts of Congress” cannot apply
39 within the sovereign states is because the federal government lacks what is called “police powers” inside the union states,
40 and the Internal Revenue Code requires police powers to implement and enforce. THEREFORE, THE QUESTION IS, ON
41 WHICH OF THE FOUR LOCATIONS NAMED IN RULE 54(c) IS THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
42 ASSERTING JURISDICTION WHEN THE U.S. ATTORNEY HAULS YOUR ASS IN COURT ON AN INCOME TAX
43 CRIME? Hint, everyone knows what and where the District of Columbia is, and everyone knows where Puerto Rico is, and
44 territories and insular possessions are defined in Title 48 United States Code, happy hunting!

45 The preceding discussion within this section is also confirmed by the content of 4 U.S.C. §72. Subtitle A is primarily a
46 “privilege” tax upon a “trade or business”. See and rebut the following if you disagree:

1 A "trade or business" is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office":

2 26 U.S.C. §7701 Definitions

3 (a)(26) Trade or business

4 "The term 'trade or business' includes the performance of the functions of a public office."

5 Title 4 of the U.S. Code then says that all "public offices" MUST be exercised ONLY in the District of Columbia and no
6 place else, except as expressly provided by law:

7 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > § 72
8 § 72. Public offices; at seat of Government

9 *All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere,
10 except as otherwise expressly provided by law.*

11 If we then search all the titles of the U.S. Code electronically, we find only one instance where "public offices" are
12 "expressly provided" by law to a place other than the seat of government in connection with the Internal Revenue Code.
13 That reference is found in 48 U.S.C. §1612, which expressly provides that public offices for the U.S. Attorney are extended
14 to the Virgin Islands to enforce the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

15 Consequently, the judge's arguments against the idea that a person domiciled in a state of the Union on other than federal 16 territory is not a "nonresident alien" is "patently frivolous".

17 27.5.8 Ambort v. United States

18 A series of cases occurred in connection with a fellow named Ernest Ambort, who was convicted of 69 counts of filing
19 fraudulent tax returns for clients using IRS Form 1040NR:

20 1. USA v. Ambort, 06-cv-00642 (2008)
21 2. Ambort v. U.S., 392 F.3d. 1138 (2004)
22 3. U.S. v. Ambort, 193 F.3d. 1169 (1999)
23 4. U.S. v. Ambort, 405 F.3d. 1109 (2005)

24 Ambort started a business whereby he prepared nonresident alien returns for others, claiming that:

25 1. The Fourteenth Amendment described the citizenship of only those domiciled on federal territory and not those 26 domiciled in states of the Union.
27 2. Anyone can claim "nonresident alien" status regardless of where they are born and without changing their behavior at 28 all.

29 The gist of Ambort's arguments was as follows:

30 *The basic precept of the ADL's seminars was that anyone can, for federal income tax purposes, claim to be a
31 "nonresident alien" with no domestic-source income. ADL instructors told participants that the Fourteenth
32 Amendment changed the definition of citizenship so that only non-white residents of the territorial United States
33 were actually "residents" for income tax purposes. Thus, Ambort and his co-defendants told customers that 34 they were to claim on their income tax returns that they were nonresident aliens, regardless of their place of 35 birth, and to write "n/a" in the place where the tax forms asked for the taxpayer's social security number. They 36 also told customers that they could use IRS Form 1040X to file a corrected return for the previous three tax
37 years, assert nonresident status for each year, and obtain a full refund of any taxes paid or withheld for that 38 period.*
39 [USA v. Ambort, 06-cv-00642 (2008)]

40 Ambort's approach was seriously defective. Below is a list of things he overlooked and/or did wrong:

1. He never challenged the willfulness component of the crimes he was charged with and if he had, we predict that the
2 results would have been different. The I.R.C. is not positive law and therefore not legal evidence of a liability.
3 1.1. 1 U.S.C. §204 legislative notes makes the entire title nothing but a presumption that is not evidence. It identifies
4 the title as “prima facie” evidence, meaning just a presumption:

5 “Prima facie. Lat. At first sight on the first appearance; on the face of it; so far as can be judged from the first
6 disclosure; presumably; a fact presumed to be true unless disproved by some evidence to the contrary. State
7 ex rel. Herbert v. Whims, 68 Ohio App. 39, 38 N.E.2d 596, 499, 22 O.O. 110. See also Presumption.”
8 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1189]

9 1.2. Presumptions do NOT constitute evidence of a liability.

10 This court has never treated a presumption as any form of evidence. See, e.g., A.C. Aukerman Co. v. R.L. Chaides Constr. Co., 960 F.2d. 1020, 1037 (Fed.Cir.1992) (“[A] presumption is not evidence.”); see also Del Vecchio v. Bowers, 296 U.S. 280, 286, 56 S.Ct. 190, 193, 80 L.Ed. 229 (1935) (“[A presumption] cannot acquire the attribute of evidence in the claimant’s favor.”); New York Life Ins. Co. v. Gamer, 303 U.S. 161, 171, 58 S.Ct. 500, 503, 82 L.Ed. 726 (1938) (“[A] presumption is not evidence and may not be given weight as evidence.”). Although a decision of this court, Jensen v. Brown, 19 F.3d. 1413, 1415 (Fed.Cir.1994), dealing with presumptions in VA law is cited for the contrary proposition, the Jensen court did not so decide.
17 [Routen v. West, 142 F.3d. 1434 C.A.Fed.,1998]

18 1.3. No judge has the statutorily delegated authority to convert presumptions into evidence without violating due 19 process of law. If he does, he is:
20 1.3.1. Violating his delegated authority.
21 1.3.2. Violating equal protection of the law. The defendant is just as entitled to presume that he is NOT subject to 22 the code and NOT a “taxpayer” as the judge is entitled that he IS. The only thing that can convert private 23 law into “law” in the case of the defendant is written, express evidence of consent to participate in what 24 amounts to nothing more than a “trade or business” franchise agreement. See the following for how this 25 franchise and excise tax operates:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

26 1.3.3. Imposing what is called a “statutory presumption” that is unconstitutional, keeping in mind that an entire 27 title or subtitle of any code can be a “statutory presumption” just as readily as a single statute:

28 Statutes creating permanent irrebuttable presumptions have long been disfavored under the Due Process
29 Clauses of the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments. In Heiner v. Donnan, 285 U.S. 312, 52 S.Ct. 358, 76 L.Ed. 772 (1932), the Court was faced with a constitutional challenge to a federal statute that created a conclusive
30 presumption that gifts made within two years prior to the donor’s death were made in contemplation of death,
31 thus requiring payment by his estate of a higher tax. In holding that this irrefutable assumption was so arbitrary
32 and unreasonable as to deprive the taxpayer of his property without due process of law, the Court stated that it
33 had ‘held more than once that a statute creating a presumption which operates to deny a fair opportunity to
34 rebut it violates the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.’ Id., at 329, 52 S.Ct., at 362. See, e.g.,
35 Schlesinger v. Wisconsin, 270 U.S. 230, 46 S.Ct. 260, 70 L.Ed. 557 (1926); Hooper v. Tax Comm’n, 284 U.S. 206, 52 S.Ct. 120, 76 L.Ed. 248 (1931). See also Tot v. United States, 319 U.S. 463, 468-469, 63 S.Ct. 1241, 1245-1246, 87 L.Ed. 1519 (1943); Leary v. United States, 395 U.S. 6, 29-53, 89 S.Ct. 1532, 1544-1557, 23 L.Ed.2d. 57 (1969). Cf. Turner v. United States, 396 U.S. 398, 418-419, 90 S.Ct. 642, 653-654, 24 L.Ed.2d. 610 (1970).
41 [Vlandis v. Kline, 412 U.S. 441 (1973)]

42 1.4. Any attempt to convert a presumption into evidence in the case of those protected by the Constitution and 43 therefore possessed of constitutional rights is a violation of due process of law that renders a void judgment.

44 (1) [8:4993] Conclusive presumptions affecting protected interests:

45 A conclusive presumption may be defeated where its application would impair a party’s constitutionally-
46 protected liberty or property interests. In such cases, conclusive presumptions have been held to violate a
47 party’s due process and equal protection rights. Vlandis v. Kline (1973) [412 U.S. 441, 449, 93 S.Ct. 2230,
48 2235; Cleveland Bd. of Ed. v. LaFleur (1974) 414 US 632, 639-640, 94 S.Ct. 1208, 1215-presumption under 49 Illinois law that unmarried fathers are unfit violates process]
50 [Rutter Group Practice Guide-Federal Civil Trials and Evidence, paragraph 8:4993, page 8K-34]

51 The above is exhaustively explained in the following, which should have ended up in his administrative record every 52 chance he had. The document below, by the way, is a mandatory basis for belief of all those who are Members of this

1 fellowship precisely because of what happens to people like Ambort who don't rely on it:

2 Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007

3 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

4 2. He filed IRS Form 1040X for past years for clients who previously filed IRS Form 1040.

5 2.1. This is the WRONG form for a nonresident alien. The 1040X does not allow the filer to change status from 6 resident in a previous filing to nonresident in the current filing. The only way one can change status from a
7 resident alien to a nonresident alien for a prior year is to file 1040NR and NOT 1040X. All his clients had 8 previously and erroneously filed "RESIDENT" 1040 tax returns.

9 2.2. He should have used a nontaxpayer form, such as the following form on our website, so that he wasn't presumed 10 to be a "taxpayer":

11 Federal Nonresident Nonstatutory Claim for Return of Funds Unlawfully Paid to the Government-Long, Form
12 #15.001

13 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

14 3. The Fourteenth Amendment, Section 1 DOES describe the citizenship of those born in states of the Union and outside
15 of federal territory. The U.S. Supreme Court affirmed this conclusion at least twice that we know of, and they did so
16 AFTER the Fourteenth Amendment was ratified:

17 *"It is impossible to construe the words 'subject to the jurisdiction thereof,' in the opening sentence, as less
18 comprehensive than the words 'within its jurisdiction,' in the concluding sentence of the same section; or to
19 hold that persons 'within the jurisdiction' of one of the states of the Union are not 'subject to the jurisdiction
20 of the United States'[.]"*

21 U.S. v. Wong Kim Ark, [169 U.S. 649, 18 S.Ct. 456; 42 L.Ed. 890 (1898), emphasis added]

22 *"The 1st section of the 14th article [Fourteenth Amendment], to which our attention is more specifically invited,
23 opens with a definition of citizenship—not only citizenship of the United States[], but citizenship of the 24 states. No such definition was previously found in the Constitution, nor had any attempt been made to define
25 it by act of Congress. It had been the occasion of much discussion in the courts, by the executive departments
26 and in the public journals. It had been said by eminent judges that no man was a citizen of the United 27 States[] except as he was a citizen of one of the states composing the Union. Those therefore, who had 28 been born and resided always in the District of Columbia or in the territories, though within the United 29 States[], were not citizens. Whether this proposition was sound or not had never been judicially decided."

30 [Slaughter-House Cases, 83 U.S. (16 Wall.) 36, 21 L.Ed. 394 (1873)]

31 4. Ambort filed IRS Form 1040NR for his clients without modifications or attachments that would have confined its 32 significance or defined any of the words on the form. This left him and his clients a sitting duck to become a victim
33 and a slave of the rampant presumptions of both the IRS and the Court. See:

34 Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017

35 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

36 As you probably know, all IRS forms are for "taxpayers" and if you are a "nontaxpayer" you only have three choices in 37 order to preserve your status:

38 4.1. Use AMENDED IRS forms that remove the presumption of "taxpayer" status. See the following for a source of 39 AMENDED IRS forms.:

40 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRS/IRSFormsPubs.htm>

41 4.2. Use STANDARD IRS forms and then modify them to correctly reflect your status. The modifications required
42 are listed in Section 1 of the link above. Sometimes, the IRS tries to penalize people who "alter" their forms.

43 4.3. Use STANDARD IRS forms that you don't modify but above your signature write "Not valid without signed Tax
44 Form Attachment attached" and then attach this form. This approach avoids any penalties the IRS might attempt 45 to impose for "altering" their forms, and yet avoids you having to commit perjury under penalty of perjury on a 46 government form. The form to attach is the following:

47 Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201

48 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

49 5. Ambort didn't understand the distinctions between a franchisee called a "taxpayer" and those who are not "taxpayers"
50 as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(14).

51 5.1. He cited provisions of the "taxpayer" franchise agreement as his basis for his standing in court and thereby
52 admitted he was a "taxpayer".

53 *"Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers [officers, employees, and elected officials of the Federal Government] and
54 not to non-taxpayers [American Citizens/American Nationals not subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the*

1 Federal Government]. The latter are without their scope. No procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and
2 no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies in due course of law. With them[non-taxpayers]
3 Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of federal revenue laws."
4 [Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F.2d. 585 (1972)]

5 5.2. He asked for an injunction and a declaratory judgment as a "taxpayer" even though the Anti-Injunction Act, 26
6 U.S.C. §7421, and the Declaratory Judgments Act, 28 U.S.C. §2201(a) specifically forbid "taxpayers" from 7 asking for such things. This is pure ignorance, as is demonstrated in the following:

Flawed Tax Arguments to Avoid, Form #08.004, Sections 6.10 and 6.11

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

8 5.3. He acted like a "taxpayer" and filed "taxpayer" forms instead of modified or custom forms.
9 5.4. He never stated that he was NOT a "taxpayer" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(14).
10 5.5. He should have invoked the common law instead of statutory law. Statutory law only applies to government
11 officers and employees in nearly all cases. See:

Why Statutory Civil Law is Law for Government and Not Private Persons, Form #05.037

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

12 6. Ambort never challenged the false information returns that gave rise to the need to file Form 1040NR returns to begin
13 with. Without challenging the filing of these false information returns and the criminal activity they represent he and 14 his clients:
15 6.1. Are presumed to be "taxpayers" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(14) by the court.
16 6.2. Are presumed to be engaged in the "trade or business" and a "public office" franchise within the U.S.
17 government.
18 6.3. Are acting in a representative capacity on behalf the U.S. government as "public officers". In that capacity, they 19 are "officers of a corporation", which corporation is the "United States" as defined in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A).
20 The "office" they occupy is a "citizen" or a "resident" within the meaning of federal law, no matter what their 21 personal status is.
22 6.4. Are subject to the laws of the District of Columbia and therefore "residents" of the "United States" while acting 23 as said "public officers" under:
24 6.4.1. Fed.R.Civ.P. 17(b).
25 6.4.2. 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(39).
26 6.4.3. 26 U.S.C. §7408(d).

27 The court deliberately didn't disclose the basis for its conclusion that Ambort's clients were "residents", but they certainly 28 and properly took all the above into account and, we believe, reached a just conclusion that Ambort's clients were in fact
29 "residents" rather than "nonresident aliens" for all the reasons we indicated earlier in section 18.7, including the following 30 reason:

31 <26 CFR §301.7701-5 Domestic, foreign, resident, and nonresident persons.>

32 A domestic corporation is one organized or created in the United States, including only the States (and during 33 the periods when not States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii), and the District of Columbia, or under the
34 law of the United States or of any State or Territory. A foreign corporation is one which is not domestic. A
35 domestic corporation is a resident corporation even though it does no business and owns no property in the
36 United States. A foreign corporation engaged in trade or business within the United States is referred to in
37 the regulations in this chapter as a resident foreign corporation, and a foreign corporation not engaged in
38 trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident foreign corporation. A partnership engaged in
39 trade or business within the United States is referred to in the regulations in this chapter as a resident
40 partnership, and a partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States, as a nonresident
41 partnership. Whether a partnership is to be regarded as resident or nonresident is not determined by the
42 nationality or residence of its members or by the place in which it was created or organized.

45 Below is what the Ambort appeals court held, and they were correct in concluding that Ambort's clients were "residents" if 46 he never rebutted the presumption that they were engaged in the "trade or business" franchise consistent with the above:

47 "Ambort conducted tax seminars throughout the United States instructing attendees that, although they were 48 United States residents, they could legally claim to be "nonresident aliens" exempt from most federal income
49 taxes. He assisted attendees in their filing of amended return forms claiming a refund for past years' taxes.

1 The court also concluded that Ambort was a “U.S. citizen”, but very deliberately refused:

2 1. To distinguish between constitutional and statutory “citizens”.

3 2. To identify which of the three different “United States” they meant in the phrase “United States residents”. They could

4 only have meant those domiciled on federal territory that is no part of any state of the Union and who are therefore

5 statutory “U.S. persons” pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30).

6 We know that the type of “U.S. citizen” they were prejudicially presuming was a statutory “U.S. citizen” pursuant to 8
7 U.S.C. §1401 and not a constitutional “citizen of the United States”, and since Ambort was ignorant, he never forced
8 them to admit this presumption and therefore acquit him. You’re dead meat if you don’t challenge and prevent rampant and 9 self-serving prejudicial presumptions by the government, because that is the main tool they use to unlawfully usurp
10 jurisdiction they in fact do not have, and Ambort apparently didn’t understand this. See:

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

11 What the court didn’t say on this subject is the key to avoiding the pitfalls he fell into:

12 Moreover, a taxpayer who “refuses to utilize the mechanisms provided by Congress to present his claims of 13 invalidity to the courts and to abide by their decisions” risks criminal prosecution. Cheek, 498 U.S. at 206,
14 111 S.Ct. 604 (emphasis added). The federal courts have long rejected Ambort’s rationale for lack of tax
15 liability. See United States v. Hanson, 2 F.3d. 942, 945 (9th Cir.1993) (rejecting appellant’s contention that “as 16 a natural born citizen of Montana he is a nonresident alien” and thus not subject to federal tax laws); United
17 States v. Cheek, 882 F.2d. 1263, 1269, n. 2 (7th Cir.1989), vacated on other grounds, 498 U.S. 192, 111 S.Ct.
18 604, 112 L.Ed.2d. 617 (1991) (rejecting claim that defendant was not subject to taxation because he was a 19 white male Christian, and not a “fourteenth amendment citizen”); United States v. Studley, 783 F.2d. 934, 20 937 & n. 3 (9th Cir.1986) (rejecting argument that an “absolute, freeborn, and natural individual” need not 21 pay federal taxes and *1141 noting that “this argument has been [so] consistently and thoroughly rejected by 22 every branch of the government for decades ... [that] advancement of such utterly meritless arguments is now
23 the basis for serious sanctions imposed on civil litigants who raise them”). Indeed, this court has upheld a
24 Fed.R.Civ.P. 12(b)(6) dismissal of Mr. Ambort’s refund claim for failure to state a claim upon which relief may 25 be granted. Benson v. United States, Nos. 94-4182, 95-4061, 1995 WL 674615, at 2 - 3 (10th Cir. Nov. 13, 26 1995). In that case, we specifically stated that “Mr. Ambort, a United States citizen born in California and 27 living in the United States, is subject to the tax laws” and that his assertion of status as a nonresident alien was 28 frivolous. Id. at *3.

30 Ambort could have forced the court to omit all the misleading rhetoric it engaged in above and focus on the core issues if he
31 had employed the following tools attached to his pleadings and/or his filings with the IRS:

1 27.5.9 Treasury Decisions 2313 in 1916 Shows Nonresident Aliens being “Taxpayers”

2 QUESTION:

3 Treasury Decision 2313 issued in 1916 shows “Nonresident Aliens” being “taxpayers”. You can’t possibly be correct in 4 your conclusions that they are have no tax liability.

5 ANSWER:

6 You can read Treasury Decision 2313 in the article below, put into context:

<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/CourtCases/BrushaberVUnionPacRR240US1.htm>

7 You are confusing "nonresidents" and "nonresident aliens" on the one hand with "nonresident alien INDIVIDUALS" on the 8 other hand. These distinctions were not made back when TD 2313 was issued because the I.R.C. wasn't even enacted at that
9 time and didn't come on the scene until 1939. To find out what they meant in TD 2313, you would have to go back to the 10 Revenue Act of 1915 and see how they defined it. Chances are, they meant an alien and "non-citizen nationals" are not
11 "aliens" but "nonresident aliens". If you want to research this, the following may be helpful:

<http://famguardian.org/PublishedAuthors/Govt/HistoricalActs/HistFedIncTaxActs.htm>

12 The essence of what it means to be a “nonresident” or a “nonresident alien” is that you are neither a “citizen” nor a
13 “resident” (alien), per 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B). One can be a “nonresident” or a “nonresident alien” without being an
14 “individual” or a “nonresident alien INDIVIDUAL”: All individuals are aliens and those born within a state of the Union
15 are not “aliens”, and therefore neither “individuals”, “residents” nor “nonresident alien individuals”. This is covered in 16 sections 5, and 18.7 of this document

17 All the duties, such as the duty to file and to use identifying numbers, pertain to “nonresident alien INDIVIDUALS”. For 18 instance, 26 CFR §1.6012-1(b) imposes a duty to file a tax return upon “nonresident alien INDIVIDUALS” but none upon
19 those who are not “individuals” (resident aliens). Nowhere is a duty imposed upon those who are “nonresidents”,
20 “nonresident aliens”, or “non-citizen nationals” so they are excluded by implication from such duties.

21 *“Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
22 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
23 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or
24 things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
25 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
26 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”*
27 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

28 For further details, see:

Legal Requirement to File Federal Income Tax Returns, Form #05.009, Section 8

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

29 Being an “individual” simply means that you are nonresident but:

- 30 1. Have consensually waived sovereign immunity pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2) and decided to engage in commerce
31 within the legislative jurisdiction of the “United States” corporation in order to procure the benefits of the socialism
32 franchise, such as free cheese, socialist security benefits, unemployment, etc. Describing yourself as a “nonresident” or 33 a “nonresident national” who is NOT an “individual” and refusing to use a number avoids a waiver of sovereign 34 immunity.
- 35 2. Have decided to surrender the benefits of being a sovereign “Citizen” under the Constitution in exchange for the 36 disabilities of being a privileged alien so that you could engage in federal franchises.
- 37 3. You had to commit perjury to do the above, because you aren’t an alien and there is no statute that allows you to 38 describe yourself as either an “alien” or “individual” if you were born anywhere in the country. Neither could the 39 government even lawfully write such a statute that applied within a state of the Union because the purpose of law is

1 protection and they can't write a law that allows you to waive that protection under the Constitution. This would be a
2 violation of the whole reason for having a government or a Constitution to begin with.

3 The W-8BEN form is only a "Taxpayer" form if you put a number on it and check one of the options in block 3. 26 CFR
4 §301.6109-1(b) says identifying numbers are only required in the case of "nonresident alien individuals" and you are not an
5 "individual" if you are a non-citizen national. Even for "nonresident alien individuals", they only need a number if they are
6 selling real estate in the federal zone or are engaged in a "trade or business", neither of which you are if you are a non-
7 citizen national who does not serve in public office within the U.S. government. This is covered in:

About SSNs and TINs on Government Forms and Correspondence, Form #04.104
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

8 The W-8BEN form doesn't have an option in block 3 for those who are not "individuals". 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3) says
9 that all "individuals" are aliens. If one is a non-citizen national, then they are not an "alien" or an "individual", and 10 therefore not a "nonresident alien individual". As long as one doesn't check the "individual" block in box 3 and instead
11 adds an additional option such as "transient foreigner", or simply "human being" and doesn't use a number as the following
12 document suggests, then they continue to be a "nontaxpayers" who are not "individuals":

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 Another alternative is to use the amended form in the above article or to use the substitute form, which is the following, and 14 which indicates that it is a substitute for the W-8BEN:

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

15 As far as rebutted arguments against the NRA position, See sections 20 through 20.6 of this document. All of your 16 questions are anticipated and addressed in this document. Please read it. Then read the Form 02.001 above. After you
17 finish looking at these, you will better understand our answers.

18 Remember: The only thing the feds have jurisdiction over within a state are their own territory and franchises, which are 19 property coming under Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2 of the Constitution. Being a privileged alien or "resident alien" is a
20 franchise that they have exclusive jurisdiction over, even in a state. That is why all "taxpayers" must be "individuals" and
21 privileged aliens within states of the Union: Because the only thing the constitution grants them jurisdiction over within a
22 state is foreign affairs, including jurisdiction over aliens. This is covered in section 27.1.2 of this form.

27.6 Summary of methods for avoiding the pitfalls of objections to the NRA Position

24 The important lessons learned from the previous discussion and rebuttal of objections to the Nonresident Alien Position
25 include the following:

26 1. It is naïve and injurious to presume that you can change your status without changing every aspect of your behavior to 27 be consistent with that change. Those who intend to BE "nonresidents" must ACT like "nonresidents" in every 28 conceivable way:

29 1.1. They must correct citizenship records about themselves.

Legal Notice of Change in Domicile/Citizenship Records and Divorce from the United States, Form #10.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

30 1.2. They must obtain a passport as a non-citizen national using the following:

USA Passport Application Attachment, Form #06.007
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

31 1.3. They must quit Social Security. Only "residents" are eligible for Social Security and can use an SSN or the 32 corresponding TIN. See:

Resignation of Compelled Social Security Trustee, Form #06.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

33 1.4. They must close their financial accounts and reopen them as nonresident aliens:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

1 15. They must update the withholding paperwork with all their business associates:

Federal and State Tax Withholding Options for Private Employers, Form #09.001

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

2 All of the above steps are summarized in the following document on the opening page of our website, which all those 3 who use our materials MUST abide by:

Path to Freedom, Form #09.015

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

4 2. On every occasion where they correspond with the government, they should present as much of the above exculpatory
5 evidence as they can so that it will end up in their administrative record and can be used in their defense. Our favorite
6 approach is to scan in our administrative record and attach the entire record as a CD to every correspondence, thus 7 making it instantly admissible as evidence in any tax proceeding.

8 3. If you don't rebut the false information returns connecting you to a "trade or business", the courts are going to presume
9 you made an election under 26 CFR §301.7701-5 (older version) above and under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities
10 Act, 28 U.S.C. §1605 to be treated as a "resident" alien. You will contradict yourself if you claim to be a "nonresident 11 alien" without also contesting the false information returns.

12 4. Don't ever claim to be a "taxpayer" or act like a "taxpayer":

13 4.1. When people accuse you of being a "taxpayer", argue with them.

14 4.2. Don't invoke the terms of a franchise agreement, Internal Revenue Code Subtitles A and C, that only pertains to 15 "taxpayers" in your own defense.

16 4.3. Don't use "taxpayer" only forms without at least attaching something that makes it into a "nontaxpayer" form
17 such as the following:

Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

18 5. If you are compelled, under threat of criminal prosecution, to file a tax return, you cannot use a standard IRS form 19 without at least attaching something to clarify what you are doing such as the following:

Federal Nonresident Nonstatutory Claim for Return of Funds Unlawfully Paid to the Government-Long, Form
#15.001

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

20 6. Use the techniques found in the following to combat judicial and government verbicide aimed at destroying the 21 separation of powers by confusing your citizenship status and kidnapping your identity to move it onto federal 22 territory:

Flawed Tax Arguments to Avoid, Form #08.004, Sections 5.1 and 8

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

23 7. Don't ever claim to be anything that can't be found in statutes and therefore can't be proven with evidence, including:

24 7.1. "White male Christian"

25 7.2. "Not a Fourteenth Amendment citizen"

26 7.3. "Absolute, freeborn, and natural individual".

27 Instead, stick with the statutory references and definitions found in Title 8 itself, and refer to yourself with the only
28 status found in Title 8 that is in fact and indeed consistent with the circumstances of someone born within and 29 domiciled within a state of the Union on other than federal territory: "non-citizen national" pursuant to 8 U.S.C.
30 §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452. Then, challenge them to produce a definition of "United States" anywhere in Title 8
31 that includes the exclusive jurisdiction of a state of the Union. Without such an express definition, states of the Union
32 are presumed to be purposefully excluded by implication:

33 "When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that
34 term's ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) ("It is axiomatic that the statutory
35 definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term"); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n.
36 10 ("As a rule, `a definition which declares what a term "means" . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated'");
37 Western Union Telegraph Co. v. Lenroot, 323 U.S. 490, 502 (1945); Fox v. Standard Oil Co. of N.J., 294 U.S.
38 87, 95-96 (1935) (Cardozo, J.); see also 2A N. Singer, Sutherland on Statutes and Statutory Construction §
39 47.07, p. 152, and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at
40 998 [530 U.S. 943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include
41 the Attorney General's restriction -- "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the 42 contrary."
43 [Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000)]

44 "It is axiomatic that the statutory definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term. Colautti v.

1 Franklin, 439 U.S. 379, 392, and n. 10 (1979). Congress' use of the term "propaganda" in this statute, as indeed
2 in other legislation, has no pejorative connotation. As judges, it is our duty to [481 U.S. 485] construe
3 legislation as it is written, not as it might be read by a layman, or as it might be understood by someone who 4 has not even read it."
5 [Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484 (1987)]

6 "As a rule, a definition which declares what a term "means" . . . excludes any meaning that is not stated"
7 [Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. 379 (1979), n. 10]

8 8. Do everything you can to prevent being victimized by presumptions of both the IRS, the DOJ, and the Courts by 9 attaching the following to all your pleadings:
10 8.1. Federal Pleading/Motion/Petition Attachment, Litigation Tool #01.002
11 <http://sedm.org/Litigation/LitIndex.htm>
12 8.2. Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status Options, Form #10.003

14 8.3. Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
15 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
16 9. On every correspondence and every occasion you have to communicate with the government, rebut the presumption
17 that you are not engaged in a "trade or business" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26):
18 9.1. Regularly rebut all false information returns using the following:
19 Correcting Erroneous Information Returns, Form #04.001
20 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
21 9.2. Submit the proper withholding paperwork that correctly represents your status as a nonresident who is not 22 engaged in a "trade or business". See item 4.3 above and the following:
23 Federal and State Tax Withholding Options for Private Employers, Form #09.001
24 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

28 Other proponents of the Nonresident Alien Position

22 Our advocacy of the Nonresident Alien Position (NAP) is not unique. Other people over the years have also advanced this 23 position, although:

24 1. They didn't use the name that we use to describe the position.
25 2. They didn't cover the subject nearly as thoroughly as we have.

26 In this section, we will provide a brief synopsis of each advocate we are aware of.

27 In covering these personalities, we wish to emphasize that we do not intend to attack or condemn or blame any of them for
28 the mistakes they made in efforts to reform the system. There is much to learn and many opportunities for mistakes along
29 the way. People like these who are on the cutting edge tend to suffer wounds more easily than others because of those 30 mistakes. Thomas Edison, for instance, failed his way to success while inventing the light bulb. He tried thousands of 31 different materials for the filament that didn't work before he found just the right carbon filament that did work.

32 We repeat this information here so that you can stand on the shoulders of these brave individuals and learn from their 33 mistakes so that you don't repeat them or suffer similar consequences.

28.1 Lynn Meredith

35 The most famous advocate of the Nonresident Alien Position over the years was Lynn Meredith. She wrote two short but 36 popular books describing the position:

37 1. Vultures in Eagles Clothing.
38 2. How to Cook a Vulture.

39 She wasn't directly attacked for her stance on the NAP, but she became the target of "selective enforcement" by the IRS in 40 order to cover up her research by ensuring she couldn't disseminate it from jail. Eventually, they found something to hang 41 her on in 2002. Her business was raided in 2002 and eventually, all her employees were indicted for failure to file. They

1 used the failure to file indictments as leverage to get the employees to testify against her.

2 Eventually, after much digging, they convicted her for fraud on a passport application because the Social Security Number
3 she put on the DS-11 passport application form was one digit off. That landed her 10 years in jail. Her story was the
4 subject of a 20/20 television investigation, which aired during her criminal prosecution. Joe Izen of Texas was the attorney
5 who represented her at the trial in Long Beach, California. According to her attorney, they loaded the jury with a bunch of
6 social security recipients with a criminal conflict of interest who didn't want their benefits reduced or the cost of their
7 "benefits" increased. They had a criminal conflict of interest and should have been recused, but of course de facto
8 corporate government terrorists apparently will do anything to keep the plunder flowing to pay for their retirement, now 9 don't they?

10 Meredith's books are out of print and her website was shut down after she was convicted. You can find some of her
11 research in our Member Subscription Library area. Her website had the same name as the of Bob Schulz "We the People",
12 and government terrorists over at Quatloos.com (<http://quatloos.com>) just love to confuse her "We the People" and its press
13 with Bob Schulz in order to scare people away from Bob.

14 28.2 Mitch Modeleski: SupremeLaw website

15 Mitch Modeleski, AKA "Paul Andrew Mitchell", is the second most famous advocate of the Nonresident Alien Position.
16 His research is still available on the web at the following address and has been around at least since 2000:

Supreme Law Firm
<http://supremelaw.org>

17 Most of Mitch's research is compiled into his Federal Zone book available for free on the above website. His research is 18 lucid and organized, but very incomplete compared to ours. He seldom updates or improves his research. We focus more
19 on application while he focuses on research and theory and leaves the application to the reader. This can be dangerous
20 because there are some very important holes in his approach and understanding. The focus of this document, in fact, is to 21 fill most of those many holes.

22 Mitch doesn't sell anything but does provide assistance of counsel for a fee. He lives in California and has had mailing
23 addresses in San Francisco as well as San Diego. His forte is litigation. You never hear anything about the results of using 24 his approach to taxation in either his own case or in the case of those who use his website and he doesn't publish success
25 stories on his website.

26 28.3 Paul Leinthall

27 Paul Leinthall was another advocate of the Nonresident Alien Position. He represented a man named Scott Roberts, who 28 lived in Kodiak, Alaska for a while. Scott started off in Florida and then moved to Alaska. The identity of that "expert"
29 was a very carefully guarded secret. He published a long series of fascinating newsletters on the Nonresident Alien
30 Position via email. Eventually, Paul died in 2002 and his son took over the business for a short time. Subsequently, Scott
31 Roberts was apprehended and extradited to Tampa Florida, where he stood trial in 2003 and eventually was convicted, but 32 we haven't been able to determine all the particulars. You can read Paul's newsletters at the following address on the web:

Paul Leinthall
<http://famguardian.org/PublishedAuthors/Indiv/LeinthallPaul/PaulLeinthall.htm>

33 Scott Roberts offered an expensive service that was approximately $2,500 per year per person whereby he annually filed
34 "Tax Statements" with the IRS for his clients using IRS Form 2848. Scott claimed that these statements satisfied the 35 requirement to file pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6011(a) and that they could get all their money back. The DOJ disagreed with 36 him and indicted him for defrauding the government.

37 The major flaw of Scott Roberts was that he did nothing to correct the false presumptions about one's status that
38 accumulate over the years because of all the government forms we commonly fill out. We take the opposite approach, by 39 requiring that those who use our materials MUST take the time to correct their status and develop evidence proving their 40 status before they even think about taking on the system.

28.4 Charles V. Darnell and Gerald Alan Brown

Charles V. Darnell and Gerald Alan Brown are PhD educators who wrote the following scholarly documents on our website:

1. Fundamental Nature of the Federal Income Tax, Form #05.035
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
2. Legal Basis for the Term “Nonresident Alien”, Form #05.036
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

In addition, they wrote an absolutely EXCELLENT compendium of points and authorities on sovereignty that you can request by mail from him. We have purchased this book and find it to be one of the most valuable resources in our library:

In Their Own Words, Third Edition, Distress Publishing, Charles V. Darnell and Gerald Alan Brown, 1997.

They also litigated the Nonresident Alien Position in the U.S. Court of Claims. Their ideas are not as refined as those here, but what research they have done is excellent and deserves much more broad exposure and dissemination.

29 The secret to remaining free, sovereign, and foreign in respect to a corrupted government

29.1 Introduction

The most important thing to remember as you read this document are the causes of all the problems and corruption in the government that this document is designed to rectify and combat, which are listed below in descending order of importance:

1. Participating in government franchises, all of which completely destroy your sovereignty and make you an indentured servant of the national government, who then becomes your parens patriae. This includes Social Security, Medicare, and the I.R.C. Subtitle A income tax. All franchises are essentially contracts between the grantor and the grantee that are the only lawful mechanism that the government can use to impose duties upon the average American. An example of a franchise is a McDonald's franchise, in which you sign up to open a store and use the McDonald's logo, and in return, you are obligated to buy from them, be supervised by them, and send a percentage of the profits to the franchise administrator. See:

Government Instituted Slavery Using Franchises, Form #05.030
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

2. Refusing to read and learn and enforce the law. Law is the main vehicle used in a free society to deceive and enslave the people. You must learn the law and the various ways that it is abused to injure you if you want to be free, and your servants in government won't ever empower you with the key to your chains. The origin of all legal jurisdiction is your consent to be governed. If there are things in the civil law that you don't consent to, then you can lawfully remove yourself from the jurisdiction of said civil law by removing your consent and your legal "person" from the civil jurisdiction of the government that passed the law you don't like. Obviously, you can't remove yourself from the jurisdiction of a criminal law, but civil laws you can by changing your status and domicile. Most laws are civil, and therefore you have a lot of influence over how you govern your life.
3. Refusing to take responsibility for ourselves and/or our families and loved ones. All rights come from responsibilities to a higher power, and that power is God. Those who refuse to obey God and His laws ultimately must be governed by and become a slave to a civil ruler because they refuse to govern themselves. Symptoms of this problem include:
 - 3.1. Refusing to help our neighbor or engage in charitable causes.
 - 3.2. Trying to collect more government benefits than we paid for.
 - 3.3. Asking a government for "benefits" or participating in the franchises that implement them.The above actions sanction your government to STEAL from the HAVEs in order to give to the have nots. Governments don't produce anything. All they do is either STEAL money from nontaxpayers by constructive FRAUD or counterfeit it through fiat currency systems. Both forms of revenue generation are evil and make the government into a thief and a Robinhood, which the U.S. Supreme Court has said is unconstitutional:

"A tax, in the general understanding of the term and as used in the constitution, signifies an exaction for the

1 support of the government. The word has never thought to connote the expropriation of money from one group
2 for the benefit of another."
3 [U.S. v. Butler, 297 U.S. 1 (1936)]

5 To lay with one hand the power of the government on the property of the citizen, and with the other to bestow
6 it upon favored individuals to aid private enterprises and build up private fortunes, is nonetheless a robbery
7 because it is done under the forms of law and is called taxation. This is not legislation. It is a decree under 8 legislative forms.

9 Nor is it taxation. A "tax," says Webster's Dictionary, "is a rate or sum of money assessed on the person or 10 property of a citizen by government for the use of the nation or state." "Taxes are burdens or charges imposed 11 by the legislature upon persons or property to raise money for public purposes."
12 [Loan Association v. Topeka, 20 Wall. 655 (1874)]

13 4. People governing their lives or making decisions based on presumptions instead of facts. Most of what you think you 14 know about law and government is really just a belief that cannot be supported by legally admissible evidence, and 15 therefore is little more than a religion. See:

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

16 We remind our readers that the story of Adam and Eve described in the Bible was REALLY a story about disobeying God
17 and His laws and commandments and refusing to take responsibility for that disobedience. God told Adam and Eve in Gen.
18 2:17 not to eat the fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil. The serpent promised Eve TWO things to entice her to 19 eat the fruit, both of which were intended to make her believe that she would not be responsible for her actions:

20 1. The serpent said to Eve that if she ate the fruit, she would NOT die as God had promised. In other words, she would not 21 be responsible for the consequence of her disobedience to God's command. Gen. 3:4.
22 2. The serpent also promised Eve that if she ate the fruit, she would become LIKE God. The essence of what it means to 23 be a god is that you are omnipotent and accountable or responsible to NO ONE. Gen. 3:4.

24 Hence, both things promised by the serpent were designed to make Eve believe that she would be responsible for none of 25 her actions and accountable to NO ONE for any of them. After Eve ate the fruit and God then approached both of them and 26 asked them what they had done, the response of both Adam and Eve was to blame it on someone else, meaning refuse to 27 take responsibility to God for their disobedience.

28 1. Adam blamed his decision on Eve. Gen. 3:12.
29 2. Eve blamed her decision on the serpent, saying that the serpent had deceived her. Gen. 3:13.

30 Hence, when faced with the consequences of their disobedience towards God's laws, both of them attempted to evade
31 responsibility, which simply proves that was their motivation from the beginning for eating the fruit. Government is like
32 the serpent in the story, which is symbolic of Satan himself. It has made a business, or more particularly a very profitable
33 franchise, out of insulating people from the responsibility for all their choices and actions and thereby centralizing all power
34 and sovereignty to itself. It has done this through "social insurance" programs, all of which are implemented as franchises
35 that completely destroy your sovereignty and constitutional rights. This corruption is described in:

The Unlimited Liability Universe
<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Spirituality/Articles/UnlimitedLiabilityUniverse.htm>

36 The vast majority of the rest of the Bible after Gen. 3 documents ALL the consequences of Adam and Eve's disobedience
37 to God's commandments and laws, as well as that of their descendants. The lesson you should learn from this story is that 38 life got REALLY complicated for Adam and Eve and their descendants because they wanted to be disobedient,
39 irresponsible, and rebellious toward God and his laws. This proves that the main purpose God's laws is to simplify your
40 life and avoid all the problems and complications that people invite into their lives by failure to recognize God's commands
41 as law or a failure to obey them to the best of their ability. Such rebellion and disobedience manifests itself in several 42 forms:

43 1. Refusing to acknowledge the authority of the ENTIRE bible of whatever religion you believe in as LAW. This means
44 that if you are a Christian, you must acknowledge both the Old and New Testaments as law.

1 2. Questioning the credibility of any portion of the bible of your respective religion in order to justify violating any part of 2 God's law.
3 3. Claiming that God's grace is a license to sin without consequence, and in willful disobedience of God's law.

4 The success of your efforts to restore your sovereignty and freedom depends entirely on the following factors in descending
5 order of importance:

6 1. Treating the bible of your religion as a law book and a covenant in which you are not entitled to the rewards without 7 fruit or actions of obedience towards the law book.
8 2. Learning, reading, knowing, and obeying God's laws to the best of your ability. This will allow you to govern your 9 own life and family without any external interference or need for the government, family courts, civil courts, etc.
10 3. Taking complete, exclusive, and personal responsibility for all of you and your family's actions and choices. This
11 means only requesting help from others as your very last resort after you have made every possible effort to correct the 12 problem yourself and executed your due diligence by studying the law and finding out for yourself what your options 13 are.
14 4. Not allowing yourself to be in position of ever having to depend on others, and especially in emergencies. When you
15 want it REALLY bad, you will get it REALLY bad. Bend over.
16 5. Planning and executing every facet of your life and your choices consistent with the above priorities.
17 6. The above forms of corruption in the case of Christianity are extensively documented in:

Corruption Within Modern Christianity, Form #08.012

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

18 Benjamin Franklin, one of the Founding Fathers, was quoted as saying as he left the Constitutional convention when 19 questioned about what kind of government they had created, the following:

20 "A republic, Maam. If you can keep it."

21 The measure of whether you can "keep it", meaning the Republic indicated by Franklin, is the degree to which you take
22 complete and exclusive responsibility for yourself. The minute you refuse this calling, is the minute you will not only
23 become a slave to your own sin, but to sinful rulers who will try to profit from your sing by offering you franchises
24 designed to exchange your rights for a bowl of pottage. See:

Overview of America, Form #12.011, Liberty University Section 2.3

<http://sedm.org/LibertyU/LibertyU.htm>

25 President Theodore Roosevelt agreed with these conclusions when he summed up the essence of what it means to be 26 "sovereign":

27 *"We of this mighty western Republic have to grapple with the dangers that spring from popular self-government
28 tried on a scale incomparably vaster than ever before in the history of mankind, and from an abounding
29 material prosperity greater also than anything which the world has hitherto seen."*

30 *As regards the first set of dangers, it behooves us to remember that men can never escape being governed.
31 Either they must govern themselves or they must submit to being governed by others. If from lawlessness or
32 fickleness, from folly or self-indulgence, they refuse to govern themselves then most assuredly in the end they
33 will have to be governed from the outside. They can prevent the need of government from without only by
34 showing they possess the power of government from within. A sovereign cannot make excuses for his failures; a
35 sovereign must accept the responsibility for the exercise of power that inheres in him; and where, as is true in
36 our Republic, the people are sovereign, then the people must show a sober understanding and a sane and
37 steadfast purpose if they are to preserve that orderly liberty upon which as a foundation every republic must 38 rest."*

39 [President Theodore Roosevelt; Opening of the Jamestown Exposition; Norfolk, VA, April 26, 1907]

40 The quickest and easiest way for you to:

41 1. Destroy your own credibility.
42 2. Indicate to us that you:
43 2.1. Really DON'T want to be free.
44 2.2. Don't understand what freedom is about.

1 2.3. Don't want or deserve our help.

2 Is for you to:

3 1. Refuse to take responsibility for the above or demonstrate your commitment and diligence in taking responsibility at 4 every step of your life.
5 2. Expect someone else to do your homework or hard work needed to restore your sovereignty in order to avoid pain or 6 discomfort.
7 3. Expect that simply paying money to us to execute the sovereignty process or answer an immediate question or 8 emergency will be a magic bullet that will keep them from pain or effort or prevent the need for commitment on their
9 part. No amount of money paid to others will solve the main problem, which is your own ignorance of the law,
10 laziness, and irresponsibility.

11 Your deceitful government knows all of the above. They know that those who refuse to pay their "taxes" want to evade
12 responsibility for paying for the so-called "benefits" they consume by living in this country. In fact, their knowledge of this 13 section is the main weapon they use to prosecute tax crimes in court. When they want to convict you of a tax crime, they
14 will assemble a grand jury and petit jury full of tax consumers, government dependents, and government public officers
15 called statutory "U.S. citizens", tell them that you are a "leech" who won't pay his "fair share" and that your omission is 16 increasing THEIR tax bill, and then watch them hang you. In proving that you are a leech, they will show the "benefits"
17 you collected and then accuse you of stealing because you refuse to reimburse them for the cost of providing the benefit.
18 That will get the jury mad and make them want to hang you. Below is the language that the Supreme Court used to 19 described their "benefit" franchise, in fact. Note that your corrupt government describes their mere EXISTENCE as a
20 benefit and refuses to recognize your right NOT to procure their protection or services:

21 *"The contention was rejected that a citizen's property without the limits of the United States derives no
22 benefit from the United States. The contention, it was said, came from the confusion of thought in 'mistaking
23 the scope and extent of the sovereign power of the United States as a nation and its relations to its citizens and
24 their relation to it.' And that power in its scope and extent, it was decided, is based on the presumption
25 that government by its very nature benefits the citizen and his property wherever found, and that
26 opposition to it holds on to citizenship while it 'belittles and destroys its advantages and blessings by denying 27 the possession by government of an essential power required to make citizenship completely beneficial.' In other
28 words, the principle was declared that the government, by its very nature, benefits the citizen and his property
29 wherever found, and therefore has the power to make the benefit complete. Or, to express it another way, the 30 basis of the power to tax was not and cannot be made dependent upon the situs of the property in all cases, it
31 being in or out of the United States, nor was not and cannot be made dependent upon the domicile of the 32 citizen, that being in or out of the United States, but upon his relation as citizen to the United States and the 33 relation of the latter to him as citizen. The consequence of the relations is that the native citizen who is taxed 34 may have domicile, and the property from which his income is derived may have situs, in a foreign country and 35 the tax be legal—the government having power to impose the tax."*
36 [Cook v. Tait, 265 U.S. 47 (1924)]

37 The "benefit" being taxed above is, in fact, the "privilege" of calling yourself a statutory "U.S. citizen", which is entirely
38 voluntary. Those who choose not to avail themselves of this privilege must instead declare themselves to be non-citizen
39 nationals under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452 and "nonresident aliens" instead of statutory "U.S. citizens".

42 29.2 Summary of Steps

43 The most important principles we want to emphasize throughout this document in order for you to protect and defend your 44 status as free, Sovereign, and "foreign" but not "alien" in respect to a government that is obviously totally corrupted are 45 that:

1 1. You must study and learn the law if you want to be free.

2 “One who turns his ear from hearing the law [God's law or man's law], even his prayer is an abomination.”
3 [Prov. 28:9, Bible, NKJV]

4 “This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate in it day and night, that you
5 may observe to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then
6 you will have good success. Have I not commanded you? Be strong and of good courage; do not be afraid, nor
7 be dismayed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go.”
8 [Joshua 1:8-9, Bible, NKJV,
9 IMPLICATION: If you aren't reading and trying to obey God's law daily, then you're not doing God's will and you will
10 not prosper]

11 “But this crowd that does not know [and quote and follow and use] the law is accursed.”
12 [John 7:49, Bible, NKJV]

13 “Salvation is far from the wicked, For they do not seek Your [God's] statutes.”
14 [Psalm 119:155, Bible, NKJV]

15 “Every man is supposed to know the law. A party who makes a contract or enters into a [franchise, which is
16 also a contract] with an officer [of the government] without having it reduced to writing is knowingly accessory
17 to a violation of duty on his part. Such a party aids in the violation of the law.”
18 [Clark v. United States, 95 U.S. 539 (1877)]

20 2. You must learn how to diligently seek, discern, accept, and act on the Truth:

21 2.1. The truth is the most important thing you can possess.

22 “Buy the truth, and do not sell it, also wisdom and instruction and understanding.”
23 [Prov. 23:23, Bible, NKJV]

24 “Happy is the man who finds wisdom,
25 And the man who gains understanding;
26 For her proceeds are better than the profits of silver,
27 And her gain than fine gold,
28 She is more precious than rubies,
29 And all the things you may desire cannot compare with her.”
30 [Prov. 3:13-15, Bible, NKJV]

31 2.2. The only source of absolute, unchanging Truth is God.

32 Jesus said to him, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me.”
33 [John 14:6, Bible, NKJV]

34 “Sanctify them by Your truth. Your [God's] word is truth.”
35 [John 17:17, Bible, NKJV]

36 “The entirety of Your word is truth, And every one of Your righteous judgments endures forever.”
37 [Psalm 119:160, Bible, NKJV]

38 “Your righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, And Your law is truth.”
39 [Psalm 119:142, Bible, NKJV]

40 2.3. Knowledge and understanding of the Truth BEGINS with loving and knowing God:

41 “The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge,
42 But fools despise wisdom and instruction.”
43 [Prov. 1:7, Bible, NKJV]

44 “*The fear of the LORD is to hate evil: Pride and arrogance and the evil way And the perverse mouth I hate.”
45 [Prov. 8:13, Bible, NKJV]*

46 2.4. The product of seeking the Truth is knowledge and wisdom.

47 “For the LORD gives wisdom; From His mouth come knowledge and understanding;”
48 [Prov. 2:6, Bible, NKJV]

1 “I, wisdom, dwell with prudence, And find out knowledge and discretion.”
2 [Prov. 8:12, Bible, NKJV]
3

4 2.5. The wisdom that results from seeking truth will unavoidably cause much grief and sorrow. This grief and sorrow
5 will result from the realization of how hopelessly corrupt man and every creation of men truly is and why we
6 desperately need God. This explains why all the sin and sorrow in the world began from Adam and Eve eating of 7 the fruit of the tree of knowledge:

8 “*For in much wisdom is much grief,
9 And he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.*”
10 [Eccl. 1:18, Bible, NKJV]

11 2.6. The reason people avoid the truth and are enticed by a lying media and a lying government is because they want
12 to avoid the grief and sorrow that results from knowing the truth. This avoidance of the truth will ultimately lead
13 them to rebel against and offend God and to commit idolatry towards government:

14 “Woe to the rebellious children, says the Lord, “Who take counsel, but not of Me, and who devise plans, but not of My Spirit, that they may add sin to sin; who walk to go down to Egypt, and have not asked My advice, to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh [the “government”], and to trust in the shadow of Egypt for the District of Criminals, Washington, D.C. in this case! Therefore the strength of Pharaoh shall be 15 your shame, and trust in the shadow of Egypt shall be your humiliation...”

16 Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and note it on a scroll, that it may be for time to come, forever and
17 ever: that this is a rebellious people, lying children, children who will not hear the law of the Lord; who say to 18 the seers, “Do not see,” and to the prophets, “Do not prophesy to us right things’ Speak to us smooth
[politically correct] things, prophesy deceits. Get out of the way, turn aside from the path, cause the Holy One
19 of Israel to cease from before us.”

20 Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel:

21 “Because you despise this word [the Truth], and trust in oppression and perversity, and rely on them, therefore this iniquity shall be to you like a breach ready to fall, a bulge in a high wall, whose breaking comes suddenly, in an instant. And He shall break it like the breaking of the potter’s vessel, which is broken in pieces; He shall not spare. So there shall not be found among its fragments a shard to take fire from the hearth, or to take water from the cistern.”

22 [Isaiah 30:1-3, 8-14, Bible, NKJV]

23 2.7. The Truth is codified in God’s Holy Laws:

24

Laws of the Bible, Form #13.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

25 2.8. The Truth can be verified:

26 2.8.1. By the Holy Spirit in the case of spiritual matters.

27 2.8.2. By evidence in the legal field. Anything not based on evidence is a state-sponsored religion and not a 28 REAL law.

29 2.9. The Truth never conflicts with itself. Anyone who contradicts themselves is a liar.

30 “But if one walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light [Truth] is not in him.”
31 [John 11:10, Bible, NKJV]

32 It is, of course, true that statutory construction “is a holistic endeavor” and that the meaning of a provision is 33 “clarified by the remainder of the statutory scheme ... [when] only one of the permissible meanings produces a
34 substantive effect that is compatible with the rest of the law.” United Sav. Assn. of Tex. v. Timbers of Inwood
Forest Associates, Ltd., 484 U.S. 365, 371, 108 S.Ct. 626, 98 L.Ed.2d, 740 (1988).
35 [U.S. v. Cleveland Indians Baseball Co., 532 U.S. 200, 121 S.Ct. 1433 (2001)]

36 2.10. The Truth is best obtained from those who are not trying to sell you anything:

37 “*It is good for nothing,” cries the buyer; But when he has gone his way, then he boasts.
38 [Prov. 20:14, Bible, NKJV]*

39 2.11. If, in seeking the truth, you become confused, it is usually because someone with an agenda is trying to hide or 40 conceal the truth, usually with “words of art” and deception:

41 “For where [government] envy and self-seeking [of money they are not entitled to] exist, confusion [and

1 deception] and every evil thing will be there.”
2 [James 3:16, Bible, NKJV]

3 “Shall the throne of iniquity, which devises evil by law, have fellowship with You? They gather
4 together against the life of the righteous, and condemn innocent blood. But the Lord has been my defense, and
5 my God the rock of my refuge. He has brought on them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own
6 wickedness; the Lord our God shall cut them off.”
7 [Psalm 94:20-23, Bible, NKJV]

8 2.12. If you seek to eliminate confusion, ask of the Lord in all sincerity of heart and in fervent prayer, and it will be 9 revealed to you:

10 “If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach, and it will be given to him.”
11 [James 1:5, Bible, NKJV]

13 “*Trust in the LORD with all your heart,
14 And lean not on your own understanding;
15 In all your ways acknowledge Him,
16 And He shall direct your paths.*”
17 [Prov. 3:5-6, Bible, NKJV]

18 2.13. Those who refuse to learn, accept, and act upon the Truth will first be deceived and ultimately destroyed:

19 “For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only He [God] who now restrains will do so until He is 20 taken out of the way. And then the lawless one [Satan] will be revealed, whom the Lord will consume with the 21 breath of His mouth and destroy with the brightness of His coming. The coming of the lawless one [Satan] is
22 according to the working of Satan, with all power, signs, and lying wonders, and with all unrighteous
23 deception among those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved [don’t be one of them]. And for this reason God will send them strong delusion [from their own
24 government], that they should believe a lie, that they all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but 25 had pleasure in unrighteousness.”
26 [2 Thess. 2:3-17, Bible, NKJV]

28 3. The most important skills you can have in a legal setting and as a citizen is the ability to:
29 3.1. Quickly recognize what constitutes legal evidence of a reasonable belief about something. Anything NOT based 30 on legally admissible evidence, if proffered in the legal field, constitutes a state sponsored religion. See:
31

Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability , Form #05.007 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm
--

32 3.2. Quickly recognize, understand, and challenge the unsubstantiated presumptions of others NOT based on legally admissible evidence. See:
33

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction , Form #05.017 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

34 3.3. Quickly recognize, understand, and challenge contradictions and cognitive dissonance in the logic, statements,
35 and actions of others. Anything that contradicts itself cannot be truthful and therefore should not be trusted.
36 3.4. Control your own emotions and think logically and rationally in all circumstances. Otherwise, your enemies will use your emotions and especially your ego to victimize and control you.
37 3.5. Question authority and especially if that authority asserts rights superior to your own. Our system of law is based 38 on equality of all persons. No public servant can have any more delegated authority than the public at large, and 39 if they do, then you must have consented to it and you should enforce the mandatory requirement that they must 40 PROVE that you consented to it.
41 4. If you find yourself confused about the meaning of a legal term, the following guidelines apply for arbitrating any dispute about the meaning of the term:
42 4.1. You aren't allowed to PRESUME what the word means. All presumption is a violation of due process of law for those protected by the Constitution because physically present within a constitutional and not statutory "State", and also results in the creation of a state-sponsored religion in violation of the First Amendment if the presumption causes a surrender of rights to the government or destroys equal protection. See:
43

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction , Form #05.017 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

44 4.2. The maxim of law applies that if it isn't expressly included and authorized somewhere in the statutes, then it must be presumed to be purposefully unauthorized and excluded.

7 "Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles, 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded." [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

8 4.3. If your interpretation of the statute would result in the commission of a crime or violation of law elsewhere in the 9 code, then you can't possibly be interpreting the meaning correctly.
10 4.4. If you aren't aware of a statute that expressly identifies the meaning of the questionable term, you must give
11 yourself and not the government the benefit of the doubt under the Ninth and Tenth Amendments, which state
12 that all powers not expressly granted to the government are reserved to the states and the people respectively.

13 "In the interpretation of statutes levying taxes it is the established rule not to extend their provisions, by
14 implication, beyond the clear import of the language used, or to enlarge their operations so as to embrace
15 matters not specifically pointed out. In case of doubt they are construed most strongly against the government,
16 and in favor of the citizen."
17 [Gould v. Gould, 245 U.S. 151 (1917)]

18 5. The Thirteenth Amendment outlawed slavery EVERYWHERE, including on federal territory.

19 "That it does not conflict with the Thirteenth Amendment, which abolished slavery and involuntary servitude,
20 except as a punishment for crime, is too clear for argument. Slavery implies involuntary servitude—a state of 21 bondage; the ownership of mankind as a chattel, or at least the control of the labor and services of one man
22 for the benefit of another, and the absence of a legal right to the disposal of his own person, property, and
23 services [in their entirety]. This amendment was said in the Slaughter House Cases, 16 Wall, 36, to have been 24 intended primarily to abolish slavery, as it had been previously known in this country, and that it equally
25 forbade Mexican peonage or the Chinese coolie trade, when they amounted to slavery or involuntary servitude
26 and that the use of the word 'servitude' was intended to prohibit the use of all forms of involuntary slavery, of 27 whatever class or name."

28 [Plessy v. Ferguson, 163 U.S. 537, 542 (1896)]

29 "Other authorities to the same effect might be cited. It is not open to doubt that Congress may enforce the
30 Thirteenth Amendment by direct legislation, punishing the holding of a person in slavery or in involuntary
31 servitude except as a punishment for a crime. In the exercise of that power Congress has enacted these sections
32 denouncing peonage, and punishing one who holds another in that condition of involuntary servitude. This
33 legislation is not limited to the territories or other parts of the strictly national domain, but is operative in the 34 states and wherever the sovereignty of the United States extends. We entertain no doubt of the validity of this
35 legislation, or of its applicability to the case of any person holding another in a state of peonage, and this
36 whether there be municipal ordinance or state law sanctioning such holding. It operates directly on every 37 citizen of the Republic, wherever his residence may be."
38 [Clyatt v. U.S., 197 U.S. 207 (1905)]

39 Consequently, the government is without authority to write law that imposes ANY kind of duty or obligation against 40 you other than simply avoiding injuring the equal rights of others.

41 Love does no harm to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfillment of [the ONLY requirement of] the law
42 [which is to avoid hurting your neighbor and thereby love him].
43 [Romans 13:9-10, Bible, NKJV]

45 "Do not strive with a man without cause, if he has done you no harm."
46 [Prov. 3:30, Bible, NKJV]

48 "With all [our] blessings, what more is necessary to make us a happy and a prosperous people? Still one thing
49 more, fellow citizens—a wise and frugal Government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another,
50 shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take 51 from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned. This is the sum of good government, and this is necessary to 52 close the circle of our felicities."
53 [Thomas Jefferson: 1st Inaugural, 1801. ME 3:320]

54 If someone is trying to abuse the authority of civil law to impose a mandatory duty upon you, then the only kind of law
55 they can be enforcing is private or contract law to which you had to expressly consent at some point. Your reaction
56 should always be to insist that they produce evidence of your consent IN WRITING. This is similar to what the courts

1 do in the case of the government, where they can't be sued or compelled to do anything without you producing an
2 express waiver of sovereign immunity. They got that authority and that sovereignty from you(!), because it was
3 delegated to them by We The People, so you must ALSO have sovereign immunity. Your job as a vigilant American
4 who cares about his freedom and rights is then to discover by what lawful mechanism you waived that sovereign
5 immunity and the following document is very helpful in determining that mechanism:

Requirement for Consent, Form #05.003

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

6. The purpose of all government forms is to create and enforce usually false and prejudicial presumptions about your
7 status that will damage your Constitutional rights and undermine your sovereignty.
 8. 6.1. They use terms that are deliberately not defined either on the form or in the law itself in order to:
 9. 6.1.1. Facilitate and encourage abuse of "words of art".
 10. 6.1.2. Give judges and administrative personnel undue discretion and latitude to exceed their authority and 11 violate the separation of powers doctrine.
 12. 6.1.3. Encourage false presumptions about what they mean.
 13. 6.1.4. Transform a society of law into a society of men and the policies of men.
 14. 6.2. Nothing on government forms or in government publications are trustworthy or reliable.

15 "IRS Publications, issued by the National Office, explain the law in plain language for taxpayers and their
16 advisors... While a good source of general information, publications should not be cited to sustain a position."
17 [Internal Revenue Manual, Section 4.10.7.2.8 \(05-14-1999\)]

- 19 6.3. It is positively FOOLISH to sign a government form under penalty of perjury that even the government agrees is 20 untrustworthy.

- 21 6.4. For further details on the above scam, see:

Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 22 7. You will always lose when you play by their rules, use their biased forms, or declare any statutory status used on their 23 biased forms or in their "void for vagueness" franchise "codes". He who makes either the forms or the rules or 24 officiates either always wins. Instead:
 - 25 7.1. Always add an "Other" box and make sure the form points to an attachment that completely describes your status.
 - 26 7.2. On the attachment, provide court admissible evidence signed under penalty of perjury that defines all words used on the government form in such a way that they are NOT connected with any status found in any state or federal 27 law, thus making you "foreign" in respect to said law.
- 28 8. If you want a form to accurately describe your status as a "nontaxpayer", you will have to make your own or modify
29 what they offer. The only types of forms the government makes are for franchisees called "taxpayers". This is 30 confirmed by the IRS Mission Statement contained in IRM 1.1.1.1, which empowers the IRS to help and "service"
31 only "taxpayers".
 - 32 8.1. For modified versions of IRS forms, see:

Federal Forms and Publications: Family Guardian
<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRS/IRSFormsPubs.htm>

- 35 8.2. For replacement forms for use by persons not engaged in government franchises or who are "nontaxpayers", see:

SEDM Forms/Pubs Page
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 36 9. If you don't want to play by their rules, you cannot EVER describe yourself as ANYTHING they have jurisdiction over or anything mentioned anywhere in their deliberately void for vagueness "codes", such as:
 - 37 9.1. "person" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(1), 26 U.S.C. §6671(b), and 26 U.S.C. §7343.
 - 38 9.2. "individual" as defined in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3).
 - 39 9.3. "taxpayer" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §§7701(a)(14) and 1313.
 - 40 9.4. "U.S. citizen" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §1401 or 26 CFR §1.1-1(c).
 - 41 9.5. "U.S. resident" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A).
 - 42 9.6. "U.S. person" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30).
 - 43 9.7. Engaged in the "trade or business" franchise, which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office".
- 44 10. To avoid being associated with any of the privileged statuses in the previous item, you should consistently do the 45 following:
 - 46 10.1. Avoid filling out government forms.

1 10.2. If compelled to fill out government tax forms, write on the tax form "Not Valid Without the Attached Tax Form
2 Attachment, Form #04.201 and Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001" and attach the 3 following forms to every tax form you are compelled to fill out:
4 10.2.1. Tax Form Attachment, Form #04.201
5 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
6 10.2.2. Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
7 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
8 10.3. Every word on the forms you fill out should be legally defined either on the form itself or in the attachment you
9 provide. Signing a form that uses terms that are not defined is like signing a blank check and putting undue
10 discretion in the hands the bureaucrat or judge who receives or uses the form. The definitions you provide for the 11 terms on the form should specifically state that the term DOES NOT mean what is defined in any federal or state
12 law, and that you are not declaring a status or availing yourself of a benefit of any government franchise, but 13 rather waive your right to ever receive the benefits of any franchise. This practice:
14 10.3.1. Prevents misunderstandings and arguments with the recipient of the form.
15 10.3.2. Prevents litigation caused by the misunderstandings.
16 10.3.3. Prevents you from being the victim of the false presumptions of those reading the form who do not know
17 the law. The Bible makes it a sin to presume and Christians cannot therefore condone or encourage 18 presumptions by others, and especially those that cause a surrender of rights protected by the Constitution.
19 10.3.4. Puts the recipient in the box so that they cannot make any commercial use or abuse out of the form by 20 compelling you to engage in franchises or assume a status that would connect you to franchises.
21 10.4. Whenever you fill out a government form you should remember that the government that prepared the form will 22 always self-servingly omit the two most important options in the "status" or entity type boxes, which are:
23 10.4.1. "none of the above" AND
24 10.4.2. "not subject but not exempt"
25 By omitting the two above options, the government is indirectly compelling you to contract with and associate 26 with them, because all franchises are contracts, and you must associate (exercise your First Amendment right to 27 associate) with them by choosing a domicile WITHIN their jurisdiction (as a "protected person" and therefore a 28 "customer" called a "citizen" or "resident") before they can even lawfully contract with you to begin with under 29 the civil law. The approach should always be to add a new box that says "Not subject but not exempt" and check 30 it. This is further detailed in:

Flawed Tax Arguments to Avoid, Form #08.004, Section 6.10

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

31 11. If anyone receiving a government form tries to argue with you about what you put on the form, respond as follows:
32 11.1. Indicating that the words you use to describe yourself on forms is the method by which you both contract and 33 politically associate with a specific government of your own choosing in order to procure protection. The First 34 Amendment protects your right to both politically associate (and thereby become a "citizen", "resident", or 35 inhabitant) and to be free from compelled association. Therefore, no one but you has the right decide or declare
36 your status on a government form, unless of course you appoint them to practice law on your behalf or represent 37 you, which you should NEVER do. See:
38 Your Exclusive Right to Declare or Establish Your Civil Status, Form #13.008
39 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
40 11.2. Arguing that anyone who wants to compel you to describe yourself on a government form in a way that you know
41 does not accurately characterize both your status and your intentions is committing the crime of suborning perjury
42 and criminally tampering with a witness. All government forms are signed under penalty of perjury and therefore 43 constitute "testimony of a witness". YOU and not them are the witness and all witnesses are protected from 44 duress, coercion, and retaliation because if they weren't, the evidence they produce would be of no value and 45 would not be admissible in a court of law. You and only you have the exclusive right to declare and establish 46 your status under the civil law because doing so is how you exercise your Constitutionally protected rights to 47 contract and associate. Any violation of those two rights defeats the entire purpose of establishing the 48 government to begin with, which is the protection of private rights by preventing them from being involuntarily
49 converted to public rights.
50 11.3. Insisting that it constitutes involuntary servitude in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment to compel you to 51 either complete a government form or to fill it out in a certain way. It also means PROSECUTING those who 52 engage in such slavery privately and personally because no lawyer is ever going to bite the hand that feeds him or 53 jeopardize the license that his government benefactors use to silence dissent.
54 11.4. Emphasizing to those receiving the form that even if they are private parties, they are acting as agents of the 55 government in either preparing or accepting or insisting on the form and that they are therefore subject to all the same constitutional constraints as the government in that capacity, including a Bivens Action for violation of rights. For instance, those accepting tax forms are statutory "withholding agents" per 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(16) who are agents and officers of the government and therefore constrained by the Constitution while physically situated on land protected by the Constitution within the exclusive jurisdiction of a state of the Union.

12. If you try to submit a form to a company that accurately describes your status, they frequently may try to interfere with the process by refusing to accept it because if they do, it might create a civil or criminal liability and generate evidence in their records of such a liability. For instance, they may say any of the following:

12.1. We will not accept your form if you add any boxes to the form.

12.2. We will not accept your form if you add any attachments to the form.

12.3. We will not accept your form if modify our form or terms on the form.

13. If those receiving forms you fill out use any of the approaches described in the previous step, the best way to handle it is one of the following:

13.1. Send the information you wanted to submit separately as an addendum to an original account or job application you gave them, and indicate in the attachment that it must accompany any and every form you submit in the past, present and future, and especially if requested as part of legal discovery. Say that all forms you submit, if not accompanied by the addendum, are invalid, misleading, deceptive, and political but not legal or actionable speech without the attachment.

13.2. Send then an amendment IMMEDIATELY AFTER the transaction is completed via certified mail using a Certificate/Proof of Service, Form #01.002 that adds everything and all attachments they refused to accept WITH the form

For both instances above, the correspondence you send should say that this amends any and all forms submitted to the company or person for the past, present, and future and must accompany all such forms in the context of any and all legal discovery relating to you and directed at the recipient. Say that if they don't include it, they are criminally obstructing justice and tampering with a protected witness of criminal activity. Don't EVER allow them to have anything in their possession that isn't associated with explanatory and exculpatory information that reflects your true status or which creates a prima facie presumption that you are voluntarily associated with any statutory status within any franchise agreement. Otherwise, they are going to use this as evidence in litigation and exclude everything else, leaving you with no method to deny the status you claimed or what you meant in claiming it. The mandatory Legal Notice of Change in Domicile/Citizenship Records and Divorce from the United States, Form #10.001 also helps as a defense against such tactics, because it too is required to be associated with everything the government receives about you or else the information is not valid, untrustworthy, deceptive, and misleading.

14. We have produced forms you can submit for the occasion described in the previous step whereby a properly executed government form is rejected and the witness filling it out is criminally tampered with in violation of 18 U.S.C. §1512. Submit the following forms AFTER THE FACT to remove the risks created by the witness tampering and prevent fraud charges against you:

14.1. Resignation of Compelled Social Security Trustee, Form #06.002-updates an existing SSA Form SS-5 to correct the status of the applicant.
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

14.2. Passport Amendment Request, Form #06.016-amends a previous USA passport application to remove false presumptions about your citizenship status and domicile
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

14.3. Legal Notice To Correct Fraudulent Tax Status, Reporting, and Withholding, Form #04.401-send this form to any company you have financial dealings with that threatened to either fire, not hire, or not do business with you because of the tax withholding paperwork you gave them. Send it AFTER the transaction or hiring is completed to correct their records.
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

14.4. SS-4 EIN Application Permanent Amendment Notice, Form #04.218-updates an EIN application to disconnect you permanently from all franchises.
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

14.5. Notice and Demand to Correct False IRS Form 1099-S, Form #04.403-send this form to an itinerant Escrow company that REFUSES to accept correct tax withholding paperwork on a real estate transaction and threatens to hold up the sale if you don't fill out the tax paperwork in a way that you KNOW is FRAUDULENT. Send AFTER the escrow transaction is completed so that you don't have to hold up the sale.
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

14.6. Retirement Account Permanent Amendment Notice, Form #04.217-Changes the character of a retirement account to a PRIVATE, non-taxable account
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

1 15. BEWARE THE DANGERS OF GOVERNMENT ISSUED ID:

2 15.1. Application for most forms of government ID makes you a privileged “resident” domiciled on federal territory
3 and divorces you from the protections of the Constitution. The “United States” they are referring to below is
4 NOT that mentioned in the Constitution, but the statutory “United States” consisting of federal territory that is no
5 part of any de jure state of the Union.

6 State of Virginia
7 Title 46.2 - MOTOR VEHICLES.
8 Chapter 3 - Licensure of Drivers

9 §46.2-328.1. Licenses, permits and special identification cards to be issued only to United States citizens, legal 10 permanent resident aliens, or holders of valid unexpired nonimmigrant visas; exceptions; renewal, duplication,
11 or reissuance.

12 A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, except as provided in subsection G of § 46.2-345, the 13 Department shall not issue an original license, permit, or special identification card to any applicant who has 14 not presented to the Department, with the application, valid documentary evidence that the applicant is either
15 (i) a citizen of the United States, (ii) a legal permanent resident of the United States, or (iii) a conditional
16 resident alien of the United States.

17 15.2. Most states cannot and will not issue driver’s licenses to those who are nonresidents of the statutory but not 18 Constitutional “United States”, which consists only of federal territory that is no part of any state of the Union. If 19 you give them an affidavit of non-residency, in fact, they will tell that you aren’t eligible for a license and issue
20 you a certificate of disqualification saying that they refused to issue you a license. Now wouldn’t THAT be 21 something useful to have the next time a cop stops you and tries to cite you for not having that which the 22 government REFUSED to issue you, which is a LICENSE!

23 15.3. When or if you procure government ID of any kind, including driver’s licenses, you should always do so as a
24 NON-RESIDENT, a “transient foreigner”, and neither a statutory “citizen” or statutory “resident”. The place you
25 are a “citizen” or “resident” of for all government ID applications is federal territory and not the de jure republic.
26 Government ID is a privilege, not a right.

27 15.4. The only type of government ID you can procure without a domicile on federal territory and without being a 28 statutory “citizen” or statutory “resident” who is effectively an officer and “employee” of the government are:
29 15.4.1. A USA passport. See:

30 How to Apply for a Passport as a “non-citizen national”, Form #09.007
31 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

32 15.4.2. ID issued by your own government or group.

33 15.4.3. ID issued by a notary public, who is a public officer and therefore not part of the government.

34 15.5. For details on the dangers of government ID, see:

35 Why Domicile and Becoming a “Taxpayer” Require Your Consent, Form #05.002, Section 14 through 14.5
36 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

37 16. There are only TWO ways that they can enforce their rules against you. All of these rules are documented in Federal 38 Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b):

39 16.1. If you have a domicile on their territory.

40 16.2. If you are acting in a representative capacity as a “public officer” of the United States federal corporation
41 described in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A). This includes participation in any government franchise because all such 42 franchises inevitably turn you into government agents and officers. See:

43 Government Instituted Slavery Using Franchises, Form #05.030
44 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

45 Another way of stating the above two rules is that whenever a sovereign wants to reach outside its physical territory, it
46 may only do so using its right to contract with other fellow sovereign states and people. If you aren’t domiciled on 47 their territory, they have to produce evidence that you consented to some kind of contract or agreement with them.
48 This is consistent with the maxim of law that debt and contract know no place:

49 Debitum et contractus non sunt nullius loci.

50 Debt and contract [franchise agreement, in this case] are of no particular place.

51 Locus contractus regit actum.

52 The place of the contract [franchise agreement, in this case] governs the act.
53 [Bouvier's Maxims of Law, 1856;

3 17. If you don't want them enforcing their rules against you, you can't act like someone they have jurisdiction over either 4 by:

5 17.1. Describing yourself as a "person", franchisee (e.g. "taxpayer", "driver", "benefit recipient", "U.S. citizen"), or 6 entity referenced in their private law franchise agreement.

7 17.2. Invoking the "benefits" or protections of any portion of the franchise agreement. For instance, the following
8 remedy is ONLY available to franchisees called "taxpayers" and may not be invoked by "nontaxpayers":

9 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 76 > Subchapter B > § 7433
10 § 7433. Civil damages for certain unauthorized collection actions

11 (a) In general

12 *If, in connection with any collection of Federal tax with respect to a taxpayer, any officer or employee of the 13 Internal Revenue Service recklessly or intentionally, or by reason of negligence, disregards any provision of 14 this title, or any regulation promulgated under this title, such taxpayer may bring a civil action for damages
15 against the United States in a district court of the United States. Except as provided in section 7432, such civil 16 action shall be the exclusive remedy for recovering damages resulting from such actions.*

17 17.3. Filling out forms that are only for use by franchisees called "taxpayers". The IRS mission statement at IRM
18 1.1.1.1 says they can ONLY help or assist "taxpayers" and the minute you ask for their help, you are implicitly
19 admitting you are a franchisee called a "taxpayer" engaged in the "trade or business" franchise. Do you see 20 "nontaxpayers" or persons who are sovereign and not privileged in their mission statement:

22 IRM 1.1.1.1 \(02-26-1999\)
23 IRS Mission and Basic Organization

24 The IRS Mission: Provide America's taxpayers top quality service by helping them understand and meet their 25 tax responsibilities and by applying the tax law with integrity and fairness to all.

26 17.4. Asking for licenses such as a Taxpayer Identification Number or Social Security Number on a Form W-7, W-9, or 27 SS-5 respectively. The only people who need such "licenses" are those receiving some kind of government
28 "benefit". All such benefits are government franchises that are listed in the IRS Form 1042-S Instructions and 29 within 26 CFR §301.6109-1(b), where they identify the criteria for when you MUST provide a "Taxpayer
30 Identification Number":

32 Box 14, Recipient's U.S. Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

33 You must obtain a U.S. taxpayer identification number (TIN) for:

34 Any recipient whose income is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States.
35 Note. For these recipients, exemption code 01 should be entered in box 6.

36 Any foreign person claiming a reduced rate of, or exemption from, tax under a tax treaty between a foreign country and
37 the United States, unless the income is an unexpected payment (as described in Regulations section 1.1441-6(g)) or 38 consists of dividends and interest from stocks and debt obligations that are actively traded; dividends from any 39 redeemable security issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (mutual
40 fund); dividends, interest, or royalties from units of beneficial interest in a unit investment trust that are (or were, upon 41 issuance) publicly offered and are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 42 1933; and amounts paid with respect to loans of any of the above securities.

43 Any nonresident alien individual claiming exemption from tax under section 871(f) for certain annuities received under 44 qualified plans.

45 Any foreign organization claiming an exemption from tax solely because of its status as a tax-exempt organization under 46 section 501(c) or as a private foundation.

47 Any QL.

48 Any WP or WT.

49 Any nonresident alien individual claiming exemption from withholding on compensation for independent personal
50 services [services connected with a "trade or business"].

51 Any foreign grantor trust with five or fewer grantors.

52 Any branch of a foreign bank or foreign insurance company that is treated as a U.S. person.

53 ○ If a foreign person provides a TIN on a Form W-8, but is not required to do so, the withholding agent must include the 54 TIN on Form 1042-S.

55 [IRS Form 1042-S Instructions, Year 2006, p. 14]

1 17.5. Using government license numbers on government forms such as the EIN, TIN, or SSN.

2 17.6. Failing to rebut the use of government issued identifying numbers against you by others. See:
 3 About SSNs and TINs on Government Forms and Correspondence, Form #05.012
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

4 17.7. Submitting the WRONG withholding paperwork with your private employer, bank or financial institution. The
 5 correct paperwork is the an AMENDED version of the IRS Form W-8BEN. Everything else will unwittingly
 6 make you into a “U.S. person”, a “resident alien”, a “person”, and an “individual” in the context of the IRS:
 7 About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

8 17.8. Failing to rebut false Information Returns such as IRS Forms W-2, 1042-S, 1098, and 1099 filed against you by 9 ignorant people who aren’t reading or properly obeying the law. All such documents connect you with the “trade
 10 or business” franchise and make you into a person in receipt of federal “privilege” and therefore subject to federal 11 jurisdiction. See:
 12 Correcting Erroneous Information Returns, Form #04.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 17.9. Petitioning a “franchise court” called “United States Tax Court” that is ONLY for franchisees called “taxpayers”.
 14 Tax Court Rule 13(a) says that the court is ONLY available to “taxpayers”. You can’t petition this administrative 15 tribunal without indirectly admitting you are a “taxpayer”. See:
 16 The Tax Court Scam, Form #05.039
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

17 Although Crowell and Raddatz do not explicitly distinguish between rights created by Congress and other
 18 rights, such a distinction underlies in part Crowell’s and Raddatz’ recognition of a critical difference between 19 rights created by federal statute and rights recognized by the Constitution. Moreover, such a distinction seems
 20 to us to be necessary in light of the delicate accommodations required by the principle of separation of powers
 21 reflected in Art. III. The constitutional system of checks and balances is designed to guard against
 22 “encroachment or aggrandizement” by Congress at the expense of the other branches of government. Buckley
 23 v. Valeo, 424 U.S., at 122, 96 S.Ct., at 683. But when Congress creates a statutory right [a “privilege” in this
 24 case, such as a “trade or business”], it clearly has the discretion, in defining that right, to create presumptions,
 25 or assign burdens of proof, or prescribe remedies; it may also provide that persons seeking to vindicate that
 26 right must do so before particularized tribunals created to perform the specialized adjudicative tasks related to 27 that right.^{FN35} Such provisions do, in a sense, affect the exercise of judicial power, but they are also incidental
 28 to Congress’ power to define the right that it has created. No comparable justification exists, however, when the 29 right being adjudicated is not of congressional creation. In such a situation, substantial inroads into functions
 30 that have traditionally been performed by the Judiciary cannot be characterized merely as incidental extensions
 31 of Congress’ power to define rights that it has created. Rather, such inroads suggest unwarranted
 32 encroachments upon the judicial power of the United States, which our Constitution reserves for Art. III courts.
 33 [Northern Pipeline Const. Co. v. Marathon Pipe Line Co., 458 U.S. at 83-84, 102 S.Ct. 2858 (1983)]

34 Because a number of people don’t understand the above subtleties, they discredit themselves by claiming to be a
 35 “nontaxpayer” not subject to the I.R.C. and yet ACTING like a “taxpayer”. The IRS and the courts fine and sanction
 36 such ignorant and presumptuous conduct.

37 18. Franchises are the main method for destroying your sovereignty. Unless and until you understand exactly how they 38 work and how they are used to trap and enslave the ignorant and those who don’t consent, you will never be free.
 39 Government “benefits” are the “bribe” that judges and tyrants use to entice you to participate in government franchises
 40 and thereby surrender your sovereign immunity and contract away your rights. Government franchises are 41 exhaustively explained below:
 42 Government Instituted Slavery Using Franchises, Form #05.030
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

43 19. You can’t accept a financial “benefit” or payments of any kind from the government without becoming part of the 44 government. In that sense, there are always “strings” attached to money you get from the government, many of which
 45 are completely invisible to most people. The only thing the government can lawfully pay public monies to are public
 46 officers and agents. Those who engage in such benefits must have a government license (a TIN or SSN) and thereby 47 become a government officer or agent.

44 “A tax, in the general understanding of the term and as used in the constitution, signifies an exaction for the
 45 support of the government. The word has never thought to connote the expropriation of money from one group
 46 for the benefit of another.”
 47 [U.S. v. Butler, 297 U.S. 1 (1936)]

1 20. All government “benefits” or payments do not constitute “consideration” that can lawfully make the subject of any
2 enforceable contract or franchise in the case of most Americans. The reason is because:
3 20.1. The “benefits” are paid with Federal Reserve Notes that have no intrinsic value because they are not redeemable
4 by the government in anything of value. See:

The Money Scam, Form #05.041
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

5 20.2. The government doesn’t have an obligation that is enforceable in a true, constitutional court in equity to those
6 who sign up for it. All the remedies they give you are in administrative “franchise courts” that are not true
7 constitutional courts and all participants in these proceedings are biased because they are executed by
8 “franchisees” (e.g. “taxpayers”) with a criminal and financial conflict of interest in violation of 18 U.S.C. §208,
9 28 U.S.C. §455, and 28 U.S.C. §144. You will always lose in these tribunals. You ought to avoid begging for 10 anything from the government because you will be tricked into becoming their slave and whore. See:

The Government “Benefits” Scam, Form #05.040
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

11 21. The only group of people the government can write law for are its own agents, officers, and employees for the most 12 part. See:

Why Statutory Civil Law is Law for Government and Not Private Persons, Form #05.037
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

13 22. You will never be free as long as you are conducting commerce with the government and thereby subject to their 14 jurisdiction. All such commerce implies a waiver of sovereign immunity pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1605 and inevitably 15 makes you into a slave and a serf of tyrants. Black’s Law Dictionary defines “commerce” as “intercourse”. This is the 16 same “intercourse” that Babylon the Great Harlot is having with the Beast, which the Bible defines as the kings and 17 political rulers of the earth in Rev. 19:19.

18 *“Commerce. ...Intercourse by way of trade and traffic between different peoples or states and the citizens or
19 inhabitants thereof, including not only the purchase, sale, and exchange of commodities, but also the
20 instrumentalities [governments] and agencies by which it is promoted and the means and appliances by which it 21 is carried on...”*
22 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 269]

23 *“Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot [Babylon the Great Harlot] who sits on many waters,
24 with whom the kings of the earth [politicians and rulers] committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth
25 were made drunk [indulged] with the wine of her fornication.”*
26 [Rev. 17:1-2, Bible, NKJV]

27 “And I saw the beast, the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against Him who 28 sat on the horse and against His army.”
29 [Rev. 19:19, Bible, NKJV]

30 On the subject of not associating with a corrupted government, the bible says the following:

31 *“Come out from among them [the unbelievers and government idolaters]
32 And be separate, says the Lord.
33 Do not touch what is unclean [the government or anything made by man],
34 And I will receive you,
35 I will be a Father to you,
36 And you shall be my sons and daughters.
37 Says the Lord Almighty.”
38 [/2 Corinthians 6:17-18, Bible, NKJV]*

39 “And have no fellowship [or association] with the unfruitful works of [government] darkness, but rather 40 reprove [rebuke and expose] them.”
41 [Eph. 5:11, Bible, NKJV]

42 “But if you are LEd. by the Spirit, you are not under the law [man’s law].”
43 [Gal. 5:18, Bible, NKJV]

44 *“Shall the throne of iniquity [the U.S. Congress and the federal judiciary], which devises evil by [obfuscating
45 the] law [to expand their jurisdiction and consolidate all economic power in their hands by taking it away
46 from the states], have fellowship with You? They gather together against the life of the righteous, and 47 condemn innocent blood [of “nontaxpayers” and persons outside their jurisdiction, which is an act of extortion
48 and racketeering]. But the Lord has been my defense, and my God the rock of my refuge. He has brought on 49 them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own wickedness; the Lord our God [and those who obey*

1 Him and His word] shall cut them off [from power and from receiving illegal bribes cleverly disguised by an
2 obfuscated law as legitimate "taxes"].

3 [Psalm 94:20-23, Bible, NKJV.]

4 QUESTION FOR DOUBTERS: Who else BUT Congress and the judiciary can devise "evil by law"?]

5 Nevertheless, God's solid foundation stands firm, sealed with this inscription: 'The Lord knows those who are
6 His,' and, 'Everyone who confesses the name of the Lord must turn away from [not associate with] wickedness
7 [wherever it is found, and especially in government].'"

8 [2 Tim. 2:19, Bible, NKJV]

9 "It shall be a statute forever throughout your generations, that you may distinguish between holy and unholy,
10 and between unclean and clean, and that you may teach the children of Israel all the statutes [laws] which the 11 LORD [God] has spoken to them by the hand of Moses."

12 [Lev. 10:9-11, Bible, NKJV]

14 30 Conclusions and Summary

15 The Internal Revenue Code represents a constitutional taxing plan for two entirely separate and completely distinct legal 16 and political communities, each with its own citizens, subjects, and unique characteristics: the "national" government and
17 the "federal" government. These two communities are and must continue to remain completely separate as a result of the 18 separation of powers doctrine that is at the heart of the United States Constitution. This separation was put there by the 19 framers of the Constitution for the protection of our liberties and rights:

20 "We start with first principles. The Constitution creates a Federal Government of enumerated powers. See U.S.
21 Const., Art. I, 8. As James Madison wrote, "[t]he powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal
22 government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and
23 indefinite." The Federalist No. 45, pp. 292-293 (C. Rossiter ed. 1961). This constitutionally
24 mandated division of authority "was adopted by the Framers
25 to ensure protection of our fundamental liberties." Gregory v. Ashcroft,
26 501 U.S. 452, 458 (1991) (internal quotation marks omitted). "Just as the separation and independence of
27 the coordinate branches of the Federal Government serves to prevent the accumulation of excessive power in
28 any one branch, a healthy balance of power between the States and the Federal Government will reduce the
29 risk of tyranny and abuse from either front." Ibid."
30 [U.S. v. Lopez, 514 U.S. 549 (1995)]

32 "The people of the United States, by their Constitution, have affirmed a division of internal governmental 33 powers between the federal government and the governments of the several states-committing to the first its 34 powers by express grant and necessary implication; to the latter, or [301 U.S. 548, 611] to the people, by 35 reservation, 'the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the 36 States.' The Constitution thus affirms the complete supremacy and independence of the state within the field of 37 its powers. Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 295, 56 S.Ct. 855, 865. The federal government has no
38 more authority to invade that field than the state has to invade the exclusive field of national governmental 39 powers; for, in the oft-repeated words of this court in Texas v. White, 7 Wall. 700, 725, 'the preservation of the 40 States, and the maintenance of their governments, are as much within the design and care of the Constitution as 41 the preservation of the Union and the maintenance of the National government.' The necessity of preserving 42 each from every form of illegitimate intrusion or interference on the part of the other is so imperative as to 43 require this court, when its judicial power is properly invoked, to view with a careful and discriminating eye
44 any legislation challenged as constituting such an intrusion or interference. See South Carolina v. United 45 States, 199 U.S. 437, 448, 26 S.Ct. 110, 4 Ann.Cas. 737."
46 [Steward Machine Co. v. Davis, 301 U.S. 548 (1937)]

48 The Constitution does not protect the sovereignty of States for the benefit of the States or state governments as
49 abstract political entities, or even for the benefit of the public officials governing the States. To the contrary,
50 the Constitution divides authority between federal and state governments for the protection of individuals.
51 State sovereignty is not just an end in itself: "Rather, federalism secures to citizens the liberties that derive
52 from the diffusion of sovereign power." Coleman v. Thompson, 501 U.S. 722, 759 (1991) (BLACKMUN, J., 53 dissenting). "Just as the separation and independence of the coordinate branches of the Federal Government

1 serve to prevent the accumulation of excessive power in any one branch, a healthy balance of power between
2 the States and the Federal Government will reduce the risk of tyranny and abuse from either front.' Gregory
3 v. [505 U.S. 144, 182] Ashcroft, 501 U.S., at 458 . See The Federalist No. 51, p. 323. (C. Rossiter ed.
4 1961).

5 Where Congress exceeds its authority relative to the States, therefore, the departure from the constitutional
6 plan cannot be ratified by the "consent" of state officials. An analogy to the separation of powers among the
7 branches of the Federal Government clarifies this point. The Constitution's division of power among the
8 three branches is violated where one branch invades the territory of another, whether or not the encroached-
9 upon branch approves the encroachment. In Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 118 -137 (1976), for instance, the
10 Court held that Congress had infringed the President's appointment power, despite the fact that the President
11 himself had manifested his consent to the statute that caused the infringement by signing it into law. See
12 National League of Cities v. Usery, 426 U.S., at 842, n. 12. In INS v. Chadha, 462 U.S. 919, 944 -959 (1983),
13 we held that the legislative veto violated the constitutional requirement that legislation be presented to the
14 President, despite Presidents' approval of hundreds of statutes containing a legislative veto provision. See id.,
15 at 944-945. The constitutional authority of Congress cannot be expanded by the "consent" of the governmental
16 unit whose domain is thereby narrowed, whether that unit is the Executive Branch or the States.
17 [New York v. United States, 505 U.S. 144, 112 S.Ct. 2408, 120 L.Ed.2d. 120 (1992)]

18 States of the Union are "foreign countries" and "foreign states" with respect to federal taxing jurisdiction. This was 19 explained by the U.S. Supreme Court and is also found in Black's Law Dictionary:

20 "The state governments, in their separate powers and independent sovereignties, in their reserved powers, are 21 just as much beyond the jurisdiction and control of the National Government as the National Government in its 22 sovereignty is beyond the control and jurisdiction of the state government."

23 "...a State has the same undeniable and unlimited jurisdiction over all persons and things within its 24 territorial limits, as any foreign nation..."
25 [Mayer, etc. of the City of New York v. Miln, 36 U.S. 102, 11 Pet. 102, 9 L.Ed. 648 (1837)]

27 "It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247
28 U.S. 251, 275 , 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the
29 internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation. The question in respect of the
30 inherent power of that government as to the external affairs of the Nation and in the field of international law is
31 a wholly different matter which it is not necessary now to consider. See, however, Jones v. United States, 137
32 U.S. 202, 212 , 11 S.Ct. 80; Nishimur Ekiu v. United States, 142 U.S. 651, 659 , 12 S.Ct. 336; Fong Yue Ting v.
33 United States, 149 U.S. 698 , 705 et seq., 13 S.Ct. 1016; Burnet v. Brooks, 288 U.S. 378, 396 , 53 S.Ct. 457, 86
34 A.L.R. 747."
35 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238 (1936)]

37 The determination of the Framers Convention and the ratifying conventions to preserve complete and
38 unimpaired state self-government in all matters not committed to the general government is one of the plainest
39 facts which emerge from the history of their deliberations. And adherence to that determination is incumbent
40 equally upon the federal government and the states. State powers can neither be appropriated, on the one
41 hand, nor abdicated, on the other. As this court said in Texas v. White, 7 Wall. 700, 725 --the preservation of 42 the States, and the maintenance of their governments, are as much within the design and care of the 43 Constitution as the preservation of the Union and the maintenance of the National Government. The 44 Constitution, in all its provisions, looks to an indestructible Union, composed of indestructible States.

45 Every journey to a forbidden end begins with the first step, and the danger of such a step by the federal
46 government in the direction of taking over the powers of the states is that the end of the journey may find the
47 states so despoiled of their powers, or -- what may amount to the same thing -- so [298 U.S. 296] relieved of the 48 responsibilities which possession of the powers necessarily enjoins, as to reduce them to little more than
49 geographical subdivisions of the national domain. It is safe to say that, if, when the Constitution was under
50 consideration, it had been thought that any such danger lurked behind its plain words, it would never have been
51 ratified.
52 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238 (1936)]

53

54 Foreign States: "Nations outside of the United States...Term may also refer to another state; i.e. a sister state.
55 The term 'foreign nations', ...should be construed to mean all nations and states other than that in which the
56 action is brought; and hence, one state of the Union is foreign to another, in that sense."
57 [Black's Law Dictionary, 6th Edition, p. 648]

1 Foreign Laws: “The laws of a foreign country or sister state. In conflicts of law, the legal principles of
2 jurisprudence which are part of the law of a sister state or nation. Foreign laws are additions to our own laws,
3 and in that respect are called ‘jus receptum’.”
4 [Black’s Law Dictionary, 6th Edition, p. 647]

5 The revenue system documented by Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code is intended for the “national government” and 6 not the “federal government”, and applies primarily to the following three groups:

- 7 1. Public officers (called statutory “employees”) effectively domiciled in the District of Columbia: The tax imposed in 26
8 U.S.C. §1 against those domiciled in the federal zone engaged in a “trade or business”, which is defined as “the 9 functions of a public office” in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26). This includes:
 - 10 1.1. “U.S. citizens” who are described in 8 U.S.C. §1401 as persons born in the federal zone. See:
11 <http://famguardian.org/Subjects/LawAndGovt/Citizenship/WhyANational.pdf>
 - 12 1.2. “residents” who are all aliens and foreign nationals domiciled in our country.
- 13 2. Public officers (statutory “employees”) effectively domiciled in the District of Columbia and traveling overseas: The 14 tax is imposed under 26 U.S.C. §911 upon those domiciled in the federal zone who are traveling temporarily overseas
15 and fall under a tax treaty. The tax applies only to “trade or business” income which is recorded on an IRS Form 1040
16 and 2555. See also the Supreme Court case of Cook v. Tait, 265 U.S. 47 (1924).
- 17 3. Nonresident aliens receiving government payments: The tax imposed under 26 U.S.C. §871 on nonresident aliens with 18 government income that is:
 - 19 3.1. Not connected with a “trade or business” under 26 U.S.C. §871(a) but originates from the District of Columbia.
 - 20 3.2. Connected with a “trade or business” under 26 U.S.C. §871(b).

21 There is no question that Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code is entirely constitutional and lawful when administered
22 consistent with its legislative intent and consistent with the words that are clearly defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701 as strictly 23 interpreted according to the Rules of Statutory Construction. Those rules are clearly described in the memorandum below:

Meaning of the Words “includes” and “including”, Form #05.014
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

24 When Congress passed the first income tax in 1862 as an emergency to fund the Civil War, they passed an income tax
25 mainly upon “public officers” of the United States government and federal instrumentalities. See:

12 Stat. 432, sections 86-87
<http://www.famguardian.org/Disks/LawDVD/Federal/RevenueActs/Revenue%20Act%20of%201862.pdf>

26 However, what was originally intended mainly as a municipal income tax for instrumentalities and statutory “employees”
27 (5 U.S.C. §2105(a)) of the District of Columbia, or “national government” has been misrepresented and misapplied towards 28 people in states of the Union. This usurpation by the Executive Branch in collusion with a corrupted federal judiciary has 29 become a systematic recipe for deprivation of rights under the “color of law” by a de facto band of thieves in what colorful
30 author Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) called “the District of Criminals”. These thieves are now operating what the courts
31 call a “sham trust”, in which the “trustees” of the “public trust” are usurping authority under the color of law to administer
32 the charitable trust called “government” for their own personal benefit. Ironically, the main source of this corruption and 33 breakdown of the separation of powers has come because of these very same courts. The corruption of our courts is 34 exhaustively documented in the book available on our website below:

What Happened To Justice?, Form #06.012
<http://sedm.org/ItemInfo/Ebooks/WhatHappJustice/WhatHappJustice.htm>

35 The American people, the federal courts, and the legal profession have not lived up to their duty to prevent such “stealthful 36 encroachments” upon their liberty, which has lead to the growth of a massive tumor on the body politic that is leading to an 37 erosion of our liberties and freedoms, morality, and standard of living.

38 *“It may be that it is the obnoxious thing in its mildest and least repulsive form; but illegitimate and 39 unconstitutional practices get their first footing in that way, namely, by silent approaches and slight
40 deviations from legal modes of procedure. This can only be obviated by adhering to the rule that 41 constitutional provisions for the security of person and property should be liberally construed. A close and 42 literal construction deprives them of half their efficacy, and leads to gradual depreciation of the right, as if it
43 consisted more in sound than in substance. It is the duty of courts to be watchful for the constitutional rights*

1 of the citizen, and against any stealthy encroachments thereon. Their motto should be obsta principiis. We
2 have no doubt that the legislative body is actuated by the same motives; but the vast accumulation of public
3 business brought before it sometimes prevents it, on a first presentation, from noticing objections which become 4 developed by time and the practical application of the objectionable law.”
5 [Boyd v. U.S., 116 U.S. 616, 6 S.Ct. 524 (1886)]

6 The main thing that has changed since the original income tax was passed in 1862 to fund the Civil War is the morality and
7 integrity of those who administer our legal and tax systems, and that morality and integrity has seriously eroded to the point
8 where the “de facto” legal and tax systems we have now completely violate the foundational principles of our government
9 documented in the Declaration of Independence: consent of the governed. The “de facto” system of government we have 10 now is so out of tune with the “de jure” government described in our founding documents that it has become socialist and 11 communist for all practical purposes. Its present composition, in fact, is accurately described by the Beast itself in its own
12 laws, which have become a blue print for the very destruction we have witnessed over the years:

13 TITLE 50 > CHAPTER 23 > SUBCHAPTER IV > Sec. 841.
14 Sec. 841. - Findings and declarations of fact

15 *The Congress finds and declares that the Communist Party of the United States [consisting of the IRS, DOJ,
16 and a corrupted federal judiciary], although purportedly a political party, is in fact an instrumentality of a
17 conspiracy to overthrow the [de jure] Government of the United States [and replace it with a defacto
18 government ruled by a the judiciary]. It constitutes an authoritarian dictatorship [IRS, DOJ, and corrupted
19 federal judiciary in collusion] within a [constitutional] republic, demanding for itself the rights and privileges
20 [including immunity from prosecution for their wrongdoing in violation of Article 1, Section 9, Clause 8 of the 21 Constitution] accorded to political parties, but denying to all others the liberties [Bill of Rights] guaranteed by 22 the Constitution. Unlike political parties, which evolve their policies and programs through public means, by 23 the reconciliation of a wide variety of individual views, and submit those policies and programs to the 24 electorate at large for approval or disapproval, the policies and programs of the Communist Party are secretly
25 [by corrupt judges and the IRS in complete disregard of the tax laws] prescribed for it by the foreign leaders
26 of the world Communist movement [the IRS and Federal Reserve]. Its members [the Congress, which was 27 terrorized to do IRS bidding recently by the framing of Congressman Traficant] have no part in determining 28 its goals, and are not permitted to voice dissent to party objectives. Unlike members of political parties,
29 members of the Communist Party are recruited for indoctrination [in the public schools by homosexuals,
30 liberals, and socialists] with respect to its objectives and methods, and are organized, instructed, and
31 disciplined [by the IRS and a corrupted judiciary] to carry into action slavishly the assignments given them by 32 their hierarchical chieftains. Unlike political parties, the Communist Party [thanks to a corrupted federal 33 judiciary] acknowledges no constitutional or statutory limitations upon its conduct or upon that of its 34 members. The Communist Party is relatively small numerically, and gives scant indication of capacity ever to 35 attain its ends by lawful political means. The peril inherent in its operation arises not from its numbers, but 36 from its failure to acknowledge any limitation as to the nature of its activities, and its dedication to the 37 proposition that the present constitutional Government of the United States ultimately must be brought to 38 ruin by any available means, including resort to force and violence [or using unlawfully enforced income
39 taxes]. Holding that doctrine, its role as the agency of a hostile foreign power [the Federal Reserve and the 40 American Bar Association (ABA)] renders its existence a clear present and continuing danger to the security
41 of the United States. It is the means whereby individuals are seduced into the service of the world Communist 42 movement, trained to do its bidding, and directed and controlled in the conspiratorial performance of their 43 revolutionary services. Therefore, the Communist Party should be outlawed*

44 The requirement for consent is being completely disregarded, and our government has become a terrorist government that
45 operates either by disguising the requirement for consent or ignoring it entirely in the administration of our tax system. In 46 that sense, it has become a “protection racket” and taxes have become protection money paid to a protected haven for
47 financial terrorists in the District of Columbia. Our government has transformed itself from its de jure role as protector to a
48 de facto role as a predator and protection racket and is no longer deserving of our sponsorship or allegiance. As what the 49 Supreme Court calls the “Sovereign People”, we have not only a right, but a duty, according to the Declaration of 50 Independence, to withdraw our support and allegiance and to divert both to that which will provide a “new Guards for their 51 future security”:

52 *“That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to 53 alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing
54 its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness... . But when a
55 long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them
56 under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new 57 Guards for their future security”*
58 [Declaration of Independence]

59 The systematic destruction of the separation of powers over the years since our founding are carefully described in the 60 document below, for those who wish to investigate further:

1 Family Guardian Fellowship has also assembled a brief, historical, and pictorial presentation that graphically shows exactly
2 how our liberties have been systematically and maliciously destroyed and undermined over the years by scoundrel lawyers
3 and politicians over the years. See the following if you would like further information:

How Scoundrels Corrupted Our Republican Form of Government
<http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Evidence/HowScCorruptOurRepubGovt.htm>

4 Only We the People can correct this corruption of our American legal and political systems which has been carefully
5 engineered to destroy the separation of powers doctrine and consolidate all political power in Washington D.C. We must 6 do it as voters, as jurists, and eventually with a revolution if need be:

7 "In America, freedom and justice have always come from the ballot box, the jury box, and when that fails, the 8 cartridge box."
9 [Steve Symms, U.S. Senator, Idaho]

10 The quote above, incidentally, explains the reasons why socialist politicians want to outlaw guns: so that we as the 11 Sovereigns and their Masters are left totally without remedy when legislative fiat has completely destroyed our God-given
12 rights. Thomas Jefferson, one of our most beloved founding fathers and the author of our Declaration of Independence,
13 warned us about the dangers of this consolidation of power into the hands of the federal government and predicted
14 everything that has happened to date in destroying the separation of powers when he said:

15 *"When all government, domestic and foreign, in little as in great things, shall be drawn to Washington as the
16 center of all power, it will render powerless the checks provided of one government on another and will become 17 as venal and oppressive as the government from which we separated."*
18 [Thomas Jefferson to Charles Hammond, 1821. ME 15:332]

19 "Our government is now taking so steady a course as to show by what road it will pass to destruction; to wit: by 20 consolidation first and then corruption, its necessary consequence. The engine of consolidation will be the 21 Federal judiciary; the two other branches the corrupting and corrupted instruments."
22 [Thomas Jefferson to Nathaniel Macon, 1821. ME 15:341]

23 "The [federal] judiciary branch is the instrument which, working like gravity, without intermission, is to press 24 us at last into one consolidated mass."
25 [Thomas Jefferson to Archibald Thweat, 1821. ME 15:307]

26 "There is no danger I apprehend so much as the consolidation of our government by the noiseless and therefore 27 unalarming instrumentality of the Supreme Court."
28 [Thomas Jefferson to William Johnson, 1823. ME 15:421]

29 "I wish... to see maintained that wholesome distribution of powers established by the Constitution for the 30 limitation of both [the State and General governments], and never to see all offices transferred to Washington 31 where, further withdrawn from the eyes of the people, they may more secretly be bought and sold as at market."
32 [Thomas Jefferson to William Johnson, 1823. ME 15:450]

33 *"What an augmentation of the field for jobbing, speculating, plundering, office-building and office-hunting
34 would be produced by an assumption of all the State powers into the hands of the General Government!"*
35 [Thomas Jefferson to Gideon Granger, 1800. ME 10:168]

36 "I see,... and with the deepest affliction, the rapid strides with which the federal branch of our government is 37 advancing towards the usurpation of all the rights reserved to the States, and the consolidation in itself of all 38 powers, foreign and domestic; and that, too, by constructions which, if legitimate, leave no limits to their 39 power... It is but too evident that the three ruling branches of [the Federal government] are in combination to 40 strip their colleagues, the State authorities, of the powers reserved by them, and to exercise themselves all 41 functions foreign and domestic."
42 [Thomas Jefferson to William Branch Giles, 1825. ME 16:146]

43 "We already see the [judiciary] power, installed for life, responsible to no authority (for impeachment is not 44 even a scare-crow), advancing with a noiseless and steady pace to the great object of consolidation. The 45 foundations are already deeply laid by their decisions for the annihilation of constitutional State rights and the 46 removal of every check, every counterpoise to the engulfing power of which themselves are to make a sovereign 47 part."

3 Finally, the following very important conclusions of law are firmly established in this pamphlet and in other places on our 4 website based on the government's own laws, statements, and judicial rulings:

- 5 1. Human beings domiciled within the exclusive jurisdiction of a state of the Union are:
 - 6 1.1. NOT statutory "U.S. nationals" as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1408 or 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B).
 - 7 1.2. "nonresident aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).
 - 8 1.3. "Citizens" within the meaning of the United States Constitution.
 - 9 1.4. "nationals" but not statutory "citizens" within the meaning of federal law as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and
8 U.S.C. §1452.
- 10 2. Both statutory "U.S. nationals" under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(22)(B) and "nationals" but not "citizens" under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452 have the same status under the Internal Revenue Code, which is that of a "nonresident alien" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B).
- 11 3. "nonresident aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) are not equivalent to "aliens" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A). For instance, a person who is a "national" but not a "citizen" under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21) and 8 U.S.C. §1452 is a "nonresident alien" but not an "alien". The IRS tries to confuse this point in their Publication 519 by titling the publication "U.S. tax Guide for Aliens" and then discussing "aliens" and "nonresident aliens". They do this so that people will avoid declaring themselves to be "nonresident aliens".
- 12 4. Most people will usually make all of the following false presumptions about your status because they have never read the definition of "United States" in the Internal Revenue Code and because the public schools have made them not only ignorant about the law and so untrusting of their own ability to read and understand it that they would rather believe what LYING government employees with a conflict of interest and who are not accountable for what they say tell them than read the law for themselves.
 - 13 4.1. Falsely presume that the Internal Revenue Code is "public law", when in fact it is private law and a VOLUNTARY federal franchise that only applies to those who consent in some way. See:

Requirement for Consent, Form #05.003
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
 - 14 4.2. Falsely presume that there is no separation of powers and that federal legislation applies within states of the Union. See:

Government Conspiracy to Destroy the Separation of Powers, Form #05.023
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>
 - 15 4.3. Falsely presume that whatever mailing address you give them is your legal "domicile" and that you maintain a domicile in the "United States" and therefore cannot be a "nonresident alien".
 - 16 4.4. Falsely presume that the term "State" as used on federal forms and federal law (such as 4 U.S.C. §110(d)) is the same as the term "State" in the Constitution. In fact, they are two mutually exclusive and completely different things. See:

Authorities on "State"
<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/CitesByTopic/State.htm>
 - 17 4.5. Falsely presume that the term "citizen" on a federal form is equivalent to the term "citizen" in the Constitution. In fact, they are two mutually exclusive things that cannot overlap. See:

Why You are a "national", "state national", and Constitutional but not Statutory Citizen, Form #05.006
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

35 To prevent all of the above false presumptions from injuring your rights and protect yourself, we STRONGLY
36 recommend attaching the following form to every government form you give to anyone and placing the following
37 phrase on the government form above your signature: "Signature not valid without attached signed Affidavit of 38 Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status". Here is the form to attach:

Affidavit of Citizenship, Domicile, and Tax Status, Form #02.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 39 5. Both "nonresident aliens" and "aliens" are called "foreign persons" within IRS publications. A person born in a state
40 of the Union is a "foreign person" for the purposes of federal statutory jurisdiction. This is because states of the Union
41 are "foreign" with respect to the national government for the purposes of legislative jurisdiction. For more information

1 about “foreign persons”, read:

2 5.1. IRS Publication 515: Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Corporations

3 5.2. IRS Publication 519: US. Tax Guide for Aliens

4 6. The IRS wants to steer people away from using this position or being successful at using it because it significantly and
5 lawfully reduces their revenues, so they have set traps in their forms to get people in trouble who use it in order to scare
6 the rest of the sheep away.

7 6.1. They did not provide an option for “transient foreigner” in W-8BEN form Block 3.

8 6.2. They do not define the phrase “permanent address” on the W-8BEN form, which means “domicile”. Filling this 9 field out improperly can destroy your status as a nonresident alien.

10 6.3. They added the phrase “Beneficial Owner” to the form and then defined it at 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(6) essentially 11 to mean a “taxpayer”. The old version of the IRS Form W-8 did not use this word and too many people were 12 using it, so they:

13 6.3.1. Published a new version of the form that creates a false presumption that the submitter is a “taxpayer”.

14 6.3.2. Did not provide another version of the W-8 form for use by “nonresident aliens” who are NOT “Beneficial 15 Owners”.

16 You must use AMENDED versions of all the IRS Forms in order to avoid these traps, which are available below:

Federal Forms and Publications

<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRS/IRSFormsPubs.htm>

17 And when you fill out a W-8BEN, you should follow the instructions below to avoid the above traps:

About IRS Form W-8BEN, Form #04.202

<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

18 7. The term “nonresident alien” is a “word of art” that is designed to confuse people and steer them away from using that 19 term. That term should more properly be termed as a “State-domiciled person”, where “State” is defined as a state of 20 the Union and not the federal “State” defined in 4 U.S.C. §110\(d\)..

21 8. A “nonresident alien” can voluntarily change their status into that of a “resident alien” by either filing an IRS Form
22 1040 or by engaging in a “trade or business”. Those who want to avoid jeopardizing their status as nonresident aliens
23 should avoid either of these traps.

24 9. A person with no domicile in a place is referred to as a “transient foreigner” and a “nontaxpayer” with respect to that
25 place. IRS Form W-8BEN has no option under Block 3 to indicate this status because IRS DOES NOT want to 26 encourage people to lawfully declare themselves to be “nontaxpayers”. If you want to correctly declare this status on a
27 government form, you will need to make your own modified versions of all the forms you submit. See the following 28 link for modified versions of most IRS Forms:

<http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Forms/IRS/IRSFormsPubs.htm>

29 10. You cannot be a “nonresident alien” and an “individual” at the same time. 5 U.S.C. §552a\(a\)\(2\) defines an 30 “individual” as either statutory “citizen” or a statutory “resident”. If you are in deed and in fact a “nonresident alien”,
31 you would be committing perjury under penalty of perjury by submitting any IRS Form that identifies you as an
32 “individual”. Instead, you are a “transient foreigner” and pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552a\(b\), the IRS has NO LAWFUL
33 AUTHORITY to maintain any kind of record about you without your consent as a “foreign person”.

35 “The privacy act only grants rights to U.S. citizens and to aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

36 As a result, a nonresident foreign national /AND THE GOVERNMENT!/ cannot use the act's provisions.

37 However, a nonresident foreign national may use the FOIA to request records about himself or herself.”

38 /A Citizen's Guide to Using the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act of 1974 to Request

39 Government Records, Section VII.A, p. 24;

40 SOURCE: <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/LegalRef/FOIACitizensGuide.pdf>

41 You should repeatedly emphasize in every correspondence you have with them that they DO NOT have your consent
42 to maintain any records about you and are to DESTROY ALL RECORDS, and especially information returns and tax
43 records. If they don't destroy these records, then they are violating your privacy and violating the Fourth Amendment
44 to the United States Constitution.

45 11. “Nonresident” persons, including “nonresident aliens”, are not subject to any provision of any law which describes 46 them as “nonresident persons”. This includes the entire Internal Revenue Code.

47 12. A “nonresident alien” not engaged in a “trade or business” is described as a “foreign estate” not subject to the Internal 48 Revenue Code within 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(31\). Everyone signing any check at any financial institution should include 49 the following statement immediately under their signature in order to preserve and protect their status in the context of 50 that transaction:

51 “A foreign estate pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(31).”

1 13. "Domicile" is what establishes whether we are a "resident". "Domicile" is a voluntary choice you make, and it is NOT
2 established ONLY by physical presence in a place. No court of law can lawfully change your choice of domicile,
3 because it is a First Amendment choice of political affiliation and they would be involving themselves in "political
4 questions" and violating the First Amendment by interfering with that choice. Furthermore, in the context of taxes, [28
5 U.S.C. §2201](#)(a) says no court can declare rights or status in the context of federal income taxes, which means that if
6 you declare yourself to be a "nonresident alien", then the court has no authority to declare any other status or contradict
7 you on that point. Therefore, they have no authority to involuntarily transform a "nonresident" into a "resident" in the 8 context of the Internal Revenue Code. Only you, based on the papers you file with the government, can lawfully
9 declare or establish your residency status and the courts MUST take YOUR word for it. See the following very 10 important memorandum on this subject for details:

Why Domicile and Becoming a "Taxpayer" Require Your Consent, Form #05.002
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

11 14. Nonresident aliens not engaged in a "trade or business", which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions 12 of a public office", cannot lawfully take any tax deductions under 26 U.S.C. §162. This scares many people away from 13 the status, but in fact, if you don't earn any "trade or business" income, then in most cases, you don't need any
14 deductions because you don't have any taxable income. Therefore, there is nothing to fear about not having any 15 deductions. As long as all sources of "trade or business" earnings documented on information returns are properly and 16 timely rebutted, there is no reason to need deductions because there can be no "gross income" pursuant to [26 U.S.C.
17 §871](#)(b). See the following memorandum on this subject for details:

The "Trade or Business" Scam, Form #05.001

18 15. Anyone using the Nonresident Alien Position documented in this pamphlet should be thoroughly versed in every 19 aspect of the "includes" argument documented in the memorandum below, and be ready to defend against it at a
20 moment's notice. The "includes" argument is the only defense the government has to contradict the content of this
21 pamphlet and it is a VERY weak argument for those who know the rules of statutory construction.

8 32 Questions that Readers, Grand Jurors, and Petit Jurors Should be Asking the
9 Government

10 These questions are provided for readers, Grand Jurors, and Petit Jurors to present to the government or anyone else who
11 would challenge the facts and law appearing in this pamphlet, most of whom work for the government or stand to gain
12 financially from perpetuating the fraud. If you find yourself in receipt of this pamphlet, you are demanded to answer the 13 questions within 10 days. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8\(b\)\(6\), failure to deny within 10 days constitutes an 14 admission to each question. Pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6065, all of your answers must be signed under penalty of perjury. We 15 are not interested in agency policy, but only sources of reasonable belief identified in the pamphlet below:

16 Your answers will become evidence in future litigation, should that be necessary in order to protect the rights of the person
17 against whom you are attempting to unlawfully enforce federal law.

18 1. Admit that each state of the Union legislates for TWO mutually exclusive jurisdictions:
19 1.1. Territory of the state subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state. These areas are referred to as the “Republic
20 State” within this document.
21 1.2. Federal areas and possessions within the exterior limits of the state. These areas are referred to as the “Corporate 22 State” within this document.

23 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

24 2. Admit that neither the state nor the federal constitutions authorize the existence of the Corporate State, and that all 25 powers not expressly granted to the state and federal governments by their respective constitutions are reserved to the 26 People of the state.

27 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

28 3. Admit that it is a conflict of interest for officers of the Republic State to also serve the Corporate State.

29 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

30 4. Admit that federal areas within the “Corporate State” are described in Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the United 31 States Constitution.

32 United States Constitution
33 Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17

39 needful Buildings;--And*

1 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

2 5. Admit that federal areas within the “Corporate State” are not protected by the Bill of Rights, which are the first Ten
3 Amendments to the United States Constitution.

4 *“Indeed, the practical interpretation put by Congress upon the Constitution has been long continued and
5 uniform to the effect *279 that the Constitution is applicable to territories acquired by purchase or conquest,
6 only when and so far as Congress shall so direct.”
7 [Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244, at 278-279 (1901)]*

8 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

9 6. Admit that the “United States” is defined as federal territory pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4
10 U.S.C. §110(d).

11 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701. [Internal Revenue Code]
12 Sec. 7701. - Definitions

13 (a)(9) United States

14 The term “United States” when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of 15 Columbia.

16 (a)(10) State

17 The term “State” shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
18 carry out provisions of this title.

19 TITLE 4 - FLAG AND SEAL, SEAT OF GOVERNMENT, AND THE STATES
20 CHAPTER 4 - THE STATES

22 Sec. 110. Same: definitions

23 (d) The term “State” includes any Territory or possession of the United States.

24 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

25 7. Admit that the Uniform Commercial Code, Section 9-307(h) identifies the “United States” as the “District of 26 Columbia”:

27 UCC 9-307

28 “(h) The United States is located in the District of Columbia.”

29 [SOURCE: <http://www.law.cornell.edu/ucc/9/article9.htm#s9-307>]

30 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

31 8. Admit that under the rules of statutory construction, what is not included in a definition may be presumed to be 32 purposefully excluded by implication.

33 “Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
34 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
35 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
36 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
37 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
38 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”
39 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, page 581]

40 “It is axiomatic that the statutory definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term,”

2 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

3 9. Admit that when a statutory definition is provided, it SUPERSEDES, rather than ENLARGES the commonly 4 understood definition.

5 "It is axiomatic that the statutory definition of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term." Colautti v.
6 Franklin, 439 U.S. 379, 392, and n. 10 (1979). Congress' use of the term "propaganda" in this statute, as indeed

22 contrary."

24 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

25 10. Admit that under 4 U.S.C. §72, all those exercising a "public office" within the federal government must do so ONLY 26 in the District of Columbia and NOT elsewhere.

27 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 3 > § 72

32 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

33 11. Admit that there is no provision of law extending "public offices" to any state of the Union as required by the above 34 positive law statute.

35 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

36 12. Admit that 48 U.S.C. §1612(a) extends the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to enforce Title 26, Subchapter F
37 to the Virgin Islands.

38 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

39 13. Admit that Congress has not "expressly" extended the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to any one of the 40 several states of the Union.

41 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

42 14. Admit that there is no statutory authority or Treasury Order which would "expressly" extend the authority of the 43 Secretary outside the District of Columbia to the several Union states.

1 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

2 15. Admit that 26 U.S.C. §7621 authorizes the President of the United States to establish internal revenue districts.

3 *TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 78 > Subchapter B > § 7621
§ 7621. Internal revenue districts*

8 (b) Boundaries

9 For the purpose mentioned in subsection (a), the President may subdivide any statutory but not constitutional State, or 10 the District of Columbia, or may unite into one district two or more States.

11 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

12 16. Admit that the United States Constitution forbids the President of the United States to “join or divide” any state of the 13 Union.

14 *United States Constitution
Article 4, Section 3, Clause 1*

16 *New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within

19 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

20 17. Admit that 26 U.S.C. §7621 authorizes the President of the United States to join or divide “States”:

22 18. Admit that pursuant 26 U.S.C. §7621, the President has not authorized any part of any state of the Union to be part of 23 any internal revenue district.

24 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

25 19. Admit that the “State” referred to in 26 U.S.C. §7621 above is a federal “State” defined in 4 U.S.C. §110(d), which is a 26 territory or possession of the United States and includes no part of any state of the Union:

§ 110. Same; definitions*

29 As used in sections 105–109 of this title—

30 (i) The term “State” includes any Territory or possession of the United States.

31 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

32 20. Admit that the states of the Union are not “territories” of the United States:

33 *Corpus Juris Secundum Legal Encyclopedia
Territories
"§1. Definitions, Nature, and Distinctions*

36 *"The word 'territory,' when used to designate a political organization has a distinctive, fixed, and legal
37 meaning under the political institutions of the United States, and does not necessarily include all the 38 territorial possessions of the United States, but may include only the portions thereof which are organized*

1 and exercise governmental functions under act of congress."

2 "While the term 'territory' is often loosely used, and has even been construed to include municipal subdivisions
3 of a territory, and 'territories of the' United States is sometimes used to refer to the entire domain over which
4 the United States exercises dominion, the word 'territory,' when used to designate a political organization, has
5 a distinctive, fixed, and legal meaning under the political institutions of the United States, and the term
6 'territory' or 'territories' does not necessarily include only a portion or the portions thereof which are organized
7 and exercise government functions under acts of congress. The term 'territories' has been defined to be
8 political subdivisions of the outlying dominion of the United States, and in this sense the term 'territory' is not a
9 description of a definite area of land but of a political unit governing and being governed as such. The question
10 whether a particular subdivision or entity is a territory is not determined by the particular form of government
11 with which it is, more or less temporarily, invested.

12 "Territories' or 'territory' as including 'state' or 'states.' While the term 'territories of 32 33. Admit that the term "State" as used in the Constitution includes states of the Union and excludes territories and possessions of the United States.

34 "The earliest case is that of Hepburn v. Ellzey, 2 Cranch, 445, 2 L.Ed. 332, in which this court held that, under
35 that clause of the Constitution limiting the jurisdiction of the courts of the United States to controversies
36 between citizens of different states, a citizen of the District of Columbia could not maintain an action in the
37 circuit court of the United States. It was argued that the word 'state.' in that connection, was used simply to
38 denote a distinct political society. 'But,' said the Chief Justice, 'as the act of Congress obviously used the word
39 'state' in reference to that term as used in the Constitution, it becomes necessary to inquire whether Columbia is
40 a state in the sense of that instrument. The result of that examination is a conviction that the members of the
41 American confederacy only are the states contemplated in the Constitution, . . . and excludes from the term

46 was said that 'neither of them is a state in the sense in which that term is used in the Constitution.' In Scott v.

4 from the native citizens, but is, nevertheless, united and subject to the society, without participating in all its
5 advantages. This right of domicile, he continues, is not established unless the person makes sufficiently
6 known his intention of fixing there, either tacitly or by an express declaration. Vatt. Law Nat. pp. 92, 93.
7 Grotius nowhere uses the word "domicile," but he also distinguishes between those who stay in a foreign
8 country by the necessity of their affairs, or from any other temporary cause, and those who reside there from 9 a permanent cause. The former he denominates "strangers," and the latter, "subjects." The rule is thus laid

43 universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter

24 40. Admit that the reason a constitutional “citizen of the United States” mentioned in the Fourteenth Amendment, Section

17 The term "State" includes the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands of the United

19 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

20 41. Admit that the differences in meaning of the term "United States" in the two contexts:

21 1. The Constitution;
22 2. Acts of Congress,

25 ... is a direct result of the operation of the Separation of Powers Doctrine which was carefully and deliberately put 26 there for the protection of our rights and liberties.

27 The Constitution does not protect the sovereignty of States for the benefit of the States or state governments as
28 abstract political entities, or even for the benefit of the public officials governing the States. To the contrary,
29 the Constitution divides authority between federal and state governments for the protection of individuals.
30 State sovereignty is not just an end in itself: "Rather, federalism secures to citizens the liberties that derive
31 from the diffusion of sovereign power." Coleman v. Thompson, 501 U.S. 722, 759 (1991) (BLACKMUN, J.,
32 dissenting). "Just as the separation and independence of the coordinate branches of the Federal Government
33 serve to prevent the accumulation of excessive power in any one branch, a healthy balance of power between
34 the States and the Federal Government will reduce the risk of tyranny and abuse from either front." Gregory

50 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

51 43. Admit that all exercises of legislative jurisdiction outside of federal territory require "comity" in some form.

1 comity. Courtesy; complaisance; respect; a willingness to grant a privilege, not as a matter of right, but out of
2 deference and good will. Recognition that one sovereignty allows within its territory to the legislative,
3 executive, or judicial act of another sovereignty, having due regard to rights of its own citizens. *Nowell v.
4 Nowell*, Tex.Civ.App., 408 S.W.2d. 550, 553. In general, principle of "comity" is that courts of one state or
5 jurisdiction will give effect to laws and judicial decisions of another state or jurisdiction, not as a matter of
6 obligation, but out of deference and mutual respect. Brown v. Babbitt Ford, Inc., 117 Ariz. 192, 571 P.2d. 689,

19 46. Admit that state income taxes are also based upon a "trade or business", because they are a tax upon "public officers"
20 serving within the Corporate State pursuant to the Public Salary Tax Act of 1939.

21 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

22 47. Admit that the United States Congress cannot authorize a "trade or business" within a "Republic State" in order to tax 23 it.

24 *"Thus, Congress having power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and
25 with the Indian tribes, may, without doubt, provide for granting coasting licenses, licenses to pilots, licenses to
26 trade with the Indians, and any other licenses necessary or proper for the exercise of that great and extensive
27 power; and the same observation is applicable to every other power of Congress, to the exercise of which the 28 granting of licenses may be incident. All such licenses confer authority, and give rights to the licensee."*

29 *But very different considerations apply to the internal commerce or domestic trade of the States. Over this
30 commerce and trade Congress has no power of regulation nor any direct control. This power belongs
31 exclusively to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a State is
32 warranted by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly granted to
33 the legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive power of 34 the State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It is given
35 in the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports, and it
36 must impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus limited,
37 and thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing
38 subjects. Congress cannot authorize a trade or business within a State in order to tax it."*

10 “Republic States” to levy an income tax upon federal “public officers” within federal areas that form the “Corporate 11 State”.

12 TITLE 4 > CHAPTER 4 > § 111
13 § 111. Same; taxation affecting Federal employees; income tax

14 (a) General Rule.— The United States consents to the taxation of pay or compensation for personal service as 15 an officer or employee of the United States, a territory or possession or political subdivision thereof, the 16 government of the District of Columbia, or an agency or instrumentality of one or more of the foregoing, by a 17 duly constituted taxing authority having jurisdiction, if the taxation does not discriminate against the officer or 18 employee because of the source of the pay or compensation.

8 55. Admit that persons domiciled within the “Republic State” and without the “Corporate State” are an instrumentality of a
9 “foreign state”, which is the Republic State if they are registered electors or jurists, because they participate in the 10 administration of the government in the exercise of their political rights to be a voter or jurist.

11 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

12 56. Admit that persons domiciled within the “Republic State” and without the “Corporate State” are protected by the 13 Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. Chapter 97

14 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

15 57. Admit that persons domiciled within the “Republic State” may only lawfully surrender their sovereign immunity as 16 “instrumentalities of a foreign state” by one of the following two means:

17 a. Incorrectly declaring themselves to be statutory “U.S. citizens” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 and 28 U.S.C. §1603(b)(3).
18 b. Satisfying one or more of the exceptions found in 28 U.S.C. §1605

20 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

21 58. Admit that states who wish to increase their income tax revenues unlawfully have a strong financial incentive to want
22 to encourage domiciliaries of the Republic State to incorrectly declare or describe themselves to be statutory “U.S.
23 citizens” pursuant to 8 U.S.C. §1401 in order to cause them to waive sovereign immunity and thereby misrepresent
24 themselves as domiciliaries of the Corporate State subject to exclusive federal jurisdiction and income taxation.

25 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

26 59. Admit that the only lawful way for a nonresident person such as a person domiciled in the exclusive jurisdiction of a
27 state of the Union, to become a “resident alien” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A) is to make an “election”
28 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013(g) to be treated as such by voluntarily using the WRONG from, the IRS 1040 form, to 29 describe his, her, or its status as a “U.S. person” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30) or domiciliary of the federal

38 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

39 60. Admit that IRS Form W-4 constitutes an agreement to call one’s earnings taxable “wages”, even if they in fact earn no
40 taxable “wages” as legally defined in 26 U.S.C. §3401.

41 Title 26: Internal Revenue
42 PART 31—EMPLOYMENT TAXES AND COLLECTION OF INCOME TAX AT SOURCE

1 Subpart E—Collection of Income Tax at Source
2 Sec. 31.3402(p)-1 Voluntary withholding agreements.

3 (a) In general.

4 An employee and his employer may enter into an agreement under section 3402(b) to provide for the
5 withholding of income tax upon payments of amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of §31.3401(a)-3, made
6 after December 31, 1970. An agreement may be entered into under this section only with respect to amounts
7 which are includable in the gross income of the employee under section 61, and must be applicable to all
8 such amounts paid by the employer to the employee. The amount to be withheld pursuant to an agreement
9 under section 3402(p) shall be determined under the rules contained in section 3402 and the regulations
10 thereunder. See §31.3405(c)-1, Q&A-3 concerning agreements to have more than 20-percent Federal income
11 tax withheld from eligible rollover distributions within the meaning of section 402.

12 (b) Form and duration of agreement

13 (2) An agreement under section 3402 (p) shall be effective for such period as the employer and employee
14 mutually agree upon. However, either the employer or the employee may terminate the agreement prior to the 15 end of such period by furnishing a signed written notice to the other. Unless the employer and employee agree
16 to an earlier termination date, the notice shall be effective with respect to the first payment of an amount in 17 respect of which the agreement is in effect which is made on or after the first "status determination date"
18 (January 1, May 1, July 1, and October 1 of each year) that occurs at least 30 days after the date on which the 19 notice is furnished. If the employee executes a new Form W-4, the request upon which an agreement under 20 section 3402 (p) is based shall be attached to, and constitute a part of, such new Form W-4.
21

22 26 CFR §31.3401(a)-3 Amounts deemed wages under voluntary withholding agreements

23 (a) In general.

24 Notwithstanding the exceptions to the definition of wages specified in section 3401(a) and the regulations
25 thereunder, the term "wages" includes the amounts described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section with respect
26 to which there is a voluntary withholding agreement in effect under section 3402(p). References in this
27 chapter to the definition of wages contained in section 3401(a) shall be deemed to refer also to this section
28 (§31.3401(a)-3).

29 (b) Remuneration for services.

30 (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the amounts referred to in paragraph (a) of this
31 section include any remuneration for services performed by an employee for an employer which, without 32 regard to this section, does not constitute wages under section 3401(a). For example, remuneration for 33 services performed by an agricultural worker or a domestic worker in a private home (amounts which are 34 specifically excluded from the definition of wages by section 3401(a) (2) and (3), respectively) are amounts with 35 respect to which a voluntary withholding agreement may be entered into under section 3402(p). See 36 §§31.3401(c)-1 and 31.3401(d)-1 for the definitions of "employee" and "employer".

37 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

38 61. Admit that IRS Form W-4, when submitted by a "nonresident alien", also constitutes a voluntary "election" to be 39 treated as a "resident alien" pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6013(g)(1)(B).

40 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 61 > Subchapter A > PART II > Subpart B > § 6013
41 § 6013. Joint returns of income tax by husband and wife

42 (g) Election to treat nonresident alien individual as resident of the United States

43 (I) In general

44 A nonresident alien individual with respect to whom this subsection is in effect for the taxable year shall be
45 treated as a resident of the United States—

46 (A) for purposes of chapter 1 for all of such taxable year, and

47 (B) for purposes of chapter 24 (relating to wage withholding) for payments of wages made during such taxable
48 year

1 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

2 62. Admit that the election of “nonresident aliens” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) to be treated as “resident aliens”
3 as described in 26 U.S.C. §6013(g)(1)(B) may only lawfully be made if the nonresident alien is married to a statutory 4 United States citizen as defined in 8 U.S.C. §1401.

5 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

6 63. Admit that there is no statutory authority within the Internal Revenue Code or the implementing Treasury Regulations
7 for a “nonresident alien” who is not married to a statutory “U.S. citizen” in 8 U.S.C. §1401 to voluntarily elect to be
8 treated as a “resident alien”.

9 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

10 64. Admit that the election of “nonresident aliens” to be treated as resident aliens as described in 26 U.S.C. §6013(g)
11 changes the effective domicile of the nonresident alien to the “State” described in 4 U.S.C. §110(d), which is a federal 12 state or territory, regardless of where their original domicile started and makes them a “taxpayer” subject to the Internal 13 Revenue Code.

14 Thus, the Court has frequently held that domicile or residence, more substantial than mere presence in
15 transit or sojourn, is an adequate basis for taxation, including income, property, and death taxes. Since the
16 Fourteenth Amendment makes one a citizen of the state wherein he resides, the fact of residence creates
17 universally reciprocal duties of protection by the state and of allegiance and support by the citizen. The latter
18 obviously includes a duty to pay taxes, and their nature and measure is largely a political matter. Of course,
19 the situs of property may tax it regardless of the citizenship, domicile, or residence of the owner, the most
20 obvious illustration being a tax on realty laid by the state in which the realty is located.”
21 Miller Brothers Co. v. Maryland, [347 U.S. 340 (1954)]

22 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

23 65. Admit that it is unlawful for any state of the Union to enforce their personal income tax laws outside of the Corporate 24 State or inside of the Republic State.

25 “Every State or nation possesses an exclusive sovereignty and jurisdiction within her own territory, and her
26 laws affect and bind all property and persons residing within it. It may regulate the manner and circumstances
27 under which property is held, and the condition, capacity, and state of all persons therein, and also the remedy
28 and modes of administering justice. And it is equally true that no State or nation can affect or bind property
29 out of its territory, or persons not residing [domiciled] within it. No State therefore can enact laws to operate
30 beyond its own dominions, and if it attempts to do so, it may be lawfully refused obedience. Such laws can
31 have no inherent authority extraterritorially. This is the necessary result of the independence of distinct and
32 separate sovereignties.”

33 “Now it follows from these principles that whatever force or effect the laws of one State or nation may have in
34 the territories of another must depend solely upon the laws and municipal regulations of the latter, upon its 35 own jurisprudence and polity, and upon its own express or tacit consent.”
36 Dred Scott v. John F.A. Sanford, [60 U.S. 393 (1856)]

38 “Judge Story, in his treatise on the Conflicts of Laws, lays down, as the basis upon which all reasonings on the
39 law of comity must necessarily rest, the following maxims: First ‘that every nation possesses an exclusive
40 sovereignty and jurisdiction within its own territory’; secondly, ‘that no state or nation can by its laws directly
41 affect or bind property out of its own territory, or bind persons not resident therein, whether they are natural
42 born subjects or others.’ The learned judge then adds: ‘From these two maxims or propositions there follows a
43 third, and that is that whatever force and obligation the laws of one country have in another depend solely upon
44 the laws and municipal regulation of the latter; that is to say, upon its own proper jurisdiction and polity, and
45 upon its own express or tacit consent.’ Story on Conflict of Laws §23.”

47 YOUR ANSWER (circle one): Admit/Deny

48 66. Admit that the enforcement of the laws of the Corporate State within the Republic State is a matter of “comity” and 49 requires the express or tacit consent against those it is being enforced against, and that absent such voluntary consent,
50 any such enforcement is illegal and unconstitutional.
